THE MOST COMPLETE COLLEGE FOOTBALL PREVIEW I KNOW YOU WILL AGREE!

Welcome to the 18th edition of my College Football Preview. In the back of the magazine (pg 342) I have always had a questionnaire and each year I read through EVERY one of the thousands that are sent back. I want to thank everyone who returned one and I really appreciate all of the very nice comments. Those comments keep me going during the long hours of "magazine season" from December through May. I keep adding features thanks, in part, to the questionnaires that YOU have filled out. This year to make things even easier for you (and so you don't have to tear a page out of the magazine) we have the questionnaire online at PhilSteele.com. New things are added every year to get as much information on these pages as possible. The magazine has come a long way from the black and white 1st edition in 1995 that had just 192 total pages!

PhilSteele.com keeps getting better each year. After I write the magazine in May there are always numerous players who are injured, suspended or quit over the summer. I have a complete list of those players online so you can update your magazine (I circle the players that are gone in mine). My magazine has limited pages but the website is unlimited and I want to make it your ultimate FBS college football source, PLUS it is loaded with information on the FCS and the NFL! For years I have compiled thousands of pages of stats and data into numerous books to aide in my research. Now I just post everything on PhilSteele.com and use that as my personal library. On the website you have access to 80% of the stats and information that I use and it is updated DAILY during the college football season. We also have weekly contests and award prizes when you enter our contests or use our polls. I also give you my forecasts on each week's games involving Top 25 teams.

There are some fine preseason magazines out there, including The Sporting News, Athlon, Lindy's, Sports Illustrated, GamePlan and ESPN. Magazines in this class usually use numerous writers from around the country to analyze each school or conference. As always, I have written EVERY single team preview myself. I do not know of any other magazine that has as MUCH information as my College Football Preview. Please check out the two full pages crammed with information on each team and see if you agree.

I am very pleased to report that we are the most accurate magazine over the past 14 years (pg 316) and I take great pride in that. Last year we expanded our FCS information to a full page on each of those teams (over 150 pages). This year our FCS preview (now in its second year) will have closer to 200 pages devoted solely to the FCS. With the current state of expansions, get a jump on those teams that could be joining the FBS ranks soon. You can get complete coverage on them this year in my FCS Preview and it is just $8.95 plus shipping. It will be at a limited number of newsstands so go to PhilSteele.com to order yours.

Three years ago we put a full color NFL magazine on the newsstands for the first time and it exceeded my expectations. Not only was it the most accurate magazine but it has more information per NFL team (6 pages) than the two full pages I put on FBS teams in here! This year our Fantasy portion of the magazine will once again be brought to you by Erik Kuselias a Fantasy football writer from a popular Emmy Award winning web based show Fantasy Football Now to author that section! Check out page 28.

You will notice there is a lot of small type and abbreviations in this magazine. This is done so I can put as much information in this magazine as possible. Refer to the glossary on page 3 if you need assistance with some of the abbreviations. We also have an index on page 3, so you can find your favorite team quickly. In each conference the teams are listed in my projected order of finish.

I would like to thank my dad, Hank, who passed away in 1989. He instilled in me a strong work ethic and a passion for football, which will always be my favorite sport. He is a true inspiration. Also I want to thank my mother, Mary, who STILL invests many hours and prayers into the business.

If you want the information to keep coming your way check out my Daily Blog exclusively on PhilSteele.com. This year we will be emailing a weekly football information filled update for FREE. Make sure when you visit PhilSteele.com you register to become a "football expert" and get these free updates.

Heisman Trophy

The Most Prestigious Award in College Football

The Heisman Trophy was named after former college football player and coach John Heisman, and is awarded annually by the Downtown Athletic Club to the most outstanding player in collegiate football. Although not the only award honoring the best player in college football, it is considered the most prestigious. It is awarded in early December before the bowl games begin.

The trophy does not serve as a representation of a collegiate player's chances in professional leagues, but is rather an accolade for their accomplishments in college.

The trophy itself is modeled after Ed Smith, a leading player in 1934 for the now defunct New York University football team.

The Heisman is frequently awarded to a running back or a quarterback and very few players have won the trophy playing at a different position. Charles Woodson is the only primarily defensive player to win the award, doing so as a defensive back for Michigan in 1997. No interior lineman on either side of the ball has ever won the award, although offensive guard Tom Brown of Minnesota and offensive tackle John Hicks of Ohio State placed second in 1960 and 1973, respectively. Defensive end Hugh Green of Pittsburgh finished second in 1980. In 2009, Nebraska's defensive tackle Ndamukong Suh was third.

Phil Steele is proud to be on the voting committee for this prestigious award!

Congratulations to the 2011 Heisman Trophy Winner: Robert Griffin III, Baylor

Robert Griffin III was selected as the 77th winner of the Heisman Memorial Trophy as the Most Outstanding College Football Player in the United States for 2011. Only a junior at Baylor, RG3 became Baylor's first Heisman Trophy winner!

The Rotary Lombardi Award is hosted by the Rotary Club of Houston and benefits the American Cancer Society. The Award was initiated by the Rotary Club in 1970 shortly after the death of Vince Lombardi to cancer. The Rotary Lombardi Award is a member of the National College Football Awards Association.

The Rotary Lombardi Award goes annually to the college football lineman -- offense or defense -- who, in addition to outstanding performance and ability, best exemplifies the discipline of Vince Lombardi.

All proceeds from the event benefit the American Cancer Society. To date the event has generated millions of dollars to fund cancer research, public education and direct services to cancer patients.

Phil Steele is proud to serve among the nearly 400 members of the Rotary Lombardi Award voting committee.

FCS (Division IAA) Guide

By Phil Steele

At the end of 2006 the NCAA changed its terminology and began referring to IAA as FCS, which stands for Football Championship Subdivision. They are now call IA teams FBS teams. Now, I study college football 365 days a year and since I have referred to them as IA and IAA for so many years, and write the team preview myself, it's only natural there are some spots where I call them IAA teams and other spots where I use the correct term of FCS. If you see FCS that of course refers to IAA.

This article is about my ever-expanding FCS coverage. LY there were 126 FCS teams but 4 teams moved up to FBS this year. That gives us 124 FBS teams and 122 FCS teams. While these teams have less scholarships to give out, the numbers vary. Some leagues do not offer football scholarships at all while some give up to the max of 63 (85 for FBS). The attendance of most programs pale in comparison to many of the FBS teams (avg attendance is listed on the team's right-hand page), but a team like Appalachian St, which averaged 26,211, would rank above 38 FBS teams. The bottom line is these schools do play solid football and I enjoy watching FCS games whenever they are on TV. Since FBS teams voted to expand their schedules to 12 games there have been many more matchups between these divisions and "upsets" have become more common like 5 years ago when Appalachian St beat Michigan. In 2010 James Madison upset #13 ranked ACC Champ Virginia Tech in Lane Stadium. In 2011, both teams that played for the FCS championship beat an FBS team as Sam Houston St beat New Mexico 48-45 in OT and North Dakota St beat Minnesota 37-24.

If you are an FCS fan who is frustrated by the fact that no magazine really gives top-notch coverage on your school then I am willing to lend a hand. My National Magazine has ZERO coverage on FCS teams. Checking past National Magazines Athlon also had zero coverage and Lindy's National Magazine had 4 pages total of FCS coverage. Street and Smith was the only other National Magazine that gave at least a paragraph on each FCS team but they scaled back and have now merged with The Sporting News.

Since we concentrate on nothing but football year round, we continue to expand our FCS coverage. A lot of the information we add is a direct result of customer requests and we would love your input.

Let me give you a quick history on how my magazine has expanded its coverage of FBS teams through the years. I started the magazine in 1995 and it had 88 IA teams in it with no coverage of the MAC or the smaller southern independents (now the Sun Belt) at all! In the 4th year I gave three pages total to the 24 teams that played IA that were not in the main magazine. Those 3 pages were a sheet of schedules for the 24 teams, the previous year's results and one page of conference forecasts, so each of the 24 teams were allotted just one paragraph on that page! In 1999 I gave the 25 smaller IA teams their own page and the coverage on the MAC and Sun Belt teams increased to 28 pages for the 25 teams! I gave them the same amount of coverage in 2000. In 2001, I welcomed the MAC to the big leagues with TWO FULL PAGES on every team, the same amount of coverage the SEC, Big Ten and other BCS conferences received. Finally in 2002 I upgraded it to two full pages for EVERY FBS team.

Now let's look at my FCS coverage over the years. Naturally when the minor IA teams were getting very little coverage I had ZERO IAA information in the National Magazine. In 2003, I dipped my toe into the water and had a member of my staff who followed IAA closely write a 1 page article on IAA football with a Preseason Top 25. I did not get a lot of feedback on my questionnaires and I went back to zero coverage. In 2005, we put out three Regional Magazines for the Big Ten, SEC and Big 12. I wanted to put a couple of pages on regionally significant IAA teams in each magazines. For many years we kept track of all IAA statistics so we knew how good those teams were when they faced IA foes. Jim Seman, a longtime member of my staff, works until 6:00 AM on Sunday mornings during football season making sure all of the stats for both FBS and FCS are entered into our computer system and is our resident FCS expert. He wrote two pages with a Top 25 forecast in the 2005 Regionals. When I read through the questionnaires (yes, I read every one!) that summer there was growing interest in expanded coverage. In 2006, I went wild. I had Jim, with the help of Josh Buchanan, write up a full-length paragraph on each FCS team and we expanded to 27 pages in my Pac-10 Regional Magazine.

Five years ago I expanded it again to one quarter of a page on each team. In 2008, I DOUBLED IT TO ONE HALF PAGE PER TEAM!! I started using some of the same computer formulas and systems that I use for FBS forecasts for the FCS teams. These include my 9 sets of power ratings, applying those ratings to the upcoming schedule, Turnovers=Turnaround and all of the various forecast articles such as YPP, Lettermen Lost, Starts Lost to Injury, etc. My goal is to have it be BY FAR the most in-depth FCS preseason magazine equal to how the FBS version is the most accurate.

Two years ago I took the next step with a FULL PAGE on EVERY FCS team! It was in my SEC/ACC/Big East preview which was over 324 pages. Last year, I took yet another step and decided to have my first ever FCS stand-alone preview with more than 175 pages devoted ONLY to FCS football! This year will be our second edition. If you're an FCS fan I can promise you there is no other preview like it on the market today. You can order it through our offices by calling us at 1-866-918-7711 or by going to PhilSteele.com and it is just $8.95 plus S&H. You will become an instant expert on EVERY FCS team and remember every year there are more and more matchups between FCS and FBS schools (nearly 100). So become an expert on one of your favorite team's possible FCS opponent this year by purchasing the Phil Steele 2012 FCS Preview today!

PHIL STEELE'S 2012 TOP INDIVIDUAL UNITS

QUARTERBACKS 2012's Top QB Units

1. USC - My number one spot is very similar to LY with a Pac-12 QB turning down being one of the top picks in the NFL draft. Matt Barkley returns to help the Trojans make a run at the title. He passed for 3,528 (69%) with a 39-7 ratio and is throwing to the best set of WR's in the country. The 4th string QB here would start for most other teams as the backups are PS#9, PS#8 and PS#8.
2. OKLAHOMA - Landry Jones was thrown into the fire in '09 (Bradford inj'd). He threw for 3,198 (58%, 26-14) and in '10 threw for 4,718 (66%, 38-12). LY he had a 1-6 ratio the last 4 gms after WR Broyles was inj'd but still threw for 4,463 (63%, 29-15) and will improve. Drew Allen (PS#45), Blake Bell (PS#3, "Belldozer") and Kendal Thompson (PS#24) provide depth.
3. WEST VIRGINIA - Geno Smith (PS#4) was in his first year of learning Dana Holgorsen's offense LY and threw for 4,385 (66%, 31-7) and had his best gm in the bowl (31-42, 401, 6-0 vs Clemson) thanks to the extra practices. Now he has another spring and summer in the pass-happy offense and Smith will be among the FBS leaders in passing yds and td's.
4. ARKANSAS - Tyler Wilson replaced a #3DC who was the career passing leader and his stats were nearly just as good as his first year as a starter (3638, 63%, 24-6). Wilson turned down a shot at the NFL and should have a more stable O-line this year so despite losing 3 top-notch WR's and his HC, his numbers should improve. Brandon Allen (PS#22) is the QB of the future.
5. MICHIGAN - The most exciting QB in college football is "Shoelace" Denard Robinson who has 4.32 speed. In '10 he threw for 2,570 (63%, 18-11) and set the FBS record for rush yds by a QB in a season with 1,702 (6.6). His numbers were down a little LY to 2,173 (55%, 20-15) with 1,176 rush (5.3) but it's his 2nd year working in Hoke's modified offense and he will improve.
6. GEORGIA - Aaron Murray (PS#6) was impressive as a rFr throwing for 3,049 (61%, 24-8) battling the SEC's tough defenses. He threw for 3,149 (59%, 35-14) as a soph and will have his best season yet as a junior. His backup is rFr Christian LeMay (PS#4) who had a solid spring.
7. MISSOURI - James Franklin (PS#19) did just what I expected LY and that is outperform his predecessor who was a #1DC! Franklin had a stronger ratio (21-11 vs 16-9), completed 63% (same) while throwing for 2,865 and rushing for 981 (4.5). His accuracy was even better in the spring and he is backed by rFr Corbin Berkstresser (PS#29) and true frosh Maty Mauk (PS#19).
8. VIRGINIA TECH - When I talked to coach Beamer last spring he was very high on Logan Thomas and his potential for '11. Thomas lived up to those expectations, getting better on a weekly basis and threw for 3,013 (60%, 19-10) with 469 rush. He is 6'6" 262 (bigger than LB's) and while he has a rebuilt O-line, he will have an even better season in '12.
9. TEXAS TECH - You know that every year TT's QB will be among the passing leaders and Seth Doege did well in his first year as a st'r throwing for 4,004 (69%, 28-10) and was throwing a tighter spiral in the spring. RFr Michael Brewer (PS#19) was the star of the spring.
10. WESTERN MICHIGAN - Alex Carder threw for 3,334 (63%, 30-12) in '10 then 3,873 (66%, 31-14) LY. In the one gm he DNP (Akron) his bkp Tyler VanTubbergen hit 19-21 for 252 yds with 6 td's! Both ret and despite losing their top 3 WR's, they will be near the top of the FBS pass charts.
11. FLORIDA ST - EJ Manuel is 6'5" 238 and started bowl gms in both '09 & '10. LY he missed 2 sts with injury but threw for 2,666 (65%, 18-8) and rushed for 151. Clint Trickett started those two and threw for 675 (61%, 7-4, 9 gm) and looked sharp in the spring gm. Manuel enters '12 with a streak of 121 passes w/o an int and should move into elite QB status this year.
12. NC STATE - All the talk LY was about Russell Wilson leaving for Wisconsin but 6'6" 232 lb Mike Glennon (PS#2) had a quiet, under-the-radar year throwing for 3,054 (63%, 31-12) and is now a veteran senior QB.
13. CLEMSON - As usual a CU QB st'r had a great debut year as Tajh Boyd (PS#8) threw for 3,828 (60%, 33-12) with 218 rush. CU QB's usually have a weaker 2nd year but the presence of elite skill players should alleviate that.
14. NORTH CAROLINA - Bryn Renner (PS#20) had a solid yr as a first year starter throwing for 3,086 (68%!) with a 26-13 ratio. He has some fast WR's to throw to and is backed by rFr Marquise Williams (PS#13).
15. WASHINGTON - Keith Price is another QB that I projected would have a better year than a departing #1DC and that he did throwing for 3,063 (67%, 33-11). He is now an exp'd Jr and they add in PS#5 & #14 true frosh.

RUNNING BACKS 2012's Top RB Units

1. WISCONSIN - When I think of Wisconsin I think of BIG rumbling RB's. Montee Ball (PS#64) was #3 on the team with 996 (6.1) in '10 but was a Heisman finalist LY with 1,923 (6.3) and 33 td's (and 6 td rec). James White (PS#59) was #1 with 1,052 (6.7) as a true and added 713 (5.1) in '11. Both return as Ball turned down the NFL and they add in a pair of VHT frosh.
2. SOUTH CAROLINA - In '10 I caught a little grief putting a player that "had never played a college down" (see pg 27) on my All-SEC pressn tm but Marcus Lattimore (PS#1) did not disappoint. He rushed for 1,197 (4.8) and added 412 (14.2) rec. LY he looked like the best RB in the country but was lost after 7 sts (818, 5.0). Brandon Wilds (PS#53) had 486 (4.5) in 5 sts and Kenny Miles has 982 (4.7) car rush yds.
3. OREGON - Every yr the Ducks are near the top of my RB list and despite losing LaMichael James they are here again. Kenjon Barner (939, 6.2) had 171 (5.5) and 115 (11.5) yd gms LY when James was inj'd and lightning quick De'Anthony Thomas had 595 (10.8) as a true frosh. Byron Marshall is PS#12.
4. TEXAS - Malcolm Brown (PS#1) had 742 (4.3) and Joe Bergeron (PS#36) added 463 (6.4) as true frosh LY despite each missing 3 gms. To keep them healthier they add in PS#1 Johnathan Gray and have 5 other VHT's in the backfield. They're the only team in the country with TWO PS#1 RB's!
5. GEORGIA - The Bulldogs are very similar to Texas as they had a true frosh LY in Isaiah Crowell (PS#4) who was banged up but rushed for 850 (4.6) and frosh Ken Malcome (PS#37) rushed for 174 (4.1). They add in PS#2 Keith Marshall, PS#19 Todd Gurley and can use DB Branden Smith (PS#5).
6. ARKANSAS - Knile Davis (PS#26) exploded onto the scene in '10 rushing for 1,322 (6.5) despite only starting 8 gms! He was injured and RS in '11. Ronnie Wingo (PS#12) has rushed for 1,030 (5.3) in 3 yrs. Dennis Johnson led the Hogs LY with 670 (6.3) and all three return in '12.
7. LSU - The Tigers clearly have one of the most talented and deepest RB corps in the country, now they just need a feature back. Michael Ford (PS#11), Spencer Ware (PS#14), Kenny Hilliard (PS#12) and Alfred Blue combined to rush for 2,338 yds and 5.3 ypc LY!! All 4 are back and Terrence Magee (PS#33) rushed for 133 as a true and true frosh Jeremy Hill (PS#13) was IFS!
8. OKLAHOMA ST - Joseph Randle (PS#40) rushed for 452 (5.5) as a true and led LY with 1,216 (5.8). Jeremy Smith (PS#22) was #2 with 646 (7.1) and Herschel Sims (PS#9) had 242 (7.8) as a true. All 3 VHT TB's return and FB Kye Staley (PS#14) earned 2nd Tm Big 12.
9. STANFORD - In '10 I wondered how they would replace Toby Gerhardt (#2DC, 1871, 5.5) but Stepfan Taylor (PS#36) had 1,137 (5.1), Anthony Wilkerson (PS#22) had 408 (4.6) and Tyler Gaffney (PS#13) added 255 (4.2). All 3 ret'd LY and combined to rush for 2,061 (5.5) and all 3 return again. They also have 3 VHT's behind them including true frosh PS#8 Barry Sanders (son of Barry).
10. ARIZONA ST - Cameron Marshall and Deantre Lewis combined to rush for 1,326 (5.5) in '10. LY Lewis RS and Marshall rushed for 1,050 (4.6). This year both are back and they add in PS#5JC Marion Grice (2221 rush yds, 33 td at JC 2 yrs) and true frosh DJ Foster (PS#9).
11. TCU - The Frogs have a 3 headed RB combo of Ed Wesley, Matthew Tucker and Waymon James. Those 3 comb for 2,300 (5.7) in '10 and 2,303 (6.3!) in 2011. Not only do all 3 return for their move to the Big 12 but they also have Aundre Dean (PS#6, 353, 56 2Y) and add in a VHT and an HT true frosh.
12. PITTSBURGH - Ray Graham was having a huge year in '11 with 958 (5.8) but was inj'd and OFY after just 8 gms. Graham had 922 (6.2) as the backup RB in '10 and has 459 career yds receiving. This year he is back and they add in PS#3 true frosh Rushel Shell.
13. ARMY - You will not find any VHT's here as Army has a lot of veteran RB's including two who have been 1,000 yd rushers in Jared Hassin (1013, 5.3 in '10) and Raymond Maples (1066, 7.3 in '11). The top 5 RB's return and they comb'd for 2,753 (6.3) LY!
14. NEBRASKA - Rex Burkhead is the top RB and can hurt you running the Wildcat as well. He had 951 (5.5) in 2010 and 1,357 (4.8) LY. True frosh Ameer Abdullah rushed for 150 (3.6). Both backs should be more productive as Burkhead is one of the best in the country.
15. OKLAHOMA - Roy Finch (PS#16) was impressive as a true and is a home run threat who had 605 (5.5) as a soph. Brennan Clay (PS#7) rushed for 274 (3.7). Dominique Whaley is a walk-on but has 4.39 speed, squats 525 and led OU in rushing with 627 (5.5) despite missing 6 full gms with an injury. They have 3 VHT's and 3 HT's joining them in the

RECEIVERS 2012's Top Receiving Units

1. USC - Robert Woods (PS#2) will be one of the top picks in the '13 Draft. He was banged up LY but still had 1,292 (11.6) while true frosh Marqise Lee (PS#10) had 1,143 yds and an impressive 15.7 ypc! The 3rd WR is PS#1 George Farmer. TE Randall Telfer (PS#7) made my 2nd Tm Frosh AA and is backed by Xavier Grimble (PS#1) and Christian Thomas (PS#5).
2. CLEMSON - The Tigers lose the John Mackey winner Dwayne Allen, but return one of the top WR in the country in Sammy Watkins. He had 1,219 (14.9) as a true plus 838 ret (231 rush yds) and could have been the top WR taken in this past draft if eligible. DeAndre Hopkins (PS#23) had 978 (13.6). While Jaron Brown added 406 (13.1) and 3 VHT's provide depth.
3. FLORIDA ST - Rashad Greene (PS#27) led with 596 (15.7) despite playing only 9 gms as a true LY and 6'6" Rodney Smith was #2 with 561 (15.6). Christian Green (PS#9) was #3 as a rFr with 450 (17.3) and Kenny Shaw (PS#29) had 418 (12.3). All return and they add in 6'6" rFr Kelvin Benjamin (PS#17) and Willie Haulstead who had 587 (15.4) in '10 but missed LY. The TE's are PS#4 & #9.
4. WEST VIRGINIA - Tavon Austin (PS#15) led the NCAA in all-purp yds with 2,574 LY and has explosive speed. He (1186, 11.7) and Stedman Bailey (1279, 17.8) both topped 1,000 rec yds LY. Ivan McCartney (PS#12) added 585 (11.9) and all return. They should put up even better numbers in year two of Dana Holgorsen's pass-happy offense.
5. GEORGIA - Tavarres King (PS#6) is very fast and led LY with 705 (15.0). Malcolm Mitchell (PS#18) had 665 (14.8) but spent time at CB this spring. 6'5" Marlon Brown (PS#3) had 234 (15.6). The top 5 WR's are back and the new TE's are PS#3 and PS#4 and have great size.
6. TENNESSEE - Justin Hunter (PS#14) was on his way to a HUGE season LY with 314 yds (18.5) in basically 2 gms before being OFY. Da'Rick Rogers (PS#4) took over and led with 1,040 (15.5). TE Mychal Rivera is 6'3" 251 and was #2 with 344 (11.9). All 3 return and they add in PS#2JC Cordarrelle Patterson making this a dangerous group.
7. TEXAS A&M - Ryan Swope (PS#59) had 825 (11.5) in '10 and Uzoma Nwachukwu had 708 (17.7) as a true in '09 but 407 (11.3) in '10. LY Swope led with 1,207 (13.6) and Nwachukwu had 639 (12.8). They do lose career rec leader Jeff Fuller but add in PS#7 true frosh Thomas Johnson and all 3 TE's who started LY return.
8. BAYLOR - Speed is a recurring adjective describing this unit. LY 4 of the top 5 were back and the unit was led by Kendall Wright who had 1,663 (15.4). They lose Wright (#1DC) but return 6 of the top 7 who comb'd for 2,739 (15.0) and could produce another #1 DC TY.
9. TEXAS TECH - TT's top WR 6'4" Darrin Moore only started 5 LY (banged up) and is primed for a big year. Five of the top 6 rec's return TY and they comb'd for 2,556 (10.8) LY. Jace Amaro (PS#7) and Marcus Kennard (PS#13JC) should have much bigger years now in their 2nd yr with the program and they add in PS#10JC Javon Bell.
10. OKLAHOMA - OU and QB Jones relied on WR Broyles a little too much LY and only had 1 td pass over the last 4 gms after he went out. Kenny Stills (PS#13) has 1635 (13.4) in 2 yrs and Jaz Reynolds had 715 (17.4) LY. They add in 3 VHT true frosh (PS#9, #19 & #21) and PS#8JC plus 2 VHT TE's (PS#5, PS#53JC). Trey Metoyer (PS#4) who spent LY at Hargrave and could become the feature.
11. TEXAS - The Horns were very inexp LY. Top WR Jaxon Shipley only started 5 (inj'd) but was #2 with 607 (13.8) LY as a true. Mike Davis (PS#10) set the schl frosh record in '10 (47 rec) and was #1 LY with 609 (13.5). They have 10 VHT's in the 3 deep and are a lot more exp'd TY.

USC
Marqise Lee

Clemson
Sammy Watkins

12. BYU - 6'4" Cody Hoffman led with 943 (15.5) LY and 6'3" Ross Apo (PS#30, orig Texas commit) was #2 with 453 (13.3). Their size/speed combo is unusual for BYU which is known for very productive WR's and all 4 TE's who started LY return.
13. WASHINGTON ST - Marquess Wilson is 6'4", has a pair of 1,000 yd seasons already and is the best WR you've never heard of. You will hear of him now that he is in Mike Leach's pass-happy offense. Leach does not normally use a TE but Andrei Lintz (6'5" 252) was impressive in the spring and will be utilized.
14. CALIFORNIA - Keenan Allen lived up to his PS#3 billing LY with 1,343 (13.7) and naturally he is QB Maynard's favorite target (half-brother). They add in THREE VHT and TWO HT frosh TY and have a pair of 260+ lb TE's.
15. TCU - Coach Patterson feels he has one of the NCAA's fastest WR corps and SIX guys run legitimate 4.4's. Josh Boyce, Skye Dawson and Brandon Carter comb for 1,850 (14.3) LY and all 3 return. They add in rFr LaDarius Brown (PS#12) who they could not cover on the scout tm LY.

OFFENSIVE LINE 2012's Top OL Units

1. ALABAMA - Last yr the Tide was in this exact spot and lived up to the billing as this was one of the keys to their national title. DJ Fluker (PS#2) started 9 as a rFr (All-SEC Fr Tm) in '10. Barrett Jones (PS#16) won the Outland Award LY and enters his 4th yr as a starter. Soph Cyrus Kouandjio (PS#1, 6'6" 322) takes over only one open spot. Taking on SEC defenses LY they opened holes for 5.5 ypc rush and allowed just 17 sks. Bama has 4 st'rs back and 12 VHT's at their disposal.
2. TEXAS A&M - The Aggies' numbers were not great in '10 (165 ypg rush, 4.1, 37 sks) but they made my list LY as they had 9 of the top 10 back with all 5 st'rs being VHT's. With 86 car sts back, they made the improvement I expected allowing just 9 sks (1.7%) with 5.1 ypc rush. This year they have 4 st'rs back (95 car sts) and both OT's Jake Matthews and Luke Joeckel could be #1 DC's.
3. OREGON - UO runs an option offense so you would expect big numbers and low sks. In '10 they rushed for 286 ypg (5.9) with just 10 sks. LY the Ducks lost 3 st'rs but actually improved to 6.7 ypc rush with 14 sks (3.6%). TY they have 8 of the top 10 back (65 car sts) and have FIVE VHT's battling for the open two slots at OT. UO also has two QB's that are more mobile than LY's QB.
4. USC - The Trojans had just 2 ret st'rs but improved to 189 ypg (5.2) in '10. LY they lost 3 quality st'rs again but ret'd LT Matt Kalil and their 5 st'rs were PS#7, 9, 12, 14 and 63 with 6 VHT's providing depth. USC allowed just 8 sks (1.8%) with 5.0 ypc. TY they lose Kalil, their 22nd OL drafted in the first round, but have 8 of the top 10 back including 4 str's back and they bring in 3 VHT's.
5. OKLAHOMA - The Sooners had a veteran O-line in '08 (4.7, 2.5% sks). They struggled with inexp units the next 2 yrs but LY had 4 st'rs back and improved to 4.5 ypc and 1.9% sks. TY OU has 4 ret sts and 102 car sts (#7 FBS) and add in a PS#14JC.
6. LSU - The Tigers' O-line had solid numbers LY with 3 st'rs back (203 rush, 4.8, 18 sks). TY the unit has 5 back who have been full time st'rs (104 car sts) and are huge with the projected starters avg 6'6" 323 lbs. They also have 11 VHT's in the group (incl 7 in the two deep).
7. TENNESSEE - This should be one of the most improved O-lines in the country. Two yrs ago they allowed 41 sks (3.5 ypc). LY with 3 soph st'rs they improved to just 18 sks but their ypc dropped to 2.8. TY the Vols have 105 career sts and what was a frosh/soph laden group the last 2 yrs now features a Sr and 3 Jr st'rs (all 5 st'rs back). They have NINE VHT's in the two deep and the st'rs avg 6'5" 314.
8. TEXAS - LY Texas finished up with 2 soph and 2 frosh st'rs and still improved to 4.5 ypc rush but did allow 28 sks (13 in 2 gms mid yr). This year the unit has 4 st'rs back and plugs in PS#9JC Donald Hawkins into the open spot. The ENTIRE 3 deep consists of VHT's.
9. NORTH CAROLINA - LY the Tar Heels' O-line paved the way for their best ypc rush (4.1) s/'04. TY they have 8 of the top 10 back and 93 car sts ret. OT James Hurst is projected to be a 1st round pick when he comes out. NC has 8 VHT's in the two deep and avg 6'6" 316 across the front.
10. FLORIDA - LY the Gators had to replace two 3Y and two 2Y st'rs and with just 1 st'r back had a 4.0 ypc rush with 23 sks. TY they have 5 back who had 7+ sts incl PS#1, #5 and #8 OL's plus a PS#3 in the starting lineup! UF also adds in PS#1 and PS#12 true frosh who were IFS.
11. NOTRE DAME - In '10 ND lost 3 multi-yr st'rs (105 car sts lost). LY 9 of the top 10 were back (63 car sts) and as expected they showed a lot of improvement to 4.8 ypc rush (best s/'96) with just 17 sks (3.6%). This year ND has 3 st'rs back (65 car sts) and 9 of the projected top 10 are VHT's.
12. GEORGIA TECH - Naturally in the option offense GT is going to produce big rush numbers. LY they had 3 st'rs back and improved to 316 ypg rush (5.7) and allowed just 13 sks (7.8%) despite starting 3 sophs. TY they have 4.5 st'rs back including 1st Tm ACC G Omoregie Uzzi as each of the 5 st'rs had at least 6 sts LY. With 83 career sts, this is the best OL Paul Johnson has fielded here.
13. MICHIGAN ST - LY the Spartans had 2 st'rs back then lost their new starting C after 3. Still, they allowed just 16 sks (3.5%) but only had a 3.9 ypc rush. TY the unit loses a 4 yr st'r (AA) but has 8 of the top 10 back (4 st'rs). MSU also has 7 VHT's in the three deep so look for a much improved ypc.
14. WISCONSIN - The Badgers always have one of the nation's strongest O-lines. Last year UW lost TWO All-American OL's (3 NFL DC's) but avg 6'5" 324 (74 car sts) and had a 5.4 ypc with 25 sks. This year they lose two 1st Tm AA's again who were #1 and #2 DC's and have just two starters back with just 49 career starts. Still, this is Wisconsin and this unit averages 6'5" 321 and will be one of the nation's best.
15. SOUTHERN MISS - LY SM had just 39 car sts ret (3 ret st'rs) but still opened holes for 5.2 ypc rush with 3.5% sks. This year they have 4 (80 car sts) and plug a 6'6" 321 lb PS#86JC who was a bkp LY into the open spot. This is CUSA's top O-line.

PHIL STEELE'S 2012 TOP INDIVIDUAL UNITS

DEFENSIVE LINE 2012's Top DL Units

1. FLORIDA ST - In '10 seven of their 8 DL were Fr and So but FSU trimmed the rush total to 129 ypg (3.4) while the DL had 35 of a nation-leading 48 sks. LY they lost 1 st'r (8 sk) but added PS#1JC Tank Carradine and I called it the top DL in the country. FSU allowed a paltry 83 ypg rush (2.3) with 40 sks. Brandon Jenkins has 21.5 sks the last 2 yrs. This yr the unit returns intact and adds PS#1, #3 and #12 true frosh. They have 12 VHT's and their 2nd tm D-line alone would rank in my Top 10!! (The 3rd tm D-line would make my Top 39). DT Jacobbi McDaniel (PS#1) had 14 st in '10 but only played in 6 gm LY (inj). FSU has THREE PS#1's.
2. LSU - LY LSU "only" lost 2 st'rs incl 2nd Tm AA NT (had lost 3 each prev 2 yrs). Their top returnee had just 2.5 sks in '10. That unit posted their best numbers in some time with 90 ypg rush (2.7) and 39 sks (most s/'06). TY they lose 2 st'rs (#1DC) but this time return DE Barkevious Mingo (8 sk), DE Sam Montgomery (9 sk) and DT Anthony Johnson (PS#2) who was solid as a true.
3. FLORIDA - I probably would have had the Gators in the #2 spot but PS#1 Ronald Powell who was dominant in the spring tore his ACL in the spg gm and is ? for the season. LY UF allowed 3.4 ypc rush and had 28 sks. They lose 1 st'r but have 7 of the top 8 back and the proj'd st'rs are PS#3, #6, #8 and #17 and all are upperclassmen. They add in PS#7JC and PS#2 & #10 true frosh. This is another tm whose 2nd tm D-line would make this Top 39.
4. TEXAS - UT has had to replace quality NFL players from the D-line on a yearly basis. Only once in the L/6Y have they allowed over 96 ypg rush. LY they lost 2 st'rs (#4DC). TY they lose both DT's (#7DC) but return one of the best DE combo's in the country in Alex Okafor (PS#4) and Jackson Jeffcoat (PS#2) who comb for 15 sks and an additional 20 tfl. The ENTIRE 3 deep is VHT's.
5. ALABAMA - In '10 Bama had to replace all 3 starters and had little experience behind them (allow 3.3 ypc!). LY Bama had to replace the 2nd overall pick in the draft but returned 2 st'rs and added 2 JUCO's. They allowed just 2.4 ypc with 30 sks. TY they "only" lose a #5DC so they are even stronger and PS#6JC Jesse Williams (6'4" 319) moves to NT.
6. GEORGIA - Todd Grantham's D requires a large Nose (NT) and '10's was 290 lbs. UGA allowed 147 ypg rush (3.7). LY they added 351 lb PS#5JC John Jenkins who could have a similar impact to Bama's NT Terrence Cody in '08 and '09. The Dogs trimmed it to 101 ypg (3.2) with 35 sks. TY they lose a #7DC but have 7 of the top 8 back and move in PS#3 and PS#16 LB's.
7. OHIO STATE - The Steelers have drafted 3 OSU DL's the last 2 yrs as the two tms run similar D's. LY the Bucks lost their top DL Nathan Williams in the opener having already lost 2 st'rs (#1DC). They allowed an unusual 3.8 ypc (very high for OSU). TY all 4 st'rs ret and they get back Williams. The Buckeyes add my PS#2, #8, #11 and #15 true frosh bringing it to 14 VHT's.
8. VIRGINIA TECH - LY the Hokies had just 1 st'r back in 318 lb Antoine Hopkins and he was lost after 5 sts. VT had lost a 300 lb DT over the summer so they were inexp and undersized in the middle. They still allowed just 104 ypg (3.2) with 41 sks. DE Gayle (7 sk) looks like the next great VT DE and all the starters return making them vastly more exp'd with better size.
9. SOUTH CAROLINA - The Gamecocks have one of the best DE combo's in the country with DE Jadeveon Clowney (PS#1) now a soph and 6'8" Devin Taylor (6 sks '11). If you take away the two option tms SC faced LY, they allowed just 114 ypg rush (3.2). TY they lose a #1 and a #7DC and have just 3 VHT's in the unit but remain near the top.
10. MICHIGAN ST - LY the Spartans allowed just 101 ypg rush (2.8) with 45 sks so they must have been doing something right up front. This yr they do lose their star DT Jerel Worthy (#2DC) but return 2 st'rs just like LY. DE William Gholston leads another strong unit.

Florida St
Everett Dawkins

Florida St
Bjoern Werner

11. AUBURN - With Nick Fairley the Tigers allowed just 109 ypg rush (3.4) with 35 sks in their title yr. LY they had just 1 st'r back and slipped to 189 (4.6) with 22 sks. TY the entire 2 deep returns incl 3rd Tm AA DE Corey Lemonier (PS#8) who had 9.5 sks. They also have 8 VHT's on a much more exp unit.
12. UTAH - The Utes have sent a good number of DL to the NFL. LY they had to replace two All-Conf DL and moved up to the Pac-12 but still allowed just 114 ypg (3.2) with 30 sks. TY they lose 1 st'r and 2 bkp (6 st) but return the Pac-12 DPOY in Star Lotulelei and add in PS#16, #19 and #80 JUCO's.
13. OREGON - Last year the Ducks were inexp up front and allowed 3.6 ypc rush but did have 45 sks. TY UO has 3 st'rs back incl 1st Tm Pac-12 DE Dion Jordan and they add in a PS#12JC who RS LY and true frosh 6'8" Arik Armstead (PS#7) who was unblockable during the spring.
14. MISSISSIPPI ST - The Bulldogs underachieved up front last year and this year lose 2 st'rs incl a #1DC. They do add a PS#1JC and a PS#18 true who were both IFS giving them a good-sized front with all 4 st'rs being VHT's.
15. USC - The Trojans allowed 140 ypg rush (4.4) in '10 but made this unit list LY (#13) with a veteran unit and improved to 111 (3.6). TY they do lose 3 st'rs incl a #1DC but 7 of the top 8 are rated PS#29 or better.

LINEBACKERS 2012's Top LB Units

1. GEORGIA - The Bulldogs got a huge addition last year with USC transfer Jarvis Jones (PS#23) who earned 1st Tm AA with 70 tkls, 13.5 sks and 49 qbh. This year the entire two deep returns including their #2, #3, #7, #9 and #10 tkl'rs and they add in a PS#1 true frosh LB.
2. MICHIGAN ST - The Spartans lost a pair of st'rs LY but still improved to 18.4 ppg allowed. TY they return their #1 (PS#17, 2nd Tm B10), #2 (2nd Tm B10) and #4 (PS#16) tkl'rs plus add in a PS#6 rFr. LY's unit had just 1 upperclassmen and is much more experienced this year.
3. FLORIDA ST - LY they had just 1 st'r back to this unit but allowed just 15.1 ppg. This year FSU loses their #1 tkl'r of each of the last 3 years but returns 4 of the top 6 LB's making them a more exp'd group. They have 7 VHT's in the three deep including a PS#9 joining in August.
4. STANFORD - This is the Pac-12's top LB corps. Shane Skov was OFY LY after 3 sts just when he was turning into a dominant force. OLB Chase Thomas had 7.5 sks in '10 and was unblockable in the spring LY and had 8.5 sks. Jarek Lancaster was their #1 tkl'r. The top 6 return as does Skov.
5. FLORIDA - The Gators' LB's had to replace their #1, #3 and #5 tkl'rs in '10 but LY ret'd their #2 tkl'r Jelani Jenkins (PS#2) and #4 Jonathan Bostic (PS#14). UF improved to allowing 20.3 ppg vs FBS. Bostic and Jenkins were #1 and #3 tkl'rs and both return with 6 VHT's in the 3 deep.
6. PENN ST - Penn St is known as "Linebacker U." They had to replace a 1st Tm AA in both '08 and '09 and in '10 had to replace #2, #3 and #7 DC's. PSU allowed over 17.5 ppg for the first time since '03 (23.7). LY they lost their #1 and #7 tkl'rs but I had them in this group and they did not disappoint. TY 5 of the top 6 are back (lose #7DC) and in the three deep, 8 are VHT's.
7. USC - In Nov '11, USC was starting 3 frosh at LB but still upset Oregon on the road. Naturally this unit is loaded with VHT's and have 3 of the top 6 back with the top 7 all being VHT's. Those frosh are now sophs and this is one of the elite LB units in the country.
8. NOTRE DAME - Manti Te'o was PS#1 and has shown what all the hype was about. As a true soph he made my 3rd Tm AA list with 133 tkls and 9.5 tfl. LY he had 128 tkls and 13.5 tfl and he turned down the NFL. TY they lose 1 st'r (#5DC) but have 5 of the top 6 back and have 11 VHT's in the unit.
9. WISCONSIN - Last year the Badgers had to replace a pair of st'rs but allowed 19.0 ppg, their lowest since '06. BOTH Chris Borland and Mike Taylor earned 1st Tm B10 honors and both are back in '12. Five of the top 6 are back and they add in PS#6 true frosh Vince Biegel.
10. ALABAMA - The Tide loses a #1 and #2DC and two other LB's (comb 8 sts, 46 tkls). That drops the unit "all the way down" to #10. CJ Mosley (PS#15) and Nico Johnson (PS#5) have a comb 25 sts between them and 11 of the 12 in the 3 deep are VHT's with 7 of them PS#18 or better.
11. OHIO ST - Last year OSU had to replace a pair of NFL DC's and the top returning tkl'r was just #9 in '10. They do lose their #2 & #10 tkl'rs TY but return their #5, #6 & #9 tkl'rs and they have 8 VHT's in the 3 man unit and will spearhead a much improved Buckeyes defense.
12. SOUTH CAROLINA - Shaq Wilson was #1 tkl'r in '09 but RS (inj) in '10 and was #4 LY. They move in SS DeVonte Holloman (PS#21) who was #3 tkl'r in '10 and #5 LY. They lose their #1 and #3 tkl'rs but have 3 back who have started 4 or more and add in 2 true frosh VHT's.
13. OKLAHOMA ST - This unit had to replace 2 st'rs LY and the one returnee lost his spot. They did have 3 VHT starters who finished #2, #3 (tied) and #6 in tkls and this year all 3 return (5 of the top 6). Gundy calls this his best LB unit yet (8th yr here) and I agree.
14. OKLAHOMA - The Sooners had back their entire LB corps last year but then suffered the tragic loss of Austin Box in May. OU allowed 22.1 ppg. This year they lose their #2 tkl'r but return Tom Wort (PS#11) who was #4 tkl'r and Corey Nelson (PS#6) who was #7 tkl'r. Oklahoma has 9 VHT's in the 3 man group and despite the loss of a #7DC looks stronger.
15. RUTGERS - The Knights allowed just 18.3 ppg LY and were led by Big East co-DPOY Khaseem Greene (141 tkl). This year all 3 st'rs return (#1, #2 & #8 tkl'rs) and rFr Quentin Gause (PS#44) was the MIP of the defense this spring and will battle for time.

PHIL STEELE'S 2012 TOP INDIVIDUAL UNITS

DEFENSIVE BACKS 2012's Top DB Units

1. TEXAS - The Horns had to replace 3 NFL DC's LY but still finished #5 in my PDR despite their ret st'r at SS losing his spot. TY they have 3 st'rs back and 4 who st'd 5+ LY and 10 DB's are all VHT's. CB Quandre Diggs (PS#8) was the Big 12 Frosh DPOY and CB Carrington Byndom (PS#29) was 1st Tm Big 12 while 1st Tm Big 12 FS Kenny Vaccaro turned down the NFL (poss late #1DC).
2. OKLAHOMA ST - The Cowboys were not known for their D LY but they were #2 in the NCAA with 24 int's and finished #3 in my PDR. They had two of the 15 semi-finalists for the prestigious Thorpe Award. CB Brodrick Brown was one of them and they return 7 of their top 8 from that unit with the other CB being Justin Gilbert who has 4.35 speed.
3. LSU - The Tigers finished #2 in my PDR in '11 and return the Honey Badger who won the Bednarik Trophy LY for top defensive player! FS Eric Reid (PS#9) who made a huge int vs Bama in their first meeting is back. LY they didn't lose a step replacing a #1DC CB (Patrick Peterson) and should be just fine losing another one this year (Thorpe winner Morris Claiborne).
4. OKLAHOMA - OU has finished #11, #3, #7 and #8 in my PDR the last 4 yrs despite losing quality players each year. LY they had to replace a pair of NFL DC's. TY they "only" lose a #3DC CB (1st Tm B12) but have 4 of the top 6 back. This is their most exp'd unit of the last 5 yrs.
5. ALABAMA - The Tide lived up to my #1 DB ranking LY (finishing #1 PDR) but they take a big hit losing a #1DC's at SS and CB and a #5DC CB (2nd Tm AA). Good thing Saban spends a lot of time coaching DB's as they had similar losses in '10 and finished #3 in my PDR.
6. GEORGIA - The Bulldogs had 6 of their top 8 back LY and finished #11 in my PDR. They do lose a #4DC CB but return 1st Tm AA Bacarri Rambo, have 4 of the top 5 back and add in PS#5, PS#17 and PS#18 sophs. UGA could top their #8 finish of '06.
7. FLORIDA ST - LY FSU ret'd all 4 st'rs and had 7 VHT's in the two deep and I called for their best finish s/'04 (#22) which they accomplished (#18). TY they do lose 2 st'rs but return 3 who started 9+ LY including their CB combo of Greg Reid and Xavier Rhodes who both turned down a shot at the NFL. They also have a PS#2 and PS#12 who got their feet wet as true frosh LY.
8. USC - The Trojans finished in the top 16 of my PDR 9 straight yrs but in '10 lost all 4 st'rs and dropped to #61. LY they had 7 of the top 8 back (5 VHT's) and added in PS#10JC Isiah Wiley but only moved up to #57. This year USC has their top 9 DB tkl'rs back and add in PS#7 Florida transfer and a PS#3 JUCO and should finally get back to their accustomed spot.
9. FLORIDA - LY the Gators had to replace all 4 st'rs and dropped to #42 in my PDR (#11, #7, #5 prev 3 yrs). TY they get back 6 who all started 8+ LY and all 6 are VHT's. UF also gets back a CB who started in '10 and RS LY as well as add FOUR VHT true frosh.
10. NC STATE - David Amerson is a 6'3" CB that turned into a ball hawk setting the ACC record for int's in a season with 13 and many of them at crucial times. The Wolfpack moved up to #26 in my PDR and the unit returns intact for a 2nd straight year and will continue to climb.
11. OHIO STATE - OSU has had 24 DB's drafted incl 7 #1DC s/'97. Even in yrs they lost all 4 st'rs they finished in the Top 15 of my PDR. LY was an aberration losing 3 st'rs (2 DC's) and finishing #63. TY all 4 st'rs return with potential for a Top 10 finish.
12. UTAH - The Utes have 3 Top 10 finishes in my PDR s/'07. LY was unexpected as they had just 1 ret st'r from a unit that was #86 in my PDR in '10. They led the Pac-12 in int's with 19 and climbed all the way to #7. Utah only loses 1 st'r TY and has a PS#18JC in his 2nd yr. They also add in a VHT true frosh and a Hawaii transfer.
13. OREGON - The Ducks were #6 in my PDR in '10 and #20 LY with 3 st'rs back (7 Top 25 finishes s/'04). TY they ret 2.5 st'rs incl 2x 1st Tm Pac-12 FS John Boyett.
14. NEBRASKA - The Huskers were #1 in my PDR in BOTH '09 & '10 but had to replace CB Amukamara LY and slipped to #37. They do lose 2 st'rs incl their top CB (2nd Tm AA) but have NINE back that started LY and add in a PS#25JC and PS#23RB.
15. MICHIGAN ST - CB is an important part of the Spartan's D and they return two excellent CB's from LY in Johnny Adams (1st Tm B10) and Darqueze Dennard (HM B10). They have 7 of the top 8 back from a unit that was #24 in my PDR LY.

SPECIAL TEAMS 2012's Top ST Units

1. FLORIDA - Caleb Sturgis (22-26 LY, L/55) was a finalist for the Groza Award and already has 5 career FG's from 50+ yds. True frosh Kyle Christy (PS#3) took over at P in 2H of LY and they had a tm net of 37.3. Andre Dubose (PS#2) avg 28.0 and 26.1 on KR's in 2 yrs. UF will also be solid in the td/blk category as they avg +5.6 over the last 5 yrs (+8 LY!).
2. LSU - Brad Wing earned 1st Tm AA and had a super net of 41.2 with 27 punts I20 and is a field position changer. K Drew Alleman hit 16 of 18 FG's but had a long of just 44. The Honey Badger avg'd 15.6 on PR's (2 big td's) and while they lose KR Claiborne they have plenty of VHT's to replace him.
3. FLORIDA ST - In '09 K Dustin Hopkins (PS#1) hit 19 of 27 FG's (L52) as a true and was #5 in the FBS in TB's (24) on KO's. Greg Reid (PS#9) avg 18.4 on PR's and 25.5 on KR's as a true. In '10 Hopkins hit 22-28 (L55) with 41 TB's (#2 FBS) on KO's. LY he hit 22-27 (long 53, Groza finalist) and is back as a senior. All their dangerous returnmen are back from 2011's #1 ST unit and the coaches are raving about P Cason Beatty (PS#14).
4. KANSAS ST - P Ryan Doerr had a 39.3 net in '10 when KSU was #16 in my ST rankings and after slipping to 36.7 LY should return to form. K Anthony Cantele hit 17-23 FG's (long 54) and is back and had 14 TB's on KO's. The star of the unit is Tyler Lockett who avg 35.2 (best B12 hist) on KR's with 2 td's playing in just 9 gms before being inj'd. The unit is back intact and one of the best.
5. AUBURN - Steven Clark looks like an NFL P at 6'5" 235 and was one of 3 finalists for the Ray Guy Award LY (39.2 net!). Cody Parkey lived up to his PS#1 billing when he led the NCAA with 38 TB on 66 KO's and hit 13-18 FG's. KR Tre Mason avg 26.4 and Onterio McCalebb avg 30.7 and everyone is back.
6. ARKANSAS - The Hogs were #4 in my ST rankings last year and do lose FWAA AA and "The Jet" Award winner RM Joe Adams (4 td's). Dennis Johnson and Marquel Wade comb for 25.6 on KR's and 2 td's and both are back. P Dylan Breeding avg 45.3 (37.6 net) and is in his 4th year and K Zach Hocker hit 21-27 FG's (L/50) and 40 TB on KO's.
7. OKLAHOMA ST - Joe DeForest (ST cch) left for WV and it will be interesting to see if they continue their run of eight Top 20 finishes in 11 yrs. I think they will and the main reason is Quinn Sharp who was my specialist of the yr LY with a super net of 38.8 on punts, 22-25 FG's (L/46) and 61 TB's on KO's (21 more than anyone else). Justin Gilbert avg 27.0 on KR's (2 td). Both are back.
8. OHIO STATE - The Buckeyes were #31 LY and figure to move back up to the Top 10. K Drew Basil (PS#8) hit 16-19 FG's (L/47) and had 14 TB's on KO's. P Ben Buchanan (PS#3) had a 37.4 net. Jordan Hall avg 26.3 on KR's and Chris Fields 17.6 avg on PR's (5 returns) and everyone is back.
9. NEBRASKA - NU has finished #16, #4 and #13 in my ST rankings the last 3 yrs. LY P Brett Maher had a 38.3 net in his first yr and hit 19-23 FG (L/51) and had 20 TB's on KO's. Ameer Abdullah was the top KR (29.3) and PR (7.1) and everyone is back in '12.
10. LOUISIANA TECH - Ryan Allen won the Ray Guy Award and HC Dykes said he had never been around a P that impacted the game like he did (40.1 net, with 39 punts I20)!! K Matt Nelson has hit 41-55 FG's in his career (long 47). LY they had to replace a super RM but Lyle Fitte avg 26.1 on KR's and Andrew Guillot 12.0 on PR's and everyone is back this year.
11. OREGON - Tom Osborne is one of the best ST cch's in the country and has made a major impact since returning here 5 seasons ago. In '10 they were #3 with RM Cliff Harris and Kenjon Barner comb'd for FIVE return td's. P Jackson Rice had a 37.9 net and K's Rob Beard and Eric Solis comb'd to hit 13 of 17 FG's (L/42). LY they were #7 with K Beard banged up (just 2 FG's) and Harris missing most of the year. They did have 4 return td's and return everyone but their top PR (10.7)
12. UTEP - Mike Price always puts emphasis on ST's and finished #12 in '10 and #26 LY. P Ian Campbell improved his net to 40.5 LY. Dakota Warren hit 13-22 FG's (L/47) despite missing 1 gm (inj). Steven Valadez had 21 TB's on KO's and hit a 46 yd FG. They do lose their top KR Vernon Frazier (30.5) but top PR Mike Edwards is back (10.2) and Price will find a solid KR.
13. VIRGINIA TECH - Frank Beamer coaches this unit himself and they are always at the top with 3 Top 20 finishes from '07-'10. LY they finished a surprisingly low #44. They only had a net of 33.5 on punts LY which is very unusual. I look for the kinks to get worked out in all areas and for VT to be back to that accustomed spot in '12.
14. TEMPLE - The Owls were #6 in Addazio's 1st year LY and have almost everyone back. Brandon McManus had a 38.6 net and hit 16-22 FG's with 22 TB on KO's. I have them a little lower as Matt Brown (25.1 KR and 10.1 PR) is back but will also be the feature RB.
15. OKLAHOMA - The Sooners usually finish near the top of my ST rankings (#16 LY). P Tress Way had a 37.9 net (40.5 '10, 40.3 '09). Mike Hunnicutt hit 21-24 FG's (long 53) and both return. Stoops always produces top notch RM.

FOOTBALL 365 DAYS A YEAR

By Phil Steele

What you see in the picture above is what I look at during football season for 12 hours on Saturday and from 1-7 pm EST on Sunday. I have a great satellite setup (DIRECTV & Dish) which allows me to watch almost every college and NFL game. I used to have just 9 TV's in front of my desk but added 3 more in 2004 and the picture above (from 11/26/11) is the actual setup at my office. At my home office I only have 8 TV's in front of my desk. Many people ask me "How can you watch 12 games at one time?" When the photographer was shooting the photo, it took him about 20 minutes to actually capture game footage on all 12 TV's with no commercials. As you can see, at this particular moment, there are 6 plays in progress and the rest are not. Keep in mind the average play takes 4 to 6 seconds and then there are usually 35 seconds between plays. Throughout the office one of my staff members is "charting" one of these games, or doing the play-by-play and taking notes on the game. We also utilize Sirius radio for the non-televised games so we can listen to them and write down the play-by-play. The person charting focuses on one game and if there is something they think I should know about in a particular game, they let me know afterwards. I usually focus on the 4 TV's directly in front of my desk. At the moment of this picture, the key games for me were Ohio St-Michigan, Virginia Tech-Virginia, Connecticut-Rutgers and Tennessee-Kentucky. The TV I look at the least is the one in the upper left-hand corner. That game at the time was Rice-SMU.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, I go through the play-by-play of each game that took place the previous weekend to make sure I did not miss anything. My staff has interesting notes on each game, and of course, I watched the majority of them. I then write the Past Histories (which is my recap of the games) and those are the same Past Histories that you will find on PhilSteele.com. I refer to these often during the offseason to get the true feel of the game as final scores can sometimes be misleading.

I mentioned my staff "charting" the games. I have also assigned different members of my staff to cover different conferences. During the week they get articles from the local papers and the Internet and underline all of the interesting information that could affect a team's performance, or have to do with injuries, etc. All the underlined information is then typed into a file for each team. These team reports are anywhere from 35 to 200 pages by the end of the year (there are a lot more articles on Ohio St than on Buffalo). I do not have time to read all the information during each week so I read through these reports every year during the months of December, January and February.

Football is what I do for a living seven days a week, 365 days a year. As you can tell by the sheer volume of information, I write each of the 124 team previews which basically puts me on the magazine "deadline" from the end of December through the middle of May.

During the months of January and February, I read through the mountains of information that was underlined and begin to write the teams for the magazine. I give myself about 4 hours to read just one team and that team is all I focus on. I find it interesting when a writer in the 2nd week is calling for a QB to be benched but then is talking about what a great QB he is at the end of the year after a big game. It really gives me a feel for what went on with the team last year. During the 4 hours I allot for each team, I read everything from the year and take notes. I also write the QB, RB, receivers and Special Teams portions for that team. I write these this early because they are the easiest to analyze and have the fewest position changes during the spring. Many times DB's move to LB's, LB's to DL or OL and DL's switch sides. For those positions I wait until spring starts before doing my writing.

During March, April and May it is time to get all the latest info on the teams and analyze the freshmen and JUCO signees. I also read through all of the information from the spring practices. At this time I double check what I wrote to make sure it all still applies after any spring changes. I then write the other 4 positions and go through my individual power ratings on each unit. I once again give myself 3 to 4 hours per team and try to do 3 per day. The next step is to go through what I wrote in the magazine and start cutting out some words because I usually have too much information to fit on the page. While I chop the text down I also go conference-by-conference, to review my power ratings and pick the All-Conference teams. This is another 3 week process. I finalize my 9 sets of power ratings and feed them into my computer which has all the schedules and them let the computer play out the season.

2012'S MOST IMPROVED TEAMS

BY PHIL STEELE

Making my Most Improved List has generally been a blessing for teams, as they usually make big turnarounds. In 1999, the #1 most improved team in my Preseason Rankings was Hawaii and they had the NCAA's largest turnaround on record, going from a winless season in 1998 (0-12) to 9-4 and a bowl victory one year later!!!

The year 2000 was a VERY successful season as well for my Most Improved Teams. Of the top 14 Most Improved Teams that year, TEN went from a losing season to being bowl eligible!!!! South Carolina was my #6 Most Improved Team (MIT) and they went from 0-11 in 1999 to beating Ohio St in a Jan 1 bowl to finish 8-4. Northwestern was #4 and after a poor 3-8 season, they rolled to become Big Ten co-Champs!

In 2001 and 2002, nine of the 20 teams on my Most Improved List list each year went from having a non-winning season to making a bowl. Colorado went from 3-8 to just missing out on the National Title game in '01. Wash St was picked last in the Pac-10 media poll (4-7 in '00), but made my Most Improved List and went 10-2 and just missed out on a Pac-10 Title. In '02, USC went from 6-6 to 11-2 and #4 AP after an Orange Bowl win.

In 2003, 8 of the top 20 teams went from a .500 or losing seasons to being bowl eligible. Rutgers, which went from 1-11 to 5-7, just missed out. Memphis, my #8 Most Improved Team. The Tigers went from 3-9 to a super 9-4!!!!!

There was a total of TEN teams that did not have winning records in '03 who improved to a winning record in '04. NINE (90%) of them were on my list! My #1 Most Improved Team, Texas A&M, went from 4-8 to the Cotton Bowl. My #3 MIT, UTEP went from 2-11 to a super 8-4!! Iowa St made the list and went from 2-10 to 7-5 and tied for the Big 12 North Title!!

In 2005, my top 16 Most Improved Teams made incredible strides. This was despite the fact that one of the 16 tms was Tulane, whose season was disrupted by Hurricane Katrina and played 11 games in 11 different venues. The top 16 MIT's on my list in '05 had a comb record of 66-111 (37%) in '04 and improved to 102-84 (55%) in '05 and, if you take Tulane out of the equation, the record jumps to 100-75 (57%)!! Penn State went from 4-7 to #3 AP and nearly played in the National Title game. Oregon went from 5-6 to #6 after the regular season, finishing at 10-2!! W Michigan went from 1-10 to 7-4, a huge turnaround. None of my top 16 teams in '05 had winning records in '04 but ELEVEN were bowl eligible in 2005!

2006 was another great year for this list. My #1 Most Improved Team was Arkansas which went from 4-7 to SEC West Champs and rose as high as #5 AP!! Wake Forest went from 4-7 to 11-3 and ACC Champs. Houston went from 6-6 to CUSA Champs! Ohio went from 4-7 to MAC East Champs! Troy went from 4-7 to Sun Belt Champs! Kentucky went from 3-8 to 8-5, including their Music City Bowl win over Clemson. Hawaii went from 5-7 to a super 11-3. Tennessee went from 5-6 to 9-4 and could have been the SEC East Champs had they not let 4Q leads vs LSU and Florida slip away. Kent St went from 1-10 to a bowl eligible 6-6. The top 10 teams on 2006's MIT list were a combined 71-57 (55.5%) in '06 after being 33-79 (29.5%) in 2005. Of the 22 teams, only 2 won less games than they did in '05 (Mich St & SDSt).

2007 was another terrific year! The 22 teams on my list had a comb record of 92-177 (34.2%) in '06 but were 145-134 (52%) in '07. Of the 22 teams on the list only THREE had more losses than in '06. Twenty of the 22 teams were coming off losing seasons and of those 20, THIRTEEN (10 of top 14) ended the regular season bowl eligible!! MY #2 SURPRISE TEAM IN 2007 WAS ILLINOIS AND THEY WENT FROM 2-10 TO THE ROSE BOWL!!! Memphis (#1 on list) went from 2-10 to a bowl and UCF went from a 4-8 season to CUSA Champs!

In 2007 24 teams managed to go from a losing record to being bowl eligible in '08. Of those 24, SIXTEEN were on my 2008 Most Improved List (67%)!!!! Twelve of my top 13 Most Improved Teams went from non-winning seasons to bowl eligibility or 92%!!! Those 13 went from a combined 50-95 (34.5%) in '07 to a 94-62 (60.3%) record in '08!!! There were only 4 teams in the NCAA who did not make it to a bowl in '07 that made it to Jan 1-2 bowls and they were South Carolina (6-6), Ole Miss (3-9 in '07), Nebraska (5-7) and Iowa (6-6). ALL FOUR also made my Most Improved List and 3 won their bowl games with the one loss being SCar to Iowa!!! Minnesota which was just 1-11 and Northern Illinois which was just 2-10 both made the list and went to a bowl!! Only 3 of the 23 tms actually had more losses than '07.

2009 was another successful season with 22 teams making my list and of the 22, 12 went from a losing record to bowl eligibility. Ohio won the MAC East after going 4-8 in '08 and SMU went from 1-11 to 8-5!!! 15 of the 22 teams improved their record and two had the same record as 2008.

In 2010 my #1 Most improved team Tulsa went from 5-7 to 10-3 and #24 AP! The 19 teams that made the list had a combined record of 82-149 35.5% in '09 and improved to a combined 132-109 54.8%!! None of the 19 went to a bowl in '09 but 13 of them were bowl eligible LY! San Diego St got to their first bowl s/'98! Maryland went from 2-10 to 9-4 and Mich St went from 6-7 to 11-1 (#7)! SEVENTEEN of the 19 teams on the 2010 Most Improved list improved their record!!

Last year my MIT was Houston and the Cougars had the largest turnaround in the NCAA going from 5-7 to 13-1 and just missed out on a BCS bowl! My #2 MIT was Georgia and they went from a losing record to the SEC Title game. I only had 16 teams on my MIT list LY and of the 16, 11 went from a losing season to a bowl 68.8%!! Cincy went from 4-8 to 10-3 and Rutgers from 4 to 9 wins.

With this type of success through the years, you might think that it is very easy to pick teams that had losing records the previous year and have become bowl eligible the next season. I went back to 1992 and took a look at all of the teams that finished with losing records in a season. In that span, there have been 1,024 teams that finished with a record below .500. Of those 1,024 teams, only 296 of them managed to finish ABOVE .500 the next year which comes out to just 28.9%. Teams now play a 12 game regular season so a 6-6 record equals bowl eligibility. To be fair, out of the 1,024 teams an additional 54 earned a .500 mark the next year. So, of the 1,024 teams, 350 or 34.2% managed to go from a losing record to at least .500 the next year.

The combined record of all of the teams which had a losing record from 1992-2010 was 3256-6220 or 34.4%. The next year those same teams showed a slight overall improvement in their records to 4122-5637 or just 42.2%. So on the average, a team that had a losing season in that span improved by 7.8% over the previous year's record. Naturally, the teams I feel are the most improved are in my Top 10. My top ten Most Improved Teams over the last 10 years had a comb record of 409-755 (35.1%) the previous year which improved to 652-573 (53.2%) the next year. That is 18.1% better than the previous year which is more than DOUBLE the normal improvement for teams with losing records. The L2Y's the top ten Most Improved teams went from 93-151 38.1% to 149-110 57.5% for a 19.4% improvement!

Miami, Oh
DL Jason Semmes

In the last 10 years, I have had a total of 206 teams on my Most Improved List. The L2Y I picked 35 that have had .500 or below records the previous year and of those 35, 24 improved their record. Of the 206 teams that made my Most Improved List in the last 10 years, 173 (84%) have won at least the same amount of games as the previous year or have improved their win total (18 of 19, 95% in '10!).

In the last 10 years, I have listed 192 teams on my Most Improved Teams list that did not have a winning season the previous year. Of those 192 teams, almost all improved their record the next year, but even more impressively, 120 of the 192 teams were bowl eligible the next year which is 62.5% (55 of 79 70% in '08-'11)!

Taking a closer look at the last 10 years, I found that 530 teams had losing records from 2001-2010, and of those 530 teams, just 146 or 27.1% managed to have a winning record the next year. Of those 146 teams, 88 of them were on my Most Improved List or 60.3%!!! Over 60% of the teams that have gone from a losing season to a winning season have been on my list!

Looking for some major turnaround teams this year that will surprise? Here is my much anticipated Most Improved Teams List. The team at the top is UCF who will be vastly improved and is my pick to win the CUSA Title. In '09 Washington was my computers Most Improved team but I did not put them on the list because I did not think they would get to a bowl. They went from 0-12 to 5-7. In '10 my computer had Miami, Oh as its #1 Most Improved Team, but I did not expect them to be in a bowl so they did not make the list (ouch). They were the first team in NCAA history to go from double digit losses to double digit wins. LY San Jose St got that billing and went from 1-12 to 5-7. This year Indiana and New Mexico were #1 & #2 in that category. You can expect a high % of the teams on my 2012 MIT list to go from a losing record to bowl eligibility and over half will make the postseason!

WHO WILL BE THIS YEAR'S SURPRISE TEAM?

By Phil Steele

Let's pretend you were in Shreveport, Louisiana on December 31, 1999. You've just watched Oklahoma lose 27-25 to an avg Mississippi team to finish the season 7-5. Despite this bowl loss, it was a good year for the Sooners, especially after coming off of 5 consecutive non-winning years. Your friend says to you, "I guarantee you Oklahoma will win the National Championship next year." Your first thought is your friend has "over-celebrated" New Year's Eve. Next year Oklahoma would have just 13 returning starters and face a schedule that included the 3 powerhouses of the Big 12 in Nebraska, Kansas St and Texas, with all 3 of those games away from home.

The Sooners entered the year as a 50-1 shot to win the National Title and were ranked #19. When the dust cleared they simply stood at the top of the heap over all of the other 115 Division IA teams and were the only undefeated team. Impressive indeed! They did have some solid factors going for them in 2000 like exceptionally good health (0 st'rs missed a gm due to inj), a solid QB and a super defense. Your first reaction was this Cinderella story is a one-time thing. However, teams have reached the top and have been big surprises almost every year, and yes, sometimes they bag the National Title despite not being one of the top-ranked teams coming into the season.

Oklahoma was not the only Surprise Team of 2000. Oregon St was unranked coming into the season, and much like the Sooners, stayed remarkably inj free. They also benefitted from +18 turnovers to finish #4 (AP) with a super 11-1 season incl a blowout win over Notre Dame in the Fiesta Bowl. Health and turnovers had a big impact that year, but here are examples of other surprise teams through the years, incl 2010 when preseason #22 Auburn coming off an 8-5 season won the National Title (my #5 surprise team in '10).

Texas
DE Alex Okafor

In 2002, it was yet another Surprise Team taking home the National Title. Ohio St was not even ranked in the preseason Top 10. In fact, only three magazines even picked them to win the Big Ten, let alone contend for a National Title. I am pleased to report I had OSU at #7, which was higher than any other publication. I pointed out 3 sets of my Power Ratings called for Ohio St to have a perfect season. The Buckeyes were coming off a 7-5 season and had only 12 starters back. They had the NCAA's 4th highest losses to the NFL draft and did not even have a returning starter at QB. When the smoke cleared, they had beaten Miami, FL in the Fiesta Bowl and took home the National Title.

In 2003, there was another surprise champ and that was LSU. If you read my 2003 College Football Preview, you know I had LSU pegged as my #2 Surprise Team in the country saying they had a great shot at going undefeated and attaining the National Title. They were a 40-1 long shot in Las Vegas to win the title coming off an 8-5 season including a 35-20 Cotton Bowl loss to Texas. I pointed out they had a great schedule and would have finished stronger in '02 had their QB not been injured. At the start of the year, not only did 8 of the Big 9 magazines NOT have LSU as a National Title contender, but NONE had LSU even winning the SEC WEST DIVISION. That year LSU simply won the SEC outright and shared the National Title!! The other half of the National Title went to USC who I had listed as my #5 Surprise Team despite the fact they had to replace their Heisman Trophy winning QB Carson Palmer.

In '04 almost everyone including myself pegged USC and Oklahoma to play in the Orange Bowl so there was no Surprise Tm in the Title game BUT Auburn made no major publication's Top 10 and almost got to the big game with its unbeaten season. I had Auburn listed as my #7 Surprise Team in '04.

In '05 the #1 and #2 preseason teams met in the Title game so there was no Surprise Team. Penn St was not ranked in the preseason and finished #3 in the final polls after having a losing season in '04. While they did not make my Surprise List, they were my #3 Most Improved Team (page 19).

The 2006 season was a VERY GOOD year for my Surprise Teams and almost a GREAT YEAR! In my round of summer radio shows I got a lot of chuckles with my pick of Boise St to get to a BCS bowl. Only one non-AQ team in history had done so and Boise St was not only unranked to start the year but NOT A SINGLE PUBLICATION IN THE COUNTRY HAD BOISE IN THE TOP 20! Well of course I had them in the Top 20, so I should say, not a single magazine other than mine. Boise, as you all know, was a great story especially with their dramatic win in the Fiesta Bowl and they finished #5 in the polls. I say almost a GREAT year because my #1 Surprise Team was Louisville and they came within inches of playing for the National Title. When I wrote the magazine I had expected the "Derby City Duo" of RB Michael Bush and QB Brian Brohm to be one of the top QB/RB combos in the country. Bush was lost in the 3Q of the opening game and Brohm was injured a few games later. Brohm was only a few games back from injury when the #3 Cards blew a 25-7 3Q lead and lost to Rutgers on a FG on the last play (which was a 2nd chance FG after the first one was missed but the Cardinals were penalized for being offsides). Had they held on and won they would have been #2 in the BCS poll and we would have had a pair of unbeatens meet for the title. As we saw, the Buckeyes were greatly affected by their 51 day layoff and were a vulnerable team. Louisville could have been the fourth team in FIVE YEARS to merit National Championship consideration that was one of my Top 10 Surprise Teams. That is a pretty good record considering I do not pick any of the projected preseason Top 10 teams. In 2006, National Champ, Florida, was in the AP Preseason Top 10 along with the other top teams in the mix (Ohio St, Michigan and USC).

In 2007, I had Ohio St listed as my #4 Surprise Team and they entered the season #11 but played in the National Title game. I had USF (unranked preseason) as my #5 Surprise Team and they climbed as high as #2 in the polls. I had Georgia (#13 AP) as my #6 Surprise Team and they finished #2 and almost played in the title game. I had Oregon my #10 Surprise Team and they were #2 when QB Dennis Dixon was injured. Had Dixon not been injured, they likely would have been in the Title game. I had Missouri my #9 Surprise Team and despite being UNRANKED in the AP preseason poll, they were #1 when they faced Oklahoma in the Big 12 Title game and finished #4! I also had Hawaii going unbeaten in the regular season and playing in the Sugar Bowl which is exactly what happened!

In '08, I had Texas Tech my #3 Surprise Team and they got to 10-0 (#2) and came very close (3-way B12 South Division tie) to playing for the Big 12 Championship and possibly the National Title game. Penn St opened the year #22 but was my #5 Surprise team and had they not given away a 9 point 4Q lead vs Iowa they would have been in the Title game. Do you want to know the non-AQ school that will get to a BCS bowl? Read my magazine. After pegging Boise and Hawaii the previous two years I stuck my neck out with Utah in '08 as the top non-AQ school. According to preseason.stassen.com with the exception of my magazine there was not a SINGLE magazine or internet source that even had the Utes winning the MW let alone contending for a BCS bowl!!

In 2009, the Title game was Texas vs Alabama (both Top 5 prior to year) so there were no surprise teams. In '09 I had Boise St as my #1 non-AQ team and they finished #4 at 14-0 once again getting to a BCS bowl.

In '10 I had AUBURN my #5 surprise team and despite entering the year #22 in the AP poll they ran the table and won the National Title!

Last year the top 4 teams were all in the top twenty at the start so no real surprise tms. I am very pleased that for the SIXTH year out of SIX my Top non-BCS tm (Boise #8) finished as the highest ranked non AQ team.

Do you think it is easy picking a National Champ prior to the year? Since 1994, only 3 times has the preseason #1 team gone on to win the National Title. In '07 NO Magazine had LSU or Ohio St #1 (USC was the consensus #1). In 2006, National Champ Florida was not picked #1 by ANY magazine and they were picked anywhere from #4 (Joe Del Popolo of GamePlan had them rated the highest of any magazine) down to #20. They were #7 in the preseason AP Poll and #8 in the Coaches' Poll. Only in 1999 and 2001 did any of the Big 9 preseason magazines correctly pick the National Champ before 2004 when almost everyone had USC. In 2005 everyone had USC again and no one had the actual Champ, Texas. The Big 9 magazines I am referring to are Athlon, Lindy's, The Sporting News, Street and Smith's, Sports Illustrated, GamePlan, Preview Sports, Jim Feist's and Phil Steele. In 2001, two magazines (Preview Sports and Street and Smith's) pegged Miami, FL as #1 and they were correct. In 2008, Georgia was the preseason #1 team but I had FLORIDA to win the Title and the Gators delivered for me!! Athlon was the only other source to have Florida #1. In 2009 the Gators were the consensus to repeat but Alabama won the title. In 2010 Alabama was the preseason #1 (I did not have Bama in the title game) and Auburn was the surprise winner. Last year Oklahoma was the preseason #1 team but I had Alabama and the Tide delivered for me giving me TWO national champs the last 4 years!

All of this information I have provided for you was obtained from a great website, www.stassen.com, which has information on final polls, magazine rankings and some records that date back to 1989. So, what have we learned from all this information? Clearly, every year there has been an unexpected Top 10 team and some years there are big surprises like Oklahoma, Ohio St, LSU and Auburn who all took home the Title after a 5-loss season (Auburn also had 5 losses in 2003 before going unbeaten in 2004). Now comes the question, "Who will be this year's Surprise Team?"

As I write this magazine, it is unknown where the other magazines will have the teams ranked or what the preseason polls will look like (but I have a very good idea of the top 10). I can definitely peg some teams that won't rank in the Preseason Top 10 (and some not even in the Top 20) that could turn out to be big surprise teams this year. Keep in mind no one can forecast injuries and turnovers and those have been important factors for teams who have climbed to the top in recent years.

In 2001's magazine I listed 9 teams. LSU was a team that was not ranked in the Preseason Top 10, but did earn its way into a BCS bowl by winning the SEC. I picked Colorado for this article, despite the fact that they were 3-8 the previous season!! They missed out on the National Title game by a couple of percentage points in the BCS rankings.

In 2002, my #1 Surprise Team in this article was OHIO STATE and the Buckeyes shocked the nation by winning the National Title!! Some other teams mentioned in the article were Penn State, Kansas State, USC and Arkansas. Penn State ended up playing in a Jan 1 bowl game after two straight losing seasons. At the end of 2002 you could have made an argument that Kansas State and USC were the two hottest teams in the country. Kansas State outscored their opponents on the year by 33 ppg and USC crushed UCLA, Notre Dame and Iowa in their final 3 games by a 134-51 margin. Arkansas was the surprise winner of the SEC West.

In 2003, I had LSU listed as my #2 Surprise Team in the country and they split the National Title with USC. I had USC listed as my #5 Surprise Team as they were not highly ranked at the start of the year. They had to replace Heisman winner Carson Palmer but I noted that 2 of my sets of Power Ratings called them the BEST in the country prior to the season and they claimed the other half of the National Title!!!! My #1 Surprise Team in 2003 was Pitt and they had a shot at the Orange Bowl and a Big East Title but could not beat Miami in their season finale in chilly Heinz Field. In 2003, I listed a couple of non-AQ teams that could factor into the equation and my #1 team was TCU, a team that was ranked #6 in the BCS poll in Nov. and almost made a BCS bowl before a late loss.

In 2004 as usual, I eliminated what early polls showed would be Top 10 teams. As I mentioned I had Auburn as my #7 Surprise Team and they almost played in the National Title game. I had Cal as my #2 Surprise Team and they had a 424-205 yard edge vs USC and just missed winning that game. Had they won, they would have been in the National Title game! I listed Utah and Boise St among 5 non-AQ surprise teams and both went undefeated in the regular season (Boise lost bowl to finish 11-1).

In 2005, Oregon and Alabama (two teams that were not even ranked in the preseason) made my surprise list. The Tide was 9-0 and was #4 until injuries derailed them but they still finished #8. Oregon went 10-1 and was #6, almost making a BCS bowl. Georgia made my surprise list and while they were an almost unanimous preseason pick for third place in the SEC East, they were my pick for the SEC Title and they, of course, won it.

In 2006, only 4 teams who were not in the AP Top 10 at the start of the year finished in the Top 10 and those teams were Louisville, Boise St, Michigan and Wisconsin. As mentioned, Louisville was my #1 Surprise Team and Boise State was my #1 non-AQ team and I projected them to get to a BCS bowl. I had Michigan on my anticipated Top 10 list so they were not an option. Wisconsin, meanwhile, surprised even me.

Something I have noticed the last couple of years is a REBOUND Surprise Team. In 2003, Auburn was thinking undefeated season and National Title. They were picked in the Top 10 by EVERY magazine (except mine, #15) including #1 by a major magazine. They were tremendously disappointing, finishing just 7-5 in the regular season. In '04, the Tigers were no longer the popular pick and few had them in the Top 10 (they were my #7 Surprise Team). With lower expectations they rebounded to go 13-0 and almost played for the National Title. In that '04 season West Virginia was a popular surprise pick as they had the schedule to run the table. I tabbed WV as my #1 Surprise Team and they did rise to #6 but injuries and some close losses saw them stumble to an 8-4 record. In '05, the Mountaineer bandwagon emptied fast and no magazine (including mine) had them in the Top 25. West Virginia rebounded with an almost perfect year going 11-1, beating Georgia in the Sugar Bowl and finishing #5. In 2006, Louisville fit that category after having high expectations in '05 but came out of the season with 3 unexpected losses. I mentioned earlier how they were inches away from playing in the 2006 National Title game. In '08 USC (preseason #1 '07) was the best fit but I could not pick them because they were in the Top 5 in the preseason. Last year I mentioned that Alabama (preseason #1 in '10, 10-3) fit that category and they won the National Title!!! This year the team that fits is Oklahoma who was the preseason #1 but finished #16 at 10-3.

The last couple of February's on PhilSteele.com, I have posted my projected AP Top 10 for the upcoming season. I have hit 9 of 10 the last three seasons. The last two years ESPN has produced its preseason Top 25 and it comes out in April. Here is my expected list of the teams that will likely be ranked in this year's preseason AP Top 10 and I put them in order of how they will likely be ranked: USC, LSU, Alabama, Oregon, Oklahoma, Georgia, Arkansas, Florida State, South Carolina, Michigan and West Virginia. It's likely these 11 teams will make up the Top 11 this year, so I will NOT use any of them. Now let's take a look at this year's potential surprise teams.

Two more teams this yr that I will not use but WOULD have used had they been eligible for the Title are Ohio State and North Carolina!!!

This year my #1 Surprise Team is the Texas Longhorns! The ESPN April ranking has them at #22 and they are 13-12 the last two years finishing unranked each year. LY Texas did not have a Top 10 D (#11) by NCAA standards but had my #2 rated D as they held 5 opp's to season lows and took on 6 of the top 13 offenses in the country. The 2nd best defense in the Big 12 conf taking on these type of powerhouse offenses was Oklahoma and they finished #55 in the NCAA rankings! Texas has a top ten D again with 6 st'rs back but get a big upgrade on offense with my #4 set of RB's, #11 Rec's and #8 O-line and they will get the best QB play since Colt McCoy left after '09. Keep in mind Texas finished in the Top 10 seven of nine yrs (#12 in '03, #13 in '06) from 2001-'09 and that included five Top 5 finishes. Their toughest two gms are at Okla St and their Red River Rivalry vs Oklahoma. This is the 2nd year for their new coor's systems and remember four Nat'l Champs the last 12 years have been off 5 loss seasons.

70 points. Ask anyone about My #2 Surprise Team the Clemson Tigers and the first thing they will say is 70 pts or "West Virginia just scored again." Clemson had a great season getting to 8-0 and #6 but went 2-4 down the stretch still managing to win the ACC Title. This year they have one of the top QB, RB, WR combos in the country with QB Boyd, RB Ellington, WR's Watkins and Hopkins. They played a lot of VHT true frosh LY and they are all now exp'd sophs. Most of their toughest ACC foes are in Death Valley and they should be favored in as many as 10 gms this year with 1 tossup (Auburn) and one clear cut underdog (at Florida St). Naturally I think Fla St will win that game (see Top 40) but I expected VT to beat them in Blacksburg last year and Clemson prevailed even in a letdown situation off two big wins at home. How quickly the OL comes around (just 2 ret sts) will determine if this is a surprise National Title contender.

I do want to reiterate that Ohio St and North Carolina both have the talent and schedules to run the table but I could not pick either because they are not eligible for the BCS Title. In 2010 everyone in the country made the mistake of assuming a large drop off by My #3 Surprise team the Oklahoma State Cowboys as they had to replace QB Zac Robinson (career passing leader), a thousand yd RB and WR Dez Bryant (1st Tm AA). There were 47 different tms that were picked among the various publications Top 25 and the Cowboys were not ranked by a single source! Brand new QB Weeden had a fine year. After spring the coaches wondered if a feature WR would emerge and it took until the end of August but Justin Blackmon did and had a huge year. OSU went 23-3 the last 2 yrs with those two. This year they depart and my biggest apprehension is that they go from a 28 year old QB to a true frosh, perhaps the largest dropoff EVER for a college QB position (10 years age diff!). OSU does have a solid O-line and my #8 set of RB's but their biggest difference is that the defense which was #107 LY could have a Michigan '11 type of improvement, as they have Top 25 defensive talent. They do draw Oklahoma on the road but could be favored in all their other road games meaning if they take care of business at home they could be a surprise team despite not being in the Top 15.

My #4 Surprise Team is the Wisconsin Badgers. LY AFTER my magazine was on the newsstands, Wisconsin signed Russell Wilson who had led the ACC in td passes each of the previous 3 years! Wilson is a tireless worker that came in and gave 100% effort every snap including in practice and elevated the team to the Rose Bowl (2 Hail Mary's away from a poss Nat'l Title appearance). Had I known that he was coming in and that Jim Tressel and Joe Paterno would not be coaching their respective teams when Wisconsin faced them, I would have had the Badgers #1 by themselves as opposed to tied for #1 in the Big Ten Leaders. Danny O'Brien is NOT Russell Wilson but the Maryland transfer is a good fit for the offense and they caught a huge break when Heisman finalist Montee Ball opted to return for his Sr season. UW avoids Michigan out of the Legends and their road games all fall into the winnable category with the toughest at Nebraska and Oregon St. They face my #56 schedule with only 3 ranked teams (no Top 10) and with two of those 3 in the friendly confines of Camp Randall.

In 2010 in this spot I had a 2nd year coach in Gene Chizik who was not a popular hire (showing fans can actually be wrong) and was coming off an 8-5 season and My #5 Surprise Team, the Florida Gators, also have a 2nd year HC that is off a disappointing season at 7-6. A first year HC has to learn the players strengths and weaknesses and the team must learn his new systems. Year two everyone is up to speed. In 2000 Bob Stoops in his 2nd year shockingly won the Title (see the opening paragraph). 2002 was Jim Tressel's 2nd year at Ohio St and he was the surprise National Title winner! Urban Meyer in his 2nd year at Florida took home a National Title in 2006. In 2010 Gene Chizik (2nd year) took home the title after going 8-5 his first year at Auburn. Third yr HC's have also won 4 in that span in '09-Saban Alabama, '07-Miles LSU, '03-Carroll USC and '97-Carr Michigan.LY Florida used 3 different QB's due to injury, they were -12 in turnovers, go from just 9 ret sts to 17 and go from only 3 SEC home gms to just 3 SEC true road gms (Texas A&M, Tennessee, Vanderbilt). They do have to face four Top 10 teams but only one of them on the road (Florida State). No one is talking about Florida to even win the SEC East but they will be at the end of the year.

It seems like every year a team from the Big East ends up flirting with the top few spots in the AP poll. They of course do not have the type of schedule that SEC teams face on a weekly basis. Last year My #6 surprise team, the Louisville Cardinals opened the season 2-4 but finished "Strong" and tied for the Big East Title just missing a BCS bowl. The Big East is more watered down TY and that means the BE winner has a great shot at an unbeaten season. Three of UL's road games are vs tms with new HC's and one gm is vs a Sun Belt team. There are 2 sets of my ratings (9 ttl) that call for an unbeaten season. Their chances of getting to the Title game would be hindered by the easy schedule but with lots of folks clamoring for "Conference Champions" only in the BCS mix, they may be the only one left unbeaten if they make it. LY's team was not as good as their final record but UL had just 10 ret sts, and a Fr QB and this year they have 15 ret sts and are a much stronger team.

My #7 Surprise team, the Nebraska Cornhuskers are a little bit of a leap of faith for me. They had the most disappointing defense in the NCAA LY as they had top ten talent and they yielded 351 ypg. Now they lose their top 3 on that side of the ball (#2, #4, #7 DC's). They still have a talented unit with my #21 DL, #33 LB's and #14 DB's and I can't believe Pelini forgot how to coach defense (usually his units stronger than the sum of their parts). The offense has QB Taylor Martinez and RB Rex Burkhead with my #22 rated O-line and upgraded receivers. This year they have only 5 road games with just two of the teams having a winning record LY. The Huskers are one of 7 teams that rank in my top units in all 8 categories including my #9 rated Special teams and they could be a big surprise this year.

Last year my #1 Surprise Team is now this years #8 Surprise Team, in the Virginia Tech Hokies and that may surprise you as I do not have them even winning their own division, but I do have them playing in the ACC Title game. Virginia Tech was not in the preseason Top 10 last year but I thought they had a shot at winning all of their games and they were favored in ALL 12 regular season gms and then a td favorite in the ACC Title game. This despite losing three of their top defensive players to injury during the year. They got upset by Clemson at home and then by the Clemson Tigers again in the ACC Title game. In the bowl they had a 22-12 FD and 377-184 yd edges but lost to Michigan (in OT). This year they would have to get thru my #1 rated team twice (Florida State) but in Coach Beamer's 4 ACC Titles in 7 years they have pulled FIVE upsets and beaten 4 Top 12 tms. VT is 11-1 on the ACC road so are very capable of wins at Clemson and NC and get Florida St at home on a Thursday Night. Bud Foster has his best defense since '06 with 9 ret sts incl those injured players back.

Since I took Ohio St and North Carolina out of the mix, I am scrambling to find my #9 and #10 teams. My thought process was OK, are there any Top 10 defenses out there that are A) Not in the Top 10 or B) Not on my Surprise list yet? My #9 Surprise Team the Michigan State Spartans fits that bill. The case against MSU making the list is that they lose their QB, top 4 rec's and an AA DT while also having to play a 4 game stretch of Iowa, at Mich, at Wisc and Nebraska. On the plus side they have my #8 rated defense, my #20 ST's and a deep corps of RB's running behind my #13 O-line. They will be a dog in just two games this year and that is the B2B road gms in that stretch but they have beaten Michigan 3 str yrs and LY their two meetings with Wisc came down to the wire and the Spartans have more ret sts than the Badgers.

I'm down to the #10 spot on my Surprise Team list and I do not want to leave out a worthy candidate. In 2008, I left Alabama off the list because they had 4 tough road games but they went 12-0 that year (reg ssn). In 2009 I left Iowa off the list because they had 4 tough road games and had they not lost QB Stanzi to injury they might have gone 12-0. Last year I made the right choice as my #10 team was Wisconsin which came within two Hail Marys of playing for the National Title. This year my choice was Utah or my #10 Surprise team, the Stanford Cardinal. Yes, I know they lose QB Luck and two super OL's and they play a tough schedule that includes two Top 5 tms and 5 of their 6 road games are vs teams that made it to a bowl LY and each look stronger. They have not beaten Oregon in Eugene in their last 5 trips. Still this is a team with 7 returning starters on defense and they get back their best defensive player in LB Skov who was injured LY after 3 sts. The OL is still solid, they have a bevy or RB's and while their QB's are inexp'd, they go 5 deep in VHT's and will have a solid one emerge. SU was a missed FG away from beating Okla St and finishing in the Top 10 LY and will need an upset or two but have a solid run game and my #11 D.

Roulette Chips. If you walk up to a roulette table and pick just one number you have a 38-1 shot (37-1 in the big money rooms with no 00) of having your number come in, so it is a long shot but still a possibility. Last year I listed two teams that had poor LOSING records from the previous year and said if the stars align correctly, no injuries happen, and every bounce goes their way, they could be the first team in recent history to go from a losing record to a National Title. You might argue that you could say that about any of the 124 FBS teams but that is not the case, as the odds of a Duke or Wash St walking away with the Title are about the same as #78 coming up in roulette. One of two teams that I chose in 2005 was Alabama. They rose as high as #4 in polls at 9-0 and may just have gotten to the big game if not for key offensive injuries. Here are a couple of long shots that I felt compelled to include. In '10 I had South Carolina and they got as high as #10 while Michigan off of B2B losing seasons got as high as #18. LY I had Texas who got as high as #11 and Cincy which finished 10-3 and tied for the Big East Title despite losing their QB to injury late in the year (2 losses after injury).

The Tennessee Volunteers are off a 5-7 non bowl season but only had 11 ret sts LY and were plagued by injuries especially at QB. I actually rate them with a Top 25 offense and a Top 20 defense. LY they had to play Alabama, LSU AND Arkansas out of the West and only play one this year and they make the "Going Up" Box on page 328. Two of my 9 sets of Power Ratings call for double digit wins and that would put them just an upset or two from contending for all the marbles. Of course 7 of my sets do not which is why they are a roulette chip instead of my #1 Surprise team.

Just like Tennessee above The USF Bulls had a losing record in 2011 at just 5-7 so getting to the Title game would require a quantum leap. They actually have an edge over Louisville in that if they went unbeaten they would have wins over Florida State and a road win at Louisville in their pockets. This may be the fastest and most athletic team in the Big East Conference and I have them at the top of the standings as well.

These are the 10 teams that have a legitimate shot at stunning the NCAA much like Oklahoma did in 2000, Ohio St did in 2002, LSU did in 2003, Auburn almost did in 2004, Louisville almost did in 2006, Ohio St almost did again in 2007 and the Auburn Tigers accomplished in 2010!

Also listed below are six more non-AQ teams who are long shots to make it to a BCS bowl, let alone a National Title game. In 2006, my top non-AQ team was Boise St and I PROJECTED THEM INTO A BCS BOWL and they went undefeated and got to the Fiesta Bowl where they beat Oklahoma. In 2007, I called for Hawaii to go 12-0 and grab a SUGAR BOWL BERTH and that is exactly what they did! In 2008 my top non-AQ team was Utah and while they were NOT RANKED in the preseason and no one picked them to even win the MW at the start of the year except me, they finished unbeaten and #2 in the country! In 2009 my Top non-AQ team was Boise St and when they beat TCU in the Fiesta Bowl they finished #4 and the top non-AQ team in the country. 2010 it was FIVE in a row. EVERYONE had Boise St as their top non AQ team but I went against the grain and picked TCU and coach Patterson and company did not disappoint as they knocked off Wisconsin in the Rose Bowl and finished #2 in the country, naturally the top rated non-AQ team out there (TCU #2!). Last year I pegged the Boise State Broncos as my top non-AQ team and it did not look well when they lost to TCU at home on a missed FG. That missed FG might have prevented them from playing LSU in the Title game!!!! They did finish the year the TOP RANKED non-AQ team (#8)!!

That means in the last 6 years the team that I have predicated as my Top non-AQ school in ALL SIX years has finished as the best non-AQ team with FIVE of them making BCS bowls! This year I'm going for SEVEN IN A ROW, my call is for the UCF Knights to go unbeaten in CUSA play and be the top non-AQ team in the country this year!

The non AQ conference WOULD HAVE HAD a berth in the National Title game just 3 years ago if Texas had missed a last second FG (vs Neb) as TCU was #3 in the BCS and would have played Alabama. In '10 TCU came very close again and may have got there if they were one of two remaining undefeated teams. LY Boise probably would have played LSU if not for the missed FG. Many of my sets of power ratings called for Houston to go 12-0 LY and they would have been in a BCS bowl if they won the CUSA Title game at home. This year I call for a newcomer to the top of my Non-AQ list and it is the UCF Knights who also get the call as my Most Improved team!

DETERMINING THE NATIONAL CHAMP BOWLS OR PLAYOFFS? BY PHIL STEELE

Is it too early to pop the champagne cork? For more than a decade now I have been calling for a system which pits the #1 vs #4 and #2 vs #3 teams in the Jan 1 bowls and the addition of a title game a week or two later which would give us a true National Champ every year. I first wrote the article WAAAAY back in 2000 and have updated the article every year in my magazine. Last year was the 12th year that had me calling for the "Plus One" system or whatever you want to call the #1 vs #4 and #2 vs #3 with the winners playing for the title game. As I write this in May of 2012 it sure appears that this format will take place in 2014. Of course last summer it sure looked like four 16-team super conferences was a "sure thing" but that did not happen. Right now it does indeed appear certain that we will be going to the 4-team playoff format. The only question marks which will be decided in the next couple of months are the seeds, sites that the games will be played and how the 4 teams will be chosen. Is this the perfect system? No, that does not exist. There is no system that would have worked perfectly every year since the BCS was formed in 1998. Is this the BEST system? Yes, I feel it is the best system and by a large margin. I won't pop the cork yet but the bottle is chilling.

Here is a picture of that first article from way back in 2000 and a link to my website so you could read my original thoughts on the system.

I completely understand why some are hesitant about a 4-team playoff feeling that it will lead to an 8-team playoff then to a 16-team playoff. I could not agree more that an 8 or 16-team playoff would be very harmful and in the end bad for college football. Personally I feel that the only way a "plus one" format should be approved is if they can sign a contract that it can not be extended to 8 or 16 teams for a significant 20 year period in the future. Here are some key reasons why an 8 or 16-team playoff would be harmful.

The one thing I love about college football is of all the other sports, college or pro, the regular season in college football is the one that MEANS THE MOST. You might be able to stay alive in the overall chase if you lose ONE regular season game, but two losses will most likely, and should, eliminate you. That means the games in September, October and November are just as critical as the bowl games if you want to have a shot at the National Title. No other sport with an expanded playoff system can say that. College basketball's regular season big games really mean ABSOLUTELY nothing, as it only matters what you do in the tournament. If the #1 tm loses in college basketball they would still be in the NCAA Tournament at the end of the year and it only matters what you do in those final 6 games.

I know in college basketball the NCAA tournament is a major success. TV ratings are high and almost everyone in the country participates in their office pools predicting who will be the National Champ. Many have said they would like to see such a tournament for NCAA football as well. I definitely disagree. Here's the main reason why: If you take a look at the NCAA hoops tournament and who is crowned champion, I think you will find the most dominating team does not always win the championship. How can you say a team like the 1985 Villanova squad, which finished the regular season 16-10, was the best team in the country simply because they won their last 6 games in the NCAA tournament? There were 10 teams during the regular season who were stronger than they were! To say at the end of the year that a team that lost 10 games was the strongest team in the NCAA was a joke and meant the entire regular season was meaningless. 2010 was a perfect example of the college basketball regular season meaning absolutely nothing. None of the Final Four teams were ranked in the top 14 of the final regular season AP poll as Kentucky was #15, UConn #21 while Butler and VCU weren't even in the top 35! Your Final Four teams consisted of a UConn team that finished 9th in the Big East Conference; Kentucky who did not even win their own conference DIVISION, Butler who tied for the Horizon League crown with two other teams and VCU who finished 4th in the Colonial Conference and many of the basketball experts were strongly against them being included in the 68-team tournament to begin with!

The current FCS 20-team playoff format, which many people want the FBS to eventually go to, has its flaws as well. From '06-'10, the THIRD place finisher in the South Division of the Colonial has played in the title game twice. In most years the FCS playoffs turn into a battle of attrition. Many times in the battle thru 4 or 5 extra games on top of the regular season you see many key players get hurt. A couple of times the team I felt was the best team in the FCS got knocked out of the playoffs after injuries had taken their QB or a key player from that team out of the playoffs or had that player significantly hobbled and playing at far less than 100%. The FCS champion in some years is not the best team but the one that stayed the healthiest in the playoffs. Many say that championships should be decided "on the field". This format does determine their champs on the field but not on the field in the regular season as teams can lose 3 or 4 games and still be eligible so they are determined "on the field in the postseason" with the teams with less attrition generally advancing. I do not feel this method produces a true National Champ every year.

Another reason not to have a 16 team playoff is the bowl system. I love college football and I love the bowls. They produce matchups you normally do not see and each bowl has its own flavor. Getting to a bowl game is a reward for the players and gives their fans a nice destination to travel to in December or January. It provides bragging rights for the conferences when they play each other and allows half of the teams that do make the post season to end their year on an up note with a win! Another reward to getting to a bowl is the additional practices a team has which many times helps develop the younger players. I am old enough to remember when the Big Ten had a rule that only the Big Ten champ could play in the Rose Bowl and none of the other teams went to a bowl game. That is one of the reasons that Big Ten teams do not have as many bowls in their history as conferences such as the SEC. Growing up in Big Ten country was a lot more exciting in 1975 when they lifted that rule. Michigan and Ohio St were in the Orange Bowl those first two years instead of the team not going to the Rose Bowl sitting home for the holidays. In 1969 Ohio St had perhaps the best team in the country and did not play in a bowl. It is my job so naturally I watch every minute of every bowl game but if it were not my job, I would actually still watch every minute of every bowl game! I also like how teams in November that are eliminated from the title chase are playing key games to determine whether they will play their bowl in Florida or perhaps in a colder climate. I do love the bowls and think we need to keep them.

Once again here is my plan to determine the National Champ. It is actually very close to what we have now. I feel it would establish a true National Champ every year. This is the THIRTEENTH straight year I have called for it in my magazine. To determine the National Champ, I feel they should continue with the BCS rankings and include the Top FOUR teams in the BCS chase. I am open to a committee choosing the teams (see next paragraph). The two semifinal games would be played on Jan 1 and rotate as the bowls do now between the Rose, Orange, Sugar and Fiesta. The Top 4 teams in the country, according to the BCS, would be invited. If you look at the last 15 years, this would have included: No. 3 Ohio St in 1998, No. 3 Nebraska in 1999, BOTH Oregon and Colorado in 2001, No. 1 USC in 2003, undefeated SEC Champ Auburn in 2004, Michigan in 2006, Texas and USC in 2008, undefeated Cincinnati and TCU in 2009, undefeated TCU in '10 and Oklahoma St who had a legitimate argument last year. In this scenario, the teams decide who is the National Champ on the field. No. 1 would face No. 4 and No. 2 would face No. 3 in the January bowls. After the first round matchups, the Championship game could be played during the bye week before the Super Bowl. This would allow the teams plenty of time for preparation and for fans to make travel arrangements, given the three to four week span and give football fans something to look forward to during the week the NFL is off. It would also prevent a team like Ohio St from playing in a National Title game after not having played for 50+ days which affected their performance in both 2006 and 2007. I am also not opposed to some of the other ways of matching up #1 vs #4 and #2 vs #3. I have an open mind and was intrigued by the proposal that the #1 seed gets to play in its "home" BCS bowl and not having the semifinals at a predetermined spot. The SEC champ for example would be in the Sugar Bowl and the Big Ten or Pac 12 champ would be in the Rose Bowl if those two teams were #1 or #2. That plan makes sense as well.

Oregon

I am also open to a committee selecting the top 4 but it would have to be a committee comprised of people that follow COLLEGE football full time and not those that cover other sports or just follow one team or conference. It is sort of like the coaches poll. Any head coach worth his salt should be concerned with his own team and then the opponents on his schedule and pour all of his energy into those schools. To think that Nick Saban is breaking down film on last night's Clemson and Florida St game just to get an idea of who to vote for in the coaches poll would be ridiculous. The second his game is over his focus goes onto the next opponent. Many times the school's SID ends up selecting the coach's votes and odds are they were at their own team's game the previous day and not watching every game from across the country. Many writers I talk to do a fabulous job covering their teams and know their conferences inside and out. Many cover the football and basketball teams and that cuts into their schedules in November. Also, they really focus on their team and conference which is why they know it so well and usually spend Saturday at the team's game they are covering rather than watching all the games across the nation. It will be interesting to see if a committee is formed, who they will use to choose the teams.

In past years' articles I have gone in depth year by year and pointed out why the 4 team playoff with one extra game would be a good fit. You can go to any of the past years' magazines (old issues are available to order on philsteele.com if you lost any of yours) and get all those examples broken down in depth and year by year. I started the article in 2000 because I felt the best team in the country in both 1998 and 1999 did not get to play in the title game. My plan would have worked PERFECTLY in 12 of the 15 years while the BCS's current plan would have worked in only 4 out of the 15 years. I will say that the folks that clamor for a 16 team playoff probably had the best plan in ONE of those 15 years and that was in the wacky 2007 season when the argument at the end of the year was about who was the best TWO or THREE loss team in the country. Yes, that was a weird year and the ONE year that a larger playoff format would have worked.

I will take you year by year thru the BCS and show you how my system and the current BCS system fared and you don't have to go looking for past magazines. If you have a Smartphone just scan the code to the right!

Now with the move to a 4 team playoff there will be debate on that #4 spot. That is fine and I know that will happen but that should not raise the need for expanding the playoffs. When you are arguing over the #4 spot this year, keep this question in mind. If this was a two team playoff would this team have a legitimate claim to a #1 or #2 spot? If your answer is no (and most years it is that way) then argue about that #4 spot but realize the system got it right and all the teams that needed to be in the title have their shot. If you go to that article I list in the previous paragraph you will find that in depth and here is a quick thumbnail sketch of the last 11 years.

2001- One undefeated, two tms with 1 loss. A 2 loss tm is #4.
2002- Two undefeated (Ohio St-Miami). No need for #3 or #4
2003- Three teams with 1 loss (split Nat'l Title). #4 tm 2 losses.
2004- Unbeaten SEC champ Auburn #3. Utah unbeaten.
2005- Two undefeated teams in USC-Texas. GREAT Rose Bowl.
2006- Only debate Michigan or Florida for #3. #4 LSU 2 losses.
2007- Strange year. Could make a case against any team being in.
2008- Florida, Okla, Texas and Alabama.
2009- 5 unbeatens but Alabama & Texas only ones that HAD to be in.
2010- Three unbeatens all in. Only debate is best 1 loss.
2011- The 3 legitimate 1 loss tms and undefeated LSU, a clear Top 4.

The only year where the #5 team could make a clear cut case to be included in the Top 2 was that wacky 2007 season. You cannot try to implement a playoff plan based on that one year when 14 of the 15 years the #5 team could not make a case for being in a two team title game. Also in that 2007 season I could make a case that NO team had a legitimate beef for being left out of the title game and no team that deserved to play in a title game was left out. That happened to Ohio St in 1998, Nebraska in 1999, Washington and Miami in 2000, Oregon and Colorado in 2001, USC and LSU (split title) in 2003, unbeaten SEC Champ Auburn in 2004, Michigan fell to #3 without playing in both '03 and '06 and some could make a case for TCU in '10 and Oklahoma St in '11.

I do feel that schedule strength must have a huge bearing on the picking of the top 4 teams. This year for example if you took Arkansas (most have 5th best team in the SEC) and put them in the Mountain West, MAC, Big East, CUSA, WAC or the Sun Belt they would be the preseason favorite to win each of those leagues and be favored in every game. By closely looking at schedule strength we may end up getting better non conference matchups in the future. Let's say two 1 loss teams are tied for that #4 spot and one of them defeated a ranked team and two other BCS foes in non-conf play while the other played 4 teams from non AQ conferences. You can bet that the team with the weaker schedule would be left out. The result would be stronger non-conf games and the college football fan would be the winner.

I feel strongly that it must be #1 vs #4 and #2 vs #3. There has been talk to let the bowls play as they do then pick the 2 teams after the bowls but the debate would be much the same if the top 3 tms were all unbeaten and playing in diff bowls, a deserving team would get left out.

Finally let's look at the Conf Champion debate. I understand the clamor to only include Conference Champs but I feel Alabama was clearly the best team in the country last year and they would have been left out. They had perhaps the NCAA's best defense ever, one of the best offensive lines and a Heisman finalist at RB (#3 pick NFL draft). Bama showed in the title game they belonged and their closest win all year was by 17 points. I will use a tightener which would enhance the conference title games and that is this. If a Top 4 team loses a conference title game at a neutral site to another team that is in the Top 4 of the BCS final standings, that team is eliminated. I will call this the Immediate Rematch Clause. Let me clarify the Neutral Site and immediate rematch aspects. In 2006 #2 Michigan travelled to #1 Ohio St for the regular season finale and it was a large home edge for the #1 Buckeyes. Ohio St escaped with a 3 point win. Had the game been at a neutral site perhaps Michigan would have won. They were clearly two of the top 3 teams that year and that loss would not have eliminated Michigan as it was not a conference title game and it was far from a neutral site. I have some clear wording in my rematch clause which does not eliminate a team just because it lost its title game. The clause is to avoid rematches in the final 4 between two teams that just played the previous game. As an example if there was an unbeaten team that was #1 but was upset in its conference title game they would still be eligible as long as the team that upset them was not in the top 4.

I feel if you put a clause in that says you MUST win a conference championship we could have some deserving teams left out. As mentioned last year it would have left the BEST team in college football out of a 4 team playoff and that would make it a bogus system. If the other conferences are concerned about the SEC getting two teams into the mix, they should put their focus on strengthening their teams and not leaving deserving teams out.

I am not ready to pop the cork yet on that bottle of champagne and hopefully the fine tuning stages the next few months don't ruin it but it appears that my now 13-year appeal for #1 vs #4 and #2 vs #3 is coming to fruition. I believe we will have a true national champ almost every year, the bowls will stay in tact and the college football regular season will remain the most important regular season of any sport college or pro!

WHICH IS THE TOUGHEST CONFERENCE?

BY PHIL STEELE

Let me help clarify the great debate on which conference is the toughest. One of the most exciting things about NCAA Football is that the toughest conference changes are on a yearly basis, but of course lately the SEC has dominated winning the last 6 National Titles as well as the top spot in my final Toughest Conference Ratings for the last 7 years. I remember back in the late 1960's, when it could have been argued that the SWC was the top conference in the country with powerhouses like Texas and Arkansas battling it out for #1. Nittany Lion fan are still not too pleased with President Nixon's proclamation that Texas was #1 after they beat Arkansas in 1969 when their undefeated Penn St team finished #2. In later years, it was the Big 8 with Nebraska and Oklahoma dominating the landscape. The SEC, of course, is usually near the top, as is the Big Ten. Both conferences have had their powerhouse years, with Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide and the rivalry between Woody Hayes (Ohio St) and Bo Schembechler (Michigan). They, of course, have also had some off-years. There have been a lot of conference changes in the last 12 yrs (a lot this year!). These realignments have created some major shifts of power.

Another interesting point is that there is not an exact science for picking the toughest conference. You cannot rely strictly on how many bowl wins a conference racks up during the postseason, or on its overall record in non-conference play. Let's face it, some leagues' non-conf slates are much tougher than others. Conferences can play non-conf games vs FCS or BCS opponents and if you go strictly on overall records, the wins and losses count the same.

Before I take a look at 2011's results, let's look at the results from the previous 9 years for a historical perspective. In 2002 the Big Ten made a big comeback and was the Top Conference. Not only did they produce the National Champion in Ohio St but they had the best bowl record of any conference (5-2). The Big Ten also had the best record vs other AQ conf's at 8-5 (ACC #2 at 10-7).

In 2003, I put together all the factors (non-conf record, record vs BCS conf, average power ratings and bowl records) and rated the conferences with the SEC narrowly earning the title of 2003's Toughest Conference with the Big Ten and Big 12 finishing very close behind.

For 2004, I eliminated wins vs FCS schools but did include losses vs them. USC had tremendous power rating numbers which are also a part of my equation. During the season the Big 12 had the best non-conf record and a slight lead but USC's demolition of Oklahoma in the Title game had me awarding the Pac-10 its first-ever Toughest Conference Title. The #2 conference was the Big 12, #3 SEC, #4 ACC and the Big Ten was #5.

In '05, the best non-conf record went to the Big 12 at 23-5 (82%), followed by the Big Ten at 26-6 (81%). Against AQ schools the Big Ten was #1 (6-4), with the Pac-10 & Big 12 each at 4-3 and the ACC at 9-7. The MW (5-7) actually had a better record in this category than the Big East (4-9). Only 3 leagues had winning records in bowls (Big 12 5-3, Pac-10 3-2, ACC 5-3). Here is how I ranked the '05 conf's: #1 SEC, #2 ACC, #3 Big Ten, #4 Big 12, #5 Pac-10 and #6 Big East.

In 2006, it appeared late in the year that the Big Ten was the toughest league with Ohio St and Michigan #1 and #2 and Wisconsin not far behind. The Big Ten got blown up in the bowls (2-5) with #1 Ohio St, being dominated by Florida. That dropped the Big Ten to #3. The SEC was the CLEAR #1 with the best record during the regular season vs FBS teams at 32-8 (80%). The lowest mark among the BCS conferences was the ACC at 20-17 (54.1%). Both the MAC and CUSA posted more wins (5) in non-conf BCS games than the Big 12 or ACC!! The SEC led with 41 players drafted followed by the Big Ten (32), then the ACC (31). The Big East only had 16, which was actually 1 behind the WAC! The SEC and Big Ten each had THREE Top 10 teams (Big East 2). The SEC was 6-3 in bowls with 4 wins over ranked teams. The Big East was 5-0 but had only ONE win over a ranked foe. All of the factors above were tossed into my computer and the result was #1 SEC, #2 Big East, #3 Big Ten, #4 Pac-10, #5 ACC, #6 Big 12.

In 2007, it was another finish at the wire with the Big 12 making a huge rebound to #2. The best non-conf record (reg season) vs FBS teams was the Big Ten at 29-7 (80.6%) followed by the Big 12 at 29-11 (72.5%) and then the MW at 70.7%. The MW posted more wins (7) in non-conf BCS games than the Big Ten, Pac-10 or Big 12!! The SEC led again with 35 players drafted, followed by the Pac-10 (34) and the ACC (33). The Big 12 led with FOUR Top 10 teams (SEC 2). The MW (4-1) had the best bowl record! The SEC was 7-2 with 4 wins over ranked teams in bowls, which tied them with the Big 12 for the lead (MW 0). All of the factors above were tossed into my computer and the result was a nail-biting close-win for the SEC. The Big 12 was a hair behind at #2.

In the 2008 regular season there was little doubt that the top 2 conf's were the SEC and the Big 12. The top 4 ranked teams heading into the bowls were all from those 2 conf's. They were the top two in terms of non-conf record vs FBS foes (Big 12 28-10, 73.7%, SEC 28-11, 71.8%). The SHOCKING winner of best record in non-conf games vs BCS schools was the MW at 9-4 (6-1 vs Pac-10) with the ACC at 13-8 (61.9%), the only other conf topping .500 in that category. The Pac-10 was actually 12-17 in non-conf FBS games (8th best). The bowls saved the Pac-10 as they went a perfect 5-0 (4 wins vs rank bowl foes) and finished with 2 Top 10 teams. The SEC went 6-2 in bowls (Big 12 4-3) and won the title game. Five conferences had TWO Top 10 teams at the end but one of them was the MW while the Big East and ACC had NONE. The top 3 conf's in terms of players that were drafted were the SEC with 37, the ACC with 33 and the Pac-10 32. The top 4 conf's of '08 were #1 SEC, #2 Big 12, #3 Pac-10 and for the first time the MW cracked the top 4.

In '09 there was little doubt that once again the SEC was the king but at least the Big Ten made a comeback after their #6 finish in '08. The SEC had the best record in non-conf games vs FBS foes at 36-10 (78%) with the Big East #2 at 26-10 (72%) and the Big Ten #3 at 27-15 (64%). In games vs AQ conf's the SEC was tops at 15-8 (65.2%) and they were the only league above 50%. The MW was #2 at 7-9 (44%). The SEC led with 10 bowl teams (6-4). The Big 12 was 4-4 and the Big Ten was 4-3. The Big Ten's 4 bowl wins were ALL vs ranked teams (SEC 3, Big 12 2, Big East 0). The SEC once again led in draft picks with 49 (Big Ten 34, ACC 31). The Big Ten actually finished with the most AP Top 10 teams (3) while the SEC had two. The top 4 conf's of '09 were #1 SEC, #2 Big Ten, #3 Big 12 and #4 Big East.

In 2010 the SEC went 36-11 (76.9%) in non-conf gms and went 15-10 (60%) vs other AQ conf's (no other conf above 50%). Their 10 bowl tms were the most as were their 38 draft picks. The Pac-10 had 31 draft picks and two Top 10 tms and might have been #2 but only had 4 bowl teams overall. The Big Ten had 8 bowl tms and despite just 29 players drafted finished a distant #2 to the SEC with a very slight edge over conferences #3, 4 and 5. The Big 12 had just 1 win over a ranked tm in the bowls and 1 Top 10 tm but actually were #2 with 5 top 25 tms. The top 4 conf's of '10 were #1 SEC, #2 Big Ten, #3 Big 12 and #4 Pac-10 (now the Pac 12).

Last year the SEC was far and away the best again with 4 Top Ten teams at the end of the year, the most NFL draft picks with 42, the best record (9-3) in non conf BCS games, 3 wins over ranked bowl teams and a 6-3 record in bowls that included a loss to an SEC school (LSU to Bama in Title game). For a complete breakdown of each category go to PhilSteele.com and check out the May 25th Daily blog under the archives.

2011 FINAL CONFERENCE RANKINGS

1.	SEC	7.	Big East
2.	Big 12	8.	Mountain West
3.	Big Ten	9.	Independent
4.	Pac-12	10.	MAC
5.	ACC	11.	Sun Belt
6.	CUSA	12.	WAC

Now let's take a look at which conference will be the toughest in '12. First let me explain how I derive the results. I complete 9 primary sets of power ratings at the start of the year. First is a pure power rating. I rank the positions (QB, RB, WR, etc) from 4 to 10 points with 10 points being the highest. I then add up all of the positions, factor in coaching and special teams, and derive my Power Rating for each team.

The second Power Rating is based on my Plus/Minus Power Ratings (see page 337). These take into account the production of the team not only in terms of points, but yards gained and allowed. I compile a lengthy list of areas of improvement and spots that are weaker and either upgrade or downgrade each team's Power Plays numbers. I then add up all the different numbers and get my Preseason Plus/Minus Power Ratings number for each team.

Three other sets are based on last year's final numbers. I grade every position for each team (QB, RB, WR, OL, DL, LB, DB) on their scale of improvement from one year to the next. The scale ranges from +6 points to -6 points for each position. I take the total team number and factor it into last year's 3 final sets of Power Ratings. This gives me 3 very different ways of gauging the strength of the teams.

The question is, how do I add up the points? Conferences all have a different number of teams. If I ranked the teams by the average of the entire conference, that would give a good indication of the average rating of all the teams. But the bigger the conference the weaker the grade could possibly be. I did use that as one factor. I added a second factor and that was an average grade of just the Top 5 teams. This would give me an even comparison of all the conferences. The only thing this rating does not show, of course, is the depth of the conference. For example, let's say one conference had 9 bowl caliber teams and 1 non-bowl team and another conference had 5 bowl caliber teams and 5 non-bowl teams. The thinner conference would be rated higher if the Top 5 teams had a higher average, even though the deeper conference was probably tougher. I also rate leagues by the Top 3 and the Top 8. By merging the 4 ratings, I get a fairly accurate assessment of the strength of the conferences.

Basically, after all of that is done, I have 4 different sets of rankings. They break down the conferences based upon the strength of the Top 3 teams in each conf, the Top 5 teams, the Top 8 teams and then the overall strength of the whole conference.

Here are my preseason rankings for this year's Toughest Conferences and also 2011's final polls. This year, the SEC is at the top once again and just like the last 3 years the Big 12 is #2. The Pac-12 is at the #3 spot. Here is how my computer ranks the conferences for the 2012 season.

The Stock Market Indicator

The Stock Market Indicator is a new feature for 2012 and the results are fascinating. Just taking a look at last year, shows teams that had a Stock Market Indicator of 2.5 or better improved their record 21 out of 29 times and 3 times finished with the same record. Only 5 times did a team have a weaker record if they had a positive Stock Market Indicator. That is a success rate of 82.8% when the indices pointed upwards. The results were even better when calling for a Bear Market for certain teams. Last year there were 18 teams which my Stock Market Indicator had a -3.5 or more on and of those 18 teams, only TWO managed to improve their record, a success rate of 88.9%. Throughout the magazine I have mentioned teams that had either positive or negative trends for this year. I don't have enough space in the magazine to devote two full pages to it but if you click on the QR code to the right or go to PhilSteele.com (article is noted on front page) you can get the entire article with 18 years of research. It is a 4 page in-depth analysis and lets you know when is the best time to "Buy Low" and when teams are at their peak so you can "Sell High."

How can you pick XXX on your All-Conference Team...He never played a down of College Football?

For years now I have wanted to put different articles in my magazine but as you can tell, there is not much available room remaining to squeeze in more information. However through the internet and on my website I can produce 2 or 3 pages of information and not have to worry about space limitations. If you have a smartphone you can scan the QR code to the right and automatically go to the internet link, if you don't have a smartphone you can go to the front page of PhilSteele.com and click on the link titled EXTRA MAGAZINE ARTICLES and it will take you to a catalog of all of them. I have been asked the question of the article above so many times during my radio show circuit that I keep giving the same type of answers over and over. When you read this article you get a history of all the very successful FIRST year players in college football through the years.

Which 2012 Teams Fit the National Championship Mold?

Is there a key indicator that fits all of the recent National Championship teams and if so, who does it fit this year? Wouldn't it be easy if there were such indicators that could trim down the list of National Title candidates prior to each year? I went and looked through every imaginable stat from each team that won the National Title and also of those that got to the BCS Title game. I also included those few #3 teams that had a legitimate beef about being left out. I searched for common threads in numerous categories and was very pleased with what I have found. What are the key things that each of the BCS National Champs had going for them? I explored them in depth and came to the conclusion of what few teams for 2012 had these type of indicators. Get the article right now on PhilSteele.com and find out if your team fits the National Championship Mold!

How Do Coaches Fare in Their 1st, 2nd and 3rd Seasons?

If you have read my magazine in the past or even if this is your first year, you are very familiar with my thoughts on 1st year, 2nd year and 3rd year head coaches. Some 1st year head coaches are poised for success each year and I tell you which ones are and why. Most 1st year head coaches go through a rebuilding season as they must learn the strengths and weaknesses of their players and the players have to learn new systems. I go back and give you complete stats on how each 1st year head coach has fared in each situation. Most 2nd year head coaches usually have a solid improvement. In fact, four 2nd year HC's actually won National Titles (Bob Stoops w/OU, Jim Tressel w/OSU, Nick Saban w/Bama and Gene Chizik w/AU). Get the complete record over the past decade for 2nd year HC's. In a coach's 3rd year most of the starters are the coach's own recruits and they really hit their stride. Is this a fact or a myth? THE BEST NFL PREVIEW ON THE MARKET!!

DEFENSIVE LINE - The Giants have the best 8-deep DL rotation in the league. In fact, their 2nd string is arguably better than a few of the league's #1's. In 2010, NY was knocking around opposing QB's like it did back in 2007 while also shutting down some of the NFL's top RB's such as Adrian Peterson and Arian Foster. The Giants often play 4 DE's at the same time, but all 8 players are versatile and they get great up-field rush. The Giants led the league in red zone defense (66 of 208, 31.7%), were 8th vs the run (101 ypg) and 5th with 46 sacks (tied for 2nd most here in the L/10 yrs). DE's Justin Tuck and Osi Umenyiora each had 11.5 sacks LY. Tuck became the primary physical and vocal presence on the defense after Michael Strahan and Antonio Pierce departed. He plays the run equally well, chipping in 76 tackles. Umenyiora was rejuvenated after a subpar 2009 and began last year second string before coming on. He has led or tied for a team lead in sacks 5 of the last 6 years but did spend the offseason in the news regarding a contract dispute and it's uncertain at presstime whether we will be with the Giants in 2011. Mathias Kiwanuka only played 3 (inj'd) and at the time he went out, he may have been the DL's top player after notching 4 sacks. Jason Pierre-Paul benefitted as a rookie from opponents scheming to stop the other 2 DE's on the team. NY's 1st RD selection in 2010, Pierre-Paul needs to get stronger and learn the playbook better, but he still has great upside and should improve upon his 4.5 sacks. One of the team's biggest losses heading into 2011 is NT Barry Cofield who accepted a contract offer with the rival Redskins. Replacing Cofield in the starting rotation is 2010 2nd rounder Linval Joseph who barely played as a rookie because of the team's depth and is definitely a notch or two below Cofield's level. Chris Canty holds the point well at the other starting DT spot as he continues to lower his pad level to compensate for his giant 6'7" frame. NY went for another DT in the 2nd RD TY in Marvin Austin, who didn't play at North Carolina LY due to receiving improper benefits. Austin has a lot to prove, and is an explosive 3-technique penetrator who fills gaps. As long as everyone remains healthy and the Giants are able to rekindle a good relationship with Umenyiora, this will remain a dangerous unit for the upcoming season.

As you know a few years back we reached the maximum amount of pages I could put into my College Preview magazine. If I had 800 pages to work with I could put 6 full pages on each of the 124 FBS college teams and give even more complete writeups. The GREAT thing about my NFL magazine is that there are only 32 teams to work with so 6 full pages per team only takes up 192 pages. This allows us to be as in-depth as possible on each position. We have 6 statistical areas that we compare each unit to the rest of the NFL and rank them on each page.

The example on the left shows the NY Giants defensive line. We grade each DL by sacks and tfl's the previous year (how often do they get in the backfield), how many tackles the DL made (how active are they) and then compare how much of that production is coming forward against the other 31 teams. The units production over the previous 3 seasons in terms of sacks and tfl's are also compared as is the quality of the draft picks at the position for the 2 deep. Please check out page 341 for a complete layout of the SIX NFL team pages that we had for the Super Bowl Champion NY Giants last season.

You also get my NFL Fantasy Football Guide written by Erik Kuselias included in the magazine making it even more valuable. The Fantasy Football Top 100 & the Top Four Impact Players for each team are must-haves for anyone wanting to win their league.

PHIL STEELE'S 2012 PRESEASON TOP 40

Here is my 2012 Preseason Top 40. Two quick notes: First of all, my preseason rankings are NOT my Power Ratings. As an example: I have Ohio 31st in my Preseason Top 40 ahead of some quality BCS contenders. However, in my Power Poll they are 71st but face my #123 schedule and could win 10 or 11 games this year. My Top 40 is based on where I project the teams to finish in the final rankings and these Top 25's have always done quite well. In 2002, I had Ohio St rated higher than any other preseason magazine coming into the year and they won the BCS National Title. In 2003, my magazine (and Lindy's) had LSU rated higher than any other preseason magazine and they won the BCS National Title. In 2004, I was the only major magazine to have Cal (#4 in the final regular season polls) in the Preseason Top 10! In 2006, I was the only magazine to pick Boise St in the Top 20 (I had them going to a BCS bowl) and I also had Arkansas at #13 (they finished the reg season #12) when they entered the year unranked. In 2007, I had Georgia (finished #2) rated higher than any other magazine and I also called for Hawaii (unranked) to play in the Sugar Bowl. In 2008, while Georgia was the AP preseason #1, I had them #9 predicting Florida to win the title which they did. Last year Oklahoma was the consensus preseason #1 but I had Alabama winning the title and they delivered. These rankings reflect not only talent, but the strength of schedule and how each team should finish the season. In 2007, 43 of my Top 46 were bowl eligible (93.5%) and in 2008, 46 of my Top 50 (92%)! In '09, 45 of my Top 50 (90%) were bowl eligible at the end of the season. In '10 I had Auburn rated higher than any other preseason magazine and 38 of my top preseason Top 40 (95%) and 48 of my Top 52 were bowl eligible at the end of the year (92.3%)! LY FORTY FIVE of my Top 46 (97.8%) were bowl eligible!!!

1. Florida St - I am going for my 3rd National Champ in the last 5 years and just like in 2008 I am going outside the box with a team that is outside the top 4 that is from the state of Florida. I can explain all 4 of FSU's losses LY (see pg 112) and they are one of the most experienced teams in the country with 17 st'rs and 68 lettermen back from a team that was loaded with talent. Their toughest road trips are to NCSt, VT and USF while they host their 2 overall toughest foes, Florida and Clemson. They have my #11 rated offense with a veteran QB and lots of talent at the skill positions. Their offensive line was beaten up LY and will also benefit from facing my #1 rated D-Line every day in practice. They won't face a better one on Saturdays. They have my #1 rated defense and my #3 rated special teams. LY I summed up my #1 pick (Alabama) with "Defense wins championships" and I'll stick with the same formula this year.

2. Oklahoma - The Sooners may be the most complete team in the country as none of their units rank below #17 in my Top Individual Units. Eight of my 9 sets of power ratings call for an unbeaten season. They were almost everybody's preseason #1 LY and disappointed. The last team to do that was Alabama which lost 3 times in '10 after being preseason #1 and they bounced back to win the National Title in '11. If the Sooners run the table they don't have to play in a tough conference title game which heightens their chances of getting to the National Title game.

3. LSU - My power ratings have LSU as the 2nd best team in the country. LY they beat 8 ranked teams including the #2, #3 and #3 tms and even beat the eventual National Champ on the road. Had they won the title game they would without a doubt be the consensus pick to win it all this year as they are even stronger with improved QB play, my #7 RB's, #6 O-Line, #2 D-Line, #3 DB's, my #2 rated ST's and 13 st'rs back. It was very tough not to put an SEC team in the title game but they do have a tougher road to face than my top 2 with games vs 6 tms that are ranked in the top 28 of my Power Poll (pg 331) including Bama and road trips to Florida and Arkansas plus another in the SEC Title gm. I do not see any team surviving the brutal SEC (best conference in country, AGAIN) unscathed and that is why I have them #3.

4. USC - The Trojans are loaded this year with QB Barkley turning down the NFL and throwing to the best set of WR's in the country with my #4 rated O-Line and their LB's and DB's also ranking in my Top 10. USC will be favored in every game this year but may have to play Oregon twice (but both likely at home). They have 16 st'rs back from a team that many felt was the best in the Pac-12 at the end of LY despite the presence of BCS bound Oregon and Stanford. The last two years they had to battle not being eligible for the bowls (also LY no Pac-12 Championship). This is a very talented team who is likely to be the AP's #1 at the start of the year.

5. Alabama - I will admit that my favorite team in the country last year was Alabama, as is every team I pick as my preseason #1, and I rooted for them each week. They proved they belonged in the title game by destroying #1 LSU. The last time they won the title they had 3 losses the next year but that won't happen this time. In '10 Bama had just 2 starters back on defense and this year they have 5. They also had a brutal road schedule that year and most of their opponents had a bye the week prior to playing them. This year they do face both LSU and Arkansas on the road but it would not surprise me if Saban and company repeated.

6. Oregon - In 2010 the Ducks, with a 1st year starting QB, played in and almost won the National Title game. That year they had to travel to USC and they prevailed. This year they might have Chip Kelly's best defense in his 4 years and of course have one of the nation's best rush attacks with an even more mobile QB than they had in '11. They do have to face USC on the road but should they win there on Nov 3rd, they would most likely get them again but this time in Autzen for the Pac-12 Title game. UO figures to be a big favorite in almost every other game and is a legitimate National Title contender.

7. Texas - The Longhorns have my #6 rated defense this year and this will surprise some, but they also have my #6 rated offense. They have my #8 rated O-Line and #4 D-Line (3rd best comb'd lines country) and should get vastly improved play at QB and have TWO PS#1 RB's. They do have to travel to Okla St and Kansas St, two teams that have had their number the last 2 years, but UT has more experience and talent than both and is probably an upset in the Red River Rivalry away from possibly playing in the title game. That is why they are my #1 Surprise Team (see pg 20).

8. Georgia - The Bulldogs are loaded as they are the only team in the country with 6 of their individual units each ranking in my Top 6. They also avoid LSU, Bama and Ark from the West for a 2nd straight year. It may seem unusual for me to be calling for Florida to be in the SEC Title gm yet have Georgia ranked higher but UF has the tougher overall schedule, while Georgia faces 0 top 5 teams this year. This is Richt's best team since 2007 when they finished #2 in the polls.

9. Wisconsin - The Badgers lose a lot at QB with Russell Wilson moving on and while they bring in another ACC transfer, the switch is not even close. They do return RB Montee Ball and have another huge O-Line and one of the more underrated sets of LB's in the country (my #9). UW was the best in the Big Ten LY at +155.5 ypg in conference play and is the only one of the premier Big Ten teams this year that does not have to play at least TWO of the other premier teams on the road. They should be favored in 11 games this year and I will call for them to make a third straight Rose Bowl.

10. Florida - The Gators have my #2 rated defense in the country and should get vastly upgraded QB play and have a more powerful run game between the tackles. I thought they played Bama tough LY in the 1H before losing their top 2 QB's (started 3rd string true frosh at LSU) and played Georgia even. Four 2nd year HC's have won National Titles in the last 11 years and Will Muschamp is the best candidate this year. I expect the Gators to be in the SEC Title game and would have them ranked higher in my Top 10, but if they play in the title game, they would have to face 5 potential Top Ten teams and might suffer a loss or two.

Ohio St
RB Jordan Hall

11. Ohio St - Urban Meyer steps into a good situation despite the Buckeyes not being eligible for the postseason. They will be hungry after a rare losing season which was preceded by a tumultuous offseason in which they lost their HC and were the hot topic on every radio station (not in a good way) all summer long. Meyer inherits the perfect QB for his offense in Braxton Miller, who got better each week as a true frosh. They may be the best team in the Big Ten.

12. Oklahoma St - This year I probably have the Pokes picked a little higher than everyone else. Two years ago they lost their veteran star QB and top WR, yet went 11-2. This year they lose their QB and top WR but have Mike Gundy's best defense in his 8 years here. No matter what QB you plug in they will do well and he'll have a solid OL and RB corps to work with. They do have a QB 10 years younger than the last year's edition but could be favored in as many as 11 games.

13. North Carolina - Now if you go to my Power Poll (page 331) you will see I have the Heels only #30 this year. Now if you go to page 328 you will see they face the #85 schedule and that means a lot of wins. They avoid Florida St and Clemson out of the Atlantic and the highest rated foe in my Power Poll that they face on the road is only #43. They have 6 units in my Top Individual Unit ratings and probably will not even be ranked by another publication this preseason. Remember they fired their HC two days before their August camp began LY so Fedora is now in a great situation.

14. Clemson - This is one of the most impressive teams physically in the country. Sammy Watkins would have been the first WR picked in this year's draft, QB Tajh Boyd is experienced and RB Andre Ellington could have a monster year if he finally stays healthy. I think their young O-Line will struggle on the road at Florida St but they could be favored in all of their other 11 games this year! Clemson is my #2 Surprise Team in the country.

15. UCF - UCF is a CUSA team that went 5-7 LY and I have them in the top 15?? Yes, I do! Just two years ago they beat Georgia in the Liberty Bowl and finished #21 and this year's team is more talented than that one. They have 6 positions that rank in my Top Individual Units and while they play Ohio St on the road they could be favored in 10 games this year. They are my Most Improved Team and my pick to finish highest among the non-AQ teams as I go for 7 correct in 7 yrs (page 19).

16. Arkansas I must admit in March I was thinking of picking the Hogs to win the SEC West and making them one of my National Title contenders. They get both LSU and Alabama at home this yr and have my #5 rated offense with QB Wilson and the return of RB Davis and an improved D. The unexpected coaching change leaves them here.

17. Nebraska NU disappointed me in '11 (especially their D) and they now lose their top 3 defensive players. TY they should live up to their talent level on D in their 2nd year of the Big Ten. I have concerns with depth at RB and QB Martinez's passing ability but if neither of those 2 factors become an issue, they should be in the Big Ten Title game.

18. Stanford The Cardinal lose the top pick in the draft (QB Luck) and 2 super OL's but get back their best defensive player who missed most of LY with injury. They still have a solid O-line and my #9 set of RB's. They do face my #12 rated schedule including both USC and Oregon but will be much better than most expect.

19. Michigan St The Spartans have perhaps the best defense in the Big Ten, a solid O-line and RB corps and my #20 ST unit. They do lose QB Cousins and their top 4 rec's but I like the replacements at both positions. I have the Spartans tied for first in the Big Ten Legends Division so they could be in for a return trip to the Big Ten Title game.

20. USF USF has mostly underachieved in recent years but this year has an excellent defensive front 7, 15 returning starters and only face my #57 schedule. Holtz won 2 CUSA Titles with less talent than he has here and I will call for the Bulls to get to their first BCS bowl with the Big East Title.

21. Notre Dame The Irish play a killer schedule with road trips to Mich St, Oklahoma and USC, neutral site gms in Dublin and Chicago and I rate it the toughest schedule in the country. Seven of their 8 positions rank in my Top Individual Units and expectations are low for ND but they do enter Brian Kelly's 3rd year which is a season HC's usually show the most improvement.

22. Michigan Michigan figures to be the highest ranked Big Ten team in the preseason AP poll. No one expected them to be 11-2 and #12 LY and this year's team is even stronger. They do go from facing my #34 rated schedule to the 4th toughest including playing Alabama, Ohio St, Nebraska and Notre Dame all away from home.

23. South Carolina The Gamecocks are coming off their first ever 11-win season, have my #9 D-Line and #12 LB's, a solid QB in Shaw and perhaps the best RB in the country in Lattimore. South Carolina is one of the preseason favorites to win the SEC East but does draw both LSU and Arkansas out of the West and have just 11 st'rs back.

24. Virginia Tech The Hokies were favored in every reg season gm LY plus the ACC Title game but lost twice to Clemson which kept them from the National Title game. This is Bud Foster's best D in some time as they ret 9 st'rs and get back 3 others who were inj'd LY. They draw both FSU and CU from the Atlantic but will be back in the ACC Title game.

25. West Virginia If WV's offense improves like it did during bowl practices, look out! 70 pts vs Clemson was impressive. LY they played in the weak Big East and only outscored BE foes by a 31.0-28.9 margin. TY one set of my power ratings (talent) has the Big 12's #6 team rated higher than the BE's #1 team. WV is a much stronger team and could surprise.

26. Boise St Boise St only has 7 st'rs back (2nd fewest FBS) losing 6 NFL DC's (two 1st Rd) and their star QB Kellen Moore. But, this is Boise, and Petersen should get another conf title and possibly a 7th straight double digit win season.

27. Tennessee The Volunteers play in the rugged SEC and are off a losing season. TY they do not have to face Ark or LSU out of the West (played both LY), have 19 st'rs back and are my #6 Most Improved Team in the country.

28. Miss St The Bulldogs have a much better schedule TY avoiding the top 3 tms out of the SEC East and unlike LY play most of their winnable gms at home. I think it is possible for this team to open the year 5-0 but they then run into a grueling 4 gm stretch including road trips to LSU and Alabama. They will however top last year's 7 win total.

29. Auburn The Tigers are a lot more exp'd in '12 as they had just 6 st'rs back LY and now have 15. They have just 4 true road games TY and should be favored in two of them after being a dog in 5 road gms LY. Chizik did a great job getting them to 8-5 LY and his 2012 version is much stronger. TEN SEC teams make my Top 30!

30. Texas A&M A new coach and a move to the rugged SEC. A&M could surprise as the '11 version actually had a double digit lead in all but 1 game LY (could have been 12-1) but finished just 7-6. They have 6 of my Top Individual Units.

31. Ohio For the 2nd consec yr Ohio faces one of my lowest rated schedules and they are a quality team led by QB Tettleton and a much more veteran D. A blown 4Q lead in the Title gm kept them from being MAC champs LY.

32. Houston UH loses QB Keenum and their HC but still has a powerful CUSA squad and new QB Piland had 8 sts as a true frosh. It could be another DD win season and ONE of my 9 sets of power ratings calls for a 2nd straight 12-0 reg ssn.

33. Utah I almost put Utah on my Surprise Team List and LY they almost played in the Pac-12 Title gm (miss 3 FG's in finale). They have 16 st'rs back are in their 2nd yr of the Pac-12 and again avoid both Oregon and Stanford from the North.

34. Louisville The Cards will be the preseason favorites to win the Big East and could be in the AP Top 25. LY they had just 10 st'rs back and TY they have 15 including QB Bridgewater who was a true frosh LY.

35. BYU Coach Mendenhall is doing a fine job here and TY has 14 st'rs back from a 10-3 squad. They do face ND, Utah, GT and Boise St on the road but will probably knock off one or two of them and 10 wins is within reach again.

36. TCU The Frogs are a stronger team than the '11 version but do take a large step up in level of competition. Coach Patterson will have them prepared but their streak of 4 straight DD win seasons may be snapped.

37. Kansas St Bill Snyder was my Coach of the Year in '11 guiding his team to SIX upset wins and they were #11 going into the bowls. TY they are a stronger team with 14 st'rs back including QB Klein but did benefit from 7 net close wins (pg 309)

38. Iowa No one will be talking about the Hawkeyes as they play in the same division with 3 ranked teams but they avoid Ohio St and Wisconsin out of the Leaders and are a legitimate darkhorse in the Legends Division.

39. Georgia Tech Almost every year Paul Johnson's tms finish higher than I expect. This year they face 4 of my Top 25 teams on the road but should be favored in all of their other games. They only lose 16 lettermen from 2011.

40. Rutgers I might have picked the Knights to win the Big East if not for the latest FBS to NFL coaching change, but that shows how much talent they have back and they are not changing schemes on either offense or defense.

PHIL STEELE'S 2012 SEC FORECAST

SEC WEST 1. LSU - Les Miles has caught some breaks in recent yrs but LY his team had one of the finest performances of any in college football history during the reg ssn. LSU defeated the #3, #2 and #3 tms (8 ranked overall) during their 13-0 run. They would have been TY's consensus preseason #1 by far had they beaten Bama in the Title gm LY. TY's tm will get better QB play than they received LY from the Lee/Jefferson combo and are deep at every position. LSU gets a key gm vs Bama at home and have a bye the week prior versus Bama's on its 3rd road gm in 4 wks and that makes them my favorite to get back to the SEC Title game and a legitimate Nat'l Title contender.

1. ALABAMA - Every year people ask me who my favorite team is and I always say it's the team I pick #1. LY Okla was the consensus #1 but I picked Bama and was a Tide fan the entire year and had an enjoyable Nat'l Title gm watching them destroy LSU (384-92 yd, 21-5 FD edges). A lot of folks compare TY's team to the '10 squad which was coming off a Nat'l Champ and lost 3 gms. The difference might be the fact that this time they have 5 ret sts on D (opposed to 2) and Saban can use '10 as a teaching example letting them know the pitfalls of defending a Title and making sure they play their "A" game weekly. This year's team is clearly capable of repeating as Nat'l Champs and how they fare in Death Valley on Nov 3rd will determine if they get to the SEC Title gm and it won't surprise me if they get B2B Titles.

3. ARKANSAS - In March I was contemplating whether to pull the trigger and pick Ark to win the SEC as they get both Bama and LSU at home and are not far behind them talent-wise. Then Bobby Petrino was fired and I backed off as they will miss his play calling. Still, this is a team very capable of winning the West led by an improved D, QB Tyler Wilson and the return of RB Knile Davis.

4. MISSISSIPPI ST - LY I pointed out MSU's schedule, which had them either pointed towards greatness or disappointment as most of their winnable gms were on the road (league's elite at home). Their 2-6 SEC record was their worst under Mullen. LY's squad had 16 ret sts and this year just 12 but the schedule is much more favorable. They play LSU & Bama both on the road but also play winnable road gms at UK and Ole Miss. MSU also gets most of the games vs their caliber at home and could be favored in as many as 10 giving Dan Mullen a chance for his best season yet.

5. AUBURN - Generally when a team drops from 14-0 to 8-5 their fan base is disappointed but Aub fans had to be pleasantly surprised by their 8 win ssn LY which incl 3 upset wins. LY's squad had just 6 ret sts and were -92.9 ypg in SEC play (#9). TY they have 15 st'rs back but lose their OC Gus Malzahn and benefitted from 3 net close wins LY but this is a much stronger Tigers squad in '12.

6. TEXAS A&M - It is very difficult to put A&M at #6. LY's squad came into the ssn #8 preseason and if not for 2H collapses, could easily have been 12-1 living up to that billing. Amazingly in their 6 losses LY, only 1 time did they not blow a DD lead. The last 2 times A&M has had a 1st yr HC they went just 4-8 which is typical. Despite TY's squad having just 13 ret sts and my picking them 6th in the West, it wouldn't surprise me to see them match or top LY's 7 win overall total.

7. MISSISSIPPI - Not a lot went right for the Rebels LY actually going 0-8 in the SEC (-174.2 ypg, 2nd worst). Ole Miss fired their HC with 3 gms to go. Hugh Freeze did wonders at Ark St LY and inherits 16 ret sts and some key transfers so they could even double LY's win total. Still, they have a lot of ground to make up and it looks like a 3rd straight losing season.

SEC EAST 1. FLORIDA - I have had a pretty good pulse on the Gators as in '08 UGA was the preseason AP #1 and I picked UF to win the Nat'l Title and they delivered. LY I only had the Gators 3rd in the East catching some flack from UF fans. They opened up 4-0 but needed a win in the bowl to escape with a 7-6 ssn. TY it is HC Will Muschamp's 2nd ssn, he has 17 ret sts and despite pulling LSU out of the West, the Gators are my surprise pick to get to the SEC Title game. They have one of my top rated D's in the country and will have one of the most improved offenses with more stability at QB. As with all even years Florida also only has 3 "true" SEC road games.

1. GEORGIA - This is a very dangerous UGA team and one of the most complete in the country. Their only two ?'s are on the OL and ST as they rank either #1 or #2 in the SEC in six of the 8 talent categories! LY they were +155 ypg in the SEC (#3) but if you include the SEC Title game they were +144.3 (#2). They do get just 3 HG's in SEC play but still avoid Alabama, Ark and LSU out of the West. Five of my 9 sets of power ratings call for an 11-1 season with 1 calling for a perfect 12-0 which makes them a legitimate National Title contender.

3. SOUTH CAROLINA - Expectations are high for the Gamecocks and they may be in the AP preseason Top 10 as they return RB Marcus Lattimore, have a solid QB in Connor Shaw and one of the best defensive front 7's in the country. They are coming off a school record 11 win season. This year SC draws the toughest schedule of any of the East teams as they pull both Ark and LSU from the West and they do have just 11 returning starters. SC has the best record of the East teams in SEC regular season play the last 2 years at 11-5 but I will call for a drop to #3 mostly due to their schedule, as they are a very talented team.

3. TENNESSEE - Derek Dooley is a coach squarely on the hot seat but he has by far his best team yet. Keep in mind he stepped into a tough situation being the 3rd HC in 3 years with many players transferring out. This year they have 19 returning starters (#2 in the country, only behind new FBS member UTSA, 21). Last year Tennessee had the toughest schedule of any SEC team drawing Alabama, LSU and Arkansas out of the West and this year avoid both LSU and Arkansas. Eight of my 9 sets of power ratings call for at least an eight win season (2 call for DD wins) and the Vols get back on my Most Improved List.

5. MISSOURI - I'm intrigued to see how the two new B12 arrivals will fare in the tougher SEC. While the East has been regarded as the weaker div the last few years, it is greatly upgraded TY so Missouri picks a tough year to join with just 12 ret st'rs while also pulling Bama from the West. MU has not had a losing conf record s/'04 (8Y) but with HG's vs Alabama and UGA and road trips to South Carolina and Florida I'll call for one TY.

5. VANDERBILT - VU preformed better than I expected LY and while they had 19 ret sts LY, this year they are a veteran squad again with 15 back. LY's team also had 4 net close losses which gives them an excellent shot at an improved record and 5 of my 9 sets of power ratings call for them to be bowl elig. HC James Franklin did a phenomenal job in his first year and if he does an equally good job TY, VU will get to its 2nd straight bowl game for the first time ever.

7. KENTUCKY - LY UK was #12 in the SEC at -182.8 ypg and that was with a D that had 10 ret sts. TY they have just 5 back on D and 11 overall but are a little more veteran in the skill positions. The SEC got even tougher with the additions of Missouri and A&M and UK draws Ark out of the West. Joker Phillips will have to do his best job yet, just to keep Kentucky out of the basement.

SEC NOTES: The SEC has dominated college football and is my automatic answer when anyone asks me who the best conference is. The only real question recently is who is #2? The SEC has now won SIX STRAIGHT National Titles and LY had a team lose the title game only because it was SEC vs SEC in a matchup of the two best teams in College Football. The SEC was 9-3 vs AQ conf LY in the reg season which was #1 (again!) and they are 29-15 in those gms over 2 yrs with the #2 league being the Big 12 at just 14-13 (all others under .500). Three SEC coaches have won a National Title in their second season in Miles, Meyer and Chizik and the only candidates TY being Muschamp and Franklin. The SEC has had 7 Top Ten tms the last 2 years and 11 in the Top 25 (both best) and each year led all conf's in players drafted and did so again this year with 42. They have 6 wins over ranked tms in bowls over 2 yrs and the next closest is 4 (Big Ten). The top 5 QB's in total offense return TY. Bama has a 4 gm lead for best record over 5 yrs but is only #5 over 10 yrs. The SEC brings in a pair of top flight Big 12 tms this year in Texas A&M and Missouri and both use fast paced spread offenses. It will be interesting to see how they adapt to the more defensive SEC.

2011 SEC LEADERS

LSU TIGERS

RB Spencer Ware

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In '08 rFr Jarrett Lee made 8 sts and threw for 1,873 (53% 14-16) but had 7 IR td's. They burned the RS on Jordan Jefferson and he played in 7 gms starting the last 2 (bowl Off MVP) throwing for 419 (49%, 4-1). Jefferson threw for 2,166 (62%, 17-7) in '09. Lee, who was booed often in '08, threw for 197 (40%, 2-1). In '10 Jefferson was LSU's most exp'd QB s/'06 when they threw for 252 ypg (67%). Jefferson st'd all 13 and threw for 1,411 (57%, 7-10) and was the #2 rusher (450, 3.7). Lee threw for 573 (61%, 2-1) and led some late comebacks. Both ret'd LY but many expected strong armed PS#4JC Zach Mettenberger, who threw for 2,678 (59%, 32-4) at JC, to win the job. Jefferson held onto the spot but then was susp'd for the opener and Lee had a better season than many expected. He threw for 1,306 (62.3%) with a 14-3 ratio. Two of those int's came against Ala in the reg ssn and Jefferson st'd the final 5 gms (737, 61%, 6-2). Mettenberger hit 8-11-92. LSU had their best comp % (62.0) s/'06 and a solid 21-5 ratio. Jefferson and Lee both depart and Mettenberger will battle Phillip Rivers brother rFr Stephen (PS#35) and Jerrard Randall (PS#15). Despite the loss of their top 2 QB's, it wouldn't surprise me and in fact I expect LSU to have a more dangerous pass attack TY.

RUNNING BACKS - In '09 Stevan Ridley (PS#36) st'd the L/2 (180, 4.0) and was the leading returnee into 2010 finishing #1 with 1,147 (4.6). QB Jefferson was #2 and Michael Ford (PS#11, 4.4 spd) was #3 (244, 5.4). Spencer Ware (PS#14) was #5 and had 102 of his 175 (7.3) in the bowl. LY they had to replace Ridley. Ford led with 756 (6.0). Alfred Blue (6'2" 215 Jr, PS#131) was the big play RB with 539 (6.9) and Kenny Hilliard (PS#12) was the short yardage back with 336 (5.4). Ware was held out vs Auburn and was the leading rusher at the time. He finished #2 with 707 but just 4.0 ypc yet still earned 2nd Tm SEC. Naturally, since the top 4 were all soph and frosh, this unit is stronger and one of the best in the country.

RECEIVERS - LSU WR's have been loaded with size and speed in recent years but spotty QB play had kept down their production. In '10 they had to replace their top WR (579, 14.1) but ret'd Rueben Randle (PS#1), who was #2 with 544 (16.5), #3 Russell Shepard (PS#1QB, 254, 7.7) and #4 TE Deangelo Peterson (198, 12.4). Randle earned 1st Tm SEC and led with 917 (17.3 ypc!). True frosh Odell Beckham Jr (PS#24, father played here '89-'92) was #2 (475, 11.6). Shepard missed 3, but still surprisingly only had 190 (13.6). TY they lose Peterson (3 st, 179, 9.9), Mitch Joseph (10 st, 2 rec) and Randle (#2DC NYG). They are a little less exp'd but could put up better numbers with more emphasis on the pass game.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '09 LSU's O-line had 79 career sts back but the tm had their lowest ypg rush (123, 3.7) s/'99 while all'g 37 sks (tied last SEC, 11%). In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs incl the SEC Jacobs Trophy winner. I said that despite being less exp'd, they could actually improve and they did (186, 4.5, 24 sk, 8.0%). LY they had to replace a 2nd Tm SEC LT (#3DC) then lost starting LG Josh Dworaczyk (25 st '09-'10) in Aug. They had 56 car sts ret and improved slightly to 203 ypg rush (4.8) and all'd just 18 sks. TY they lose 2nd Tm AA G Will Blackwell (14 st), T Bob Hebert (8 st) and Greg Shaw (1 st). With Dworaczyk being granted a 6th year, this unit has 5 back who have been full-time st'rs (104 car sts, #5 FBS) and it looks to be their best unit in some time.

DEFENSIVE LINE - LSU had to replace 3 NFL DC's in '06 but yielded just 97 ypg rush (3.2). Surprisingly the next FOUR yrs the rush D totals went up yielding 106 ypg (3.2), 110 (3.4), 133 (3.5) and 137 (3.7) in '10. At least one LSU DL has been picked in each of the last 9 drafts. In '10 they had to replace 3 st'rs for the 2nd str yr and LY they had to replace 2nd Tm AA DT Drake Nevis (#3DC) and a #7DC DT. I said it was the most exp'd LSU front recently and would stop the weakening rush D trend and they did as LSU allowed just 90 ypg (2.7) with 39 sks (most s/'06). TY they lose DE Kendrick Adams (11 st, 22 tkl, 2.5 sk, 4 tfl) and DT Michael Brockers (14 st, 54 tkl, 2 sk, 8 tfl, #1DC STL) but I list them with 3 sts back. The D-line accounted for 28.5 sks and most of them return (Montgomery 9 and Mingo 8). They should get a much bigger season out of soph DT Anthony Johnson (PS#2). This is one of the top D-Lines in the country.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 LSU had to replace their team MVP LB (#3 tkl'r), #2 tkl'r (#4DC) and #4 tkl'r (1 st). Kelvin Sheppard was the #1 tkl'r in '09 and turned down the NFL but the other 2 starting LB's comb for just 25 tkls. LSU allowed 18.2 ppg. LY they had to replace 1st Tm SEC MLB Sheppard (#1 tkl'r, #3 DC) but had 5 of their top 6 back (#2, #3 tkl'rs). With a more exp'd LB corps, the Tigers improved to yielding just 11.3 ppg. TY they lose 2nd Tm SEC WLB Ryan Baker (#4 tkl'r, 3.5 tfl), SLB Stefoin Francois (9 st, 11 tkl) and Karnell Hatcher (24 tkl). They return 1 st'r (#5 tkl'r) and their #14 and #18 tkl'rs. Miles signed 5 VHT LB's, many of whom I expect to play immediately as surprisingly there was just 2 VHT's among the returnees. This unit is less exp'd and is my only question mark on the team.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - The Tigers finished #6, #1, #5, #5, #1 and #3 in my PDR from '02-'07 but had a very inexp'd unit in '08 (#33). In '09 LSU ret'd 5 DB's (comb 40 sts '08) and moved back up to #19. In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs (#3DC) but returned the nation's best CB combo in Patrick Peterson and Morris Claiborne. Peterson earned SEC DPOY and won the prestigious Jim Thorpe and Bednarik Awards. LSU finished #13 in my PDR (57%, 15-19). LY they lost Peterson (#1DC) and 2 bkps (42 tkl). The secondary had a tremendous yr. Tyrann "Honey Badger" Mathieu won the Bednarik and Claiborne won the Thorpe Award (both 1st Tm AA). Eric Reid (2nd Tm SEC) made the huge play vs Bama wrestling the ball away from TE Williams at the goal line. LSU finished #2 in my PDR (52.4%, 7-18). TY they lose Claiborne (14 st, 51 tkl, 6 int, 6 pbu, #1DC DAL), SS Brandon Taylor (14 st, #3 tkl'r, 2 int, 5 pbu, #3DC SD), CB Ron Brooks (3 st, 30 tkl, 2 int, 6 pbu, #4DC BUF) and FS Derrick Bryant (28 tkl, 2 pbu). LSU has just 2 ret sts but remains one of the elite secondaries.

SPECIAL TEAMS - HC Les Miles' Okla St tms ('01-'04) finished #3, #18, #3 and #11 in my ST rankings. His first unit here was #10 in '05 but surprisingly dropped to #80 and #81 in '06 & '07. They were #13 in '08, #7 in '09, #2 in '10 but LY had to replace AA K Josh Jasper, super P Derek Helton (39.2 net) and Patrick Peterson (29.1 KR, 16.1 PR) who clearly would have won the Johnny "The Jet" Rodgers award had it started a yr earlier. I figured they would drop out of the top 10 but I was wrong. They finished #5. Drew Alleman, hit 16-18 (L44). RFr P Brad Wing (PS#45) from Australia was the MIP of spring. He missed 2 gms early and was trying to regain leg strength but avg 44.4 with a tremendous net of 41.2 (#3 FBS). His field flipping punts gave them a huge ST edge incl the #1 and #3 longest P in SEC Title games (67 & 56 yds). The Honey Badger avg 15.6 on PR and Morris Claiborne was the top KR (25.1). This year they return both K & P along with Mathieu and again look like one of the premier ST units in college football.

COACHES - When Les Miles took over at Okla St the Cowboys had been to one bowl in 12Y. He left taking them to 3 str. Miles led the Tigers to a Nat'l Title in his third season and after a 3Y drought without an SEC Title took them back to the Nat'l Title game LY earning AP COY. Steve Kragthorpe (7Y HC exp Tulsa '03-'06, L'ville '07-'09) was brought in as OC LY but health issues caused him to limit his role to QB coach. Greg Studrawa was promoted in Aug '11 to OC. He's been the OL cch here s/'07 and was the OC at BG prior ('03-'06). SEC veteran John Chavis is in his 4th season as DC here (DC Tenn 14 yrs!).

PHIL'S FORECAST

Phil Steele's College Football Preview was the ONLY magazine to forecast LSU to win the SEC West in '03. I called the Tigers my #2 surprise team and they took home the BCS Nat'l Title when they upset Oklahoma. In Saban's last year ('04) they went 9-3 finishing ranked #16 after entering the ssn #4. In Les Miles' first 2 seasons they went 11-2 finishing #6 and #3. In '07 they lost 2 gms in OT and appeared out of the Nat'l Title picture but then not only landed in it but they whipped Ohio St 38-24 for a 2nd BCS Title in 5 yrs. There were some negative factors heading into '08 as they had benefitted from +20 in TO's, had just 12 ret sts and lost 24 pts in my NFL Draft Day Party Hangover (pg 310). LSU did become bowl eligible for a school record 9th straight year but it was an up and down 8-5 ssn (NR!). Miles had quite a few fortunate wins in '09-'10. In '09, the Tigers were actually outgained by 33 ypg in SEC play but finished 9-4 and #17. In '10 LSU got past UNC 30-24 (NC 9 susp sts) when 2 passes into the EZ fell incomplete. It was ruled the game was over vs Tenn and they had lost, but a penalty gave them another play and LSU got the 2 pt win. Vs UF they faked a 53 yd FG that bounced off the turf but the K caught it for a FD. LSU finished 11-2 and #8 (#21 pressn). LY they had 14 ret sts and did have to play two top 5 tms away from home (Oreg, Ala). LSU almost had a dream ssn. The Tigers were outgained by Oregon 335-273 but were +3 in TO's and won 40-27. They were outgained by WV 533-366 but rolled to a 47-21 win finishing +4 in TO's. In Wks 6-8 LSU took on QB's making their first sts. They got their largest margins of victory in series history vs Tenn (31 pts) then Aub (35 pts) in B2B wks. In the #1 vs #2 showdown they upset Ala on the road, 9-6 (outgained 295-239). Ole Miss started their 3rd string QB and vs Ark, LSU trailed 14-0 in the 2Q but roared back to a 41-17 win. In the SEC Title game, LSU had an amazing 0 FD's at half but only trailed 10-7 thanks to Mathieu's 62 yd PR. They dominated the 2H to win 42-10 to win. In the Nat'l Title gm they were thrashed by Bama not crossing midfield until mid 4Q, being outgained 384-92 and outFD'd 21-5. TY LSU gets Bama at home and were #2 in the SEC at +167.1 ypg. LSU benefitted from +20 in TO's LY, had an off ypp of 9.9 and a def ypp of 23.2 (see pg 309). They are -3.0 in my Stock Market Indicator (pg 27) and draw UF and S Car out of the East but are an even stronger team than 2011. Unlike LY where LSU was a dog 3x they could be favored in every game TY and are a legitimate National Title contender.

ALABAMA CRIMSON TIDE

CB Dee Milliner

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - John Parker Wilson (PS#31) st'd from '06-'08 and became UA's all-time leading passer. JPW set the school rec with 18 td in '07 and then threw for 2,273 (58%, 10-8) in '08 while Greg McElroy (PS#27) played in 6 (8-11 for 123). In '09 McElroy became the first Tide QB to complete over 60% (2,508, 61%, 17-4) s/'94 (Jay Barker) but in the Title gm vs Texas he hit just 6-11-58. Big things were expected in '10 and he set the SEC record being int'd just 10 times in 658 career att's (1 every 65.8, Tim Tebow 62.2). McElroy (#7DC) threw for 2,987 (71%) and a schl record 20 td's. RFr 6'4" AJ McCarron (PS#9) hit 30-48-389-3-0. LY McCarron battled rFr Phillip Sims (PS#1, IFS '10). The 2 split snaps in the opener with both tossing 2 int's but McCarron took control and threw for 2,634 (66.8%, 16-5). McCarron had a streak of 152 att w/o an int, the 3rd longest in schl history (Brody Croyle 190, Jay Barker 155) and became the first underclassman to guide his team to a BCS National Title. Sims played in just 7 (163, 64.3%, 0-2) and chose to trans following spg. McCarron's maturity showed vs LSU in the Title game and he'll be a bigger focus of the Tide offense in '12.

RUNNING BACKS - In '08 Glen Coffee (545, 4.2 in '07) led with 1,383 (5.9) while 215 lb true frosh Mark Ingram (PS#66) added 728 (5.1). In '09 they lost Coffee (#3DC) but added PS#2 Trent Richardson. Ingram became UA's 1st ever Heisman winner with a Tide single ssn record 1,658 (6.1, 17 td, #3 rec). There was little dropoff when Richardson was inserted (751, 5.2). Ingram missed the first 2 of '10 (knee inj) and topped 100 just twice (875, 5.5) and Richardson added 700 (6.2). RFr Eddie Lacy (PS#27) had 2 fmbls early but then was banged up and did not have an att (86) in 4 straight gms. He was the top rusher in the bowl and finished with 406, 7.2. LY Richardson (475 bench) tied an UA record with 6 str 100 yd gms (Shaun Alexander, '99) and broke Ingram's record with 1,679 (5.9). Lacy had 365 (8.9) in his first 4 (119 yds, next 5 turf toe) and finished with 674 (7.1). Jalston Fowler (PS#39) was #3 (385, 6.9) and true frosh Dee Hart (PS#10) tore his ACL. TY they lose Richardson (#1DC CLE) and while Lacy will have a fine year, the top 2 RB's will not come near LY's 2,353 (6.2).

RECEIVERS - True frosh Julio Jones (PS#1, 924, 15.9) had over 4x the yds as the #2 WR (191) in '08. In '09 Jones was inj'd early but over the L5 (reg ssn) had 27 rec to lead again (596, 13.9). Marquis Maze (PS#40) was #2 (523, 16.9). In '10 Jones set UA single ssn marks for rec (78) and rec yds (1133, 14.5) topping DJ Hall ('06). Maze was #2 with 557 (14.7) and Darius Hanks (272, 16.0 '09) had 456 (14.2). LY Jones was a #1DC and I expected 6'4" Ohio St transfer Duron Carter (Cris' son) to have a big year but he never qualified. Maze led with 627 (11.2), while H-Back Brad Smelley was #2 (356, 10.5) and RB Richardson was #3. Darius Hanks was susp the first 2 but had 328 (12.6) while Kenny Bell (PS#32) added 255 (15.0). Not listed below are Michael Bowman (6'4" 225 So, PS#29) and TE Malcolm Faciane (6'5" 259 rFr, PS#16). TY they lose Maze (12 st), Hanks (8 st), Brandon Gipson (14 rec) and Smelley (10 st, #7DC CLE) but look to add Carter (susp spg) and 3 VHT's. Despite being a less exp'd unit, I will call for the top 3 WR's to exceed LY's production of 1,311 (11.3).

OFFENSIVE LINE - The Tide had to replace 3 st'rs incl a 1st Tm AA C and 1st Tm AA LT in '09 but surprisingly improved to 215 ypg rush (5.0, 20 sk). In '10 they had 4 st'rs back (lost 1st Tm AA LG) but dropped to 183 ypg (5.1, 32 sk). LY they had to replace a 1st Tm SEC LT (#1DC) and 2 bkps. The Tide improved to 214 ypg (5.5) with just 17 sks. TY they lose C William Vlachos (13 st, 3Y st'r, 1st Tm SEC), Alfred McCullough (6 st) and bkp John Michael Boswell (9 gm). A lot was expected from true frosh Cyrus Kouandjio (PS#1) LY and he should have a bigger impact after being OFY after 7 gms. Outland Award winner LT Barrett Jones turned down being a 1st Rnd DC and will move to C replacing Vlachos so this is clearly one of the top OL's in the entire country (95 car sts).

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '08 the Tide got the large (literally) addition of PS#2JC Terrence Cody (365 lb). UA all'd just 74 ypg (2.7), their best s/'99. In '09 Cody turned down the NFL (1 st'r lost) and they all'd just 78 ypg (2.8, 32 sks). In '10 they had to replace all 3 st'rs (ret'd 6 car st, 7 sk, 14 tfl). UA dropped to 110 ypg rush all'd (3.3, 27 sks) and was still 10th in the country. LY they had to replace a 3rd Tm AA DE Marcell Dareus (#1DC) and brought in 2 large JUCO's in Jesse Williams (PS#6) and Quinton Dial (PS#9), both IFS. I said the unit should resemble the DL from '08 and '09 and that they did (72 ypg, 2.4, 30 sk) and taking away GA Southern (banged up DL, unmotivated vs FCS foe, option) they allowed just 53 ypg rush (1.8)! TY they lose 2nd Tm SEC NT Josh Chapman (11 st, 23 tkl, 1 sk, #5DC IND) and NT Nick Gentry (23 tkl, 4.5 sk). Despite the loss of an NFL DC, this unit is on par with '11.

LINEBACKERS - The Tide had inexp'd LB units in '08, '09 and '10 but still had great D's. In '10 they had to replace their #1 tkl'r (#1DC) along with their #4 and #5 tkl'rs. They did get back Dont'a Hightower (1st Tm Fr AA, '08, 4 st '09) but the other 5 LB's comb for 3 sts (58 tkl) in '09. LY they had to replace 2 bkps (8 st, 15 tkl). Hightower and Courtney Upshaw both turned down the NFL, Nico Johnson (PS#5, 7 st, #10) was back and 3 true frosh VHT's (2 IFS) were added. It was Alabama's most exp'd LB corps in 4 yrs and spearheaded which was by far the best defense in the country as they allowed just 7.1 ppg to FBS foes. TY they lose 1st Tm AA Hightower (#1 tkl'r, 11 tfl, #1DC NE), 1st Tm AA Courtney Upshaw (12 st, #3 tkl'r, 9.5 sk, 8.5 tfl, #2DC BAL), Jerrell Harris (7 st, 29 tkl, 3.5 tfl) and Alex Watkins (1 st, 17 tkl). They return 2 who st'd 6+ (#4, #7 tkl'r) and the unit is loaded with VHT's. While not as strong as LY's exceptional LB corps, this remains one of the top LB units in the country.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - In Saban's first season at Bama they only finished #40 in my PDR. He spends a lot of time coaching DB's and is normally harder on the secondary than any other unit. They had to replace 2 st'rs in '08 (#17) and in '09 had 7 of the top 8 back and moved up to #2 (47%, 11-24) as SS Mark Barron led the SEC with 7 int's. In '10 they had to replace 3 st'rs (#1, #2, #7 DC's) and 5 bkps (comb 17 st, 112 tkl). They still finished #3 in my PDR (52%, 12-22) with FS Robert Lester finishing #1 in the SEC with 8 int (#2 FBS). LY I called it the best secondary in the country and they finished #1 in my PDR. The 4.3 ypa allowed was the lowest in the NCAA since they included that category. The Tide allowed just 111 ypg pass (49.1%, 6-13). TY they lose 1st Tm AA Mark Barron (13 st, #2 tkl'r, 2 int, 5 pbu, #1DC TB), 1st Tm SEC CB Dre Kirkpatrick (13 st, 30 tkl, 9 pbu, #1DC CIN) and 2nd Tm AA CB DeQuan Menzie (13 st, 41 tkl, 12 pd, #5DC KC) and Will Lowery (20 tkl). This unit loses a lot but Saban did a fine job with a similarly exp'd '10 unit.

SPECIAL TEAMS - In Saban's first 4 yrs, the Tide finished #17, #37, #36 and #26 in my ST rankings. LY they had all of their top players back. Unfortunately, ST proved to be a sore spot (#50). Marquis Maze was solid on both KR (28.5) and PR (13.2) but FG kicking was a problem (especially vs LSU!) and they hit 23-36 FG's (L46) with just 5 TB on 90 KO. P Cody Mandell (36.2 net '10) was steady (36.5 net) in '11. This year they lose Maze and could drop again.

COACHES - Nick Saban took LSU to a National Title in '03 and spent '05 & '06 as HC of the Miami Dolphins. In his 16 seasons as a college HC he's never had a losing season and of course he's now guided the Tide to their 13th & 14th National Titles. As often occurs with this type of success the asst's usually get raided. OC Jim McElwain (Col St HC) will be replaced by Doug Nussmeier who was the Wash OC the L3Y. Kirby Smart was promoted to DC in '08 and won the Broyles Award in '09.

PHIL'S FORECAST

Nick Saban inherited a Tide squad that had 1 winning season the previous 4Y. In his first year they opened 6-2 but needed a bowl win to finish 7-6. In my Best/Worst Case Scenario (see PhilSteele.com) I said they could have been 13-0 as all 6 losses were by 7 or less. Heading into '08 Bama had B2B winning ssns just twice since Gene Stallings departed in '96. They had just 12 ret sts plus road gms vs GA, Tenn, LSU, Ark and Clemson. It looked like UA was a yr away with just 9 schlp Sr's (fewest FBS). Surprisingly the Tide won the SEC West moving to #1 AP (1st time reg ssn s/'80!). Saban was named the AP COY. At 12-0 they lost to UF in the SEC Title gm and then was a no-show in the Sugar Bowl vs Utah. In '09 UA had to replace their QB and top RB. Surprisingly the offense went from 356 ypg to 403 ypg (best s/'02). UA went 12-0 again and got their first EVER Heisman Trophy winner in Mark Ingram. They whipped UF 32-13 in the SEC Title game and dominated Texas 37-21 capturing their first Nat'l Title s/'92. In '10 Bama was the consensus #1 pick but I pointed out they had just 2 ret sts on D and a killer sked in which their final 6 SEC foes all had a bye prior. My magazine was the only 1 that did not place them in the Nat'l Title game and Tide fans let me know that during my summer radio circuit. Bama also had 7 players drafted in '10 (most s/'87). In the middle of a grueling stretch they lost at SC, later lost at LSU then blew a 24-0 halftime lead (could have been 38-0) vs Aub and were #15 when they beat Mich St 49-7 to finish #10. LY Bama lost QB McElroy, RB Ingram and WR Jones which I noted was similar to '09 (veteran D, inexp'd off). I called Bama by far the best D in the country and forecasted a 2nd National Title in 3 yrs and the Tide did not let me down. Bama's D held 7 opp's to a season low. Surprisingly their offense had either a #1 or #2 ssn high in yds vs an opp 6 times. Bama was dominant EVERY wk with their closest conf win of the ssn being 17 pts at Miss St (386-131 yds). Their only close gm was a 3 pt home loss to LSU (295-239 yd edge) in OT, where they missed 4 FG's and had a costly int at the 1 which could have almost been a reception. In the National Title game, Bama flexed their muscles with a 21-0 win where they had a 384-92 yd and 21-5 FD edges and didn't allow LSU across midfield until the 4Q. Bama's avg score was 35-8 and their avg yds 430-184 on the season. TY they lose the top RB in the country in Trent Richardson, their top WR and a good portion of their D to the NFL. The Tide was #1 in the SEC as they were +233.5 ypg. Despite the heavy losses in the draft (four 1st rounders, 8 selected overall) this team is a legitimate Nat'l Title contender despite facing Mich, Ark and LSU all away from home and Saban has a chance of repeating.

UA is 1-2 vs Missouri but did win their L/meeting 38-20 in 1978 which marked the only trip ever to Columbia. Into '12, under Saban UA is 16-4 in reg ssn SEC AG's (lost at LSU, SC, Aub & MSU).

Crimson Tide have won 5 str over the Vols. UA LTH led by just 3 at HT before a 2H surge. UA outgained UT 300-175 as the Vols 5 2H poss ended on a missed fg, 2 ints, punt and SOD.

ARKANSAS RAZORBACKS

RB Knile Davis

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - The only ret QB with exp here in '09 was still Tyler Wilson (PS#32) who hit 11-22-69 (2 gm) as a true but RS. They brought in VHT Michigan transfer Ryan Mallett (PS#1) who had NFL size and arm strength. Mallett won the job and broke a lot of Clint Stoerner's ('96-'99) records with 3,624 (56%, 30-7). Wilson played in 5 (218, 61%). Petrino said he wanted Mallett to break Kevin Scanlon's 1979 comp % rec (64%). At home Mallett completed 68% (327 ypg). On the road he hit just 43% (223 ypg) but faced 4 top 20 pass D's. Mallett set the % mark in '10 throwing for 3,869 (65%, 32-12). Wilson played 2.5Q's vs Aub (Mallett inj) and had a pass eff rating of 182.6 despite two 4Q int's. Wilson played in 6 (453, 67%, 4-3). LY Mallett left (#3DC) as Ark's career passing leader in just 2 yrs but I still tagged Wilson pressn 2nd Tm SEC in my magazine. Wilson took a lot of hits but got up each time and threw for 3,638 (63.2%, 24-6). Athletic Brandon Mitchell played in 9 (271, 68.8%, 2-1). Wilson had school rec's of 510 yds vs A&M (Mallett, 409 in '10), 32 comp vs Miss St (31 Joe Ferguson in '71), 277 comp's and 438 att's (Mallett, 266-411 in '10) and a record streak of 184 passes without an int. TY Wilson returns with experience and earned 1st Tm SEC (1st time in school hist for QB) as a first year starter.

RUNNING BACKS - In '10 Ark had a veteran unit incl Broderick Green (PS#9) who led in '09 with 442 (4.2). Knile Davis (4.29 spd), who benches 415 lbs, took over at midseason and had games of 110, 182, 187, 152 and 139 and finished with 1,322 (6.5) and 13 td's (1st Tm SEC). Green was a distant #2 with 365 (3.5). Ronnie Wingo (PS#12, size, strength, speed), had 253 (6.2). LY Green tore his ACL (spg) and Davis was OFY mid-Aug (brk ankle). Green ret'd earlier than expected and had 260 (3.8). Dennis Johnson (PS#112), who had 342 (6.0) in '09 and RS in '10, led with 670 (6.3) and Wingo added 458 (4.4). TY they lose Green and De'Anthony Curtis (119, 5.9) but add in Kody Walker (6'2" 240 rFr, PS441) and get back Davis, who almost ret'd at the end of LY, making this a vastly upgraded RB corps.

RECEIVERS - In '09 Greg Childs led with 894 (18.6) while Jarius Wright (PS#36) added 681 (16.6). Joe Adams (PS#25, miss 3) was #3 (568, 19.6) and TE DJ Williams (#1 '08, 723, 11.3) had 411 (12.8). Speedy true frosh Cobi Hamilton had 347 (18.3). In '10 Childs was #1 (659, 14.3) when he was lost after 8 games (inj). Adams led with 813 (16.3) and Wright was #2 (788, 18.8). Williams won the John Mackey Award (627,11.6) and Hamilton had 630 (19.7!). LY they had to replace Williams (#5DC). Wright set a school rec with 281 (Mike Reppond '71) vs A&M and led with 1,117 (16.9, 4th Tm AA). Adams had 652 (12.1) and new TE Chris Gragg was #4 (518, 12.6) while Hamilton had 542 (15.9). TY they lose Childs (2 st, 240, 11.4, #4DC MIN), Wright (12 st, #4DC MIN), Adams (11 st, #4DC CAR) and suffered the tragic loss of TE Garrett Uekman (died in Nov). This will still be a solid, productive unit but clearly is weaker with the loss of 3 DC's.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '10 Ark had to replace a 1st Tm SEC RG (#5DC) but had 4 st'rs back although their C lost his job. The Hogs improved to 149 ypg (4.6, 28 sk). Last year they had to replace three 3 year starters (1st Tm SEC LT). The line improved as the season went on but as expected, their numbers dropped (137, 4.3, 28 sk). TY they lose OG Grant Cook (13 st) and OT Grant Freeman (13 st). Ark returns the same 2 st'rs they did LY in 2nd Tm SEC Alvin Bailey and C Travis Swanson and also see their ret car sts jump up to 65 TY (35 LY).

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '10 Ark lost 2 st'rs but had 8 back who earned sts in '09. UA improved to 37 sks, but the rush D slipped to 163 ypg (4.0). LY they had to replace 1 st'r but had 5 back who st'd 5+. DL cch Bobby Allen said he'd never been around a better group (depth and talent) of DT's and NG's and felt they could play a 6 man rotation with no drop off. DE Robert Thomas suffered a leg injury vs A&M (F/5 st, none after). Their top DL, Jake Bequette, missed 3 and DE Tenarius Wright missed 5. The Hogs struggled with those players out and allowed 168 ypg rush (4.3, 29 sk) despite playing significantly better in the 2H of year. This year they lose their top guy in 1st Tm SEC DE Bequette (10 st, 28 tkl, 10 sk, #3DC NE) and DT Zach Stadther (3 st, 24 tkl) but have 6 of the top 8 back and should allow under 4.0 ypc for the first time s/'06.

LINEBACKERS - Last year the Hogs had to replace 1 st'r (#4 tkl'r, 12.5 tfl) and 2 bkps (29 tkl). They ret'd 2nd Tm SBC MLB Jerry Franklin and 3rd Tm SEC Jerico Nelson (#2 tkl'r). They also added in VHT Alonzo Highsmith (PS#11JC, IFS). Ark only improved to yielding 22.2 ppg (23.4 '10). TY they lose 2x 2nd Tm SEC MLB Franklin (13 st, #1 tkl'r, 10 tfl), Nelson (6 st, #5 tkl'r, 5.5 tfl, 2 int) and Ross Rasner (#7 tkl'r) moves to S. They return their #3 tkl'r and add in DE Wright but with the loss of the first player in school history to lead the team in tkls for 4 straight years, I'll call them down a few notches.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - The Hogs finished #11 in my PDR in '06 and with a veteran unit in '07 were #1 (46%, 20 int!). In '08 they had to replace all 4 st'rs and as you would expect, dropped to #59. The Hogs had to replace 4 DB (comb 17 st) in '09 then both CB's were OFY (comb 3 st). The Hogs slid to #80 (59%, 22-13). In '10 UA had to replace 2 DB (comb 12 st, 85 tkl) but Isaac Madison ret'd (ACL '09). The Hogs rose to #31 (55%, 13-11). LY they had to replace 2 st'rs and I speculated they could be just as good and UA finished #33 (57%, 12-12) despite the fact that just 2 DB's st'd 11+ gms (banged up). TY they lose CB Greg Gatson (9 st, 29 tkl), 3rd Tm SEC FS Tramain Thomas (11 st, #2 tkl'r, 5 int, 6 pbu), SS Elton Ford (2 st, 39 tkl) and CB Madison (4 st, 29 tkl, 4 pbu). They return 3 with 6+ sts and add in OLB Rasner (3 st LY) making them equally exp'd to LY. Expect the Hog secondary to stay healthier and potentially improve.

SPECIAL TEAMS - Arkansas had finished #94 in my ST rankings in '07 and in Petrino's first year ('08) was #94 again. Petrino hired John L. Smith (now HC) to oversee the unit. The '09 unit finished #79 and moved up to #55 in '10. LY PR Joe Adams (15.6, 1 td, '10) avg 16.9 with an SEC record tying 4 td's! He became just the 7th SEC player to have 2 PR td's in the same gm. Adams was named SEC STPOY and the FWAA RM of Yr. Dennis Johnson was the top KR (25.6, 1 td). Zach Hocker (PS#20) hit 16-19 FG (L/51) as a true and LY hit 21-27 FG (L/50) with an outstanding 40 TB's on 93 KO. P Dylan Breeding (42.5 '10) improved to 45.3 (37.6 net). The specialists are back and even with the loss of the inaugural winner of the Johnny Rodgers Award (pg 336) in Adams, they could come close to LY's #4 finish.

COACHES - Arkansas becomes the 3rd BCS program in just 2 ssn to lose a HC after spring practices. In Bobby Petrino's 3rd season he led the Hogs to their first ever BCS bowl and school record tying 11 wins. Hog fans' excitement was at an all-time high but Petrino was let go because of off-field issues. John L. Smith was the Weber St (alma mater) HC for 4.5 months before returning as he was the OLB cch and ST coor here the L3Y. Smith signed a 10 month contract. He previously was a HC at Mich St ('03-'06), Louisville ('98-'02), Utah St ('95-'97) and Idaho ('89-'94). OC Garrick McGee left to become the UAB HC and Bobby's brother Paul Petrino returns (Bobby's OC '03-'09 before L2Y at Illinois). New DC Paul Haynes was Ohio St's DB coach for 6Y and their co-DC LY. LB and asst HC Tarver Johnson handled the interim role during Spring practices.

PHIL'S FORECAST

Prior to '04, Ark went to 6 consec bowls matching a school rec set by Lou Holtz ('77-'82) and Ken Hatfield ('84-'89). Unfortunately for just the 3rd time in 61 yrs ('52-'53 and '96-'97), they suffered B2B losing seasons in '04 and '05. Despite their 2-6 record in SEC play in '05, they were +31 ypg! They outgained #4 UGA 332-217 (lost by 3) and lost to #3 LSU by 2 (2 miss FG) both on the road. In '06 they had the most ret sts in the SEC (18). Even coming off a 4-7 season I picked the Hogs #13 with the majority of the other magazines not having them ranked. Ark made it to the SEC Title gm and rose as high as #5! Their losses in '06 were to the #6, #9, #4 and #6 tms. In '07 the Hogs had just 12 ret sts (pressn #21). They were a disappointing 7-4 when they stunned #1 LSU in Death Valley in 3OT. Surprisingly Nutt stepped aside under strong fan pressure and with an interim HC they lost 38-7 in the Cotton Bowl. In Petrino's 1st ssn ('08) with just 9 ret sts, I picked a team that had been to 2 straight NY Day bowls and had 3 non-BCS foes on the sked to have a losing season. The Hogs finished just 5-7 but despite a 2-6 SEC record, were +0.1 ypg and -9 in TO's. In '09 they drew both Fla and UGA from the East but still made my Most Improved List for the 2nd time in 4 yrs. The Hogs did not disappoint me (8-5). In '10 they had 17 ret sts incl QB Mallett and Vandy replaced Florida on the sked. Two of my 9 sets of power ratings called for the Hogs to go 12-0 and they nearly accomplished that as they led Bama 20-14 in the 4Q. Vs eventual Nat'l Champ Auburn, Ark lost QB Mallett in the 2Q but still led 43-37 in the 4Q with bkp Wilson in. The Hogs were 10-2 and their +101 ypg led the SEC (Nat'l Champ Aub #2 +92). In the Sugar Bowl vs Ohio St, they were int'd at the OSU 17 with :58 left. The Hogs' #12 finish was their best s/'88 (also #12). LY they had to face both LSU and Bama on the road which had me picking them 3rd in the SEC West. Ark opened strong going 3-0 (avg win 47-13) and then as expected, lost to Bama 38-14 on the road. They trailed A&M 35-17 at half (outgained 404-284) but won 42-38. After dispatching Auburn they had a couple of 11:00 am starts at Miss and at Vandy. They trailed Ole Miss 17-0 in the 2Q but won 29-24. Vandy led 28-20 and was at the Ark1 but fumbled and Ark ret'd it 94 yds for a td, a 14 pt swing and instead of trailing by 15, Ark was tied at 28 and won by 3. They dominated SC, Tenn and Miss St at home by 28 ppg. It was #3 Ark vs #1 LSU and Ark led 14-0 but lost by 24 being outgained 494-254. In the Cotton Bowl they beat K-St 29-16 and finished #5. TY the Hogs get both LSU and Ala at home and are more exp'd with 13 ret sts including their QB but now face the ssn without Petrino. They benefitted from 3 net close wins LY and draw SC out of the East. I had Ark down as a Nat'l Title contender prior to the spring and this is a very dangerous team.

MISSISSIPPI ST BULLDOGS

LB Cameron Lawrence

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In '09 soph Chris Relf (6'4" 245) was used mostly as a runner alternating with 5'11" Tyson Lee (passer). Relf threw for 283 (54%, 5-3) and was the #2 rusher (500, 6.6). Relf battled VHT rFr Tyler Russell (PS#7) for the starting job in '10 but took control and threw for 1,789 (59%, 13-6) and was again the #2 rusher (713, 3.7). Russell played in 9 (635, 58%, 5-6, 62 rush). LY both ret'd and they added in rFr Dylan Favre (5'10", PS#90, Brett's nephew) and true frosh Dak Prescott (PS#47). Relf was the clear-cut starter but then at the half vs UAB (tailing 3-0) Russell took over and guided 3 td drives in the comeback win and he st'd 4 of the next 5. Relf started after the Ark loss and led them to B2B bowl wins for the first time s/'00 finishing with 1,212 (60%, 10-9, 375 rush). Russell threw for 1,034 (53.5%, 8-4).TY they lose Relf (9 st) and Favre (9 gm) but the Bulldogs' pass numbers should improve while Prescott got a lot of reps in the spring.

RUNNING BACKS - In '06 MSU had to replace their all-time leading rusher Jerious Norwood. Anthony Dixon stepped in and in the next 4 yrs became the new career leading rusher by over 700 yds. The most exp'd returnee in '10 was Robert Elliott (PS#19, 282, 4.5 in 2 yrs). I projected Vick Ballard (PS#16JC) to start. Ballard (miss 1 gm) led with 968 (5.2) incl a schl record 20 ttl td's (Jackie Parker 16, '52). RFr LaDarius Perkins (PS#99) had 566 (5.6) incl 131 vs UAB and 98 in the Egg Bowl. His 319 all-purp yds in that gm were 2nd most in schl history. LY Ballard reached his pressn goal of 1,000 yds rushing (1189, 6.2, 2nd Tm SEC) with 11 ttl td's. Perkins was #2 with 422 (4.9) while QB Relf was #3 and rFr Nick Griffin (PS#95) added 108 (6.8). TY they lose Ballard (13 st, #5DC IND) and Elliott (37 yd). Not listed in the PSL below are FB's Adrian Marcus (5'10" 235 Jr) and William Shumpert (5'11" 240 Jr). With the loss of their top guy, I'll call this unit down a few notches.

RECEIVERS - MSU had an inexp'd group in '09. VHT Chad Bumphis (PS#21) orig committed to Dan Mullen at Florida and was compared to Percy Harvin. Bumphis led in '09 as a true frosh with 375 (11.7). TE Marcus Green (inj '08) had 6 sts finishing #2 with 306 (11.3). Both ret'd in '10 but Green was inj'd and RS after 2. Bumphis improved to 634 (14.4) while soph Arceto Clark (PS#132) was #2 with 362 (14.5). Brandon Heavens (PS#107) was #3 (316, 14.4) and 6'2" Chris Smith (PS#53) was #4 (264, 11.0). LY everyone ret'd and surprisingly Bumphis dropped to 339 (13.6). Clark led with 442 (14.7) while Chris Smith led in rec's with 35 (9.4). This year they lose TE Green (8 st, 188, 17.1) and Michael Carr (7 rec) but add in Devin Fosselman (5'10" 190 rFr, PS#110). With the top 4 back, I expect improvement, especially if Bumphis rebounds and 6'4" rFr Joe Morrow (PS#48) has the impact I expect.

OFFENSIVE LINE - Sylvester Croom was a fan of large OL's while HC Mullen prefers lean, mobile OL so it was not a great fit when he took over in '09. They only had to replace 2 st'rs (comb 16 st) and all 5 st'rs st'd all 12. Quite frankly, they outperformed my expectations with 228 ypg rush (#9 FBS, 4.9, 20 sk). It was still a good sized group (avg 305 lbs). In '10 they had 4 st'rs back (85 car st) incl 5 VHT's in the 2 deep. Surprisingly the numbers slipped to 215 ypg (4.5, 23 sk). LY they had to replace 2 st'rs (#1DC) and 2 bkps. They were a little less exp'd (79 car st) and then they lost RG Tobias Smith after 3 sts and LT James Carmon missed 3. They slipped to 175 ypg (4.4, 25 sk). TY they lose RT Addison Lawrence (13 st, 3Y st'r), 3rd Tm SEC C/G Quentin Saulsberry (13 st, 4Y st'r) and Carmon (10 st) while Sam Watts (PS#100, 6'4" 300 Jr) may rejoin in fall. They have just 2 ret sts (43 car st) but should remain healthier and could top LY's stats.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '08 Sean Ferguson became just the 2nd MSU true frosh DL in 22 yrs to start his first career gm. With 2 st'rs back MSU gave up 151 ypg (4.1). In '09 they had to replace 3 st'rs but added PS#6JC Pernell McPhee. They were less exp'd but with added talent the numbers were about the same (146 ypg, 4.0, 18 sk). In '10 they had to replace 3 DL (comb 21 st) but did have 9 of the top 12 back. MSU improved allowing 119 ypg (3.6), their best s/'06, with 26 sks. LY they had to replace their 1st Tm SEC DE McPhee (#5DC) but had 3 st'rs back. Surprisingly they yielded 153 ypg (3.7) with 27 sks. TY they lose 1st Tm SEC Fletcher Cox (12 st, 56 tkl, 5 sk, 9.5 tfl, #1DC PHI), Sean Ferguson (11 st, 41 tkl, 3 sk, 2.5 tfl) and DE Trevor Stigers (1 st, 10 tkl). While they lose their top DL, I felt LY's unit underachieved and TY's could improve as they add in VHT's PS#1JC Denico Autry and Quay Evans (PS#18), both IFS.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 MSU had to replace their #1 tkl'r (#7DC) but did return their #2 and #3 tkl'rs. With a veteran unit, MSU improved allowing 19.8 ppg (best s/'99). LY this position was my biggest concern on the '11 squad. They had to replace all 3 st'rs including a 1st Tm SEC MLB (#6DC & #4DC, #1, #2 #7 tkl'r) plus a bkp (21 tkl). They ret'd their #10 and #18 tkl'rs and the ppg was surprisingly close to '10 at 19. ppg. TY they are a much more veteran unit with the only losses being Brandon Wilson (12 st, #3 tkl'r, 2.5 tfl), Brandon Maye (1 st, #10 tkl'r, 3 tfl) and Jamie Jones (6 tkl). Wilson could have ret'd but Mullen noted that the level of competition he would be taking on was at an all-time high. They do have 2 ret sts (#1, #5 tkl'rs) making this unit much more exp'd and evidently talented.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - MSU had to replace 3 st'rs in '09. True frosh FS Johnthan Banks became the first MSU ply'r ever to have 2 IR td's in the same gm - both off of Tim Tebow. The inexp unit finished #49. In '10 they only had to replace 1 st'r (8 back w/st exp). Banks moved from FS to CB, his more natural position and MSU moved up to #30 (57.8%, 19-13). LY they only had to replace 2 bkps (40 tkl) and had all 4 st'rs back. MSU's goal was to be the best secondary in the SEC but that's easier said than done with Bama and LSU in the league. Surprisingly, MSU dropped to #46 (64.5%, 12-12). They did lose FS Nickoe Whitley (Achilles) after 7 sts. TY they lose SS Charles Mitchell (13 st, #2 tkl'r, 3 pbu, #6DC ATL), FS Wade Bonner (6 st, #6 tkl'r, 4 pbu), CB Marvin Bure (17 tkl) and Damein Anderson (1 st, 11 tkl). They have 3 st'rs back incl a 2nd Tm SEC CB and while a little less exp'd, I would expect them to move up in the PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - MSU finished #81, #114, #100, #108 and #115 in my ST rankings in Croom's 5 yrs. Dan Mullen, following Urban Meyer's lead, oversees this unit personally. He signed a JC at both P and K and uses plenty of st'rs in the unit. In '09 they improved to #54 and in '10, despite everyone back, surprisingly slipped to #71. LY they had to replace their P, KO man and top KR but they moved up to #62. In '10 Derek DePasquale hit 10-12 FG's (L/43, 1 miss 51) but LY 12-18 (L/42) and soph Brian Egan (PS#20) was 0-1 (6 TB, 60 KO). Baker Swedenburg (PS#12) avg 41.8 (37.9 net). Chad Bumphis was the top PR (8.6) in '10 and both he and Johnthan Banks had td's LY (comb 12.5 avg). The KR unit was among the FBS's worst (#116). TY they lose DePasquale but with Mullen's emphasis they could have their highest finish in his tenure.

COACHES - HC Dan Mullen was Urban Meyer's QB cch at both BG and Utah and was the OC/QB cch at Florida. Mullen has re-energized the fan base with B2B bowl wins for the first time s/'99-'00. Fourth yr OC Les Koenning was the OC at S Ala ('08), Tx A&M ('03-'07) and Alabama ('01-'02). Chris Wilson was a DL cch at Okla ('05-'09) and is in his 3rd season as co-DC. Geoff Collins is in his 2nd season as co-DC and previously was the FIU DC ('10) and the UCF LB coach ('08-'09).

PHIL'S FORECAST

From 1997-2000 MSU actually had the best record of all of the SEC West schls. The last 3 yrs of Jackie Sherrill's tenure ('01-'03) did not go well with a 3-21 SEC record. Sylvester Croom won 3 gms overall in each of his first 3 yrs (4-20 SEC). Despite their 3-9 record in '06, they did allow just 321 ypg on D. I predicted MSU would be greatly improved in '07 with a shot at a bowl and they did not disappoint. The Bulldogs went 8-5. In '08 I pointed out that MSU, despite their 4-4 '07 SEC record, was -73.4 ypg in SEC play and they had benefitted from 4 net close wins. In '08 at SEC media days Croom said it was a realistic goal for the tm to win the SEC Title (I had them 5th in West) but they went just 4-8 and Croom resigned after a 45-0 loss to Miss. They brought in Dan Mullen from Florida who inherited a team that was an SEC worst -111.0 ypg. They had 10 ret sts (fewest SEC) and had to learn new schemes. MSU outperformed my expectations with a solid 5-7 season (3-5 SEC, -21.9 ypg). They beat #20 Ole Miss and in a 3 gm home stand vs LSU, GT and Houston, the Bulldogs lost by just a comb 22 pts due to TO's. In '10 Mullen exceeded my expectations again as MSU went 9-4 and finished ranked (#15) for first time s/'00 (#24) and the highest s/'99 (#13). They got their first Jan bowl win s/'41 in their 52-14 rout of Mich. LY I pointed out that MSU had a schedule tailor-made for either greatness or disappointment. While Mullen came in talking about SEC Titles, they got Bama, LSU and SCar all at home which meant their most winnable gms were on the road. They had 16 ret sts (most under Mullen). After whipping Mem 59-14, the defending Nat'l Champ Aub was a HD to MSU and was fired up. At the end of the gm, Relf was stopped at the GL on 4th down and they lost by 7 despite a 531-381 yd edge. Relf was not 100% and 2 OL's were out and they lost to LSU 19-6 at home on a Thur. They were fortunate to get past LT. Tied at 20-20 LT was int'd in the EZ (in FG range) and MSU won in OT. They were beaten worse than the final vs GA. It was 24-3 when they got a 72 yd IR td in the 4Q. They trailed UAB 3-0 at half when they replaced Relf with Russell and won 21-3. They gave up a td to SCar with 3:50 left and lost 14-12 (MSU 296-289 yd edge). After dispatching UK and UTM, they caught Bama the wk after their loss to LSU in a bubble burst situation. Bama, which beat all their foes by 21+, had their closest win of the ssn only beating MSU by 17 (Bama 386-131 yds). The next wk they were whipped at #6 Ark 44-17 then in Houston Nutt's final gm and MSU's FHG, they dominated the Rebels 31-3. In the bowl, they played better than the 23-17 final (382-287 yd edge) and finished 7-6. TY they have just 12 ret sts and LY they were #8 in the SEC in ypg (-61.2). The SEC schedule is a lot more favorable with winnable road gms vs UK and Miss and most of their winnable games are at home. MSU could be favored in as many as 10 gms TY!

AUBURN TIGERS

DE Corey Lemonier

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In '10 I mentioned that despite the loss of Chris Todd (2612, 60%, 22-6), they could have improved numbers as Cam Newton was a rare athlete. Newton was by far the best player in college ball in '10 as he became the first AU QB to lead the tm in rushing s/'76 (Phil Gargis, 534) with 1,473 and was #2 in the NCAA in pass eff (2854, 66%, 30-7). Newton accounted for 51 td's, blowing away Pat Sullivan's AU record (26 in '70). He broke the SEC QB single ssn rush mark (AU's Jimmy Sidle 1,006 in '63). Newton became the 3rd Tiger Heisman Trophy winner (Sullivan '71, Bo Jackson '85) and was the #1 overall pick in the NFL. In '10 HC Gene Chizik said he had 4 quality QB's incl Jr Barrett Trotter (PS#44) who played in 6 (6-9-64) and soph Clint Moseley (PS#40). LY they added athletic true frosh Kiehl Frazier (PS#3). Trotter won the job and hit 33-46 (72%, 407) in his first 2. Trotter struggled over the next 5 and vs Ark and Fla hit just 8-27 (30%) for 57 ypg. Clint Moseley st'd the last 6 and Frazier was the only QB to play in all 13 (327 rush, 4.3, 5-12 passes). Trotter replaced an inj'd Moseley in the bowl and got the come from behind win but then decided to forego his Sr ssn. The Tigers had their weakest ypg passing s/'85 (156, 56.2%, 17-13). They are moving from the spread to a pro style offense but should easily top LY's weak numbers with a more exp'd unit.

RUNNING BACKS - In '09 Ben Tate (PS#11) led with 1,362 (5.2). True frosh Onterio McCalebb (PS#69, tm's fastest) became the first Auburn frosh with 100 yds (148) rushing in the opener since Bo Jackson ('82). McCalebb and Tate became the first Auburn duo to rush for B2B 100 yd gms. McCalebb (565, 5.4) was inj'd in gm 4, and was not 100% afterwards. In '10 they had to replace Tate (#2DC). True frosh Michael Dyer (PS#2) rushed for 1,093 (6.0) eclipsing Jackson's frosh rushing record (829). McCalebb was banged up again but led the nation in ypc (8.5, 810 yds) thanks to 4 td runs of 49+ yds. Those two ret'd LY but I said it would be tough to top their comb output of 1,903 (6.9). Dyer had a fine season (1242, 5.1) and had 3 td runs of 50+ yds. McCalebb added 641 (5.7) and was the #2 rec with 344 (10.8). True frosh RM Tre Mason (PS#35) rushed for 161 (5.8). Dyer was susp for the bowl and transferred but they do have VHT transfers from Florida and Alabama and a VHT true frosh, so someone should emerge and come close to Dyer's numbers.

RECEIVERS - LY the Tigers had to replace their top 2 rec's (comb 1568, 16.5). The top returnees were Emory Blake (554, 16.8) and TE Philip Lutzenkirchen (185, 12.3). Blake had a streak of 7 str gms with a td catch, 2nd best in schl history (Terry Beasley, 8 in '71) and earned the Off MVP Award despite missing 2 full gms. Auburn's offense was more potent when Blake (613, 17.0) was healthy. RFr Trovon Reed (PS#5) also missed 3 gms (both missed parts of others) and had just 164 (7.8). Lutzenkirchen finished #3 (238, 9.9) and Travante Stallworth added 214 (16.5). TY they lose Quindarius Carr (10 st, 173, 21.6) and Jay Wisner (7 st, 2 rec) but have 6 of the top 7 back and should maintain better health.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '10 Aub had a veteran O-line (4 ret sts) and a QB that rushed for 1,473 yds. Naturally they had their best rush numbers (285 ypg, 6.1, 23 sk) since Bo Jackson in '85 (313). LY they had to replace 4 st'rs (3rd Tm AA C, 1st Tm AA LT, comb 13 yrs st exp) and the unit went from 111 car sts to just 15 and had a less mobile QB. The unit lost LG Jared Cooper after 6 sts. As you would expect, the numbers dropped to 182 ypg (4.4) and they all'd 32 sks (11%). TY they lose RT Brandon Mosley (13 st, #4DC NYG), LT AJ Greene (12 st) and Cooper. True frosh C Reese Dismukes was the team's Newcomer OPOY. They return 35 car sts, 3 who st'd the final 6 (2 were frosh) and add in PS#3 and #8 rFr so I look for improved numbers.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '08 Auburn had to replace 2.5 st'rs (#2, #3DC's) and allowed 139 ypg (4.1, worst s/'95!). In '09 they lost 1.5 st'rs (#2DC) but Antonio Coleman was 1st Tm SEC (10 sk) and AU all'd 156 ypg rush (4.1). In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs (Coleman) and another lost his spot but the story of this unit was the emergence of DT Nick Fairley. Fairley (2 st, 28 tkl, 3.5 tfl, '09) was the most dominating college DL taking home the Lombardi Award and the BCS Title gm MVP. He led the SEC in sks (11.5) and tfl and was 1st Tm AA (#1DC). Auburn allowed just 109 ypg rush (3.4), their best s/'04, with 35 sks. LY they had to replace Fairley, a #7DC DT, a 2nd Tm SEC DE and 2 bkps (3 sts, 48 tkl). They began rotating 12 DL's but reduced that to 9 and the lightly exp'd group (1 ret st'r) naturally slipped to 189 ypg (4.6, 22 sk). TY the entire 2 deep returns including 3rd Tm AA DE Corey Lemonier (PS#8, 9.5 sk, 15 qbh) and I except more out of Gabe Wright (PS#18, 3 st true). This should be one of the most improved DL's in the country.

LINEBACKERS - Former HC Tommy Tuberville's LB units always emphasized speed over size. In '09 Chizik inherited the #4 and #5 tkl'rs but then lost 5 bkps and had just one schlp bkp LB in true frosh Jonathan Evans (PS#97). In '10 they had all 3 st'rs back (#1, #2, #11 tkl'rs), moved in S Daren Bates (#4 tkl'r) and added 4 true frosh (2 VHT's). That gave the unit much more depth and the Tigers improved allowing 24.1 ppg. LY they had to replace 2 st'rs (#1, #4 tkl'r). The top ret tkl'rs were only #8 and #10 and Eltoro Freeman (5 st '10) didn't get his first start until Wk 6. Bates became the first AU player to record DD tkl's in 3 str gms s/'01 (Dontarius Thomas) but the Tigers slipped to 28.9 ppg. This year they lose 3rd Tm SEC Freeman (7 st, #5 tkl'r, 8.5 tfl) and Jawara White (2 st, 23 tkl) but have 4 of the top 6 back (#1, #8, #9) and they add in rFr Kris Frost (PS#12). This unit is more exp'd and has added talent and DC Brian VanGorder favors bigger LB's.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - LY AU had to replace 3 st'rs but added in some VHT true frosh and I speculated even with just 1 st'r back that they could only improve upon '10's poor PDR finish (#84). However they actually dropped to #92 (64%, 23-11). S Neiko Thorpe did earn Def MVP honors while true frosh Jermaine Whitehead (PS#28) was Newcomer DPOY. TY they lose Thorpe (13 st, #2 tkl'r, 3 int, 6 pbu) but have 7 of the top 8 back and should have one of the most improved PDR's in the country.

SPECIAL TEAMS - Auburn had ST finishes of #3 ('06) and #11 ('08). The team lacked depth in Chizik's first year (lots of walk-ons on ST) and they finished #83. In '10 true frosh Steven Clark (good hang time) was beat out for the punting job by Ryan Shoemaker. Clark has the body of an NFL punter at 6'5" 235 and got in 9 punts (34.9). The Tigers moved up to #36. LY they had to replace their K (17-22, L/48), P, KR and their top PR lost his spot. With the inexp, you would have expected a drop but the Tigers actually stayed the same at #36. Clark was 1 of 3 finalists for the Ray Guy Award (39.2 tm net!). Cody Parkey hit 13-18 FG (L45) but was #1 in the FBS in TB% (38-66). Tre Mason was the top KR (26.4). This year all of the key players return and they appear poised for a top 10 finish.

COACHES - Auburn fans were not thrilled when former DC ('02-'04) Gene Chizik was hired to replace Tommy Tuberville as he was 5-19 as Iowa St's HC ('07-'08). However, Chizik delivered Auburn's 2nd National Title (1957) in '10. Chizik is 9-0 in bowls as a grad asst thru HC. The offense must replace Gus Malzahn (took Ark St job). The new OC is Scott Loeffler (Temple OC LY, Florida QB's '09-'10). The new DC is Brain VanGorder who has been an NFL DC the L4Y (ATL) and his recent college exp includes serving as the Ga Southern HC ('06) and the UGA DC ('01-'04).

PHIL'S FORECAST

Tommy Tuberville's teams won or shared the SEC West Title in 5 of his 10 yrs here ('99-'08). In '04, Auburn felt it was the best team in the country but was not invited to play in the Nat'l Title game (#2, 13-0). They finished #14, #9, #15 and then 5-7 in '08 and Tuberville was shown the door. Fans were not thrilled with the hiring of Gene Chizik (5-19 at Iowa St) but Auburn made my Most Improved List in '09 meaning I thought they would go to a bowl and they went 8-5. I mentioned in the '10 magazine that my main set of power ratings called for Auburn to be 11-0 when they faced Bama in Wk 12 despite an inexp'd QB. Aub had a dream ssn as they won some close games led by Cam Newton and Nick Fairley. They trailed Ala 24-0 (could have been 38-0) and rallied for a 28-27 win, rolled over SCar in the SEC Title game then beat Oregon to win the Nat'l Title at a perfect 14-0 delivering as one of my Surprise Teams (non top 10 tm I think could win Nat'l Title). They were picked as low as 4th in the West and unranked by many publications in '10! LY all of the key indicators were pointing down. They had benefitted from an amazing 7 net close wins and the schedule got tougher with road gms vs Clem, SC, Ark, LSU and GA. They only had 74 schlp players, losing 34 from their '10 Title squad and had just 6 ret sts. I mentioned that Texas had gone from a Nat'l Title to 5-7 and that Aub might have to pull an upset to get a winning ssn. They barely got past Utah St getting 2 td's in the last 2:07 and despite being defending Nat'l Champs, were a HD to Miss St and prevailed 41-34 stopping Miss St at the 1 at the end. Their 17 gm win streak was snapped at Clem (outgained 624-435) in a 14 pt loss. They only outgained FAU 315-307 but got the needed upset beating #10 SC on the road (358-289 yd edge). They were whipped by Ark as expected by 24 but then took on a Fla tm starting its 3rd string QB and won 17-6. They had a 35 pt loss to LSU and were tied with Miss at home 17-17 but won 41-23. They lost to UGA 45-7 (worst loss s/'96) and it was the first time Aub had lost 2 gms by 35+ s/'50. After getting past Samford 35-16, they lost to Bama 42-14 but the Tigers were outgained 309-44 after 3Q and only scored thanks to a FR and KR td. Their young tm benefitted from the bowl practices and they beat Virg 43-24. This year many of the key indicators are pointing up. My Stock Market Indicator has them a +3.0 and they are much more exp'd (15 ret sts). Auburn did benefit from 3 net close wins LY and were #9 in the SEC at -92.9 ypg and are making a large scheme change on offense. They have just 4 true road games TY and should be favored in 2 of them. Even though Aub is a much more exp'd team and taking on a more palatable schedule, it may be tough to top LY's 8 win total but I give Chizik an excellent shot at getting to and winning a 4th bowl here.

LY's loss to CU snapped a 14 gm series win streak and also the nations best 17 str wins. AU led 14-0 & 21-7 late 2Q but allowed 4 str td drives of 60/8pl, 81/12pl, 75/8pl & 80/4pl & never recovered.

Tigers have won 10 of 11 incl 5 str trips in Starkville (last two by a ttl of 4 pts). LTH AU led 17-7 at HT & after allowing an opening 2H td they held MSU to 73/24pl the rest of the way. AU is 7-1 in road openers.

AU is a perfect 8-0 vs ULM and has not allowed a td in this series in 13 str Q's. Over the L/4 gms (all after '03) the Tigers avg win has been by 45 ppg (2 shutouts) with an avg 443-220 yd & 22-14 FD edge.

Home team is 11-1.LY Auburn was dominated as they trailed 45-3 early 4Q scoring a garbage td on a 86/10pl final drive. LSU was ranked #1 at the time and AU is 3-8 all-time vs #1 ranked foes.

Bonus: Auburn is one of just two schools (Ole Miss) in the country that play LY's SEC's East and West Champs as well as the defending National Champion.

LY's loss to Ark ended AU's 11 gm SEC winning streak. The Tigers led 14-7 at the end of the 1Q but were held scoreless the rest of the gm mustering just 173 yds (3.1 ypp) tossing 3 int's.

The Tigers are 9-2 in Oxford incl a 51-31 win the LTH. The gm was tied 14-14 into the 2Q before Auburn scored 30 of the next 33 pts. AU has finished 1-3 in 3 of the L/4 ssns in the reg ssn on the SEC road.

LTH ('08) the Tigers had their 13 gm series win streak snapped. AU jumped out to a 13-0 lead into the 2Q but missed a XP that proved costly. Amazingly AU was held scoreless the final 3Q's gaining just 52 yds.

Auburn is 0-2 vs A&M with the L/meeting in the '85 Cotton Bowl, lost 36-16. The last and only reg ssn gm took place in 1911, a 16-0 defeat. Into '12, AU is 9-3 L3Y hosting SEC foes (lost to UK & 2x's vs AL).

Just two prior meetings ('93 & '07). AU is 2-0 incl a 55-20 win in the L/meeting. AU led just 21-20 at HT but limited the Aggies to 127 yds forcing 4 TO's (led to 27 pts) in the 2H.

The Tigers have dropped 5 of 6 in the series but won LTH, 49-31. LY AU was hammered 45-7, Chizik said "just an all-around complete tm loss, not one phase of our tm played well".

First meeting. Bulldogs went 8-4 LY incl a 16-15 loss vs Grambling St in the SWAC Championship gm.

The winner of this gm has gone on to win the National Title the L3Y. AU actually is 7-1 in Tuscaloosa.

LTH UA trailed 24-0 mid-2Q being completely dominated before the largest comeback in school history.

TEXAS A&M AGGIES

RB Christine Michael

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In HC Mike Sherman's first season in '08, Jerrod Johnson took over for incumbent senior starter Stephen McGee (shoulder). McGee was a #4DC. Ryan Tannehill was the team's #1 rec in '08 but lobbied Sherman to battle for the QB job. In '09 Johnson, despite dealing with a leaky O-line, set several schl records throwing for 3,579 (60%, 30-8, 506 rush). Tannehill hit just 4-8 (#2 rec). In '10 Johnson was the preseason Big 12 OPOY but after shoulder surgery struggled at times to even throw spirals. Due to TO's (9 int, 2 fmbl), he was pulled after he had become A&M's career passing leader. Tannehill took over in the 2Q vs KU (gm 7) and guided 6 straight wins while Johnson would not throw another pass. Tannehill threw for 1,638 (65%, 13-6). I pointed out LY that the last 3 Aggie senior QB's had all struggled however Tannehill had a record setting season throwing for 3,744 (61.6%, 29-15, 306 rush, #1DC MIA). He did have key TO's causing A&M to blow double digit leads vs Okla St and Texas. RFr Jameill Showers (PS#41, strongest arm) played in 4 (5 att). He will battle soph Matt Joeckel (PS#53), the athletic rFr Johnny Manziel (PS#26) and true frosh VHT Matt Davis (PS#6, Sumlin recruit, IFS). Despite going from a #1DC to a unit with 5 career att's, if the new QB cuts down on turnovers, they could be just as productive.

RUNNING BACKS - A&M had just one 1,000 yd rusher from 1999-'09 (Courtney Lewis 1024 in '03). The top rusher in '08 had just 406 (4.3). The leading returning rusher in '09 was Cyrus Gray (PS#13, 363, 4.8). Gray started 9 and rushed for 757 (4.8) while explosive true frosh Christine Michael (PS#6) led with 844 (5.1) incl a school rec 97 yd td run vs Baylor. In '10 I said the Aggies should finally produce a 1,000 yd rusher, but didn't know if it would be Michael or Gray. Michael was on his way with 631 (5.0) but he was OFY after 8. Gray, who had 195 yds in the first 6, became A&M's first RB s/'88 to top 100 in 7 straight games. He finished with 1,133 (5.7). Last year expectations were high for both Gray and Michael to top 1,000 but once again Michael's season was cut short after 9 gms (899, 6.0, HM B12). Gray, in just 5 sts, had 1,045 (5.3) and is just the 4th Aggie to have multiple 200+ yd gms (2) joining Darren Lewis (3), Bob Smith (2) and Curtis Dickey (2). When Gray and Michael were inj'd, soph Ben Malena (PS#31) rushed for 83 (3.3) vs Texas and finished with 259 (3.9). Not listed below is Will Randolph (5'9" 188 So, PS#240, 37 yd LY). Hopefully this year Michael can stay healthy, plus they add in VHT Trey Williams (PS#4), but with the loss of 2nd Tm B12 Gray (#6DC KC), they figure to be down a notch or two.

RECEIVERS - Jeff Fuller (630, 12.6, A&M rec 9 td '08) was dominant in the spring of '09 but cracked his fibula and missed 4. He still finished #3 with 568 (13.9). True frosh Uzoma Nwachukwu (PS#43) led with 708 (17.7) and while only 6'0", catches passes at their highest point. In '10 Fuller shattered Bob Long's (19, '66-'68) career td record with 28. Surprisingly, A&M had never produced a 1,000 yd receiver (Robert Ferguson's 885 in '00 was tops) until Fuller led with 1,066 (14.8). Ryan Swope was #2 with 825 (11.5) and a banged up Nwachukwu had just 407 (11.3). Fuller turned down the NFL last year but was never really 100% and had "just" 828 (11.8, HM B12) Swope earned 2nd Tm B12 and reset Fuller's record with 1,207 (13.6). He is on pace to top Fuller for the career leader spot. Nwachukwu was #3 (639, 12.8). Despite the loss of Fuller (12 st) this is still a premiere receiving corps.

OFFENSIVE LINE - Last year A&M had to replace a 2nd Tm B12 C but had 9 of the top 10 back (86 car sts). Three managed to start all 13. As you would expect they improved to 199 ypg rush (5.1) and were #4 in the FBS allowing just 9 sks (1.7%). This year they lose OG Brian Thomas (12 st, 2Y st'r) and 4 bkps but have 4 st'rs returning incl 2x HM B12 RT Jake Matthews and 2nd Tm B12 LT Luke Joeckel who are both high on many NFL draft lists. They will be taking on SEC D-lines so the stats probably will not go up as much as expected, but with 95 career sts they are even stronger.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '10 A&M only had to replace one st'r and officially switched to the 3-4 under then new DC Tim DeRuyter. The more exp'd line helped A&M improve to allowing 130 ypg rush (3.5), their best s/'01, with 30 sks. LY they had to replace 1 st'r then DE Jonathan Mathis was OFY after 3 sts so they basically had 1 st'r back. Still, A&M made great strides. They were #2 in the B12 allowing a paltry 102 rush ypg and just 2.6 ypc and led the NCAA with 51 sks! TY they lose 2x 3rd Tm B12 DT Eddie Brown (13 st, 29 tkl, 3 sk), 2nd Tm B12 DT Tony Jerod-Eddie (13 st, 56 tkl, 5 sk, 2 tfl) and Ben Bass (1 st, 26 tkl, 2 sk, 2.5 tfl). They do switch back to a 4-3, move in 3rd Tm B12 Joker LB Damontre Moore (72 tkl, 8.5 sk, 9 tfl) and Mathis was awarded a MedRS. However, with the loss of a couple of 300 lb DT's, I don't anticipate the Aggies matching LY's rush D or their lofty sack totals.

LINEBACKERS - With its "Wrecking Crew" defense, A&M used to be known as "Linebacker U" but they had a dry spell at the position with no former Aggie playing the position in the NFL in '10. The '09 group had 10 career sts with 3 of the 4 st'rs being a true frosh, a rFr and a soph. Von Miller led the FBS with 17 sks. In '10 A&M ret'd their #3, #4, #5, #7, #8 and #13 tkl'rs. Miller (1st Tm AA) led the B12 in sks again (10.5) and became A&M's first Butkus Award winner (all'd 21.9 ppg). LY they had to replace Miller (#1DC) but ret'd their #2 and #3 tkl'rs. A&M slipped to allowing 28.2 ppg. TY they lose 2x HM B12 ILB Garrick Williams (5 st, #10 tkl'r) and Moore moves to DE but return their #1, #3 and #5 tkl'rs and this unit looks stronger in '12.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - A&M has had some poor finishes in my PDR like #104 in '05, #84 in '07 and #103 in '08. In '09 their 4 st'rs incl a true frosh and 2 soph (comb 14 st '08). In the magazine I said while less exp, with a stronger front 7, I expected them to move up in my PDR and they did to #61. In '10 they only had to replace 1 st'r (#6DC) and I called for continued improvement and A&M moved up to #14. LY the entire 2 deep ret'd. Their top cover corner, CB Coryell Judie, only started 2 (inj, 22 tkl, 5 pbu) while SS Steven Campbell missed 6. It was surprising that A&M plummeted to #51 (62.4%, 19-7) and they were #109 in the FBS allowing 276 pass ypg. TY they lose Judie, 2x HM B12 CB Terrence Frederick (13 st, 54 tkl, 14 pd, #7DC PIT), 4x All-B12 FS Trent Hunter (13 st, 80 tkl, 2 int, 8 pbu) and CB Lionel Smith (7 st, 51 tkl, 8 pbu). While their ypg all'd will go down, now that they're playing in the SEC (from pass happy B12), this group is less exp'd and probably will not improve much in my PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - A&M is famous for their "12th Man" ST unit (5 top 10 finishes). They were just #57 in '10. LY with all of the key players back, I called for their best finish in Sherman's 4 yrs and they accomplished that (#8). Dustin Harris (1st Tm B12 PR) was #1 in the NCAA in PR (18.6) and had a solid KR avg (23.4). Randy Bullock won the Groza Award hitting 29-33 FG incl a 52 yd'r into the wind vs Texas. Bullock became the new career pts leader with 365 (Kyle Bryant '94-'97, 325). He also had 32 TB on 96 KO. Sumlin's ST units at Houston finished #60, #29, #60 and #38. TY they lose 1st Tm AA Bullock (#5DC HOU) and it will be extremely tough to snag another top 10 finish.

COACHES - Kevin Sumlin was the Houston HC the L4Y piloting my MIT in the country LY to a 13-1 record. He was previously the co-OC at Okla (5Y, co-OC L2) and did spend 2 seasons here incl 1 as OC ('02). Sumlin brought 3 offensive coaches with him from UH incl Kliff Kingsbury who will be the sole OC after splitting the duties the L2Y. The DC is former Marshall HC ('05-'09) Mark Snyder who spent the L2Y as USF's DC. Marcel Yates is co-DC after being a secondary coach at Boise for 9 yrs.

PHIL'S FORECAST

In '08 A&M had just 10 st'rs back and a new HC in Mike Sherman. Their 4 wins in '08 tied the '03 squad for fewest in a season s/'72 (3-8). A&M was -147 ypg (2nd worst) in conf play and -10 in TO's. The '09 squad had 16 st'rs back and got to a bowl despite playing a schl record 18 true frosh (6-7). Interestingly, back in '90 they played 16 true frosh and in '91 followed that up with an SWC Title (10-1, only loss by 1 pt). In '10, coming off B2B losing seasons for the first time s/'72-'73, A&M made my MIT List but was picked 3rd in the South by the Big 12 media. QB Jerrod Johnson struggled and was replaced by Ryan Tannehill. With Tannehill cutting down on the TO's, A&M won 6 of their last 7 only losing the Cotton Bowl to LSU 41-24. Of their top 50 players, just 6 were Sr's. A&M was +58 ypg in the B12 (4th best) in '10 and got 5 B12 HG's in '11. They appeared poised for their first double digit win season s/'98. A&M was picked 2nd in the B12 (highest s/'99) and announced they would join the SEC in Sept which made had their opp's turn it up a notch when they played them. Even so, A&M could have easily had a much better record. They were +93.2 ypg (2nd best B12) but finished 4-5 in conf play. The defining moment happened early as A&M led Okla St 20-3 at half with a 301-185 yd edge. They blew their first DD lead of the season losing 30-29 with Tannehill turning it over much like Johnson did the previous year in the 2H. They led Ark 35-17 at half but blew another huge lead. At 5-2, they led Missouri 28-17 at half but suffered another DD blown lead and a 38-31 OT loss. Okla would be their only loss of the season where they did not have a DD lead as they dropped to 5-4 losing 41-25. They led K-St 31-21 in the 4Q. In the 3OT they dropped a td pass which would have given them the win and lost by 3. After destroying Kansas 61-7, it was the first time that neither Texas nor A&M was ranked for their matchup s/'96. A&M jumped out to a 13-0 lead and 16-7 at the half but Texas got a 40 yd FG on the final play to beat them 27-25. After beating NW in the bowl, A&M finished 7-6. Kevin Sumlin takes over a team that perhaps should have been 12-1 and was -9 in TO's and had 4 net close losses. They have 13 st'rs back but take a step up to the SEC. Despite being less experienced, taking on a much tougher schedule and having a 1st year HC (which means a learning process on both off and def), the Aggies have a solid shot at a 4th straight bowl.

Aggies are 10-0 vs the Bulldogs with an avg score of 42-12. Only one game was away from College Station & that was also in Shreveport ('99, 37-17). A&M has won 3 str ssn openers but is only 5-3 S/'04.

This will mark the inaugural SEC gm for A&M after spending the L/16 ssns as a Big 12 member. A&M is 1-1 vs Florida with their last and only reg ssn gm in 1962 in Gainesville, A&M lost 42-6.

A&M hasn't lost to SMU S/'84 (10-0-1 since). LTH ('92) the Aggies hammered the Mustangs 41-7. Sumlin was the HC at Houston from 2008-'11 (CUSA COY LY) going 4-0 vs SMU.

First meeting. The Bulldogs went 7-4 LY incl losses at CM (21-6) and Indiana (38-21). Prior to LY SCSt went to the FCS playoffs for 3 str ssns. A&M has won 9 str non-conf HG's by 25 ppg.

This will be the 2nd time these tms will play in the same conf. A&M actually has won the L/2 conf meetings (SWC) in '90 & '91. The L3Y (A&M 0-3) were all played at Cowboy's Stadium in the Southwest Classic.

The Aggies are 4-0 vs the Rebels but the last meeting was in 1980, a 23-20 win. Texas A&M is 8-12 the last 5 yrs in reg ssn conf away gms but over the L/2 ssns has gone 5-3.

Bonus: Texas A&M will not play Texas in 2012 which will mark the first time these instate rivals haven't squared off since 1914 (98 years)!

This will be a rematch of the 2010 Cotton Bowl. #18 A&M lost 41-24 vs #11 LSU. The Aggies did have leads of 10-0 & 17-14 but were outscored 27-7 committing 4 TO's in their final 7 drives.

A&M is 2-0 vs Auburn but this will be the first gm outside of Dallas, TX. Played a reg ssn gm in 1911 and in the '85 Cotton Bowl. The L/6 National Champions appear on the Aggies schedule TY.

A&M is 2-3 vs MSU with the last reg ssn gm in 1937, a 14-0 shutout. The most recent gm was the '00 Independence Bowl. While the HC at Houston Sumlin went 1-1 vs the Bulldogs winning in Starkville in '09, 31-24.

A&M is 0-2 in reg ssn gms vs UA ('85 & '88). Entering '12, the Aggies are 3-9 their L/12 gms vs ranked foes away from home. This is the first time the Aggies have played 3 str away since 1977!

A&M is 16-0 vs the Southland Conference incl 10-0 vs Sam Houston St. The Bearkats beat New Mexico 48-45 LY & went 14-1 with their only loss being in the FCS Championship gm.

A&M has lost 3 str vs Mizzou (last series win was in '06). LY A&M led 28-14 late 2Q but needed a 56/11pl & 35 yd fg drive to force OT. After MU scored a td A&M's 4&5 pass from the M20 fell inc.

MISSISSIPPI REBELS

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - Eli Manning (PS#12) set or tied 47 UM records when he departed after the '03 ssn (#1DC, 2 Super Bowl wins). The last 8 yrs the Rebel QB's have comb to hit between 48%-56% each season. PS#1JC Randall Mackey, who threw for 5,940 with 1,065 rush in 2Y at JC, RS in '10. LY Mackey battled L'ville transfer Zach Stoudt (PS#38JC) and WV transfer Barry Brunetti (PS#9). I projected Mackey to start but he was susp for the opener. Brunetti (#1 in spring) started the opener vs BYU but struggled and Stoudt came off the bench. Mackey started spelling him and vs Fresno (gm 5) took over and st'd the next 6 gms. Mackey was susp again prior to LSU and Stoudt st'd but Brunetti led in rushing and hit 5-10 passing then st'd vs Miss St. For the year the Rebels comb for 1,820 (49.5%, 9-13) with Mackey rushing for 180, Brunetti 110 and Stoudt -76. TY Mackey was moved to WR late spg and not in the PSL are Evan Ingram (6'1" 220 So, PS#245) and true Maikhail Miller (PS#44) who was IFS. Keep in mind coaches like their own recruits and HC Hugh Freeze brings in PS#27JC Bo Wallace who was in Freeze's system at Ark St as a frosh. I look for significant improvement in the Ole Miss passing numbers even with learning a new system.

RUNNING BACKS - In '09 Dexter McCluster became the first player in SEC history to top 1,000 rush and 500 receiving in the same season. Brandon Bolden (PS#147) was #3 in '08 (542, 5.5) and #2 in '09 (614, 4.8, 209 rec). Auburn transfer Enrique Davis (PS#4), who had 244 (3.8) in '08, had 110 (3.4) in '09. In '10 they had to replace McCluster (#2DC) and added Jeff Scott (fastest RB here). Bolden led with 976 (6.0), QB Masoli was #2, Scott was #3 with 429 (6.5) and Davis was #4 with 337 (4.1). LY all 3 RB ret'd but Bolden was limited with inj's and dropped to just 472 (4.9). Scott led with 529 (4.6). Davis (also banged up) finished with 173 (3.0). TY UM loses Bolden (4 st) and Davis. Battling Scott will be Sr Devin Thomas (PS#44, 73, 3.7), So Nicholas Parker (PS#43), former WR Tobias Singleton (6'0" 190 So, PS#21) and the newcomers. They also ret FB's HR Greer (5'11" 235 Sr, 2 st) and EJ Epperson (6'2" 250 Sr, 3 st). Bolden departs as the #4 career rusher but UM's 130 ypg rush (3.4) was their lowest s/'05 and could improve with LY's top guy back.

RECEIVERS - In '09 the Rebels had to replace their top WR Mike Wallace (#3DC) who had 784 (20.1). Shay Hodge, who had 725 (16.5) in '08, became the first WR in UM history to top 1,000 in a single ssn (1135, 16.2). Markeith Summers was the #2 WR (PS#37, 394, 23.2). In '10 they had to replace Hodge (#1 car rec). Summers led with 575 (20.5). RFr Ja-Mes Logan had 387 (13.3). LY UM had to replace Summers but Nutt had 5 VHT's to work with including PS#26JC TE Jamal Mosley. The most talked about addition was Nickolas Brassell (PS#13) who also played DB and finished #2 with 336 (14.0). True frosh Donte Moncrief (PS#28) led with 454 (14.6). Logan was the only non VHT in the top 5 and finished #3 (274, 13.7), Mosley was #4 with 166 (13.8) and rFr Vince Sanders (PS#33) was #6 (110, 11.0). TY the unit returns intact, adds in QB Mackey (PS#1) and should be one of the SEC's best.

OFFENSIVE LINE - Houston Nutt's O-line at both Ark and Miss generally put up solid numbers. In '10 they had to replace 3 st'rs (1st Tm SEC G) and had 22 career sts ret (7th lowest FBS). They still opened holes for 208 ypg (5.0, 14 sk, 4.2%). LY the entire 2 deep ret'd and they added Ark transfer Matt Hall (PS#45). The unit surprisingly struggled and had a Nutt-era low of 130 ypg rush (3.4, 34 sk, 10.9%). TY they lose RT Bobby Massie (12 st, 2.5Y st'r, left early #4DC ARZ), LT Bradley Sowell (12 st, 3Y st'r), RG Matt Hall (12 st, left spg) and LG Alex Washington (8 st '10, 1 st '11). True frosh Aaron Morris (PS#48) st'd 5. While this group is far less exp'd (2 ret sts, 5 LY) with 45 car sts ret (77 LY), they could improve after underachieving LY.

DEFENSIVE LINE - LY they had to replace 2nd Tm SEC NT Jerrell Powe (#6DC) and one other st'r. The 2011 D was much smaller and less exp'd but was touted as being more athletic. The unit was also hit hard with inj's with the top 3 DL's having just 9, 8 and 7 sts. As you would expect, with that mixture, the rush numbers plummeted to allowing 225 ypg (5.4) with the sks dropping to 13 (lowest 6 yr). TY they lose DE Kentrell Lockett (7 st, 33 tkl, 2.5 tfl), DE Wayne Dorsey (6 st, 22 tkl, 3 sk, 2 tfl) and NT Justin Smith (9 st, 44 tkl, 3.5 tfl). They lose 22 sts but return 26 and should maintain better health and can only improve upon last year's poor numbers.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 the Rebels ret'd an exp'd LB corps (#3, #6 tkl'rs) but shockingly slipped from allowing 17.7 ppg in '09 to 35.2 ppg. LY they had to replace a 2nd Tm SEC MLB (#1 tkl'r) and their #5 tkl'r. DT Shackelford tore his ACL in the spring (#7 tkl'r, 5 sk). The top ret LB's were only #9 & #12. UM did add in 3 VHT true frosh in Aug. They yielded 32.1 ppg. TY the top 6 LB's (#1, #4, #5, #6, #7 tkl'rs) all return plus 2 of LY's true frosh that comb for 4 sts (72 tkl). The Rebels will use a new S/LB hybrid pos called the Husky. Vincent Moss (1 st, 20 tkl) is gone but UM gets the return of Shackelford making this a much more experienced unit.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - Ole Miss finished #72, #86, #87 and #54 in my PDR ('05-'08). In '09 they only had to replace 1 st'r and I called for them to have their best finish since at least '04 (#30) and they moved up to #13. In '10 they had to replace 3 st'rs (#5DC). The unit suffered inj's (only 1 st'd all 12). PS#28JC Damien Jackson was IFS (8 st, #2 tkl'r) but the Rebels plummeted to #104 (61%, 24-6). LY they had to replace 2.5 st'rs but added in 3 JC's (IFS). The more exp'd unit did lose CB Marcus Temple after 6 sts but still rose to #77 (61.1%, 17-10). TY UM loses CB Temple (6 st, 28 tkl, 2 int) and FS Jackson (8 st, 64 tkl, 1 int). A pair of true frosh st'd the last 4. This unit is more exp'd, should stay healthier and continue to climb in my PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - Houston Nutt inherited a veteran ST unit that finished #74 in '07 and they were #37, #52 & #64 his F/3 yrs. LY they ret'd their K and P but had to replace their top KR (20.9) and PR (14.7). P Tyler Campbell (PS#24) avg 44.0 as a true, 46.4 in '10 (36.5 tm net) and 43.6 LY. He worked to improve his hangtime (38.6 net!) and he had 28 I20 (#2 SEC). K Bryson Rose hit 16-18 FG (L41) as a soph and would connect on his first 7 att's in '11 placing him 1 short of the SEC record for all-time consec FG's (18, Fuad Redeiz '82). He missed 2 vs LT (36 & 52) and finished 9-11 (long 43). Andrew Ritter (PS#21) had 12 TB on 43 KO. Tobias Singleton avg 24.6 on KR and while Jeff Scott only had 8 PR he avg 17.2 and UM was +6.5 on PR but -0.4 on KR. TY with both excellent specialists back, Ole Miss could match LY's fine #20 finish.

COACHES - Mississippi native and Ark St HC Hugh Freeze was hired after being just the 14th FBS HC to earn 10 wins in his first season. Freeze was on the Rebels' staff from '05-'07 as the recruiting coor before taking the HC job at NAIA Lamuth ('08-'09) and then moving to Ark St in '10 as the OC. There are new coor's on both sides. The OC duties will be split by alumni Matt Luke (Duke's OC L4Y) & Dan Werner, who was the QB cch at Mia, Fl ('01-'05), here ('06 -'07) and has spent the L3Y at the HS level due to a family tragedy. The D will be led by Wesley McGriff (DB cch Vandy LY, Mia, Fl '07-'10) as well as 31 yr vet Dave Wommack. Wommack has been a DC at 7 schools incl Ark St (LY), Ga Tech ('08-'09) and Ark ('01-'04).

PHIL'S FORECAST

Heading into '04, Ole Miss was the only team in the SEC West to be bowl eligible for 7 str yrs but ironically, they are still the only SEC West tm without a trip to the SEC Title gm. Ole Miss' last SEC Title was in 1963. From 1954-1971, the Rebels went to 17 bowls (12 NY's Day). Under former HC David Cutcliffe, UM had 5 str winning yrs but he was stunningly fired after a 4-7 year ('04) and UM struggled to a 10-25 comb record (3-21 SEC) the next 3Y. Former HC Ed Orgeron did have some great recruiting classes but in conf play Ole Miss was -92 ypg in '05 (#11), -107 ypg in '06 (#12) and -69 ypg in '07 (#11). Houston Nutt stepped into a tremendous situation in '08. He inherited a team with 10 of their top 12 tkl'rs back and UM was also -10 in TO's in '07. While they were coming off their first winless SEC season (0-8) s/'82, they made my Most Improved List meaning I thought they would get to a bowl. Ole Miss' strength was their OL and DL which both ranked in my Top 10. The Reb's finished 9-4 but could have easily had a stronger record. They lost to VU despite a 385-202 yd edge, gave up a FG to WF with :03 left (2 pt loss) and only lost by 4 to #2 Bama on the road. In fact, all 4 of Ole Miss' losses were by 7 or less. UM was also the only tm to defeat eventual National Champ UF and did it in The Swamp. In '09 they entered the year #8 AP with high expectations but after beating #21 Okla St 21-7 in the Cotton Bowl, Miss finished a disappointing 9-4 and #20. In '10 UM had just 10 ret sts. They were picked last in the West (pressn media) and Nutt talked about '10 being a rebuilding year. The Rebels went just 4-8 and were 1-7 in the SEC (-75 ypg). LY they had 13 ret sts. They led BYU 13-0 in the 4Q but lost by 1. After beating SIll, UM was ambushed by Vandy 30-7 then GA had a 475-183 yd edge in a 14 pt loss. They were a dog to a WAC tm on the road but beat Fresno 38-28. Unfortunately UM got whipped by Bama 52-7. They almost upset Ark as they led 17-0 but lost 29-24. They were tied 17-17 at half with Aub but lost by 18. UK started their 2nd string QB but Ole Miss blew a 13-10 3Q lead to lose 30-13. After it was announced this would be Nutt's final ssn, they suffered an embarrassing home loss where they were again a dog to a WAC tm (LT 27-7). Their 52-3 loss to LSU was the worst margin of defeat for UM s/'74. In Nutt's final gm, they were whipped by Miss St 31-3. Surprisingly Ole Miss was only 2nd worst in the SEC at -174.2 ypg despite being 0-8. LY's squad was -8 in TO's. UM has a Stock Market Indicator of +4.5 and TY has 16 starters back for new HC Hugh Freeze who got the most out of his Ark St squad LY. This is a much stronger tm and could double LY's win total but they did not make my MIT List which has me calling for their 3rd straight losing season.

FLORIDA GATORS

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - It's never easy replacing a legend. Tim Tebow, after being used mostly on QB draws as a true frosh, became the 1st player in NCAA hist w/20 rush and 20 pass td in a season and the first soph to win the Heisman. In '09 Tebow became the first player (#1DC DEN) ever to be invited to the Heisman ceremony 3 times and he left with many school, SEC and NCAA records. John Brantley played in 10 gms in '08 (235, 64%, 3-1) but played in just 7 in '09 (36-48, 75%, 410, 7-0). There was a lot of buzz about how Brantley performed in practice those 2 seasons but in '10 he only threw for 2,061 (61%, 9-10) and at year's end they used a 3-headed QB system. Trey Burton had a fantastic 6 td gm vs UK. Jordan Reed opened at TE but QB'd the 2H of the bowl win. LY Reed and Burton moved to new spots and Brantley was perceived to be a much better fit for OC Charlie Weis' new pro-style off (not a spread QB). Unfortunately, Brantley was banged up all year. He did throw a 65 yd td pass on the first play vs Bama but was inj'd (2Q). Jeff Driskel (PS#1) had been IFS so he was the clear #2 but his first pass was int'd and later he was also hurt. True frosh Jacoby Brissett (PS#12, not IFS) took his first snap in Death Valley starting vs the LSU defense! Brissett also started vs Aub but Driskel came off the bench and they comb to hit just 14-28-120. Brantley ret'd vs GA (12-34-245) taking snaps out of the shotgun and started the rest of the year although vs FSU, Brissett hit 4-13-27. This year they lose Brantley (2044, 60%, 11-7) but I like both Driskel and Brissett and adding depth is dual threat Tyler Murphy and true frosh Skyler Mornhinweg (PS#38). Despite the loss of their starter, I'll call for the Gators to have improved QB play.

RUNNING BACKS - In '08 then HC Urban Meyer used 3 RB's in USC transfer Emmanuel Moody (PS#6), true frosh track champ Jeff Demps (PS#28) and rFr Chris Rainey (PS#15). They comb for 1,674 (7.6). In '09 Demps was the #1 RB rusher (745, 7.5) and the 3 comb for 1,698 (6.9). In '10 Demps (551, 6.0) was never 100%. Rainey (susp, 366, 7.2) only played in 8 gms. QB's Burton and Reed were #3 and #4. Soph Mike Gillislee (PS#46, 267, 8.6 in '09) had 325 (5.6) and Moody 265 (4.0). At one point due to inj's, WR Omarius Hines moved to RB and was the leading rusher vs MSU. LY OC Charlie Weis said that Demps and Rainey were the 2 fastest players he'd ever coached (incl NFL!). Early on the duo accounted for over 50% of the offense. They were used often out of the backfield with Rainey the #2 rec and Demps #7. Rainey led with 861 (5.0) and Demps had 569 (5.8). Gillislee (201 lbs) was #3 (328, 5.9) and soph Trey Burton (PS#26) had 125 (3.4, Wildcat QB). True frosh FB Hunter Joyner (PS#61) added 82 (4.6). TY they lose Demps and Rainey (#5DC PIT) and while the unit will not be as fast, it does have some added size and good talent.

RECEIVERS - In 2010 UF had to replace 4 of their top 5 rec's with the top 2 comb for 1,811 (15.2). The top ret's were #3 Deonte Thompson (343, 14.3) and #6 Omarius Hines (172, 12.3). Thompson struggled with drops but still led with 570 (15.0). Hines was #3 (281, 14.1). LY they only had to replace their #2 (349, 12.9). With QB inj's and substandard WR play, the Gators' top 3 WR's comb for just 1,003 yds (15.4). Soph Andre Debose (PS#2) led with 432 (27.0!), RB Rainey was #2 and TE Jordan Reed was #3 with 307 (11.0). This year the unit only loses Thompson (264, 12.6) and should have much improved output and look for a good amount of 2-TE sets.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '10 the Gators OL had 4 ret sts but with the loss of a mobile QB like Tim Tebow, their rush numbers dropped from 222 ypg (5.6) to 167 ypg (4.3) with 24 sks (6.3%). LY they had to replace a pair of 2Y and 3Y st'rs (#1, #2, #7 DC's) and their numbers dropped again to 143 ypg (4.0, 23 sk). The team did add transfer Dan Wenger who had 19 sts at ND (unit had 45 car st). TY they only have to replace Wenger (11 st) and go from 1 to 4 ret st'rs (79 car st ret) incl PS#1, #3, #5 and #8 while adding in PS#1 and #12 newcomers who were both IFS.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '10 UF had to replace a pair of 1st Tm SEC DE's (both #2DC). Just 1 player st'd all 13. UF all'd 131 ypg (3.5), their worst s/'04, with just 21 sks (fewest s/'02). LY they had to replace a 3rd Tm SEC DE and 4 others (23 st, 79 tkl). UF put up similar numbers (133 ypg, 3.4, 28 sk). TY they lose 3rd Tm SEC DT Jaye Howard (13 st, 65 tkl, 5.5 sk, 4.5 tfl, #4DC SEA) and DE William Green (3 st, 21 tkl, 2 tfl). The projected starting 4 are PS#3, #6, #8 and #17 (LB McCray). They add in 6'3" 310 lb PS#7JC Damien Jacobs plus PS#2 and #10 true frosh. If DE Ronald Powell (PS#1, ACL spg gm) is healthy, this is the second best D-line in the country.

LINEBACKERS - In '07 and '08 UF LB's had 77 sts comb'd. All 77 sts ret'd in '09 and 10 of the top 11 LB's were VHT's. The D allowed 12.4 ppg, their best s/'75. In '10 they lost their #1, #3 (#2DC) and #5 tkl'rs. Their top returnee was #9 and as you would expect, the ppg rose to 21.3. LY they had to replace 1 st'r (#5 tkl'r) and 2 bkps (#9, #19 tkl'rs). They did return PS#2 Jelani Jenkins (#2 tkl'r, fastest LB) and PS#14 Jonathan Bostic (#3 tkl'r). The group was more exp'd and improved to 20.3 ppg. This year the top 6 LB's all return (McCray does move to DL) and this is one of the top LB units in the country.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - Last year the Gators had to replace a 1st Tm SEC SS (#1 tkl'r, #5DC), 1st Tm SEC CB (#7 tkl'r) and FS (#5 tkl'r). The 1 ret st'r, Jeremy Brown RS. The unit ret'd just 9 car sts and dropped to #42 (55%, 15-8) in my PDR after being #5, #7 and #11 the previous 3 yrs. TY it is shades of '08 (went from #72 to #5) as they go from 0 starters ret to 6 that st'd 8+ LY and also incl PS#7 and PS#18 true frosh and potentially the return of Jeremy Brown (10 st '10). This could be the most improved secondary in the country.

SPECIAL TEAMS - Then HC Meyer coached the ST unit himself. In his 6Y they were #26, #55, #20, #13, #9 and #8 in my rankings. LY they had to replace their top P (40.9 net) and K (7-11, L/47) plus top PR (8.3). KR Andre Debose avg 28.0 in '10 and 26.1 in '11. I had projected true frosh Kyle Christy (PS#3) to be the P and he took over in the 2H and avg 40.9 (tm net 37.3). Caleb Sturgis hit 22-30 FG (L/56, 3 miss 50+) in '09 but was inj'd in '10. He hit 22-26 (L/55) and has 5 made FG from 50+ (finalist Groza). He had 10 TB on 58 KO. This was an elite unit (#3) LY. This year they only lose their top PR and are one of the best in the country once again.

COACHES - Former HC Urban Meyer certainly accomplished a great deal in his 6 seasons here incl 2 BCS Titles and a 65-15 record. Will Muschamp was the NCAA's highest paid asst in '10 and beat Meyer's future team in the bowl to finish 7-6 in his inaugural season as HC. Muschamp was the DC and HC-in-waiting at Texas ('08-'10). He also was the DC at Auburn ('06-'07) and LSU ('02-'04) and he spent '05 in the NFL (Miami asst HC D). LY's OC Charlie Weis left to take the HC job at KS and the new OC is Brent Pease who was on the Boise staff as WR cch s/'06 and was OC there LY. DC Dan Quinn is in his 2nd season after 10 yrs as an NFL DL cch (SEA '09-'10, NYJ '07-'08, MIA '05-'06 and SF '01-'04).

PHIL'S FORECAST

Everything went the Gators' way in the magical '06 Nat'l Title ssn with many close and fortuitous wins. They narrowly got to the Title gm in the BCS vote but dominated Ohio St allowing just 82 yds. In '07 UF was the favorite to win the SEC (#6 AP). I was beat up pretty good by Gator fans as I had UF tied for 3rd in the SEC East and #14 which was lower than any other source documented by stassen.com. UF finished just 9-4 and #13. In '08 Georgia was the AP #1 but I called for the Gators to not only top them in the SEC East but to win the Nat'l Title. The Gators were a stronger team than their '06 Title ssn. In '06 they were +43 ypg in SEC play (#4) and in '08 they were #1 (+133 ypg). In '06 their avg win was only 30-14. In '08 it was a dominating 44-13. UF's only loss in '08 was a 1 pt loss to Ole Miss despite a 443-325 yd edge. Unlike '06 which featured weekly escapes, '08 did not have a single win by less than 10. Everyone always asks me which tm is my favorite and I reply, "the team I pick #1" so I was clearly a Gator fan in the BCS Title game when they beat Okla 24-14 (480-363 yd edge). In '09 they had all 11 st'rs back on D and 7 on off incl Tebow. All 9 sets of my power ratings called for Florida to go 12-0. UF rec'd 96.7% 1st place votes in the pressn AP, the highest ever (USC 95.4% in '07). UF went 12-0 and were favored in the SEC Title gm but Bama dominated them. In Tebow's last gm they rolled over 12-0 Cincy, 51-24. In '10 UF had just 11 ret sts but was still the pressn favorite to win the East. UF fell to 4-4 in the East losing the SEC East Title to SC at home in "The Swamp" 36-14 and finished 8-5 (NR). They sent Meyer out a winner with their 13 pt win over Penn St in the bowl. LY UF had just 3 SEC HG's, played SC and UGA away from home, pulled the top 2 (Ala, LSU) out of the West, had a new HC and just 9 ret sts. I pegged the Gators 3rd in the East and while that is where they finished, they actually were just 3-5 in SEC play (-39 ypg) and needed a bowl win over Ohio St to finish 7-6. The ssn started well and I had many Gator fans telling me "I told you so" when they jumped to a 4-0 start (31 ppg avg win). Unfortunately they ran into Ala, LSU, Aub and UGA and did so with banged up QB's as in Death Valley the Gators st'd a 3rd string frosh QB who had never taken a snap. UF lost all 4 (-149 ypg). They led Vandy 17-0 at half and it could have been worse as they fumbled in the EZ for a TB and missed a FG (only won 26-21). At SC they settled for 2 FG's inside the 10 and also lost 2 fumbles and lost by 5. After beating Furman, they had a 184-95 yd edge vs Fla St but lost, 21-7. In the bowl they were outgained 299-263 but ST's gave them a 24-17 win as UF's NCAA leading streak continued of 24 straight winning seasons (VT 19). TY should be a lot brighter as Muschamp is now in his 2nd yr. LY's squad was -12 in TO's, has a Stock Market Indicator of +3.5, they only have 3 SEC true AG's, have 17 ret sts and should have much better health at QB. UF is one of my Surprise Teams (see pg 20) and also my surprise pick to represent the SEC East in the Title game.

First meeting. The Gators have won 22 str Swamp openers by an avg score 48-12. Florida's last loss to a MAC tm was in the '74 Tangerine Bowl going 11-0 since with an avg score of 49-11.

Series is tied 1-1 & the L/gm was the 1976 Sun Bowl. Muschamp is no stranger to A&M as he was the LB/DC at Texas from 2008'-10, winning 2 of 3. Gators have won 7 str road openers (all vs SEC opp's).

UF has won the L/3 trips to Knoxville. LTH leading just 24-17 mid-4Q UF put the gm away with a 60/9pl td drive. The tm that has rushed for more yds has won 9 str and 21 of the L/22.

Gators have the nations longest series winning streak topping the Wildcats for 25 str yrs. LY UF turned 4 UK TO's in 24 pts. UF rushed for 405 yds, 6th best mark in school history and most since 466 vs NM in '89.

Muschamp was the LSU LB cch in '01 and added DC from '02-'04. LY UF was coming off 'Bama and it showed trailing 24-0 late 2Q. The last time UF dropped 3 str to LSU was from 1978-'80.

Gators have not lost in Nashville since '88, winning 10 str trips by 20 ppg. LTH UF jumped out to a 41-10 HT lead with a 247-69 yd edge coasting in the 2H. UF is 10-5 after a loss L5Y.

LY UF trailed 14-3 at HT but trimmed the deficit to 14-12 w/11:23 left. After holding SC to a fg their L/2 drives ended in a punt and sk'd at the F34. UF has dropped a series high 2 str vs SC.

The last time the Gators dropped B2B gms vs the Bulldogs was '88 & '89 (played ever yr S/'44). LY UF led 17-3 late 2Q but had just 32 yds & 1 FD in the 2H (also had 14 penalties & allowed 6 sks).

Florida is 67-17 since 1990 in Nov. The last and only meeting in this series took place in the 1965 Sugar Bowl, UF lost 20-18. From 2004-'09 UF was 18-3 hosting SEC foes but L2Y are just 3-4.

Florida is 4-0 vs Louisiana (by an average 43 ppg). In the last game ('96) Florida beat Louisiana 55-21 in the season opener to start their 12-1 National Title season.

First meeting. Gamecocks finished 7-4 LY (lost 38-14 at UK). In '10 JSU upset Ole Miss 49-48 in 2OT.

Series started in 1958 and they have ply'd every yr since. LTH UF 6 gm series winning streak was snapped & that marked the worst loss S/'88 (52-17). UF last dropped 3 straight from 1998-'00.

GEORGIA BULLDOGS

RG Chris Burnette

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In '08 Matthew Stafford threw for 3,459 (61%, 25-10) and was the #1 overall pick in the NFL draft. Joe Cox (PS#8, 58 car att) took over in '09 as a 5th yr Sr. He threw for 2,584 (24-15) but only comp 56%. UGA's 17 int's were their most s/'84. RFr Aaron Murray won the job in '10 and actually had a higher pass eff rating (154.5) than Stafford did as a Jr and higher than Andrew Luck in his rFr ssn. Murray finished #14 in pass eff (3049, 61%, 24-8) which was the 2nd highest ever for a frosh in the SEC (UK's Jared Lorenzen 3,687 in '00) and showed mobility (358 gross rush). True frosh Hutson Mason (PS#43) played in 4 (9-17-102) becoming the 2nd QB in NCAA history to throw a td on his 1st career pass. Added to the mix LY was VHT Christian LeMay (PS#4) and Parker Welch (6'3" 204 So). Murray had similar numbers (3149, 59.1%, 321 gross, 1st Tm SEC) but set a schl record with 35 td (14 int). Mason who played in 4 (254, 60%, 2-0) will RS TY and Murray should be one of the top QB's in the entire country.

RUNNING BACKS - Heading into '07 UGA surprisingly had just one 1,000 yd back s/'92! In '07 rFr Knowshon Moreno (PS#14, 1334, 5.4) was the first 1st Tm SEC RB here s/'92 (Garrison Hearst). In '08 Moreno became the 2nd back in UGA history (Herschel Walker) to have B2B 1,000 yd efforts (#1 SEC, 1400, 5.6). RFr Caleb King (PS#7) rushed for 247 (4.0). Moreno left early (#1DC) and King missed the first 2 (inj). Richard Samuel (PS#10) led in each of the first 3 and finished with 395 (4.5). King was #2 with 594 (5.2) in 5 sts. They took the RS off Washaun Ealey (PS#3) in the 3Q of gm 5 and he led with 717 (5.7). In '10 Ealey led with 811 (5.2) while King was #2 (430, 5.4). Samuel moved to LB. Ealey decided to transfer LY after the spring as VHT true frosh Isaiah Crowell (PS#4) figured to become the feature back. King was lost over the summer (acad). Crowell had an avg game vs Boise but then vs SC had 118 (7.4). When healthy (oft inj), he was solid and led with 850 (4.6, 2nd Tm FRAA). Carlton Thomas (PS#35) had 361 (4.9). They moved Samuel back from LB and he st'd 3 (240, 2.9). All 3 RB's missed NMSt and walk-on Brandon Harton (5'6" 174 Jr) who won the 300m hurdles in GA twice, led and was #3 (247, 4.7). This year they lose FB Bruce Figgens (8 st, 96 yd) and Thomas. Crowell should stay healthier and they add another VHT in PS#2 Keith Marshall (IFS) and are much deeper and more experienced.

RECEIVERS - LY UGA had to replace one of the top WR's in college football in AJ Green (#1DC) along with their #2 rec Kris Durham (#4DC). The unit was loaded with big, fast VHT's with the leading returnees being WR's Tavarres King (PS#6, 504, 18.7), Marlon Brown (PS#3, 133, 12.1) and TE Orson Charles (PS#2, 422, 16.2). Charles was a Mackey finalist (#3, 574, 12.8). King had 205 in the bowl and finished #1 with 705 (15.0) and true frosh Malcolm Mitchell (PS#18) was #2 (665, 14.8, 3rd Tm FRAA). Brown had just 234 (15.6) in 5 sts. TY they lose 2nd Tm AA TE Charles (14 st, #4DC CIN), TE Aron White (1 st, 101 yds) and Mitchell was at DB in the spg. This group is more exp'd.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '10 UGA had 155 car sts ret so I expected big time improvement. Surprisingly they slipped to 143 (4.1) rush and 25 sks (7.0%). LY they had to replace 3 st'rs (9Y st exp) incl a 1st Tm SEC OL then lost Trinton Sturdivant to an ACL (7 st '10). The unit ret 2 st'rs but 86 car sts. While the ypg improved to 164, the ypc slipped to 3.9 (33 sk, 7.6%). TY they lose 4th Tm AA C Ben Jones (14 st, #4DC HOU), 3rd Tm AA OT Cordy Glenn (14 st, #2DC BUF) and RT Justin Anderson (14 st, #7DC IND) who comb for 125 car sts! While they have 2 ret sts again (3 that st'd 7+) they drop to 31 car sts TY. Still, I felt the L2Y's units underachieved and TY's could match their production.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '10 they had to replace 3 DL's (comb 26 sts) who were #4, #7 and #7 DC's. DC Grantham's system is similar to Bama's and requires a massive NT. They had 1 st'r back and slipped allowing 147 ypg (3.7, 24 sk). LY they had to replace 1 st'r and 2 bkps but landed 351 lb, PS#5JC John Jenkins and moved PS#3 DeAngelo Tyson to DE. I said they would be much stronger up front and UGA finished #11 in the FBS allowing just 101 ypg rush (3.2) and had 35 sks. This year they lose DE Tyson (11 st, 20 tkl, 1.5 sk, #7DC BAL) but have 7 of the top 8 back and Jenkins didn't arrive until the fall LY. They also move in OLB's Cornelius Washington (6 st, 5 sk) and PS#3 Ray Drew. The proj st'rs are all PS#24 or better and this is one of the best D-lines in the country.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 UGA had to replace a 1st Tm SEC LB (#1 tkl'r, #3DC) and 2 bkps (7 st, 32 tkl). They shifted to a 3-4 and 2nd Tm SEC DE Justin Houston moved to LB. Houston (1st Tm AA) was the #3 tkl'r but also had 10 sks, 8.5 tfl and 44 qbh. UGA's LB corps were banged up in both '08 and '09 but healthier in '10 (22.1 ppg). LY they had to replace Houston (#3DC), a 2nd Tm SEC LB (#1 tkl'r, #3DC), their #4 tkl'r (2 st) and #7 (7 st). They did add in USC transfer Jarvis Jones (PS#23). I noted that UGA's D had underperformed recently and while it was less exp'd they could surprise and they allowed 20.6 ppg (best s/'07, 52 ypg less). Jones earned 1st Tm AA (70 tkl, 13.5 sk, 6 tfl, 49 qbh) and turned down the NFL. This year the 2 deep returns intact (#2, #3, #7, #9, #10 tkl'rs) and they add in VHT Josh Harvey-Clemons (PS#1). This is one of, if not the best, LB corps in the nation.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - UGA had a veteran secondary in '08 but after finishing #8 and #17 in my PDR, they surprisingly dropped to #57. In '09 they had to replace 2 st'rs (#3DC) and dropped to #74. In '10 they had to replace 3 st'rs (#5DC). The unit played better than expected (#29, 55%, 15-16). After giving up 380 pass yds to Ark, they benched their SS and CB (Shawn Williams and Sanders Commings took over) and allowed 170 ypg pass the final 10. Last year they basically had all 4 starters back and the Bulldogs improved to #11 (50.7%, 12-20). S Bacarri Rambo earned 1st Tm AA. This year they lose 4th Tm AA CB Brandon Boykin (14 st, 55 tkl, 3 int, 9 pbu, #4DC PHI) but return 4 of their top 5 and add in PS#5 and PS#17 soph's. It'll be tough to move up much in my PDR, especially without their top CB and 3 starters susp for at least the opener but this unit is even stronger.

SPECIAL TEAMS - I was shocked at where UGA finished in my ST rankings in '11. In the L10Y UGA has had 8 Top 24 ST finishes (5 top 7). K Blair Walsh (#6DC MIN) was a 2-time Groza semi and P Drew Butler (Ray Guy '09) both ret'd along with some dangerous RM like Brandon Boykin (24.3 KR) and Brandon Smith (14.3 PR). They finished #7 in my ST rankings in '10 and I called them the best ST unit in the country. It was shocking as Walsh (55-68 car FG's) hit just 21-35 (L56). Butler still avg 44.2 but his net dropped from 40.6 in '10 to 35.8. UGA avg 6.7 on PR before a 92 yd td in the bowl and avg 21.6 on KR. They all'd 4 return td's and Richt said "Our ST's were mostly average to scary." UGA plummeted to #81 and TY lose their K/P combo plus their top RM and could drop even further.

COACHES - Mark Richt is in his 12th ssn here and earned SEC COY honors in '02 and '05. He was the OC at Flor St from '94-'00. Richt turned the play calling over to Mike Bobo prior to the GT game in '06. Bobo was a QB here and the QB cch s/'01 and became the youngest coor (32) in the SEC in '07. DC Todd Grantham has 11 yrs of NFL coaching exp (DAL DL '08-'09, CLE '05-'07). He is currently one of the highest paid FBS asst.

PHIL'S FORECAST

In Richt's 2nd ssn ('02) he led UGA to their first SEC Title in 20 yrs and set a schl record with 13 wins (#3 AP). In '03 they finished 11-3 and #7. In '04 they beat FL for the 1st time s/'97 and finished 10-2 (#7). In '05 they had to replace 6 NFL DC's and my publication was the only one to call for UGA to win the SEC East (most had them 3rd). They thrashed LSU 34-14 in the SEC Title game but after an upset loss to WV in the Sugar Bowl, only finished #10. Only UGA and USC finished in the Top 10 each year from '02-'05. UGA's D finished in the top 20 for 7 str yrs ('01-'07). Richt became just the 5th SEC HC to win 10+ in 4 straight yrs (Bryant, Dooley, Fulmer, Spurrier). In '06 they had just 9 ret sts and finished 9-4 (#23). In '07 the SEC media picked them #3 in the East. I was the only magazine to pick them to win the SEC East and I had them tying for the Title and that they did. After beating Hawaii in the Sugar Bowl 41-10, they finished #2. In '08 they were tagged #1 in the pressn AP poll. In '08 of the 14 sources from football.stassen.com, 10 had UGA either #1 or #2 in the country, but I had UGA 2nd in the East mostly due to a killer schedule. UGA finished 10-3 (#13). In '09 they were #13 in the pressn AP but surprisingly slipped to 8-5 (-21 ypg SEC). In '10 I did not put Richt on my "Coaches On The Hotseat" list as I figured he could survive a losing season and that proved accurate. UGA lost to UCF in the bowl and had their first losing ssn s/'96 at 6-7. That tm did have 4 net close losses. LY UGA only had 12 ret sts but I called them one of the Most Improved Teams and they were my upset pick to win the SEC East as they did not have to face LSU, Ala or Ark out of the West. Things didn't look good early as they lost to Boise then had an amazing loss to S Car (basically allowed 4 D/ST td's). UGA then won their next 10. In their closest wins they led Vandy 23-7 but settled for 6 FG's and only won by 5. Vs Fla they had a 354-226 yd edge but due to poor ST play, only won by 4. They had clinched a berth in the SEC Title game when they beat GT 31-17. They held #1 ranked LSU to zero FD's in the 1H and had a 135-12 yd edge. Unfortunately they gave up a PR for a td and later an IR td and actually lost by 32 despite a 296-237 yd edge. It was another hard luck loss in the bowl to Mich St in 3OT. TY they again avoid LSU, Ala and Ark and have 16 ret sts and were +155 ypg in the SEC, 3rd best. If you incl the results of the SEC Title gm, they were #2. LY they did have just 3 true SEC AG's and TY have just 3 SEC HG's. UGA a legitimate Nat'l Title contender.

SOUTH CAROLINA GAMECOCKS

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - The '08 debut of rFr Stephen Garcia (PS#10) was highly anticipated but he was susp in the spring and not reinstated until the fall, putting him #3. SC used 3 diff QB's and they threw for 222 ypg but had the lowest comp % of the Steve Spurrier era (55%) with a 20-27 ratio. Garcia tied the school's single season rec for att's (432) in '09 but had just the 8th most yds (2862, 55%, 17-10). He was the first SC QB to start every game in a season for Spurrier. In '10 Garcia's finest moment came in the upset of #1 Alabama (17-20, 85%). At one point he was #5 in the FBS in pass eff but finished #22 (3059, 64%, 20-14) and had another rough bowl (0-3 ratio). Connor Shaw threw for 223 (70%, 1-2). Garcia was susp 2 more times in the spring and summer of '11 but was once again reinstated. He played in 5 (844, 52%, 4-9) and then was susp a final time and booted. He finished as the #3 career passer here. Shaw hit just 4-11 for 29 yds in 2 gms but st'd vs Kentucky and hit 26-39-311 yds. Shaw finished as the #2 rusher with 525 (3.9) while throwing for 1,448 (65%, 14-6). Battling Shaw will be rFr Tanner McEvoy (PS#23), Dylan Thompson (PS#72, 2 att LY) and Andrew Clifford (6'2" 212 Jr, 2 att LY). This year Shaw knows it is his team and I look for him to be vastly improved.

RUNNING BACKS - In '10 the top 3 RB's all ret'd but I proj'd true frosh Marcus Lattimore (PS#1) as the starter and listed him on my Preseason All-SEC Tm. Lattimore became the first 1,000 yd rusher here s/'00 with 1,197 (4.8) despite missing most of 3 gms (incl bowl) with inj's. Kenny Miles had 626 (5.4) in '09 but 152 (3.8) in '10. LY Lattimore was on his way to a great season (818, 5.0) but made 7 st and was OFY vs Miss St. True frosh Brandon Wilds (PS#53) took over and rushed for 486 (4.5) while Miles added 204 (3.8). QB's were the #2 and #5 rushers and WR Bruce Ellington (Wildcat) had 106 (6.2). True frosh Shon Carson (PS#23) may have competed for starting time but he was lost to an ACL in Wk 2 and RS. Adding depth are Eric Baker (6'0" 208 Jr, PS#56) who has 53 car att but has battled inj the L2Y and former LB turned FB Qua Gilchrist (6'1" 245 Sr, PS#38). Wilds had three 100 yd gms in his 4 sts and with the return of Lattimore, this unit is deeper, should stay healthier and is one of the nation's premiere RB units.

RECEIVERS - In '06 Sidney Rice had 1,090 (15.1) and left early for the NFL (#2DC). The late Kenny McKinley then led the team for 2 straight years and became the career leader and a #3DC. In '09 Spurrier landed 6'4" true frosh Alshon Jeffery (PS#10) who led with 763 (16.6). In '10 Jeffery had an AA ssn (schl rec 1517, 17.2). LY they spent the preseason searching for a #2 WR and while none emerged, Ace Sanders was #2 with 383 (13.2). Due to the QB troubles, Jeffery's numbers dropped dramatically to 762 (15.6). This year they lose Jeffery (#2DC CHI) and Jason Barnes (4 st, 4 rec) but add in VHT Shaq Roland (PS#6). While the production could actually increase, this unit is less talented.

OFFENSIVE LINE - SC has had only 2 OL earn 1st Tm SEC (last in '98) prior to last year when OT Rokevious Watkins accomplished the feat. In each of Spurrier's first 5 yrs ('05-'09), this was an injury plagued group and only once did they top 3.6 ypc rush and just once all'd less than 30 sks ('06). In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs (72 car sts ret). With Lattimore behind them they improved to 154 ypg (4.1) with 30 sks (7.7%). LY they had to replace 3 st'rs (70 car sts ret). With LT Kyle Nunn as a st'r they had just 4 sks in the first 4 and all'd 22 in the 8 w/o him. Even with Lattimore going out, they improved to 192 (4.5) but still all'd 30 sk (9.5%). TY they lose Watkins (13 st, 2Y st'r, 1st Tm SEC, #5DC STL), LT Nunn (5 st, 21 car st) and RG Terrence Campbell (12 st). They return 3rd Tm SEC C TJ Johnson (3 yr st'r) and 3 others with 4+ sts and are close exp-wise (61 car sts) and should be stronger provided they don't lose their LT after 4 sts like they did LY.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In each of Steve Spurrier's first 5 yrs, the DL was banged up. In '10 SC allowed 112 ypg rush (3.4), their best ypc s/'00 and the D had 41 sk (DL 31), the most in 20+ yrs. LY they had to replace 2 st'rs (#7DC) but had 6 of the top 8 back. At midyear Spurrier said that their OL couldn't blk the DL in practice as PS#1 DE Jadeveon Clowney was a bkp behind 2 super DE's. It was very surprising that SC regressed to allowing 136 ypg (3.6) but did have 2 gms vs option tms (Navy, The Citadel) where they were big favorites (not "A" gm). Taking those 2 efforts away, they allowed 114 ypg (3.2) and the D had 31 sks. TY they lose DT Travian Robertson (13 st, 49 tkl, 8 tfl, #7DC ATL) and DE Melvin Ingram (12 st, 2nd Tm AA, 48 tkl, 10 sk, 5 tfl, #1DC SD). They return 2 st'rs and Clowney and should be one of the best D-line in the SEC.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 SC had to replace 1st Tm SEC Eric Norwood (career sk and tfl leader, #4DC). Shaq Wilson (11 st, #1 tkl'r '09) played in just 1 (7 tkl vs Aub) so they basically had 1 st'r back (ret #10, #11 tkl'rs '09). The unit slipped to allowing 23.1 ppg. LY they had to replace 2 st'rs (#5, #13 tkl'rs) but got Wilson back so it was like having 2 ret sts. SC improved to allowing 18.4 ppg (best s/'00). TY they lose 2nd Tm SEC SPUR Antonio Allen (12 st, #1 tkl'r, 9.5 tfl, 3 int, #7DC NYJ) and Rodney Paulk (6 st, #3 tkl'r, 3.5 tfl). They move in S DeVonte Holloman (10 st, #5) and return 3 (#4, #7, #10 tkl'rs) who started 4+ LY. This unit is equal to '11 in terms of exp and talent.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - SC finished #35 in my PDR in '07 and #30 with a veteran unit in '08. They had to replace 2 st'rs in '09 but Spurrier called CB Stephon Gilmore one of the best ever to come to SC. Gilmore started all 13 as a true and SC improved to #27. In '10 they had 7 of their top 8 back (1 st'r lost). CB Chris Culliver was OFY after 7 sts. Gilmore said that soph DJ Swearinger (PS#85) was the most gifted tkl'r on the tm and he started 8. The secondary surprisingly allowed 242 ypg, their highest in the modern era (#92 PDR, 62.8%, 23-10). LY they had to replace Culliver (#3DC). Akeem Auguste (10 st '10) was OFY after 1 gm so they had 2 st'rs back. SC just as surprisingly improved to #4 in my PDR (50.3%,14-19). TY they lose Gilmore (13 st, 46 tkl, 4 int, 7 pbu, #1DC BUF), CB Marty Markett (6 st, 26 tkl), CB CC Whitlock (7 st, 16 tkl, 3 int) and Holloman (moves to LB). They have 2 back who have been full time st'rs but won't match LY's #4 PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - Steve Spurrier inherited a unit that finished #108 in my ST rankings. They improved to #83, #50, #66 and #35. They had some problems in '09 (all'd 3 td) and slid to #103. In '10 with a poor return game (#90 FBS KR, #115 PR) SC only moved up to #72. LY they had to replace their K/P but got in NCar transfer Jay Wooten (PS#10). Wooten hit 7-11 FG (L49) but had just 6 TB on 71 KO. P Joey Scribner-Howard avg 38.9 (net 35.0). The return units were avg but Ace Sanders got a 68 yd PR TD vs EC which was the first PR TD in Spurrier's 7 yrs here. Even with the loss of their K and P there is probably only one way to go in my ST rankings after a #94 finish LY.

COACHES - Steve Spurrier took Florida to 7 SEC Title games (and won 5 of them). He took over here in '05 and in '10 led SC to their first ever SEC Title game and followed that with a school record 11 wins in '11. Spurrier continues to be his own OC. Four year DC Ellis Johnson took the Southern Miss HC job and will be replaced by Lorenzo Ward. Ward was the DB coach at VT ('99-'05), Ark ('07) and here since '08.

PHIL'S FORECAST

South Carolina's last conf title came in the ACC in 1969. SC got to NY Day bowls vs Ohio St in both '00 and '01 but in former HC Lou Holtz's final 3 yrs ('02-'04), did not catch a lot of breaks and went 16-19. Expectations were high when Steve Spurrier took over and I feel he's done a fine job with zero losing seasons in 7 yrs (6 bowls). SC had never been picked higher than #3 in the SEC East media poll and in '10 was picked #3. Spurrier's high water mark in his first 5 yrs was a #6 ranking in '07 when the team began 6-1 but they finished just 6-6 (NR). In '09 they rose as high as 6-2 (#21) but finished 7-6 (NR). In '10 they had 14 ret sts, only 11 lett lost and signed an excellent frosh class. They had twice as many Sr's (16) as '09. SC beat Florida in "The Swamp" 36-14 and took home the SEC East Title at just 5-3. They were destroyed by eventual Nat'l Champ Auburn 56-17 in the Title game prior to Spurrier suffering his 3rd straight bowl loss. I mentioned that SC in '10 had 34 sts lost to injury and 2 net close losses, signs pointing up and they were the SEC media's pick to win the East (I picked UGA). They trailed EC 17-0 and 24-14 at half but rallied for a 56-37 win in a TO heavy game. SC was outFD'd 23-15 and had basically FOUR Def/ST td's vs Georgia yet only won by 3, and Spurrier said "they outplayed us." They struggled vs the Navy option but Lattimore rushed for 246 and they won 24-21. QB Garcia had 4 int's keeping Vandy in the game as SCar had a 17-5 FD edge in their 21-3 win with the 5 FD's and 77 yds allowed the fewest since '87. Garcia hit just 9-23 with 2 int in their loss vs Aub at home (outgained 358-289). They switched QB's and in Shaw's first start they had a 639-96 yd edge and beat UK 54-3. Lattimore was OFY vs Miss St but SC got a td with 3:50 left to pull out a 14-12 win. Tenn gave 3rd string QB Justin Worley his first st and SC prevailed 14-3 on the road. SC was 7-1 and ranked #10 but hadn't scored first in any of the 8 gms. They were whipped at Ark by 16 on their 3rd straight road trip. SC got past a Florida tm starting their 3rd string QB, 17-12, beat The Citadel 41-20 and then destroyed Clemson 34-13 (CU had ACC Title gm on deck). They got a Hail Mary td pass before the half and went on to beat Neb 30-13 in the Capital One Bowl. SC has now beaten UF, UGA and Tenn each 2 yrs in a row and their only other 10 win season in 118 yrs of football came in 1984. 2011 was a ssn of firsts for the Gamecocks. They recorded 11 wins, a Top 10 finish in both the AP and coaches polls, a top finish in the BCS poll and an undefeated record against the SEC East. TY SC does have 11 ret sts and was +82.3 ypg in the SEC (#4). They do have a -3.0 in my Stock Market Indicator (pg 27) and draw both LSU and Ark out of the West. This is a quality SC tm with QB Shaw and RB Lattimore and one of the best def front 7's in the country but they won't match LY's 11 win total.

TENNESSEE VOLUNTEERS

FS Brian Randolph

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In '10 the QB's ret'd zero career pass att's at UT and Matt Simms (PS#20, 10 att L'ville '08) beat out true frosh Tyler Bray (PS#17). Simms started the first 8 vs the brutal part of the schedule and threw for 1,460 (58%, 8-5). Bray got his first start vs Mem and threw for 325 then 323 vs Ole Miss, 354 vs UK and had 312 in the bowl and could easily have been 5-0 as the st'r (lost bowl in 2OT). He threw for 1,849 (56%, 18-10). Bray is 6'6" with a rocket arm and was the clear-cut starter in '11. He threw for a career high 405 vs Cincy and his 698 in the first 2 gms were a schl record. He inj'd his hand vs Georgia (gm 5) and did not return until the final 2 gms where he hit just 31-71-404. Bray threw for 1,983 (59.5%, 17-6). Simms st'd 2 (14-37-186) which happened to be vs the top two D's in the country (Bama and LSU) and threw for 319 (43.5%, 0-3). After Simms once again was beat up vs brutal competition, Justin Worley got 3 starts and threw for 604 (55.2%, 1-3). This year Simms departs but Bray should have better health and I look for much improved numbers.

RUNNING BACKS - In '09 the Vols had to replace their top 2 rushers who had comb for just 958 (4.7). In '10 they had to replace their top 2 again but this time they had comb for 1,805 (4.7) with 16 td's. Tauren Poole (PS#51) became the workhorse and had six 100 yd gms earning 3rd Tm SEC despite running behind an inexp'd O-line. He led with 1,034 (5.1) while Rajion Neal (PS#45) was #2 with 197 (4.3). Both ret'd LY but Poole's numbers dropped to 693 (3.7) and Neal finished #3 with 134 (5.0). VHT True frosh Marlin Lane (PS#14) was #2 with 280 (3.7) and rFr Jaron Toney added 74 (2.4). TY they lose Poole and adding depth is Tom Smith (5'11" 207 So, PS#48). After LY's low production, they can only improve their stats.

RECEIVERS - UT had the reputation of being "WR U" as they've produced plenty of NFL WR's. In '09 they had an inexp'd group and once again LY had to replace their top 3 rec's (1994, 14.1, #4 & #5 DC's). The leading returnees were Justin Hunter (415, 25.9), Zach Rogers (207, 14.8) and Da'Rick Rogers (167, 15.2). Hunter had 314 yds (18.5) in 2 gms but was OFY (ACL) on the first series of the 3rd gm. Da'Rick had six 100 yd gms, one short of the UT record en route to 1st Tm SEC honors and finished #1 with 1,040 (15.5) which was the 5th best in UT history. TE Mychal Rivera was a distant #2 with 344 (11.9) and VHT true frosh DeAnthony Arnett (PS#9) had 242 (10.1). TY they only lose Arnett (trans to Mich St) and I think the Hunter, Rogers, Rivera combo make up one of the better units in the country.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '10 the Vols had to replace all 5 st'rs, had the 3rd fewest career sts returning (3) in the FBS and were learning their 3rd diff blocking scheme in 3 yrs. They then lost C Cody Pope after 2 gms (stinger/conc). As you would expect, the numbers dropped to 109 ypg rush (3.5, 41 sk, 9.8%). LY they only had to replace 1 st'r, had 50 car sts back and added in VHT ND transfer Alex Bullard (PS#28). I thought they would have one of the most improved OL's in the country. C James Stone had snap problems and lost his job after 6 gms and Bullard (1st 6 st LG), st'd the last 6 at C. The starters were still young with 3 soph and a frosh. TY everyone is back and they now have 105 car sts (T#3 in FBS) incl 4 projected VHT starters. LY's rushing numbers were poor (90, 2.8, lowest s/'64) but they allowed just 18 sks (4.5%) and the Vols should have their best rush numbers s/'04 (186 ypg, 4.7).

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '10 UT had to replace a #1DC DT and one other st'r. They then lost DE Ben Martin (11 st '09, PS#1, RS, Achilles) and proj'd starting DT Marlon Walls (RS, Achilles) over the summer so they had just 1 st'r back. UT did add USC transfer Malik Jackson (PS#54), who started 12 and also got solid performances from a pair of true frosh in Jacques Smith (PS#16, nonstop motor) and Corey Miller (PS#12). DL cch Chuck Smith said that with those 2, they were going to bludgeon the SEC. The inexp'd unit was decent allowing 153 ypg (4.2) with 26 sks. LY they lost 3 st'rs got Martin back so it was like having 2 back. UT slipped to 163 ypg (4.4) with just 16 sks. TY they lose 1st Tm SEC DT Jackson (12 st, 56 tkl, 2.5 sk, 8.5 tfl, #5 DC DEN) and DE Martin (8 st, 18 tkl). They are switching to a 3-4 D and have 4 of the top 6 back with 3 who st'd 4+ last year. They also add in former Bama player turned JUCO Darrington Sentimore (PS#34JC). UT has their most experienced D-line in years and they'll allow under 4.0 ypc for the first time in 3 seasons.

LINEBACKERS - Last year the Vols lost a 3rd Tm SEC LB (#1 tkl'r), their #4 tkl'r and a bkp (14 tkl). Their only ret st'r, Herman Lathers, RS (ankle). LB coach Lance Thompson was recently at Bama and coached Rolando McClain and Dont'a Hightower but said in his 25 years coaching that Curt Maggitt was an elite frosh and had the skill set of a pretty incredible LB. No true frosh had st'd the opener for UT s/'72 but Maggitt and AJ Johnson (PS#26) both accomplished that feat. This year they lose 3rd Tm SEC MLB Austin Johnson (12 st, #1 tkl'r, 5 tfl) and Daryl Vereen (2 st, 18 tkl, 1 sk). Not only are Maggitt and Johnson another year bigger, stronger, faster and more experienced, but they get Lathers back (12 st, #2 tkl'r '10) and the unit goes from 1 car start to 55.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - In '10 Tenn had to replace SS Eric Berry (Thorpe Award, #1DC KC), a starting CB plus my proj starting SS (dismissed over summer). Surprisingly, the Vols moved up to #19 (57%, 14-18). LY they appeared to have 7 of the top 8 back but 2nd Tm SEC FS Janzen Jackson was dismissed in Aug, CB Eric Gordon (6 st '10) had just 1 st and SS Brent Brewer was lost after 8 sts. UT had basically 2 st'rs back and slipped to #53 (58%, 14-9). TY they lose CB Art Evans (1 st, 10 tkl) and have 8 back who st'd LY, incl 5 w/8+ sts. This should be a much improved group that has 6 VHT's w/st exp.

SPECIAL TEAMS - Phillip Fulmer's ST units were almost always in my Top 50 including #19 in '07. In '08 and '09 they were just #86 & #96. In Derek Dooley's first year they moved up to #75. LY UT had to replace their P (36.4 tm net) and K (10-11, L/49). Punting was a problem all year (tm net 34.4). Interestingly vs MTSt, K Michael Palardy was hurt and bkp Chip Rhome was inj'd pregame. Dooley summoned Derrick Brodus from his frat house with a police escort and Brodus hit 1 FG (21 yds) and 3 xp's. Palardy finished 9-14 (L/52) and had 6 TB on 43 KO. They were -2.1 on PR's but thanks to Devrin Young's 23.3 on KR's, were +4.6. UT finished #87. This year they only lose their LS and I'll call for them to have their best finish s/'07.

COACHES - Phillip Fulmer was let go after a career record of 152-52 and Lane Kiffin departed after a one season stint in '09 making Derek Dooley the Vol's 3rd HC in 3 seasons. Dooley, son of legendary UGA HC Vince, was 17-20 in 3 yrs at LT and had to deal with many infractions here from the previous staff which has led to Tennessee's first B2B losing seasons s/1911! Jim Chaney (Purdue OC, '97-'05) was hired by Kiffin as the OC and is in his 4th season. DC Justin Wilcox went to Wash and the new DC is Sal Sunseri who was the LB coach the L3Y at Alabama and the NFL Panthers DL cch previously ('02-'08).

PHIL'S FORECAST

Phillip Fulmer was the HC here for 17 yrs and took home a Nat'l Title in '98 (13-0). Unfortunately in his final 10 yrs he had just 2 Top 10 finishes and 2 losing seasons. I had a very good pulse on Tenn throughout this past decade, often calling for them to finish either much higher or much lower than most folks' expectations and most times I have been right on the money. In '05 Tenn was the SEC media's choice to win the SEC Title (#3 AP). I had them #3 in the SEC East and they finished just 5-6. The Vols were on my Most Improved List in '06 and got as high as #7 going 9-4 despite playing five Top 13 tms. In '07 the Vols were fortunate to finish 10-4 and #12 AP (-33 ypg in SEC, 3rd worst). Most Vol fans saw them as a darkhorse Nat'l Title contender and playing in a Jan bowl at worst in '08. I did not make a lot of friends in Knoxville again when I picked them 4th in the East. UT finished just 5-7 and Fulmer was let go. In '09 expectations were light but I had them on my Most Improved List. New HC Lane Kiffin inherited 12 ret sts and UT went 7-6 getting to the Chick-fil-A Bowl. Kiffin used Tenn as a pit stop and headed off to USC. The Vols landed Derek Dooley who I felt did a good job at LTech despite a 3 yr record of 17-20. Dooley had just 8 st'rs back (fewest SEC) and I called for them to open 2-6 but to win their last 4 and get to a bowl. Due to having 3 HC's in 3 yrs, UT was short on schlp players and lacked depth and their ssn went exactly as I projected starting 2-6 then winning their last 4 to get to a bowl. Twice during the yr, officials announced the gm was over and UT had won, but reversed those decisions and the opp won, including the bowl. LY I felt Tenn was a much stronger team than the '10 version but they faced the toughest schedule of any SEC tm as they drew Bama, LSU and Ark out of the West. Things started well when they blew out Montana (42-16) and Cincy (45-23) but they lost their top WR Hunter on the first series vs Fla. UT trailed 30-7 and lost 33-23. After an expected win vs Buff, they were tied with UGA 6-6 at the half. QB Bray was inj'd and they lost 20-12. LSU was ranked #1 and UT st'd bkp QB Simms and lost 38-7. They were pounded by Bama 37-6. UT hosted SCar and gave 3rd string QB Worley his first start and lost 14-3 to drop to 0-5 in the SEC. They shutout MTSt (led 24-0 half) but then were pounded by Ark 49-7. Just like '10, UT needed to win their last 2 to get to a bowl and they beat VU 27-21 in OT but this time lost to Kentucky for the first time s/'84 (26 gm series win streak snapped) despite a 276-217 yd edge. That loss had them miss out on a bowl for the first time s/'08. TY Tenn has 19 st'rs back and can only maintain better health at QB. They were -155 ypg in the SEC (3rd worst) and draw Bama out of the West but avoid LSU and Ark. UT is one of the MIT in the country and make my Most Improved List.

Tied 1-1 and the winner has pulled the shutout in each but their L/gm was in 1939 (ironically UT's L/Fri gm). UT has started a ssn just twice away from Knoxville the L9Y dropping both gms vs non-conf BCS tms.

First meeting. Panthers are entering just their 3rd ssn as a FB program (9-13) and have been outscored 119-7 vs FBS tms (0-2). GSU HC Bill Curry was a SEC HC from 1987-'96 with Alabama and UK.

UT has dropped 7 str vs UF with the last 5 all decided by DD's. LY UT trailed 16-0 and never got closer than 9 pts the rest of the gm. LY UT had -9 rush yds and in '06's gm UT was held to -11 rush yds.

The last and only meeting in this series took place in 1989, UT won 52-9 in Knoxville. Entering 2012, the Volunteers are 48-5 hosting non-conference opp's (4-0 LY w/a avg score 38-12).

UT HC Dooley was a grad asst at UGA in 1996. LTH UT trailed 17-0 into the 2Q and could never recover. The visitor is 1-4 in this series. UT is actually 6-4 their L/10 trips to Athens (lost B2B).

Bonus: 2010 and 2011 marked the first time in B2B yrs that UT had non-winning seasons since 1977 (4-7) & 1978 (5-5-1). They went 7-5 in 1979.

UT has won 9 of 10 overall & 4 of 5 in Starkville. LTH ('07) UT only led 24-21 but held MSU to just 148 2H yds in the 12 pt win. The SEC split into divisions in '92 and UT is 36-23-1 vs the West (4-12 L5Y).

Entering '12 UT has lost 11 str vs ranked opp's with the avg loss by 22 ppg. LY's gm was tied 6-6 at HT but in the 2H UT was shutout gaining just 41 yds (2.2 ypp) with ZERO FD's (deepest drive to T39).

UT is 22-6-2 all-time vs SC but are on a series high 2 gm losing streak. LTH the gm was tied 24-24 early 4Q before UT allowed a 70 yd td pass capping a 92/8pl drive w/12:17 left.

First meeting. Tennessee is 7-1 all-time vs current SBC opp's (only loss vs North Texas in 1975). The Volunteers are 11-3 their last 14 games in the month of November.

First meeting. Missouri is the newest member of the SEC East Division after playing in the Big 12 for the last 11 years. Into '12 UT is 9-4 hosting SEC East tms but was just 1-2 LY.

UT has won 14 str trips to Nashville (last loss in '82). LTH UT dodged 2 missed VU fg's & an int at the T1.

The UK loss LY not only snapped the nation's longest series winning streak at 26 but eliminated UT from bowl eligibility. LY down 10-0 UT cut it to 3 but their L/3 drives ended in 2 punts & int'd at the K46 w/1:27 left.

MISSOURI TIGERS

LB Andrew Wilson

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - From '02-'10 MU had just 3 starting QB's, which was the fewest in the B12. Brad Smith arrived in HC Gary Pinkel's first recruiting class. He left (#4DC) as the career leader for yds pass (8,799), rush (4,289) and total off (13,088). In '05 true frosh Chase Daniel (PS#7) was Smith's bkp. Four yrs later he smashed Smith's career pass rec (12,515) and in '08 threw for 4,335 (73%, 39-18, 281 rush). Blaine Gabbert (PS#10) played in 5 as a true frosh and in '09 threw for 3,593 (59%, 24-9). In '10 he threw for 3,186 (63%, 16-9) and was a #1DC. James Franklin got into 10 gms with 11-14, 106, 1-1 as the Wildcat QB (116, 5.0). He is strong armed and elusive. David Yost is the only college QB's coach whose last 3 st'rs are all in the NFL. LY in my summer radio circuit I pointed out that Gabbert had just 16 td's in '10 and proj'd Franklin would top that and he threw for 21 with a better pass eff (139.9). Pinkel said Smith ran the ball about 25 times a gm and he wasn't about to do that with Franklin but he still avg 17 per gm (981, 4.5, 15 td). Franklin is not afraid to take a hit as his HS nickname was "Frank the Tank." Franklin (2865, 63.3%, 21-11) had streaks of 108 and 123 att's w/o an int. He had shld'r surg in the spg but should be back by July and this unit is much more exp'd.

RUNNING BACKS - In '10 the top returnees were De'Vion Moore (5'9", 258, 4.1,'09) and Kendial Lawrence (5'9", 195, 4.2). They added 3 true frosh in Greg White (6'1" 215, PS#87), Marcus Murphy (5'9" 185, PS#108) and Henry Josey. Josey (spd) finished #2 (437, 5.8). Moore led with 517 (5.2) while Lawrence was #3 (422, 5.8). Murphy was #5 (181, 8.2) while White RS. LY they RS Murphy and Lawrence (broken leg) missed a month and Moore (inj) missed 4. Josey was the only schlp RB that had taken a snap in college and he rushed for 263 (18.8!) vs WIU. Josey (1,168) had the 3rd best season by a RB in schl history (Joe Moore 1312 in '69 and Devin West 1578 in '98) and his 8.1 ypc broke the schl rec set 70 yrs ago (Bob Steuber, 7.4) but was OFY (ACL) vs Texas. Lawrence (566, 4.8) rushed for 374 in the final 3. TY they lose Moore (1 st, 210, 5.4). Josey became the first MU 1st Tm Big 12 RB s/'98 (West) but is ? for '12 (2nd surg in spg) and may RS. If Josey is back they're very deep and talented but are now taking on SEC D's.

RECEIVERS - MU has had some outstanding ply'rs from this unit. In '09 they had to replace WR Jeremy Maclin (#1DC) and TE Chase Coffman (#3DC). Danario Alexander stepped in and was #1 NCAA (1781, 15.8). In '10 they had to replace Alexander with the top returnees being Jerrell Jackson (458, 12.4) and Wes Kemp (418, 18.2). Ex-HS QB TJ Moe (PS#49) stepped into the "H" rec spot held by Maclin and Alexander and led with 1,045 (11.4). TE Michael Egnew had 90 rec (#2 yds 762, 8.5). He was MU's 3rd Mackey finalist in 5 yrs. Jackson was #3 (656, 13.1) and Kemp had 420 (10.8). They did however miss the breakaway threat (13.5 tm ypc '09, 10.6 '10). In '10 Pinkel said Fr WR's Bud Sasser, Jimmie Hunt and Marcus Lucas were 3 of the team's best athletes. LY the unit ret'd intact. Moe led with 649 (12.0, HM B12) while Lucas was #3 (414, 18.0!). MU improved to 12.4 ypc. TY they lose Kemp (13 st, 369, 12.7), Jackson (10 st, inj, 222, 13.1), Egnew (13 st, 1st Tm B12, #3DC MIA) and Brandon Gerau (7 rec). While not as exp'd as LY, they add the nation's top recruit in Dorial Green-Beckham (PS#1) and have 3 of the top 5 back.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '10 Missouri had to replace a 2nd Tm B12 RG but had 4 st'rs back (80 car sts) and improved to 156 ypg (4.6, 22 sk). LY they had to replace MU's 4th consec 1st Tm B12 C then lost Elvis Fisher (40 car sts) in Aug (inj) but did have 3 starters back (65 car sts). C Travis Ruth missed 5 sts. This year they must replace 3rd Tm B12 RT Dan Hoch (13 st, 3Y st'r), HM B12 Jayson Palmgren (13 st, 2Y st'r) and 2x HM B12 RG Austin Wuebbels (12 st, 3Y st'r). They do have 68 career sts but take on SEC D-lines now and I look for a drop from last year's numbers (244 ypg rush, 5.4, 18 sk, 4.7%).

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '08 MU ret'd 3 st'rs and all'd just 3.4 ypc (Pinkel era best). In '09 they lost 3 st'rs (#1 and #6 DC) but yielded just 119 rush ypg with a new best 3.3 ypc (30 sk). They were at just 2.9 ypc and 96 ypg prior to the bowl vs Navy (all'd 385, 5.7). In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs. Pinkel called it his best DE group. Their top DL, Aldon Smith, missed 3 (leg). DT Dominique Hamilton was lost after 7 st and MU all'd 3.6 ypc with him and 4.6 ypc w/o him. MU declined to their weakest numbers s/'03 (153 ypg rush, 4.1) but their 38 sks were the most in 15+ yrs. LY they had to replace 1st Tm B12 DE Smith (#1DC). Hamilton became the 6th Tiger to earn 1st Tm B12. The more veteran group (3 Sr st'rs) trimmed it to 127 ypg rush (3.6, 27 sk). TY they lose Hamilton (13 st, 56 tkl, 3 sk, 4 tfl), DT Terrell Resonno (11 st, 19 tkl, 2 sk, 1.5 tfl) and 2nd Tm B12 DE Jacquies Smith (11 st, 39 tkl, 5 sk, 4 tfl). Despite being less exp'd, they do have big expectations for JUCO Sheldon Richardson (PS#1TE in '09) who was HM B12 with 37 tkls and 8 tfl LY and Shane Ray (PS#67) who was the Scout Tm POY and is a great speed rusher.

LINEBACKERS - MU has not had a 1st Tm AA LB in 121 yrs of FB but nearly got one in '08 (MLB Sean Weatherspoon my 2nd Tm AA). In '10 they had to replace Weatherspoon (#1 tkl'r, #1DC). They ret'd their #2 and #3 tkl'rs plus got back Luke Lambert (9 st '08). MU, despite losing their star and having inj's decimate the unit to a degree which Pinkel had never seen, all'd just 16.1 ppg (fewest s/'81, 13.3). LY they had to replace 1 st'r (#2 tkl'r, #7DC - just 3rd LB drafted s/'68) but ret'd their #1 and #10 tkl'rs incl their fastest Zaviar Gooden (4.37, 405 bench, 40" VL). Will Ebner (#7, 8 st '10) RS but Lambert st'd 11 so they had 2 ret sts. MU slipped to all'g 23.5 ppg. TY they lose 3rd Tm B12 Lambert (#2 tkl'r, 11.5 tfl) and Tony Randolph (7 tkl) but return Ebner as well as their #1 and #3 tkl'rs making this a more exp'd unit.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - Missouri was #37 in my PDR in '07 but with 3 starters back in '08 they slipped to #90 and #100 in '09 as they lost 3 st'rs. In '10 they had all 4 st'rs back and I said they should be one of the FBS's most improved pass D's. Missouri finished #10 (13-18, 57%), a rise of 90 spots. They even managed to RS PS#62JC Kenronte Walker. Last year they had to replace 3 st'rs. CB coach Cornell Ford said lb for lb this group of DB's was the best athletically they've had under him and EJ Gaines was called the best ever Pinkel CB recruit. Gaines set a MU record with 16 pbu (2nd Tm B12). The less exp'd unit dropped to #32 (62.8%, 20-13). TY they lose HM B12 SS Kenji Jackson (13 st, #4 tkl'r, 3 int, 4 pbu), CB Trey Hobson (3 st, 28 tkl, 3 pbu) and Robert Steeples (1 st, 21 tkl) yet will contend for Top 20 PDR numbers.

SPECIAL TEAMS - Pinkel's highest finish in my ST rankings was #17 in '02 but then finished just #65, #104, #59, #79 and #73. In '08 they moved up to #39, #33 in '09 and #32 in '10. From '96-'07 MU finished in the bottom 2 in the B12 in net punting 9 times. MU switched to more rugby-style punts in '08. In '09 Jake Harry had an amazing 40.5 net (#4 FBS). In '10 Matt Grabner avg 42.6 (39.1 tm net). Trey Barrow is very athletic (fake punt FD run vs CU). Grant Ressel hit an amazing 26-27 FG's (L/46) in '09 and 17-19 (L/50) in '10. Ressel missed an xp vs Miami, Oh stopping the schl's streak at 252. LY Barrow took over at P and avg 44.8 (schl rec Vince Sebo, 45.0, '96). Ressel shockingly hit just 1-7 from 40+ and 9-16 (L47) overall (3 miss 1st 2Y) then missed the L/5 with a hip flexor injury. Barrow hit 7-9 FG (L/39) and had 8 TB on 41 KO. Both return units were average. TY they lose Ressel but if Barrow repeats his performance, they can have their best finish in my ST rankings since '02 (#56 LY).

COACHES - Gary Pinkel came here from Toledo where he was highly successful in his 10 seasons as HC (73-37-3). He has now taken the Tigers to 7 str bowls and has avg 9.6 wins the L5Y. David Yost has been on Pinkel's staff the past 15 seasons and is in his 4th yr as OC (QB cch s/'01). DC Dave Steckel is in his 4th yr as DC and in his 12th season as LB coach here.

PHIL'S FORECAST

Gary Pinkel opened his Missouri tenure with two losing seasons but now has been to 8 bowls in 9 yrs. In '04 (#18) they had their highest preseason ranking s/'80 (#17). They had dreams of their first league crown s/'69 but stunningly went 5-6. In '05 they were one of my MIT and went 7-5 (bowl win). They went 8-5 in '06 and I was one of the few to pick Missouri to win the Big 12 North in '07. Missouri had not finished better than 4-4 (B12) s/'98. The Tigers rolled to 11-1 (only loss Okla). They rose to #1 after beating #2 Kansas to win the North then lost to OU in the Big 12 Title gm. Missouri did not get a BCS bowl bid and steamrolled Ark 38-7 in the Cotton. That Missouri squad was +13 in TO's (only 8 sts lost). In '08 Missouri was the favorite to win the North and #6 AP. They lost to Okla in the Big 12 Title game, 62-21. In '09 they finished 8-5, losing their bowl to Navy 35-13. In '10 Missouri had 15 ret sts and was unranked in the preseason for a 2nd str yr. After opening 6-0 they upset BCS #1 Okla with ESPN Gameday on hand. They moved as high as #7 but after losing to Iowa in the Insight Bowl finished 10-3 (#18). Missouri was tied for 1st in the North but only +20 ypg (7th best). LY they only had 13 lett lost. I mentioned that 5 of my 9 sets of power ratings had them in the Top 25 talent-wise but they would not match their 10 wins (tough sked). For just the 3rd time in 11 yrs they opened ranked (#21). They were the first Missouri tm ever to have 3,000 yds passing AND rushing. Their home turf was bashed by almost every opp. After getting past Miami, Oh, they lost to Ariz St in OT. At 2-1 they jumped out to a 14-3 1Q lead vs #1 Okla but lost by 10. They trailed KSt 24-3 in the 4Q (lost by 7). MU played a penalty free gm and blasted ISU then they lost to Okla St snapping their 10 gm home win streak. They trailed A&M 28-17 at half but won in OT. They trailed 42-25 at Baylor before getting a couple of late td's (lost by 3). The turf helped them beat Texas as the Horns' had RB inj's. TT led for all except the final 2:22 but MU won 31-27. In the final Border War they got past KU 24-10 (351-137 yd edge). NC had an interim HC and showed a level of disinterest in the bowl as MU won 41-24. TY the Tigers move up to the SEC. MU has just 12 ret sts and draw Bama out of the West but they finished on a 4 gm win streak for the first time s/'65. While MU can still get to a bowl, I will call for their fewest wins in a ssn s/'05 due to their tougher schedule which I rank #19.

First Meeting. Under HC Pinkel the Tigers have mauled FCS opponents going 7-0 with an avg score of 50-5. The Lions went 3-8 LY including a 47-33 loss vs Tulane.

After spending the last 84 yrs in the Big 8/Big 12 Conference, this gm vs UGA will mark the start of SEC play for Mizzou. The last and only meeting in this series took place in the '59 Orange Bowl, MU lost 14-0.

Series is tied at 3-3. LY was the first gm S/'90. MU tied the gm in regulation 3 different times (never led) but missed a 48 yd fg w/:12. After allowing a 11 yd td pass in OT, MU's 4&5 pass from the ASU20 fell inc.

This will be the 3rd meeting (MU is 2-0) and the 3rd different venue. The L/gm took place in the '05 Independence Bowl, MU won 38-31. MU is 6-1 in road openers (lost LY at Arizona St).

First Meeting. Missouri is 17-17-2 vs current CUSA tms with 13 losses vs SMU. Under Pinkel Tigers are 3-2 away vs non-BCS (only one in L5Y, 31-21 over Nevada).

MU is 2-1-1 vs Vanderbilt but their last win was in 1896, in fact the last gm vs the Commodores was in 1958 (12-8 loss). Into 2012, the Tigers are on a 7-1 run hosting conference foes.

Missouri is 2-1 vs Alabama but lost the last meeting in 1978, 38-20 in Columbia. Could apply, MU is 3-36 since 1991 vs Top 10 ranked schools (wins vs #3 OU in '10, #2 KU in '07 and #10 Neb in '03).

Bonus: Missouri will not see Kansas St on their 2012 schedule, first time since 1926. Also Kansas and Iowa St will not be opponents for the first time since 1918!

Missouri is 0-2 vs Kentucky with both gms combining for just 25 pts but the L/meeting was in 1968. The Tigers are 58-37-5 (61%) all-time on Homecoming and hammered ISU LY 52-17.

The only prior meeting took place in the '65 Sugar Bowl, the Tigers won 20-18. Coming into 2012, Missouri is just 2-5 their L/7 conf "true" road gms (one win was vs #16 A&M LY).

First meeting. Into 2012, MU is a solid 16-4 in November and 10-3 in Nov road games since 2007. The Tigers are 0-7 in 2nd of B2B away vs a conference opponent.

Missouri dropped both previous meetings as they played a home/home series in '86-'87. This is the first non-conf BCS tm the Tigers have hosted since beating Mississippi 34-7 in 2006.

Missouri is 5-1 vs A&M since 2002 (0-6 prior). This will be the Tigers 3rd str yr traveling to College Station due to the Big 12 Changes in '11 and both schools joining the SEC TY.

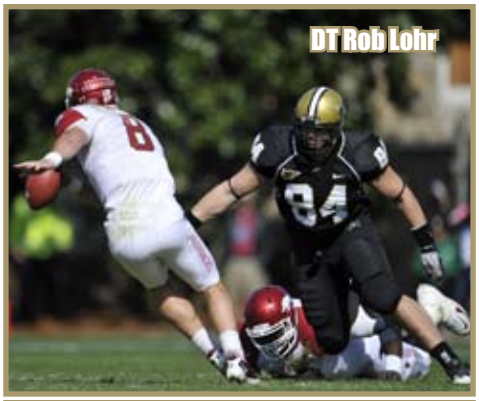
VANDERBILT COMMODORES



POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - Jay Cutler was the first ever rFr to start an opener at Vandy and departed after the '05 season as VU's career passing leader (8,697) and in '05 Vandy avg'd 281 pass ypg (+58.7%). In each of the next 5 yrs the comp % dropped until it bottomed out at 46.9% in '10 (see next pg). HC James Franklin came in LY and had a great reputation for developing QB's. Battling Larry Smith (2Y st'r, 47% in '10) was Aaron Rodgers' younger brother Jordan (PS#58JC) who RS in '10 and true frosh Josh Grady (PS#56). I called for VU to stop the comp % downward spiral and they improved to 51.7%. Smith was the clear-cut starter but got banged up early, frequently coming out of games. Rodgers came off the bench and showed good mobility (79 rush, 7.2) vs UGA then got the start vs Army and would not relinquish the job. His 297 yds passing vs Florida was the most here s/'06. Rodgers threw for 1,524 (50%, 9-10) and was the #2 rusher (420, 3.6). Smith threw for 668 (55.3%, 5-6) and replaced an inj'd Rogers in the bowl (comb 12-34 35%). This yr they lose Smith but add in QB Austyn Carta-Samuels who was a 2 yr st'r at Wyoming (3655, 60%, 19-13, 758 rush). Rodgers should have a fine senior season and VU's passing numbers should improve again.

RUNNING BACKS - Last year I pointed out that VU had not had a 1,000 yd rusher s/'95 (Jermaine Johnson) and had just 3 in school history. In '09 Zac Stacy (PS#155) and Warren Norman (PS#101) became the first Vandy frosh duo to each top 100 in a single game. When Stacy suffered an ankle inj vs Miss St, Norman took over and led with 783 (5.4) breaking Herschel Walker's SEC Fr record for all-purp yds with 1,941 (SEC FPOY). Stacy was #2 (478, 4.5). Both ret'd in '10 but Stacy sprained his MCL and Norman had knee surgery (8/25). In wk 3 Norman had his first 100 yd rush gm vs an SEC opp. Norman was OFY vs Ark (wrist) but still led with 459 (6.0). Stacy missed the L/3 (head inj) and was #2 (331, 5.0). Last year Norman (knee) RS. Stacy set the school's single season record (Corey Harris' 1,103, '91) rushing for 1,193 (5.9). Stacy had 169 vs Ole Miss (3rd highest VU total vs an SEC tm), 198 vs Army and 184 vs WF. True frosh Jerron Seymour (5'7" 190 So, PS#109) was #3 with 268 (3.2). While it will be tough for Stacy to improve much on 11's stats, he needs just 631 yds to become VU's career rushing leader. This unit is even deeper with the return of Norman, Lafonte Thourogood (6'2" 220 rFr, PS#43), Wesley Tate (PS#149, Golden's brother) who moves back from WR and the addition of VHT Brian Kimbrow (PS#14!).

RECEIVERS - In '09 their WR cch said he's never had such a young, inexp'd corps in his 29 yrs of coaching and dropped passes were the norm. It was the first time in 11Y that no rec topped 400 yds (just 2 td rec by WR's). In '10 the top 3 ret'd and they added some explosiveness. TE Brandon Barden (PS#25) led with 425 (12.5). John Cole (PS#63) had 317 (12.7) and Udom Umoh (PS#153) had 194 (16.2). True Fr Jonathan Krause (PS#118) was #3 (243, 10.1). LY everyone ret'd. Barden was banged up (243, 15.2) while 6'3" 205 soph Jordan Matthews had 117 yds through the first 7 gms. Once Rodgers became the QB, Matthews was the main target and became the first VU WR with 3 str 100 yd gms (151, 170, 131) s/'00 (Dan Stricker). He led with 778 (19.0!) while rFr Chris Boyd was #2 (473, 15.3). Not listed below is TE/HB Kris Kentera (6'4" 218 rFr). TY they only lose Barden (10 st) and Umoh (3 st, 3 rec). This unit figures to be even stronger in '12.

OFFENSIVE LINE - Vandy's OL has gone against the grain of my expectations for most of the last 5 yrs. They had 5 Sr st'rs back in '07 but surprisingly saw their ypc rush drop to 3.7. In '08 with they had just 3 car sts ret but avg the same 3.7 ypc. They had a veteran unit in '09 and improved to 160 ypg (4.3, 24 sk). In '10 they had to replace 4 st'rs (21 car st ret) but only slipped to 139 ypg (4.0, 36 sk, 10%). LY they had all 5 st'rs back (68 car sts) and did as expected improving to 164 ypg rush (4.3, 28 sks, 8.1%). They did this despite losing LG Jabo Burrow (9 st '10) after 1 start and with C Logan Stewart missing 7 sts. TY they lose Burrow, RG Kyle Fischer (3rd Tm SEC, 13 st, 4Y st'r) RG Mylon Brown (8 st) and C Stewart (6 st). They drop to 60 car sts but could be improved.

DEFENSIVE LINE - The DL ret'd their entire 2 deep in '09 but surprisingly slipped to 198 ypg (4.4). In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs and 1 bkp (4 st) and then DT Adam Smotherman (23 st 2Y) tore his ACL (2 tkl). Even with just 1 st'r back, VU had similar numbers (193 ypg, 4.5). LY they had 3 st'rs back and 6 of the top 7 DL tkl'rs. VU made great strides all'g 131 ypg (3.6) with 27 sks. TY they lose DE Tim Fugger (13 st, 33 tkl, 8 sk, #7DC IND) and DT TJ Greenstone (4 st, 12 tkl, 2 sk) but have 4 back with 35 comb sts LY and should continue to improve.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 VU had to replace 2 st'rs (#2 and #4 tkl'rs) but ret'd Chris Marve (#1 tkl'r, 121). Marve missed 1 gm and dropped to #2 (80 tkl, 8 tfl). LY they had to replace their #3 tkl'r (12 st) and another LB (7 st, #12 tkl'r). While they had to replace 2 st'rs again, they did return their emotional leader Marve. The top 6 LB's other than Marve had 1 car start. I called for Vandy to improve upon the 31.2 ppg of '10 and they trimmed it to 21.6. Archibald Barnes had a VU rec 100 yd IR td vs Tenn (98 yd John Gamble '66). TY they lose the heart and soul of the D in 2nd Tm SEC Marve (13 st, #1 tkl'r, 8.5 tfl), Al Owens (4 st, 21 tkl) and DeAndre Jones (16 tkl). They return their #4, #6 and #19 tkl'rs). Despite the loss of their top guy, this unit is more exp'd overall and might come close to matching '11's unit.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - In '07 Vandy had all 4 st'rs back and recorded 16 int's (most s/'89) moving up to #41 in my PDR. VU had their best ever finish in my PDR at #13 (15-20 ratio) in '08. In '09 they had to replace 2 st'rs (#4DC) then lost a starting S after 2 sts. As you would expect, VU dropped to #77. In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs (#3DC) and then lost another after 4 gms. Casey Hayward led the SEC in passes defended (17, incl 6 int) but VU slipped to #97 (63%, 18-9). LY they had all 4 st'rs back and after 4 gms led the NCAA w/14 int. VU had just 5 in the final 9 but still finished an outstanding #19 (54.3%, 16-19). This year they lose 2nd Tm AA CB Hayward (13 st, 62 tkl, 7 int, 10 pbu, #2DC GB) and SS Sean Richardson (13 st, 63 tkl, 3 pbu). This has the makings of a good group (ret #5, #7 tkl'r) but loses their star.

SPECIAL TEAMS - Vandy finished just #108, #111, #109, #99, #109 and #99 from '03-'08 in my ST rankings. K Ryan Fowler hit 16-21 FG (L/47) and was All-SEC Frosh while Warren Norman set the SEC single season record for KR yds (1050, 26.2) and they moved up to #58. In '10 Norman was limited due to inj's. Richard Kent (soccer in HS, strong leg) took over at P (27 I20!). Former HC Robbie Caldwell said Kent can make it rain with his high kicks. Surprisingly VU finished #91. LY I called for them to have their highest finish s/'96. Surprisingly Fowler lost his job to Carey Spear who missed a crucial 27 yd FG vs Ark (:08 left). Fowler missed 2 vs Tenn and Spear got his job back (comb 8-14 FG, L/37). Kent improved the avg (42.5) and the net (tm 39.2). With Norman RS, Andre Hal was the top KR (23.8) but the PR's were below avg (6.3). Everyone is back including Norman and I will call for them to top LY's #73 finish.

COACHES - James Franklin spent 8 yrs at Maryland ('00-'04 WR's, '08-'10 OC) and was at K-St ('06-'07, OC). In his inaugural season he led VU to their 2nd bowl s/'82. OC John Donovan also came from Maryland where he was an asst for 10 ssns (RB cch L3Y). DC Bob Shoop was the HC at Columbia ('03-'05, 7-23) and more recently the DC at William & Mary ('07-'10).

PHIL'S FORECAST

Going into '08, Vanderbilt had 25 consec losing seasons. They had 5 wins in '05 and in '07 started 5-3 but lost their final 4. I've had a lot of success forecasting the ups and downs of SEC tms but in '08 I saw a VU tm with zero ret OL st'rs (just 9 st'rs back overall) and a tough SEC schedule. I called for a last place finish but VU caught a lot of breaks. After 5 gms they were #12 in the SEC on off and #10 on D but somehow were 5-0 and got as high as #13 (ranked 1st time s/'84). VU broke a streak of 19 str losses when trying to win their 6th gm, beating UK 31-24. They finished tied for 3rd in the SEC East (4-4 SEC, -76 ypg) and knocked off BC in the Music City Bowl for their first winning ssn s/'82! That was a young VU tm and the '09 squad (19 Sr's, 32 Jr's) appeared stronger. Despite being more talented and exp'd (16 ret sts), the '09 squad crashed to 0-8 in the SEC (-152 ypg) finishing 2-10. In '10 they had just 10 ret sts and then HC Bobby Johnson left over the summer. Looking at VU's schedule, I expected a 2-10 season and this time VU performed as I expected finishing 2-10. LY they brought in James Franklin who had been the HC-in-waiting at Maryland. I mentioned that VU is one of the toughest HC jobs in football with high academic standards as well as playing in the NCAA's best conf. Franklin did inherit 19 ret sts (tied #1 FBS) and I said they could top '10's 2 win total but once again they did better than I expected. VU beat Elon then after trailing Conn 21-14, got a 31 yd FG with 2:56 left for a 24-21 win. They stunningly blasted Ole Miss 30-7. In their first road game vs SCar they were outgained 367-77 and only QB Garcia's 4 int's kept them in it ("only" lost 21-3). They were whipped by Ala 34-0. They trailed UGA 20-7 at HT, blk'd a P at the UGA16 late but fired incomplete with no time left to lose by 5. After whipping Army 44-21, they got an early start vs Ark and were at the UA1, up 28-20 when the Hogs ret'd a fumble 94 yds for a td, the dreaded 14 pt swing. They would lose by 3. They trailed UF 17-0 at half (could've been worse, UF miss FG, fmbl into EZ for tb) but they rallied within 26-21. They whipped UK 38-8, matching their largest SEC win s/'71. They lost in OT 27-21 to Tenn but then needing a win for a bowl, vs a WF team that had just clinched a bowl, rolled them 41-7. In the bowl vs Cincy, they led 21-17 4Q but came up 7 pts short and finished 6-7. VU had 4 net close losses and TY have 15 ret sts. Also they were 2-6 in the SEC in '11 but only -28.5 ypg but they are a -4.0 in my Stock Market Indicator (pg 27). Opponents will take them more seriously this year and they will face less "C" gms. Five of my 9 sets of power ratings call for VU to be bowl eligible but my main one does not.

VU's last trip to Evanston was in '52, a 20-20 tie. The L/gm was in the 2010 ssn opener and despite just a 2 pt loss VU never led. The Commodores are 4-14 in road openers (2-2 L4Y).

First meeting. The Blue Hose went 4-7 LY incl a 63-12 loss vs Cal. PC the L2Y is 0-3 vs FBS tms with an avg loss by 43 ppg. VU is 12-1 S/'06 vs non-BCS tms (avg score of 37-13).

The Commodores were 14-9-4 to start the series but since 1963 are just 4-43-1 including 5 straight losses. LTH they were outgained 547-140 in a 43-0 loss.

Tennessee: After LY's loss UT players cheered and broke out into song slamming VU, Franklin "That's a wound that I'm going to leave open that's not going to heal", the celebration will be talked about "a lot".

VU is 1-2-1 vs Mizzou and the L/meeting was a 12-8 win in Columbia but that was back in 1958. Into '12, the Commodores are just 1-11 L3Y on the SEC road incl 7 str losses by 23 ppg.

Commodores have dropped 21 str vs the Gators (last series win in Nashville in '88). LY VU was down 17-0 at HT but trailed by just 6 w/the ball mid-4Q. VU punted from the F43 & allowed a 94/8pl td drive w/2:13.

The Commodores did win the L/meeting in 2008 but their last 2 gm series win streak was from 1949-'50. Since the '08 Aub win in Nashville, into '12 VU has gone just 2-12 hosting SEC foes.

First meeting. The Minutemen finished 5-6 LY incl a 45-17 loss at BC. UMass will join the MAC TY but can't play for a conf title or bowl till 2013. With a win VU can count this toward bowl eligibility.

Vanderbilt is 2-6 S/'96 in Lexington incl a 38-20 loss the LTH. VU led 13-10 at HT but UK scored 28 unanswered 2H pts. Into 2012, the Commodores are just 2-10 their L/12 gms after a win.

LTH VU led 14-0 and after allowing UM to tie it mid-3Q scored the final 14 pts as Ole Miss' L/6 drives ended in a missed fg, a punt, 2 SOD's & 2 TO's.

LY VU up 21-14 4Q allowed a 80/13pl td drive and were int'd w/:20 at T35 & again in OT which UT ret 90 yds for a td.

The visitor is 8-2 since 1990. WF has been VU's reg ssn finale 5 of the L6Y. LY VU trailed 7-6 mid-2Q but scored the gms final 35 pts to secure a bowl bid for just the 5th time in school history.

KENTUCKY WILDCATS

RG Larry Warford

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - The Wildcats have a solid reputation for developing pro-style QB's in Jared Lorenzen and Tim Couch. André Woodson took over in '05 and left as UK's #2 career passer. He had a phenomenal senior ssn ('07) throwing for 3,709 (63%, 40-11). The 6'6" Mike Hartline (PS#24) st'd 14 in '08 & '09 and had a much better than expected '10 throwing for 3,178 (66%, 23-9). LY they had to replace Hartline and the frontrunner was Morgan Newton (PS#13, 9 car st). Newton was hurt by an undependable receiving corps (20 drops first 5 gm). True frosh Maxwell Smith (PS#144) hit 6-11 for 41 vs Fla, 1-5 vs LSU, 0-4 w/2 int vs SC then vs Miss St (Newton inj) hit 26-33-174. Smith has a powerful arm but only st'd one full season in HS so he flew under the radar. Smith st'd the next 3 but inj'd his shoulder. Newton played in just one game after Miss St (2 att) and they went to WR Matt Roark for the start vs Tenn. While he hit just 4-6 for 15 yards, he rushed for 124. Smith had the highest pass eff rating (102.4) of the 3. The 3 comb to throw for 136 ypg, 50.9% and a 12-11 ratio. Newton missed spring (shldr surg). True frosh Patrick Towles (PS#22) joins the fray TY and whoever wins the job, I look for vastly upgraded QB play in '12.

RUNNING BACKS - LY UK had to replace their top 2 RB's who comb for 1,180 (5.1) as well as all-purp/QB/RB/WR Randall Cobb. Raymond Sanders (PS#122), who rushed for 79 vs GA and 71 vs Miss St as a true frosh, was the top returnee with 254 (3.7) while the only other exp RB CoShik Williams had 136 (5.7). They were very high on true frosh signee Josh Clemons (PS#118, 36" VL, bench 325). Williams had just 62 yds in the first 6 but then rushed for 148 vs Jax St and 111 vs Miss to lead with 486 (4.1). Jonathan George (5'10" 216 Jr) led vs VU (46) and had 208 (4.1). Clemons was arguably UK's top off player (inj). He rushed for 126 vs CM (1st frosh 100+ s/Arliss Beach) with his 87 yd run being the longest here s/'70. Clemons was the feature vs UL but had just 28 yds on 12 att's and later led with 69 vs LSU but was OFY vs SC and finished #2 (279, 4.3). Sanders at 5'8" played in just 6 (155, 3.9, knees). When he did play, HC Joker Phillips said he added juice to the lineup. TY the unit returns intact and I look for significant improvement.

RECEIVERS - LY the Cats had to replace their top 2 WR's (1942, 13.3, #2 DC). Their top returnees were 6'4" La'Rod King (PS#138, 478, 13.3), TE Jordan Aumiller (193, 10.7) and 6'5" Matt Roark (170, 14.2). Brian Adams is 6'4" 223 and the Cats' fastest WR who also played on the baseball tm. Roark had 10 rec's after 6 gms (but 10 drops) and was even benched. He later had 20 rec for 232 yds in B2B gms, the best 2 game totals s/'06 (Keenan Burton). He st'd at QB in the finale but still finished #2 (349, 9.7). HC Phillips (ex WR) criticized the WR's blocking and the amount of drops most of the ssn. King led with 598 (14.9) while TE Nick Melillo had 186 (10.9). TY they move in rFr QB Bookie Cobbins (4.4 spd, 38" VL, bench 315). UK loses Roark (10 st) and Melillo (11 st) and while only 1 returnee had over 100 yds LY, I look for much more production.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '09 UK had to replace 2 st'rs but had 7 back w/st exp (86 car sts). The OL avg 191 ypg rush (4.5, 17 sk), their best s/'95. In '10 they lost 4 (two 2nd Tm SEC) st'rs (31 car sts ret). They only dropped to 159 ypg but their ypc improved to 4.6 (19 sk, 4.1%). Having players like Derrick Locke and Randall Cobb helped the ypc. LY UK only had to replace 1 st'r and had 8 of their top 10 back (77 car st). Despite losing Locke and Cobb, I was surprised the numbers dipped to 124 ypg (3.5, 35 sk, 10.4%). TY they lose 3 st'rs in LG Stuart Hines (11 st, 3Y st'r), RT Billy Joe Murphy (10 st, 2Y st'r), LT Chandler Burden (12 st, 2Y st'r) and C Jake Lanefski (3 st). While less exp'd, they do return their top 2 as OL coach Mike Summers called C Matt Smith the "absolute rock of the OL" while Larry Warford earned 2nd Tm SEC. Darrian Miller (2 st RT) became the first true frosh OL starter s/'05. Despite dropping to 50 car starts returning, I look for improved numbers.

DEFENSIVE LINE - From 2004-'07 the Cats yielded 5.0, 4.9, 5.0 and 4.6 ypc rushing. In '08 I called for the Cats to have their best rush D in at least 4 yrs but they did even better allowing 139 ypg (3.8), the first time under 4.0 ypc s/'89 (3.7). In '09 the Cats had to replace 3 st'rs (#3, #6DC's). As expected UK had weaker numbers yielding 183 ypg (4.7, 16 sk). In '10 they had to replace a 1st Tm SEC DT (#3DC) but had 7 of the top 8 back. Only 2 DL st'd more than 7 and they all'd 177 (4.6, 21 sk). UK did have 3 large DT's in Mister Cobble (331 lb), Donte Rumph (315 lb) and Mark Crawford (338 lb). LY Collins Ukwu missed 4 sts but was described as a violent pass rusher (but only 2.5 sk). Surprisingly the numbers were similar (183 ypg, 4.5, 20 sk). TY they lose DT Luke McDermott (3 st, 17 tkl, 1.5 sk), Crawford (9 tkl, 1 sk) and DE Antwane Glenn (1 st, 12 tkl). With 3+ starters back, I'll call for UK to have their best rush D s/'08.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 UK had to replace their #1 and #3 tkl'rs but Danny Trevathan, who is not your typical SEC LB (listed generously at 6'1" 230), led the SEC in tkls (144) while adding 16 tfl. LY they had all 3 st'rs back. Trevathan earned my 4th Tm AA honors and was the #1 tkl'r by far with 143 (11.5 tfl) and this unit was the strength of the D. TY they lose Trevathan (12 st, 4 int, #6DC DEN), Winston Guy (12 st, #2 tkl, 14 tfl, 2 int, #6DC SEA), MLB Ronnie Sneed (12 st, #4 tkl'r, 1.5 tfl, 2 int) and Ridge Wilson (9 st, #6, 3 tfl). UK returns their #5 and #13 tkl'rs but are a lot less experienced and my main ? on the team.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - The Cats have fielded solid secondaries. In '07 they were #31 in my PDR then #46 in '08. With 3 outstanding CB's in Trevard Lindley, Paul Warford and Randall Burden, they were one of 6 teams in the FBS to allow under 50% in '09 and finished #18 despite Lindley and Warford missing 6 comb sts. In '10 they had to replace 2nd Tm SEC CB Lindley (#4DC) and their starting SS (#4 tkl'r). CB Warford was lost over the summer. The Cats ret 2 st'rs but dropped some to #52 (54%, 14-9). LY they ret'd all 4 st'rs so I expected improvement and they moved up to #31 (51.2%, 19-15). TY UK loses CB Randall Burden (12 st, 41 tkl, 3 int, 2 pbu), CB Anthony Mosley (11 st, 27 tkl, 5 pbu), S Mychal Bailey (7 tkl) and Taiedo Smith (1 st, 9 tkl) and figure to be down a few notches.

SPECIAL TEAMS - When former HC Rich Brooks was hired, he brought in Steve Ortmayer, who had been an NFL ST coach for 17 yrs. They finished #22 in my ST rankings in '05 then #37, #8 and #35 in '09. It surprised me that Phillips fired Ortmayer in July and replaced him with Greg Nord. In Phillips' first 2 years, they finished #81 and #83. The best leg belongs to K Joe Mansour (PS#14) but he has not been able to beat out Craig McIntosh. McIntosh hit 11-15 FG (L50) in '10 and was 12-14 (L48) LY. Mansour had 15 TB as a true and had 14 TB on 44 KO LY. Ryan Tydlacka was a bright spot with 19 punts I20 and had a 43.6 avg (39.6 net!). UK avg just 20.3 on KR and 1.8 on PR. This year they lose Tydlacka and while the other parts of the ST unit should be improved, the Wildcats may not move up much in my rankings.

COACHES - After leading UK to a school-record 4 consec bowls, Rich Brooks decided to retire. OC Joker Phillips took over in '10 and while he got UK to a bowl his 1st season, UK has finished with B2B losing records. Randy Sanders was elevated to OC in '10 (QB cch s/'06). LY Phillips brought in Rick Minter as co-DC. Minter spent '10 at Ind St (LB cch) but was the HC at Cincinnati ('94-'03, 53-63-1) and the interim HC at Marshall in the '09 Little Caesars Pizza Bowl (beat Ohio 21-17). He switched the D to a 4-2-5 LY and will be the lone DC this season.

PHIL'S FORECAST

Kentucky fans weren't too thrilled when Rich Brooks was hired in '03 and he inherited just 68 schlp players. Of the 40 signees from 2001-'02, 24 left the team. The Brooks' era began with 3 losing seasons (9-25). In '06 with a more favorable schedule, 15 ret sts and a team that had been -9 in TO's in '05, I said the Cats had a great shot at a bowl. UK had just 3 seasons of 8+ wins from 1952-2005 and had been to just 10 bowls (2nd lowest SEC). UK had won 8 reg season gms just ONCE in the last 34 yrs (9 in '84). In '06 they recorded their first win over one of the Big 3 from the East (Tenn, UGA, Fla) s/'96 when they upset UGA which was the catalyst for their 8-5 season. Brooks' final 3 yrs saw 3 winning seasons & bowls while pulling 8 upsets. In '10 HC-in-waiting, Joker Phillips, took over and made a bowl despite having just 11 ret sts and an SEC high 27 lett lost. When UK lost their bowl to Pitt by 17 they finished 6-7, their first losing season s/'05. LY UK lost their QB, top 3 rushers and top 2 WR's (35% off yds ret) but did have their top 11 tkl'rs back on D. After returning 11, 10 and 11 st'rs the previous 3 yrs, they had 16 back (73% ret lett). The loss of Randall Cobb and Derrick Locke's explosiveness did hurt. UK got past WKU despite being outgained 234-190 and then vs CM were outgained 227-94 at the half and trailed 13-6 but won 27-13. They lost at home to rival L'ville, 24-17 and then coming off what Joker Phillips called a "must win" game, they lost to Fla 48-10 and were waxed by #1 LSU 35-7. S Car gave Connor Shaw his first start and they destroyed UK 54-3 (639-96 yd). UK beat Jax St, but lost to Miss St at home, 28-16. They beat Miss 30-13 as Maxwell Smith threw for 283 yds. The next wk at Vandy, UK lost by 30 which was the biggest margin of victory by Vandy in the series s/'69. They played UGA tight, only losing 19-10, then got their first win vs Tenn s/'84 with WR Roark playing QB (outgained 276-217). The UT upset was the first tm in 19Y that UK won an SEC game with under 220 yds of offense. It also probably saved Phillips' job and was the first time s/1984 the Wildcats went into an off-season with a reg ssn finale win. TY UK has just 11 ret sts and draw Ark out of the West plus they were #12 in the SEC at -182.8 ypg. Normally the Cats are only an upset or two away from bowl contention but now playing in an even more powerful SEC, I will call for their 3rd straight losing season.

LTH UK led 20-3 late 2Q and hung on for Joker Phillips' first win as a HC. The tm with the most rushing yds has won 16 str in this instate series. UK is 4-8 in 'true' road openers.

UK is 6-0 all-time vs Kent St with the avg win by 30 ppg. In the L/meeting ('07) UK won 56-20 with only a 484-453 yd edge (-2 FD) but had a +4 TO advantage. The Wildcats have won 6 str home openers.

Fourth meeting in 5 yrs & UK is 3-0 vs WKU. LTH the Wildcats won 63-28 with a 482-284 yd edge. UK did trail 7-0 but by HT the gm was well in hand leading 42-14. Into '12, UK is on a 19-1 run hosting non-SEC foes.

UK last won in Gainesville in '79, dropping 16 str trips by 25 ppg with only 2 being decided by a td or less. LTH UK trailed 21-0 with their first 6 drives ending in 4 punts and 2 int's (81 ttl yds).

LY the Wildcats scored a series low 3 pts while all'g a series high 54 pts. UK led 3-0 after SC fumbled the opening KO but after were outgained 639-96 & only ran 24 comb pl their last 10 drives.

UK has never lost 4 str in this series. LY UK trailed 21-6 at HT. After cutting the deficit to 12 early 4Q they forced a 3&out but then had their 4&7 pass from the MSU8 fall inc in the EZ w/4:46 ending any comeback.

Not a lot of history in this series with just the 7th meeting (all after '98). UK is 4-1 the L/5 gms incl a 42-29 win in '07 in Fayetteville (L/road gm of series). UK twice came back down DD's.

UK is 3-18 vs UGA incl B2B losses. LY UK led 10-9 and only trailed 12-10 at HT but in the 2H went 3&out their first 5 drives and only ran 22 plays in the 2H gaining 8 yds (1 FD).

UK is 2-0 vs Missouri with their only visit to Columbia in '65, a 7-0 win. The L/meeting took place in 1968. Into '12, the Wildcats have gone 0-8 the L2Y on the SEC road with the avg score 36-14.

Last time UK lost B2B gms was '94 & '95. Since then, they are 3-0 the yr after a VU loss winning by 13 ppg . LY QB Maxwell Smith started his first AG going 15-31-48%-179-1-0 as UK trailed 31-0 late 3Q.

First meeting. Bulldogs LY finished 6-5 incl a 35-16 loss at Aub. UK is just 8-22 in home finales (2-0 L2Y).

LY UK ended the nations longest losing streak at 26. UK last won in Knoxville in '84. LTH UK tied the gm 14-14 early 4Q but could only muster 52 yds after that being shutout the rest of the way.

PHIL STEELE'S 2012 BIG TEN FORECAST

LEADERS 1. WISCONSIN - For a second straight season UW picked up an ACC starting QB but this season it was in time to include in the magazine (I would of had UW CLEAR #1 LY). While Danny O'Brien is clearly NOT Russell Wilson and will not have his impact, he was signed in the spring and gives them a veteran QB to go along with their outstanding O-line and RB's (Montee Ball turn down NFL). The Badgers have just 11 ret sts while OSU has 15 but UW has the more favorable schedule, drawing just 1 of the top 5 teams in the B10 on the road (Neb) and getting their crucial clash vs OSU as their FHG. Since OSU is ineligible, the Badgers are almost a slam dunk to get back to the Big Ten Title game.

1. OHIO ST - Urban Meyer steps into a tremendous situation as OSU is coming off their first losing ssn s/'88 so expectations will be lower. He inherits 15 ret sts, does not have the susp hanging over their heads as they did LY, has one of the top rated D's in the B10 and with QB Braxton Miller, the perfect fit for his offense, I rate the Buck's QB's #2 in the B10. OSU plays the toughest schedule of any B10 tm as they draw the top 3 tms out of the Legends (UM, Neb, MSU) and have to play both MSU and Wisc on the road. While ineligible to play for the B10 Title, they could very well finish as the top tm in the Leaders, especially if they win in Madison on Nov. 17th.

3. ILLINOIS - At one point LY Illinois was 6-0 and while they finished the B10 season +31.4 ypg, they were just 2-6 in conf play and needed a bowl win to finish with a winning record. HC Tim Beckman steps into a solid situation with 14 ret sts from a team in which Zook compiled good talent (remember Fla won a Nat'l Title 2 years after he departed). It should be a 3rd str bowl for the Illini and they could more than double LY's conf win total avoiding Neb and MSU in Big Ten play.

4. PURDUE - The Boilermakers benefit from not playing either MSU or Neb out of the Legends and with 15 ret sts are even stronger than LY's edition. PU was -47.3 ypg in the B10 and had 2 net close wins but will likely be favored in 6 gms TY giving them an excellent shot at another bowl.

5. PENN ST - PSU got to 8-1 just as I expected LY but what I did not expect was the firing of Joe Paterno although the Lions were still playing for the Leaders div Title in the finale. PSU still has a top-notch D led by my #4 D-line and #2 set of LB's in the Big Ten and figure to get better offensive play under new HC Bill O'Brien. Unfortunately they have just 9 ret sts and are going through scheme changes on off and that means they will likely have their first losing B10 record since '04.

6. INDIANA - Generally when a HC comes in with a "my way or the highway" approach many players leave the program and they have success in years 2 and 3. That was what happened with Kevin Wilson LY and the team won just 1 game and that was vs FCS member SCar St. TY's squad has 15 ret sts and those who stuck around will be tougher. Indiana is actually one of the Most Improved teams in the country this year. Unfortunately they have a lot of ground to make up as they were -160.9 ypg in B10 play and most of their winnable games TY are on the road with their home slate in the B10 incl gms vs Ohio St, Mich St, Wisc and Iowa! I'll call for Indy to have a much improved record TY, perhaps even 3 or 4 wins but for the 4th straight year I have them in the basement.

LEGENDS 1. NEBRASKA - LY the Huskers were the preseason favorite to win the Big Ten but came up short finishing 3rd in the Legends at 5-3. TY they have 14 ret sts and draw Ohio St and Wisc out of the Leaders and must play both Ohio St and Michigan St on the road. If it ends up in a 3 way tie they have the softest non-conf slate and could have the best record. The tie breaker might just put them into the Big Ten Title game and that is why I have them on top of the 3 co-champs.

1. MICHIGAN - Michigan was an 11-2 squad that won the Sugar Bowl in '11 and is an even stronger team TY. They are now in the 2nd year under Brady Hoke, return QB D Rob and have 13 ret sts overall. They avoid Wisc out of the Leaders div but have 4 tough road games vs Alabama, ND, Neb and Ohio St. While overall they may not match LY's 11 win total, Hoke called '11 a disappointment because they did not win the Big Ten Title and TY's squad is very capable of getting to and winning the Big Ten Title game.

1. MICHIGAN STATE - The Spartans probably overachieved a little LY as they benefitted from 3 net close wins, were only #3 in the B10 at +53 ypg and were +7 in TO's. TY's squad has just 13 ret sts but they have one of the top D's in the B10 and my #1 rated O-line and #2 rated D-line. They do have to play both Mich and Wisc on the road in B2B wks and also draw Ohio St out of the Leaders. Still LY's squad probably should have won the Big Ten Title blowing a 4Q lead vs Wisc. TY's squad is fully capable of getting back to the Big Ten Title game with 6 of my 9 sets of power ratings calling for them to win 10 reg ssn games.

4. IOWA - Iowa avoids both Ohio St and Wisc out of the Leaders div and despite just 11 ret st'rs, could very well be a dark horse in the Legends race TY. They could open the season 5-0 giving a young team some confidence and might only be an underdog twice all year so don't be surprised if they have a shot at the Div title heading into their final 2 games. They play in the same divison as 3 ranked teams but are a legitimate darkhorse contender.

5. NORTHWESTERN - Things looked favorable for NU LY but they finished just 3-5 in the Big Ten and had a losing season after dropping their bowl. TY they have just 10 ret sts (2nd fewest B10). The Cats do avoid Ohio St and Wisc out of the Leaders and HC Pat Fitzgerald always gets the most out of his teams so they have a great shot at a 5th str bowl. They could easily open the season 5-0 and with an upset in State College they could find themselves 7-0 and this young tm would be brimming with confidence.

6. MINNESOTA - Jerry Kill compared his rebuilding job at Minn to that of Southern Ill where he went 5-18 his first 2 years before rattling off a 50-14 record. The Gophers were last in the Legends LY but won 2 Big Ten games and figure to be a much improved squad. They should gain a lot of confidence with their early season schedule and could be favored in 6 of their first 8 games. Three of my 9 sets of power ratings call for the Gophers to achieve bowl eligibility and that gives them a shot at escaping the basement.

Big Ten Notes: Wisconsin's Montee Ball broke the Big Ten mark for td's in a season which was shared by Pete Johnson (Ohio St '75), Anthony Thompson (Indy '88) and Ki-Jana Carter (Penn St '94).LY the Big Ten expanded (add Neb) and had a title game for the first time and it was a thriller with Wisconsin beating Mich St. In '10 the Big Ten went 3-5 in bowls and did win a BCS bowl but went 0-5 on New Year's Day. LY they went 4-6 incl 1-4 on NY Day and 1-1 in the BCS (4-2 BCS bowls 3 yrs). The Big Ten was 6-5 in the reg season vs BCS conf (3rd best) and 20-7 vs non AQ FBS (4th best). They finished with just 1 Top Ten tm but 4 in the Top 25 (tie 2nd). Five of the six 1,000 yd rushers are back and while 6 of the top 9 QB's in pass eff return the top 3 depart. Ohio St had won at least a share of the conference title SIX straight yrs but had a losing record LY and drops to the 3rd best record over the last 3 yrs. The race for the Big Ten title is wide open and if it goes as I expect the Legends division could go down to a tie breaker. I look for a better bowl season from the Big Ten in '12.

WISCONSIN BADGERS

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - My '11 forecast for UW would have been different (I had tied for 1st Leaders) as I was anticipating inexp Jon Budmayr (134, 80%, 1-0) as the st'r. In June when my magazine was already on the newsstands, Russell Wilson made the decision to transfer to Madison after being released by NCSt. Wilson entered the ssn #3 among active QB's in ttl yds (9,628) and td (93) and had a streak of 379 passes w/o an int in '08-'09. He led the ACC in TD passes for 3 str yrs. Yes, having a college QB of that caliber would have made a big difference in my forecast. Budmayr couldn't throw in Aug (shoulder) and DNP. RFr Joe Brennan (PS#47) was the only other schlp QB available and became the bkp. Wilson spent 10-12 hrs a day learning the new offense and was elected a team captain. He threw for 3,175 (72.8%) with an incredible 33-4 ratio (338 rush) easily surpassing John Stocco's single ssn UW record of 21 td passes. He departs as the NCAA's all-time single ssn (191.8) pass eff leader (Colt Brennan 186.0 Hawaii, '06) and with the FBS record of 38 str gms with a td. He would have been a Heisman finalist had UW not given up essentially 2 Hail Mary td's to lose to MSU and OSU. Brennan played in 6 (6-15-48). TY Brennan, Budmayr, Joel Stave (6'5" 223 rFr, PS#122) and Curt Phillips (PS#18) will all likely step aside for another "free agent" pickup in MD trans Danny O'Brien. While he was also the ACC FPOY ('10) like Wilson, he is NOT Russell Wilson (#3DC SEA) so I look for a drop in the #'s even though O'Brien is a good fit for this offense.

RUNNING BACKS - UW had a streak of 10 str yrs with a 1,000 yd rusher until inj's slowed down the top back in '03 and '04. UW started a new streak in '05 which is now 7 yrs strong. John Clay (PS#3) was #2 in '08 with 884 (5.7). Clay rushed for 1,517 (5.3) in '09 with 18 td's. True frosh Montee Ball (PS#64) rushed for 391 (4.0). In '10 this unit nearly set an NCAA record, coming up just 4 yds short of having THREE 1,000 yd rushers. Clay rushed for 1,012 but his 5.4 ypc was the lowest of the 3. Bielema said the diff between the RB's was that Clay was 1st gear, Ball was 2nd gear and White was 3rd. True frosh James White (PS#59) led with 1,052 (6.7) and he and Ball became the 2nd duo in schl hist to top 150 in the same gm (Mich). Ball (996, 6.1, 18 td) had 132 in the bowl. LY Clay left early for the NFL. Ball dropped 25 lbs (quicker, faster) and led the FBS in rush yds (1923, 6.3). The schl record for td's in a season was 24 (Brian Calhoun, '05) and Ball crushed that with 33 rush and 6 rec tying the NCAA record (Barry Sanders, '88). He was also a Heisman finalist. UW had a streak of 916 consec touches without a fumble by their RB's end vs Illinois while the RB streak for fumbles lost reached 1,011 (end PSU). White rushed for 713 (5.1) and Jeffrey Lewis (4.39 spd) had 187 (5.7) as a rFr. Dynamic Melvin Gordon (6'1" 205 rFr, PS#26) ply'd in 3 (98, 4.9) before being RS. FB Bradie Ewing (8 st, 246 rec yd, 12.3, #5DC ATL) departs but with Ball's return (turned down NFL), this is one of the top RB units in the country.

RECEIVERS - While the TE is usually a big part of UW's offense (TE #1 rec in '08 & '10), LY they had to replace their top TE and with the addition of a QB like Wilson, were able to get the ball downfield more. WR Nick Toon (PS#14) was the leading returnee and he finished #2 with 926 (14.5). Jared Abbrederis emerged and led with 933 (17.0). TE Jacob Pedersen was #3 with 356 (11.9). This year they lose Toon (#4DC NO) as well as TE Jake Byrne (13 st, 1 rec). With the top WR and top TE back, I'll call this unit up a notch.

OFFENSIVE LINE - When I think of Wisc, I think of big O-lines and power rush attacks. In '10 the unit had 9 of their top 10 back (107 car sts) and avg 320 lbs. I called them the #2 OL in the country. The huge OL opened holes for 246 ypg rush (5.5) with just 14 sks (5.1%). LY they had to replace a 1st Tm AA LT (#1DC), 1st Tm AA LG (#3DC) and their RG (8 st, #7DC). They got back Josh Oglesby (10 st '09, inj '10) so they basically had 3 st'rs back. The #'s were slightly down at 236 ypg (5.4) with 25 sks (7.6%). TY they lose 1st Tm AA C Peter Konz (11 st, 3Y st'r, #2DC ATL), 1st Tm AA RG Kevin Zeitler (14 st, 3Y st'r, #1DC CIN) and 1st Tm B10 RT Oglesby (13 st, 2Y st'r). They go from 74 car sts to 49 and must replace 3 VHT st'rs but this is still a large group (avg 6'5" 321) and remains one of the B10's strongest units.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '09 UW's inexp DL all'd a B10 best 88 ypg rush (2.9). Despite JJ Watt's emergence in '10, the DL slipped to 128 ypg (3.9, 23 sks). LY they had to replace Watt (#1DC) but had 7 of the top 8 back (most exp in 3Y). David Gilbert was very impressive but OFY (4 st). The numbers slipped again to 153 ypg and their 4.3 ypc was their weakest s/'05 (25 sks). TY UW loses DE Louis Nzegwu (14 st, 38 tkl, 4.5 sk, 2.5 tfl) and DT Patrick Butrym (14 st, 23 tkl, 3.5 tfl) but have 8 of the top 10 back plus Gilbert returns. The staff was also high on rFr Jesse Hayes (PS#58) and James Adeyanju (PS#84) LY. Despite going from 3 ret sts to 2, UW should be stouter up front in '12.

LINEBACKERS - In '09 rFr Mike Taylor (PS#66) was the #1 tkl'r before he was OFY after 7 gms. True frosh Chris Borland took his place and earned Big Ten FPOY (#5 tkl'r). The Badgers allowed an impressive 306 ypg (#17 FBS). In '10 the Badgers had 2 ret sts at LB for the 3rd str yr. Borland was OFY after 2 sts while Taylor was slowed by a knee brace. They had their top 4 LB's all available for a total of just 6 plays on the ssn but still all'd just 322 ypg (#20 FBS). LY they had to replace 2 st'rs (#1 and #2 tkl'rs) and 1 bkp. UW allowed just 19 ppg (best s/'06) with Taylor and Borland both earning 1st Tm B10 (comb 293 tkl, 28 tfl). TY they only lose SLB Kevin Claxton (10 st, #6 tkl'r, 6.5 tfl) but this remains one of the Big Ten's best LB corps.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - UW finished #7 in my PDR in '04, #19 in '05 and #2 in '06. They slipped to #57 in '07, #35 in '08 and #45 in '09. In '10 the unit ret'd intact so it surprised me that they only finished #43. LY they had to replace 2 st'rs. Bielema said that Antonio Fenelus was the best CB he's had here but the other CB Devin Smith was OFY after 2 gm. Inconsistency haunted the unit (big plays all'd vs MSU and OSU) and UW slipped to #61 (60.8%, 15-16 vs light slate opp). TY they lose 1st Tm B10 CB Fenelus (14 st, 51 tkl, 4 int, 5 pbu) and 1st Tm B10 FS Aaron Henry (14 st, 67 tkl, 4 int, 4 pbu). Despite losing their top 2 DB's, they could move up a little in my PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - In Bielema's first year UW finished #44 in my ST rankings, moved up to #13 in '07 but only #93, #89 and #84 heading into '11. LY they ret'd their P and K but had to replace their top PR (10.2) and KR (24.4). Philip Welch was UW's #2 all-time career FG% heading into the season (77.1%, 54-70, L57) but was banged up (quad) and hit just 5-6 (L52). He missed 4 gms with Kyle French (PS#9) hitting 3-5 (both miss 50+). Alec Lerner and Welch combined for 17 TB on 102 KO. Nortman who avg 42.7 (37.6 net) in '10, avg 42.2 (net 37.9) but he had 2 pivotal blk'd P in the losses to MSU and OSU thanks to breakdowns up front. Jared Abbrederis was an outstanding PR (#3 FBS 15.8) and KR (24.6). This year they lose 4 yr starters Nortman (#6DC CAR) and Welch and may take a step back in my ST rankings (#54 LY).

COACHES - Barry Alvarez hand picked Bret Bielema to replace him. In '04 Bielema was brought in from K-St as the DC, and was the NCAA's 2nd youngest HC when he took over. After a 12-1 debut in '06, he was the B10 COY. In '10 UW shared the conf title and won the inaugural B10 Title game LY. In the L2Y 2 coor's have moved on (HC's N Ill & Pitt). The new OC is Matt Canada (OC Indy and NI). Chris Ash, who spent 8 of the previous 10Y as the Iowa St DB cch (SDSt DB cch '07-'08) and in his 2nd ssn as co-DC along with Charlie Partridge (DL cch here s/'08). 2012 will mark the staff's biggest turnover s/'06.

PHIL'S FORECAST

Bret Bielema has done a fine job taking over for B10 legend Barry Alvarez and is now 60-19 finishing #7, #24, NR, #16, #7 and #10. Ironically, his weakest ssn came in '08 when they had 16 ret sts and were #13 preseason (finished 7-6). That put them well under the radar in '09 and despite opening 5-0 they were unranked. UW's '08 squad was -8 in TO's, had 48 sts lost, and a def ypp of 12.4, all signs which pointed towards '09 success. UW went 10-3 including a win over Miami, Fl in the Champs Sports Bowl. That '09 squad had just 10 ret sts and in '10 they had 16 back from a tm that was +81 ypg in B10 play. At 5-1 they had ESPN Gameday on hand for a night game in Madison where they upset #1 Ohio St. They won a share of the B10 Title for the first time s/'99 rising to #4 but lost to #3 TCU 21-19 in the Rose Bowl getting stopped on a 2 pt conv with 2:00 left. UW was +81 ypg in B10 play (84 ypg weaker than #1 OSU). LY they had just 13 ret sts and lost the B10's pass eff leader. I mentioned they benefitted from +14 in TO's and signs pointed to not matching their 11 wins from '10. However, over the summer UW got the huge addition of Russell Wilson (led ACC in td passes prev 3Y). Given that info along with the fact that neither Jim Tressel or Joe Paterno would be around when they faced UW (both HC when mag was published), I would have picked UW for 1st as opposed to TIED for 1st in the Leaders div. With Wilson and RB Ball they dominated their first 6 foes (incl Neb) by 40.5 ppg. The next 2 wks they took on motivated HD's and lost to Mich St and OSU. Both gms were similar as they trailed by 2 scores in the 4Q but rallied to either tie or lead only give up a long td pass in the final seconds. UW whipped Pur and Minn but vs Ill were outgained 301-285 and trailed 17-7 at half. Thanks to TO's and ST errors which gave them a short field, UW rallied for a 28-17 win. In the game which determined the division, they destroyed PSU 45-7. In the B10 Title gm, UW benefitted from a 4&5, 36 yd comp which set up their go ahead td and a roughing the P pen which overturned a Mich St return to their 3. In the Rose Bowl they were outgained 621-508 by Oreg and finished with 3 losses. TY they only have 11 ret sts. The Badgers were +155.5 ypg (B10 best) and did have 2 net close losses but also benefitted from +16 in TO's and had an off ypp of 10.6. They signed another ACC QB, RB Ball turned down the NFL and the D should be improved. UW will return to the B10 Title game.

OHIO ST BUCKEYES

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - Terrelle Pryor (PS#1) st'd 10 as a true frosh in '08. In '09 he threw for 2,094 (57%, 18-11) and became the first QB to lead OSU in rushing (779) s/Heisman winner Les Horvath ('44). Pryor was the MVP of the Rose Bowl. Bkp Joe Bauserman (PS#59) hit just 6-19 for 124 in '09. In '10 Pryor's 157.9 pass eff nearly topped Bobby Hoying's schl rec (163.4 in '95). He became the first primary starting QB to lead his team to B10 Titles in his Fr, Soph and Jr yrs. LY when I wrote the magazine he was expected to return after a 5 game susp but he left early for the NFL. In Aug, 26 yr old Bauserman (16-22-174) won the 4-man battle over soph Kenny Guiton (PS#116), true frosh Braxton Miller (PS#2, IFS) and rFr Taylor Graham (PS#35). After an embarrassing loss in Miami where Bauserman hit just 2-14-13 (3 drops), interim HC Luke Fickell went with Miller. Bauserman hit 9-16-114 in the next 2 but came in for an inj'd Miller vs Neb to hit 1-10-13 (Bucks blew 27-6 3Q lead). Bauserman would not att another pass. Miller, who is not a physical freak in the mold of Pryor at 6'2" 210, is still a dangerous runner (81 yd td run vs Ind, longest ever by OSU QB). The coaches said he was a much better passer as a frosh than Pryor was but seemed reluctant to let him air it out. Miller had just 4 att vs Ill in the win then avg'd just 14.5 att the next 4 wks. He showed his potential in throwing the GW 40 yd td pass with :20 left vs Wisc. They finally took the reins off vs Mich (14-25-235, 100 yd rush). In the bowl he hit 18-23-162. Miller earned B10 FOY throwing for 1,159 (54.1%, 13-4) while also finishing as the #1 rusher (715, 4.5). Bauserman (3 st) and Graham are gone leaving OSU with just 3 schlp QB's TY. With Meyer's success coaching QB's like Josh Harris, Alex Smith and Tim Tebow, Miller has a shot at being the B10 OPOY.

RUNNING BACKS - Daniel Herron finished #1 with 1,155 (5.3) in '10 while true frosh Carlos Hyde (PS#29) had 141 (5.9). LY Herron was susp the first 6. Hyde (6'0" 235), who is the fastest of the RB's (4.4) finished as the #2 RB rusher with 566 (5.3). Jordan Hall (DNP 3) finished #3 among the RB's with 408 (4.1). Herron ret'd with a "Boom" and had 114 vs Ill, 160 vs Wisc and 141 vs Indy but did not have another 100 yd gm in the L/4. He finished #2 (behind QB Miller) with 675 (5.0). Herron's 13 gm streak with a rush td ended vs Wisc which was OSU's longest streak s/Pete Johnson had 13 ('75-'76). Despite the loss of their top guy (#6DC CIN), Herron only ply'd in 7 so this could be an improved group with more contributions from VHT Rod Smith (PS#9) and spg arrival Bri'onte Dunn (PS#10).

RECEIVERS - Ohio St had 3 first round WR picks in '06 -'07. In '09 they had to replace #2 and #4 DC's. It was an inexp group in '09 and soph PS#4 DeVier Posey (11 rec true) led with 828 (13.8) while Dane Sanzenbacher was #2 (570, 15.8). In '10 Sanzenbacher led with 948 (17.2) while Posey was #2 (848, 16.0). TE Jake Stoneburner (PS#4) was on pace for the most rec's by a TE under former HC Jim Tressel until an inj (#3, 222, 10.6). LY they had to replace Sanzenbacher and Posey was susp for the first 10. The WR's lacked exp (2 So, 2 rFr, 2 Fr), big play ability and battled inj (just 1 ret WR ply'd in all 13). True frosh Devin Smith (PS#36) led with a paltry 294 (21.0) while soph Corey "Philly" Brown (PS#18) was #2 (205, 14.6) despite missing 4. Stoneburner had 7 td's on his 14 rec. TY they only lose Posey (3 st, 162, 13.5, #3DC HOU) and should have one of the most improved receiving corps in the country.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '10 the Bucks had 93 car sts back and improved to 220 ypg rush with their 5.2 ypc being OSU's best in over 2 decades (22 sks, 6.3%) as Pryor's mobility helped. LY they had to replace two 3Y st'rs (1st Tm B10 LG) and 2 bkps. They had 77 car sts ret but did not have 1st Tm B10 LT Mike Adams for the first 5. Despite still having a mobile QB, the unit allowed 46 sks (18.8%!) and dropped to 191 ypg (4.4), their fewest ypg s/'06 and lowest ypc s/'04. TY they lose 2nd Tm B10 LT Adams (8 st, 2Y st'r, #2DC PIT), C Mike Brewster (13 st, 4Y st'r, 1st Tm AA '10, 2nd Tm B10 '11) and RT JB Shugarts (12 st, 3Y st'r). They drop to 42 car sts but have 5 VHT's that have st'd and could improve after underperforming LY.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '10 the Buckeyes had an inexperienced line but still fared well allowing just 97 ypg (3.1) but with just 23 sks (fewest in over a decade). LY they had to replace 2 st'rs incl the 3rd OSU DL in 2 yrs to be drafted by the Steelers (#1DC) prompting PIT HC Mike Tomlin to remark that OSU's D is the closest in the college game to what the Steelers run. Top DE Nathan Williams was OFY after 1 st and Urban Meyer called him a great player and the D's heart and soul. It wasn't your typical OSU season LY as the Bucks yielded 142 ypg rush (3.8, 23 sk). This year the only loss is Solomon Thomas (4 tkl) and they get Williams back so after having their worst ypg rush D s/'99 (160 ypg), this figures to be a vastly improved def front with 3 VHT st'rs and a 317 lb NT as well as the addition of 4 of my top 15 DL freshmen.

LINEBACKERS - Last year OSU had to replace their #1 and #2 tkl'rs (both #6DC's). They ret'd their #9 tkl'r along with Etienne Sabino who RS in '10. The 3 st'rs were PS#7, PS#7 and PS#13. OSU all'd 21.0 ppg, their most s/'99. TY they lose 2nd Tm B10 Andrew Sweat (11 st, #2 tkl'r, 5 tfl), STAR Tyler Moeller (10 st, 44 tkl, 2 tfl) and Nate Oliver (7 tkl). Ryan Shazier st'd the last 3 earning B10 Fr POW with 15 tkl vs Penn St in his 1st start (#6 tkl'r). He joins Sabino and Storm Klein (#5 and #9 tkl'rs) making this unit more exp'd and I also look for a bigger impact from PS#1 Curtis Grant (2 tkl true) who impressed in spring getting the bulk of reps at MLB.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - Since '97 OSU has had seven #1DC DB's with 24 drafted overall. Even in a year like '06 when they had to replace all 4 st'rs (#1, #3, #4DC's), OSU still finished #12 in my PDR (10-21 ratio). They lost #1 and #4 DC's in '09 but finished #12 (10-24 ratio). In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs (#7DC) and improved to #5 (54%, 9-19) despite having 4 S's OFY by Halloween. LY they had to replace a 1st Tm AA CB (#4DC) and 2 other st'rs (#3 and #4 tkl'rs, #5DC). They also dealt with some susp and inj issues and actually fell to #63, their lowest s/'99! TY they lose CB Dominic Clarke (2 st, 12 tkl) but return all 4 st'rs and should have one of the nation's most improved PDR's.

SPECIAL TEAMS - Tressel always put a premium on ST play so it was surprising they finished #41 and #49 his last 2 yrs after finishes like #1 in '04 and #5 in '08. LY they only had to replace their K. Soph Drew Basil (PS#8) missed his first 2 FG but had OSU's 3rd longest streak (Mike Nugent 24 '01-'02 & Vlade Janakievski 15, '79-'80) with 12 str ending on a 50 yd att (16-19 yr). Basil did have a key xp blk'd vs Purdue. Ben Buchanan (34.3 net '10) improved to avg 41.3 (37.4 net) in '11. OSU was +3.6 yds on PR and +4.4 yds on KR diff. Fickell did a good job moving them to #31. ST's stalwart Nate Ebner (11 tkl, #6DC NE) departs, but with all of the top players back they will contend for the top spot.

COACHES - In his 2nd yr Jim Tressel became the 1st cch to win an NCAA Title at both the IAA and IA levels. He had DD wins in 8 of his last 9 yrs. A 5 game susp for '11 turned into a coaching change on Memorial Day. DC Luke Fickell was named the interim HC and OSU finished with a losing record for the 1st time s/'88. Despair turned into enthusiasm when Ohio native Urban Meyer was named HC. Meyer has a pair of Nat'l Titles during his tenure at Fla ('05-'10) as well as going 22-2 at Utah ('03-'04) and 17-6 at BG ('01-'02). Fickell (here s/'02) was retained as co-DC and will be joined by Everett Withers who was NC's DC s/'08 and also the Tar Heels interim HC LY. OC Tom Herman's previous stops incl OC at Iowa St ('09-'11), Rice ('07-'08) and Tex St ('05-'06). Ed Warinner is the co-OC after spending 2Y at ND (OL, run gm coor) and 5Y at Kansas (OC L/3).

PHIL'S FORECAST

Ohio St actually finished outside of the AP Top 25 for 3 str yrs prior to '02. I rated Ohio St #7 in '02 which was far higher than almost every other source. I called them my #1 Surprise Team (dark horse contender for the Nat'l Title) while only 2 other magazines even picked OSU to win the B10. OSU took home their first Nat'l Title s/'68 (Woody Hayes' 3rd) when they defeated Miami. Since then, OSU has finished in the AP Top 5 six of L/9Y. Prior to LY the other 2 non-top 5 finishes were #9 and #20. They played for the Nat'l Title in '06 and '07 but lost to two SEC schools. They had lost 3 str BCS bowls but defeated Oregon in the '09 Rose Bowl finishing #5. In '10 OSU got to #1 but lost at Wisc and finished 12-1 (#5) after beating an SEC tm (Ark) in the Sugar Bowl. OSU finished in a 3-way tie for tops in the B10 (+164 ypg, #1 by far), the 6th str time they won at least a share of the B10 Title. In '10 OSU benefitted from +15 in TO's, 2 net close wins, had just 7 sts lost to inj and an off ypp of 11.6. LY AFTER I wrote the magazine, Tressel was fired and OSU was the lead story on ESPN on almost a daily basis. Luke Fickell became the 1st OSU HC s/Woody to win his first gm by a shutout. OSU played 12 true frosh in the opener (3rd most FBS) as depth became as issue (a lot of susp). They barely escaped Tol, 27-22. After they were whipped by Miami, 24-6 they dropped out of the polls for the 1st time s/'04 ending the nation's longest poll streak (103 wks). After beating Colo, they only got a late td to avoid a home shutout vs Mich St. They led Neb 27-6 in the 3Q but QB Miller was inj'd and Bauserman hit just 1-10 and OSU lost by 7. They knocked off a #16, 6-0 Illinois tm on the road and then upset #12 Wisc 33-29 in a rare role as HD. After a lackluster win over Ind, they got a td with :55 left for the apparent win vs Pur but the xp was blk'd and they lost in OT. They had no shot at the B10 Title and Penn St, in their first road gm after Paterno was let go, won 20-14. Braxton Miller had a fine reg ssn finale at Mich 2 days before they hired Urban Meyer but they came up 6 pts short. In the bowl OSU had a 299-263 yd edge but they allowed 2 ST td's and lost 24-17 (first losing ssn s/'88, 3rd s/'60). OSU was -45.5 ypg in B10 play (4th worst). OSU will be ineligible for the Leaders Title due to their NCAA mandated 1 yr bowl ban. Meyer did bring in a great recruiting class and LY's tm had 4 net close losses, has a +5.5 in my Stock Market Indicator (pg 27) and TY has 15 ret sts with no further susp looming over their heads. OSU makes both my Most Improved and Surprise Team lists.

ILLINOIS FIGHTING ILLINI

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In '10 UI had to replace their career total off leader, Juice Williams. RFr Nathan Scheelhaase (PS#19) beat out 2 QB's with some exp in the spg. Then-OC Paul Petrino compared Scheelhaase to L'ville's QB Stefan LeFors (led the NCAA pass eff '04). Scheelhaase is athletic, moves well in the pocket and is accurate on short to medium range passes but lacks an NFL arm. He had the fewest comp of any full-time B10 QB but also had the 2nd most rush yds and was named B10 Fr of Wk 6x. He threw for 1,825 (59%, 17-8) and was their #2 rusher (868, 4.7). Despite a tired arm Scheelhaase had a 13-1 ratio in the L/7 gms. LY I proj'd true frosh Reilly O'Toole (PS#32, powerful arm) to win the #2 spot. Scheelhaase had a 10-3 ratio in the first 6 (#5 NCAA pass eff) but threw for just 122 ypg over the final 6 reg ssn gm (2-4 ratio). O'Toole saw increased action during the 6 gm losing streak playing in 10 (270, 59.7%, 1-4). Scheelhaase finished with 2,110 (63.2%, 13-8, 624 rush). TY both return in a different system but probably will not suffer LY's 2H dropoff and I will call for improved production.

RUNNING BACKS - In '07 Rashard Mendenhall (PS#8) added 20 lbs and became Illinois' first 1,000 yd rusher s/'02 while earning the Illini's first ever Big Ten Off MVP with 1,681 (6.4). He broke the school's single season rush record (Antoineo Harris 1,330, '02). Mendenhall was the first IL #1DC RB since Jim Grabowski (1966). In '08 and '09 Mikel Leshoure (PS#63), Jason Ford (PS#32) and Daniel Dufrene split the RB duties along with Troy Pollard (PS#66). In '10 Leshoure (734, 6.8 '09) dropped 7 lbs (4.2% body fat) and had nine 100 yd gms, the most in school history. He became Illinois' second 1st Tm All-Big Ten RB in the L25Y. He was the #3 rec and set a new record with 1,697 (6.0) while Ford was the #2 RB (480, 4.8). Ford lost weight to become the feature back LY but led the RB's with just 600 (3.9). Pollard was #2 (475, 7.2) and true frosh Donovonn Young (PS#190) was #3 (451, 5.2). Despite the loss of Ford (8 st), Pollard (3 st) and FB Jay Prosch (5 st), I look for increased production from the unit in '12.

RECEIVERS - In '10 UI had to replace 3 st'rs from this unit with all 3 making NFL rosters. AJ Jenkins (PS#54), who had 410 (19.5) in '08 and '09 comb'd, led with 746 (13.3), Florida transfer Jarred Fayson (PS#9) was #2 with 355 (9.3) and TE Evan Wilson was #4 (135, 13.5). LY they only had to replace Fayson and Jenkins set a schl record with 268 yds vs NW (David Williams, 208 vs NW '84). After avg 136 ypg in the first 6, D's adjusted their coverages and Jenkins (1276, 14.2) avg 66 ypg in the L/7, finishing 2 yds shy of Williams' ssn yd record. Two soph's followed in Darius Millines (218, 11.5) who missed 4 with inj and Spencer Harris (226, 8.7). This year they lose Jenkins to the NFL (#1DC SF) along with Fred Sykes (5 st, 3 rec). New HC Beckman was concerned about the unit's lack of playmakers in the spg and added in QB Miles Osei along with potential 2 way players Terry Hawthorne, Justin Green and Jack Ramsey. With the loss of a guy who had over 5 times the yards of the #2 rec, I figure this unit will drop off some in '12.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '10 Illinois had to replace a 2nd Tm B10 G (#3DC) and one other starter. They improved to 246 ypg (5.2) with 25 sks (8.8%). In '11 they had to replace 2 st'rs but ret'd 4 who had 6+ sts in '10 with 69 car sts (40 in '10). The unit was actually one of the Illini's problem areas. Even with a mobile QB, the numbers dropped to 172 ypg rush (4.1) with 36 sks (9.9%). Their top G Hugh Thornton, missed 2 (inj). TY they lose 2nd Tm Big Ten LT Jeff Allen (13 st, 4Y st'r, #2DC KC) and RG Jack Cornell (13 st, 2Y st'r). While learning new schemes, this unit is on par with LY in terms of exp (68 car sts) and should improve after underachieving in '11.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '09 the Illini had to replace 3 st'rs and had their worst totals in 5 yrs (154 ypg rush, 4.2, 19 sk). In '10 they had to replace 4 DL (comb 38 sts). Their 2 most exp'd DL each had just 6 career sts. Thanks to a rededication to conditioning, Corey Liuget blossomed into perhaps the Big Ten's top DT. Illinois improved to allowing 131 (3.9), their best ypg s/'06 with 23 sks. LY they had to replace 1st Tm B10 DT Liuget (#1DC) and a starting DE but did return 4 who comb'd for 26 sts. Another DL blossomed into an NFL DC in Whitney Mercilus who set a B10 ssn record with 9 FF and led the FBS in sks (16). UI improved to allowing 124 ypg. The 3.1 ypc was their best s/'93 and they had a schl record 41 sks. TY they do lose Mercilus (#1DC HOU), DT Wisdom Onyegbule (6 tkl, 1 sk) and Craig Wilson (1 tkl) but return 3 full-time st'rs (Buchanan had 7.5 sk LY) and 2 DL could emerge TY as NT Akeem Spence also turned down the NFL making this unit more exp'd.

LINEBACKERS - From '06-'08 an Illinois MLB led the B10 in tkl/gm. They had 1 st'r back in '09 and Zook said if Martez Wilson (#3 tkl'r '08) did not lead the Big Ten in tkls, their D would be in trouble. Wilson was OFY after 1 start (9 tkl) so their st'rs consisted of a rFr, 2 soph (12 car tkl) and a conv S as six diff LB's st'd. In '10 the top 6 ret'd (#1, #4, #5 tkl'rs) along with Wilson. The exp'd LB corps spearheaded a D which cut the ypg and ppg by 52 and 6.7. The staff was high on '10's freshmen LB class of Jonathan Brown, Houston Bates and Ernest Thomas. LY they had to replace 1st Tm B10 MLB Wilson (#1 tkl'r, #3DC), their #2 tkl'r (#7DC) and 2 bkp (29 tkl). Brown emerged (108 tkl, 19.5 tfl) and looks like the next great Illini LB. TY they lose MLB Ian Thomas (13 st, #2 tkl'r, 10.5 tfl) and SLB Trulon Henry (10 st, #10 tkl, 3.5 tfl). UI improved again to all'g 19.6 ppg and while equal to LY in exp, this time they have their top guy back (Brown moves to MLB) so the unit looks stronger.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - In '09 true frosh Terry Hawthorne (PS#4) got Illinois' first pick six s/'06 but the unit's 5 int's tied for fewest in the NCAA (#90 PDR). In '10 they had to replace 3 DB (comb 28 sts) then lost proj starting S Supo Sanni in Aug. With 2 st'rs back, they still improved to #53. Last year they had to replace 1 st'r and with 7 of the top 8 back and with a stronger front 7, the Illini moved all the way up to #22 (54.9%, 15-10). TY they lose CB Tavon Wilson (13 st, #3 tkl'r, 7 pd, #2DC NE) and again have 7 of the top 8 back.

SPECIAL TEAMS - ST were a sore spot under Ron Zook despite the fact that he was an NFL ST coach (PIT). In his first 6 yrs the Illini finished just #111, #116, #42, #95, #110 and #29 in my ST rankings. LY they only had to replace their P and their 2 P's comb to avg 38.6 (tm net 35.7). Derek Dimke had 16 TB on 57 KO and hit 10-12 FG's (L49) but missed the gm tying 42 yd'r on the last play vs Penn St. The return game was horrendous (#120 KR, #118 PR) and they finished #110 in my rankings. TY they lose their lone bright spot in Dimke but there is really only one way to go in the rankings.

COACHES - Ron Zook's high point was a Rose Bowl trip in '07 but despite making a bowl LY he was let go after 7 yrs. Tim Beckman is UI's 23rd HC as he comes over from Toledo (HC '09-'11). Prior to that he was the Okla St DC ('07-'08), the Ohio St CB cch ('05-'06) and the BG DC ('98-'04). The offense will be run by co-OC's. The pass game will be led by Billy Gonzales (LSU WR's '10-'11, Fla '05-'09, Utah '03-'04, BG '01-'02). Chris Beatty was at Vanderbilt LY (WR cch) and at WV (RB/slot rec's cch '08-'10), NIU (RB cch '07) and Hampton (OC '06). The new DC is Tim Banks (DC at Cincy '10-'11, C Mich '07-'09).

PHIL'S FORECAST

Illinois has won 15 Big Ten Titles including 2001 (1st s/'90) when they went a stunning 10-1. They were ranked #7 before losing in the Sugar Bowl. Illinois was just 13-45 the next 5 yrs and finished above .500 in Big Ten play just once ('01) from 1995-'06. In '07 I called the Illini my #2 Most Improved Team. In '06 they were 2-10 but outgained foes by 56 ypg and were -15 in TO's and had 3 net close losses. The Illini did not disappoint me. They got their first win over a #1 team s/'56 when they upset Ohio St in Columbus. Illinois, which had a comb'd 8 wins the previous 4 yrs, won 9 and got to the Rose Bowl (1st time s/'83). In '08 I did not have Illinois ranked in my preseason Top 50 but they were #20 AP. Illinois was picked 3rd by the Big Ten media. Illinois had not had B2B winning seasons s/'89-'90 and went just 5-7. In '09 many factors pointed towards improvement but the Illini struggled through a 3-9 season (only -42 ypg Big Ten). In '10 they only had to replace 16 lett (fewest B10) and avoided Iowa and Wisc and I put them #19 on my Most Improved List. They brought in OC Paul Petrino and DC Vic Koenning. The offense had a 3 gm streak (longest s/'83) of scoring 40+. Illinois lived up to my expectations and a bowl win over RG3 and Baylor had them finish 7-6 for their 2nd winning record in 9 yrs. Illinois did have 2 net close losses and their +48 ypg in Big Ten play was 3rd best (even better than 7-1 Mich St). LY I thought they were a stronger tm and forecasted that they would top '10's 7 win total. That prediction looked like a slam dunk when they opened 6-0 for the first time s/'51. They did have three straight 3 pt wins in beating Ariz St 17-14 (outgained 362-240), W Mich 23-20 (trailed 13-10 at HT) and NW 38-35. IL trailed the Cats 28-10 in the 3Q but the Illini got a td with :18 left. They were sky high for their HG vs a beleaguered Ohio St tm and the Buckeyes hit just 1-4 passes but won 17-7. UI must have been let down after that outcome and lost to PU (trail 21-0 4Q). In the snow at Penn St they had a 286-209 yd edge and led 7-3 when PSU got a 4&6 PI call for a FD then got a td with 1:08 left for the lead. UI had a FG bounce off the upright at the end. After a bye they hosted #22 Mich with a chance to turn their ssn around but UI was outgained 249-30 at half and lost by 17. They outgained Wisc 224-93 at the half but only led 17-7. Turnovers and a botched punt set up Wisc for td drives of 44, 39, 30 and 2 yds and UI lost. The final straw for Ron Zook came when they trailed lowly Minn 20-0 at half being outgained 217-18 in a 20 pt loss. A pair of interim HC's squared off for the bowl and Koenning led UI past UCLA (326-219 yd edge). They were the first tm in B10 hist to start 6-0 and finish the reg ssn 0-6. New HC Tim Beckman inherits 14 ret sts incl QB Scheelhaase. While the Illini were just 2-6 in the Big Ten, but were +31.4 ypg (4th best). They were -6 in TO's and had a 15.7 off ypp (see pg 309). Illinois should be able to make it to a 3rd straight bowl.

PURDUE BOILERMAKERS

WR/KR Raheem Mostert

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - Curtis Painter departed in '08 as PU's #2 career passer. In '09 long time bkp Joey Elliott became just the 7th Boilers QB in the 3,000 yd club (3026, 62%, 22-13) joining Painter, Drew Brees, Jim Everett, Mark Herrmann, Billy Dicken and Kyle Orton. In '10 they added transfer Robert Marve (PS#12, 11 st Mia Fla '08). PU ended up starting 4 diff QB's due to inj's. Marve was lost in Wk 4 (ACL) while '09 bkp Caleb TerBush was lost in Aug (acad) so the mobile rFr Rob Henry (4.55 spd) took over. Henry, who was most effective running the zone read option, ran for 132 in his first start vs NW. He severely cut his finger vs Ohio St (gm 7) which made it tough to grip the ball so his passing was limited. Sean Robinson (PS#33) burned his RS vs OSU and started 1 (301, 48%, 2-6). Due to the inj's WR Justin Siller became the 4th QB to start (Mich, gm 10) but was lost after 1 play. Henry st'd the final 2 and on the ssn threw for 996 (53%, 8-7) and was the #1 rusher (547, 5.3) while Marve threw for 512 (68%, 3-4). The tm's 151 ypg passing was their fewest s/'59. LY Henry, the proj'd st'r, tore his ACL in Aug and with Marve not 100%, TerBush st'd and led the game winning TD drive vs MT in the opener. He almost led a game winning drive for a FG against Rice but it was blk'd. When Marve ret'd he began sharing reps with TerBush scoring the GW td in OT vs OSU. Despite being less than 100% he played in 10 (633, 56%, 4-5). TerBush led with 1,905 (61.7%, 13-6). TY the 3 (Henry incl) will battle it out and they also signed PS#49, 52, 53 and 68 QB's! Provided they can stay healthy, PU figures to get their best QB play in a couple of years.

RUNNING BACKS - In '08 Kory Sheets became the 6th Boiler RB to top 1,000 with 1,131 (4.8) and he left as the #2 career rusher. Ralph Bolden took charge in '09 and with a hamstring inj in Wk 12 just missed 1,000 (935, 4.7). In '10 Bolden was lost in the spring (ACL) and the unit was then hit hard by inj's. QB Rob Henry was the leading rusher and short ydg specialist Dan Dierking (PS#45) led all RB's with 530 (4.5). Despite losing their top 2 RB rushers I called for them to improve with Bolden's return LY. Bolden did lead with 674 (4.6) but suffered his 3rd torn ACL (ssn finale). Akeem Hunt (PS#128, 4.33 spd), had 100 in the 2H vs Ind and finished #3 with 287 (8.7). Akeem Shavers (2 st, 519, 4.7) suffered a conc vs Iowa and had just 74 in the final 6 reg ssn gms but had 149 in the bowl to finish #2. This year all 3 return. Bolden had another surgery in Jan and his participation level for this year was ? in spg. PU had just three 100 yd gms last year but I look for the rush numbers to improve for a 5th straight year.

RECEIVERS - In '09 Purdue had to replace their top 2 rec and their leading returnee was Keith Smith who was #3 in '08 (486, 9.9). HC Hope said after spring that half of his WR's were still in HS. Smith, however, became just the 10th Boiler to top 1,000 (1100, 12.1). In '10 Hope did say PU had 4 good WR's for the first time in 10-15 yrs. That depth would be sorely tested. With the RB inj's, they moved Keith Carlos to RB. Smith had 18 rec's before tearing his ACL in the 2nd game. Justin Siller was also limited, playing in just 5 (inj, 104, 8.7). LY they had to replace 3 of their top 4 as well as Smith. Siller was #2 with 474 (9.5). Their leading returnee was Antavian Edison (316, 9.9 '10) and he led with 584 (13.3). OJ Ross added 356 (10.8) and speedster Gary Bush had 310 (10.7). Boiler TE's had not caught a TD pass since the 1Q of the '07 Motor City Bowl before Gabe Holmes got one in '11. TY they lose Siller (13 st) and Waynelle Gravesande (18 rec) but are much more exp'd as long as Ross' and Edison's off-field issues are resolved.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '10 Purdue had to replace 3 st'rs but ret'd their top 2 OL in Dennis Kelly and Ken Plue. With more of an emphasis on the run they improved to 161 ypg (4.4, 18 sk). LY they lost RG Plue in Aug so basically 3 st'rs were back (51 car sts). Peters Drey (12 st '10) was OFY after 8 sts. Due to depth issues they moved Kevin Pamphile over from DT in mid Oct. PU had a better ypg rush (182), equal ypc (4.4) but were weaker in sks (29, 7.4%). TY they lose their top OL in LT Kelly (13 st, 3Y st'r, #5DC PHI), RG Nick Mondek (13 st, 2Y st'r, #6DC HOU), Plue and LG James Shepherd (5 st). They once again have 3 st'rs back (49 car sts) and add in a 6'7" PS#32JC. Even with the loss of their top guy, the OL could improve if they maintain better health.

DEFENSIVE LINE - This unit was dubbed the "Den of DE's" under Tiller with 10 earning an NFL paycheck. In '09 they had to replace 2 st'rs (#3DC) and PU allowed 173 ypg (4.4) with 32 sks. In '10 they had to replace a #2DC DT but had 3 st'rs back. The Boilers improved to 138 ypg rush and their 3.6 ypc was their best in 5 yrs (33 sks best 6 yrs). LY they lost their star, 1st Tm AA Ryan Kerrigan (#1DC, 12.5 sk) but had 6 of their top 8 back. Kerrigan's pressure was missed as the DE's had a comb 6 sks, their fewest s/'95! DT Kawann Short (1st Tm B10) is 310 lbs but very athletic and emerged with 6.5 sks incl 3 in the upset of OSU. The line did get banged up with DE Robert Maci and DT Ryan Isaac combining for 13 gms and the numbers slipped to 175 ypg rush (4.3, 22 sks). TY they lose DE Gerald Gooden (12 st, 37 tkl, 3 sk, 6 tfl, 2 int) but have 7 of the top 8 back including 4 with 7+ sts. Short should be one of the best DL's in the B10 and I'll call this a much improved group.

LINEBACKERS - Last year the Boilers had to replace 1 st'r (#7 tkl'r) but had 5 of their top 6 back (#2, #3 tkl'rs) and Hope called top bkp Will Lucas one of their top 3 defensive players in '10. The LB's finished #1, #2 and #3 in tkls and PU improved from 28.8 ppg to 26.8. TY they again lose 1 st'r in Joe Holland (13 st, #1, 10.5 tfl, 9 pd, 1 int) and bkps Chris Carlino (2 st, 28 tkl) and DeVarro Greaves (6 tkl). Dwayne Beckford (#2 tkl'r) was susp in spring but Hope was optimistic that he would return. Even with the loss of their #1 tkl'r, I'll call this unit on par with last year in experience and talent and they add in former QB Sean Robinson (PS#33).

DEFENSIVE BACKS - PU was #42 and #31 in my PDR in '07 and '08. In '09 with 3.5 st'rs back they climbed to their best finish of the decade at #21. In '10 the losses were heavy (4 st'rs) as 3 of the 4 new starters had a comb 4 tkls in '09. Naturally, PU fell all the way down to #100 (66%, 23-10). LY 7 of the top 8 were back and Hope called the secondary the strength of the team. PU moved up to #68 (57.9%, 17-12). TY they lose FS Albert Evans (13 st, 73 tkl, 2 int, 4 pbu), SS Logan Link (8 st, 55 tkl, 2 pbu) and CB Charlton Williams (3 tkl). Despite being a little less exp'd, they do have 35 sts ret from LY and should continue their upward trend in my PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - Purdue finished #4 in my ST rankings in '07 but fell to #96, #92 and #79 in the next 3 years. LY Hope said he wanted Carson Wiggs (schl rec 59 yd FG '09) to set the NCAA record for longest FG (67 yd FG in spg). Wiggs hit 19-25 (L53) and had 24 TB on 71 KO's. Webster and Wiggs split the punting duties and they had a solid tm net of 38.1 with 28 I20. Raheem Mostert avg 33.5 on 25 KR's as PU set a schl record, avg 28.7 (#1 FBS). PU moved up to #18. TY they lose Wiggs (did sign PS#3K) but even with Mostert and Webster back, they might drop a few notches.

COACHES - Danny Hope took over in '09 and was previously EKU's HC from '03-'07 (35-22). Hope was PU's OL coach under Tiller from '97-'01. OC Gary Nord was the HC at UTEP ('00-'03) and the OC at Fla Atl from '05-'08 (also OC L'ville & Okla). After having different co-DC's the L2Y Hope brought in Tim Tibesar. His unusual resume includes being a CFL asst for 3 yrs and Montreal's DC LY (Kansas St DC '07-'08).

PHIL'S FORECAST

Purdue's last outright Big Ten Title came in 1929 although they've shared the crown 6 times since then. Joe Tiller guided the tm to 10 bowls in 12 yrs. He announced that '08 would be his final year and that Danny Hope would be his successor. The Boilers had just 12 ret sts (2nd fewest B10). They lost to #16 Oregon in 2OT and outgained Ohio St 298-222 in Columbus but lost. PU was down to their 3rd string QB at one point and went from 8-5 in '07 to just 4-8. They did send Tiller out on a winning note destroying Ind 62-10 in his FHG. Despite a 2-6 Big Ten record, Purdue was +42.1 ypg (#6) and had 42 sts lost. PU's D allowed just 318 ypg in Big Ten play (4th best) and had 8 of the top 10 tkl'rs back. All of those signs pointed towards improvement and they came very close to a winning season in Hope's debut. They beat #7 Ohio St but had 5 losses by 7 or less and finished 5-7. That '09 team was +22 ypg in the Big Ten and had 4 net close losses. In '10 they avoided Iowa and Penn St but had just 11 ret sts. They lost their top RB Bolden in the spring, QB Marve after 4 sts and their top off player WR Smith after 2 gms, leaving a patchwork offense. The defense slipped to allowing 379 ypg in Big Ten play. PU finished just 4-8 and their -99 ypg was the worst in the Big Ten. They had 32 sts lost due to inj. LY PU had 14 ret sts and made my coveted Most Improved List meaning I thought they would go to a bowl. Things didn't start out great as vs MTSt they got a 35 yd td pass with :49 left and then needed to blk a 47 yd FG at home to win 27-24. They lined up for a 31 yd winning FG but it was blk'd by Rice. After beating SEM they were 2-1 but got waxed by ND (551-276 yds), 38-10. PU then blasted Minn 45-17 to move to 3-2 but their next 4 opp were a comb 22-1 at that point. They almost upset Penn St on the road losing by 5, missing a 2 pt conv down 20-18. PU caught Ill off a big loss vs Ohio St and in a circle the wagons game, beat them, 21-14. They were crushed at Michigan (36-14) then throttled at Wisc, 62-17 to fall to 4-5. In the key play of their season, Ohio St scored an apparent game winning td with :55 left but PU blk'd the xp and won it in OT. Iowa came in and beat them 31-21 (outgained 408-282). They beat rival Indy 33-25 to secure their first bowl under Hope. In the bowl PU was +3 in TO's, had 23 pts set up by the ST's and beat WM 37-32 to go 7-6. This year they have 15 ret sts but were -47.3 ypg in B10 play (3rd worst) and had 2 net close wins. This is Hope's best tm yet but it will be tough to top last year's 7 win total.

PENN ST NITTANY LIONS

LB Michael Mauti

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In 2010 the Lions had to replace their #3 career passer, Daryll Clark who finished with 6 PSU records including pass yds (3,003) and td's (24) in a season in '09. Three QB's saw action in true frosh Rob Bolden (PS#5), ex-walk on Matt McGloin (PS#171) and dual threat Kevin Newsome (PS#10). Bolden (1360 yds) had the highest comp % (58%) but with a 5-7 ratio. McGloin threw for 1,548 (55%, 14-9) while starting 5. Newsome hit 6-13. LY it appeared to be a 4 man race but rFr Paul Jones (PS#7) missed the year (acad) and Newsome transferred. Bolden threatened to transfer as well which is perhaps why he started the first 7 even though McGloin seemed to be more effective. The Lions first td passes were vs EM (Wk4) and their 10 td passes on the ssn were the fewest among bowl teams. McGloin started the final 5 reg ssn gms before missing the bowl and threw for 1,571 (54.1%, 8-5). Bolden threw for 685 (39.3%, 2-7) including a dreadful 7-26 for 137 yds (1-3 ratio) in the bowl. Walk-on Shane McGregor (6'1" 200 Sr) hit 1-4 passes. PSU used the Wildcat effectively vs Ohio St (65, 9.3) with Wildcat QB's Curtis Drake and Bill Belton running the show (239 rush, 6.1). Everyone is back and they will easily top 2011's 48.1% (also worst among bowl tms) and their 10-12 ratio.

RUNNING BACKS - LY PSU had to replace their career leading rusher Evan Royster (#6DC). Royster said that Silas Redd (PS#10), who was #2 in '10 with 437 (5.7) would break his record. Even with the loss of their 3x 1,000 yd rusher, I said this unit could be more productive. They also ret'd Stephfon Green (4.3 spd) who rushed for 578 (5.5) in '08, 319 (4.5) and 188 (3.9) in '10. Green was in Paterno's doghouse and finished with 266 (4.4) in 8 gms incl 17-71 vs Neb with Redd inj'd while FB Zach Zwinak (6'1" 226 So) tore his ACL. Redd led with 1,241 (5.1). Soph Curtis Dukes (PS#40, 242 lbs) was #3 with 237 (5.8) and is known for his yards after contact. TY they lose Green and FB Joe Suhey (9 st, 162 ttl yd) but Redd should be one of the Big Ten's best RB's.

RECEIVERS - In '09 PSU had to replace their #2 and #3 career rec's. 6'5" Derek Moye (4.38 spd) led with 785 (16.4). In '10 they had 2 TE's drafted and the only exp'd TE was inj in Aug. Moye led again with 885 (16.7). Justin Brown (PS#20) had 452 (13.7) while their fastest rec, Devon Smith, had 363 (13.4). LY they had to replace their #2 rec. Moye looked to be headed for a big season with 485 (17.3) after 6 but broke his foot and while he finished #1, it was with just 654 (16.4). Brown finished #2 with 517 (14.8) and Smith was #3 (402, 16.1). This year they lose Moye (10 st, new #3 car rec) and TE Andrew Szczerba (8 st, 101, 8.4). WR's Christian Kuntz (6'4" 222 Jr, PS#121) and Alex Kenney (6'0" 193 So, PS#36) are also in the mix after impressive springs. The rec's could actually be stronger as Moye was not 100% and the TE's will be used a lot more in HC O'Brien's offense.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '10 PSU had to replace a 3rd Tm AA LT but had 3 st'rs back. Surprisingly, the more veteran unit only opened holes for 143 ypg (4.1) but did allow a paltry 12 sks (2.8%). They did lose their RT (13 st '09) after 4 sts (ACL) and DeOn'tae Pannell (7 st '09) only st'd 2 so they essentially had three 1st time st'rs with 4 playing diff positions than the year before. LY they had to replace a 1st Tm B10 RG (#2DC) and their C (13 st) but had 52 car sts back. All 5 OL st'd all 13. PSU increased their rushing numbers with 165 ypg (4.2) and led the B10 in fewest sacks all'd with just 14 (3.7%). TY they lose LG Johnnie Troutman (13 st, 3Y st'r, #5DC SD), RT Chima Okoli (13 st, 2Y st'r), LT Quinn Barham (13 st, 2Y st'r) and RG Pannel (13 st, 2Y st'r). Just 17 car sts return (#121 FBS) so they are a lot less exp'd and in a new system.

DEFENSIVE LINE - Penn St had not allowed over 94 ypg rush in the 5 yrs prior to '10 thanks in part to this unit. In '10 they had to replace Jared Odrick (#1DC) who was the Big Ten's first interior DL to win the DPOY award s/'93. They had 31 sts and 18.5 sks back, but it surprised me that they "only" had 5 VHT's. The unit was hit hard by inj's with 2 ret sts comb for just 10 sts. PSU shockingly all'd 166 ypg (4.5, 17 sk), their worst numbers s/'03. LY they had to replace 2 st'rs but I said they should return to previous standards. DT Devon Still was PSU's 5th B10 DPOY and the Lions improved to 133 ypg (3.6) with 31 sks. TY they lose 1st Tm AA Still (13 st, 55 tkl, 4.5 sk, 12.5 tfl, #2DC CIN), 2nd Tm B10 DE Jack Crawford (13 st, 40 tkl, 6.5 sk, #5DC OAK) and DE Eric Latimore (7 st, 18 tkl, 3 sk). They have 5 of the top 8 back plus get back '10 st'r Pete Massaro (ACL '11). This group is on par with '11 in terms of exp, but with the loss of Still I'll call them down a notch.

LINEBACKERS - "Linebacker U" has had 7 drafted in the last 5 yrs including 3 in '10 (#2, #3, #7 DC's). In '10 this unit's inexp (7 st, 68 tkl ret) and inj's likely had something to do with the Lions' uncharacteristically porous rush D. True frosh Khairi Fortt (PS#5) was impressive despite stingers. The top 2, Michael Mauti (ankle/shoulder) and Gerald Hodges (leg), battled inj. LY they had to replace 2 st'rs (#1, #7 tkl'rs) but ret'd their #3 and #5 tkl'rs. I noted the unit was more exp'd and had 8 VHT's in the 3 deep. Despite losing Mauti (#1 tkl'r at time) to an ACL after 4 sts, PSU still improved to 16.8 ppg as Hodges blossomed into a 1st Tm B10 LB. TY they lose Nate Stupar (9 st, #3 tkl'r, 5.5 tfl, 2 int, #7DC OAK). Five of the top 6 are back including their #1 tkl'r Hodges and #4 Glenn Carson. If Mauti returns to form, this is an improved group.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - PSU has had five top 10 finishes in my PDR in the last 15 yrs. In '06 and '09 they had to replace all 4 st'rs but still finished #16 and #23. In '10 they only had to replace 2 (comb 12 st, 57 tkl) so I was stunned to see that Penn St finished #69. LY they had all 4 st'rs back (6 w/6+ sts). I noted that one of the reasons for the decline was that the D went from having 37 sks to just 17 and with a stronger front 7, I expected one of the most improved PDR's in the country. They did move up 48 spots to #21 (55.7%, 12-14). TY they lose 2nd Tm B10 FS Nick Sukay (13 st, #5 tkl'r, 3 int, 8 pbu), HERO Drew Astorino (13 st, #2 tkl'r, 7 pd), CB D'Anton Lynn (11 st, #8 tkl'r, 9 pd) and CB Chaz Powell (12 st, #9 tkl'r, 2 int, 2 pbu). While PSU is replacing all 4 st'rs for the 3rd time in 7 seasons, keep in mind that was in the Paterno/Bradley era and I would expect a large drop in my PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - PSU finished #17 in my ST rankings in '06, #36 in '07 and #4 in '08. In '09 it was their worst ST unit under Paterno (#115) with major gaffes in their losses to Iowa and OSU. In '10 and the Lions rose to #34. LY they only had to replace their K. Anthony Fera (PS#3) avg 41.4 (tm net 36.8) in '10 (19 TB, 49 KO). Fera avg 42.0 (36.2 tm net) and had 10 TB on 45 KO in '11. Paterno was reluctant to have him also handle the K duties but after Evan Lewis and Sam Ficken combined to hit 2-7 in the first 3 gms, Fera hit 14-17 (L46). Chaz Powell avg 27.1 on KR. TY Powell departs but with Fera at K all season they should improve upon LY's #51 finish.

COACHES - Legendary HOF'er Joe Paterno was sadly pushed out of the game by a scandal in Nov 2011, before passing away in Feb 2012. Paterno finished his amazing career with the most career wins (409), most bowl wins (24) and 2 Nat'l Titles. Tom Bradley, who was in his 33rd year at Penn St and 12th as DC, had the unenviable task of taking over as interim HC on Nov 10th and the Lions went 1-3 under him. Bill O'Brien was named HC after a lengthy search process and will serve as his own OC. O'Brien had been on the Patriots staff s/'07 as the QB cch and was the OC LY. He was also a college OC at Duke (05-'06) and GA Tech ('01-'02). The new DC is Ted Roof who was Auburn's DC from '09-'11 but was let go prior to their bowl. He was also Duke's HC from '04-'07 with O'Brien serving as the OC. DL cch Larry Johnson and LB cch Ron Vanderlinden were retained from the previous regime.

PHIL'S FORECAST

Joe Paterno did remarkable things in Happy Valley but PSU actually had 4 losing seasons from 2000-'04. Paterno's squad rebounded with a vengeance in '05 finishing #3 (11-1). The next 2 yrs they finished #24 (9-4 '06) and unranked (9-4 '07). In '08, out of the 14 sources documented by stassen.com, five did not even have the Lions RANKED (#22 AP) and I had the only publication that put them in the Top 10. PSU rose as high as #3 at 9-0 but after a rare bowl loss for Paterno (to USC) they finished #8 yet were #1 in the Big Ten in ypg (+124.2) despite 38 sts lost to inj. In '09 they were #5 when they lost to unranked Iowa at home, 21-10. Later they lost to #15 Ohio St at home 24-7 but after beating LSU, finished #9. It looked like a rebuilding in '10 as they were the first tm in NCAA history to face 3 teams which won BCS bowl gms the previous yr. They had to face all 3 on the road with just 12 ret sts and 20 pts lost in the NFL draft (pg 318). After losing to Florida in the Outback Bowl, the Lions slipped to 7-6. Despite playing my pick for the Nat'l Title (Alabama) in Wk 2 LY, I thought PSU with 14 ret sts had an excellent shot at being 8-1 when they hosted Neb. PSU wasn't blowing out their opp's but did get to 8-1 on Oct 29th when Paterno became the winningest coach in IA history. During the bye week prior to their FHG vs Neb, PSU was ranked #12 when Paterno was fired after the Jerry Sandusky scandal broke. PSU did have a 375-331 yd edge vs NU but was SOD on 4&1 at their own 46 on their final drive and lost by 3. They rebounded to beat Ohio St scoring on their first 3 drives. Little was left in the tank after that and they were whipped by Wisc in the game which decided the Leaders Div. PSU had their worst 2 defensive games in the final 2, perhaps because DC Bradley was now the HC. They allowed 600 yds to UH in the bowl and lost 30-14. PSU finished 9-4 and unranked. Coach Bill O'Brien was hired prior to the Patriots playoff games and stayed on as OC through the Super Bowl. PSU does have just 9 ret sts (fewest B10) and may suffer some attrition due to the coaching change and off-field distractions over the summer. They also had 4 net close wins LY (pg 309). This is obviously a rebuilding year and it will be a fight just to make it back to the post season.

Penn St is a perfect 15-0 vs Indiana. LY was tied 3-3 at HT but PSU broke it open with 13 unanswered while outgaining Indiana 192-34 over a span of 22+ minutes.

Home team is 5-1 & LY's game determined the inaugural Leaders champ. PSU started its

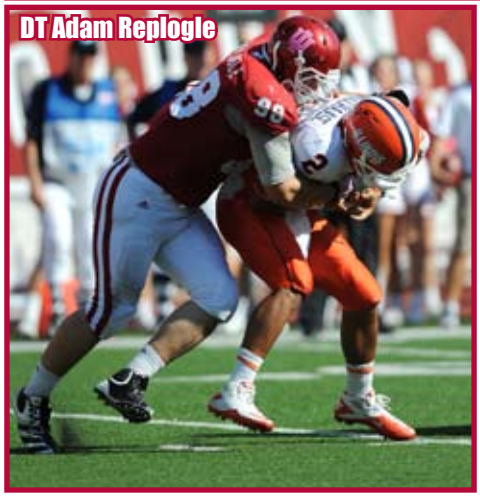
INDIANA HOOSIERS



DT Adam Replogle

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - LY IU had to replace Ben Chappell (PS#44) who threw for IU single ssn records (3,295, 63%, 24-9) and left as their #2 career passer. His bkp in '10 was true frosh Edward Wright-Baker (PS#63, 4.5 spd) who was the perfect fit for the pistol offense. Dusty Kiel (PS#66) hit just 4-17-71 in 5 as a true. LY Wilson called it a 4 man race which incl Sr Teddy Schell (PS#69) and strong armed Jr Adam Follett (PS#103). There was talk of moving speedster true frosh Tre Roberson (PS#59) to another position as Gunner Kiel (PS#1) had committed for '12. By mid Aug, Wilson trimmed it to Kiel, Wright-Baker and Roberson (Mr. Football Ind '10). Wright-Baker and Kiel were listed 1 and 1A but Wright-Baker took all of the snaps in the first 2. Kiel had two 4Q td passes (44 & 67 yd) vs NT. With Wright-Baker inj, Kiel st'd vs Penn St and Indy had a chance to win late. He hit just 6-19-71 yds vs Ill and was inj'd and Roberson hit 11-17-148. Wright-Baker st'd vs Wisc (6-15-54). Versus Iowa Roberson became the Hoosiers' first true frosh QB ever to start with his 197 passing yds (84 rush) being a season high. He started the last 5 and finished #2 in passing (937, 57.0%, 3-6) and rushing (426, 3.9). Despite playing just 6, Wright-Baker led in pass yds (1,029) and Kiel was #3 (427). Operating an offense geared for a high comp %, the QB's comb for just 55.8% (10-11). Gunner signed w/ ND and his brother Dusty and Wright-Baker transferred. They added JC Cameron Coffman (IFS) while Nathan Sudfeld (prototype for the offense) arrives in the fall. This unit is more exp'd and should have improved numbers.

RUNNING BACKS - In '10 I thought Darius Willis (PS#53) had a shot at becoming IU's first 1,000 yd rusher s/'01 (Levron Williams). Willis had 278 yds after 3 sts but was OFY and the leading RB had just 352 (3.4). LY Willis was expected to return but DNP. In spring they had one healthy schlp TB in Nick Turner, and he had just 1 att in 5 gms before quitting. Matt Perez (5'11" 232) became a thick, powerful runner in his RS year. Wilson called him the strongest player on the team (squat 700 lbs) but he only rushed for 195 (3.4). D'Angelo Roberts (PS#76) became the first true frosh to rush for 100 in a gm s/'03 (BenJarvis Green-Ellis). He had 187 in gms 2-4 but got a conc prior to PSU and only topped 11 yds once after and finished #3 (263, 4.3). Over the summer (after my mag was published) they added in PS#128JC Stephen Houston (222 lb). Houston had just 91 after 4 but led with 802 (5.3). He had 135 vs Wisc, 151 vs NW and 129 vs PU. This unit is vastly more experienced and should have much improved numbers.

RECEIVERS - In '10 IU WR's finished #1, #2 and #3 in the Big Ten in rec per gm. LY 2 departed (incl #4DC) but Wilson talked Damarlo Belcher into returning and he was nearing IU's all-time rec record when he was dismissed after 6 gms. He was still #2 (286, 11.4). None of the other Hoosiers WR's had more than a year of exp. Ex-walk-on Dre Muhammad finished #4 (238, 9.2). Duwyce Wilson had 488 (15.2) in '10 but was OFY after 8 (217, 12.8). True frosh speedster Shane Wynn (5'7" 156) was #6 (197, 10.4). Kofi Hughes had 238 in the final 3 and finished #1 (536, 15.3). Hughes is a fast, explosive 6'2" 211 lb WR with a solid football IQ. TY they lose Belcher (6 st), TE Max Dedmond (7 st, 7 rec) and Muhammad (6 st). This unit can only stay healthier and is much more exp'd.

OFFENSIVE LINE - HC Wilson played C at UNC and oversees the front wall in practices giving them, at times, 2 OL coaches. The staff had a new dedication to run blocking which Andrew McDonald said was night and day from '10. In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs (2nd Tm B10 LT, #2DC) and 6 ret w/st exp. Even with 3 st'rs back, the #'s dropped to 100 ypg rush (3.5) but with just 12 sks (2.3%). LY they had 3 st'rs back (71 car st, 54 in '10) but had to learn a new system and Wilson was unhappy with the practice habits and conditioning of the OL. C Will Matte (only plyr not demoted at some pt) only made 9 st (knee). McDonald st'd all 12 but at times they used 3 true frosh incl conv DL Bernard Taylor. They improved to 161 (3.9) but all'd 31 sks (8.2%). TY they lose LT McDonald (12 st, 2Y st'r), RT/RG Justin Pagan (11 st, 3Y st'r), LG Marc Damisch (2 st) and RT Josh Hager (inj'd opener). They ret 58 car sts, are in the 2nd year of the system and should be solidly improved.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '09 with a veteran unit, the Hoosiers allowed 159 ypg rush (4.0) and while those numbers seem weak by Big Ten standards, they were the best here s/'01. In '10 with the loss of their 2 top DL, the numbers dropped to 172 ypg (5.1) with just 15 sks. LY they had to replace 1 st'r but had 5 back w/st exp. With the new staff, DT Mick Mentzer lost his spot (0 st, 11 tkl). It still surprised me that Indy dropped to allowing 244 ypg rush (5.3) with 18 sks. TY they lose DE Darius Johnson (7 st, 31 tkl, 3.5 tfl), Mentzer and DE Fred Jones (3 st, 18 tkl, 2 tfl). This is far from an elite group but it still should have much improved numbers in '12 with 3 st'rs back.

LINEBACKERS - For yrs IU emphasized speed over size at LB but in '09 their st'rs were 231, 236 and 244 lbs. It's not by coincidence they had their best rush D (159 ypg) s/'01. In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs (#1, #3 tkl'r) and a bkp (#9 tkl'r). The unit still had decent size but their overall D numbers dropped. LY they had to replace their #1 tkl'r (heart & soul of D) and a bkp (3 st, 25 tkl). The numbers regressed to 37.3 ppg and 459 ypg. TY they lose MLB Jeff Thomas (11 st, #1 tkl'r, 10.5 tfl), Leon Beckum (6 st, #4 tkl'r, 5.5 tfl) and Brandon McGee (3 st, 17 tkl). The top returnee is Chase Hoobler (8 st, #6 as rFr). This is a less exp'd group which loses its top 2, Indy's def numbers can only improve and they add in 2 JUCO's (VHT and HT) who each won a starting job in the spring.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - In '08 Indiana had to replace their starting CB's (incl Super Bowl XLIV hero Tracy Porter) and then were hit hard by inj's. They were last in the Big Ten in pass D (only 6 int, #105 PDR). In '09 they moved up to #82. In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs and 2 bkps (comb 9 sts, #7 DC). Inj's hit hard again and IU dropped to #116 (66%, 27-8). LY they had to replace 4 who comb for 32 sts but got back Chris Adkins (12 st '08). S Jarrell Drane was lost after 4 sts and the inexp, injury plagued unit finished #113 (59.9%, 26-5). TY they lose Drane (27 tkl,1 pbu), NB/S Donnell Jones (5 st, 40 tkl, 1 pbu) and Adkins (4 st, 35 tkl). This unit is much more exp'd (8 w/multiple sts) and add a VHT JUCO which should help them make a decent climb in my PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - Indiana finished #38 in my ST rankings in '06 and in Bill Lynch's 4 yrs finished #54, #76, #91 and #100. LY they had to replace their top KR (24.8) and PR (7.0) but ret'd their K Mitch Ewald (16-19, L49). P Chris Hagerup quit in Aug and Adam Pines avg 38.4 (35.5 net). Ewald had 8 TB on 50 KO and hit 13-16 FG (L49). IU was -4.0 on KR and -0.8 on PR and they finished just #96. TY they only lose Pines and should have their best ST finish in at least 3 yrs.

COACHES - In '11 Kevin Wilson became IU's 5th HC s/'01 and their 28th overall. Wilson was Okla's OC '02-'10 and also coached at NW ('99-'01) and Miami, Oh ('92-'98). He went with co-OC's his 1st ssn and this year brought in OU grad Seth Littrell who was recently at Arizona ('09-'11, OC LY) and Tex Tech (RB cch '05-'09). The D will continue to be run by co-DC's. Doug Mallory was the DC at NM ('09-10) and co-DC at LSU ('08) along with Mike Ekeler who had been Neb's LB cch ('08-'10).

PHIL'S FORECAST

Indiana got to 6 bowls under the tutelage of Bill Mallory between 1986-'93 but entered '07 having gone through 12 st losing yrs. In Terry Hoeppner's 2nd season ('06) he missed 2 early winnable games (illness) and the team lost both. The Hoosiers got to 5-4 but lost their last 3. In '07 Hoeppner made the team's motto "Play 13" (# of gms if they made a bowl). Hoeppner passed away after courageously battling cancer but the Hoosier players delivered on his goal. They went 7-5 to earn a trip to the Insight Bowl and had 5 All-B10 players (most s/'88). In '08 I had one of the few publications which pegged the Hoosiers for last place in the Big Ten. IU lost their last 3 by an avg of 50-12 and finished last at 1-7 (-177.3 ypg, avg B10 loss 41-15). In '09 they had a more veteran squad. Bill Lynch suffered some tough losses as they outplayed Mich (467-372 yds), led NW 28-3, led undefeated Iowa 21-7 at half but finished tied for last in the Big Ten at 1-7. They were "just" -44.6 ypg (3rd worst). In '10 they had just 13 ret sts. Lynch actually became the first Indy HC to open his career with 4 consec 2-0 starts as Indy feasted on Towson, WKU, Akron and Ark St. Indy has dropped 47 consec gms vs the B10 power trio of Mich, OSU and PSU but nearly got past Mich in '10 allowing a td with :17 left. They opened 4-2 but dropped their next 5. In the finale, they beat Purdue in OT but finished 1-7 in the B10 for the 3rd st yr (-83.4 ypg, 2nd worst). They improved their record overall for a 3rd straight season to 5-7. LY they had just 11 st'rs back and a new HC. Kevin Wilson has a "my way or the highway" philosophy and was partial to his own recruits as 11 true frosh started (16 played). Since Wilson's hiring, 16 players left the program and 6 more left early on senior day. Wilson was talking big at the B10 media days but tempered it after they lost to Ball St 27-20 at Lucas Oil Field. They nearly beat Virg but gave up a td with 1:36 left to tie it, turned it over and gave up a FG on the last play. Their "only" win came vs FCS member SCSt. They were down 24-0 in the 4Q at NT. They only lost to Penn St by 6 but lost by 21, 52, 21, 21, 14, 52 and 8 in their final 9. Their 11 losses tied a schl record ('84). IU was -160.9 ypg (last B10). There are a lot of signs pointing upward as it is the 2nd yr for Wilson, they have 15 ret sts, had 4 net close losses, poor off (16.8) and def (12.3) ypp's (pg 309) and rate a +3.5 in my Stock Market Indicator (pg 27). IU is vastly improved but doesn't play enough winnable games on their schedule to make my Most Improved List (teams projected to be in bowls).

NEBRASKA CORNHUSKERS

QB Taylor Martinez

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - Taylor Martinez, who spent some time at WR in '09, took charge of the QB position in a roller coaster '10 ssn. He got into the Heisman race after running for a Huskers' QB record 241 yds on Nat'l TV vs K-St but after a tremendous first 5 gms he was benched vs Texas. Martinez rebounded and set a frosh record for pass yds in a game (23-35-323, 5-0 vs Okla St) while becoming the 1st QB in NU hist with 300 pass and 100 rush in a gm. In the first 7 Martinez rushed for 870 (8.7). He was inj'd vs MO and in the final 7 had just 95 (1.5). He threw for 1,631 (59%, 10-7). LY Martinez stayed healthier and put up similar numbers throwing for 2,089 (56.2%, 13-8) while rushing for 874 (4.6) and leading a new no huddle power based offense in a new league. He did have 3 int on 3 consec drives vs Wisc but had just 1 in his L/132 att's. Martinez was backed by rFr Brion Carnes (PS#54, 3 gm, 2 att) and Wildcat QB Rex Burkhead. Martinez improved his footwork in spring and should have his best season yet.

RUNNING BACKS - In '09 Roy Helu rushed for 1,147 (5.2) while true frosh Rex Burkhead (PS#39) missed 5 (inj) but rushed for 346 (4.3) incl 89 running the Wildcat in the bowl. In '10 Helu set a schl record with 307 (Calvin Jones 294, '91) vs MO and became the first Husker RB to post B2B 1,000 yd seasons since Jones ('92-'93). Helu led with 1,245 (6.6) and Burkhead added 951 (5.5). LY Helu left (#4DC) but they added 3 true frosh in Aaron Green (PS#8), Braylon Heard (PS#23) and Ameer Abdullah (PS#95). The question in Aug was which one would emerge as the key bkp but no one really did. With Martinez hobbled, Burkhead set a schl record with 38 carries vs Iowa (Cory Ross, 37 '03 Alamo Bowl). He tied a Huskers rec'd with 10 straight gms with a td and finished with 1,357 (4.8) and 15 td. The speedy Abdullah led the true frosh with 150 (3.6), Heard had 114 (4.6) and Green added 105 (4.4). Heard has since moved to CB while Green transferred. Tyler Legate (6 st, 54 yd) also moves on. Abdullah should be able to keep Burkhead fresher and this is one of the Big Ten's top RB units.

RECEIVERS - Last year the Huskers had to replace their #1 rec'r (516, 13.2) but ret'd their #2 Brandon Kinnie (494, 11.2) and #3 TE Kyler Reed (395, 18.0). True frosh QB Jamal Turner (PS#11) moved to WR. RFr Kenny Bell is one of the fastest players in the NCAA and led but with just 461 (14.4) while Kinnie (PS#47JC) added 257 (11.7). Soph Quincy Enunwa was #2 with 293 (14.0) and Reed added 257 (17.1). Turner had 15 rec in the first 7 gm but 0 over the last 6. TY they lose Kinnie (7 st) and TE Kevin Thomsen (2 st). I like the size and speed of this group and look for much improved production from this unit.

OFFENSIVE LINE - NU was famous for its OL "Pipeline" but OL coach Milt Tenopir moved on after '02 and Neb did not have a 1st Tm B12 OL from '01-'09. In '09 they had to replace 2 NFL DC's and slipped to 147 rush ypg (4.0, 19 sk). In '10 with 2 st'rs back and having a mobile QB, they improved to 248 ypg (5.5) but with 29 sks (10.3%). LY they had to replace 3 st'rs (1st Tm B12 RG, #6DC). They got back Marcel Jones (11 st '09) and I expected PS#3JC Jermarcus Hardrick to have a bigger impact. At times they st'd 3 OL who were former walk-ons in Spencer Long, Seung Hoon Choi and Mike Caputo. NU slipped to 217 ypg (4.6) but trimmed the sks to 21 (7.2%). Tyler Moore became NU's first true frosh OL to start the opener (just 4th to st) but lost his spot when Jones ret'd from inj. Surprisingly 6'6" 320 Jeremiah Sirles (14 st '10) saw limited duty as a bkp due to Hardrick's emergence. TY they lose C Caputo (13 st, 2Y st'r, 2nd Tm B10), RT Jones (9 st, 2Y st'r, #7DC NO) and LT Hardrick (13 st). Just like in'11 NU loses 3 st'rs but have 4 back w/a comb 30 sts LY (44 car) and should be just as strong.

DEFENSIVE LINE - With an inexp D-line, NU yielded 232 ypg (5.2, 13 sk) in '07 which was their worst in modern history. In Pelini's first 2 yrs, the unit made great strides yielding 116 ypg (3.6) in '08 and 93 ypg (2.8) in '09. A key to the improvement was the dominant play of 1st Tm AA Ndamukong Suh. In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs incl Suh (NFL Def Rookie Yr) but ret'd 1st Tm B12 DT Jared Crick. Then DC Carl Pelini talked about the def being as good or better than the '09 version, but I was skeptical and NU regressed (153 ypg, 3.9, 30 sk). LY they only had to replace 1 st'r and had 7 of the top 8 back incl Crick and Baker Steinkuhler (PS#1). Crick was OFY after 5 st and their numbers were disappointing (158, 4.0, 21 sk). TY they lose DT Crick (22 tkl, 1 sk, #4DC HOU), DE Williams (2 st, 15 tkl, 1 tfl) and DT Terrence Moore (7 st, 20 tkl, 1 sk) but have 7 of the top 10 back and after underperforming in '11, should be tougher up front.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 NU had to replace their #2 tkl'r (#4DC) then lost ret st'r Sean Fisher (#11 tkl'r) over the summer. Lavonte David lived up to his PS#6JC billing and set an NU record with 152 tkl (149 Barrett Ruud '03). LY they had to replace a 1st Tm B12 (#7 tkl'r, #7DC) but ret'd David and Will Compton (8 st '09). Compton was banged up and missed 2 sts but still finished as the #2 tkl'r. After adding bulk to play in the more physical B10 David led with 133 tkl (13 tfl). Depth was an issue at times and the Huskers slipped to allowing 23.4 ppg. TY they lose David (#2DC TB) but return 3 of the top 4 including Fisher (PS#47). I thought the Huskers D underperformed LY and while they lose their top guy, they will try for some JUCO magic again bringing in a PS#17JC and should improve their ppg in their 2nd ssn of Big Ten play.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - In '08 the Huskers finished #39 in my PDR and in '09, thanks in part to a dominating D-line, climbed all the way up to #1 (48%, 7-20). In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs (#5DC) but did ret 1st Tm B12 CB Prince Amukamara and I rated the secondary #2 overall. The CB duo of Amukamara and Alfonzo Dennard helped the Huskers finish #1 again (49%, 13-19). LY NU had to replace 1st Tm AA Amukamara (#1DC), their FS (#2 tkl'r, #5DC) and 2 others (7 sts, 47 tkl). Dennard missed the first 3 and NU ranked just #78 in FBS pass D without him. NU had a difficult time filling the CB slot opposite Dennard with 5 diff players earning sts incl 6'3" former WR Stanley Jean-Baptiste. Dennard earned the Big Ten's DB POY award but NU dropped to #37 (53.2%, 16-10) in my PDR. TY they lose 2nd Tm AA CB Dennard (10 st, 31 tkl, 6 pbu, #7DC NE), FS Austin Cassidy (13 st, 70 tkl, 2 int, 4 pbu) and NB Lance Thorell (3 st, 38 tkl). The Huskers add in PS#25JC Mohammed Seisay who st'd at Memphis and RB Heard (PS#23). NU returns 3 who st'd 7+ and 9 who st'd LY and could actually move up in my PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - In the last 18 yrs NU has ranked in the top 10 of my ST rankings 8 times and in the top 30 thirteen times. NU finished #16 in '09 and with everyone back in '10 I had them as the #8 ST unit and they finished #4. LY they had to replace outstanding K/P Alex Henery (18-19 FG, 37.7 net), RM Niles Paul (24.4 KR, 11.4 PR) and their KO man Adi Kunalic (39 TB). Brett Maher was the Big Ten's top specialist hitting 19-23 FG (L51), avg 44.5 on punts (38.3 net) and 20 TB on 72 KO. True frosh Ameer Abdullah was the top KR (29.3) and PR (7.1) and had a schl record 211 KR yds vs Fresno (100 yd td). NU finished #13 and with everyone back will challenge for the top spot.

COACHES - Bo Pelini was the DC here in '03 and the interim HC for NU's '03 bowl win. He was Oklahoma's co-DC in '04 and LSU's DC from '05-'07 before returning as HC in '08. Pelini was the only cch in Big 12 history to win at least a share of a div title in his first 3Y. LY he led NU to 9+ wins for a 4th str time and his contract was extended through 2016. Tim Beck is in his 5th season here (2nd as OC). Bo's brother Carl left to become the FAU HC and 4Y DL cch John Papuchis was promoted to DC although Bo will still call the D signals himself.

PHIL'S FORECAST

Nebraska was 11-0 and headed for the Big 12 Title gm in '01 when they were upset at Colo, 62-36. From that point through the end of '04, the tm had 9 losses by 22+ pts. Frank Solich's last tm earned an amazing 35th str bowl in '03 but he was let go despite a 58-19 record! After interviewing DC Bo Pelini among others, NU chose ex-OAK Raiders HC Bill Callahan. In '04 they were making a dramatic switch from the option to the West Coast off. I called for Iowa St (2-10 in '03) to top NU in the Big 12 North. NU's loss to Colo in the finale gave them their 1st losing season s/'61! Callahan's tms improved to 8-4 in '05 and 9-5 in '06 (Big 12 Title gm). I was one of the few NOT to pick NU to win the Big 12 North in '07. The '07 Huskers' D set schl rec's for most pts (455) and yds (5,722) all'd and Callahan was let go after a 5-7 season. In '08 Neb made my Most Improved List despite just 10 ret sts and 5 opp's who were in Jan bowls in '07. NU did not disappoint me (9-4) as they were +112 ypg in conf play (best North). In '09 they had to replace twelve 5th year Sr's and I was in the minority calling for NU to win the Big 12 North (most had KU). They almost upset Texas in the Big 12 Title gm (46 yd FG snuck thru after :01 put back on clock). The Huskers then routed Arizona (bowl), 33-0. Despite their 6-2 Big 12 record in '09, NU was just -12 ypg. The Huskers were the preseason favorite to win the North in '10. After NU accepted a bid to the Big Ten conf, their Big 12 foes hit them with their best parting shots. NU was #8 (1st pressn Top 10 s/'02) but after losing to Wash in the bowl finished just 10-4 (#20). LY the B10 matched them vs the top 3 of the Leaders div (OSU, UW, PSU) but they were still the media's pressn pick to win the Legends division and the highest ranked Big Ten tm in the AP poll. The Huskers opened 4-0 winning by 33, 13, 13 and 24 vs 3 overmatched foes and Washington. In their first B10 game at #7 Wisc, Neb led 14-7 2Q but QB Martinez had 3 int on 3 straight drives and UW scored 3 td's to win, 48-17. Neb was dead in the water trailing OSU 27-6 in the 3Q when LB David forced a TO which led to a td. OSU QB Miller was hurt, and Bauserman hit just 1-10 as NU had their largest comeback in schl hist winning, 34-27. After blowing out Minn, they caught Mich St travelling off 2 straight big wins and won 24-3. NU was then upset by NW (trailed 28-18 before td w/:18 left). They travelled to face PSU the wk after Paterno was fired. NU was outgained 375-331 but won by 3. They only trailed Mich 17-10 at half but then TO's turned it into a blowout loss. NU beat Iowa in the finale (led 20-0 4Q). In the bowl they gave up a Hail Mary pass on the last play of the 1H vs SCar and lost by 17 to finish 9-4. TY the Huskers have 14 ret sts. Seven of my 9 sets of PR's call for a DD win ssn and the Huskers have a great shot at getting to the B10 Title game.

MICHIGAN WOLVERINES

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In '09 a pair of true frosh battled for the job. Tate Forcier (PS#16, IFS) threw for 2,050 (59%, 13-10) while Denard Robinson (PS#35, 10.28 100m) threw for 188 (45%, 2-4, 351 rush). In '10 Robinson was the Heisman frontrunner at midseason. In '09 six FBS QB's had passed for 1,000 and ran for 900 and Robinson accomplished that in just 5 gms. He was also the first FBS QB to run for 200 and pass for 200 in the same gm twice in a yr. Due to his slight frame and heavy workload Robinson got banged up (left 10 gms w/ inj). Robinson broke the all-time NCAA ssn rush record by a QB ('96 AF's Beau Morgan 1,494) with 1,702 (6.6) while throwing for 2,570 (63%, 18-11). True frosh Devin Gardner (PS#4) played in 4. Forcier transferred LY and while new HC Brady Hoke orig planned to go with a pro-style off, they adapted to Robinson's strengths and while he ran less, he still led with 1,176 (5.3). He now has 6 of the B10's top 10 all-time rush gms by a QB. Robinson came into the Minn game completing under 50% but hit his first 11. His passing % dropped to 55.0 (2173 yds, 20-15). Gardner played in 9 (11-23, 47.8%, 176 yd, 53 rush) as part of a 2 QB pkg and he was also at WR in spg. Russell Bellomy (6'3" 189 rFr, PS#69) RS. Hoke will stick with the spread one more yr and Robinson should have even stronger numbers.

RUNNING BACKS - Mike Hart left as UM's career rush leader in '07. In Rodriguez's first 2 yrs the top RB rusher had just 533 (5.2) in '08 and 502 (5.2) in '09, the fewest yds s/'63. Vincent Smith (PS#56) led with 601 (4.4) in '10 while Michael Shaw was #2 with 402 (5.4). True frosh power back Stephen Hopkins had 151 (4.1). Fitzgerald Toussaint (PS#28) had a shoulder inj as a true (RS) and a leg inj in '10 (87, 10.9). He was not listed among the top 3 RB's into Aug '11 but rushed for 80 (7.3) in the opener. He had one 100 yd gm in the first 7 then rattled off efforts of 170, 192, 138 and 120 and led the RB's with 1,041 (5.6). Smith had 118 vs EM but did not top 50 in any other game (298, 6.0) but did have a rush, rec and pass td vs Minny. While Smith is small (5'6" 172), he is constantly noted for his toughness. Hoke was very high on both of his true frosh RB's in Thomas Rawls (RB cch Jackson compares to Mark Ingram) and Justice Hayes (5'10" 176 rFr, PS#16, quick, good rec). This year Shaw departs (1 st, 199, 6.4) as does FB John McColgan (1 st) but with the top 2 back they look stronger again.

RECEIVERS - Roy Roundtree, who emerged in Nov '09 with 26 rec to finish #1 (434, 13.6), st'd all 12 in '10 and led with 935 (13.0) including a UM record 246 vs Ill (Jack Clancy 197, '66). Darryl Stonum (PS#12) was #2 with 633 (12.9) and Junior Hemingway (PS#17) was #3 with 593 (18.5). LY they had 2 of the top 3 back (lost Stonum). Roundtree's numbers dropped to 355 (18.7) while Hemingway led with 699 (20.6). Jeremy Gallon (PS#25) who is 5'8" but can dunk a basketball and is a physical blocker, made just 1 start but was #2 (453, 14.6). TY they lose Hemingway (12 st, #7DC KC), TE Kevin Koger (12 st, 244, 10.6), TE Steve Watson (4 st, 1 rec), Kelvin Grady (3 st, 5 rec) and Martavious Odoms (4 st, 131, 18.7). With 2 of their top 3 rec's back they could top LY's stats.

OFFENSIVE LINE - LY they had to replace 2 st'rs (#6DC) and 1 bkp. LG Ricky Barnum only st'd 3 (inj) but they did have 4 back with 7+ sts and those 4 st'd every reg ssn game. Despite the switch in offense (Robinson 500 fewer yds rush), they still managed 222 ypg (5.2) with 18 sks all'd (6.3%). TY they lose 1st Tm AA Rimington winner C David Molk (12 st, 3Y st'r, #7DC SD), RT Mark Huyge (13 st, 3Y st'r) and C Rocko Khoury (1 st) but have 7 of the top 10 back. The career sts ret are almost identical (64) but don't underestimate the loss of Molk with C being an important part of this O-line.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '06 UM all'd just 43 ypg rush (1.9), their best ypc s/'71. The results the next 4 yrs were unexpectedly poor. In '09 they yielded 172 ypg rush (4.4). In '10 they had to replace a #1DC but 5 of the top 6 ret. DT Mike Martin battled ankle inj's and the D shockingly all'd 189 ypg (4.4) rush (worst s/'68, 199) with 18 sks. LY they had to replace 2 DL (10 st, 54 tkl, 4 sk) and moved back to a 4-3. I said they should be much improved. This unit was one of the key factors in UM's rise to 11 wins as they all'd 132 ypg rush (best s/'06) and 4.0 ypc with 30 sks. TY they lose 2x 2nd Tm B10 DT Mike Martin (13 st, 64 tkl, 3.5 sks, 2.5 tfl, #3DC TEN), DE Ryan Van Bergen (12 st, 45 tkl, 12.5 tfl) and DT Will Heininger (12 st, 23 tkl, 4 tfl). They add in 5 VHT DL and this may finally be the yr William Campbell lives up to his PS#2 billing but overall this unit is less exp'd (3 ret sts to 1).

LINEBACKERS - In '09 and '10 UM had a veteran LB corps but the def #'s were poor with their 35.2 ppg in '10, being the worst in program history. LY they had to replace their #1 (#2DC) and #6 (7 st) tkl'rs but did return their #3 and #4 tkl'rs (comb 20 st). Cam Gordon (13 st, 77 tkl in '10) played in just 7 (back inj). UM cut their ppg by more than half to just 17.4. TY they lose Brandon Herron (1 st, 8 tkl) and JB Fitzgerald (12 tkl). They return their top 4 LB's (#1, #5, #9 #10 tkl) plus Gordon and some solid recruits. While I don't expect the ppg to improve much, this is clearly a more exp'd and deeper LB corps.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - UM dropped from #27 in my PDR in '07 under Carr to #68 in '08 and #62 in '09. In '10 they lost their top CB Troy Woolfolk (inj) and 2 bkp DB's prior to the ssn. They also lost CB JT Floyd after 8 sts and moved a FS to LB. The unit's most exp'd DB had just 8 sts in SS Jordan Kovacs. UM plummeted to their worst finish in my PDR (#106). LY they had to replace 1.5 st'rs but got back Woolfolk. I summed up LY by saying that UM would have one of the biggest rises in my PDR in '11 and they moved up 62 spots to #44 (59.1%, 12-9). TY they lose Woolfolk (10 st, 30 tkl, 2 pbu) and Carvin Johnson (14 tkl, 1 pbu). They have 3 full-time st'rs back plus 2 who comb for 10 sts making this unit even more experienced and they will move up again.

SPECIAL TEAMS - In Rich Rodriguez's first 2 yrs, UM was #15 and #5 in my ST rankings. Not a lot went right in '10 (#109). One of the most troubled areas was FG kicking (4-14 L37). Hoke said Brendan Gibbons (1-5 '10) was very consistent in Aug and true frosh Matt Wile would handle long FG's. Gibbons did better than expected (13-17, L43). Wile (0 FG att) had 19 TB on 79 KO (41.6, 17 punts). William Hagerup, who avg 43.6 (36.1 tm net) in '10 saw his avg drop to 36.0 (tm net 33.4, #109 FBS). The PR #'s were avg but the KR's were horrid (18.4, #117 FBS). UM finished #75 and I look for a large rise this year.

COACHES - Rich Rodriguez was under scrutiny from the very beginning for not being a "Michigan Man". While not an alum Brady Hoke was an asst here for 8 yrs ('95-'02) before taking the HC job at Ball St (34-39). After getting BSU to their highest ever rank (#12), Hoke took over at SDSt which had not had a winning ssn s/'98. In his 2nd yr he left after earning MW COY leading SDSt to their best record s/'77. His SDSt OC Al Borges followed him here and was also the OC at Aub ('04-'07), Ind ('02-'03), Cal ('01), UCLA ('96-'00), Oreg ('95) and Boise St ('93-'94). Greg Mattison was the DC here from '95-'96 and an NFL DC for BAL ('08-'10) as well as DC for Fla ('05-'07) and ND ('97-'01). Mattison is the B10's highest paid asst and earned every penny in '11 (ppg from 35.2 to 17.4, ypg from 451 to 322).

PHIL'S FORECAST

Heading into '08 the Wolverines had 40 str winning seasons (33 consec bowls), the NCAA's longest streaks. In 12 of Lloyd Carr's 13 seasons, they finished the season in the Top 25 (5 in Top 10). They had been to 3 of the last 5 Rose Bowls and nearly played in the Nat'l Title game in '06 (#2 into final gm). Carr's final game was a Capital One Bowl win over #9 Florida but in '08 I did not have Michigan ranked in my top 50! Rodriguez did not have a mobile QB to fit his system in '08 and UM stunningly went 3-9 (-112 ypg Big Ten, 2nd worst). In '09 UM opened 4-0, climbing to #22. The bottom dropped out again and they suffered their 7th str Big Ten loss to Ohio St (-107 ypg worst). They did have just 8 Sr's on the 2 deep so the Wolves made my Most Improved List in '10 (-12 in TO's '09). On my summer radio show circuit, I set the magic number for Rich Rod to keep his job at 8 figuring 7-5 and a bowl loss would not be enough. UM looked explosive early at 5-0 and avg 41.4 ppg. Again they went just 2-6 down the stretch (lost Ohio St 37-7) and after the worst bowl loss in schl hist to Miss St (52-14), the Rich Rod era was over. UM did "improve" to just -1.9 ypg in Big Ten play (#5) and were -10 in TO's. Brady Hoke wants to run a pro-style attack but inherited Rich Rod's spread personnel, namely their #1 weapon QB Robinson. His orig plan was to run the 40% spread, 60% pro-style but that went out the window early as they took advantage of Robinson's skills. The opener vs WM was cut short due to lightning with 1:27 left in the 3Q and 2 def td's gave them the win, 34-10 (17-17 FD). They trailed ND 24-7 after 3Q's. It was the first ever night game at Michigan Stadium and D Rob got a 16 yd td pass with :02 left and they pulled out the 35-31 win (key play of ssn). After expected wins over EM and SDSt, they handed Minn their worst B10 shutout in schl hist, 58-0. They were on the ropes vs NW down 24-14 at half but rallied for a 42-24 win. "Little Brother" MSU beat them by 14 but they whipped Pur (294-119 yd edge 1H), 36-14. They had 4 shots at the EZ from the 3 but threw 4 inc passes and came up short vs Iowa 24-16. They demolished Ill (249-30 yd 1H), 31-14. It was 17-10 at half vs Neb and TO's turned it into a 45-17 blowout. While it wasn't easy, they ended their 7 gm losing streak to "Ohio", 40-34. In the bowl VT had 377-184 yd and 22-12 FD edges but UM prevailed 23-20 (OT) and they finished 11-2 and the highest ranked B10 team in the cch's poll at #9 (#12 AP). TY UM has 13 ret sts and their +130.8 ypg in B10 play was 2nd best. Pointing downward are the fact that they benefitted from 3 net close wins, were +7 in TO's, had beneficial off (12.2) and def (18.5) ypp's and my Stock Market Indicator (pg 27) has them -5.0. This is an improved tm that probably won't match LY's 11 win total with gms away from home vs Alabama, ND, Neb and Ohio St but unlike LY, they could find themselves in the B10 Title game.

MICHIGAN ST SPARTANS

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - Drew Stanton left after '06 as MSU's #2 career passer (#2DC). Brian Hoyer (PS#23) took over in '07 and left as the #3 career passer. Hoyer was the first QB to take the Spartans to B2B bowls s/'90 and is now Tom Brady's bkp at NE. Kirk Cousins was Hoyer's bkp and surprisingly beat out Okla transfer Keith Nichol (PS#7) in '09. The 2 alt'd snaps early but Cousins took command and threw for 2,680 (60%, 19-9) while Nichol threw for 764 (54%, 7-3). Andrew Maxwell (PS#32) was impressive on the scout team. In '10 they moved Nichol to WR and Cousins tied Stanton's MSU rec of 16 str gms with a td pass. He threw for 2,825 (67%, 20-10) despite missing a lot of practice time in the final month (inj). Maxwell played in just 5 gms (11-25-123). LY Cousins became the 2nd MSU player ever to be a captain for 3 seasons (Robert McCurry 1946-'48). After becoming the 1st Spartan QB to beat Michigan 3 str ssns, Cousins hit Nichol with a 44 yd Hail Mary td on the final play to beat Wisc. He finished with numerous school records (comp, pass yd, td pass, pass eff, ttl off) and on the year threw for 3,316 (63.7%, 25-10, #4DC WAS). Maxwell played in just 4 gms (18-26-171) while Connor Cook (PS#45) RS. Despite a spring knee inj, Maxwell has been groomed to be the starter for the last 2 years. Naturally, this unit looks weaker losing a 3 year record-setting starter.

RUNNING BACKS - In HC Dantonio's first year ('07) he nearly had a pair of 1,000 yd rushers as Javon Ringer had 1,447 (5.9) while Jehuu Caulcrick had 872 (3.9) with 21 rush td's. In '08 they lost Caulcrick and Ringer got 92% of the RB carries. While he avg a pedestrian 4.2 ypc, he was the key to their offense with 1,637 and 22 td's (#5DC). In '09 the big news was the signing of 2 VHT true frosh in Edwin Baker (PS#10) and Larry Caper (PS#21). Caper led with just 468 (3.9) while Baker burned his RS in Wk 7 and was #2 (427, 5.0). In '10 Caper missed the first 2 gms and Le'Veon Bell (PS#106) became the first Spartan true frosh RB to top 100 in his first game (141). Caper became more of a 3rd down back (144, 3.8) and Bell had 549 in the first 6 but hit the wall after an inj with just 56 in the final 7. Baker became just the 6th MSU soph to rush for 1,000 (1201, 5.8, 13 td). LY all 3 were back and I thought the Spartans would rank among the rush leaders in the Big Ten but they shockingly finished #11. Bell led with 948 (5.2) and Baker was benched after struggling with fumbles finishing #2 with 665 (only 3.9). Caper was #3 with 116 (3.9) and rFr Nick Hill (PS#49) added 113 (3.9). This year they lose Baker (#7DC SD) but with a more veteran O-line, I look for significantly improved rushing numbers.

RECEIVERS - In '10 Mark Dell (PS#22) led with 788 (15.5) while BJ Cunningham was #2 (611, 12.2). Keshawn Martin was the #3 rush (157) and rec (394, 12.3) while conv QB Keith Nichol (262, 11.9) struggled with nagging inj's. LY the Spartans had to replace Dell. Cunningham teamed with Cousins to form a strong combo and became MSU's career leader in rec's and rec yds as he led with 1,306 (16.5, #6DC MIA). Martin was #2 with 777 (11.8, #4DC HOU) and TE Brian Linthicum was #3 (364, 11.7). Nichol added 352 (13.5) incl the 44 yd Hail Mary winner against the Badgers. This year those 4 all depart with the leading returnee being TE Dion Sims (PS#8) who had 99 (8.2). They do add in Tenn transfer DeAnthony Arnett (PS#9) who could possibly be eligible this year. This is an inexperienced unit with an inexperienced QB so I expect reduced numbers.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '10 the Spartans had to replace a 1st Tm B10 LT and 2 other st'rs (43 car sts ret). While the sacks rose from 14 to 24 (6.4%), they improved to 152 ypg rush (4.5). LY they had to replace 3 st'rs (2nd Tm B10 LT) and again ret'd 2 st'rs (57 car st) while also adding in PS#50JC Fou Fonoti and DL Dan France who both won starting jobs. MSU lost C Blake Treadwell to inj after 3 sts (5 st DL '10). The numbers dropped to 138 ypg (3.9) but with just 16 sks (3.5%). TY they lose their top OL in LG Joel Foreman (13 st, 4Y st'r, 1st Tm B10) who was the first Spartan OL to start 4 consec seasons s/'88 (Tony Mandarich) and bkp Jared McGaha (1 st). The Spartans have 4 st'rs ret (74 car st) and should have a good increase in their rush production.

DEFENSIVE LINE - LY MSU had to replace 1 st'r and moved DL Treadwell to the O-line. I looked for a much bigger impact out of William Gholston (PS#3) and teamed with DT Jerel Worthy, called it the Spartans' deepest and most complete D-line since at least '07. Despite Tyler Hoover (PS#44, 9 st, 36 tkl, 3 sk '10) RS, they had a legitimate 3 deep on the D-line. I sold the unit short as they allowed just 101 ypg rush (2.8) with 45 sks, their best rush D s/'99 and most sks s/'03. Gholston grew into one of the league's most feared DE's capped by his dominating bowl gm (7 tkl, 2 sk, 3 tfl) vs UGA. TY MSU loses 1st Tm AA DT Worthy (14 st, 30 tkl, 3.5 sk, 7 tfl, #2DC GB), NT Kevin Pickelman (10 st, 37 tkl, 4 sk) and DT Johnathan Strayhorn (6 tkl). LY they basically had 2 ret sts up front, the same as this yr. They add in Vanderbilt transfer James Kittredge and get Hoover back who has moved to DT. With the loss of Worthy, this unit is down a few notches but it is still among the elite of the Big Ten.

LINEBACKERS - Seventeen MSU LB's have been drafted s/'80 but none were chosen from '01-'10 until Greg Jones (#6DC) was picked in '11. LY veteran duo Jones and Eric Gordon both departed (#1, #2 tkl'rs, 1st Tm AA and 2nd Tm B10). They ret'd VHT Chris Norman (PS#16, #6 tkl'r) and I said to not be surprised if another VHT, Max Bullough (PS#17), came close to matching Jones' performance. While Bullough was #1 with 89 (7 tfl), it was Denicos Allen who grabbed the spotlight finishing #2 with 83 while recording 11 sks (#2 B10). You would have expected a drop with the loss of their top 2 LB's (95 car sts) but the D improved from 22.3 ppg to 18.4 ppg. The unit also had more overall speed and just 1 upperclassman. Naturally, the unit returns intact (#1, #2 and #4 tkl'rs) plus they add in rFr Lawrence Thomas (PS#6) and should be one of the nation's top LB corps.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - Last year MSU had to replace a pair of 2nd Tm B10 DB's (#6DC). CB's Johnny Adams and Darqueze Dennard's coverage abilities gave MSU greater freedom to run pressure packages. Adams earned 1st Tm B10 and is considered a potential #1DC for '13. Dennard missed 3 of the L/4 reg ssn gms but ret'd with 2 int in the bowl. FS Trenton Robinson earned 1st Tm B10 honors while SS Isaiah Lewis was 2nd Tm B10. The Spartans moved up to #24 in my PDR (53.9%, 20-18). This year they lose FS Robinson (#3 tkl'r, 4 int, 2 pbu, #6DC SF) but return 7 of the top 8 and should have their first top 20 finish in my PDR s/'98 (#8).

SPECIAL TEAMS - In Dantonio's first 2 years here, MSU finished #77 and #58 in my ST rankings before improving to #17 in '09 and #14 in '10. LY MSU had to replace their star P (38.1 net) and a 4 year LS and I predicted they would drop a few notches which they did (#20). Keshawn Martin moved to #2 on MSU's career PR yd list while Nick Hill was the top KR (26.3). Dan Conroy, who hit 14-15 FG (L50) in '10, hit 17-23 (2-5 50+) LY. Kevin Muma had 17 TB on 83 KO. P Mike Sadler avg 41.1 (tm net only 35.1) and the PRD was #118 (16.2) thanks in part to giving up a 92 yd PR td in the bowl. TY they only lose PR Martin (11.0) and I look for them to again finish in their accustomed top 20 spot.

COACHES - MSU wanted an old school disciplinarian so they brought in Mark Dantonio in '07. Dantonio served on Nick Saban's staff as the Spartans' DB coach ('95-'00). He was the DC at Ohio St ('01-'03) incl their Nat'l Title year before taking over at Cincy as HC in '04 (2 bowls, 3 yrs). He has guided the Spartans to 5 straight bowls (4 bowls prev 10Y) and their 22 wins the L2Y is a school record. The 2nd yr OC is Dan Roushar (OL cch under Dantonio s/'05). He was the OC at Ill ('04) as well as N Ill ('98-'02). The DC is Pat Narduzzi who was Miami, OH's DC in '03 and Cincy's DC from '04-'06.

PHIL'S FORECAST

Mark Dantonio inherited the Big Ten's biggest underachiever in '07. In John L. Smith's debut season in '03 they opened up 7-1 but despite plenty of talent, went just 15-25 through '06. Dantonio immediately improved the team to 7-6 and then 9-4 (#24) in '08. In '09 they were picked 3rd in the Big Ten media poll (I had them tied for 4th) and the Spartans finished in a tie for 6th. MSU had numerous players susp'd for the bowl, and lost to TT to drop to 6-7. The Spartans made my Most Improved List in '10 and I called it Dantonio's best edition here. MSU won a share of their first B10 Title s/'90 (3-way tie OSU & Wisc) but was passed over for a BCS bowl. They got to their 4th str bowl for the 1st time s/'90 and while they were #7 and taking on a 3 loss Bama team, were blown out 49-7. Despite their 7-1 mark in Big Ten play, they were only +40 ypg in '10 (#4). LY Mich St had just 12 ret sts and played 5 road gms vs bowl teams. MSU opened '11 with a couple of blowout wins but then lost at ND 31-13 despite a 358-275 yd edge. After beating CM 45-7 they were shutting out OSU until giving up a garbage TD with :10 left to only win 10-7. MSU beat Mich at home (28-14) for their 4th straight win over their rival for the first time since 1959-'62. They were a HD to Wisc and got a Hail Mary pass on the final play to pull out a 37-31 win. The Spartans were in a flat spot at Neb (off 2 huge wins) and lost 24-3. They trailed Minn 24-21 into the 4Q but escaped 31-24 and led Iowa 31-7 at half en route to a 16 pt win. MSU destroyed Ind (55-3) and beat NW, 31-17. In the B10 Title game loss, a running into the P penalty with 1:57 left nullified a MSU PR to the UW3. They had a 317-151 yd edge at half but UW took the lead after a FD on 4&6 set up Wisc's go ahead td and MSU lost, 42-39. The Spartans appeared out of it trailing Georgia, 16-0 at the half, but rallied to win it in 3OT to finish 11-3 and AP #11. MSU was #3 in the Big Ten at +53 ypg but benefitted from 3 net close wins, +7 in TO's and an off ypg of 12.6. Despite the Stock Market Indicator (pg 27) stat showing a -2.5 and just 13 ret sts, six of my 9 sets of power ratings call for MSU to repeat their 10 win reg ssn total.

First meeting. Spartans have won 13 str home openers by 23 ppg. Under Dantonio MSU is 14-1 hosting non-Big Ten opp's (only loss in '09 vs CM). MSU is 1-4 vs Top 10 & 6-13 vs Top 25 foes under Dantonio.

MSU is 5-3 vs instate CM and this will mark the first gm in Mt Pleasant. Spartans have gone 8-5 in true road openers. This will be just the 3rd AG vs a non-BCS school (Louisville '95 & Hawaii '04) S/'89.

Nine of the L/12 meetings have been decided by single digits (4 of L/7 by a fg). LY MSU was held to a ssn low 29 (1.3) rush yds. HT has won the L4Y by 10 ppg after previously losing 7 str.

Spartans are a perfect 8-0 vs the Eagles and in the last 5 have outscored EM on avg 50-9 with no gm closer than 32 pts. L/gm ('08) was tied 7-7 early 2Q before 35 unanswered by MSU.

MSU last beat OSU 2 yrs in-a-row in '98 & '99. LY prior to the final drive (OSU scored td w/:10),OSU's deepest penetration was to the M34. MSU allowed 178 yds (lowest S/'99 in B10 gm; 151 vs NU).

MSU is 12-2 vs IU. LTH ('08) saw 2 safeties, a blk'd punt and QB Hoyer & IU QB Lewis each tossing career-long td passes. IU cut the deficit to 34-29 mid-3Q but MSU limited them to just 95 yds the rest of the way.

LY MSU jumped on Iowa early as they led 31-7 w/2 td's in a 36 second stretch late 2Q. Into 2012, the Spartans are a perfect 8-0 hosting B10 foes with the avg win by 17 ppg.

Spartans have now won B2B gms in Ann Arbor by DD after having lost 8 str. LTH MSU earned their most lopsided victory (34-17) in this rivalry since beating UM 34-0 in 1967!

MSU last won in Madison in '01. LTH ('09) MSU did outgain & outFD UW despite a 8 pt loss but trailed 38-17 before 2 late td's in the final 2:07 (never had lead at any point).

MSU is now 0-6 vs Neb. LY MSU was off their final play "Hail Mary" pass win hosting UW and came out flat in Lincoln. MSU ran just 6 plays in the Neb RZ and mustered a ssn low in pts and yds.

Bonus: MSU is 12-4 in home finales but just 3-4 the last 7 years.
Northwestern: MSU has now won 4 str in the series. LY was tied 3-3 late 2Q when NU fum at the M3. The Spartans then went 97/8pl & had a 57 yd PR td for 2 scores in the final 1:40 of 1H.

MSU has dropped 2 str and 4 of L/5 in Minnesota. LTH MSU led into 4Q but allowed 135 4Q yds & 14 pts.

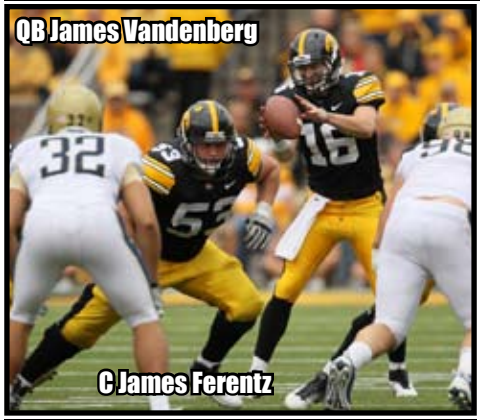
IOWA HAWKEYES



POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In '09 ret st'r Ricky Stanzi was inconsistent throwing for 2,417 (56%, 17-15) but with 4 IR td's. Stanzi was inj'd in the 2Q vs NW in Iowa's 1st loss of the yr when bkp James Vandenberg struggled in relief. Vandenberg got his first start in Columbus with the Big Ten Title on the line. He threw for 233 yd and 2 td but also 3 int incl the gm sealer in OT. He finished with 470 (48%, 2-5). In '10 Stanzi set a schl record for pass eff (157.6), just beating out Brad Banks (157.1 '02). He threw for 3,004 (64%, 25-6) and became the first Iowa QB to win 3 bowls. Stanzi was the first UI QB selected in the NFL draft (#5DC) s/'92 (Matt Rodgers). Vandenberg played in 3 (8 att) in '10 but entered LY as the clear-cut starter and became just the 4th UI QB to top 3,000 (3,022, 58.7%, 25-7). His 25 td's just missed Chuck Long's schl record of 27 (1985). John Wienke (PS#26) was the bkp (0-1). RFr Jake Rudock (PS#53) and Cody Sokol (IFS) are expected to battle for the bkp job TY and for the starting job in '13. This unit is a lot more exp'd and Vandenberg should be one of the Big Ten's top QB's.

RUNNING BACKS - In '10 UI's top rusher ret'd in Adam Robinson (834, 4.6) and he nearly reached the 1,000 yd plateau before being susp for the bowl (941, 4.6). Marcus Coker (PS#41) then rushed for a UI bowl record 219 (6.6, MVP). LY they had to replace Robinson and Coker (622, 5.5) was voted the Preseason Big Ten OPOY by some sources. Coker was the 5th UI RB under Ferentz to top 1,000. His 281 rush att's was #11 FBS (1,384, 4.9), but he was susp for the bowl. True frosh Mika'il McCall (PS#54) broke his ankle in the opener and played in just 1 more gm. Speedy Jordan Canzeri (5'9" 180 So, PS#227) finished #2 with 58 in the bowl. FB Brad Rogers (3 att) was a key cog in the UI rush game with his blocking ability. Coker and McCall both transferred (14 RB's left program w/elig left s/'02). Canzeri tore his ACL in the spring and is expected to RS leaving UI with just 2 ret schlp TB's (99 car yd, 3.5). I expect a true frosh to win the job and for the unit to come close to LY's totals.

RECEIVERS - In '09 Marvin McNutt (PS#43QB) was #2 (674, 19.8) and he led the tm in '10 with 861 (16.2). LY they had to replace 4 of their top 5 rec's including their then all-time career rec. Keenan Davis (PS#14) has good leaping ability but had a problem with drops (just 15 rec '09-'10). He matured into a fine #2 LY (713, 14.3). McNutt trimmed his 40 from 4.72 to 4.5 and set Iowa's single season and career marks (1315, 16.0). RFr Kevonte Martin-Manley (PS#183) had 323 (10.8). CJ Fiedorowicz at 6'7" 265 could be Iowa's next great TE and finished #4 (167, 10.4). Not one Hawkeye WR that Ferentz recruited has caught a single pass in the NFL but McNutt figures to end that streak (13 st, #6DC PHI). Also gone is TE Brad Herman (3 st, 8 rec). While more exp'd as a unit, I'll call this group down a notch with the loss of the Big Ten's WR of the Year.

OFFENSIVE LINE - Kirk Ferentz was an NFL OL coach which means this unit is always one of his top priorities and he's had 13 OL drafted in his tenure. LY they had to replace 1 st'r (#5DC) and 2 bkps (comb 5 st). They then lost RG Nolan MacMillan (6 st '10) so they had 53 car sts back. The Hawkeyes' numbers were disappointing at just 138 ypg rush (3.9, 29 sk, 7.0%) despite the presence of super LT Riley Reiff. TY they lose Reiff (13 st, 3Y st'r, 4th Tm AA, #1DC DET), RT Markus Zusevics (13 st, 2Y st'r), RG Adam Gettis (13 st, 2nd Tm B10, #5DC WAS) and bkp Woody Orne (9 gm). They are a little less exp'd (45 car st) but even with the loss of their top guy I felt the unit underachieved and could be stronger this year under new OL cch Brian Ferentz (Kirk's son).

DEFENSIVE LINE - Last year they had to replace Adrian Clayborn (#1DC) and both DT's (#4 & #5DC). All 3 players started NFL gms LY. The inexp'd line allowed their highest ypg and ypc rush (156, 3.7) s/'00 with just 22 sks. This year they lose 2nd Tm B10 DT Mike Daniels (13 st, 67 tkl, 9 sk, #4DC GB), 2nd Tm B10 DE Broderick Binns (13 st, 60 tkl, 5 sk, 7 tfl), DT Thomas Nardo (7 st, 68 tkl, 6.5 tfl), DE Lebron Daniel (5 st, 30 tkl, 1 sk) and DE Joe Forgy (11 tkl, 1.5 tfl). Iowa adds a pair of VHT frosh who should contribute but longtime OL cch Morgan ('03-'11) moved to the other side of the ball to shepherd this lightly seasoned crew. This is the D's biggest ?.

LINEBACKERS - The Hawkeyes ret'd their top 6 LB's in '09 (#1, #2 and #6 tkl'rs all VHT's) and had one of the best corps in the country. In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs (#2 & #4 DC). The unit was hit hard by inj's with only 1 LB starting 8+ yet they only slipped to allowing 17.0 ppg (15.4 '09). LY they had to replace a 2nd Tm B10 WLB (#1 tkl'r) and 2 others (comb 10 st, #7, #10 tkl'rs). They ret'd 4 who comb for 17 sts (#4, #12) so I listed them as having 1 st'r back. 2010 was the first time s/'02 that the LB's did not finish #1 and #2 in tkls but James Morris and Christian Kirksey tied for the team lead LY. The Hawks, however, slipped to 23.8 ppg (most s/'00). TY they lose LB Tyler Nielsen (12 st, #5 tkl'r, 4 tfl) but Morris should be one of the top LB's in the Big Ten.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - In '08 Iowa finished #7 in my PDR (9-23 ratio). In '09 the Hawks lost 2 st'rs but were still one of only 6 tms to allow less than 50% (#6 PDR, 9-21). In '10 they had to replace 1 st'r (#3DC). They had just 1 VHT in the 3 deep but ret'd 1st Tm Big Ten SS Tyler Sash and FS Brett Greenwood (3Y st'r). Surprisingly the veteran unit slipped to #20. LY they had to replace 2nd Tm B10 FS Greenwood and 1st Tm B10 SS Sash (#6DC). They did return 1st Tm B10 CB Shaun Prater (#5 tkl'r) but I called for them to drop and they plummeted to #85 (62%, 21-10). The safety play was inconsistent although FS Tanner Miller did have a 98 yd IR td (tie longest sch hist) vs NW. TY they lose 1st Tm B10 Prater (51 tkl, 4 pd, #5DC CIN) and SS Jordan Bernstine (11 st, 89 tkl, #7DC WAS) who was the lone VHT (PS#11). This unit is on par with LY in terms of exp and can only improve upon LY's poor finish.

SPECIAL TEAMS - Ferentz believes his ST unit should be the great equalizer allowing Iowa to contend with teams with superior talent. Heading into '06, Iowa had finished #3, #6, #18 and #20 in my ST rankings. They surprisingly finished #76 in '06, #62 in '07 and #48 in '08. They rose to #27 in both '09 and '10 but LY had to replace their P (37.8 net), top KR (29.3) and PR (8.3) and slipped to #57. Mike Meyer, who had hit 14-17 FG (L42, only 3 att 40+) in '10, hit 12 of his first 14 FG and was a semifinalist for the Groza but then hit only 2 of his last 6 (2 key misses vs Minny). Meyer had 4 TB's on 66 KO. The sizeable Eric Guthrie (6'6" 245) avg 41.2 (38.5 net) and he along with the top KR (23.8) depart. In the 13Y under Ferentz this unit has avg'd a #33 finish so I expect them to move up.

COACHES - Kirk Ferentz took over for legendary Hayden Fry in '99. In '02 he led Iowa to its first Big Ten Title s/'90 and also the most wins in schl history (11) which he tied in '09. Ferentz was named the Big Ten COY in '02, '04 and '09. For the first time in 13 ssns, however, there is a large scale staff turnover, with four new asst's incl both coor's. OC Ken O'Keefe left for the NFL and Greg Davis who was Mack Brown's OC for 15 yrs at Tex and NC takes over. DC Norm Parker (Broyles Award finalist in '04 and '05) was the AFCA asst COY LY. Parker retired after struggling with diabetes. The new DC is Phil Parker (no relation) who has also been here 13Y (DB cch). A nation high 16 Div I HC's and asst's are Iowa alums.

PHIL'S FORECAST

Kirk Ferentz was 2-18 in his first 20 gms at Iowa but is 94-48 since then. His best stretch came from '02-'04 when Iowa finished AP #8 each season winning a share of the Big Ten Title in both '02 and '04. Iowa went just 7-5, 6-7 and 6-6 only getting to 2 bowls in the next 3 yrs. In '08 they beat SCar in the bowl to finish 9-4. That '08 Iowa team had 4 losses but all were by 5 or less. In '09 they improved to 11-2 with a BCS bowl win over GTech and a #7 finish. They opened '09 at 9-0 but lost QB Stanzi vs NW and he was also out vs Ohio St. They lost both, costing them a shot at the Big Ten title. In '10 Iowa had 14 ret sts, a veteran senior QB and a great schedule as they did not have to face any of the other Big Ten contenders (PSU, UW, MSU, OSU) on the road. A couple of factors pointed downward in that they were just +27.8 ypg (4th best) in the Big Ten in '09 with 2 net close wins. They were picked 2nd in the Big Ten, the highest ever. When the dust cleared, Iowa finished the '10 ssn 8-5 and NR upsetting Missouri in the bowl. Iowa was -15.6 ypg in the Big Ten, +13 in TO's, had a def ypp of 19.5 and had just 8 ret sts LY. All of the factors pointed down. Iowa was coming off a ssn where their losses were by 7, 1, 4, 3 and 3 but they had the Rhabdo incident in winter conditioning and 58% lett ret (fewest Big Ten). Iowa beat Ten Tech 34-7 but lost in 3 OT's at Iowa St. They trailed Pitt 27-10 in the 4Q but had the biggest comeback in schl hist for a 31-27 win using an uncharacteristic hurry-up shotgun 3 WR offense. After beating ULM (45-17) coming out in a no huddle they lost at Penn St, 13-3. They were outgained 213-180 at half by NW but led 17-7 (98 yd IR td) and won 41-31 and beat Indy by 21. They dominated the first 3Q's vs Minn but the Gophers got 80 and 59 yd 4Q drives and Iowa had 5 trips into Minn territory result in 0 points and they lost, 22-21. They led Mich 24-9 in the 4Q but the Wolves were SOD on 4 passes at the end and UI won. They were crushed by Mich St (trail 31-7 half) but then beat Pur (31-21) on the road. On a short week and travelling, they trailed Neb 20-0 in the 4Q and lost by 13. Without RB Coker in the bowl Iowa was down 24-14 when they were SOD then Okla got a late td. Iowa was -30.6 ypg in the Big Ten (8th best). Despite the inexperience, Iowa's schedule gives them a great shot at a potential 5-0 start and a chance to top LY's 7 win total.

Date	Opponent	TURF	LINE	Final Score UI	Final Score Opp	W/L
Sep. 1	† N Illinois (Chicago)	G					Iowa is 7-0 vs NIU with an avg MOV 31 ppg. Last meeting ('07) was also in Chicago & the opener (16-3 UI win +3 TO). Hawkeyes have won 11 straight season openers.
Sep. 8	Iowa St	A					UI has won 11 str home openers by 33 ppg. LY saw 8 lead changes but UI allowed a 59/13pl td drive w/1:17. In the 1st OT UI allowed a td on 4&gl from the 4 & eventually lost in the 3OT after yet another lead.
Sep. 15	Northern Iowa	A					Iowa is 14-1 vs N Iowa (14 str wins, loss in 1898). In the L/gm ('09) UI escaped with a 17-16 win as they blk'd 2 fg's in the final 7 sec (40 & 41 yds). The 1st blk was on 1D & rec by NI w/:01.
Sep. 22	Central Michigan	A					Hawkeyes have won the only 2 meetings ('94 & '98). In the L/gm they beat CM 38-0 w/a 348-227 yd & 7-1 sk edge. UI enters 2012 w/12 str wins hosting non-conf opp's (28-4 under Ferentz).
Sep. 29	Minnesota (HC)	A					The Hawkeyes have lost B2B gms to the Gophers but have won 5 straight at home. LY UI led 21-10 early 4Q but allowed a 80/11pl td drive, onside kick & 59/12pl GW td drive w/2:48.
Oct. 6							Bonus: Under Ferentz UI was just 2-6 their first 2Y in B10 HG's but the L11Y has gone 33-11.
Oct. 13	at Michigan St	G					LTH ('09) the Hawkeyes went 70/10pl tossing a 7 yd td pass on 4&gl as time expired (4Q saw 3 lead changes). Iowa is 1-4 in trips to MSU & just 2-6 in "true" road openers.
Oct. 20	Penn St	A					LY the Hawkeyes only trailed 6-3 into the 4Q but committed 3 4Q TO's (all near midfield) to eliminate any comeback. Iowa is 8-2 vs Penn St and hasn't dropped B2B gms since '94 & '95.
Oct. 27	at Northwestern	G					LTH Iowa led 17-7 into the 4Q before allowing td drives of 85/13pl & 91/11pl (the last score w/ just 1:22 left). Hawkeyes are just 2-5 their L/7 trips to Evanston (wins by 27 ppg & losses 4 ppg).
Nov. 3	at Indiana	A					UI did struggle LTH. Trailing 13-9 into the 4Q they needed a 52 yd td pass w/2:50 left to pull out the win. Indiana did get to the Iowa18 but on 4&10 w/:28 their potential td pass was confirmed inc after a challenge.
Nov. 10	Purdue	A					LY UI forced 4 TO's and blk'd a punt as they never trailed. UI has won 6 straight at home vs Purdue.
Nov. 17	at Michigan	A					LTH UI had a 4-0 TO edge & led 35-14 early 4Q holding on for the W despite being outFD (-8) & outgained (-134).
Nov. 23	Nebraska (Fri)	A					UI has lost 4 str. LY Iowa was simply dominated as they trailed 20-0 until a garbage 80/10pl td drive w/3:26 left.

NORTHWESTERN WILDCATS

C Brandon Vitabile

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - Brett Basanez left as the NU's car leading passer after '05. CJ Bachér was #3 all-time when he left in '08 and Mike Kafka set bowl and schl records in his final gm in '09 hitting 47-78-532 and 4 td's vs Aub (2nd Tm B10, #4DC). Dan Persa was twice named NU's Top Cat (workout warrior) and won the job in '10. He hit the game winning td pass vs Iowa but inj'd his Achilles (missed last 3). Persa threw for 2,581 (15-4), was #2 rusher (519, 3.2) and was clearly the team's MVP accounting for an FBS best 75% of the offense. Persa (73.5%, #1 FBS '10) shattered UW's Darrell Bevell's Big Ten comp % record (67.8% '93). Pocket passer Evan Watkins (6'6" 245, Jr, PS#34) started the final 3 but struggled (378, 51%, 2-5, 61 rush). They burned the RS on speedy Kain Colter (PS#50) and he got half of the snaps in the bowl (3 gms). Colter was limited his Sr year of HS (torn labrum) and that limited his passing in '10. LY Persa wasn't fully recovered and Colter started the first 3. When Persa ret'd he was strictly a pocket passer while Colter was used all over the field finishing as the leading rusher (654, 4.8) and the #3 rec (466, 10.8). Persa ended his career as the FBS' all-time career comp% leader (72.7%) throwing for 2,376 (73.4%, 17-7) in '11 while Colter added 673 (67.1%, 6-1) as NU's 254 ypg passing led the Big Ten. This year they lose Persa (10 st) and Colter will have to fend off Trevor Siemian (PS#43, 256, 61.5%, 3-1, 8 gm). Even with the loss of their top guy, I like the Colter/Siemian combination.

RUNNING BACKS - The Cats had an inexp'd RB corps in '09 as true frosh Arby Fields led with just 302 (3.7) while Jacob Schmidt had 217 (3.4). Their top 3 ret'd in '10 and Mike Trumpy whose idol is Mike Alstott (he loves to break tackles), ended NU's 20 gm streak of not having a 100 yd rusher (110 vs Indy). Trumpy later had 129 vs Illinois (80 yd td run - longest s/'86) and even though he DNP the last 2 (wrist), led with 530 (4.6). Adonis Smith (PS#113) was the #2 RB rusher (196, 4.8, 1 st true) and Schmidt added 161 (3.3). LY they had 3 of the top 4 back but Smith and Trumpy were banged up in Aug. True frosh Treyvon Green (PS#185) had an impressive Aug and was the #3 rusher (362, 3.7) but had a crucial fumble at the Mich St 3. Schmidt led the RB's with 471 (4.4) while Trumpy tore his ACL (vs Ill gm 4) and had just 182 (5.2). TY they add in PS#50 rFr Jordan Perkins, PS#37 true Fr Malin Jones and speedy WR Venric Mark (5'8" 175 Jr) who spent the spg here. Although they lose their top RB rusher Schmidt (12 st) and Smith (266, 4.0 transfer), the RB's should maintain better health and I look for the unit to post its best numbers s/'08.

RECEIVERS - In '10 NU lost their top 2 rec's (top 4 returnees 1,444 yds). Jeremy Ebert was indisputably the #1 rec with 953 (15.4) and a banged up Drake Dunsmore had 381 (9.5). LY they had 4 of their top 5 back. SB Dunsmore was #2 (522, 11.6) and he topped Jon Harvey as NU's TE career rec yds leader. Ebert had a career high 147 yds (81 yd td) vs Neb and then against Rice had a 90 yd td with his 208 yds falling just short of the NU single gm record (226 Jim Lash '72 &Todd Sheets '80). Ebert finished with 1,060 (14.1, #7DC NE) and 11 td and leaves as the #3 career leader while Dunsmore (#7DC TB) also departs. TY they lose their top 2 and Colter (#3) will be a full time QB. The leading returnee is Demetrius Fields (382, 11.9) and Tony Jones (157, 14.3 '10) ret's after sitting out LY. This unit is a lot less exp'd but does possibly add in USC transfer Kyle Prater (PS#1!) who saw limited action in 2 yrs with the Trojans (1 car rec) due to a slew of injuries.

OFFENSIVE LINE - The Cats OL surprised me in '08, '09 and '11. In '08 with an inexperienced unit, they improved to 142 rush ypg (3.8, 22 sk). A veteran unit in '09 regressed to 118 ypg (3.0, 32 sk). In '10 they had 4 starters back (89 car sts) and this time improved as expected (156 ypg, 3.6) despite allowing 40 sk (10.4%). Last year they had 9 of the top 10 back and their 137 car sts was #2 FBS. They improved to 167 ypg (3.8) but all'd 43 sks (10.6%) despite all 5 OL starting all 13. TY they lose LT Al Netter (4Y st'r), RG Ben Burkett (4Y st'r) and bkp Doug Bartels (13 st '09, 13 gm '11). They still have 3 st'rs back (73 car sts), will use at least a 9-man rotation on this unit and may show continued improvement.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '08 the top 4 DL tkl'rs returned. NU allowed the lowest ypg rush (126, 3.6) in their history (prev low '95 Rose Bowl tm) with a Big Ten leading 34 sks. In '09 they had to replace 2 st'rs but allowed just 129 ypg (3.8, 30 sks). In '10 they had to replace 3 DL (comb 24 sts, #4DC). They had 2 st'rs back again but yielded 185 ypg rush (5.1, 17 sk), their worst s/'05. LY they had 7 of the top 8 back incl 2nd Tm B10 DE Vince Browne. DE Tyler Scott beat out incumbent st'r Kevin Watt but he was slowed by inj during the 2H of the yr. Fitzgerald was displeased with the play and Browne lost his starting job prior to PSU. The Cats did improve however to 177 ypg (4.5, 17 sk). This year they lose DE Browne (6 st, 36 tkl, 3 sk), DT Jack DiNardo (11 st, 34 tkl, 3 sk), DT Niko Mafuli (12 st, 15 tkl, 1 sk) and DE Watt (7 st, 24 tkl, 1.5 tfl). They lose 36 sts and ret just 15 but I count it as 2 ret sts due to Scott's inj after 6 a ssn ago. This is not an overwhelming unit and while it is a little less experienced, plenty of underclassmen should see action and I expect similar numbers.

LINEBACKERS - LY the Cats had to replace 2 st'rs (#2, #3 tkl'rs) with the top returnees being #5 and #13. Despite being less exp'd, the numbers were similar to '10 (29.0) yielding 27.7 ppg. This year they lose WLB Bryce McNaul (7 st, #4 tkl'r, 6 tfl) and SLB Ben Johnson (3 st, 24 tkl, 2 tfl) but do have 3 back who had 7+ sts (#3, #7, #10). I'll call for improvement from this exp'd unit which also adds in PS#25 Ifeadi Odenigbo.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - The Wildcats had an experienced secondary in '08 and '09 and improved from #106 in '07 to #44 and #52 in my PDR. In '10 they had to replace Sherrick McManis (2nd NU CB in 33 yrs to earn 1st Tm B10, #5 DC) and a 1st Tm B10 FS. They had just one starter back but due to injuries in '09 ret'd 6 w/st exp. I projected them to drop a few notches and they did (#70). Last year they had 7 of the top 8 back. Despite the experience, NU slipped to #99 (60.7%, 16-12). This year they lose 1st Tm B10 S Brian Peters (#2 tkl'r, 5 int, 4 pbu), CB Jordan Mabin (12 st, 62 tkl, 6 pd), CB Jeravin Matthews (11 st, 63 tkl, 3 pd) and S David Arnold (1 st, 8 tkl). This group is less exp'd and a major ? for '12 despite underachieving last year.

SPECIAL TEAMS - The Cats had struggled on ST with finishes of #90, #92, #95, #110, #106 and #104 heading into '10. In '10 Venric Mark set a single game KR record (273 yds) vs Wisc. His 58 yd PR vs Ill was the Cats' longest s/'05 and they finished #28. LY they only had to replace their K but dropped to #67. P Brandon Williams (38.0 net '10) improved his avg to 40.8. Prior to Mich St's 57 yd PR td, however, they had allowed just 15 PR yds all year and his net dropped (35.1). Mark was solid on KR (22.9) and took every PR (only 8) as NU was #2 in the FBS (15.9). K Jeff Budzien (PS#2) hit just 6-10 FG (L47). TY the unit returns intact and I'll call for them to have their 2nd finish in the upper half of my ST rankings in the last 10 yrs.

COACHES - Pat Fitzgerald was hand picked by the late Randy Walker as his replacement. He became the youngest coach in the NCAA at 31 in '06. Fitzgerald was the Big Ten's D MVP on the '95 Rose Bowl tm and was inducted into the CFB HOF in '08. The Big Ten's LB of the Year Award is named the Butkus-Fitzgerald Award in his honor. He became the first NU HC to guide his team to 4 straight bowls LY. In '08 he brought in OC Mick McCall, who was BG's OC in '07 (QB cch '03-'06). Fifth year DC Mike Hankwitz was the DC at Wisc ('06-'07) and Colo ('04-'05). Hankwitz was also A&M's DC from '97-'02 and in his 42 yrs, his tms have had 35 winning seasons.

PHIL'S FORECAST

Northwestern had 59 yrs between Big Ten Titles (1936-'95) but has won 3 Titles in the last 17 yrs although their last one came in 2000. They were 14-10 in Big Ten play from '03-'05 and in '06 they had 13 ret sts but then suffered the sudden loss of HC Randy Walker over the summer. Under the circumstances, Pat Fitzgerald did a fine job getting the team to 4-8. I called for the Cats to be bowl eligible in Fitzgerald's 2nd yr as they had 7 HG's (most in 61 yrs) and despite going 6-6, they were left home for the holidays. Their Big Ten ypg went from -106 in '06 to -23 in '07. In '08 they had 47 ret lett (most s/'92). For the first time s/'63 they swept their non-conf gms and got their first win in the Big House s/'95 upsetting Mich, 21-14. Despite going 9-3 the Cats were the season's biggest underdog of any bowl team yet outplayed Missouri barely losing in OT. NU was -8.1 ypg in Big Ten play and benefitted from 3 net close wins. They had to replace 23 seniors in '09 and opened 5-4 before ending #8 Iowa's unbeaten season while also upsetting both Illinois and Wisc to get to 8-4 and 5-3 in the Big Ten (+23 ypg). NU had a 621-425 yd edge in the bowl vs Auburn but lost in OT (inj'd K miss FG & 1 xp). NU did benefit from 4 net close wins in '09 but had 55 lett ret in '10 and I mentioned they could open as strong as 6-0. NU almost got there opening 5-0 but missed 2 4Q FG's and lost by 3 at home vs Pur. NU was up 24-14 vs Mich St in the 4Q but lost QB Persa and then dropped their L/3 to finish 7-6. LY NU beat BC on the road in the opener, 24-17, dispatched FCS Eastern Illinois but then was shocked at Army 21-14. They led 28-10 in the 3Q but lost to Illinois. They had a 213-180 yd edge at half but a 98 yd IR td had Iowa ahead 17-7 and NU lost by 10. They had a 406-389 yd edge vs Penn St but lost Persa and the gm by 10. After beating Indy they upset Neb 28-25 (468-411 yd) on the road with Colter and Siemian filling in at QB for the inj prone Persa. NU beat Rice and Minn as expected by a combined 56-19. MSU had the Big Ten Title game on deck but scored 2 td's in the last 1:40 of the half to turn a tie gm into a 17-3 lead and won by 14. One of Fitzgerald's main goals for the program was to win its first bowl gm since the '48 Rose Bowl but they lost by 11 to A&M to finish 6-7. The Cats have now been bowl eligible in 8 of the last 9 yrs but have lost their L/9 bowls (tied NCAA rec). NU's 5th yr seniors were all recruited by Randy Walker and were part of more victories (36) over a 5 yr stretch than any class in schl hist. TY they only have 10 ret sts (fewest B10). Despite the inexp, Fitzgerald always gets the most out of his tm and 4 of my 9 sets of power ratings call for a 5th straight bowl trip.

MINNESOTA GOLDEN GOPHERS

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - Expectations were high when Tim Brewster signed 6'4" VHT MarQueis Gray (PS#13). Gray could not beat out Adam Weber, however, who left as UM's all-time leading passer (4Y st'r). Gray hit 8-23-86 as the Wildcat QB with 375 rush and st'd 8 at WR (#2 '10, 587, 14.0) in his first 2 yrs. LY HC Jerry Kill brought in true frosh Max Shortell (PS#49) who moved to #2 in Aug and would have been a higher recruit except he had a 5.2 40 in HS (now 4.8). Gray had to come out of each of the first 2 gms with leg cramps. Shortell had an impressive 4Q vs USC and folks started calling for him but he hit just 2-7 vs NMSt. Gray threw for 211 (110 rush), the first UM QB with 100+ rush and 200 pass since Billy Cockerham ('99). Gray broke Sandy Stephens' 50 yr old schl QB rushing record for a gm (160) with 171 vs Miami but tore toe ligaments in that game. Gray and Shortell alt'd vs NDSt then Gray missed Mich and Shortell hit 11-22-104 in the blowout loss. Shortell st'd vs Purdue but down 17-0, Gray relieved him. After PU, Shortell threw just 1 more pass over the last 6. Gray set a single ssn UM QB rushing rec (966) and threw for 1,495 (50.7%, 8-8) while Shortell threw for 309 (48.1%, 2-2). They now have 2 exp'd QB's and are in the 2nd yr of the new offense and add in two HT frosh (both IFS).

RUNNING BACKS - UM had a tremendous tradition at RB under Glen Mason. They produced a 1,000 yd runner annually from '99-'06 and became the 1st schl in NCAA history to have 2 backs top 1,000 in 3 consec ssns ('03-'05). Under Brewster the top RB rusher had just 563 (5,3), 678 (3.7), 376 (3.8) and 698 (3.6). LY Duane Bennett, who had 1,487 career rush yds (4.1) led the RB's with 639 (3.8). Donnell Kirkwood (PS#111), coming into '11 was #2 RB with 229 (3.6) and twice in Aug true frosh David Cobb had the biggest play in the scrimmage (62 & 43 yd td) but would play in just 4 (57, 5.7). UM does get a solid addition in JUCO James Gillum (2,339 yds 2Y JC) who was a big star in the spg. Adding depth is Devon Wright (6'0" 195 So, PS#58) who had one carry over 8 gms a ssn ago. Despite the loss of the their top RB rusher, the top 3 RB's comb for just 925 (3.9) and UM should have their top rusher s/'06.

RECEIVERS - In 2010 UM had to replace their top 2 rec's (1,263 yds) including all-time career rec in Eric Decker (#3DC). Among the top returnees were Da'Jon McKnight (311, 18.3) who at 6'3" 211 looked like an NFL WR along with Brandon Green (PS#22, 293, 14.0). LY the top 3 WR's ret'd but #2 MarQueis Gray (587, 14.0) moved back to QB. Dynamic true frosh RM Marcus Jones was #6 (142, 15.8). TY they add 6'3" JUCO Isaac Fruechte (IFS) who has solid hands and 4.4 spd. McKnight was by far the featured guy with 760 yds which was 4x the amount that the #2 rec Green had (190, 12.7). TE Collin McGarry (PS#35) was #2 in rec (16). They did get a late JUCO signee in Malcolm Moulton (PS#246JC) who had 174 (12.4) while TE Eric Lair (PS#47) added 168 (15.3). True frosh Devin Crawford-Tufts (156, 19.5) was a 100 and 200M HS track champ. TY they lose their top guy in McKnight (12 st), McGarry (12 st) and Lair (3 st). While the unit could have increased production, I'm going to call it down a notch with the loss of McKnight.

OFFENSIVE LINE - All 5 st'rs ret'd in '10 (110 car sts #1 B10) and they greatly reduced the sks (17, 4.5%) while improving to 135 ypg rush (3.6). LY they had to replace 3 st'rs plus learn new schemes again. RFr Jimmy Gjere st'd the first 5 until a conc and LG Chris Bunders moved to RT for the last 7. Walk-on rFr Caleb Bak st'd the final 4 as true frosh Tommy Olson (PS#67) had taken over a starting job but was inj'd. Despite being less exp'd, UM improved to 160 ypg (4.1) but the sks rose to 22 (8.0%). TY they lose C Ryan Wynn (12 st), Bunders (12 st, 3Y st'r) and Ryan Orton (4 st). LY UM ret'd 60 car sts and TY just 40 but in the 2nd yr of Kill's offense, they could be stronger.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '07 the undersized Gophers were #114 in rush D (229, 5.7!). They got bigger the next 2 yrs and all'd 143 ypg rush (4.1) in '08 and 152 ypg (3.8) in '09. In '10 they had to replace all 4 st'rs (3 car sts ret). With a D-line bereft of exp, you would expect poor numbers and the Gophers yielded 191 ypg rush (5.3) with just 9 sks (tied fewest FBS). LY they only had to replace 1 st'r (7 of top 8 bk). The unit did not improve as much as I had expected (186 ypg, 4.9, 19 sks). Their leading sacker has not had more than 4 s/'08. TY they lose DT Anthony Jacobs (12 st, 26 tkl, 6 tfl) and DT Brandon Kirksey (12 st, 19 tkl, 1 tfl). Two frosh comb for 15 sts and while this is an underwhelming group with a little less exp, it is the 2nd yr under the new staff and they can only improve.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 UM had to replace all 3 st'rs who were the #1 (2nd Tm B10), #2 (#5DC) and #4 tkl'rs. Only 2 of the top 6 were back and UM went from allowing 23.8 ppg in '09 to 33.0 in '10. LY the top 6 LB's ret'd and they expected Florida transfer Brendan Beal (PS#3) to contribute but he DNP (leg). Keanon Cooper was UM's fastest player and #4 tkl'r. Minn only improved to 31.7 ppg. TY they lose the late Gary Tinsley (12 st, #2 tkl'r, 9 tfl) and Patrick Sveum (5 tkl). They return their #3, #4 and #8 tkl'rs, add Beal and should get more production out of Lamonte Edwards (PS#35) who moved over from RB LY. I look for large strides from this unit in yr two under HC Kill.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - In '09 the Gophers only had to replace 1 st'r but added Wisc transfer S Kim Royston (PS#67). As expected, the more exp'd DB's rose to #54 (from #81). In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs then Royston RS (inj). The Gophers didn't blitz much as they were trying to protect their biggest weakness, the secondary and dropped back down to #112 (65% 21-11). They even moved WR Troy Stoudermire to CB (L/6 st). LY they had to replace 2 st'rs then Stoudermire was lost after 4 sts. Royston led B10 DB's in tkl with 123. UM had just 4 int's and finished #112 (67.7%, 23-4). TY they lose FS Royston (12 st, #1 tkl'r), CB Kyle Henderson (8 st, 65 tkls, 2 sk), SS Christyn Lewis (8 st, 42 tkl), SS Shady Salamon (2 st, 11 tkl, 1 tfl) and SS Chase Haviland (2 st, 8 tkl). With Stoudermire's return, they have 2 st'rs ret and while less exp'd, they add in 3 JUCO's who were IFS and can only move up in my PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - Brewster's units finished #61, #51 and #43 in my ST rankings but dropped to #119 in his final year. LY they had to replace their K (11-17, L45) and top PR (12.2). Dan Orseske (PS#5) improved the tm net from 30.9 ('10) to 34.2. True frosh Marcus Jones was the team's top KR (28.5) but missed the final 5. Duane Bennett would have been the B10's #2 KR with more att (344, 31.3). The team only ret'd 7 punts. New K Chris Hawthorne (54 yd FG Aug) hit 6-9 FG (L47) and Wettstein hit 6-6 FG (L51) after Hawthorne was inj'd. Jordan Wettstein also executed the key onside kick vs Iowa. Troy Stoudermire is the Big Ten's all-time KR yd leader but only had 8 KR in '11 (inj). UM climbed to #21. TY they have both K's and their P back and could be just as strong.

COACHES - Jerry Kill made the HC progression from HS, to DII, to FCS, to a non-AQ to a BCS program. He was the HC at N Ill ('08-'10, 23-16), S Ill ('01-'07, 55-32), Emporia St ('99-'00, 11-11) and Saginaw Valley St ('94-'98, 38-14). Both coor's have followed him over the last decade. OC Matt Limegrover has been the OC under Kill the L11Y. DC Tracy Claeys has been with Kill s/'95 (his DC the L13Y).

PHIL'S FORECAST

Minnesota had been to 3 bowls in the 20 yrs prior to Glen Mason's arrival. They went to 7 bowls in Mason's last 8 yrs but never to a Jan bowl. Their highest ranking under Mason came in 1999 (#12). In '06 it looked like a rebuilding year. They were -92 ypg in Big Ten play (2nd worst) but benefitted from +18 in TO's and made a bowl. Mason was let go and they brought in Tim Brewster. UM ran a power running game under Mason but switched to a spread. I did not make Gopher fans happy in '07 when I pegged them for LAST in the Big Ten coming off 5 consec bowls. During the year on philsteele.com I predicted that NDSt would "upset" Minny and the Bison won 27-21 with a 394-125 yd rush edge. The Gophers did indeed finish last in the Big Ten (1-11). In '08 I made a bold statement by placing the Gophers on my Most Improved List despite UM being 1 play away (miss Miami FG) from 0-12 in '07. They were -15 in TO's in Brewster's first season and had 5 net close losses. UM tied for the biggest turnaround in schl history (Murray Warmath's 1960 tm 2-7 to 8-2). They were however whipped in the Insight Bowl by Kansas, 42-21. Interestingly with identical Big Ten records and an even worse Insight Bowl loss than Mason suffered in '06, Brewster was given a contract ext while Mason had been fired. Despite UM's 3-5 Big Ten record, they were -109 ypg (3rd worst) and +12 in TO's. In '09 the Gophers were the most exp'd tm in the country and opened up the brand new TCF Bank Stadium. While the Gophers made it back to a bowl, they finished 6-7. Despite Minny's 3-5 B10 mark they were -90 ypg (2nd worst). In '10 they had just 1 ret st'r on D and I called for them to miss a bowl for the 2nd time in 9 yrs. UM dropped to 3-9 (-62 ypg B10). They hired Jerry Kill who won as many games in TCF Bank Stadium in '10 (1) as Brewster and interim HC Horton combined. Kill compared his rebuilding job here to that of SIll where he opened 1-11 and 4-8 before going 50-14 over his last 5 yrs. LY I called for a 3rd str losing season. They only lost to USC by 2 then were upset at home by NMSt in a game overshadowed by Kill's sideline seizure. UM had a td reviewed and spotted at the 1 then were SOD twice. After getting past Miami 29-23, NDSt packed their stadium and came away with another win. Mich handed UM their worst ever B10 shutout 58-0 and they were noncompetitive at Pur and Neb. In their first 3 B10 gms they trailed 99-3 at half. Iowa dominated but only led 21-10 after 3Q's and UM drove 80 yds for a td, rec'd an onside kick and drove 59 yds for the winning TD. MSU was in a Neb/Iowa sandwich and UM actually had a 415-402 yd edge vs the Legends champ but lost by 7. After being beaten by Wisc 42-13, they lost to NW by 15 despite a 393-368 yd edge. In the season finale, they stunningly had a 217-18 yd edge at half in their 27-7 upset of Illinois. They were -124 ypg in B10 play (#11) but indicators pointing up are that they were -8 in TO's, had poor off (16.9) and def (12.7) ypp's, have an exp'd QB and this is the 2nd year for Kill. They do, however, have 12 ret sts. Three of my 9 sets of power ratings call for UM to be bowl elig (incl my main one) so take a look on page 19 to see if they make TY's MIP list.

PHIL STEELE'S 2012 BIG 12 FORECAST

1. OKLAHOMA - The Sooners were preseason AP #1 in '11 but I picked Alabama for the Title. OU lost their top RB and WR due to injuries and only finished 10-3 (#16). TY they have 15 ret sts from a team that was +113.3 ypg (#1 B12) and rank in my top 3 units in all 8 position categories. Eight of my 9 sets of power ratings call for the Sooners to go 12-0 making them a legitimate National Title contender. In '10 Alabama opened #1 but finished 10-3 (#10). LY the Tide delivered a bounce back title, can the Sooners TY?

2. TEXAS - It's pretty amazing that Texas was 15-1 in the B12 reg ssn in '08 and '09 comb'd but actually went just 6-11 in B12 play the last 2 years. Even more amazing is that in Big 12 play they were +88 ypg in '08-'09 and +57 ypg in '10-'11 (close)! Texas will have by far their best QB play since Colt McCoy left and are loaded at every position with 15 ret sts. They do have to play Oklahoma St on the road but Texas has a Top 10 off and def and are my #1 Surprise Team (non Top 10 tm that can win Nat'l Title, see pg 20).

2. OKLAHOMA ST - The Cowboys finished AP #3 LY barely missing out on the Nat'l Title gm despite most everyone (incl myself) picking them 3rd in the B12. There are a lot of factors pointing downward TY as they have just 12 ret sts (2nd fewest B12), benefitted from +21 in TO's and were only +86 ypg in B12 play (3rd best). OSU loses their 2 star players in QB Weeden and WR Blackmon and benefitted from 2 net close wins with an off ypp of 11.2 (pg 309). Despite all of those factors, 4 of my 9 sets of power ratings call for them to be 11-1 (OSU does travel to Norman but hosts TX, WV and TCU) and they figure to be under the radar once again in '12.

4. WEST VIRGINIA - WV played by far their best game of the season in the bowl with a 99 yd FR td turning the momentum of the game. HC Dana Holgorsen had said he got a lot more of the offense installed during bowl practice and now has had a spring and offseason to put in even more. Geno Smith will pilot one of the nation's best offenses and the defense, despite losing their DC, looks stronger. They do have to play Okla St and Texas on the road and one of their 5 B12 HG's is against Oklahoma. They take a large step up in competition and were fortunate to win the BE LY but must be regarded as a legitimate B12 contender TY. WV is also ranked #3 or better in 3 of my 4 off position categories.

5. TCU - TCU has changed conf's many times and in their first yr of the MW, they took home the title. They have just 11 ret sts (last in B12) but have plenty of talent incl QB Casey Pachall, a tremendous set of RB's and their D figures to be stronger despite just 5 ret sts (was #1 in FBS 3 str yrs from '08-'10). TCU could open as strong as 7-0 TY but have to play Okla St, WV and KSU in their next 3 gms. They finish with Texas and Oklahoma and probably won't match LY's 11-win total.

6. KANSAS STATE - KSU was one of my favorite teams in the country LY as I picked them at least 2 spots higher than everyone else in the preseason and used them as my upset special almost every week on philsteele.com. KSU was an underdog in 9 of their 13 games but went 10-3 as Bill Snyder earned my Coach of the Year honor. Snyder will get this team to overachieve once again but despite being stronger this year, they were -106.8 ypg which was 2nd worst in the B12 and had an amazing 7 net close wins (see pg 309). KSU also only has 4 B12 HG's with 2 vs the league's top 3 teams in Manhattan. This is a dangerous Wildcat edition once again but it won't match LY's 10-win total.

7. TEXAS TECH - Last year TT was the only member of the B12 with 16 straight winning seasons. Prior to Tommy Tuberville's arrival TT's worst record in B12 play had been 3-5 but Tuberville matched that in his first year. Things looked pretty good LY as at one point they knocked off #3 ranked Oklahoma, were 5-2 and #19. Unfortunately, the bottom fell out and it resulted in a 5-7 finish (2-7 B12). TY Tech figures to be one of the most improved teams in the country as they have 17 ret st'rs and are in Tuberville's 3rd yr and they make my coveted Most Improved list.

8. BAYLOR - No, I'm not overreacting to the losses of RG3, RB Terrance Ganaway and WR Kendall Wright. This Baylor team will be surprisingly good but this is a tough Big 12 conf from top to bottom. BU should have one of the most improved D's in the country after yielding 488 ypg (37.2 ppg) LY. They only have 4 conference HG's in the B12 with 3 of them vs teams that finished in the Top 15 last year. The non-conf slate is manageable so a 3rd str bowl would not surprise me as they will be better than most expect. I must commend coach Art Briles on a job well done in Waco.

9. IOWA ST - It was with a great deal of trepidation that I put the Cyclones down here at #9. Paul Rhoads is a perfect 3 for 3 in topping my expectations as I did not expect them to get to a bowl game in 2 of his 3 years. ISU has just 12 returning st'rs which is tied for the 2nd fewest and lose 22 lett (tied for 2nd most). They were -11 in TO's and it will be interesting to see if Rhoads surpasses my expectations a 4th straight year.

10. KANSAS - Kansas is one of the most improved teams in the country. Charlie Weis ran a tough spring camp and brings in a lot of transfers as they get a huge upgrade at QB with Dayne Crist (former ND QB, PS#5). They get Iowa St at home so they could easily escape the basement despite the fact that they are just 2-23 in Big 12 play the last 3 years (one of the wins came last time hosting Iowa St). It wouldn't surprise me if Kansas doubles last year's win total.

Big 12 Notes: What a year it was for the Big 12 OFF the field. Over the summer they appeared on the verge of extinction with the seemingly imminent move of Texas, Okla and others to the "Pac-16". One year after Nebraska and Colorado left, Missouri and Texas A&M departed for the SEC. They added 2 teams who looked like they would be in the Big East this year in TCU and West Virginia. The Big 12 paid some big bucks to get WV to join this year and leave the conf at 10 teams. I wonder what will happen this offseason? In the short term this looks like a very solid league as WV and TCU will both be ranked. It will be good to see TCU renew their old SWC rivalries and for Dana Holgorsen to return to a league where he had great success as an OC. The Big 12 loses THREE 1st round NFL DC's from the QB position including Baylor's first ever Heisman Winner Robert Griffin III and the top 3 WR's (all high NFL DC's). Big 12 conf games LY featured an avg of 65.7 ppg while for comparison the SEC avg gm had 45.3 ppg making it a league known much more for its offense. In '10 the Big 12 was just 30-17 in FBS non conf gms which was 4th best but LY improved to 21-3 which was the best mark of any league. They were 6-3 vs AQ conf's (2nd best). The Big 12 went 6-2 in bowls (3-5 in '10) and tied for 2nd with 4 ranked tms but just one finished in the Top Ten. Okla St actually has the BEST record in the Big 12 over the last 3 yrs at 20-5, a full 3 gms better than their rival Oklahoma. That 20-5 record is amazing considering that in the 21 yrs prior (1988-2008) they were just 54-98 in conf play! The Big 12 started in '96 (expanding the old Big 8) and since '02 has had at least 4 teams ranked at the end of the season 7 times (70%) with the high marks in '07, '08 and '10 (5 schools in each of those years).

OKLAHOMA SOONERS

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - Jason White became the first OU QB to win the Heisman in '03. In his final 2 yrs he threw for 7,051 (63%, 75-19). In '07 I projected rFr Sam Bradford (PS#20) to start (3-way battle) and he led the FBS in pass eff. In '08 he won the Heisman setting a then FBS pass eff record (180.8, 50-8 ratio). In '09 Bradford turned down the NFL but was OFY vs Texas. RFr Landry Jones (PS#3), who barely won the #2 job threw for 3,198 (58%, 26-14). Jones had his ups and downs (5 int vs Neb) but threw for 418 in the bowl and eclipsed Bradford's OU Fr passing mark. In '10 Jones threw for 4,718 (66%, 38-12, schl rec 405 comp). He tied Bradford's schl record for pass yds with 468 vs Okla St. RFr Drew Allen (pocket passer) hit 9-14-89 (5 gm). Jones was a clear Heisman frontrunner going into LY but his numbers dropped off in the last 4 games when he lost his security blanket, WR Ryan Broyles. Jones threw for 4,463 (63.2%) but his ratio dropped to 29-15 with Blake Bell stealing some td's running the ball in the GL offense. Jones set an OU rec with 505 vs K-St despite 30 mph wind gusts. When targeting Broyles, Jones did not throw an int but had a 1-6 ratio without him. OU installed the Belldozer package in the final 6 with the 6'6" 245 lb Bell (PS#3) running like Tim Tebow. Bell hit 1-4 passes but rushed for 171 (3.9) and 13 td's. Bell had 3 td's in the bowl but was a ? choice as Bowl MVP (only 10 plays). Added to the mix is Kendal Thompson (6'2" 183 rFr, PS#24). Jones should have his best year as a senior.

RUNNING BACKS - DeMarco Murray topped Joe Washington (5881,'72-'75) for car all-purp yds (6718, '07-'10). He led with 1,214 rush (4.3) in '10 but also led all FBS RB's with 71 rec (594, 8.4). Electric true frosh Roy Finch (PS#16) missed 6 (inj) but still had 398 (4.7). Fellow true frosh Brennan Clay (PS#7) added 127 (3.5) and HC Bob Stoops said that Trey Millard (209 ttl yds '10) could be his best ever FB. LY they had to replace Murray (#3DC) and added Brandon Williams (PS#5, IFS). The ? was who would start - Williams, Finch or Clay? Surprisingly the answer turned out to be walk-on Dominique Whaley. Whaley broke Adrian Peterson's OU position records for the standing broad jump (11'1"), VL (40.5") and squat lift (525) and runs a 4.39 (Peterson 4.37). Williams had just 219 (4.8) in 8 gms. Whaley led with 627 (5.5) in just 7 gms but was then OFY (inj). Finch, who is too small (5'7" 166) to be a feature back, was #2 with 605 (5.5), Clay was #3 with 274 (3.7) and Millard was #6 with169 (7.0). TY they only lose Williams (transfer). There are 2 VHT newcomers and I look for improved production from the OU RB's.

RECEIVERS - In '10 the top 3 WR's were back. Biletnikoff finalist Broyles (FBS best 131 rec) had an amazing ssn (1622, 12.4). True frosh Kenny Stills (PS#13) was #2 with 786 (12.9). True frosh Trey Franks had 263 (9.1) and TE James Hanna 292 (16.2). LY Broyles became the NCAA's all-time career leader in total rec and had a schl rec 217 yds vs KU to take that spot in style. Unfortunately he was lost to an ACL and the offense was much less effective in the final 4 games. Stills (miss 2) was #2 with 849 (13.9) and Jaz Reynolds (miss 3) #3 with 715 (17.4). TY they lose Hanna (13 st, 381, 14.1, #6DC DAL), Broyles (9 st, #2DC DET), WR Dejuan Miller (4 st, 245, 11.1), WR Kamel Jackson (2 st, 165, 13.8) and TE Trent Ratterree (10 rec). I like the talent and unlike LY, they probably will not go into shock without Broyles. They do add in PS#4 Trey Metoyer (star of spg) as well as PS#9, #19 and #21 true frosh and a PS#8JC.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '08 OU's OL had 130 car sts ret (#1 FBS) with all 5 st'rs listed as NFL prospects. They opened holes for 199 ypg rush (4.7) with 13 sks (2.5%). In '09 this unit was largely to blame for their 8-5 ssn as they had to replace 4 multi-year st'rs (#2, #5 DC's) and plummeted to 135 ypg (3.6) but with just 15 sks (2.9%). OU st'd 10 diff OL lineups. In '10 they had to replace 2.5 st'rs (#1DC) but had 8 w/st exp. Surprisingly, their numbers dropped to 3.3 ypc (21 sks, 3.3%). LY OU had to replace a 1st Tm B12 RT and 2 bkps but had 4 st'rs back. I said the unit, after being a weakness for 2 yrs, should become a strength and even though they lost C Ben Habern for 6 gms, they moved up to 163 (4.5, 11 sks, 1.9%!). TY they lose LT Donald Stephenson (13 st, 2Y st'r, #3DC KC) and LG Stephen Good (2 st). Conv DL Lane Johnson (12 st) is now in his 2nd yr and moves from RT to LT and they add a PS#14JC. With 102 car sts returning, this should be OU's best O-line s/'08 .

DEFENSIVE LINE - The Sooners always have an excellent D-line. In '09 DT Gerald McCoy turned down the NFL and they had all 4 st'rs back. The rush D improved to 93 ypg (2.8) while Jeremy Beal led with 11 sks. In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs (McCoy #1DC). DT Adrian Taylor (13 st '09) was never 100% then was OFY midseason. Beal was named the B12 DPOY but it was an inexp'd group. They slipped to 149 ypg rush (4.1), their weakest s/'97. LY they had to replace Beal (#7DC), Taylor and 2 bkp. Ronnell Lewis (PS#6) st'd the final 4 in '10 but his eligibility saga dragged on thru Aug. Only one DL st'd more than 9 (Frank Alexander, Hendricks finalist). OU did improve to 135 ypg (3.7) with 40 sks. TY they lose Big 12 co-Def POY Alexander (13 st, 54 tkl, 8.5 sk, 10.5 tfl, #4DC CAR) and Lewis (9 st, 59 tkl, 5.5 sk, 7.5 tfl, #4DC DET) but should continue to improve their rush D.

LINEBACKERS - In '09 OU ret'd 5 of their top 6 LB's and got back Ryan Reynolds (PS#3, inj '08). Travis Lewis, who also broke Brian Bosworth's OU frosh rec for tkl (144, B12 Fr Yr), earned 1st Tm B12 and OU all'd just 14.5 ppg (best s/'01). In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs (#3, #4 tkl'r). Of OU's top 7 LB's, 5 were soph or frosh and the unit was hit hard by inj's as they slipped to 21.8 ppg. LY Lewis (#1 tkl'r) turned down the NFL but was only about 80% (foot inj). They also suffered the tragic death of MLB Austin Box in May. OU had similar numbers (22.1 ppg). TY they lose Lewis (12 st, #2 tkl'r, 4 tfl, #7DC DET) but return 4 of their top 6 (#4, #7 tkl'rs). Despite being a little less exp'd and losing their top guy, this unit looks stronger and is loaded with 9 VHT's.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - OU always fares well in my PDR and despite losing 3 st'rs were #11 in '08 (see more in Hardcore Fans). LY they had to replace a 1st Tm AA FS (#4DC) and their SS (#7DC). Tony Jefferson split time between FS, SLB and NB and had 3 int in 1Q vs Ball St (#3 tkl'r). TY they lose CB Jamell Fleming (11 st, 60 tkl, 2 int, 10 pbu, #3DC ARZ) and FS Sam Proctor (3 st, 28 tkl). The DB's nicknamed themselves "The Sharks" LY but despite allowing several big plays vs TT, BU and OSU, the unit finished #8 in my PDR (54.2%, 18-15) and TY have their most exp in yrs and Mike Stoops back as a mentor.

SPECIAL TEAMS - In Stoops' first 9 yrs his ST units were a strength with 6 top 13 finishes. Surprisingly in '08 they plummeted to #101 (all'd 4 KR td's). In '09 I expected a move back up to their usual spot and they finished #12 despite not settling on a K. P Tress Way was #5 in the FBS with a 40.3 net. In '10 (everyone back), they surprisingly dropped to #37 (4 more ret TD). Stoops bypassed FG's at times in '10 so he bought insurance with 4 schlp K's LY. Jimmy Stevens (38-48 career FG) hit 4-4 FG but was inj after 2 and OFY. RFr Michael Hunnicutt hit 21-24 (L53) incl his final 10. Trey Franks was the top KR (23.9) and Way had 34 punts I20. OU finished #16 and have almost everyone back.

COACHES - Bob Stoops arrived in '99 and won a Nat'l Title in his 2nd season. OU then played in the Nat'l Title gm in '03, '04 and '08. OU's 132 wins the L12Y are more than any other BCS team. The OC position has gone from Mike Leach to Mark Mangino to Chuck Long to Kevin Wilson and Stoops has never looked beyond his existing staff to fill it. Jay Norvell is in his 3rd season as co-OC while 7Y QB cch Josh Heupel is in his 2nd. Mike Stoops returns as DC ('99-'03) after being Arizona's HC the last 8 yrs. The D was run by the same co-DC's for the L8Y in Brent Venables (to Clemson) and Bobby Jack Wright (still DE cch).

PHIL'S FORECAST

In '00 Okla did not have a starter miss a single gm due to inj. They stunned the nation winning the Nat'l Title despite not being in the preseason Top 20. In '02 OU won the Big 12 Title and the Rose Bowl. In '03 OU lost the conf title gm and the Nat'l Title gm vs LSU. In '04 they were 12-0 but lost the Nat'l Title game vs USC, 55-19. In '05 OU slumped to 8-4 before winning the Big 12 Title the next 3 yrs but lost 3 straight BCS bowls (2 large upsets in Fiesta) while finishing #11, #8 and #5. In '09 OU lost QB Bradford and TE Jermaine Gresham to inj's early on and finished 8-5. Despite their 5-3 B12 record, they were +133 ypg (#1). In '10 I picked the Sooners as my #1 Surprise Team. OU moved to 6-0 but at #1 went down with ESPN Gameday on hand at Missouri. OU had 3 trips inside the MU15 result in zero pts (2 TO, miss FG). At half, Okla had a 301-99 yd edge but trailed 17-14. The redzone problems crept up again vs A&M as they were SOD on 1&gl 3 times, had a fake FG incomp pass and missed a FG. OU still won the Big 12 Title and blew out #25 Conn 48-20 in the Fiesta Bowl to finish #6 (+161.3 ypg in B12 #1). They were +14 in TO's, had 5 net close wins and only 4 sts lost in '10, all key indicators pointing downward but entered '11 #1 AP. There was a huge build up to their road trip to Fla St but OU prevailed, 23-13 (FSU lost QB 3Q). They trailed Missouri 14-3 in the 1Q in a letdown spot but won, 38-28. OU rolled over Ball St by 56, won the RRR by 38 (+4 TO's) then beat Kansas by 30. There was a 1.5 hr weather delay prior to their TT gm and they were stunningly upset at home, ending a 39 gm Owen Field streak. OU took on #10 K-St on the road and trailed 17-14 but won 58-17. They knocked off A&M by 16 but were stunned vs Baylor. Top RB Whaley was already OFY when they lost top WR Broyles and QB Jones did not throw a td pass in the final 3 reg ssn gms w/o Broyles. After knocking off Iowa St, OU was a no show vs Okla St on the road (lost 44-10). They only led 24-14 when Iowa was SOD in its own terr and OU tacked on a td in the final seconds of the bowl. OU finished #16 AP. LY OU had 2 net close losses, were -2 in TO's and their +113.3 ypg was #1 in the B12. With Jones turning down a shot at the NFL, they have 15 ret sts and 8 of my 9 sets of power ratings call for a 12-0 season!

TEXAS LONGHORNS

WR Jaxon Shipley

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - Vince Young became the first player in NCAA history to have 2,500 pass and 1,000 rush yds in a season ('05) and left with a record of 30-2 as a starter. RFr Colt McCoy then took over as a 4 yr st'r from '06-'09. Unfortunately McCoy was inj'd in his final game (Nat'l Champ) and true frosh Garrett Gilbert replaced him (15-40 w/4 int vs Bama). McCoy threw for 3,521 (71%, 27-12) as a senior. He set the record for wins by a college QB (45) which was broken by Kellen Moore (Boise St) LY. Expectations were high in '10 for Gilbert and he finished as the #2 rusher (380, 3.8) while throwing for 2,744 but hit just 59% with a poor 10-17 ratio. LY was a 4-way battle in the new Boise St offense between Gilbert, soph Case McCoy (PS#51, Colt's brother), rFr Connor Wood (PS#6) and true frosh David Ash (PS#16). Gilbert started the first 2 gms (48%,1-2) but was benched (BYU) and had shoulder surgery. Ash and McCoy split the duties the rest of the ssn. Ash, who is known as more of a dual threat, surprisingly rushed for just 103 (1.4) while throwing for 1,068 (56.6%, 4-8). McCoy started the final 2 gms in the reg ssn (1045, 61.4%, 7-4) but had 5 TO's vs Baylor and Ash took every snap in the bowl. Both Wood and Gilbert transferred but Texas will still have their best QB play s/'09.

RUNNING BACKS - Texas has had a terrific RB tradition incl Heisman Trophy winners Earl Campbell and Ricky Williams. Cedric Benson became just the 5th ply'r in NCAA hist to top 1,000 rush yds for 4 str yrs (incl 1834, 5.6, '04). Jamaal Charles led the RB's for 3 consec yrs (1619, 6.3, '07). The Horns top rusher in '08 had just 376 (4.3) and just 552 (4.8) in '09. One of the reasons I had UT rated lower than most in '10 was that I failed to see a feature RB on the roster. After 10 wks their leading rusher in gross yds was QB Gilbert. 250 lb Cody Johnson led with 592 (4.4). LY I projected true frosh Malcolm Brown (PS#1) to top 1,000. Brown was on his way (#1 rusher each of 1st 6) but missed 3 (742, 4.3). Brown and Joe Bergeron (PS#36) became the first pair of UT frosh RB's to top 100 in a gm (vs KU) and Bergeron then had 191 vs TT finishing #2 (463, 6.4). Vs Missouri both Brown and Bergeron were out then Fozzy Whittaker (QB in Wild Fozzy formation) was OFY in the 1Q ending with 386 (5.8). DJ Monroe (PS#27) led with 77 vs Baylor (326, 6.8). TY LB Chet Moss (6'2" 242 So, PS#30LB) moves to FB and Monroe moves to WR. They only lose Whittaker (6 st) and FB Johnson (10 st, 200, 4.2). Brown and Bergeron should remain healthier and they add in PS#1 Johnathan Gray (home run threat) to the backfield. This is one of the nation's best RB corps.

RECEIVERS - In '10 Texas had to replace Biletnikoff finalist Jordan Shipley (#3DC, 1485, 12.8) and James Kirkendoll led with 707 (13.6) while Mike Davis' 47 rec's set a school frosh record (BJ Johnson, 41 in '00). LY they had to replace their #1, #3 and #4 rec's. Marquise Goodwin (324, 10.5 in '10) was going to RS to train for the Olympics but ret'd in Wk2. True frosh Jaxon Shipley (Jordan's bro) was having a fine year but missed 3 (inj) and finished #2 (607, 13.8). Davis had issues with drops yet still led with 609 (13.5) and Goodwin was #3 with 421 (12.8). TY they lose WR Darius White (5 rec, PS#3), TE Blaine Irby (3 st, 11 rec), TE Darius Terrell (1 rec, PS#13) and TE Dominique Jones (5 st, 2 rec) but are much more exp'd in the 2nd yr of OC Bryan Harsin's offense.

OFFENSIVE LINE - Surprisingly UT has not had an OL drafted s/'08. In '10 they had to replace a 2nd Tm B12 C, a 2nd Tm AA LT and an HM B12 LG (2 st'rs ret). They still improved to 151 ypg rush (4.2, 18 sk, 4.0%). With just 2 st'rs back again LY (36 car sts), I said they could improve and they did (203, 4.5). The OL spent the summer preparing for Gilbert's vertical passing game, had a new OL coach and lacked depth with just 7 schlp OL. Soon after allowing a comb 13 sk in B2B losses to OU and OkSt, true frosh Josh Cochran beat out Tray Allen (PS#3) leaving 2 frosh and 2 soph st'rs. TY they lose LG David Snow (13 st, 2Y st'r) and LT Allen (6 st) but have 4 st'rs ret (63 car st). They add in a PS#9JC LT Donald Hawkins, making this their most veteran OL in 3 yrs and Mack Brown said that the improvement up front was "night and day" this spring compared to a yr ago.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '10 UT had to replace 2.5 st'rs (2 DC's). Surprisingly, the Horns rush D all'd their highest ypg s/'03 (139, 3.5). LY they lost a 1st Tm B12 DE (#4DC) and 2 others (comb 10 st). They had 10 DL ranking PS#25 or higher. The Horns allowed just 96 ypg rush (3.1, 29 sks). TY they lose DT Kheeston Randall (13 st, 34 tkl, 5 tfl, #7DC MIA) and DT Calvin Howell (7 st, 16 tkl, 1 sk). 1st Tm AA Alex Okafor (58 tkl, 7 sk) turned down the NFL and teams with Jackson Jeffcoat for one of the nation's best DE combos. Some have compared Desmond Jackson (PS#9) to former UT star and NFL'r Roy Miller in terms of toughness and work ethic (shares NT with hyped JC transfer Brandon Moore). The Horns are equal to LY in exp, have their top 2 DL back and figure to be one of the top DL's in the country.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 UT had to replace a 2nd Tm B12 LB (#1 tkl'r) who was only the 2nd Horns LB to be drafted in the previous 15 yrs (#4DC). They did have 3 VHT signees (2 RS). They played 5 DB's a lot in '09 so while just 1 st'r ret'd in Keenan Robinson (#3 tkl'r), they also ret'd #9 Emmanuel Acho. UT allowed 23.7 ppg (7 ppg more than in '09). LY they had to replace 1 st'r (#9 tkl'r) but had their top 2 tkl'rs back ('10 VHT's). Acho earned 1st Tm B12 (13 st, 131 tkl, 19 tfl, #6DC CLE) and Robinson was 2nd Tm (13 st, 106 tkl, 10 tfl, #4DC WAS). Depth was an issue with Acho and Robinson playing virtually every snap. TY they lose their #1 and #2 tkl'rs and the top returnees are Jordan Hicks (PS#1, #6 tkl'r) and Steve Edmond (PS#5, 16 tkl true) who is 255 lbs but fast and physical. While this unit is loaded with VHT's, they are less experienced.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - In '10 the Horns had to replace 1 st'r (#1DC SS) but finished #15 in my PDR (162 ypg, 56.7%, 13-8). LY they had to replace 3 NFL DC's. Soph Quandre Diggs is nicknamed 'Quandre the Giant' (5'10" but plays like he's 10'5"). Ret st'r SS Christian Scott (susp, inj) lost his job but UT improved to #5 (56.6%, 13-12, 210 ypg). TY they lose NB Scott (4 st, 21 tkl, 4 pbu), FS Blake Gideon (13 st, #3 tkl'r, 4 pbu) and AJ White (6 tkl). With 3 st'rs back incl star S Kenny Vaccaro and 10 VHT's, UT will contend for my #1 pass D this year.

SPECIAL TEAMS - With Brown's past recruiting success, most of the bkps have been VHT's and contribute on ST. Since '00 they have finished #18, #10, #16, #15, #36, #1 (in '05), #12, #26, #10, #3 ('09), #48 and #23 in my ST rankings. LY K/P Justin Tucker hit a super 17-21 FG (L52), had 12 TB on 70 KO and avg 39.2 on punts (35.5 net). Quandre Diggs was the top PR (20.1) and thanks to Fozzy Whittaker (10-42.4) the tm avg'd 24.1 on KR's. UT also blk'd 2 punts (both by frosh). This year they lose both Tucker and Whittaker and Brown claimed both K and P jobs are wide open out of the spring. They will drop some.

COACHES - Mack Brown took over a 4-7 team in '98 and took them to a bowl in 13 of 14 ssn. He has led UT to at least a share of six B12 South Titles and in '08 won the Bobby Dodd Nat'l COY. He is among the highest paid HC's in college FB with his contract extended in Jan through '20. Former UT QB great Major Applewhite ('98-'01) came here in '08 as an asst HC and LY was named co-OC along with Bryan Harsin who calls the plays and was Boise's OC from '06-'10. DC Manny Diaz is in his 2nd season and was the DC at Miss St ('10) and Middle Tenn ('06-'09).

PHIL'S FORECAST

Mack Brown came into '05 with just a 1-12 record vs Top 5 tms but things changed in a big way. UT won at #4 Ohio St and after having lost 5 str to Okla, won 45-12. They beat defending Nat'l Champ #1 USC in the Rose Bowl to win their first National Title s/'70. In '06 they were #4 when QB McCoy was inj'd and finished just 10-3. In '07 they fell as low as #23 but finished #10. In '08 they had just 11 ret sts and a tough schedule. The young team came together quickly and they knocked off #1 Okla (45-35) and moved to #1 appearing to have arrived a year early. They gave up a td with :01 left and lost to #6 TT on the road and with a 3-way tie were excluded from the B12 Title game. Denied a shot at the Nat'l Title a disappointed UT still beat #10 Ohio St (Fiesta). In '09 I projected the Horns to play in the Nat'l Title gm and in the B12 Title game needed a 46 yd FG with :01 left to get there. Unfortunately leading 6-0 they lost QB McCoy and despite a 276-263 yd edge, were done in by 5 TO's and lost to Alabama 37-21. In '10 I mentioned that they had just 8 sts lost in '09, were +9 in TO's, had an incredible off ypp of 10.7 (pg 309) and had been only #3 B12 at +94.3 ypg. UT moved from the spread to more of a pro-style downhill run attack despite not having a feature back on the roster. With Garrett Gilbert's solid 2H in the Title game, many treated the Horns as if they had a ret st'r at QB in '10. I got beaten up pretty good in the preseason by Texas fans as I did not have the Horns in my Preseason Top 10. They entered the season at #5 AP but when the dust settled they had their first losing ssn s/'97 and finished last in their div for the first time s/'56. Gilbert's play reflected his inexp (10-17 ratio) and the leading rusher had less than 600 yds. Mack Brown had led UNC and UT to winning records for 20 straight yrs (longest FBS streak). LY he brought in new coor's and UT had been -12 in TO's so naturally they made my Most Improved List. UT jumped out to a 4-0 start (#11) but vs #3 Okla gave up 3 def td's and lost, 55-17. They lost to #6 Okla St at home, 38-26. After blasting KU and TT, UT was without their top 3 RB's vs Missouri on a windy day and lost 17-5. Despite having a 310-121 yd edge vs K-St, they lost at home 17-13. They rallied to beat A&M behind McCoy but vs Baylor were -5 in TO's and lost, 48-24. They finished with a 21-10 win over Cal in the Holiday Bowl but wound up the ssn #30 (NR). TY UT goes from 11 to 15 ret sts and despite their 4-5 B12 record were +61.9 ypg (4th best). Texas is my #1 Surprise Team (a non Top 10 team that can win a National Title) thanks to the B12's best D.

OKLAHOMA ST COWBOYS

RB Joseph Randle

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - After getting uneven QB play in '05 (49%, 11-17 ratio) and '06 (55%), Zac Robinson set an OSU ssn record for total offense (3,671) in '07. He would top HC Mike Gundy's career passing mark even though he was banged up and had a disappointing Sr yr (2084, 15-12) in '09. Former Yankees farmhand Brandon Weeden guided the comeback win vs Colo in '09 and saw action in 3 gms (248, 63%, 4-1). Weeden, who has the strongest arm that ex-OC Holgorsen had ever worked with, became a student of the gm immersing himself in tape. The 27 yr old Weeden was focused on baseball in HS and only st'd at QB as a Sr ('01). Despite playing with a sprained thumb (opted against surgery) throughout most of '10, Weeden threw for an OSU rec 4,277 (67%, 34-13) becoming their first 1st Tm all-conf QB s/'32 (Clarence Highfill). LY Weeden spent the offseason briefing new OC Todd Monken on the system and he was older (28 in Oct) than 18 of the 32 starting NFL QB's. He threw 2 IR td's in the opener but set OSU rec's in comp (42) and att's (53) vs Ariz (hit 1st 13). Weeden reset his records (47-60) vs A&M. He also hit 24-28 (85.7%) vs Kan topping Robinson's OSU % rec. Weeden had a streak of 194 passes w/o an int and set another OSU rec w/502 vs K-St. He was #1 in some Heisman polls but dropped from the top 5 after their 2OT loss to Iowa St. Weeden threw a lot more underneath passes so his % rose to 72.4% (4727, 37-13). Clint Chelf played in 5 throwing for 307 (66.7%, 3-0). TY they lose Weeden (#1DC CLE) who was 23-3 as a st'r. Chelf battled rFr JW Walsh (PS#10) and true frosh Wes Lunt (PS#21) during spg with Gundy naming the Weeden-esque Lunt (6'4" 211) the starter (1st true QB st'r s/'93 Tone' Jones). Naturally with the loss of a veteran QB, I look for a good sized drop in the passing numbers.

RUNNING BACKS - In '07 Dantrell Savage (PS#11JC) had 10 str 100 yd gms finishing with 1,272 (5.7). In '08 Kendall Hunter was 1st Tm AA rushing for 1,555 (6.5). Hunter suffered an ankle inj and played in just 8 gms in '09 (382, 4.3) but Keith Toston kept the 1,000 streak alive with 1,218 (5.4). Despite having to replace Toston I said the unit would be even stronger in '10 as Hunter was backed by 3 VHT's incl Jeremy Smith (PS#22). Hunter rushed for 1,548 (5.7) with 16 td's. Joseph Randle led Big 12 Fr in all-purp yds (1,160) as he was the best rec of the RB's (427, 11.5) and the #2 rusher (452, 5.5). Smith was the best downhill runner and had 262 (4.7) with most of his carries in the RZ (7 td). LY they added PS#9 Herschel Sims and I said they could keep their 1,000 yd streak alive. Randle finished with 1,216 (5.8) and 24 td's (43 rec's). Smith was #2 with 646 (7.1) and 9 td's. Sims added 242 (7.8) and true frosh Desmond Roland (6'2" 203, PS#52) had 95 (5.6). FB's also have an important role with David Paulsen (6'2" 267 Sr) being used as the smash mouth option and VHT Kye Staley (PS#14) serving on pass downs. The unit returns intact TY and is one of the FBS's best RB corps.

RECEIVERS - In '09 OSU had to replace 4 of their top 5 rec's. Dez Bryant (1480, 17.0 in '08) was then susp'd after 3 gms but still finished #2 (323, 19.0). Hubert Anyiam (PS#105) led with 515 (12.3) and rFr Justin Blackmon was #4 (260, 13.0). At the end of Aug '10 Holgorsen wondered if a go-to WR would emerge. Blackmon became that guy and was the Big 12 OPOY, the Biletnikoff winner and led the nation with 1,782 (16.1) and 20 td's. Blackmon had an NCAA rec 12 straight 100 yd rec gms (Aaron Turner, Pacific). Anyiam had just 135 (12.3) while Josh Cooper moved up to #2 (736, 10.8). Mel Kiper had Blackmon #13 on his Big Board yet he turned down the NFL LY. The goal was to spread the catches around more equally but Blackmon still led with 1,522 (12.5) with 18 td's becoming the 2nd 2x Biletnikoff winner (TT's Michael Crabtree '07-'08). Cooper was #2 with 715 (10.1) and Tracy Moore was #3 (672,14.9). Anyiam broke his foot (OFY after 7 gm, 370, 13.7). TY they lose Blackmon (12 st, #1DC JAX), Cooper (5 st), Anyiam (6 st), bowl hero Colton Chelf (1 st, 291, 13.9) and Michael Harrison (255, 12.8). Naturally with the loss of 3 of their top 4, this unit looks weaker.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '10 OSU had to replace a 1st Tm AA (#1DC), a pair of 3 yr st'rs and another st'r. The OL unit ret'd just 12 car sts (#117 FBS). With OSU moving to a TTech "Air Raid" style of off under Holgorsen, it was very surprising to see the ypc actually increase to 5.0 while all'g just 10 sks (1.9%). The unit's performance was key to OSU's surprising season. LY they had 5 ret st'rs (76 car sts) and added in PS#21JC LT Michael Bowie (5 st). LG Jonathan Rush was lost after 3 sts but Nick Martinez (13 st '10) replaced him. The Cowboys improved to 159 ypc (5.3) with 12 sk (2%). TY they lose Big 12 OL of the Yr C Grant Garner (12 st, 2Y st'r), 1st Tm B12 and AA T Levy Adcock (13 st, 2Y st'r), Martinez (13 st, 2Y st'r) and C Casey LaBrue (1 st). They lose their top 2 OL but odds are Gundy will fashion another solid group (63 car sts return).

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '09 the Cowboys had to replace just 2 DL (comb 14 sts) giving them their most exp'd unit in 3 yrs. As expected, they were much stronger, yielding an OSU rec low 96 ypg rush (3.0). In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs and allowed just 134 ypg rush (3.5, 30 sks). LY they had to replace their top guy in DE Ugo Chinasa, 2 other st'rs and a bkp. The less exp'd unit slipped again allowing 185 ypg (4.4, 30 sks). TY they lose 1st Tm B12 DE Jamie Blatnick (13 st, 50 tkl, 8 sk) and DE Richetti Jones (13 st, 33 tkl, 4 sk). The top ret DL had just 2 sks but they add in a PS#15JC (IFS), are more exp'd and stronger.

LINEBACKERS - LY OSU had to replace 1st Tm B12 Orie Lemon (#1 tkl'r) as well as their #2 tkl'r and a bkp (15 tkl). James Thomas (#4 tkl'r '10) lost his spot to impressive true frosh Shaun Lewis (PS#14, #5 tkl'r, Frosh AA). With just 1 st'r back OSU all'd 26.8 ppg but led the nation with 44 TO's forced. TY they lose Thomas (#14 tkl'r, 4.5 tfl, 4 int) but have 5 of their top 6 back incl their #2, #3 and #6 tkl'rs and Gundy calls it his best LB unit yet.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - From '05-'08 OSU finished just #98, #80, #92 and #64 in my PDR. Led by star CB Perrish Cox, an inexp'd unit (lost 3 st'rs) surprisingly finished #8 in '09. In '10 they had to replace 3 st'rs again incl Cox. Despite inexp and inj's, OSU still finished #23 and added depth by playing 6 true frosh. LY they had to replace 2 st'rs yet climbed to #3 in my PDR (59.5%, 15-24). The 24 int's were #2 in the FBS (NCSt #1). CB Brodrick Brown and SS Markelle Martin (both 1st Tm B12) were both among 15 semifinalists for the prestigious Thorpe Award. TY they lose SS Martin (#3 tkl'r, 11 pbu, #6DC TEN) but return 7 of their top 8 making this one of the top secondaries in the country.

SPECIAL TEAMS - Joe DeForest is one of my favorite ST coaches and in his 11 yrs OSU had 8 top 20 finishes incl #1 in '10. PS#11 Quinn Sharp has had to wait behind a Ray Guy winner (Matt Fodge '08) and a Lou Groza winner (Dan Bailey '10). LY Sharp handled all 3 specialty chores for the 1st time hitting 22-25 FG's (L46), having an amazing 61 TB (#1 FBS by 21) on 114 KO and avg 46.3 on punts (tm net 38.8). Surprisingly OSU only avg 3.4 on PR but Justin Gilbert led the B12 in KR (27.0). OSU was #14. TY Sharp is back and despite the loss of DeForest (to WV), this unit should finish in my Top 10.

COACHES - Mike Gundy was a star QB here and later was the QB coach and OC in the early '90's. He ret'd here in '01 as the asst HC/OC and took over as HC in '05. Gundy, at 38, was the youngest HC in the NCAA in '05 and has led the Cowboys to 41 wins in the L4Y incl a schl record 11 in '10 which was broken LY (12). OC Todd Monken coached WR's here from '02-'04 and was an NFL WR cch (JAX '07-'10). He replaced Dana Holgorsen in '11. DC Bill Young is in his 3rd stint at OSU and 4th ssn as their current DC. He was the DC at Miami, Kan, Ohio St, Okla and USC.

PHIL'S FORECAST

In '06 and '07 OSU barely qualified for bowls at 6-6 but recorded B2B bowl wins for the 1st time s/'87 when the original "triplets" (QB Mike Gundy, RB Thurman Thomas and WR Hart Lee Dykes) played together. In '08 with just 13 ret sts and despite having to face the #1, #2, #3 and #3 tms they finished 9-4 and #16 (best s/'03). In '09 (#9 pressn) they had another version of the "triplets" in QB Zac Robinson, RB Kendall Hunter (1st Tm AA) and WR Dez Bryant (1st Tm AA). When they knocked off Georgia, OSU entered the Top 5 (1st time s/'85). Bryant was lost after 3 sts and a banged up Hunter had just 3 sts all yr. In the finale with a Fiesta Bowl bid on the line vs rival OU, OSU was outgained 367-109 and finished 9-4 (NR). In '10 they were one of the most inexp'd tms in the country (8 ret sts, 42% lett ret). OSU was picked 5th by the B12 media but the offense emerged under new OC Holgorsen featuring the lethal pitch-catch combo of Weeden to Blackmon. They rose to #10 when they hosted Okla but were outgained 588-379 and lost by 6. In the bowl they beat Ariz and finished #13. LY they had to replace Holgorsen and RB Hunter from an offense which avg 44.2 ppg but ret'd Weeden and Blackmon. Due to their tough schedule (A&M, TX, MO, TT all on road), they were picked 3rd by the B12 media and I had them tied for 3rd as well. No national magazines forecast OSU to win the B12 as OU was the preseason #1 overall in many places (I had Ala) although their #8 ranking in the cch's poll was their highest ever. OSU opened an expected 3-0 with 3 blowout wins but trailed A&M 20-3 at half. For the 2nd str yr an A&M QB imploded in the 2H vs them as OSU rallied for a 30-29 win. Against Kan they pulled their st'rs late 2Q leading 56-7 then knocked off Texas on the road, 38-26. They stopped Missouri's 10 gm home winning streak (45-24). They destroyed RG3 and Baylor 59-24. Against K-St, OSU needed a td with 2:16 left to retake the lead. The Wildcats got to the OSU5 with :05 left but had 3 shots at the EZ fall inc and OSU escaped. After destroying TT 66-6, they were upset by Iowa St in 2OT on a Fri night which cost them a shot at the Nat'l Title. Okla was a no show for their Bedlam Game and OSU won 44-10 for their first outright conf champ in the post WWII era. Stanford had 590-412 yd and 27-15 FD edges but missed 3 FG's and OSU prevailed in OT in the Fiesta Bowl to finish #3 at 12-1. TY the losses are heavy as they lose Weeden and Blackmon and their 12 ret sts are tied for 2nd fewest in the B12. OSU was +21 in TO's LY, had 2 net close wins and an off ypp of 11.2. Despite all of those factors pointing downward, I will call for OSU to have their 3rd str DD win ssn and they will be an under-the-radar team yet again.

WEST VIRGINIA MOUNTAINEERS

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - WV was known for mobile running QB's under Rich Rodriguez including Pat White who was arguably the most exciting player in college football from 2005-'08. White set the NCAA record for career QB rush yds (4,480). In '09 they had to replace White and Jarrett Brown threw for 2,144 (63%, 11-9, 466 rush). In '10 I projected Geno Smith (PS#4) as the st'r as he was the most exp'd QB (309, 65%, 1-1). Smith had the 2nd highest single season passing total (Marc Bulger, 3,607 in '98) but had the lowest rush total for a WV QB since '00. Smith played all yr with a broken foot and threw for 2,763 (65%, 24-7). Coming into '11, three of the last 6 QB's running Dana Holgorsen's offense had 5,000 ttl yds so naturally in a pass happy offense, Smith set the schl rec for comp, att's and yds passing (set BE record as well) finishing with 4,385 (65.8%, 31-7). True frosh Paul Millard (PS#130) saw mop-up action in 4 gms. Smith also led the BE in pass eff and should put up big numbers in his 2nd ssn operating Holgorsen's offense.

RUNNING BACKS - Since 1991 only 10 diff players have led WV in rushing with TB's like Noel Devine, Steve Slaton, Kay-Jay Harris, Quincy Wilson, Avon Cobourne and Amos Zereoue. LY they had no clear cut starter into August and in the first 2 gms with Shawne Alston (5'11" 235 lbs) inj none of the RB's stood taller than 5'10" or weighed more than 184. True frosh Andrew Buie (PS#34) began the yr as the starter but had just 30 yds on 15 att in the opener before taking a hard hit and left in the 3Q. He finished #4 with 172 (3.4). After 4 gms true frosh Vernard Roberts (PS#112) led with just 121 yds. Alston (248, 4.4 '10) gave them a power back with his best game being 110 vs Rut. He finished #2 (416, 4.3). Dustin Garrison had 46 vs LSU and won the starting spot. Holgorsen was looking for a back like he had at Okla St in Kendall Hunter to take the bulk of the reps and vs BG Garrison rushed for a WV frosh record 291 (9.1) on 32 carries (Pat White '05, 220). He then got 18 of the team's 23 RB carries vs Conn but did not top 100 for the rest of the year (#1, 742, 5.5) missing the bowl with an ACL inj. Provided Garrison ret's (OFS), the top 4 RB's are back and I look for significantly improved numbers from the WV RB's.

RECEIVERS - In '10 WV had to replace their #2 and #4 rec's and converted RB Tavon Austin (PS#15) led with 787 (13.6) while Jock Sanders, who was #1 in '09 (688, 9.6), was #2 with 728 (10.6). LY Austin, Stedman Bailey and Ivan McCartney (PS#12) became the first trio in schl history to each finish with 100 yds rec in a single gm vs Maryland. Bailey had 5 straight 100+ gms (schl rec) and both he (1279, 17.8, 12 td's) and Austin (1186, 11.7) topped the old school record of 1,043 held by David Saunders ('96). Both earned 1st Tm BE honors while Austin led the FBS with 2,574 all-purp yards and was a 1st Tm AA . McCartney was the #3 rec (585, 11.9). WV got a late signee in Devin Brown (302, 7.7 at WF '10) and he was #4 (404, 13.9). This year they lose Brad Starks (174, 12.4), Tyler Urban (8 st, 226, 11.3) and Brown (2 st) but adding depth is Cody Clay (6'3" 251 rFr, PS#55TE). The top 3 are back and now in the 2nd year of Holgorsen's high flying offense.

OFFENSIVE LINE - WV's OL paved the way for 303 ypg (6.7 ypc) in '06 but their numbers dropped each of the 5 yrs since. In Stewart's last year ('10) they had 9 of the top 10 back, but only rushed for 160 ypg (3.9, 27 sk) as they threw it more often. LY they switched to the TT offense but did have 82% of the OL snaps returning. They had 3 st'rs back (68 car sts) as LG Josh Jenkins (PS#2) RS due to injury and they dropped to 123 (3.8) with 26 sks (4.8%). TY they lose RG Tyler Rader (12 st), 1st Tm BE LT Don Barclay (13 st, 3Y st'r) and bkp Chad Snodgrass (13 gm). With the return of Jenkins it's like having 4 ret sts (105 car sts) and I'll call for them to stop their 5 yr downward rushing trend with a top notch O-line.

DEFENSIVE LINE - WV usually has a tough run D and their worst season from '05-'10 was '08 when they allowed 132 ypg rush (3.6). In '10 they added PS#5JC Bruce Irvin (16 sk at JC in '09). Irvin finished with 14 sks (3rd best WV) despite sharing time at DE with Julian Miller (9 sk). WV allowed just 86 ypg rush (2.7) and 45 sks (#3 FBS in '10) their best marks s/'96. LY WV had to replace 2 st'rs incl a #7DC. Miller and Irvin comb for 23 of the 30 sks but the unit was less exp'd. WV all'd 145 ypg (4.0, worst s/'01) and their sk total dropped to 31. TY they lose DT Miller (9 st, 57 tkl, 6 sk, 5 tfl), 1st Tm BE DE Irvin (6 st, 40 tkl, 8.5 sk, 6.5 tfl, #1DC SEA) and NT Josh Taylor (1 st, 9 tkl). Will Clarke is the top returning DL sack man (just 2 LY). This group is a little more exp'd (2 ret sts) and I'll call for them to improve against the run but for the sack total to drop.

LINEBACKERS - Last year WV had to replace their #2 tkl'r (1st Tm BE, #6DC), #3 and #4 and a bkp (2 st, 25 tkl). They added in PS#35JC Josh Francis (IFS) but had just 1 st'r back. With just 4 st'rs back on defense WV allowed 26.8 ppg (worst s/'00). TY they lose 1st Tm BE LB Najee Goode (13 st, #1 tkl'r, 5 sk, 9 tfl, #5DC TB) and WLB Casey Vance (7 st, 30 tkl, 2.5 tfl). They do return their #4 and #8 tkl'rs. SS Terence Garvin is now listed as a LB in their switch to the 3-4 (3-3-5 LY). Even though WV has just 2 st'rs back, they are more exp'd, Francis should be more comfortable in his 2nd year and this unit should be stronger.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - In '08 despite having to replace all 4 st'rs plus 3 bkps, WV only fell from #19 in my PDR (15-16 ratio in '07) to #34 (11-17 ratio). They only had to replace 1 st'r in '09 (ret 8 w/st exp) and moved up to #26. In '10 they ret'd 3 st'rs but only finished #33. LY they had to replace a 2nd Tm BE CB (#4DC) and a 1st Tm BE FS (#5DC). WV still moved up a little to #27 (56.9%, 15-14). TY they lose 1st Tm BE CB Keith Tandy (13 st, 4 int, 64 tkl, 9 pbu, #6DC TB) and 3rd Tm BE FS Eain Smith (13 st, 76 tkl, 6 pbu) but return 6 of the top 8 making them equal to LY in terms of exp.

SPECIAL TEAMS - In Rich Rodriguez's final 4 yrs, they were #35, #32, #8 and #37 in my ST rankings. Since then they have dropped to #43, #55, #87 and #84. WV had to replace their solid P (37.7 net '10) and Alabama transfer Corey Smith (PS#9) struggled early in the ssn. He had 14 and 27 yd punts vs LSU and a 14 yd'r vs BG to lose his spot to rFr Michael Molinari. Molinari also struggled and Smith came into the Pitt game in the 2Q and avg 57.2 on 4 punts (pinned Pitt at 2 yd line). The team's net slipped to 34.6. Smith had 8 TB on 64 KO in '10 but only 5 on 73 LY. K Tyler Bitancurt was 1st Tm BE as a rFr in '09 (13-15, L45) but was less effective in '10 (10-17, L43). LY Bitancurt hit 12 of his first 13 FG before missing 5 of 6 incl a FG that was blk'd and ret'd 82 yd for a td by L'ville. He then hit his final 3 to finish 16-22 (L45). NCAA All-Purp yardage leader Tavon Austin was #6 in the FBS in PR (14.1) and #20 in KR (26.1) scoring 2 td's. This year all of the key players return giving them a shot at their first top 20 finish s/'06.

COACHES - Bill Stewart was forced to hire OC Dana Holgorsen by AD Oliver Luck in Dec '10 as the HC in waiting. After conflicts, Stewart was let go and Holgorsen was named HC a year early in June '11. He led the Mountaineers to a BE Title and an Orange Bowl win in his first ssn and calls his own plays. He did name WR coach Shannon Dawson as the OC this year but not much will change. Needing to find a new DC for this season he made a great hire in co-DC Joe DeForest who was an Asst HC, ST and safeties coach for Okla St from '01-'11. He is also known as one of the NCAA's top ST's coaches. The other co-DC is Keith Patterson who was the co-DC at Tulsa ('06-'10) and DC at Pitt LY where he served as the interim HC in the bowl.

PHIL'S FORECAST

Rich Rodriguez had his team finish in the Top 10 in each of his last 3 yrs winning 11 each time. An upset loss to 29 pt dog Pitt kept them from playing in the '07 Nat'l Title game. Rodriguez left for Michigan after the loss to their rival and Bill Stewart engineered a 20 pt Fiesta Bowl win over #3 Okla and was given the HC job. WV tied for the best record in the Big East from '08-'10 but did not play to their potential, finishing 9-4 in each of Stewart's 3 yrs. In my '10 magazine I said they had the Big East's best D and they allowed a paltry 261 ypg and 13.5 ppg (best s/'96). In a game that cost them a BCS berth, WV suffered a tough luck loss fmbl at the Conn1 in OT. WV was #1 in the BE at +116.7 ypg in '10. LY they hired Okla St OC Dana Holgorsen to be their HC in '12 but over the summer Stewart was let go. They did have just 11 ret sts but caught some breaks to win the Big East Title and finished 10-3. WV opened 3-0 having to hold on against MD (WV led 34-10 3Q). Gameday was on hand for the 1st time ever for their battle vs #2 LSU and while they lost 47-21, they were down just 27-21 when they gave up a 99 yd KR td and 28 of LSU's pts were set up by WV TO's. They beat BG and Conn (comb 98-26) but then were ambushed by Syr, 49-23. They appeared headed for another loss trailing Rut 31-21 at half in a blizzard but rallied for a 41-31 win (17 consec win over RU). After losing to L'ville 38-35 at home, #23 Cincy lost QB Collaros to inj in the 2Q and WV would pull out the win, 24-21. Pitt lost their top 3 RB's to injury and WV was outgained 216-141 at the half to trail 17-7 but rallied for a 21-20 win as Holgorsen became the first WV HC to win his "Brawl" debut s/1903! Against USF they were down 27-20 getting a td with 5:09 left to tie it. USF's QB Daniels fumbled on a FD carry at the WV26 and WV drove for the gm winning FG. They needed Cincy to beat Conn to wrap up the BE Title (highest BCS ranking) and got it. In the bowl WV got a 99 yd FR td to turn the momentum and beat CU 70-33 to finish #17. In the last 10 yrs of BE play, WV finished either #1 or #2. TY WV moves into the Big 12 (much tougher sked) but they are a more exp'd tm with 14 ret sts. Their offense got better as the ssn went on in their 1st yr under Holgorsen. They were #1 in the BE LY with +69.0 ypg despite finishing in a 3 way tie for first but did have 3 net close wins. Holgorsen knows the B12 but despite the fact that this year's team is much stronger than the '11 version, so is their schedule. The Mountaineers probably will not match LY's 10 win total.

TCU HORNED FROGS

QB Casey Pachall

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - TCU had quite a run at QB with Jeff Ballard (PS#44) winning 90.5% of his sts ('05-'06) while setting numerous schl and MW records. In '07 Andy Dalton won the job and att'd 371 passes, 307 in '08 and 329 in '09. Dalton was already TCU's car leader (Sammy Baugh and Davey O'Brien ply'd here) going into his Sr yr when he set records for yds (2,857), comp % (66.1) and td passes (27-6 ratio) while adding 435 (5.1) rush. Casey Pachall (PS#27) played in 8 (9 att, 94 rush, 6.3). LY the unit went from a QB with 42 wins (Baugh #2 at 29-7-2 '34-'36) and 10,314 yds (#2 DC) to 78 car yds (0 wins). Patterson, however, pointed out that Pachall was further ahead in his 1st yr than Dalton was (summer baseball). Pachall had his biggest gm vs #5 Boise with his 473 yds the 2nd most here (Matt Vogler 690 vs UH '90) to go along with 5 td's. Pachall only rushed for 51 (0.8) but threw for 2,921 (66.5%, 25-7) breaking Dalton's rec's. Bkp QB rFr Matt Brown (PS#56) played in 9 (3-5-90). It will be tough for Pachall to improve much upon LY's record-setting numbers in a new league but this group is vastly more exp'd.

RUNNING BACKS - TCU's most famous recent alum is LaDainian Tomlinson who rushed for over 4,000 yds his L2Y here but Patterson prefers to spread the carries among his top 2 or 3 backs. Joseph Turner led in '09 with 754 (5.1) but both Matthew Tucker (PS#96, 676, 6.4) and Ed Wesley (638, 6.3) topped LT's frosh numbers (538, 4.3). In '10 they lost Turner but added UCLA transfer Aundre Dean (6'0" 215, PS#6). Wesley (400 bench, 600 squat) became TCU's first 1,000 yd rusher s/'03 (1078, 6.5) while Tucker had 709 (4.8). Waymon James had 513 (5.9) and Dean 223 (7.0). James has 4.4 spd and led in '11 with 875 (7.2!). Wesley had 726 (6.1) and Tucker 702 (5.7). The 3-headed monster split the carries almost equally (120, 121, 123) and comb for 2,303 (6.3 ypc). Everyone returns TY to make up one of the deepest RB corps in the country.

RECEIVERS - TCU has had some fine WR's in the Patterson era with Jimmy Young departing as #2 in career rec yds in '10. The Frogs had an exp'd rec corps in '10 but lost 3 of their top 4 LY with the lone returnee being Josh Boyce (#1, 646, 19.0). The slot that was vacated by Jeremy Kerley (#5DC) was filled by Skye Dawson (500, 11.1). Boyce had some uncharacteristic drops vs NM and BYU which cost him some schl records. He had 61 rec's (Kelly Blackwell, 64, '91 and '92), 998 yds (Reggie Harrell, 1012, '03) and 9 td's (Jeremy Kerley, 10 td, '10). True frosh Brandon Carter (PS#59) had 352 (15.3) and Texas transfer Antoine Hicks (PS#38) had 347 (10.5). TY they lose Hicks (12 st), TE Logan Brock (8 st, 126, 11.5) and WR Jonathan Jones (8 st, 74, 8.2). TCU returns their top 3 and have SIX guys who run in the 4.4's (1 of NCAA's fastest corps) making this another improved off unit.

OFFENSIVE LINE - HC Gary Patterson usually does well here, even with inexp'd OL. In '10 the outstanding O-line (4 ret st'rs) opened holes for a Patterson-era best 247 ypg rush (5.4) while allowing just 9 sks (2.7%). LY they had to replace their Rimington winning C, 1st Tm MW LT and 2 other st'rs (36 sts ret). In '06 Patterson had to replace 4 st'rs but they actually improved to 4.5 ypc. LY he showed that magic once again as despite being less exp'd and starting a RT who had worked at TE in the spring, they opened holes for 209 ypg (5.1, 13 sks, 3.7%). This year TCU loses LT Jeff Olson (13 st, 3rd Tm MW), 1st Tm MW LG Kyle Dooley (13 st, 3Y st'r), RT Robert Deck (12 st) and bkp Spencer Thompson (13 gm). They go from 1 ret st'r to 2 but drop to 28 car sts. 1st Tm MW RG Blaize Foltz headlines the unit which should be just as strong.

DEFENSIVE LINE - Patterson was the DC ('98-'00) before he became HC and always fields a top-notch DL as they have yielded 2.9 or less ypc rush in 10 of the last 13 yrs. Heading into '10, the last time they all'd more than 2.9 was in '04 (3.2) when they had to replace all 4 st'rs. In '10 they were all'g just 89.2 ypg (3.1) prior to taking on Wisc's powerful rush attack in the bowl (100, 3.3 final). LY TCU had to replace a 1st Tm AA DE, 1st Tm MW DT and another st'r. I called for the rush numbers to drop for a 4th str yr and they did, yielding 124 ypg (3.5) and the 25 sks were their fewest s/'97. TY they return 1st Tm MW DE Stansly Maponga (9 sk) but lose DE Braylon Broughton (5 st, 25 tkl, 6 tfl) and 3rd Tm MW DT DJ Yendrey (12 st, 39 tkl, 3 sk). Six of the top 8 return. Even moving to the B12, this unit is more exp'd and should stop the streak of weaker rush numbers.

LINEBACKERS - TCU runs a 4-2-5 and while all of their safeties are legitimate S's, I list the SS in this unit as I limit the DB's to 4 positions. In '09 they had to replace their #1, #2 and #3 tkl'rs (all 3 NFL DC's!) and did "slip" some to all'g 12.8 ppg. In '10 they had to replace a 3rd Tm AA SLB (#2DC) and their SS lost his job (1 st'r back). They improved to 12.0 ppg. LY TCU had to replace a 2nd Tm MW SS (#2 tkl'r, #6DC) but ret'd 3rd Tm AA Tanner Brock (#1 tkl'r) and 1st Tm AA & MWC DPOY Tank Carder (#4). Unfortunately Brock was OFY in Wk1. Carder (shoulder surgery) wasn't 100% early on but finished with 70 tkl. It was an atypical TCU D LY which allowed 21.5 ppg, their most s/'04. TY they lose 1st Tm MW Carder (13 st, #2, 4.5 tfl), Kris Gardner (3 st, 29 tkl, 2.5 tfl), SS Devin Johnson (8 st, 47 tkl, 8 tfl) and Brock. In the spring Patterson thought Kenny Cain played the most physical of his career and called him a leader. Carder was the 6th Frogs LB to move onto the NFL (#5DC BUF) in 4 years. This unit is close to last year in experience and Patterson will fashion another solid unit.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - Going into LY, TCU had recorded 5 straight Top 10 finishes in my PDR (#4 in '06 w/1 ret st'r, #9, #2, #5 and #4 in '10). LY they had to replace a 2nd Tm MW CB, 1st Tm AA FS and 3 bkps (7 st, 73 tkl, #7DC). TCU got lit up for 6 td's (most s/'90) by Baylor and surprisingly slid to #65 (57.2%, 23-10). TY they lose CB Greg McCoy (13 st, 32 tkl, 2 int, 7 pbu, #7DC CHI), WS Tekerrein Cuba (12 st, #2 tkl'r, 3 pbu), FS Johnny Fobbs (#4 tkl'r, 13 st, 1 int, 6 pbu) and CB Travaras Battle (21 tkl). This unit is on par with LY in terms of experience, but should move up in my PDR as Patterson has always (until LY) produced top tier rankings.

SPECIAL TEAMS - TCU almost always produces a top-notch ST unit under Patterson. In the last 11 yrs they finished in the top 35 nine times (#2 in '07). They also had a 1st Tm MW RM for 7 str yrs (4 diff ply'rs). LY they had to replace their top RM but as you would expect under Patterson they actually moved from #19 up to #2. Greg McCoy set a TCU single gm record with 229 KR yds vs Baylor (Cory Rodgers 191 '04). McCoy (30.6) and Waymon James (27.8) comb for 3 KR td's as the Frogs finished #2 FBS in KR avg. K Ross Evans became the MW's all-time scoring leader (14-17 FG, L47) breaking DonTrell Moore's record ('02-'05). P Anson Kelton avg 40.2 (34.8 tm net). This year they lose Evans, Kelton and MW STPOY McCoy. Despite Patterson's history, this unit has the potential to have its lowest finish since he became the HC.

COACHES - Gary Patterson's honors incl CUSA COY in '02, MW COY in '05 and '09 as well as national COY honors in '09. Patterson took over in the 2000 bowl and has taken TCU from the WAC, to CUSA, to the MW and now to the Big 12. He was named the top coach in the country in an ESPN poll of 55 HC's. Co-OC Jarrett Anderson (15Y here, WR cch '01-'08) will be joined by Rusty Burns who is in his 4th year here (WR cch) and was previously an OC at 5 FBS schools (SMU, '04-'07). Previous co-OC Justin Fuente took the Memphis HC job. DC Dick Bumpas has worked with Patterson at 5 diff schls. Bumpas (9th yr) was a Broyles Award finalist in '08, '09 and '10 (#1 D FBS all 3 yrs!). TCU won 3 str conf titles ('09-'11) for the first time in schl history.

PHIL'S FORECAST

What a trip it has been for TCU since they were left out of the conf when the Big 12 was formed in 1996. TCU played in the WAC from '96-'00, CUSA from '01-'04 and the MW from '05-'11. They will finally get back to playing their old SWC brethren in the Big 12. In the past, TCU did not land the most highly touted HS recruits but built bigger, stronger and faster athletes with a great weight training program. Almost 75% of the roster can bench 400 lbs and TCU was annually the MW's fastest tm, especially on D. In their first yr of MW play ('05) they went 8-0 and won the conf (11-1, #11 AP). It was their 3rd diff conf title in 6 yrs. In '08 TCU was arguably the best non-BCS team despite their 2 losses. Against eventual Nat'l Title participant Okla they were only outFD'd 17-16 and despite outgaining Utah on the road 416-275, they lost. TCU finished 11-2 (#7) beating an unbeaten Boise tm in the bowl. In '09 the Frogs were a missed FG in the Big 12 Title game away from playing in the Nat'l Title game. In a rematch vs Boise, they gave a "B" game effort and lost to the Broncos, 17-10 and finished #6. In '10 TCU ret'd 16 st'rs (incl 13 '09 All-MW ply'rs), and was ranked in the pressn Top 10 (#6) for just the 4th time (#9 '52, #7 '56, #8 '58). Eight of my 9 sets of power ratings called for TCU to go 12-0 and I had the ONLY magazine which had them ranked higher than Boise. TCU had the type of season I expected going a perfect 13-0 (+313 ypg MW) beating the other MW titans (BYU & Utah) by a comb 78-10. They beat Wisc in the Rose Bowl and finished #2 AP (3 #1 votes). Coming into LY the Frogs had been just the 3rd tm with 3 straight #1 finishes in the FBS def rankings. When TCU accepted their Big East bid, the MW changed their HG vs Boise to the blue turf. Gary Patterson is one of the better coaches in college football and while LY may have looked like a rebuilding yr (8 ret sts), they won another conf title. Things did not start well for TCU as their D was shelled for 50 pts vs RG3 and Baylor. After 3 str wins, they were stunned in OT by SMU snapping a 22 gm home win streak (Oct '07). They beat SDSt 27-14 on the road and shutout NM 69-0 (broke schl rec for most pts) but needed 3 bad punt snaps by BYU to set up 3 short TD's and won 38-28 (outgained 354-283). Five TO's kept WY in the game but TCU still prevailed by 11. TCU was a 16 pt dog and Boise missed a 39 yd FG at the end giving the Frogs control of the MW as they ended the Broncos' 35 gm home and 47 gm home conf win streaks! They whipped Colo St and UNLV (90-19) and beat LT in the bowl. TCU is 16-4 vs BCS conf schls and has scored at least 27 pts in their last 31 reg ssn games. This year TCU takes a large step up to the B12 with just 11 ret sts. The Frogs could open as strong as 7-0 but the road gets a lot tougher their final 5 gms which has me calling for their streak of 4 straight 11+ win seasons to end.

KANSAS ST WILDCATS

WR Tyler Lockett

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - As a rFr in '09 Collin Klein got in 2 sts at WR (6 rec) and also played spec tms. In '10 he was the surprise starter vs Texas and rushed for a KSU QB record 127 and reset that record with 141 vs MO. He had just 18 pass att's (138 yds) on the yr while rushing for 432 (5.7). LY they added BC/Blinn JC trans Justin Tuggle (PS#28) but there was little question that the job was Klein's in spg. Klein had a phenomenal year (1st Tm all-purp B12) as his 27 rushing td's tied a B12 record (Heisman winner Ricky Williams, '98) and FBS rec for QB's (Ricky Dobbs, '09). He rushed for 1,141 (3.6) and threw for 1,918 (57.3%, 13-6) despite missing 2 wks of practice prior to A&M and Texas because his body was so banged up (#3 FBS carries). Bkp Sammuel Lamur hit 6-8 for 52 yds in 3 gms and now departs. It will be tough for Klein to improve much upon LY's stats (3059 ttl yds, 40 td), but he's one of my favorite QB's to watch in college football.

RUNNING BACKS - KSU's leading rusher in '08 had just 412 (3.5). In '09 Daniel Thomas (PS#25JC) became the first Wildcat to open his career with B2B 100 yd gms s/'66 (Cornelius Davis). Thomas recorded the 11th 1,000 yd ssn in KSU hist with 1,265 (5.1). In '10 Thomas opened with the best 3 gm stretch in KSU history (552, 6.7) but failed to top Darren Sproles' single season record (1986 in '03) finishing with 1,585 (5.3). LY they had to replace Thomas (#2DC) and Tenn transfer Bryce Brown (PS#1) was actually the only Wildcat on the media's preseason All-Big 12 tm. Brown's work ethic proved ? opening the door for diminutive 5'7" John Hubert to have a fine ssn. Hubert is a powerful runner (lower body strength) who ran for 970 (4.8, 3rd Tm B12). Angelo Pease (PS#74JC) is a power back with breakaway speed who added 144 (4.0). Robert Rose is just 5'4" 173 (35, 3.9). Brown played in just 2 (left midssn, #7DC PHI). This year all of the key players are back making this unit much more exp'd.

RECEIVERS - KSU had one of the country's least exp'd rec corps in '10. The top returnee was TE Travis Tannahill (37 yds '09!). Brodrick Smith was #1 (191, 13.6) when he broke his leg (gm 5). Aubrey Quarles, who had 407 (12.0) in '08 and RS in '09, led w/760 (14.9). Chris Harper (PS#17QB, 12 gm true Oreg '08) was #2 (330, 13.2). Tramaine Thompson missed 6 but was #4 (258, 13.6). LY they had to replace Quarles but the unit was thought to be one of the off's strengths. Harper led with 547 (13.7) and Thompson had 388 (16.1). Tyler Lockett was #3 (246, 13.7) despite missing the final 4 and was B12's Fr OPOY (315 all-purp vs Okla St). TY they lose Sheldon Smith (5 st, 177, 8.0) but have by far their most exp'd rec corps in 3 yrs. They also add in VHT JC Marquez Clark (PS#18) and I look for much improved production.

OFFENSIVE LINE - KSU had to replace 3 st'rs in Snyder's first yr back ('09) but still improved to 180 ypg rush (4.3) with 26 sks (8.7%). In '10 they had to replace 1 st'r (63 car st ret) and improved to 199 ypg (4.7, 31 sk, 10.6%). LY they had to replace 3 st'rs who comb for 6.5 yrs of st exp incl two 2nd Tm B12 OL. They ret'd 5 w/st exp (42 car sts) but then lost LT Manase Foketi after 2 st (13 st '10). With a dynamic, mobile QB like Klein, they only dropped to 185 ypg (4.0) but did allow 43 sks (14.8%). TY they lose 2nd Tm B12 LT Zach Hanson (11 st), 1st Tm B12 RT Clyde Aufner (3Y st'r), RG Colten Freeze (12 st) and C Shaun Simon (1 st) will RS. With the return of Foketi, they have 3 who have been full-time st'rs (42 car sts) and add in PS#40 and #72 JC's.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In Ron Prince's final yr as KSU's HC this unit all'd 218 rush ypg (5.2), their highest s/'90. In '09 they essentially had 2.5 st'rs back and the rush D all'd just 105 ypg (3.5). In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs and 3 bkps (comb 5 st). Snyder signed 3 VHT JUCO's and they used a FB and an OL on the DL as they lacked depth. Still, I was surprised as they plummeted to allowing 231 ypg (5.9), their worst s/'89. LY they had to replace 3 st'rs but added in PS#17 and #11 JC's (all 4 st'rs were JC's). KSU improved to 131 ypg (4.0, 23 sk). TY they lose 1st Tm B12 DT Ray Kibble (38 tkl, 2 sk), 1st Tm B12 DE Jordan Voelker (13 st, 29 tkl, 4.5 sk) and DT Raphael Guidry (2 st, 12 tkl). I expect an even bigger impact from pass rush specialist Meshak Williams (PS#17JC, 28 tkl, 7 sk, HM B12) and Snyder brings in another JUCO PS#70JC (IFS). This unit is more experienced and should continue to improve.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 KSU had to replace their #3 and #5 tkl'rs (ret #6 & #8). They played a 4-2-5 and slipped to 29.1 ppg. Alex Hrebec was their #1 tkl'r when he suffered an elbow inj (#3, 77). True frosh Tre Walker (2 st, 47 tkl) was compared to Josh Buhl (KSU ssn rec'd 184 tkl '03). LY I said the speedier LB corps should spearhead a much more formidable D. All five LB's who st'd in '10, ret'd and they got the significant addition of Miami, Fl transfer Arthur Brown (PS#5, dominant on scout tm '10). KSU allowed 51 fewer ypg but surprisingly the ppg only went down to 27.9. TY they lose HM B12 WLB Emmanuel Lamur (9 st, #3 tkl'r, 6 tfl) and Hrebec (7 tkl). They return Brown (3rd tm AA, #1 tkl'r) and their #7 tkl'r and move in QB Justin Tuggle (son of former 5x Falcons Pro Bowl LB Jessie) and look even stronger.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - Snyder has always used a deep rotation in the secondary which allows them to offset large graduation losses. The Cats had 4 consec finishes in the top 10 of my PDR but then slipped to #19, #61 and #55 (lost all 4 st'rs) from '03-'05. Under Ron Prince ('06-'08) K-St finished #54, #73 and #72. In '09 they ret'd 2.5 st'rs and I called for them to have their best finish s/'03 and they were #48. In '10 they had to replace 1 st'r (#5DC) but slipped to #54. LY they had to replace 2 st'rs but had 3 back with 12 sts and added in 4 JC's. Given the record it was surprising they only finished #49 (63%, 26-18). Nigel Malone was KSU's first Thorpe semifinalist s/'02 (Terence Newman won it) and became the 3rd KSU DB to be a Walter Camp AA (Chris Canty '96, Newman '02). TY they lose 2nd Tm B12 FS Tysyn Hartman (13 st, 69 tkl, 3 int), 2x HM B12 CB David Garrett (13 st, 2 int, #2 tkl'r, 2 pbu) and S Matthew Pearson (27 tkl). This group is on par with '11 in terms of exp, but should move up in my PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - While not a lot went right in the Ron Prince era, KSU finished #1 in my ST rankings in '06, #3 in '07 and #7 in '08 (4 blk punt td's). In '09 they had to replace their K and PR but KR Brandon Banks had an amazing 4 td's (28.9) helping KSU finish #23. In '10 KSU moved up to #16 and LY returned their P Ryan Doerr (39.3 tm net) but lost their K, top KR (34.6) and AA LS. True frosh Tyler Lockett had 2 KR td's and his 35.2 avg was the best in B12 history (Chris Massey, Okla St, 34.8 '01). He was OFY after 9 gms but still earned 1st Tm KR AA honors. PR Tramaine Thompson improved to 12.3 in '11. Anthony Cantele hit 17-23 FG (L54). P Doerr avg 40.8 (36.7 net, 2 blk) but surprisingly they moved down to #40. With all of the key players back and a full ssn for Lockett, they will contend for the top spot in '12.

COACHES - Bill Snyder accomplished the greatest rebuilding job in college football history taking over a KSU team that had gone 0-21-1 in '87 and '88 (NCAA's worst comb rec in hist) and guided them to bowls in 11 str yrs ('93-'03). When Snyder opted to step aside after '05, his then 136 wins were the same amount of all of the previous KSU coaches comb s/'35! The stadium was renamed Bill Snyder Family Stadium. "The Legend" ret'd in '09 and will turn 73 in Oct. LY he guided the Wildcats to their first ssn with DD wins s/'03 earning several COY awards including mine. Dana Dimel and Del Miller are co-OC's for the 4th year. Dimel was the HC at Wyoming ('97-'99) and Houston ('00-'02). Miller (16th yr here) was the OC at SDSt ('06-'08). The new DC is Tom Hayes who coached the secondary LY and has been a DC at Kansas, Oklahoma, UCLA and Stanford.

PHIL'S FORECAST

From '97-'03 Bill Snyder had 11 wins in 6 out of 7 ssns but in his final 2 yrs ('04-'05) KSU slumped to 4-7 and 5-6 and he left to spend time with his family. Ron Prince was hired as HC in '06 and change was the buzzword. Most of Snyder's asst's either left or were booted out and many of the old players were shown the door. They even shifted from the read option to a more pass-based attack. Prince managed a 7-6 record in his first year but in the next 2 yrs after opening 5-3 and 4-2 the bottom fell out (5-7 both yrs). In '07 KSU all'd 401 ypg (30.8 ppg) and in '08, 479 ypg (35.8 ppg). That '08 squad was a Big 12 worst -151 ypg. Snyder had just 12 ret sts in '09 but made my Most Improved List as I had the only mag to have them ahead of rival KU (media picked 5th). KSU did not disappoint me but lost the ssn final at Neb with the B12 North Title on the line to finish 5-5 and home for the holidays. KSU was -52.8 ypg in '09 (3rd worst) and +7 in TO's and in '10 had just 11 ret sts. I thought Snyder did a great job in '10 as KSU got to the Pinstripe Bowl at 7-5 but lost to Syr by 2. KSU was -97.9 ypg (#11 B12). LY they had 5 B12 HG's and I liked the influx of transfers. I picked them 6th in the B12 which was higher than any other major pressn publication and projected them to get back to a bowl. If you follow philsteele.com during the season you know that I have an upset pick each wk in my Top 25 forecast which I also feature when I am a guest on ESPN radio Sat mornings. KSU found themselves as my upset pick on a regular basis LY. In fact, KSU was 10-2 despite being a dog in 8 of their 12 reg ssn gms! Their first upset was on the road at Miami (led 14-3 half) as UM was SOD on 4&gl at the 1 with :49 left. They upset RG3 & Co, 36-35. They were a HD vs Missouri but led 24-3 in the 4Q and won. They beat TT 41-34 despite being outgained 580-339 thanks to +4 TO's and a KR td. Snyder always puts a premium on beating his rival and they rolled to an easy 59-21 win at KU. Okla was off a loss and KSU led 17-14 late 2Q but OU dominated the 2H (58-17). They had a 1& gl at #3 Okla St's 5 with :05 left but 3 inc passes left them 7 pts short. They won in 4OT vs A&M at home and then were outgained by TX 310-121 but still won 17-13. They were outgained by Iowa St 368-360 but won 30-23 in their FHG. They lost the bowl to Ark, 29-16. KSU finished #2 in the B12 at 7-2 but shockingly were -106.8 ypg (2nd worst). TY they do have their most exp'd squad since Snyder's return with 14 ret sts but LY they benefitted from 7 net close wins, +12 in TO's, an off ypp of 10.6 (pg 309) and also come in with a -3.5 in my Stock Market Indicator (pg 27). TY's team is stronger than the '11 version but probably won't match their 10 win total.

KSU is 2-0 vs MSU. The L/gm was in '10, KSU won 48-24 (only +46 yds). The Bears went 2-9 LY incl losses at Ark (51-7) and Oregon (56-7). Wildcats have won 22 str home openers by 23 ppg.

LY was the first and only meeting. KSU trailed 24-21 early 4Q but went on a 80/8pl td drive with 10:00 left. UM had a 1&gl at the 2 with under 2 min left but KSU made the goal line stand.

KSU's only loss vs NT was in '85 (1st gm), since they have won 5 str by 28 ppg. In the L/gm ('10) NT led 20-7 into the 2Q but KSU scored 28 unanswered (still needed an int at midfield on L/play to preserve the win).

Wildcats have dropped 5 str vs the Sooners by 22 ppg. LTH ('09) KSU fell behind 21-0 into the 2Q (outgained 156-9 in 1Q) but got as close as 35-30 w/11:18 left. KSU is 3-7 in 'true' road openers (2-0 L2Y).

KSU is 15-4 in the Sunflower Showdown. LY KSU led 21-0 mid-2Q as KU never got closer than 14 pts (KU scored a td w/:01 left). Under Snyder, KSU is 9-1 hosting KU (only loss was his 1st yr at the helm '89).

KSU has won 4 str vs ISU but every gm has been decided by 8 pts or less. LTH ('07) KSU trailed 21-3 but only 28-20 into the 4Q. KSU's L/4 drives ended in a missed fg, SOD at ISU1, int and end of 2H at ISU26.

This series is tied at 1-1 with both gms in Morgantown but the L/meeting was in 1931, KSU lost 19-0. Into '12, the Wildcats did go 3-1 in Big 12 road gms LY (best mark S/'02) but are 8-23 since 2004.

LY's win snapped a 5 gm series losing streak. KSU trailed 31-27 late 3Q before 14 str pts. TT got a fg and rec the onside kick w/2:32 left but was SOD on a 4&4 from their own 47 and KSU ran out the L/1:43.

LY's game was tied at 24 & at 45. Kansas St allowed a 65/4pl td w/1:02 left. KSU then started at their own 29 and had 1&gl at the 5 but threw 3 straight inc passes.

KSU is 2-3 vs TCU incl 3 straight losses by 16 ppg. LTH ('86) was also the last gm, KSU lost 35-22.

KSU is 7-2 vs BU. LTH was misleading as KSU never led & trailed 47-28 early 4Q scoring their final td w/:07 left.

Texas: The Wildcats have won 4 str and are 6-2 vs the Longhorns. LY KSU led 17-3 late 3Q but had to hold off UT on their L/2 drives (SOD at T46 & midfield). Kansas St is 18-4 in Manhattan finales.

TEXAS TECH RED RAIDERS

SLB Terrance Bullitt

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - Mike Leach's first VHT QB was Graham Harrell (PS#16) and he left as TT's career leading passer (#2 FBS) after '08. The next 2 yrs Taylor Potts (PS#19) had 22 sts (Steven Sheffield 3 st). In '10 Potts threw for 3,726 (67%, 35-10). Seth Doege (PS#28) only got in 2 gms (4 att). LY I projected Doege to win a 3 man battle. While I was correct on that point, I was off base thinking that in Tommy Tuberville's 2nd year with an inexp QB, the passing numbers would drop. TT avg 345 ypg pass (319 in '10). Doege threw for 4,004 (68.5%, 28-10)and had just 1 int in his first 229 passes (then had 3 vs Kan St). Doege threw for 441 (4-0 ratio) in the historic upset of Okla but the next week TT had its first gm in 5 yrs (69 gm) without a passing TD (171 yds) vs Iowa St. He hit 40-55 for 381 vs a tough Texas D but just 169 vs Okla St. Doege led the nation in comp per game (33.2) and bkp Jacob Karam (5 gms, 104 yds) transferred due to the emergence of Michael Brewer (PS#19). Brewer, a Tuberville recruit, is a budding star who will have packages created to take advantage of his athleticism. Doege is more experienced but it will be tough to improve much upon LY's fine numbers.

RUNNING BACKS - Baron Batch led in rushing for 3 str yrs with 758 (6.7) in '08, 884 (5.3) in '09 and 816 (4.6) in '10. Eric Stephens (PS#59) was the talk of Aug '09 but finished with just 254 (5.2). In '10 Stephens was #2 with 668 (5.3). Speedy Ben McRoy (5'8" 163 Jr, PS#172) had 149 (6.8). LY Stephens was #2 in the Big 12 in rushing after 5 gms (565, 5.2) and well on his way to becoming TT's first 1,000 yard rusher since Ricky Williams ('98) but he dislocated his knee and was OFY (still ended #1). Aaron Crawford had 100 yds vs K-St but that was the last time a TT RB topped 100 in a gm. DeAndre Washington (5'7" 182 So, PS#55) led in 3 gms (#2, 366, 4.8) before being inj in Wk 11. TT's 125.3 ypg rush was last in the Big 12. TY they lose Crawford (336, 3.9) and Ronnie Daniels (43, 4.8) but JC SaDale Foster was IFS and adds speed. Washington (ACL) and Stephens both missed the spring. If Stephens can regain LY's form, TT should have a much stronger rush offense.

RECEIVERS - Tech produced eleven 1,000 yd rec's in Leach's pass-happy offense. The top 5 rec's ret'd in '10 and Lyle Leong led with 926 (12.5) and Detron Lewis was #2 (852, 9.8). LY they had to replace both. The leading returnees were Alex Torres (481, 12.3), Austin Zouzalik (432, 13.9) and Tramain Swindall (271, 8.2). Soph Eric Ward (PS#51) was known as a solid downfield blocker (6 rec rFr). LY Ward set a Tech single gm record with 16 catches (151 yds vs Bay) and finished #1 (800, 9.5). Tech coaches thought they found the off's missing piece of a big, physical WR when 6'4" 220 Darrin Moore set a record for rec yds in a TT season opener (221). He had 118 vs NM but was inj'd (2 rec next 6 gm). Moore had 15 rec in the final 2 and finished #3 (571, 12.1). Bradley Marquez (PS#49, great speed) signed a contract with the NY Mets but was only #6 (240, 9.6). Torres, who had 806 (12.0) in '09, was inj'd and finished #2 with 616 (12.1). TY they lose Swindall (1 st, 172, 10.8), Jacoby Franks (1 st, 223, 7.7) and Adam James (5 st, 359, 11.2). With the top 3 back, it looks like an improved group.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '08 TT (5 ret st'rs) had one of the largest O-lines in the FBS. They had their best rush ypg (118, 4.8) s/'99 allowing just 1.96% sks (#1 FBS). In '09 they had to replace 3 st'rs (1st & 2nd Tm B12). Their numbers dropped to just 84 ypg (3.4) with 31 sks (4.6%). In '10 they had to replace 3 st'rs again (29 car sts). The new staff emphasized quickness and conditioning so the unit lost weight while tightening their unique wide splits. They had their best rush #'s since the Spike Dykes era ('99) with 141 ypg (4.2, 21 sk). LY they had all 5 st'rs back incl 3 VHT's. C Justin Keown missed 4 and Mickey Okafor only st'd 3 (inj) but the veteran line (83 car sts) surprisingly slipped (125 ypg rush, 3.8, 19 sk, 3.2%). TY they lose Keown (8 st, 2Y st'r), LG Lonnie Edwards (12 st, 3Y st'r) and Okafor. Tech could get a key addition in Texas A&M's Brian Thomas (PS#64, 25 car sts) who may trans over the summer after graduation. Despite only having 3 st'rs back, they still have 69 car sts plus they add a VHT frosh and a JC and could top '11's disappointing numbers.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '10 TT lost 6 of the top 8 DL and switched from the 4-3 to a 3-4 (1 fewer spot) and used 11 DL vs Texas to maintain freshness. Tuberville burned true frosh Dartwan Bush's RS as they were lacking a speed rusher after DE's Scott Smith and Aundrey Barr were both OFY after 4 gms. The lone ret st'r, Colby Whitlock, was frequently doubled but still earned 1st Tm B12. As you would expect, TT slipped to allowing 163 ypg (4.2, 25 sk). LY they had to replace Whitlock and DE Brian Duncan (7 sk) but had 6 w/st exp as they moved to a 4-2-5. TT finished LAST in FBS rush D giving up 259 ypg (5.3, 16 sks). They did have only 1 DL start more than 9. TY they lose NT Donald Langley (9 st, inj, 21 tkl, 1.5 tfl), Smith (7 st, 5.5 sk) and Chris Perry (10 tkl, 2 tfl) but add 2 VHT signees and can only improve after LY's ridiculously weak numbers.

LINEBACKERS - In '09 Tech ret'd all 3 st'rs (#1, #3 and #4 tkl'rs) and the 2 deep included 3 VHT's. TT trimmed their ppg allowed to 22.5 (best s/'05). In '10 they only had to replace their #3 tkl'r. Surprisingly, TT's ppg all'd rose to 30.9 (highest s/'03). LY they had to replace their #1 tkl'r and a bkp (5 st, 33 tkl). While the top ret LB's were just #9, #10 and #12 in tkls, in the move to the 4-2-5 I counted #2 tkl'r S Cody Davis in this unit. I mentioned the unit was less exp'd and then Sam Fehoko (7 st, #9 tkl'r in '09) quit (0 tkl) after losing his starting spot. Two true frosh, Blake Dees (PS#127) and Sam Eguavoen, each st'd 5. TT allowed 39.3 ppg, their worst in schl history. TY they lose Brett Dewhurst (2 st, #8 tkl'r) and Cqulin Hubert (6 st, #6 tkl). Although #1 tkl'r Davis moved back to FS in the spring, the Raiders are back to a 4-3 returning their #3, #9 and #10 tkl'rs and are adding in PS#26 JC Will Smith making this unit much more exp'd.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - LY TT had to replace 1 st'r and 1 bkp (6 st) but ret'd 6 who st'd in '10. CB Jarvis Phillips, who led in int (4) and pbu (10), was bumped out of the 2 deep after the first 4 sts (16 tkls). As a rFr Tre' Porter st'd just 6 (inj) so they basically had just 2 ret sts. At one point they used a diff pair of CB's for the first 5 gms (7 overall) and their 5 int's in '11 were the fewest in the B12. TT plummeted to #102 (60.5%, 24-5). TY they lose Jared Flannel (22 tkl) but have 7 of the top 8 back and should have one of the NCAA's most improved PDR's.

SPECIAL TEAMS - TT usually fares well in my ST rankings. TT finished #18 in '07, #25 in '08, #39 in '09 and #35 in '10. LY they had to replace their K, P and top PR and Stephens (TT ssn and car KR record, 24.3 in '10) was taken off KR's. Donnie Carona (5-13 car FG) hit an outstanding 14-18 (L49) with misses from 54 and 50 (3 of 4 misses were blk's). Carona had 13 TB on 72 KO. Ryan Erxleben avg 40.8 (net 35.0) in '09, but lost his spot to Jonathan LaCour (38.3 net) in '10. Erxleben avg 41.7 (38.0 net!) LY. They were +0.9 on PR and -1.5 on KR and finished #77. TY they lose K Carona but KR McRoy (25.0) is one of TT's fastest (TT rec 203 KR yds vs NV). TT should move up in my ST rankings.

COACHES - Tommy Tuberville took over in '10 after an abrupt end to Mike Leach's 10 yr tenure. In 10 yrs as Auburn's HC, Tuberville was 85-40. He was also HC at Ole Miss from '95-'98 (25-20). He hired then 29 yr old Neal Brown as his OC after he served 2 yrs as Troy's OC. They have a FOURTH DC in 4 years in Art Kaufman who was a DC under Tuberville at Ole Miss ('95-'00) but was recently a LB cch at UNC ('09-'11) and the interim DC there LY. Kaufman is the first DC here to have more than 3 years of FBS experience s/'00.

PHIL'S FORECAST

Coming into LY Tech was the ONLY member of the Big 12 with 16 str winning seasons despite playing in the same division as Texas and Okla for yrs. Tech was 18 gms over .500 (69-51) all-time in Big 12 play. They outgained Big 12 foes by 134.9 ypg (#3) in '03, 103.7 in '04, 115 (#2) in '05, 95.3 (#2) in '06, 104.4 (#2) in '07 and 133.5 (#2) in '08. In my forecast in the '08 magazine, I noted that all of my sets of PR's called for TT to get an elusive 10 win season (first s/'76) and most of them had TT a perfect 10-0 when they travelled to Okla. TT lived up to the forecast and knocked off #1 Texas (39-33) then whipped #8 OSU 56-20. TT was ranked #2 but #5 Okla thrashed them (65-21) and they lost in the bowl. In '09 with just 33% of their off yds ret, they still went 9-4 and Leach was shockingly susp'd then let go prior to the bowl. I mentioned in '10 that Tuberville stepped into a tough situation as he'd never been a big fan of the spread offense, but had to keep it with the personnel recruited for it. They also lost DC Ruffin McNeill. In '09, Tech was 5-3 in the B12 (+106.8 ypg) but in Tuberville's first year they were actually -46.5 and their 3-5 B12 record was their worst s/'00 (tied worst ever). TT knocked off a NW tm that was led by a bkp QB in the bowl and finished 8-5. In LY's magazine I said the '11 tm may be stronger but may not match '10's 8 win total. TT trailed TX St 10-9 at half but won 50-10 then cruised past NM, 59-13. They needed a td with :36 left on 4&4 to pull out a 35-34 win over NV. They trailed Kan 20-0 in the 1Q but won 45-34. They trailed A&M 45-30 and lost by 5 after allowing a 65 yd blk'd FG return for a td. They also lost RB Stephens (#2 Big12 rusher). TT had a 387-94 yd edge at half vs KSt but only led 28-20 (IR and KR td's) and lost by 7. TT adapted to a 1.5 hr rain delay much better than OU and pulled the shocker of the ssn winning 41-38 as a 4 td underdog! That put them at 5-2 and moved them to #19 and Okla was the highest ranked team (#1 cch's poll) TT had ever beaten on the road in program history. Tuberville has now won 14 gms vs Top 10 tms and 6 vs Top 5 in 16 yrs as a HC. In a clear letdown spot they were steamrolled by Iowa St, 41-7 at home. Texas rushed for 439 yds (8.1) in a blowout win then OSU buried them 66-6. Versus Missouri the Raiders blew a 27-17 3Q lead in a 31-27 loss (trailed just 2:22). In the finale they dropped a couple of td passes and lost 66-42 vs Baylor despite RG3 sitting out the 2H (inj) with a 3 pt lead. TT dropped their final 5 and missed a bowl at 5-7. TY TT should be pointed upwards. They were -57.8 ypg (#7 B12) but had a def ypp of 12.4 (pg 309), are a +3.5 in my Stock Market Indicator (pg 27) and go from 13 ret sts to 17. It's back to the post season for TT makes my Most Improved List.

BAYLOR BEARS

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - When HC Art Briles took the Baylor job he reportedly told Robert "RG3" Griffin that if he also came to Waco he'd be a Heisman finalist. Amazingly RG3 became BU's first winner LY. The previous high finish for a BU player was Don Trull (4th in '63). In Briles' first ssn ('08) true frosh Griffin threw for 2,091 (60%, 15-3, 843 rush). In '09 Griffin added 10 lbs of muscle but tore his ACL in Wk 3. GS frosh Nick Florence (PS#76) started 7 gms. Florence set a then-schl rec with 427 vs MO (32-43-3-0) and led with 1,786 (62%, 6-9) while Griffin threw for 481 (65%, 4-0). In '10 RG3 broke Trull's BU record for most career QB rush td's finally regaining his vintage form midseason. He became BU's first 3,000 yd passer (3501, 67%, 22-8) while also finishing as the #2 rusher (635, 4.3). LY after 3 gms, Griffin had 13 td and just 12 inc's! Griffin was #2 in FBS pass eff throwing for 4,293 (72.4%, 37-6) and was the #2 rusher (699, 3.9). He suffered a conc vs TT (miss 2H) and Florence who was planning on RS, entered and actually had better stats than RG3 did in his only appearance (9-12-151). TY RG3 (#1DC WAS) leaves with the BU single gm (479 vs Okla), ssn and career passing records. While the system will produce another solid QB and Florence has looked good when called upon, this unit is weaker with the loss of a rare talent like Griffin.

RUNNING BACKS - Heading into Art Briles' 1st yr here ('08) Baylor had not avg'd over 3.2 ypc rush as a tm s/'97 (4.7) despite having had plenty of VHT RB's. In '06 BU rushed for just 40 ypg (2.1) and in '07 just 78 (3.1). The top returnee in '08 was Jay Finley (207, 3.8) and he led with 865 (5.8). In '09 they added in 6'0" 240 lb Terrance Ganaway (1 st, 550, 5.0 in '07 - Hou) and speedy rFr Jarred Salubi (PS#177). Finley had just 158 (2.8) in conf action but still led with 370 (4.7). Salubi was #2 (298, 6.0) while Ganaway had 200 (2.9). In '10 I called for significant improvement. Finley set a schl record 250 vs K-St and became the Bears' 7th 1,000 yd rusher (1st s/'03). He broke Walter Abercrombie's schl rec (1,187 in '80) with 1,218 (6.2). Ganaway was the #2 RB rusher (295, 6.4) and Salubi #3 (215, 8.3). LY Ganaway (#6DC NYJ) reset the schl record with 1,547 (6.2) and 21 td's. Salubi was the #2 RB (331, 5.7) and Glasco Martin had 268 (6.7). TY Briles is once again in search of a feature back but it could be more of a committee effort led by soph Lache Seastrunk (PS#3, 205 lbs, 4.35 spd Ore trans). I was impressed with Ganaway's combo of speed and power and he leaves some big shoes to fill.

RECEIVERS -In '08 the Bears rec corps ret'd intact (4 WR's 400+ yds in '07). True Kendall Wright (PS#60) led with a BU frosh record 649 (13.0) and was also on the basketball tm (40" VL). In '09 Wright led with 740 (11.2). In '10 they had to replace 2 of their top 5. Wright led with 952 (12.2) setting both ssn (78) and career rec (194) records. Josh Gordon was #2 (714, 17.0) and Terrance Williams (42" VL) was #3 (484, 11.3). Lanear Sampson (PS#65) was #5 (390, 9.3) while true frosh Tevin Reese finished #4 (401, 8.9). LY they only lost Gordon. Wright made my 1st Tm AA and owns or shares 10 schl rec's. He led with 1,663 (15.4) while Williams added 957 (16.2) and Reese 877 (17.2). Stanford transfer TE Jordan Najvar (PS#16) had 146 (9.7). TY they only lose Wright (#1DC TEN) but he was a special talent and I'll call the unit down a notch in '12.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '09 with QB Griffin inj'd and having to replace a 1st Tm AA LT, BU's numbers dropped to 101 ypg rush (3.5, 31 sk). In '10 they had to replace a 2nd Tm B12 C (#3DC) and a 3 yr st'r. Despite having just 37 car sts (#104 FBS), they did have 6 VHT's and got Griffin back. BU moved back up to '08's level (195 ypg rush, 5.4, 20 sk, 4.2%). LY they had to replace a 2nd Tm B12 LT (#1DC) but had 77 car sts back. They had just 1 OL start missed, and as you would expect, they improved to 236 ypg rush (5.3, 29 sk, 6.8%). TY the Bears lose 1st Tm B12 C Philip Blake (13 st, 3Y st'r, #4DC DEN) and 2nd Tm B12 RG Robert T Griffin (12 st, 2Y st'r, #6DC NYJ). This group again has 77 car sts. Briles says he starts his recruiting every year on the OL and DL before the skill positions and claims that TY's OL haul was his best. The numbers will drop however with 1 fewer ret st'r and QB Griffin's departure.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '08 BU only had to replace 1 st'r and had their best rush D s/'95 (3.1), yielding just 138 ypg (3.6). In '09 they had to replace 2 st'rs but added Penn St transfer Phil Taylor. He had a disappointing ssn as BU's #'s regressed to 179 ypg (4.5, 18 sk). In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs but had 3 back who st'd 7+ and I looked for more out of Taylor. BU only improved to 170 ypg (4.4, 21 sk). LY they had to replace Taylor (#1DC) but had 8 w/st exp incl NG Nicolas Jean-Baptiste (bulked up to 335 lbs) who earned 2nd Tm B12. After playing a 4-3 in '10 new DC Phil Bennett switched over to a 4-2-5 but BU regressed to 197 ypg rush (5.2, 19 sk). TY they lose DT's Jean-Baptiste (12 st, 36 tkl, 4 sk, 4.5 tfl) and Tracy Robertson (11 st, 23 tkl, 4.5 sk). This group is less experienced but could top last year's poor numbers.

LINEBACKERS - In '09 the Bears had all 3 LB st'rs back incl 1st Tm B12 MLB Joe Pawelek. The unit was the strength of the D as all 3 st'd all 12 and BU allowed 27.3 ppg (best s/'05). In '10 they had to replace their #1 and #3 tkl'rs. The unit was still exp'd and ret'd their #4 tkl'r and 2 LB's who comb for 206 car tkls. BU slipped a little allowing 30.5 ppg. Last year they had to replace their #2, #4 and #10 tkl'rs (26 sts). They did return their #6 and #14 tkl'rs and VHT Ahmad Dixon (PS#8) slid into the new NB role. BU slipped again to 37.2 ppg. This year they lose MLB Elliott Coffey (13 st, #1 tkl'r, 5 tfl) but do have 5 of the top 6 back (#4, #6 #11 tkl'rs) making this unit more experienced.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - After finishes of #89 and #82 in my PDR, BU ret'd 6 w/st exp in '09 and moved up to #37. In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs (2nd Tm B12 FS) and BU dropped down to #91 all'g 265 ypg (#114 FBS, 66%, 16-10). LY they had to replace 3 st'rs (#1 & #2 tkl'rs, #7DC) and 3 bkps (5 st). The less exp'd and inj plagued unit all'd the most td passes in the country and dropped to #95 (63.6%, 36-16). Chance Casey (only ret st'r) was OFY after 8 (7 st). Three of the 1st time starting DB's earned HM B12 in Sam Holl, Mike Hicks and KJ Morton. After a rough start BU forced 18 TO's in the L/5 (reg ssn) to finish #2 in B12 TO forced. This unit is vastly more exp'd, gets Casey's return and will make a large climb in my PDR with the entire 2 deep back.

SPECIAL TEAMS - In Briles' first yr here, BU moved up to #42 (#119 '07). After a #87 finish in '09, Aaron "The Stork" Jones (19-27) hit BU's first 50 yd FG (2 on ssn) s/'01 and set a schl rec with 19 FG with his 46 xp's tying Jarvis Van Dyke's 20 yr old rec. BU still finished #74. LY they only had to replace their P (38.0 net) and Jones made his 1st 3 but then hit just 1-7, figured out a flaw, and hit 6-7 FG to finish 10-17 (L48). He had 10 TB on 50 KO. The return gm was avg (8.0 PR, 20.0 KR). Spencer Roth took over as P and avg 40.5 but the tm net was only 32.6 (#118 FBS). TY they lose Ben Parks (13TB, 51KO) but should improve upon LY's #101 finish esp if Jones returns to '10's form.

COACHES - In '08 BU brought in a proven winner in Art Briles who guided Stephenville HS (TX) to 4 state titles (90-2-1 in 6Y stretch). In his 5 yrs at Houston the Cougars went to 4 bowls. After two 4-8 ssns Briles led BU to their first bowl s/'94 in '10 and followed it up with a schl record tying 10 wins and first bowl win s/'92. Co-OC's Randy Clements and Philip Montgomery followed him from UH but Briles calls the plays himself. DC Phil Bennett (2nd yr) has 19 yrs of DC exp and was most recently at Pitt ('08-'10). Bennett was also the HC at SMU from '02-'07.

PHIL'S FORECAST

Coming into LY Baylor was the worst team in Big 12 history with an 18-102 league record. Heading into '06, the Bears were outscored in B12 play by 35.8, 32.5, 27.5, 34.2, 30.7, 21.3 and 13.0 ppg. In '07 they only had 11 ret sts and dropped to 0-8 (-181.4 ypg). In Art Briles' first year ('08) they had 15 ret sts. True frosh QB Robert Griffin helped them exceed expectations. BU improved to -83.0 ypg in B12 play (8th best) and were 2-6. They had benefitted from +16 in TO's. In '09 BU had just 3 B12 HG's then lost QB Griffin to injury and finished just 4-8 with a league worst -125.3. In '10 Baylor actually made my Most Improved List which meant that I was calling for them to get to their first bowl since 1994! The return of Griffin was huge. They were picked to finish last (media) but finished 4th, their highest finish ever in the B12 South! BU did only beat 1 FBS team which finished with a winning record (K-St 7-6) but improved to +39.3 ypg in B12 play and set or tied 55 of the schl's offensive rec's with 471 pass and 468 rush att's (balance) and made a bowl. LY they had 13 ret sts but did lose a pair of #1 DC's for the first time s/'57. The highest Big 12 finish any preseason mag picked BU was 6th. They upset TCU in the opener and moved to #19 AP, its highest ranking s/'91. The Bears did lead K-St 35-26 in the 4Q but lost by 1. Ganaway rushed for 200 vs Iowa St and they rolled up 607 yds in their 49-26 win but were spanked by both A&M and Okla St (comb 114-52). BU then became the only tm in FBS history to win 4 consec games in a single ssn while allowing at least 30 pts in all 4. They pulled out a 42-39 win vs MO despite trailing 14-13 at half (were up 42-25 4Q). BU got their all-important 6th win (in OT) vs Kansas despite trailing 24-3 in the 4Q (largest comeback in schl hist). Okla came in without their top WR Broyles and top RB Whaley. BU got a 34 yd td pass with :08 left to pull out a 45-38 win. It was their first ever win over Okla (0-20 prior). RG3 was inj'd at the half vs TT up by 3 but bkp QB Florence led the tm to the 66-42 win. It was their first win over TT as a B12 member (0-14 prior). Texas came in with their RB's banged up and BU rolled to a 48-24 win. BU also rallied for a 67-56 bowl win over Wash. It was BU's first 10 win ssn s/'80. TY BU has 14 ret sts but lose 5 NFL DC's on their off incl RG3. LY's tm benefitted from 4 net close wins, +5 in TO's, had an off ypp of 12.96 (pg 309) and earn a -4.5 grade in my new Stock Market Indicator (pg 27). BU does have a vastly upgraded D and will have a potent offense with the experienced Florence at QB. Briles' Bears now have new found confidence giving them an solid shot at a 3rd straight bowl.

BU is 9-0 vs SMU (avg win by 29 ppg). In the L/meeting ('05) BU trailed 14-6 mid-3Q but limited SMU to just 78 yds their L/5 drives in a 28-23 win. Baylor is 7-6 in home openers incl just 3-6 vs FBS foes.

Bonus: While the HC at Houston (2003-'07), Briles was 2-1 vs SMU (wins in '06 & '07). Briles' Houston team also beat Sam Houston St 31-10 in 2005.

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In '10 Austen Arnaud was in his 3rd year as a starter when he suffered a career ending injury vs Colorado (1703, 59%, 13-10). Jerome Tiller (PS#54) st'd the ssn finale and on the yr threw for 363 (48%, 1-0). LY I proj'd PS#88JC Steele Jantz (IFS) as the starter and he beat out rFr Jared Barnett after Tiller was declared acad inelig in Aug. In each of the first 3 gms, Jantz began slowly with a 0-5 1Q ratio but he led three 4Q comeback wins as ISU opened up 3-0. Jantz suffered a foot inj vs Conn which affected his mobility and Barnett replaced him vs Missouri and threw an int on his first play. In his 7th start (A&M), Jantz was replaced after 3 series and Barnett st'd the rest of the year. Barnett (PS#88) rushed for 125 vs Kan, the first ISU QB 100 yd gm s/'04 (Bret Meyer) and then later threw for 376 vs Okla St. HC Rhoads called Jantz the more accurate passer but Barnett's mobility sparked the zone read option (368 tm rush in 1st start vs TT). He thew for 1,201 (50%, 6-6, 437 rush). TY both return and a healthier Jantz played the 2H of the bowl after Barnett struggled. Rhoads said the job was wide open after spg, not even ruling #3 rFr Sam Richardson out. Regardless of which QB starts, I look for much improved numbers.

RUNNING BACKS - Former HC Dan McCarney did a great job developing RB's. ISU had a 1,000 yd rusher in each of his first 7 yrs. However, from '01-'08 the tm had just one 1,000 yd rusher. Alexander Robinson led in '07 with 465 (3.9) and '08 (703, 4.6). Despite missing 12Q's in '09, Robinson still became ISU's 1st 1,000 yd rusher s/'04 (1195, 5.2). He was bothered by a foot injury in '10 but still led (946, 4.7). True frosh Shontrelle Johnson was the #2 RB rusher (218, 6.2) and rFr Jeff Woody (bruising runner) was #4 (191, 4.1). LY they had to replace Robinson (3,309 car yds) and the unit ret 87 career att's. I projected Johnson as the starter and he did start the first 4 gms (247, 4.8) but was OFY. HC Rhoads called James White the Energizer Bunny due to his boundless energy and he led with 743 (4.7, HM B12). Woody (PS#174) had 381 (4.2, 317 yds in L/6). Not listed below are DeVondrick Nealy (5'10" 180 rFr, PS#69) and Rob Standard (5'10" 187 rFr, PS#74). The top 3 RB's were all soph LY so this unit is vastly more exp'd and Johnson (OFS) may be added back in the fall.

RECEIVERS - In '09 Darius Reynolds (PS#74JC) was the top returning rec but he was inj'd in Wk 4 and OFY (RS). In '10 they had to replace their top rec. One of the focuses in the spring was to increase the team's 10.9 ypc and get the vertical passing game going. That did not happen as ISU dropped to 9.9 ypc and TE Collin Franklin led with 530 (9.8). LY they had to replace their top 2 rec (934 comb yds, 10.5) and the top 2 back were Darius Darks (355, 12.2) and Reynolds (283, 11.3). Rhoads was impressed with the overall size and speed of the group. Reynolds led with 695 (16.2) after breaking his toe in August. Josh Lenz (170, 12.1, '10) was #2 (510, 13.1) despite also being slowed by injury. Aaron Horne (PS#147JC) had 431 (11.3) and was named the Big 12 Off Newcomer Yr. TY they lose Reynolds (9 st) and Darks (12 st, 211, 10.0) while adding Jerome Tiller (3 st, 14 gm QB). They did increase their ypc slightly to 11.1 LY and despite losing their #1 rec for the 5th str yr, they could improve again.

OFFENSIVE LINE - After bottoming out in '06 with just 102 ypg rush (3.0) and all'g 38 sks, the Cyclones made improvement to this unit in both of Chizik's 2 seasons here. In Paul Rhoads' first ssn ('09), then OC Herman called the OL the strength of the offense and they improved to 180 ypg (4.5) with just 16 sks (4.2%). In '10 they lost a 1st Tm B12 C (#7DC) and their RG (3 st's back). ISU slipped to 143 ypg (3.8) with 33 sks (8.8%). LY they had to replace a 2nd Tm B12 C and a 3Y starting G. They once again had 3 st'rs back (54 car st) and I called for improved numbers. Despite being banged up, ISU improved to 174 ypg (4.2, 27 sk, 5.6%). TY they lose 3rd Tm AA LT Kelechi Osemele (13 st, 3Y st'r, #2DC BAL) and 2nd Tm B12 RG Hayworth Hicks (12 st, 2Y st'r). Six OL who st'd LY are back (53 car st) but with the loss of their top 2, this front may be down a notch.

DEFENSIVE LINE - LY ISU had to replace 3 DL (comb 21 sts). They had 2 st'rs back but had 5 w/st exp and added in JC Rony Nelson (16.5 sks at JC in '09, RS '10). Nelson struggled vs the run and didn't see the field very much. The 4 st'rs missed a comb 1 start but still struggled allowing 193 ypg (4.5, 17 sk). TY they lose DT Stephen Ruempolhamer (12 st, 30 tkl, 2.5 sk), 2x HM B12 DE Jake Lattimer (13 st, 43 tkl, 3 sk) and DE Patrick Neal (13 st, 41 tkl, 3.5 sk). An intriguing prospect is soph David Irving who only played 2 yrs in HS but is 6'7" 262 with good leaping ability. They burned his RS in Sept (impressive Aug) but his playing time was limited as he was still learning technique (5 tkl). Henry Simon (quickest DT) wasn't cleared until late Aug and arrived out of condition. This unit has potential but with just 1 st'r back, they may have a 3rd str year of weaker rush numbers.

LINEBACKERS - In '09 ISU had an exp'd LB corps and all'd just 21.8 ppg. In '10 they had to replace 5 Sr LB's incl all 3 st'rs (#1, #3, #10 tkl'rs). They ret'd 0 car sts (59 car tkl) and I called it my major ? on the tm. The Cyclones slipped to allowing 28.8 ppg. At the end of the year, soph's Jake Knott (PS#133) and AJ Klein (PS#141) were playing almost every snap (#1, #2 tkl'rs). LY they had their top 5 back but allowed 29.4 ppg. Mostly due to a weaker front 4. Rhoads said the play of this unit all'd ISU to play more 4-3 rather than 4-2-5. Knott was banged up but still finished #2 (1st Tm B12) and Klein became the first ever Cyclone to be named the Big 12 co-DPOY (2nd Tm AA). TY they lose Matt Tau'fo'ou (6 st, #4, 4 tfl) but have 5 of their top 6 back. This is one of the Big 12's most underrated LB corps.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - The Cyclones finished #118 in my PDR in '06, #108 in '07, dead last at #119 in '08 (67%, 31-11), #86 (62%, 23-15) in '09 and #80 in '10. LY they had to replace 3 DB (comb 24 st, #3, #6, #8 tkl'rs) but did have 33 sts from '10 back as they played 5 DB's often. They ret'd their top cover corner Leonard Johnson and I called for their best finish in my PDR s/'05 (#32). ISU surpassed my expectations finishing #23 (56.7%, 17-11) and only once all year did they allow an opp to throw for over 289 yds despite playing in the pass happy Big 12. TY they lose 2x 2nd Tm B12 CB Johnson (13 st, #4 tkl'r, 1 int, 8 pbu) and HM B12 SS Ter'Ran Benton (13 st, #7 tkl'r, 3 int, 3 pbu). Even though they return 6 of their top 8, they lose their top 2 DB's and won't match LY's lofty finish.

SPECIAL TEAMS - ISU was #40 in my ST rankings in '08, #31 in '09 and #66 in '10. True frosh P Kirby Van Der Kamp (PS#34) avg 45.2 (38.2 tm net) in '10 while Josh Lenz (10.4) had ISU's first PR td s/'06. LY everyone was back but they finished #66. Shontrelle Johnson had 6 KR (26.2) before his injury and the team still avg 23.9 on KR but only 7.6 on PR's. Van Der Kamp had a net of 37.0. Grant Mahoney handled long FG att and was 1-4 (L54, 2 miss 50+) while Zach Guyer hit 11-16 (long 46). Mahoney had 10 TB on 56 KO. TY they lose both K's but the return game should improve and ISU could move up provided a decent K emerges.

COACHES - It was a pretty surprising '09 offseason as Gene Chizik (5-19 in 2Y here) left for Auburn in what turned out to be a trade of sorts as Auburn's DC Paul Rhoads came to Iowa St as the new HC. Rhoads, who was the DC at Pitt from 2000-'07, took over a 2-10 team and got them to a bowl in his inaugural ssn. In each of the L3Y his squad has pulled off improbable upsets (dog of 20 pts or more) incl a #2 Okla St LY. He gets every ounce out of his players and in Dec '11 was rewarded with a 10 yr contract extension. Courtney Messingham is in his 4th ssn here and 1st as OC (WR cch LY, TE '09-'10). The DC is Wally Burnham, who is in his 4th season and was previously USF's DC for 8 yrs.

PHIL'S FORECAST

After going 13-42 in his first 5 yrs, Dan McCarney went on a streak of 25-15 including 2-0 to open '03. ISU was ranked as high as #9 in '02 but the '03 team was injury-plagued and dropped their last 10 (-261.7 ypg and -34 ppg in B12 play). In '04 I picked them to finish ahead of Nebraska (10-3 in '03!) in the B12 North. ISU did not disappoint me. They very nearly took home the undisputed Big 12 North Title (miss FG vs MO in OT loss). In '05, they made it to their 5th bowl in 6 yrs despite 3 net close losses. In '06 they had a young D and despite a 4-8 finish, I was very surprised McCarney was let go. Gene Chizik, who in 3 yrs at Auburn already has a Nat'l Title, was just 5-19 (2-14 B12) in '07-'08 in Ames. In '09 Paul Rhoads inherited 15 ret sts, ISU's most s/'99 and a tm which had 3 net close losses in '08. ISU caught some breaks like +8 TO's vs Neb (1st win at NU s/'77). Despite their 3-5 B12 record, they were -94 ypg (2nd worst) but still had their first winning ssn s/'05 at 7-6. In '10 they were the only tm from the B12 North to draw OU and Texas out of the South and I said while they were improved, they would drop below .500. Rhoads exceeded my expectations again as they finished 3-5 (3rd North). ISU was -85.6 ypg vs the B12 and finished 5-7 overall. LY they had 5 of their 9 B12 gms on the road and just 12 st'rs back (fewest B12). Rhoads made it 3 for 3 in exceeding my expectations. I called for a 2nd str losing yr and while they did go 6-7, I didn't expect them to get to a bowl. They upset Iowa in Wk 2 in 3OT, 44-41 and trailed Conn 10-0 but rallied for a 24-20 win. They had expected losses to Texas, Baylor, Mizzou and A&M by 23, 23, 35 and 16 pts (-152 ypg). TT was off their huge upset of #3 Okla and ISU took advantage with a 41-7 win, their largest MOV over a ranked tm s/'02. Kansas missed 2 FG's and fumbled deep inside ISU terr and ISU got a late FG to pull out a 13-10 win (426-301 yd ISU edge). They kept Okla St from playing in the Nat'l Title gm with a stunning 37-31 2OT win in which the Cyclones had a 568-536 yd edge. Rhoads was on Pitt's staff when they did the same thing as a huge dog vs WV in '07 knocking the Mountaineers from the Title gm. It was the first win over a Top 5 foe in ISU hist. They lost to Okla by 20 and outgained K-St 368-359 but lost by 7. In the bowl they lost to Rutgers by 2 td's. ISU benefitted from 4 net close wins and was #8 in the B12 at -58.1 ypg. ISU accomplished their 6 wins despite being -11 in TO's and having an off ypp of 17.0. TY they again have 12 st'rs back but now have 2 veteran QB's. Since I don't see very many sure fire W's on their schedule, I will call for ISU to have their 3rd str losing ssn but it wouldn't surprise me if Rhoads' gritty crew pulls another huge upset or 2 to surpass my expectations once again.

Sep. 1	Tulsa	G						Only one prior meeting in 1961, ISU won 27-6. The Cyclones have won 4 str home openers by 16 ppg and are 12-1 S/'99. ISU has started every ssn in Ames S/'88 except for '02 (Kansas City, MO vs FSU).
Sep. 8	at Iowa	A						Visitor is 1-7. ISU has lost 4 str in Iowa City (L/win '02). LTH ISU trailed 35-0 into the 4Q and a late garbage score snapped 17 str Q's w/o a td. L3Y ISU has 12 TO's that have resulted in 45 (41%) of Iowa's 111 pts.
Sep. 15	Western Illinois	G						First meeting. Leathernecks went 2-9 LY incl a shutout loss at Missouri 69-0 (just one yr removed from a FCS playoff ssn). Since '97 if ISU beats rival Iowa they are 6-1 the next reg ssn gm (2-5 off a loss).

#72 LT Tanner Hawkinson

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In former HC Mark Mangino's first 5 yrs he used 9 diff QB's and only once in that span did they top 55.9%. In '06 they took the RS off Todd Reesing (PS#95) in the 9th gm. Despite being just 5'11" and not having a cannon for an arm he became KU's career passing leader. Reesing's best season was his junior yr ('08) when he hit a schl rec 66.5% (3888, 32-13). In one gm as a Sr he was actually benched for rFr Kale Pick (PS#51) who played in 7 (167 rush, 5 passes). Pick started the opener in '10 but ended up at WR. Jordan Webb (PS#40) came in off the bench to lead the upset over GT. With Webb and Pick banged up they burned the RS off of JC Quinn Mecham (4 st). Webb threw for 1,195 (57%, 7-8) while Mecham threw for 554 (60%, 4-5). Webb had a great start to '11 but threw 6 int's over the final 3 (1884, 63.7%, 13-12) while Mecham appeared in 4 (11-18-113). Mike Cummings (PS#85) had an impressive summer but RS. TY Webb (12 st) and Mecham depart. Reesing had 18 car 300+ gms but KU had just one in Gill's two ssns ('10-'11). New HC Charlie Weis worked quickly to add in ND grad transfer Dayne Crist (PS#5) who spent his first two college ssns under Weis in South Bend. Crist threw for 2,033 (59%, 15-7) in '10 and began LY as a st'r but only threw 24 passes for 164 yds. None of the bkps have any exp with BYU transfer Jake Heaps (PS#2) being forced to sit out the ssn. I look for KU to have huge improvement in their passing numbers as long as Crist plays to his potential.

RUNNING BACKS - In '10 KU had an inexp'd RB corps and James Sims became the school's first true frosh to rush for 100 in his first game (101 vs GT). Sims had 2 other 100 yd games with those gms being the only 3 that KU won all ssn. He lost just 7 yds all year and led with 742 (4.4). LY Sims ret'd and Gill added true Tony Pierson (PS#51) who was the fastest of the RB's (4.4 spd). Pierson went 47 yds on his first carry and also had a 72 yd run called back on a hold. Sims opened with 104 vs McNeese and 110 vs NI (their only 2 wins of the year). RFr Brandon Bourbon, who was recruited by Weis at ND, led with 101 vs TT and was #4 with 190 (6.8) in just 8 gms (inj). True frosh Darrian Miller (PS#40) got his first start vs Baylor and rushed for 147, the most by a KU frosh s/'93 (June Henley). Sims led with 727 (4.0), Miller had 559 (4.1) and Pierson 396 (5.6). TY they only lose Miller (3 st) but Sims will be susp'd for the first 3. This group is more exp'd, has decent talent and I look for much stronger numbers.

RECEIVERS - In '10 KU had an inexp'd unit which was led by Daymond Patterson who had just 487 (8.1) as the WR's comb for just 6 td's. LY they had to replace 2 of their top 3 then Patterson played in just 1 (3 rec, inj) and RS. The leading returnee was TE Tim Biere (228, 12.0). DJ Beshears was noted as one of the strongest WR's and led with 437 (10.9, 1086 ret yds). Kale Pick (conv QB) was #2 with 344 (10.1) and true frosh JaCorey Shepherd (PS#105) was #4 (252, 16.8). Shepherd had 218 yds (3 td) in the first 5 but just 34 yds over the final 7. TY they lose TE Biere (10 st, 322, 11.9) and bkp TE's AJ Steward and Ted McNulty (comb 6 st, 5 rec). They were hoping Okla transfer Justin McCay (PS#7) would be elig to play TY but his waiver was denied by the NCAA in May. They do get the return of Patterson and add in ND trans TE Mike Ragone (PS#2) giving them their most exp'd and talented rec corps in a few years.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '10 KU had 4 st'rs back and improved to 135 ypg rush (3.4) but the sks rose to 37 (10.5%), their most in B12 play ('96). LY they had to replace two 2 yr st'rs but got back Jeff Spikes (2Y st'r, RS '10) so they had 4 st'rs back (97 car sts, 62 in '10). They showed expected improvement paving the way for 159 ypg (3.5, 31 sk, 10.3%). TY they lose 2 st'rs in 2nd Tm B12 C Jeremiah Hatch (12 st, 4Y st'r) and LT Spikes (12 st, 3Y st'r). Gill felt they would have more depth on the OL than at any other position as he liked his first 2 recruiting classes. Although they drop to 75 car sts and must learn a new system, I foresee improved numbers this year.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '10 KU had to replace 3 DL (comb 24 st). An opposing cch commented that KU did not have a single DT who would start for another B12 tm. After 6 gms, the DL had 0 sks and they moved Toben Opurum from RB to DE (L/6 st). KU was run over all'g 205 ypg rush (5.0), their worst s/'02 (8 of D's 14 sk). LY they had to replace 1 st'r but had 4 back who had st'd 6+ so improvement was expected. After my magazine went to press LY veteran DC Carl Torbush retired with CB cch Vic Shealy moving the D from a 4-3 to a 3-4 in Aug. The only 2 players capable of playing NT on the roster were John Williams and Patrick Dorsey. Williams was OFY after 2 st while Dorsey could only start the L/6 after breaking his foot in Aug. The numbers plummeted to 239 ypg rush (#117 FBS) and 5.8 ypc (#120 FBS) and despite Gill's priority on sks, the D recorded just 10 (4 by Opurum). TY they lose Dorsey (14 tkl, 3 tfl), DT Richard Johnson (9 st, 16 tkl, 2 tfl) and DE Malcolm Walker (23 tkl, 2 tfl). They have 5 of the top 8 back incl their top guy Opurum (HM B12, 12 st, 10.5 tfl), move back to a 4-3, should stay healthier, add in 3 JUCO's as well as a Neb transfer and can only improve upon LY's woeful numbers.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 KU had to replace 1 st'r (#6 tkl'r) then lost Huldon Tharp (#5 tkl'r) in Aug so they had just 1 st'r back in Drew Dudley (#2 tkl'r). KU all'd 34.4 ppg (most s/'02). LY they had to replace their #2 and #4 tkl'rs (15 comb st) but added in Buffalo transfer Darius Willis (PS#72), and also got back Steven Johnson (#1 tkl'r) and Tharp while switching to the new 3-4. KU allowed a shocking 43.8 ppg, last in the FBS. TY they have 5 of their top 6 back with one less position to fill (move back to 4-3). Even with the loss of their top guy, 2nd Tm B12 Steven Johnson (12 st, #1 w/124, 6 tfl), this unit is more exp'd and can only improve.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - Led by its star CB Aqib Talib, KU finished #11 in my PDR in '07. In '08 they had 3 st'rs back but lost Talib (#1DC) and fell to #43. In '09 they had all 4 st'rs back but only finished #50. In '10 they lost 4 DB's (comb 30 sts, #4DC). Gill said in April that the secondary was one of KU's strongest positions and they would play more man-to-man. Bradley McDougald signed with KU because he wanted to play WR (Ohio St recruited as S). He st'd 14 at WR in his 1st 2Y before being moved to SS (2 st '10). Despite Gill's confidence, KU finished #109 in my PDR (66%, 18-7). LY they had to replace 3 DB (comb 20 st, 161 tkl) but with McDougald back, I gave them credit for 4 ret st'rs but KU dropped to #118 (69.5%, 28-8). TY they lose CB Isiah Barfield (10 st, 35 tkl), FS Keeston Terry (10 st, #4 tkl'r) and Anthony Davis (1 st, 14 tkl, 1 int, 2 pbu) but should make a good sized climb in my PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - KU finished #38, #29 and #47 in my ST rankings from '04-'06. They have struggled since then finishing at #92, #90, #65 and in Gill's 1st yr, #116. LY they had to replace their K, P and PR. DJ Beshears set a single ssn record for KR yds with 1,014 (20.7) becoming the KU career KR leader and was also the top PR (7.2). P Ron Doherty avg 42.8 (net 36.1) and had an easier time getting off his kicks than '10 st'r Alonso Rojas (34.6 net, 3 blk). True frosh Tanner Gibas was an upgrade LY at LS but had 2 bad snaps in the last 2 gms. True frosh Alex Mueller (PS#15) hit just 3-8 FG and Ron Doherty hit 3-4 (L37). Doherty had 4 TB on 22 KO. Overall they finished just #112 and with the unit returning intact, I look for a large climb in my ST rankings.

COACHES - The Turner Gill experiment lasted only 2 yrs (5-19). KU needed some excitement so they brought in Charlie Weis. Weis' career is highlighted by 3 Super Bowl rings in his 5Y as NE's OC ('00-'04). He stayed in the spotlight as the ND HC from '05-'09 and spent '10 as the NFL Chiefs' OC before serving as Fla's OC a ssn ago. When he was hired Weis said his intention is to stay the length of his contract (5 yrs) and groom his successor. Weis will call his own plays and after struggling to find the right DC in South Bend, he turned to one of the NFL's most well respected coaches to run the D in Dave Campo. Campo's long career includes being the Cowboys' HC ('00-'02), the Cowboys' DC ('95-'99), the Browns' DC ('03-'04) and L7Y as a secondary coach (JAX '05-'07, DAL '08-'11).

PHIL'S FORECAST

Prior to '07, KU had never finished in the upper half of the Big 12 North. Its best conf record since the B12's inception ('96) was 3-5 and they were 23-65 in 11 yrs. In '05 KU made my Most Improved List and earned its first winning season (7-5) s/'95 and waxed Houston 42-13 in the bowl. In '06 they suffered 4 close losses (led in 2H of 5 losses) to finish just 6-6 (no bowl). In '07 KU avoided TX and OU and had a dream year. They went 7-0 at home and were picked for their first Orange Bowl s/'69 where they knocked off VT to finish #7 at 12-1. In '08 I pointed out that KU was +21 in TO's and had just 3 sts lost to inj in '07 and got OU and Texas back on the slate. I didn't make KU fans happy when I was the only preseason source that did not have them in my Top 25. KU opened #14 but even with some good fortune, finished 8-5 (unranked). Despite a 4-4 Big 12 record they were -36.7 ypg in conf play (6th worst). It did, however give them a 4th str ssn with 6+ wins (last time 1903-'06). Their 20 wins in 2 yrs was a schl rec and they had their first ever B2B bowls. I didn't make many friends in Lawrence again in '09. KU was picked first in the North by most magazines but I picked KU FOURTH in the North and things did not look good for my prediction early on. KU got a couple of fortuitous wins and opened 5-0 (#17) but went on to lose their final 7 and Mangino was shown the door. The '10 squad was not as strong as the '09 version but they had a softer schedule so Turner Gill stepped into a good situation. Kansas, however, who was 1-7 in B12 in '09 but just -41.6 ypg, was 1-7 again in '10 but -219.4 ypg! LY they had 15 ret sts but I said they would struggle to top the previous year's 3 win total. KU opened 2-0 including being a home dog to NI and getting a 6 yd td pass with :09 left for the win. After getting mauled by GT (allowed schl rec'd 768 yds) they led TT 20-0 in the 1Q but lost, 45-34. They then lost B12 games by 42, 30, 38 and 43 pts before almost knocking off Iowa St (gave up a late FG to lose by 3). They led Baylor 24-3 early 4Q in the FHG for their seniors. BU got a td with 3:32 left to tie it and KU was stopped on a 2 pt conv in OT. They lost to A&M (61-7) and in perhaps the last Border Showdown, led 10-3 at half but lost to Mizzou, 24-10. Gill was let go the next day and they brought in Charlie Weis who won't have the same expectations here that he dealt with at ND. Weis says he's going to run a tough camp and figures 15 players could leave by the start of the year (13 schlp players gone at press time). They have 14 ret sts but LY were -218.6 ypg, by far the worst in the B12 and their 516 ypg all'd on D was last in the FBS. On the positive side they had a def ypp of 11.8 and were -5 in TO's. KU brings in numerous transfers including QB Crist and will be a much tougher team which could top LY's win total by the end of Sept.

PHIL STEELE'S 2012 ACC FORECAST

ATLANTIC DIVISION

1. FLORIDA ST - Expectations were high for FSU LY but they finished a disappointing 5-3 in ACC play (tied for 2nd). TY they have 17 ret sts and the best D, not only in the ACC, but in the entire country! They get a key game vs Clemson at home, and while they have to travel to Blacksburg on a Thursday they do have the nations best D-line going up against a rebuilt VT O-line (also off a bye while VT plays at Miami). FSU is my pick to win the Atlantic Division, the ACC Title and see pg 29.

2. CLEMSON - The Tigers are an even stronger team TY than the 2011 squad which came out of nowhere to get to 8-0 and #6 AP before losing 4 of their last 6. They are the defending ACC champs and are loaded at the offensive skill positions and the back 7 on D as well as on ST. My 2 main sets of power ratings have them going 11-1 as they will be favored in their only 3 true road gms besides FSU (BC, WF, Duke). This is a dangerous Clemson team and an upset of FSU (Sept 22) would put them in the National Title contenders role.

3. NC STATE - In Tom O'Brien's first 3 years here they were 9-15 in ACC play but are now 9-7 since with a couple of bowl wins. This year they have 13 returning starters which is their most since his third and first seasons but they are in better shape as O'Brien is not going through a first year process so this could be his best team yet. They avoid VT and GT out of the Coastal and should make it to their 3rd straight bowl.

4. BOSTON COLLEGE - BC has 17 ret sts (tied for most ACC) and loses just 15 lettermen (fewest ACC). LY they had a streak of 12 consecutive bowls snapped as not much went right for them with their -101.5 ypg in conf play being the ACC's worst. This is a much stronger BC team and they get a pivotal gm vs MD at home and that should mean a move up in the Atlantic standings. BC is a +3.5 in my Stock Market indicator (page 27).

5. MARYLAND - The Terps have to play BC on the road which was one reason for me calling for them in this #5 spot. LY Randy Edsall came in and had a "my way or the highway" approach which is generally good for most coaches in the long run. The Terps dropped to 2-10 but keep in mind, they led Clemson 35-17 in the 3Q and NCSt 41-14 with 10:50 left in the 3Q blowing 2 games they should have easily won. TY the Terps have 15 ret sts, are in the 2nd yr of Edsall's systems and are one of the most improved teams in the country. It wouldn't surprise me if they started 4-1 but the schedule does get difficult after that. Edsall's teams are usually better than the sum of their parts and could surprise.

6. WAKE FOREST - The Deacons finished tied for 2nd in the ACC Atlantic LY at 5-3 but were -65.1 ypg which was 4th weakest in the ACC and numerous factors are pointing down. They only have 11 ret sts TY and were from +9 in TO's LY. They did get the benefit of the extra bowl practices LY and have a veteran QB. HC Jim Grobe usually has his team surpass my expectations and unfortunately I had to pick someone for the basement.

COASTAL DIVISION

1. NORTH CAROLINA - Larry Fedora steps into a tremendous situation. Two years ago the team was hit hard by unexpected suspensions in the offseason. LY they were hit with the unexpected loss of their HC prior to the year and had 2 underachieving seasons going just 7-9 in league play. Nobody is looking at NC this year as they are ineligible for the post season and won't be playing in the ACC Title game. There are some factors pointing in their favor as NC returns 14 sts and was actually +19.5 ypg despite their losing ACC record LY. They have a tremendous schedule not facing ANY of the top 6 teams in the ACC on the road getting both VT and GT at home while avoiding FSU and Clem out of the Atlantic. All of those factors combined, have me calling for them to be the surprise winner of the Coastal but naturally for VT to play in the Title game.

2. VIRGINIA TECH - VT's D has the potential to be scary this year provided all of their injured players return to 100% health. They have 9 st'rs back on D incl 3 st'rs that were lost to inj LY and of course DC Bud Foster. They also have a veteran QB in Logan Thomas who could be the league's best. The ?'s are at the skill position on offense, the O-line and the schedule as they draw the top 2 teams out of the Atlantic in Florida St and Clemson and must face NC on the road. Since NC is ineligible I will call for VT to get back to the ACC Title game where Beamer will be familiar ground.

3. GEORGIA TECH - GT is a legit Title contender in the Coastal TY despite having just 13 ret sts. My biggest ? is GT's def front 7 but Paul Johnson generally has his squad exceed my expectations. They face VT in the opener allowing the Hokies summer prep time for the option. I put them on par with both NC and VT but they must face those 2 plus Clem on the road in ACC play which is my reason for this 3rd place call.

4. VIRGINIA - HC Mike London is doing a great job here and LY got them to 8 wins despite the fact they were -7 in TO's and had poor off ypp's. TY they go from 17 ret sts to 12 and benefitted from 4 net close wins but this is London's best team in his 3 years and will be favored in 4 of their first 6 conf games making them a Coastal contender into November.

4. MIAMI, FL - Miami had 4 net close losses LY and 91.4% of the time, those teams improve their record. UM had to be stunned when 6 players left early for the NFL, taking the team from a Coastal Div fav to one that is missing some key pieces. UM also draws a tough schedule with HG's vs FSU and VT, 2 of the league's elite and they also have one of the weakest home edges in the conf. They took their bowl ban LY which should help them TY but with just 10 ret sts, it looks like a rebuilding year.

4. DUKE - Duke came close to postseason action in '09 getting to 5-3 but lost their last 4 and missed out on a bowl. The last 2Y they have been just 2-14 in the ACC and -94.6 and -76.8 ypg. LY they had 3 losses in ACC play by a TD or less and TY have David Cutcliffe's best team with 17 ret sts and that gives them a good shot at escaping the basement for the first time s/'09 despite drawing both FSU and Clemson in B2B wks out of the Atlantic.

ACC Notes: This year the ACC returns 10 starting QB's for the first time in league history and the two teams that don't (Mia & MD) both have QB's that have started 5 gms! They have 5 QB's back who threw for over 3000 yds LY which is also a conf record. Two of the leagues four 1,000 yd rushers are back. LY Clemson QB Tajh Boyd set an ACC record with 38 td's (33 pass, 5 rush). Duke WR Conner Vernon is 34 catches away from the ACC record for career rec's held by Clemson's Aaron Kelly (2005-'08). Since 2005 the ACC is #2 (SEC #1, 60) with 58 bowl bids. Three of the top 4 teams in consec bowl bids reside here with Florida St #1 (30 straight), VT is #3 (19) and GT is #4 (15). VT is the only team that has 10 or more wins in each of the last 8 yrs and Frank Beamer is now the leader in career wins by an active coach with 251 (Mack Brown 227 #2). NC QB Bryn Renner's 68.3% mark was the best in the ACC in '11. The ACC has had just ONE team win a BCS bowl s/'99 (1-10!) and that was VT in '08. The ACC is just 15-27 in bowls the last 5 yrs (2-6 in '11). LY in the reg ssn they were 8-10 vs other BCS conf (4th best). They have had 0 tms finish in the Top Ten in '06, '08' '10 & '11. They were 11-7 vs non AQ FBS conf's LY which was 7th best % (behind MAC!) with 12 of their 31 non conf wins were vs FCS tms. Pitt and Syr will be joining in 2013 meaning 7 current coaches have been in BE programs. I think the ACC makes a large jump this year not only in how they fare in the bowls but I expect them to end the SEC's streak of National Champs at 6!

FLORIDA ST SEMINOLES

QUARTERBACKS - Christian Ponder was a 3 yr st'r (#1DC) but was injured allowing EJ Manuel (PS#4) to have 6 sts in '09 and '10 comb (incl both bowls) and throw for 1,678 (67%, 6-10, 366 rush). Manuel was the clear-cut starter in '11 but was inj'd in the 3Q vs Okla and rFr Clint Trickett (PS#60, OL cch's son) impressed with a 56 yd td pass on 3&28 to tie it at 13 (FSU lost by 10). Trickett started vs Clemson (336, 3 td) but after a fumble and 2 int in the 1H vs WF, Manuel came in and almost led the comeback (286 yd, 2-2). In 9 games Trickett threw for 675 (61.1%, 7-4) while Manuel threw for 2,666 (65.3%, 18-8). Manuel enters the year with 121 consec passes without an int (none in L/5 gms) while Trickett now has experience and I look for good sized improvement from the FSU QB's.

RUNNING BACKS - With all of the VHT's and NFL caliber talent former HC Bobby Bowden compiled at RB, it's amazing that FSU has not had a 1,000 yd rusher since Warrick Dunn in 1996! In fact, since '96 FSU has had just 3 RB's top 900. In '05, FSU had its worst ypg (94, 3.3) rushing s/'47 and "improved" to just 97 ypg (3.5) in '06. In '10, Chris Thompson (PS#29) led with 845 (6.3) while Ty Jones had 527 (6.1) and Jermaine Thomas (PS#81) had 490 (5.7) and all 3 ret'd LY. After 4 gms, Thompson was the leading rusher with just 81 (2.9) but broke 2 vertebrae in his back in gm 5 and was OFY. Thomas didn't get his 1st carry until the 3Q of the 2nd gm (inj). True frosh Devonta Freeman (PS#28) broke out with B2B 100 yd gms vs Duke and MD which were FSU's only 2 in '11. Freeman led with 579 (4.8) while true frosh James Wilder (PS#3) had 160 (4.6). Not listed below are Eric Beverly (5'9" 243 rFr, PS#42) and FB Chad Abram (6'0" 235 Jr, PS#93). This year they lose Thomas (279, 4.6) and Jones (71 yd) but I expect more production out of Freeman, Thompson and Wilder plus they add in PS#6 Mario Pender (IFS) making this a much improved group.

RECEIVERS - In '09 Bert Reed was #2 with 710 (11.8) and after they lost their top guy in '10, Reed led but with only 614 (10.6) while Willie Haulstead (PS#36) had 587 (15.4), Taiwan Easterling was #3 with 551 (12.8), Rodney Smith (PS#47) was #4 with 448 (14.5) and TE Beau Reliford (PS#48) was #5 with 198 (11.6). LY they had to replace Easterling (MLB DC Cubs) and Haulstead RS (conc). True frosh Rashad Greene only played in 9 gms but led with 596 (15.7) while Smith improved to 561 (15.6). Reed was banged up and dropped to #5 (403, 13.9) getting bested by PS#9 Christian Green (450, 17.3) and soph Kenny Shaw (PS#29, 418, 12.3). This year they lose Reed (7 st), Reliford (9 st, 7 rec) and TE Ja'Baris Little (3 st, 1 rec). Even with the loss of Reed, the top 4 from LY are back, Haulstead returns and they add in 6'6" 242 rFr Kelvin Benjamin (PS#17) making this a deep, talented (10 VHT's) and exp'd group.

OFFENSIVE LINE - Rick Trickett came in as the OL coach in '07 (128 ypg, 3.7, 22 sk) and FSU improved to179 ypg (4.8, 26 sk) in '08. In '09, despite only 3 st lost to injury, they slipped to 150 ypg rush (4.6, 20 sk). All 5 st'rs ret'd in '10 and the unit improved to 171 (4.8, 27 sk). LY they had to replace Rodney Hudson (2 Jacobs Blocking Awards, #2DC), 2nd Tm ACC C Ryan McMahon (4Y st'r) and a bkp. While they had 112 car sts ret, the unit was hit hard by inj's in spring and had little continuity during the season. Bobby Hart (PS#11), a 17 yr old true and 2 soph st'd most of the 2H of the year (4 true frosh started bowl). FSU's numbers dropped dramatically to 112 ypg (3.3) and they all'd 41 sks (t-#110 FBS,10.7%). TY they lose C David Spurlock (6 st, inj, 34 car st), 1st Tm ACC RT Zebrie Sanders (13 st, 4Y st'r, #5DC BUF) and LT Andrew Datko (4 st, inj, 40 car st, #7DC GB). While the unit drops to 50 car sts ret, I would expect better health and improved numbers and they add in PS#11 & 30 JUCO's. They also get to face the best D-line in the country every day in practice.

DEFENSIVE LINE - FSU almost always has a tough rush D and in '08 they had to replace 3 DL (19 st) and allowed 133 ypg (worst s/'95, 3.8) but did have 39 sks. In '09 they had to replace 2 st'rs (#2DC). FSU usually fields 1 or 2 super pass rushing DE's but the DE's comb for just 4 sks in '09 as the unit was hit hard by inj's. They amazingly allowed an ACC high 205 ypg rush and 5.4 ypc (26 sk), their worst s/'76. In '10 they had to replace 3 DL (24 st). Seven of the 8 DL were frosh and soph but FSU tied for #1 FBS in sks with 48 (35 by DL). DE Brandon Jenkins led with 13.5 sks while trimming the rush D to 129 ypg (3.4). LY they lost a #7DC but added in PS#1JC Tank Carradine and I said they should have their best rush D s/'06 (93, 2.9). FSU did even better yielding just 83 ypg (#2 FBS, 2.3, 40 sk). Not listed below are Moses McCray (6'2" 317 Sr, PS#49, 4 tkl LY) and Derrick Mitchell (6'5" 314 rFr, PS#50). TY the unit returns intact including their top 3 DE's (20.5 sk in '11) and they add in a PS#1, PS#3 and PS#12 DL's. This is the best D-line in the country.

LINEBACKERS - In '09 FSU had to replace their top 2 tkl'rs and a bkp (4 sts) but it was still surprising that they allowed 30.0 ppg, their worst s/'73. In '10 they had to replace a 2nd Tm ACC LB (#7DC) and 2 bkps. They had 7 VHT's incl their #1 & #2 tkl'rs and the D improved to 19.6 ppg (best s/'04). LY they had to replace 2 st'rs (#2 and #8 tkl'rs). While they had just 1 st'r back, the st'rs were PS#2, PS#4 and PS#24 and the D improved to 15.1 ppg. TY they lose Nigel Bradham who is the first Nole since Marvin Jones ('90-'92) to lead FSU in tkls for 3 straight yrs (86 tkl, 2 sk, 7.5 tfl, #4DC BUF) and Jeff Luc (15 tkl) but have 4 of their top 6 back making it their most exp'd LB corps in years.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - The Noles had 1.5 st'rs back in '09 and set a new FSU low at #102 in my PDR. In '10 they had to replace 3 st'rs again (#1DC) and the lone ret st'r lost his spot. FSU still improved to #32 (58%, 17-15). LY all 4 st'rs were back w/7 VHT's in the 2 deep. I said they would have their best PDR s/'04 and they did not disappoint finishing #18 (59.1%, 16-16). TY they lose CB Mike Harris (6 st, #2 tkl'r, 1 int, 9 pbu, #6DC JAX) and SS Terrance Parks (11 st, #6 tkl'r, 1 int, 3 pbu). They return 3 who had 9+ sts LY while Karlos Williams (PS#2) and Nick Waisome (PS#12) both got their feet wet as trues and should have a bigger impact. Despite being slightly less experienced, I'll call for continued improvement this year.

SPECIAL TEAMS - FSU normally ranks in the top 25 of my ST rankings. In '08 Graham Gano won the Lou Groza Award (24-26 FG, L53) and FSU finished #3. In '09 they had to replace Gano as well as their top PR and KR and dropped to #26. Exciting true frosh Greg Reid led the NCAA in PR (18.4) and was a solid KR (25.5). In '10 Reid set school KR records for a gm (193 vs NCSt) and a season (742, 23.9). K Dustin Hopkins (PS#1) improved from 19-27 (L52) with 24 TB on 75 KO in '09 to 22-28 (L55, GW FG vs CU) with 41 TB's (#2 FBS) in '10. P Shawn Powell also improved from 41.6 to 44.3 (39.0 net). Last year the unit returned intact and after their #10 finish in '10, I pegged them to finish #2 and they actually finished #1. Hopkins was a Groza finalist and 1st Tm AA Powell would have been a finalist for the Ray Guy had he attempted more punts (41.3 net #2 FBS). This year they lose their outstanding P but will once again be among the elite.

COACHES - Hall of Famer Bobby Bowden reluctantly retired #2 in the FBS for career wins. In '07 Jimbo Fisher came over as OC from LSU (OC L7Y). In Fisher's first season as HC ('10) FSU not only won the Atlantic, but totaled 10 wins (1st time s/'03). The OC is James Coley who was an asst under Fisher at LSU. DC Mark Stoops (3rd yr) spent 6 yrs as the DC at Arizona under his brother Mike. Greg Hudson is also in his 3rd season here as the asst def HC/LB cch (DC for 8Y at EC & Minn prior).

PHIL'S FORECAST

FSU had an amazing run of 14 straight yrs finishing in the Top 5 in the final polls but has not been back s/'00! FSU did finish #15, #21, #11, #15 and #23 AP from 2001-'05 but in Bowden's last 4 yrs finished ranked just once (9-4 in '08, #21). They went 7-6 in the other 3 yrs and needed a bowl win in each to achieve a winning season. In '09 they were the media's preseason favorite to win the Atlantic (I had Clemson) and they finished 3rd at 4-4 and -5.5 ypg. In '10 I mentioned that Jimbo Fisher stepped into a great situation as the team had not had double digit wins s/'03 and 7 of my 9 sets of power ratings called for them to reach that plateau. FSU got as high as 6-1 (#16) but finished 10-4 (#17) after a loss to VT in the ACC Title gm but they did beat SCar in the bowl. LY they had 14 st'rs back and expectations were extremely high as they avoided VT and had #1 ranked Okla at home. FSU started #6 and dispatched ULM and CS by a comb 96-10. Many were calling for the upset of #1 OU but they lost QB EJ Manuel in the 3Q and lost by 10. In a letdown spot after spending their entire summer talking about Oklahoma and with a bkp QB making his first road start, they lost at Clem 35-30. After a bye, Manuel did not start, but did play vs Wake and they lost again, 35-30. FSU then beat Duke and MD by an identical 41-16 score and waxed NCSt and BC by a comb 72-7. They were outgained 383-259 by Miami but were +3 in TO's (led 23-7) in a 23-19 win. The next wk vs UVA was a "C" game situation. They were in a Miami/Florida sandwich and a large favorite. UVA got a td with 1:16 left to take a stunning 14-13 lead and then FSU's tremendous K Hopkins actually missed a 42 yd FG which would have given them the win. They were outgained by Florida 184-95 but led 14-0 at half and won 21-7. In the bowl FSU beat ND 18-14 to finish 9-4 (#23) and I understand the circumstances behind all 4 losses. TY FSU has 17 st'rs back and were #3 in the ACC LY at +77.8 ypg despite their 5-3 finish. LY I went against the grain picking the tm with the best D in the country (Alabama) to win the Nat'l Title and the Tide delivered. TY FSU has the best D in the country and all 9 sets of my power ratings are calling for a perfect 12-0 season.

First meeting. Seminoles are 21-1 in home openers (only loss was to Miami, Fl in '09, 38-34). The Racers went 7-4 LY incl a 21-9 loss at Louisville. MSU has had B2B winning ssns for the 1st time S/'99 & '00.

First meeting. Originally FSU was to host WV but the gm was cancelled due to WV's move to the B12. Tigers open TY w/Ok St (FSU just 2nd program faced w/FBS status). SSU has had just 2 wins or less in 10 of L12Y.

FSU is 23-6-1 vs WF but 4 losses have come in the L6Y. LY FSU led 7-3 into the 2Q but trailed 9-7 and never had the lead again scoring w/:54 left. FSU had 5 TO's that resulted in 17 WF pts.

The home team is 9-1. LY FSU's only lead was 3-0. Trailing just 28-23 early 4Q FSU allowed a 62 yd td pass. FSU did get the ball back down 5 but on 4&9 was sk'd at their 38 w/1:37 left.

Just the 2nd all-time meeting. #18 Florida St lost 17-7 in Tallahassee in '09. Florida St is 17-5 in road openers but have dropped 2 straight (at #10 OU and #21 Clemson).

FSU has won 4 of the L/5 but the lone loss was the LTH. FSU led 21-7 at HT and clinging to a 3 pt lead late 4Q gave up a 70/13pl drive with a 4&gl td. FSU had a 1&gl at the NCSt4 but fum on 2&gl w/:49 left.

FSU is 6-4 vs BC incl B2B wins. LY the win made FSU bowl eligible for a 30th str ssn. FSU had a 28-0 lead at HT w/a 204-80 yd edge. Into '12, FSU is 13-7 S'07 in ACC HG's (8-2 run).

FSU is 5-2 (L/3 gm win streak was from '97-'99). LTH #23 FSU jumped out to a 21-0 lead over #13 UM mid-2Q. After UM trimmed the lead to 14 into the 4Q FSU went on B2B (55 & 84 yds) td drives to seal it.

The closest Florida St has come to losing to Duke (17-0) was the LTH (25-6) in '07. LY FSU lead 34-3 into the 4Q as Duke gained 35% (100) of their yds in the final quarter.

Visitor is 0-2 in ACC gms. LTH ('07) FSU led 21-20 after 3Q's but had a fum, 2 int's & all'd a SAF in the 4Q (20-0). In their L/6 meetings they played 2 reg ssn gms, 2 ACC championships & 2 bowl gms.

FSU is 20-2 (L's in '04 &'06). LTH FSU came from behind to win the ACC Atl. MD trailed 23-16 & had 1&10 at the F22 but threw an int which FSU ret 96 yds for a td w/:49 left.

The L2Y FSU has held UF to single digits (also '63-'64). LY FSU led 21-0 late 4Q as they took advantage of 4 UF int's (just 24 yds of offense gained for 21 pts). FSU won the gm despite just 95 yds & 7 FD's!

CLEMSON TIGERS

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In '09 1st time starting QB Kyle Parker (PS#31) stepped in for the departed Cullen Harper (2601, 61%, 13-14, banged up) and broke Charlie Whitehurst's ('02) frosh passing rec's with 2,526 (56%, 20-12, 135 rush). In '10 there was a big question if he would return (#1DC MLB). He didn't make a decision until July and VHT Tajh Boyd (PS#8) benefitted from the extra work over the summer. Much like Harper, Parker was banged up and his stats dropped (2213, 58%, 12-11, 28 rush). Boyd ply'd in just 7 (329, 52%, 4-3). LY I had big expectations for Tajh Boyd. He had a great start and while he slumped a little at the end (9 int L/6 gm), he still threw for 3,828 (218 rush) setting CU single season records for pass yds, ttl off, pass td (already #5 all-time at CU) and td's responsible for (ACC rec 38). He was the 1st CU QB to lead the ACC in pass and ttl off in the same yr s/'57 and tied a schl record for most wins by a 1st yr st'r. True frosh Cole Stoudt (PS#40) played in 6 (115 yds). TY Tony McNeal (6'0" 195 rFr, PS#34) is likely OFY (ACL spg gm) while VHT true Fr Chad Kelly (PS#12) looks to make an immediate impact. It will be interesting to see if Boyd can avoid what has been a 2nd year jinx for CU QB's.

RUNNING BACKS - CU had the "Thunder and Lightning" duo of James Davis (PS#21) and CJ Spiller (PS#10) from '06-'08. Davis (#6 DC) finished as the #2 car rusher (1st CU RB #1 rush each of his 4Y). Spiller set an ACC rec (#2 FBS) with 7,588 car all-purp yds and departed after '09 (#1 DC). In '10 Andre Ellington (PS#37) was the most effective back but started just 6 (inj, 686, 5.8). Jamie Harper (PS#31) led with 760 but only a 3.9 ypc. LY they had to replace Harper (7 st, #4DC) but expectations were high for true frosh Mike Bellamy (PS#6). While he didn't get his first carry until the 4Q vs Troy, he had the longest first carry for a CU player (75 yd td). Ellington had a career high 212 (8.8) vs MD then was inj'd and had just 5 yds on 7 att vs NC. He missed GT (CU lost) but finished with 1,178 (5.3) and Bellamy only had 343 (6.0). RFr DJ Howard (PS#61) had 230 (5.6). Roderick McDowell (5'9" 190 Jr, PS#30) has 224 (4.9) over 2Y. They lose solid blocking FB Chad Diehl (2 st) but have perhaps the ACC's top RB corps.

RECEIVERS - In '10 CU had to replace their top 2 WR's (#4DC). They lacked a breakaway threat at WR, allowing defenses to shrink the field. DeAndre "Nuke" Hopkins (PS#23) is 6'1" with huge hands and led with 637 (12.3) incl a CU bowl record 9 rec's becoming the 1st ever true frosh to lead CU in rec. TE Dwayne Allen was #3 (373, 11.3) and WR Jaron Brown (PS#99) was #2 (405, 12.7). OC Chad Morris was surprised how little speed the offense had and prepped the frosh class to push the vets. LY they ret'd 7 of the top 8 and got the huge addition of 6'1" true frosh Sammy Watkins (PS#3) who is a hard worker with blazing speed. Watkins finished with a CU record 1,219 (14.9) playing 13 (inj) and setting a CU rec for the quickest 1st career td scored at :26 (Terry Allen 8:53). Hopkins benefitted from tms keying on Watkins and finished #2 (978, 13.6). Allen took home the John Mackey Award (nation's Top TE, 598, 12.0) and Brown added 406 (13.1). True frosh Martavis Bryant (PS#19) had 221 (24.6). TY they lose Allen (#3DC IND) but the WR's still make this one of the finer units in the country.

OFFENSIVE LINE - Clemson has not had an OL drafted in the 1st 3 NFL rounds s/'79. When Swinney took over, he wanted a larger O-line and they had the biggest OL in the ACC in '09 avg 315 lbs. It was a unit with 71 car sts and CU improved to 170 ypg rush (4.8, 19 sk). In '10 they had 4 ret sts (did lose RB Spiller) but slipped to 139 ypg (4.0, 18 sk). LY they had to replace a 1st Tm ACC LT but had 9 of the top 10 back (118 car sts), with all 5 st'rs being VHT's. I called it their best O-line s/'06 (5.7 ypc, 15 sk). Surprisingly they rushed for just 159 ypg (4.2) and all'd 33 sks (6.3%). OL Coach Robbie Caldwell prefers to put his best athlete at C and Dalton Freeman earned 1st Tm ACC. One ret st'r, David Smith did lose his job after an inj (4 st). TY they lose a comb 3,363 plays from LY's OL incl 3rd Tm ACC RT Landon Walker (PS#39, 14 st, 4Y st'r), LT Phillip Price (13 st), RG Antoine McClain (14 st, 3Y st'r), Mason Cloy (1 st) and Smith. They drop to 48 car sts but should match LY's underachieving numbers.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '10 Da'Quan Bowers exploded with 15.5 sks and 10.5 tfl as CU improved to allowing 128 ypg rush (3.5). LY they had to replace 1st Tm AA Bowers (#2DC) and 1st Tm ACC DT Jarvis Jenkins (#2DC, 315 lbs). They had 2 st'rs ret and as you would expect had weaker rush numbers (177 ypg, 4.4, 24 sk). DE Kourtnei Brown had an IR and FR td, the first time a DL scored twice since Walt Laraway (1954). This year they lose 2nd Tm AA Andre Branch (85 tkl, 10.5 sk, 17 qbh, #2DC JAX), 1st Tm ACC NG Brandon Thompson (13 st, 77 tkl, 8 tfl, 18 qbh, #3DC CIN), DT Rennie Moore (12 st, 58 tkl, 4 sk, 18 qbh) and DE Brown (25 tkl, 2 sk). A DE from CU has led the ACC in sks each of the L/2Y. Even with just 1 st'r back, CU could improve upon that 4.4 ypc.

LINEBACKERS - In '11 the Tigers had to replace Brandon Maye (8 st, inj, 43 tkl) but had 5 of the top 6 back. While the ret sts were just the #3, #15 and #18 tkl'rs, they added the best set of true frosh LB's in the country in PS#2 Tony Steward, PS#3 Stephone Anthony and PS#18 Lateek Townsend. Townsend had 16 tkls and Anthony st'd 3 (32 tkl). Steward was OFY after 5 gms and denied a RS. Their 3 st'rs were the #3, #5 and #12 tkl'rs. After allowing 70 pts in the bowl, the Tigers yielded 29.3 ppg on the yr. DC Brent Venables takes over and this unit should thrive under his tutelage. I look for much bigger years from the 3 true soph's and the unit only loses a bkp (5 tkl) and is one of the ACC's top LB corps.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - Heading into '10 CU had finished #14, #25, #22, #24, #21 and #15 in my PDR. In '10 they had to replace both CB's who st'd 40 consec gms together (4018 pl 3Y). DeAndre McDaniel (tied CU record w/8 int '09) turned down the NFL and they moved FS Marcus Gilchrist to CB. It was still surprising to see CU drop to #39. LY they had to replace 3 st'rs (#2, #6DC's) incl 1st Tm ACC SS McDaniel. CU dropped to #71 (58.3%, 26-14). TY they lose CB Coty Sensabaugh (14 st, 40 tkl, 14 pd, #4DC TEN) plus 3 bkps (22 tkl). They have 7 back who started LY and I look for significant improvement from the CU pass D.

SPECIAL TEAMS - CU has finished #32, #7, #104, #31, #75, #45, #14, #24 and #34 in my ST rankings the L9Y. LY they had to replace their top KR and PR but ret'd P Dawson Zimmerman (38.2 tm net) and K Chandler Catanzaro (PS#28) who only hit 14-22 (L48) as a rFr. Catanzaro opened with 3 FG of 45+ vs Troy (2nd ply'r CU hist, 1st Mark Buchholz '08). Spencer Benton had 12 TB on 54 KO but was inj'd vs VT and Zimmerman and Catanzaro comb for 1 TB on 37 KO. Catanzaro improved to 22-27 (L47) setting a CU record for K pts. Sammy Watkins was an explosive KR (25.0). TY they lose P Zimmerman (35.5 tm net) but should improve on LY's 6.9 PR avg.

COACHES - Tommy Bowden was HC for 10 yrs here. In '08 CU was the preseason ACC favorite and he was fired after a 3-3 start. Then WR cch Dabo Swinney surprisingly got the interim job, was named the permanent HC and led them to the Gator Bowl. Swinney is in his 10th yr here overall. LY he brought home CU's 1st Nat'l COY Awd s/'81 (Bobby Dodd). Chad Morris is in his 2nd ssn as OC. He was a successful TX HS coach (82% win) and was Tulsa's OC in '10 (41 ppg). They let go 3Y DC Kevin Steele and opened their pocketbook making Brent Venables one of the nation's highest paid DC's (DC Okla s/'99). No other BCS school has 2 coor's that comb to make more than the HC.

PHIL'S FORECAST

Tommy Bowden went through many ebbs and flows. They were in the Top 15 six times, but finished ranked just 4 times. In '09 CU was unranked in the preseason but my magazine was the only major publication to call for them to win the Atlantic (picked as low as 4th by others). CU got to their first ever ACC Title gm but lost to GT by 5. After beating UK in the Music City Bowl, they finished #24. In '10 they had to replace RB Spiller and WR Ford (their most dangerous weapons) and veteran senior QB Parker had a down yr. They did lead eventual Nat'l Champ Auburn 17-3 at half but lost in OT and were a very disappointing 6-7. LY CU had 14 ret sts and were coming off a rare losing season where they had 4 net close losses. Naturally, they made my Most Improved List and the Tigers nearly had a dream season. They were picked 4th or 5th by many but I had them 2nd in the Atlantic. After lackluster wins vs Troy and Wofford they knocked off defending Nat'l Champ Auburn 38-24, snapping AU's 17 gm win streak. They caught Fla St off their big gm vs #1 Okla and w/o their QB. CU won again and for the 2nd straight week the fans charged the field. It was a great situation for VT as it was the first road game for CU plus were off 2 emotional wins, but CU kept the streak going and set an ACC record with their 3rd str win over a ranked foe. They had a letdown spot vs BC but won by 22. They actually trailed MD 38-24 in the 3Q but rallied for a 56-45 win. After beating NC 59-38 (1st time CU hist w/ B2B gms of 56+ pts), their Nat'l Title hopes went out the window when they lost at GT w/o RB Ellington (2 fumbles by RB's). They got past WF 31-28 (trailed 28-14) with a walk-off 43 yd FG to clinch the div. In a letdown spot and w/o Watkins they were upset by NCSt, 37-13. SC had the situational edge (CU ACC Title on deck) and whipped them 34-13. Despite their earlier 20 pt win over VT, Clemson was a td underdog in the ACC Title gm but won their first ACC Title s/'91 with a dominating 38-10 win. A 99 yd FR td turned the momentum in the bowl and they ended up embarrassed by WV, 70-33 (their 4th loss in final 6). CU overcame a 14 pt deficit 3 times to earn a victory (just 9 times in 115 yrs prior). They racked up their 1st DD win ssn and 1st undefeated ssn at home s/'90. New OC Morris helped them improve from 335 ypg to 441 and TY, despite the loss of 3 OL's, he has Boyd, Ellington and Watkins back and should be explosive again. They have 14 ret sts but do have to play Fla St on the road and my 2 main sets of power ratings have CU 11-1 with their lone loss being that gm.

LY ended a 14 gm series losing streak ('50/'51 L/time CU won 2 str). Second of the Chick-fil-A doubleheader classic. Just the 7th time CU opens a season away from home S/'74 (1-5, only win '85).

CU is 2-0 vs Ball St. The L/meeting (also LTH) was in '02 (other gm in '92), the Tigers won 30-7 w/a 412-220 yd edge. Clemson is 23-2 in home openers since 1997 (8 str wins by 20 ppg).

CU has won 29 str by 24 ppg vs instate foe FU. Paladins went 6-5 LY incl a 54-32 loss at Florida. Into '12, the Tigers are 22-1 hosting non-BCS tms S/'00 (only loss vs #15 TCU in '09).

CU is 5-2 vs FSU. LTH Clemson led 10-3 at HT but needed a 68/9pl drive & a 29 yd fg to tie it at 13-13 w/:53. The Seminoles however went 34/7pl and got a 55 yd fg as time exp'd.

CU is 3-6-1 but 3-1 L4Y. LTH CU scored just 10, lowest in series S/'42. CU led 10-3 into the 2Q only gaining 193 yds after but only 1 of their L/8 poss ended in a punt (3 TO's, 2 missed fg, SOD & end of gm).

The home team is 6-1. LY Clemson trailed 24-3 at HT and down 14 early 4Q had a chance to cut the lead in half but tossed an int in the EZ. In fact CU had 4 TO's and missed a 40 yd fg.

LY CU led 10-3 at HT but limited VT to 136 yds in the 2H (VT punted on 5 of 7 poss). In the ACC Title, the gm was tied 10-10 at HT as CU again shutout VT in the 2H, limiting them to 151 yds (3 punts, 2 SOD & 2 int's).

CU is 14-4 vs WF incl 3 str wins by 19 ppg. LTH the Tigers led 23-0 as WF scored 10 pts & gained 55% (113) of their yds in the L/2 drives. Just second weekday gm under HC Swinney (lost 30-27 to GT in '09).

Clemson is 23-4 vs Duke but just 5-.4 the L/9 in Durham. LTH ('07) CU trailed 7-3 after 1Q but put the gm away in the 2nd & 3rd Q's outscoring Duke 37-0 w/a 14-3 FD and 305-39 yd edge.

Second greatest comeback in school history. LY CU trailed 35-17 but down just 45-42 w/7:35 left. Watkins got an 89 yd KR td to lead 49-45 & CU sealed it w/a 44 yd td run w/3:55.

CU last dropped 2 str in '02/'03. LY CU all'd 27 pts & 157 yds in the 2Q as they had 2 fum and all'd a big PR (17 pts).

Series has been uninterrupted since 1909. The last time CU dropped 4 str was from 1951-'54.

LY w/the ACC Title on deck CU only trailed 17-10 at HT but gained just 52 yds in the 2H (1.4 ypp).

NC STATE WOLFPACK

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In '08 true frosh Mike Glennon (PS#2), who is a Philip Rivers-type QB (6'6"), battled the more mobile rFr Russell Wilson (5'11"). Glennon had not grasped the offense enough and HC Tom O'Brien opted to RS him. The offense was dynamic with Wilson (11 st) finishing as the first ever frosh to earn 1st Tm ACC QB honors throwing for 1,955 (55%, 17-1). His 2 bkps comb to hit 47-115 (41%, 3-12!). In '09 Wilson set the NCAA record for most passes without an int (379). He threw for 3,027 (59%, 31-11, #3 rusher). They used Glennon in 7 gms (248, 62%, 1-2). There were questions about whether Wilson would leave for baseball (4th Rd DC) but he returned in August and finished '10 with 3,563 (58%, 28-14, 667 gross rush). He joined Johnny Evans as the only Wolfpack QB's with 1,000 career yards rushing. Glennon only played in 3 (9-13-78). LY O'Brien announced that even if Wilson ret'd, Glennon would be the st'r then released Wilson, who ended up at Wisc. Glennon and O'Brien were heavily scrutinized especially when the Wolfpack started slowly but they got the monkey off their backs by winning their last 2 games to get to a bowl. Glennon threw for 3,054 (62.5%, 31-12). RFr Tyler Brosius (PS#44) played in 6 (8-13-66). This year Glennon figures to be one of the top QB's in the entire country.

RUNNING BACKS - NCSt has not had a 1,000 yd rusher s/'02 (TA McLendon, 1101). In '10 the Wolfpack had to replace their top 2 RB's including Toney Baker whose 773 (4.8) was actually the top here s/'02. James Washington (76, 3.6 '09) and Curtis Underwood (who RS) were expected to be the top backs. O'Brien was unhappy with the RB production in Aug and moved in rFr DB Dean Haynes and named him the starter. Haynes had some fumble problems and finished with 320 (3.9). True frosh Mustafa Greene (PS#24) was #1 with 597 (4.5) and became the first Wolfpack player to score td's in his first 4 gms since QB Tol Avery in 1980. Washington was #4 (215, 3.0) and Underwood had 62 (4.1). LY Underwood was expected to transfer but when Greene was inj'd, O'Brien asked him back. Underwood played in 9 gms and was #3 (254, 5.0) last year. They added VHT rFr Tony Creecy (PS#21, fast, good hands) who was #2 (382, 3.7). After the top rusher had just 6 yds vs Cincy, Washington had 131 vs GT, 109 vs CM and 110 vs NC and led with 897 (4.0). This year they have the top rusher from both '10 and '11 back and also in the mix is Sr Brandon Barnes (6'0" 209, PS#16). I give them a shot at uncovering that 1,000 yd back.

RECEIVERS - LY NCSt had to replace their #3 career rec, Owen Spencer who led in rec for 3 straight yrs and their #2 WR (713, 13.7). The top returnees were TE George Bryan (369, 10.5) and TJ Graham (316, 12.6). Graham, known for dropped passes, improved and had B2B2B 100 yd games early (incl 176 vs Cincy). He then went on a 4 gm stretch with just 9 rec and had 3 drops vs FSU. He still led with 757 (16.5) while RB Washington was #2 in rec (42). Tobais Palmer (PS#80JC) was only #4 in rec but #2 in yds (496, 13.4). TY they lose three st'rs in 2nd Tm ACC TE Bryan (13 st, 331, 10.0), Graham (12 st, #3DC BUF) and Jay Smith (13 st, 391, 9.8) as well as Steven Howard (2 st, 121, 7.6). This unit is close to LY in terms of experience so don't expect too much of a drop despite the loss of 3 of their top 4 rec's.

OFFENSIVE LINE - O'Brien was a known molder of NFL caliber OL's at BC but it's been 13 seasons (1998) since NCSt avg 4.0 ypc! The numbers have been fairly similar in each of O'Brien's 5 yrs with the top marks being 123 ypg rush, 3.6 ypc and 26 sks all'd. LY they had to replace 2 st'rs as Andrew Wallace (12 st '10) was limited to 2 gms. Surprisingly NCSt had their 2nd lowest totals of the O'Brien era at 105 ypg (3.0, 34 sk, 7.3%). TY they only lose RT Mikel Overgaard (13 st) but should get more out of LSU transfer Cameron Fordham (PS#97, 2 gm, 27 snaps LY) and Wallace. This is O'Brien's most exp'd O-line and what he calls his best OL in his 6 years (112 car sts, #2 FBS).

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '10 NCSt had to replace all 4 st'rs (#7DC) but improved to allowing 114 ypg rush (3.4), their best s/'05 as the LB's were a strength. LY they had to replace 2 st'rs and 2 bkps. Injuries hit the unit hard as early on they were missing 3 key cogs in Jeff Rieskamp, JR Sweezy and Thomas Teal and vs GT their 2 deep featured 3 frosh, 2 soph and 1 walk-on. As the D-line got healthier, so did the team. NCSt slipped a little to allowing 3.7 ypc (131 ypg) with 38 sks. TY they lose their vocal leader Sweezy (7 st, 22 tkl, 2 sk, #7DC SEA), DT Markus Kuhn (12 st, 50 tkl, 4.5 sk, #7DC NYG) and Rieskamp (1 st, 3 tkl, inj). They have 3 back who had 8+ sts and add in Colo transfer Forrest West (1 st, 19 tkl, 5.5 sk '10) and a VHT PS#64JC (IFS). Provided they stay healthier, they should be a much improved D-line.

LINEBACKERS - In '09 Nate Irving (LB NCSt rec 4 int's '08) was in an auto accident and RS. The 1 ret st'r missed 3 and NCSt all'd 31.2 ppg, their most s/'96 (36.5). In '10 they had to replace their #3 tkl'r but had 5 of the top 6 back incl the #1 tkl'r, Audie Cole. Irving got better as the ssn went on and finished as the #1 tkl'r. The D all'd 21.3 ppg, their best s/'05. LY they had to replace Irving (#3DC) and 2 bkps but had their #2 and #4 tkl'rs back. Due to the inj's, they all'd 24.7 ppg. TY they lose 2nd Tm ACC Terrell Manning (11 st, 82 tkl, 5.5 sk, 8.5 tfl, #5DC GB), 2nd Tm ACC Cole (132 tkl, 6 sk, 8 tfl, #7DC MIN), Dwayne Maddox (6 st, 45 tkl, 6 tfl) and DJ Green (33 tkl, 5 tfl) who is susp for '12. O'Brien said the unit will get help in the fall as they ret just 57 snaps from LY. This unit can only remain healthier but is far less exp'd losing their #1, #4, #7 and #9 tkl'rs and are the ? of the D.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - NCSt had inexperienced and injury plagued secondaries and was #101 and #96 in my PDR in '09 and '10. LY the unit ret'd intact and I called for their best finish in my PDR s/'07 (#38). A key was the emergence of 6'3" CB David Amerson who set the ACC rec with 13 int's (NC Dre' Bly 11 '96, most in FBS s/'68) with many coming at critical times and the Wolfpack climbed all the way up to #26 (57.5%, 17-27). This year the unit returns intact again making it one of the top secondaries in the country.

SPECIAL TEAMS - O'Brien's BC units were #6 in '04 and #18 in '06 in my ST rankings. In his first year here ('07), NCSt finished #24 and in his 2nd they had to replace their outstanding K, top PR and KR and slipped to #54. The DB's were depth shy (key to ST's) in '09 (#76) and '10 (#96). LY they had to replace K Josh Czajkowski (46-57 FG, schl rec 119 PAT, 20 FG in '10 tie schl rec). They also had to replace their P. TJ Graham improved both his KR (19.5 to 22.4) and PR (8.1 to 11.5). I projected VHT true frosh Niklas Sade (PS#9) to win the K job and he did so hitting 11-16 (L45, 1 miss 51). I also proj'd a true frosh P to start in Wil Baumann (PS#26) but he struggled avg 37.5 (35.4 net). For the 1st time in O'Brien's career he had a true Fr starting at PK, P and LS. NCSt moved up a little to #70 and while they do lose their top RM Graham, those 2 true frosh now have exp and they could help NCSt improve upon LY's finish.

COACHES - While at BC, O'Brien had losing seasons his first two years ('97-'98), but then guided the team to 8 straight bowls (won last 6, left before '06 bowl). Last year the Wolfpack got to and won a 2nd straight bowl for the first time s/'02-'03 raising O'Brien's bowl record to 8-2 (80% NCAA's best!). Dana Bible has been O'Brien's OC s/'99. DC Mike Archer (6th yr) was the DC at Kentucky ('03-'06) and the LB coach for the Steelers ('96-'02). Archer was the HC at LSU from '87-'90. LB cch Jon Tenuta (16Y DC) took the Illinois DC job then changed his mind and is back for his 3rd season.

PHIL'S FORECAST

In '06, NCSt had 7 close losses and had they gotten some breaks, they could have finished as high as 10-2 but stumbled to 9 losses (most s/'59). NCSt was also -11 in TO's ('06) and I had high expectations for Tom O'Brien's first season here. They were -17 in TO's in the first 6 and opened 0-5 vs FBS tms but just missed a bowl at 5-7. In '08 they had just 9 st'rs back (fewest ACC) and lost 47% of their lett. They had just 76 schlp players and of the '06 recruiting class, just 7 remained. They opened up 2-6 in what looked like a rebuilding season but made it to a bowl. NCSt was -33.3 ypg in ACC play (2nd worst) but was +8 in TO's and finished in a 4-way tie for 3rd in the Atlantic (also tied for last). In '09 they had a soft schedule and I put them on my Most Improved Teams List. They opened 3-1 but finished 5-7 with losses by 3, 4 and 6, going -11 in TO's and having a def ypp of 11.6. In '10 the schedule got tougher (9 bowl tms) and they lost 41% of their lett. There were questions when I wrote the magazine as to whether Russell Wilson would return but he did and had a fantastic year. NCSt finished 9-4 and #25 after they whipped WV in the bowl 23-7. It was the first time they finished ranked s/'02 (Philip Rivers). In O'Brien's first 3 seasons he had 89 sts lost to injury but in '10 had just 7. I did not have a good pulse on NCSt in '09 or '10 but came close in '11 as I pegged them 3rd in the Atlantic (finished 4th) and I had them proj'd to play in the Belk Bowl. I did say that I did not foresee them topping the previous year's 9 win total. Injuries plagued them again. After an opening win over Liberty, they trailed WF 34-13 (lost by 7). After getting past S Ala they had a banged up D the next 2 wks and lost to Cincy by 30 and GT by 10. They were outgained by CM 253-223 at half but won by 14. They started to get def players back and beat UVA on the road, 28-14 (UVA off upset over GT). They were shutout by FSU 34-0 (dropped passes) but then there was smack talk between the coaches prior to the NC gm and a motivated NCSt tm got their first shutout of their rival s/'60 (O'Brien 5-0 vs NC). They lost to BC 14-10 but did have a 267-190 yd edge and were int'd in the EZ and SOD at the 27 with 1:10 left. They then upset #7 Clemson the wk after CU clinched the Atlantic Title and were +4 in TO's (CU w/o WR Watkins). They trailed MD 41-14 in the 3Q but rallied for a 56-41 win (biggest comeback schl hist) to become bowl eligible. They had a home crowd in the Belk Bowl and beat L'ville 31-24. TY they have 13 st'rs back (tied for most in O'Brien's 6 yrs) and they had 31 st lost LY to injury. LY's tm benefitted from +14 in TO's and a very beneficial off ypp (12.2, pg 309). One of my 9 sets of power ratings call for the Wolfpack to have 10 wins (the other 8 do not) but this could be O'Brien's best team yet and I'll call for them to make it to their 4th bowl in 5 years.

BOSTON COLLEGE EAGLES

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - Dominique Davis (4 st '08) was ruled ineligible unexpectedly and transferred to EC, leaving the '09 unit with zero career att's. They added in 25 yr old Dave Shinskie (PS#53, 6Y baseball). Mike Marscovetra (6'4" 208 Sr, PS#207) and Justin Tuggle (PS#39) split the duties early but Shinskie st'd the final 10 (2049, 52%, 15-14) while Marscovetra finished with 135 (59%, 2-1). In '10 Shinskie took most of the snaps in the first 3 but struggled vs VT and the Chase Rettig (PS#39) era began. Rettig, a true frosh, made his first start vs ND and st'd 9 but threw for just 1,238 (51%, 6-9). All 3 QB's pass eff ratings were close (105.5 to 109.7). LY all 3 ret'd and they added rFr Josh Bordner (PS#119) and true frosh Christian Suntrup (PS#37). There were high expectations coming into the yr but Rettig lost key weapons at RB, WR had a patchwork OL and then his OC left the program. When the offense struggled vs FSU Bordner came in as a mobile threat (1st play 35 yd). Bordner finished with 19 rush and 2 pass att but does have a strong arm. Rettig threw for 1,960 (53.6%, 12-9). Shinskie played in 2 (2 att). Everyone returns and I'll call for their best passing stats in 4 yrs with new OC Doug Martin who is regarded as one of the top QB mentors. Keep in mind this will be Rettig's 4th OC in 13 months.

RUNNING BACKS - In '08 BC had to replace its top 3 rushers. True frosh Montel Harris (PS#159) broke the team's frosh rushing record (776, Shelby Gamble, '79) with 900 (5.0). He set the BC soph rushing record in '09 while his 264 vs NCSt broke Phil Bennett's overall single game mark (253, 1972). Harris finished with 1,457 (4.7) and 14 td's. True frosh Rolandan Finch (PS#32) had 134 (4.8) despite missing 6 (RS '10). In '10 Harris, the best RB you've never heard of, rushed for 1,243 (4.6) despite missing the last 2.5 gms, set a school record for most 100 yd gms (21). Andre Williams had 108 vs Virg and set the school record with 42 rush att (185 yd) vs Syr. After '10, Harris needed 867 yds to become the ACC's top career rusher and big things were expected. LY Harris missed the first 3 gms after knee surg in Aug, then had 108 vs Wake setting BC's all-time rushing record but re-inj'd his knee on his rec breaking run and was OFY after playing in just 2. Williams missed 2 full games and parts of others (ankle) and rushed for 517 (4.2). Finch entered the MD gm with 266 yds in 6 gms but rushed for 243 on a snowy day and led with 705 (4.5). RFr Tahj Kimble was #3 with 156 (3.6). TY the unit expected to return intact but Harris was dismissed after spring.

RECEIVERS - In '10 BC had to replace their #1 and #4 rec then lost Colin Larmond (#2 '09) to inj in late Aug. TE Chris Pantale (#3 '09) was #2 in '10 with 338 (10.9). The inexp'd group was led by true frosh Bobby Swigert (504, 12.9). 6'6" Ifeanyi Momah also worked as a pass rush DE and was #4 (296, 15.6). True frosh Alex Amidon, who has breakaway ability, tied at #2 (338, 21.1). Momah got off to a great start LY with 8 catches for 171 yds in the opener but inj his knee and was OFY. Swigert led in rec's with 44 but was #2 in yds (470, 10.7). Larmond (PS#123) led with 528 (15.5), Pantale added 236 (11.2) and Amidon had 220 (11.0). TY they lose TE Lars Anderson (7 st) and Momah (6th yr denied) but I'll call for a large upgrade in production with improved QB numbers.

OFFENSIVE LINE - BC could be called "O-line U" as BC has had 13 NFL DC's over the last 16 years. Last year Nathan Richman inj'd his back (2 st) so basically they had 2 st'rs back. The OL battled inj's but put up similar numbers with 131 ypg rush (3.6, 24 sk, 7.4%). This year they lose C Mark Spinney (11 st, 2Y st'r) and LG Richman (2 st, 20 st '09-'10) but return 8 of their top 10. With 4 st'rs ret, I give them a shot at topping 4.0 ypc for the first time s/'03 (66 car sts).

DEFENSIVE LINE - The Eagles always have a strong rush D. In '08, led by the outstanding DT combo of BJ Raji and Ron Brace (both 325 lbs), they yielded 91 ypg (2.8). In '09 the pair were #1 and #2 DC's but they did have 3 back who had been full-time st'rs at DE. They were much smaller in the middle (no st'r over 295 lbs) and hit hard by inj (1 DL st'd all 13) but only slipped to 103 ypg (3.0) but their 18 sks were the fewest s/'98 (16). In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs and then lost DE Alex Albright after 7 sts. BC still improved to allowing an NCAA best 83 ypg rush (2.7). LY they had to replace Albright and 2 other st'rs. Kaleb Ramsey (302 lbs, 9 st '10) RS (inj) and the unit had 4 back who comb for 14 st in '10. As you would expect, the rush D numbers dropped to 151 ypg (4.3, 11 sk). TY they lose DE Max Holloway (12 st, 47 tkl, 2.5 sk) and DT Conor O'Neal (3 st, 17 tkl). Six of the top 8 ret (5 w/5+ car sts) including Ramsey and BC should be vastly improved up front.

LINEBACKERS - BC had perhaps the most underrated LB corps in the country in '10. The Eagles ret'd Luke Kuechly (#2 FBS in tkls as true) and also got back Mark Herzlich (missed '09). They added VHT true frosh Kevin Pierre-Louis (PS#25) who finished as the #2 tkl'r (13 st) and 1st Tm AA Kuechly led the NCAA in tkls (183). While they technically ret'd just 1 st'r the D allowed only 19.5 ppg. LY they had to replace Herzlich (13 st, #3 tkl'r) and 1 bkp. Kuechly had another monster year as the ACC DPOY, Nagurski and Butkus Winner and led the country with an amazing 191 tkl (12 tfl) with an IR td that helped beat Miami. Kuechly (12 st, 532 tkl in 3Y) left early for the NFL (#1DC CAR). Pierre-Louis was #2 again with 74 tkls and Steele Divitto (PS#45) was #3. With 4 of the top 6 back (also lose bkp Will Thompson, 9 tkl) and the 2-deep consisting of 4 VHT's and 2 HT's, this is still a solid unit but will be down a few notches with the loss of its star.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - In '07 BC had to replace 2 st'rs and surprisingly all'd 252 ypg passing (58%) which was the most in BC history but had a solid 21-25 ratio (#44 PDR). In '08 they only had 1 st'r ret but moved up to #29 (9-26). In '09 they lost 2 st'rs and slipped to #38 (62%, 12-15). In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs then lost both ret sts after 8 gms but still finished #26 (14-20). LY they had to replace 3 DB's (comb 20 st) and appeared in pretty good shape. Both projected starting S's were lost (11 comb st '10) prior to the season but surprisingly BC still finished #29 (63.1%, 8-13). TY they lose CB Donnie Fletcher (10 st, 35 tkl, 2 int, 5 pbu) and FS Hampton Hughes (10 st, 39 tkl, 2 int) but have 7 back who st'd LY. While they probably won't move up much in my PDR, this unit is more experienced.

SPECIAL TEAMS - BC finished #6, #97, #18, #67, #110 and #42 in my ST ratings from '04-'09. In '10 their return gm was horrific (KR #118, PR #104) and BC dropped to #92. LY P Ryan Quigley saw his avg drop from a 41.5 to 38.5 (net 37.8 to 36.9). Nate Freese hit 10-16 FG (L/52) LY but had a GW 23 yd'r bounce off the upright vs Duke and in the last 7 gms only had 4 FG att's missing 3. Quigley had 7 TB on 47 KO. As expected, the return game improved and BC finished #71. TY they lose their P but while not overwhelming as a unit, they could improve again.

COACHES - Twice in the last 6 yrs this position has left me scratching my head. Former HC Tom O'Brien, who had the most wins in BC history (75), made what I thought was a lateral move to NCSt in '07, despite the fact that he had perhaps his most talented team returning. Jeff Jagodzinski (OC '97-'98), took over. After 2 yrs he opted to interview for an NFL HC job knowing that BC would fire him if he did. The one constant for BC has been Frank Spaziani (16th yr at BC, 4th as HC) who was the DC and their interim HC for the bowl in '06 (won). BC spent most of '11 with an interim OC and now bring in Doug Martin who was the OC at NMSt LY and the previous 7 yrs he was the HC at Kent St ('04-'10). They also brought in Jim Bollman as OL cch/run gm coor from Ohio St (OC/OL cch L/11Y). The DC is Bill McGovern (16Y overall, 4th as DC) who was the LB coach under Spaziani from '00-'08.

PHIL'S FORECAST

Tom O'Brien opened with a pair of losing seasons in '97 and '98. He then got the Eagles to a bowl 8 str yrs and they finished ranked 4 times. Jeff Jagodzinski inherited a veteran squad incl QB Matt Ryan. They had a dream season in '07 entering the year unranked but finished 11-3 and #10. Despite having just 9 ret sts, they went 9-5 in '08. They did get to the ACC Title game a 2nd str yr but then had a streak of 8 consec bowl wins snapped by Vandy (finished unranked). Frank Spaziani inherited 13 ret sts in '09. They were picked last in the Atlantic div in the preseason ACC poll (I had them 3rd). They did lose their star LB Mark Herzlich for the season but still rolled to 8-4 before dropping their 2nd str bowl. Despite a 5-3 ACC record, BC was -62.5 ypg and had 3 net close wins, so signs were pointing downward for '10. BC opened 2-5 but Spaziani was confident they could turn it around and they won their final 5 by 6.8 ypg. Their D did hold 11 foes under their season avg by 87 ypg. LY they drew a tough schedule (VT and Miami out of Coastal) but it still was unexpected that BC, with 14 ret sts would have their streak of 12 consec bowls end with their first losing season s/'98. They opened with a tough loss to NW at home (2 miss FG), 24-17. They did only trail UCF 9-3 in the 4Q but lost by 27. BC had the game winning 23 yd FG bounce off the upright vs Duke to drop to 0-3. After beating UMass 45-17, they trailed WF 24-9 in the 3Q and lost by 8 at home. They caught Clemson in a clear letdown situation but were still outgained 500-258 and lost by 22. They actually led VT 7-6 at the half but lost by 16. In snow and rain on a sloppy field which benefitted their running style (372 rush) vs a pass happy MD, they led 21-3 at half and won 28-17. They trailed FSU 28-0 at half and lost 38-7 which was their 7th loss clinching the losing season. They led O'Brien's NCSt tm at the half 14-3, and despite -2 yds in the 2H, hung on for a 14-10 win. They only lost to ND 16-14 (outgained 417-256). At Miami they were outgained 204-183 at the half (trailed 14-10) but Kuechly got a 45 yd IR td and BC pulled the 24-17 upset on the road for a 4-8 finish which probably helped Spaziani keep his job. BC was -101.5 ypg in the ACC (league worst). They have 17 ret sts TY as they only had 9 Sr's on LY's squad and have a +3.5 in my Stock Market Indicator (pg 27). BC has a decent shot at the post season TY.

MARYLAND TERRAPINS

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In 2010 the Terps had to replace their #2 career passer in Chris Turner. Turner's '09 bkp, Jamarr Robinson began as the starter but Danny O'Brien who had 3 of his first 4 passes go for td's, started the last 10. O'Brien threw for 2,438 (57%, 22-8) with his 22 td's being the 2nd most in a single season here. LY O'Brien was the #2 ret passer in the ACC and had a great first game vs Miami hitting 31-44-348 yds but then struggled in the next 3 games only avg 188 ypg with a 3-4 ratio. After going 1-6 vs GT, mobile soph CJ Brown (PS#42) came in with a 77 yd td run then got the start vs Clemson (177 pass, 162 rush). He st'd vs FSU but took a hard hit and O'Brien came off the bench. O'Brien's season ended vs ND with a broken arm and Brown's bkps were Tony Logan and walk-on Troy Jones. Brown set a single season MD record for QB rush yards (574, 7.3) but completed just 49%. This year they lose O'Brien (trans) and Jones (no snaps LY). LY the 2 QB's comb to hit 53.6% (14-16) and will have better numbers in '12.

RUNNING BACKS - In '10 Davin Meggett led with 720 (5.7) with Da'Rel Scott adding 708 (5.8). RFr DJ Adams (PS#71) was #3 with 239 (3.6). Last year they had to replace Scott. Meggett led again, this time with 896 (5.2). True frosh Justus Pickett (PS#90) finished #3 with 274 (3.7). Adams was suspended for the opener then was in the doghouse most of the year and finished #4 (174, 4.3). This year they lose their top guy in Meggett while Adams transferred making this unit a lot less experienced. They do add two VHT true frosh in PS#20 Wes Brown and PS#39 Albert Reid.

RECEIVERS - LY the Terps had to replace their top 2 rec's including Torrey Smith (#2DC) who had 1,055 (15.7). They lost a couple of projected contributors prior to the yr and dropped passes were a concern all season. Kevin Dorsey (PS#24) led with 573 (12.7) while Quintin McCree (188, 11.8 in '10) was #2 with 485 (12.1) and Kerry Boykins (PS#42, 124, 12.4 in '10) was #3 with 430 (11.6). Much was expected of rFr Adrian Coxson (PS#15) but he was inj'd in Aug and only played in 9 gms (4 rec). TY they lose McCree (10 st), Ronnie Tyler (5 st, 158, 8.8), Tony Logan (3 st, 9 rec) and Coxson (trans). They have 3 of the top 4 back and surprisingly signed PS#2 true frosh Stefon Diggs.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '09 Maryland had an inexp'd (27 car st) and injury plagued O-line and avg 106 ypg rush (3.1, 36 sk), their worst s/'97. In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs (3Y st'r C, #4DC LT) and while they had just 39 career sts, Friedgen called the group "vastly improved" in the spg. The 3 ret st'rs managed to start all 13 (138 ypg, 4.1, 22 sk). LY they had to replace a 2Y st'r then RG Justin Lewis (12 st '10) was dismissed in July so they had 3 st'rs back (60 car sts). They then lost LG Andrew Gonnella to a gruesome knee inj vs GT. Edsall emphasizes strong rush offense and they improved to 169 ypg rush (4.8, 17 sk). Of course, having a mobile QB like CJ Brown (574 rush) helped. This year they lose Gonnella (5 st, 2.5Y st'r) while RT RJ Dill (12 st, 3Y st'r) and LT Max Garcia (12 st) both transferred. They have 3 back who had 6+ sts last year (46 car sts), are in the 2nd year of Edsall's system and could improve.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '09 MD had to replace 6 DL (comb 42 st, 12 sk) and had just 7 st'rs back but all'd a respectable 151 ypg (3.9) with 27 sks. In '10 I pointed out that normally when a team loses 3 st'rs, they are weaker but the Terps 12 returning car sts were 5 more than '09. Maryland did indeed improve to allowing 124 ypg (3.4), their best s/'01. Soph Joe Vellano earned ACC DL POW in his first car st and finished with 63 tkls (5 sk). LY they had to replace 1 st'r but lost DE Justin Anderson (surg) in Aug so they had 1 st'r back. Keith Bowers (11 st) became the first true frosh DL to start here s/'05 and was a Frosh AA as was rFr Andre Monroe who started 4. Even with a more veteran DL, injuries hurt the Terps and the rush D plummeted to 220 rush ypg allowed (4.7, 26 sk). DE David Mackall (7 st, 30 tkl, 3 sk) left the team in Nov and TY they lose DT Maurice Hampton (4 st, 21 tkl, 2.5 tfl), DT Cody Blue (5 tkl) and DE Alvin Thomas (3 tkl). With Anderson's return they have 6 back w/st exp including 2nd Tm AA Vellano and should have one of the most improved rush D's in the country.

LINEBACKERS - Friedgen produced a star LB in each of his 10 yrs. EJ Henderson won the Butkus and Bednarik Awards and was ACC DPOY in '03. D'Qwell Jackson was 1st Tm ACC in '04 and 1st Tm AA in '05 (ACC DPOY). Erin Henderson was 2nd Tm ACC in '06 and 1st Tm in '07. Alex Wujciak was 2nd Tm ACC in '08 taking over the fabled MLB spot and earned 1st Tm ACC in both '09 and '10. Part of the reason MD made my Most Improved List in '10 was that I was very high on their LB corps (ret #1, #2 and #5 tkl'rs). The Terps improved to 22.2 ppg. LY they had to replace Wujciak and their SLB (#4 tkl'r). They ret'd their #3 and #10 tkl'rs and moved 1st Tm ACC FS Kenny Tate (#2 tkl'r) to STAR LB. Unfortunately the unit was also hit hard by inj's with Tate being lost after 4 sts (MedRS), Darin Drakeford missed 4 and Demetrius Hartsfield missed 3. Against Clem they started 3 Fr at LB in Alex Twine, LA Goree and Mario Rowson. The Terps slipped to allowing 34.3 ppg. TY the unit only loses Rowson (4 st, 27 tkl, trans) and figures to be one of the most improved LB corps in the country.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - The Terps had to replace 2 st'rs (#3DC) in '09 then lost their starting CB to a broken leg in Wk 2. They took the RS off true frosh Eric Franklin in Wk 8. The unit dropped to #98 in my PDR. In '10 they had to replace 3 st'rs but plugged in a couple of VHT's in USC trans Antwine Perez (PS#3) and Kenny Tate (PS#15). Despite having just 1 st'r back, the Terps improved to #18 (54%, 17-19). LY MD lost both VHT's as Tate moved to LB. I said that even with 6 of their top 8 back, they would probably drop in my PDR. The Terps lost SS Matt Robinson after 3 sts (#1 tkl'r at time). MD fell all the way down to #94 (65.7%, 18-11). TY the Terps lose CB Cameron Chism (9 st, 47 tkl, 3 int, 4 pbu), FS Titus Till (6 st, 47 tkl), CB Trenton Hughes (3 st, 27 tkl), S Austin Walker (6 tkl) and Avery Graham (5 tkl). With Robinson's return they have 4 who have starting experience and figure to climb in my PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - The Terps had some fine showings in my ST rankings finishing #9, #28, #44, #42, #40, #58, #44, #45 and #13 in Friedgen's final 9 yrs. Edsall's ST units were #28 and #17 his final 2 yrs with Conn. LY MD had to replace their K/P and top KR. The Terps had owned the longest NCAA streak without allowing a punt block (139 gms, 1999) but that ended vs Temple and not much went right for the team or the unit (#107) in '11. Nick Ferrara hit 12-20 FG (long 42) and without a P, emerged in Aug and also handled punts and MD had an outstanding 37.0 net (Michael Tart 3 punts). The Terps were -0.9 on PR and -6.0 on KR. TY almost all of the key players return so they figure to improve and should move up in my ST rankings.

COACHES - Ralph Friedgen took over a team that had 5 straight losing seasons and led them to a 31-8 record in his first 3 yrs. He was the 2001 Nat'l COY in his 1st season when the Terps captured the ACC Title. MD had 3 losing ssns the next 5 yrs then won just 2 gms in '09. They rebounded in '10 but despite 9 wins and being named 2010 ACC COY, he was relieved of his duties. Prior to the announcement, HC-in-waiting James Franklin left for Vandy. The Terps brought in '10 BE COY Randy Edsall who spent 12 yr as Conn's HC. Edsall's new OC is the embattled Mike Locksley who was the NM HC from '09 thru gm 4 of '11. Previously he was the Illinois OC ('05-'08) and boasts a great reputation as a recruiter (rec coor here '98-'02). The new DC is Brian Stewart who spent 7 yrs as an NFL asst before taking over as the Houston Texans DC in '10-'11.

PHIL'S FORECAST

Ralph Friedgen began his time here with a bang. In his first year he not only delivered the Terps' first winning ssn s/'95, but they got their first ACC Title s/'85. In his first 3 seasons MD finished ranked #11, #13 and #17. He had losing seasons in 4 of the next 6 yrs but made my Most Improved List twice in that span finishing 9-4 in '06 and 8-5 in '08. In '09 I picked them last in the Atlantic. They knocked off eventual Atlantic Champ Clemson, 24-21, but finished 2-10 and were -91.3 ypg (2nd worst ACC). In '10 for the 3rd time in 5 yrs, MD was back on my Most Improved List. The Terps did not disappoint finishing with 9 wins and after their 51-20 bowl route of EC in the Fridge's emotional send off, they finished at #23. LY the Terps were picked as high as 2nd in some of the preseason magazines but I had them 5th in Randy Edsall's first season. Maryland had benefitted from +15 in TO's in '10, had 3 net close wins and their off ypp of 10.9 was the 2nd best in the FBS. Despite their 5-3 ACC record, they were only +13.1 ypg (7th best). Edsall not only had to learn the players' strengths and weaknesses but players also had to learn new systems, and he brought in a disciplinary style which didn't mix well and by early Dec, 20 players with eligibility remaining had left. Things looked great in their opening game as they took on a susp riddled Miami and beat them on a national Monday night game on ESPN. They trailed WV 34-10 in the 3Q but did only lose by 6. They were stunningly trounced by Temple 38-7 at home (outrushed 285-45). They beat FCS Towson despite being outgained 378-335. MD started 4 frosh on def when they took on GT (and played 5 in the 2H) but got a couple of key plays including QB Brown's 77 yd td run and GT missing 5 td passes by inches and they only lost by 5. The Terps surprisingly led a 6-0, vs #8 ranked Clemson 35-17 in the 3Q but lost by 11 at home. They trailed FSU 41-10 but got a td with :05 left. They played in snow and sloppy conditions, which benefitted the more run oriented BC and lost by 11. Maryland only trailed Virginia 14-13 at half but were outgained 527-353 and lost by 18. They lost by 24 to ND and vs WF it was 7-7 at half but they lost by 21. In the finale they led NCSt 41-14 with 10:50 left in the 3Q but blew their 2nd big lead of the season losing 56-41. MD dropped to 2-10 (-69.4 ypg ACC). TY all the key indicators are pointed upwards. They had a poor off ypp (16.4), have a +3.5 in my Stock Market Indicator (pg 27), have 15 st'rs back and are in the 2nd year of Edsall's system. The Terps are one of the most improved teams in the NCAA and will at least double LY's 2 win total but did they make my Most Improved List? (see pg 19).

WAKE FOREST DEMON DEACONS

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - Jim Grobe likes QB's who can run the option. Riley Skinner took over the job in '06 and Grobe changed to a short passing offense to take advantage of Skinner who was a high % QB. Skinner became the 2nd QB in ACC history to pass for more than 2,000 in 4 consec yrs and in '09 became the first WF QB to top 3,000 (3160, 66%, 26-12). He finished #4 all-time in the ACC in yds and #2 in accuracy (66.9% missed #1 by .0005). In '10 there was a 4-way battle and in the opener, all 4 played. Tanner Price (PS#136) had frosh records of 37-53-326 yds vs Navy but due to QB inj's, Grobe used the option less as he was down to the 4th string QB at times. Price started 9 (1,349, 57%, 7-8, 120 rush) and Ted Stachitas (PS#52) had 3 sts (131, 52%, 0-1, 171 rush) while Brendan Cross (6'2" 200 Jr, PS#88) played in 4 (7 att). In LY's opener Price staked WF to a 15 pt lead over Syr but was inj'd with 12:00 left in the 4Q and they lost in OT. Price, an accurate southpaw with poise and good mobility, threw for 3,017 (60.0%, 20-6, 208 gross rush). Stachitas played in 6 (18-26-152-0-1) but now departs. As long as Price remains healthy, he figures to be one of the ACC's top QB's.

RUNNING BACKS - In '10 rFr Joshua Harris caught the attention of many incl MD HC Ralph Friedgen who described him as "having great acceleration and speed" after his 241 yds vs VT's prolific D and he led with 720 (5.7). In '11 he battled a hamstring inj much of the year and after the ND game Grobe put him on the shelf. He missed 4 full gms and parts of others, finishing with just 432 (4.3). They were forced to take the RS off of true frosh Orville Reynolds (PS#108) who in the last 5, was #3 with 109 (3.9). Brandon Pendergrass (PS#115, 5 car st) led with 823 (4.4) incl 134 vs Clem and 125 vs MD becoming the 1st RB with B2B 100 yd gms s/'07. TY they lose Pendergrass but hope to have Harris and Reynolds around the entire season. I will call for improved production from the WF RB's, despite the loss of LY's #1 guy.

RECEIVERS - In '09 WF had to replace DJ Boldin (#1 ACC in rec's '08) and their #3 rec. Grobe said the team lacked a game breaker at WR and felt two rFr, Devon Brown and Chris Givens provided that. Brown was #2 with 671 (11.0, 150 rush). Givens (10.44 in 100M) was #3 (629, 14.0, 98 rush). Marshall Williams (390 in '08) led with 867 (14.4). In '10 Givens, despite just 8 sts (susp opener), led with 514 (14.7) while Brown dropped to 302 (7.7). LY they had to replace both Brown and Williams but they had 6 HT frosh and soph's in the lineup. Givens had a fantastic year finishing #1 in the ACC with 1,330 (16.0, 9 td) while converted RB Michael Campanaro (PS#43) was #2 (833, 11.4). TY they are down a few notches as they lose #3 Danny Dembry (9 st, 423, 11.8), TE Andrew Parker (2 st, 6 rec), TE Cameron Ford (10 st, 12 rec) and Givens (#4DC STL) who became just the 2nd WF player ever to leave early for the NFL.

OFFENSIVE LINE - With Skinner at QB from '07-'09, WF operated in more of a traditional pro-style offense. They rushed for a Grobe era low 143 ypg (3.4) in '07 and dipped to 121 (3.1) and 132 (3.7) in '08 & '09. In '10 they had to replace two 3Y st'rs (#5DC) and a 4Y st'r. Despite just 2 ret sts, they ran more option and the rush totals improved to 159 ypg (4.1, 26 sk). Never in Grobe's 10 seasons as a HC did he feel they were so overmatched up front as they were in '10. LY they had to replace one 3Y st'r but Grobe felt they had 9 OL's that could play. The unit had 4 Sr st'rs and 3 of them st'd all 13 (other 10). Using less option again, the numbers slipped to 115 ypg (3.2, 35 sk). LY's OL was the biggest in WF history avg 6'5" 314 ('98 313.6). Gone TY are 1st Tm ACC LG Joe Looney (13 st, 3.5Y st'r, #4DC SF), RG Michael Hoag (13 st, 2Y st'r), RT Doug Weaver (13 st, 2Y st'r), LT Dennis Godfrey (10 st, 2Y st'r) and possibly LT Steven Chase (3 st, NOR spg). The unit goes from 68 car sts to 16 (w/o Chase) but Grobe feels he has 3 solid OL's and they bring over a pair of DL in Frank Souza (PS#163) and Ramon Booi (6'6" 300, PS#105).

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '09 WF was small and inexp'd at DE as LB Gelo Orange (then 225 lbs) started 5. WF allowed 164 ypg rush and a Grobe era high 4.6 ypc (only 24 sk). In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs and this time the inexp was at DT (21 car tkl). Grobe was very excited about undersized (5'11") rFr Nikita Whitlock who was overlooked by many despite being named Texas DPOY (5A). He did not disappoint (2nd Tm Fr AA) with 10.5 tfl in the middle and "by the end of the year he was nearly unblockable." DE Kyle Wilber led with 14.5 tfl. They shifted to a 3-4 at mid-season but the rush D still slipped to 193 ypg (4.7, 22 sk). Wilber started the last 4 at OLB and stayed there in '11. LY they looked to have 2 st'rs back (7 w/st exp) but Kevin Smith (5 st) was lost over the summer. Whitlock once again drew the coaches praises weekly and WF trimmed their rush D to 170 ypg (4.6) but had just 11 sks. TY they lose DE Tristan Dorty (11 st, 38 tkl, 1.5 tfl) and DE Orange (1 st, 19 tkl). They return 2 st'rs including their star and are stronger in '12.

LINEBACKERS - From '06-'08 WF had an outstanding LB combo of Aaron Curry and Stanley Arnoux. It's not surprising that in those years WF allowed just 15.4, 22.2 and 18.3 ppg. In '09 they had to replace both (#4DC's) plus their #5 tkl'r. They dropped to 26.3 and 35.8 ppg (worst of any BCS tm) in '10. LY they had to replace their #1 and #4 tkl'rs. They did return their #3, #7, #9, #10 and #15 tkl'rs and I called for improvement and they allowed over a td less (27.4 ppg). TY they lose 2nd Tm ACC LB Kyle Wilber (13 st, 70 tkl, 3.5 sk, 8 tfl, #4DC DAL) but have 5 of the top 6 back. Scott Betros may be the most physical of the LB's while Justin Jackson and Mike Olson are some of the fastest LB's that WF has fielded. They return 2 who tied at #5 plus their #8, #9 and #10 tkl'rs and should continue to improve, despite the loss of Wilber.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - Led by outstanding CB Alphonso Smith, WF had finishes of #41, #21 and #36 in my PDR from '06-'08. They had to replace 3 st'rs in '09 (#2 and #4DC's) and slid to #56. In '10 they only had to replace 1 st'r (#3DC). Surprisingly the more exp'd unit plummeted to #108. LY they had 3 st'rs back. RFr Merrill "Bud" Noel looked like the 2nd coming of Alphonso Smith, only a little faster and more physical and he had a schl record 19 pbu (AJ Greene '87) while tying for #1 in the FBS with 21 pd. WF improved to #47 (57.2%, 22-13). TY they lose 3rd Tm AA FS Josh Bush (13 st, 59 tkl, 6 int, 5 pbu, #6DC NYJ) and SS Cyhl Quarles (13 st, #1 tkl'r). While they lose 2 solid st'rs, WF looks just as strong with Noel's return.

SPECIAL TEAMS - WF was led by outstanding K Sam Swank for 4 yrs. They finished #16 in my ST rankings in '05, #7 in '06, #52 in '07 and in '08 Swank missed 6 gms and they finished #34 (thanks to 4 blk'd punts). Since Swank left, the unit has struggled with finishes of #82, #102 and #76. LY they had to replace their P and top PR. Michael Campanaro avg 24.2 on KR in '10 but was used sparingly and the team avg just 19.6 on KR and 6.7 on PR. Jimmy Newman hit 12-13 FG (L48) in '10 and 17-22 (L46) LY. P Alex Wulfeck held off Australian rFr Alex Kinal and avg 39.7 (36.1 net). TY all of the key players are back and I'll call for their best finish s/'08.

COACHES - Wake is a coaching challenge being the smallest BCS school. This spring HC Jim Grobe said, "We keep waiting to have more depth, and at Wake Forest we're just not going to have it," and even admitted to being 1 deep at certain positions. TY he held an actual spg gm for the first time since his arrival. Grobe led the Deacons to B2B winning seasons in his first 2 yrs and then led the team to their first ACC Title s/'70 (2nd ever) in his 5th year and was AP COY. The school has gone to 10 bowls in their history incl 5 under Grobe. OC Steed Lobotzke enters his 10th year as OC (12th overall). Brian Knorr (5th yr) was named co-DC LY along with the now departed Tim Billings and is now the lone DC again.

ALSO ON ROSTER: QB Matt Grasmeyer 6'2" 185 rFr; QB Pat Long 6'3" 185 rFr; QB Keenon Rush 6'0" 190 So; RB Khiry Sutton 5'8" 180 So; FB Jordan Garside 5'10" 235 So

PHIL'S FORECAST

Over the last 59 yrs of ACC play, WF has had 8 winless years and just 9 winning ACC records. Jim Grobe had veteran teams in each of his first 2 yrs and went 6-5 and 7-6 but then suffered through 3 str losing seasons. In '06, WF was picked last in the ACC pressn poll but won their first ACC Title s/'70 (1st time ACC hist 6 road wins) after not being over .500 in ACC play s/'88. They accomplished all of that despite losing their starting QB in wk 1 and starting RB in Wk 3! In '07 they went 9-4 incl a bowl win. That '07 squad had 4,425 yds on offense and allowed 4,425 on defense. In '08 Grobe had 14 ret sts and WF was ranked in the preseason for the first time in schl history (#23). WF needed a win in the season finale vs Vandy to wrap up a bowl then knocked off Navy to finish 8-5. They benefitted from +17 in TO's and had to replace #1, #2, #4 and #4 NFL DC's on defense. With a much less exp'd D in '09, they allowed 86 ypg and 8 ppg more. Despite opening 4-2, they fell to 5-7. In '10 they had to replace their career leading passer and suffered through a myriad of QB inj's. The result was Grobe's worst season here (3-9) and WF was -165.8 ypg in the ACC which was 71.2 ypg worse than #11. LY WF had 16 ret sts, their most s/'06. WF led Syr 29-14 in the 4Q but QB Price was inj'd and Syr got 2 late td's and won in OT. WF led NCSt 34-13 and this time held on for a 34-27 win then waxed GW 48-5. At BC they led 24-9 and held on (27-19) and then faced Fla St who started a bkp QB and WF won 35-30. The wk after that big win, they led 10-0 mid 2Q but didn't have enough left in the tank and got rolled by VT, 38-17. They got their 12th str win over Duke but it wasn't easy (24-23). They were outgained by NC 562-331 and lost by 25. Down 7, WF drove inside the ND10 twice but fumbled and missed a FG and lost 24-17. If they would have beaten Clemson they would have had an inside track to the ACC Title game and they led 28-14 in the 3Q but CU got a 43 yd FG on the last play to pull out a 31-28 win. WF rolled over MD 31-10 but having clinched a bowl and taking on a Vandy team that needed a win to get to a bowl, they were mauled 41-7. They faced another SEC team in the bowl in Miss St and were outgained 382-287 and lost 23-17 for a 6-7 finish. TY there are a lot of key indicators pointing down as despite getting to a bowl they were -65.1 ypg in the ACC (4th worst), benefitted from +9 in TO's and TY are much less exp'd with just 11 ret sts. I do expect Wake to miss out on a bowl TY but Grobe has been known to exceed my expectations.

In the only prior gm ('06), WF won 34-14. Under Grobe WF is 8-3 in home openers (all 3 losses vs BCS tms by a combined 10 pts). The Flames went 7-4 LY (6 str winning ssns) incl a 43-21 loss at NCSt.

The home team is 4-2. LY WF trailed 14-0 into the 2Q but cut the deficit to 21-17 mid-3Q. From that pt on WF was outgained 282-129 allowing 4 str td drives as they were int'd twice and SOD at the NC25.

Demon Deacons have won 4 of the L/6. LTH WF was shutout as they ran just 1 play in the redzone and just 15 in FSU territory. Wake Forest is 5-18 in road openers (3 str losses but 2 were in OT).

WF has won 5 str (L/loss in '89). The L/gm was in '07, WF won 21-10. Army did have a 256-213 yd edge but WF got a 55 yd PR td and an 84 yd IR td right before HT holding Army to 56 yds in 2H.

NORTH CAROLINA TAR HEELS

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In '07 NC ret'd both players who started in '06 but I projected that rFr TJ Yates would win the job and he became the 4th straight 1st year starting QB for NC. Yates started 12 in '07 but was lost after 6 sts in '08 (inj). In '09 he started all 13 (2136, 60%, 14-15). In '10 it was widely speculated that rFr Bryn Renner (PS#20) would beat out Yates. Yates held on and had a year far better than I expected, throwing for a schl rec 3,418 (67%, 19-9), becoming the 1st QB here to top 3,000 yds in a ssn. Renner played in 3 (2 att). Yates, who served as the Texans' starting QB LY, left (#5DC) as NC's career leader. I projected Renner to start and he is more mobile and brings a fiery enthusiasm to the huddle. He threw for 3,086 (68.3%, 26-13) breaking NC's single ssn td record (Chris Keldorf, 23 '96) but surprisingly had -88 net yds rushing. Added to the mix this year are PS#13 Marquise Williams, Caleb Pressley and 2 true frosh. It will be tough to improve much upon LY's stats but Renner is much more experienced and new HC Larry Fedora's SM offense should have another fine year.

RUNNING BACKS - NC used to be called "Running Back U." Their twenty-four 1,000 yd rushers were the most in the NCAA until USC passed them in '05. They had 12 straight 1,000 yd rushers from 1973-'84 but had just one over the next 17 yrs ('97 Jonathan Linton)! LY they had to replace their top 3 rushers. Ryan Houston (PS#21) was mostly a short ydg back and led in '09 with 713 (3.7) but RS in '10. He was used as a short ydg back again LY and finished #2 with 325 (3.8, 7 td). Giovani Bernard (PS#18) was impressive in Aug as a true frosh in '10 but suffered a torn ACL. In his first year back from inj he topped that 1,000 yd barrier with 1,253 (5.2, 13 td) and was also the #3 rec (362, 8.0). Converted QB AJ Blue was #3 with 138 (4.2). Not listed below are FB's Devon Ramsay (6'2" 250 Sr, PS#29, 1 st ACL LY), Matt Kolojejchick (5'10" 200 Sr) and Conner Gonet (6'0" 220 rFr). This year they lose Houston and FB Curtis Byrd (1 rush, 6 rec) but Bernard is another year removed from his injury and could put up even stronger numbers.

RECEIVERS - The Top 3 in '08 comb for 1,932 (16.9) and in '09 NC had to replace #1, #2, #3 and #5DC's. The inexp'd top 3 of '09 comb for just 1,483 (11.2). True frosh Erik Highsmith (PS#166) surprisingly beat out many VHT's and had 425 (11.5). In '10 their top WR, Greg Little (#2DC), was ineligible while their top TE was OFY after 6 sts (#1 rec at time). Dwight Jones led with 946 (15.3). LY Jones set a schl record for rec's with 85 (Hakeem Nicks 74 '07) and had the 2nd best season all-time in yds with 1,196 (14.1, Nicks 1222 '08). Highsmith was #2 with 726 (14.2) and behind him with dynamic ypc's were PS#8 Jheranie Boyd (20.9) and true frosh TE PS#20 Eric Ebron (20.7). TY they lose Jones, TE Nelson Hurst (13 st, 1 rec) and HB Christian Wilson (11 st, 10 rec). They do have 4 VHT's in the group and could come close to '11's numbers.

OFFENSIVE LINE - After avg 99 ypg rush (3.0) in Davis' 1st season of '07, NC improved their ypc each year with 123 (3.5) '08, 133 (3.6) in '09 and 126 (3.7) in '10. That '10 unit did allow 37 sks (most s/'07, 8.7%) despite having 4 st'rs back. True frosh James Hurst (PS#3) started 12 and was 1st Tm Fr AA. LY they had to replace 2 st'rs (3Y and 2Y st'rs) but had 8 of their top 10 back (60 car st). Nobody in the projected 2 deep was under 305 lbs as the starting 5 avg 6'5" 319 but still had mobility. NC only had 2 sts lost to injury all year (4 started all 13). They put up their best rushing numbers in both ypg (139) and ypc (4.1) s/'04 while trimming the sks to 27 (7.3%). TY they lose C Cam Holland (11 st, 3Y st'r) and bkp OT Carl Gaskins (10 gm). They again have 8 of the top 10 back but now have 93 car sts. NC returns their top guy in Hurst (2nd Tm ACC) and this should be one of the ACC's best O-lines.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '09 I said that NC had its best D-line s/'01 as the entire 2 deep ret'd (6 VHT). They also had great bulk inside with 4 DT's at 300+ lbs. That forecast was on the spot as the Heels all'd just 96 ypg rush (2.8, 33 sk). In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs (#4, #5 DC's). I still listed NC as the #1 D-line in the country as they had 2 of my preseason 1st Tm AA in DE Robert Quinn and DT Marvin Austin. By looking at the stats, you would think I was way off base as they all'd 126 ypg rush (3.7) which was a drop off from '09, but still better than any stats from '02 through '08. The reason being this was the area hit hardest by the NCAA as both Quinn and Austin DNP (0 st'rs back!). LY NC had to replace #1 and #2 DC's although neither played a single play and had all 4 st'rs back. The numbers improved but only to 124 ypg (3.6, 25 sk). TY they lose 2x 1st Tm ACC DE Quinton Coples (13 st, 55 tkl, 7.5 sk, #1DC NYJ), DT Tydreke Powell (13 st, 46 tkl, 1 sk), DE Donte Paige-Moss (29 tkl, 2 sk, left early NFL, undrafted) and DT Jordan Nix (19 tkl, 3 tfl). They will use a hybrid (DE/OLB) in their new 3-3-5 defense. While NC has 2 solid st'rs, they could put up similar numbers after underachieving LY but they don't appear to have as many NFL prospects.

LINEBACKERS - In '09 NC had to replace its Def MVP (#2 tkl'r) but had 2 st'rs back. "True" frosh Kevin Reddick started the final 5 at MLB. NC allowed just 17.1 ppg (best s/'97). In '10 they ret'd their top 4 LB tkl'rs (#1, #3, #8, #9) incl Quan Sturdivant (1st Tm ACC) and Bruce Carter (2nd Tm ACC). Due to the massive susp's to the DL and DB's, this unit held the D together. NC only slipped to allowing 23.2 ppg. LY they had to replace those two (#2, #6 DC's) but did return the top 2 tkl'rs in Reddick and Zach Brown. Brown earned 1st Tm ACC but NC allowed 24.8 ppg. Reddick fought off inj's LY (11 st, 12 gm) but still finished #2. TY they lose Brown (12 st, #1 tkl'r, 5.5 sk, 8 tfl, #2DC TEN) and Ebele Okakpu (5 st, 14 tkl, 3 tfl) who was dismissed after 5 sts. They return their #2, #11 and #18 tkl'rs. This unit is a little less exp'd after losing its top guy.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - In '09 NC had 7 of their top 8 back (lost 1st Tm ACC SS). CB Kendric Burney set an ACC record with 170 IR yds vs Miami then a schl rec 3rd career IR td. As expected, NC made big strides moving up to #17. In '10 all four 13 gm st'rs ret'd but all 4 were susp for at least the first 3 and NC dropped to #45. LY 3 of those 4 st'rs and a CB with 5 sts departed but they did return 4 who had 4+ sts in '10. SS Matt Merletti was lost after 8 sts. NC dropped even further to #67 (60.9%, 24-14). TY they lose CB Charles Brown (12 st, 53 tkl, 2 int, 7 pbu), SS Jonathan Smith (8 st, 45 tkl), FS Merletti (36 tkl, 2 int, 1 pbu) and SS Brian Gupton (8 tkl). New DC Dan Disch will run a 3-3-5 D using a 5th DB or RAM (S/LB) to emphasize speed. SS Gene Robinson (#7 tkl'r) will take on the new role. They have 3 back with 8+ car sts making them much more exp'd and I would expect a good-sized move up the PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - In '08 NC finished #22 in my ST rankings but dropped to #86 in '09. Then, losing 13 players to susp, dropped to #111 in '10. The school's all-time FG leader Connor Barth's little bro Casey hit 19-22 in '10 (L49). Casey came into LY hitting 50-62 car FG (NC rec 82 cons xp) but battled a groin inj and RS after playing in just 3. Thomas Moore (6-10 FG, L46) and Trase Jones comb for just 1 TB on 64 KO but they had an above avg KR D (19.5). True frosh PS#26 TJ Thorpe had a 100 yd KR td vs Clemson (avg 26.7 on yr) but the PR were below avg (74 yd on yr, 4.1). True frosh Tommy Hibbard only avg 39.2 on punts (tm net 35.9). NC moved up slightly to #74. With Barth back, NC should have their best ST finish in 4 yrs.

COACHES - Butch Davis took over a program which had achieved 8 wins just once in the previous 9 ssns and he led them to B2B2B 8-5 finishes. An NCAA investigation cost him his job in July '11 and DC Everett Withers was the interim. UNC got to a bowl (7-6) but bring in Larry Fedora who guided SM to a schl record 12 wins LY (4 str bowls). Fedora was also the OC at Okl St ('05-'07). The OC is Blake Anderson who spent 4 yrs at SM incl the last 2 as OC. The DC is Dan Disch who served in the same role at S Miss LY and previously at Illinois ('05-'10, co-DC 2Y).

PHIL'S FORECAST

In '07 Butch Davis took over a team that had not finished above .500 in 5 yrs. The '06 squad was 3-9 and he had just 9 st'rs back (fewest ACC). Davis did a tremendous job as NC had 6 close losses and could have easily finished better than their 4-8 record. In '08 they were my #2 MIT with 18 st'rs back and if not for a couple of key inj's could easily have been playing in the ACC Title game. They were -44 ttl ypg (-26.3 ypg in ACC). In '09 all 5 road games were vs '08 bowl tms and after they lost to Pitt in the bowl NC finished 8-5 again. In '10, 7 of my 9 sets of power ratings called for NC to have a DD win season and they figured to have perhaps the best defense in the NCAA as it was loaded with NFL talent. Unfortunately, after my magazine hit the newsstands, NC's D was wiped out by NCAA susp's. In the opener, they were w/o 13 players (8 proj st'rs). They finished with their 3rd straight 8-5 season. NC had an amazing 89 sts lost to inj's or susp, by far most in the NCAA. NC did benefit from 3 net close wins. LY I called for them to win at least 9 for the first time s/'97. Once again, after my magazine was on the newsstands, NC shockingly lost their HC (fired a week before Aug camp). Naturally given that information, I would have projected them lower with an interim HC. NC opened 5-1 before a home loss to Miami where they had a 429-311 yd edge (did trail 27-10). They lost by 21 at Clemson but rebounded to beat WF 49-24 in dominating fashion. Withers then made some inflammatory statements prior to NCSt which got the Wolfpack riled up and they were shutout in the series for the first time s/'60, 13-0. NC trailed VT 24-7 but got a td with 2:32 left to pull within 24-21 but did not recover the onside and lost by 3. In their FHG they beat Duke 37-21 but then were a no show for the bowl being outgained 513-353 with asst coaches all trying to find other jobs and Larry Fedora having already been named the HC. Fedora is in a good situation as NC returns 13 st'rs and LY was #5 in the ACC at +19.5 ypg despite a 3-5 record. NC is not eligible for the post season but has 4 winnable ACC road gms getting their toughest foes at home and 2 of my 9 sets of power ratings project a 12-0 season. I will call for the Tar Heels to have DD wins for the 1st time s/'97 provided there are no more bombshells in the offseason.

First meeting. The Phoenix went 5-6 LY incl a 45-14 loss at Vanderbilt. Larry Fedora was the HC at SMiss the L4Y & was 3-0 vs FCS teams (combined score 138-13). NC has won 7 str vs FCS opp by an avg 18 ppg.

LTH ('07) NC lost 37-10 but had a 313-269 yd edge. WF scored 27 pts on 55 yds of offense (NC allowed 98 & 83 yd KR's and 3 TO's incl a 77 yd IR td). NC is 2-7 in their 1st gm away from Chapel Hill.

Visitor is 1-3. LTH ('05) NC lost 69-14 (most points ever allowed) but was only outgained 452-332 (NC -4 TO's). The Tar Heels are 4-0 the L4Y in non-conf true away gms (avg score 27-14).

Tar Heels are 11-2-1 vs the Pirates. LY NC led 28-3 at HT w/a 326-202 yd edge. In the 2H NC turned to the ground gm as all 4 drives were 9+ plays and covered 50+ yds. Fedora was 2-2 vs EC while at SM.

First meeting and this is also the Tar Heels first meeting vs a WAC team. In '05 Utah was the last team from West of the Mississippi River to visit Chapel Hill.

NC is 1-7 vs VT. LY NC was up 7-0 but trailed 24-7 into the 4Q. Tar Heels went on B2B td drives but their onside kick w/2:29 left failed. NC did get the ball back but w/just :03 left (pass inc from own 27).

Visitor has lost 10 of the L/12 meetings. LTH the Tar Heels led 10-3 early 2Q but allowed 30 unanswered. Into '12, North Carolina is 9-19 on the ACC road incl 0-4 LY with a avg loss by 11 ppg.

NC has won 21 of the L/22 incl 8 str (played every yr S/'22). LTH NC led 24-10 w/5:00 left but was stuffed for a safety & Duke then got a td w/3:22. NC punted but Duke at their 24 w/:43, went just 17 yds.

NC has lost 5 str. LY the Tar Heels suffered their 1st shutout S/'06. NC only ran 13 of 58 pl (22%) in NCSt territory (deepest penetration to NCSt23). Into '12, NC is 4-0 the L5Y returning home after B2B AG's.

Bonus: Into 2012, the Tar Heels are 12-1 hosting non-conference opp's (only loss was in '07 vs #7 South Carolina, 11 straight wins).

LY NC trailed 20-7 but tied the gm 28-28 mid-4Q. After allowing a 61/4pl GW td w/5:20 left North Carolina's L/2 drives stalled at their own 30 & 39.

LTH NC's 34 pt MOV was its best vs UVA S/'59. ACC's longest running rivalry as they played every yr S/'19.

NC is 1-5 vs MD. L/gm was in '08, #17 NC lost 17-15. NC led 5-0 and 15-14 into the 4Q but allowed a 73/19pl (8:43 TOP) GW drive as MD nailed a 26 yd fg w/1:36 left (NC was int'd at the MD39 w/:49).

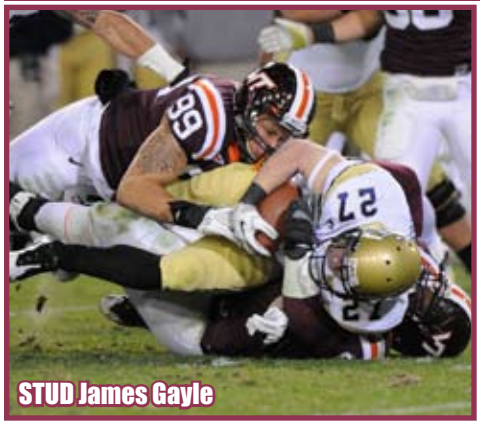
VIRGINIA TECH HOKIES



STUD James Gayle

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - LY VT had to replace ACC POY Tyrod Taylor who threw for 2,743 (60%, 24-5) and was the #2 rusher (659). He tied the schl record for 100 yd rush gms for a QB (Bob Schweickert 6, '62-'64). Logan Thomas (PS#3TE) played in 7 (12-26-107). Taylor departed (#6DC) as the career passing and total off leader. Thomas is 6'6" 262 lbs with a powerful arm and great mobility and after a slow start got better on a weekly basis. He threw for 3,013 (59.8%, 19-10, 469 rush). Thomas' 11 rush td's tied for the most by a QB in VT history (Bruce Arians '74). Against Miami, Thomas became the first VT QB s/'99 (Michael Vick) to have more td passes than inc passes (23-25, 3 td, VT comp rec'd under Beamer) and rushed 19 yds on 4&1 for the game winning td. He wore down GT, outweighing the LB's by 20+ lbs for a career-high 70 yds on 18 carries. Backing him up is Mark Leal (PS#83) who played in 3 (9-13). Future 1st rounder Thomas should be one of the top QB's in the country.

RUNNING BACKS - In '08 rFr Darren Evans (PS#16) set the ACC single season frosh rushing record with 1,265 (4.4). Evans tore his ACL in Aug '09 so the top returnee was soph Josh Oglesby (PS#75, 88, 2.3 in '08) and he battled rFr Ryan Williams (PS#11) and true frosh David Wilson (PS#8). In Wk 2 Wilson and Williams became the first VT duo ever to top 160 each in a game. Williams did have a costly fumble vs NC (4Q) but played with a vengeance after that and broke Evans' frosh record with 1,655 (5.6) and an ACC record 22 total td's. In '10 RB coach Billy Hite called it the strongest backfield he's had in 32 yrs at VT. Wilson finished #3 (619, 5.5), Williams played in just 10 (5 st, inj, 477, 4.3) and Evans led with 854 (5.7). LY both Evans and Williams departed and many wondered if Wilson could handle a feature back's load of carries. He did have 7 fmbl's (lost 4) in 231 carries after going the first 201 of his career w/o losing one but set the single season record with 1,709 (5.9) on 290 att's. Wilson left early and became the 9th Tech player to be drafted in the 1st round (32 overall NYG). Oglesby rushed for 371 (3.8) and Tony Gregory had 16 carries (1.7). This year they lose Oglesby and Wilson and even with the addition of 3 VHT's, I don't see another RB of Wilson's caliber waiting in the wings so I'll call them down a few notches.

RECEIVERS - In '08 VT's top returning WR had just 3 rec (lost 3 NFL DC's). VT did not have a WR with a td catch until Wk 11. True frosh Jarrett Boykin led with 441 (14.7) and also led in '09 (835, 20.9) and '10 (847, 16.0) while rFr Danny Coale was #2 in '08 (408, 11.3), '09 (614, 20.5) and '10 (732, 18.8). Dyrell Roberts was #3 in '09 (390, 17.7) and '10 (303, 14.4). LY they had to replace a starting TE but moved DL Chris Drager (PS#21) back to TE. Both Boykin and Coale topped Ricky Scales' 2,272 career yds and Ernest Wilford's ssn rec record (55, '03). Coale led with 904 (15.1) while Boykin was #2 with 761 (12.5). The 6'4" Marcus Davis was #3 with 510 (17.0). TY they lose Coale (14 st, #5DC DAL), Boykin (13 st) and Drager (12 st, 201, 13.4) but Roberts RS LY. While they may have a little extra added speed (rFr Demitri Knowles 4.28 40!), with the loss of their top 2 career rec's this unit is down a few notches.

OFFENSIVE LINE - Frank Beamer usually produces a top-notch O-line but surprisingly has had some recent struggles. In '06 they had their lowest rushing numbers s/'32 (107) with 113 ypg (3.2, 29 sk). In '07 VT improved to 134 ypg (3.3) but all'd a mind-boggling 54 sks (14.2%). In '08 they moved up to 174 ypg (3.8) but with the highest sk % in the FBS (14.5%). In '09 they had to replace 2 multi-yr st'rs and improved to 208 ypg (4.7, 31 sk, 12.4%). In '10 they had to replace two 2nd Tm ACC OL's and had similar numbers (199 ypg, 4.9, 34 sk, 9.9%). LY they had 9 of their top 10 back (98 car st). I called for them to have their lowest sk % s/'03 and that they did (17, 4.2%) although the rush numbers dropped to 187 (4.4) despite all 5 starting all 14 gms. TY the losses are heavier. Gone are 3rd Tm AA RT Blake DeChristopher (14 st, 4Y st'r), LT Andrew Lanier (14 st, 2Y st'r), HM ACC LG Greg Nosal (14 st, 2Y st'r) and 2nd Tm ACC RG Jaymes Brooks (14 st, 3Y st'r). The unit returns just 17 car sts (lose 151) and is my biggest ? on this 2012 squad.

DEFENSIVE LINE - VT always has an exceptional run defense but in '09 with a veteran D-line (5 of top 6 back), they allowed 128 ypg rush and 3.6 ypc (worst s/'03). In '10 they had to replace 3 st'rs (#2DC) and a bkp (5 st). With just 1 st'r back, they allowed 156 ypg (worst s/'92) and a remarkable 4.7 ypc (worst Beamer era, 4.6 '87). LY they again had just 1 st'r back in DT Antoine Hopkins (lost two 2nd Tm ACC DL). Over the summer, they lost 300 lb DT Kwamaine Battle and then Antoine (318 lbs) only started the 1st 5 (inj). That made them smaller & inexp'd in the middle. VT still managed to improve to 104 ypg (3.2, 41 sk). Corey Marshall (250 lbs) became the first true frosh to start here s/'02 but was then replaced by another true in Luther Maddy (288 lbs). James Gayle (2nd Tm ACC) may become the next great DE (4.4 spd, DE record 39.5" VL). This year the line returns mostly intact (lose 3 bkps) and should be one of the best D-lines in the country.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 VT had to replace their #1 & #6 tkl'rs. Barquell Rivers (#2 tkl'r) missed the year (inj) and Lyndell Gibson was the only ret LB who had over 17 tkls (53) in '09. VT allowed 20.6 ppg (worst s/'03). LY they had to replace their #4 tkl'r but had their #1 and #8 tkl'rs back and got the return of Rivers. It was an injury-plagued year as Jeron Gouveia-Winslow only st'd 5 and Bruce Taylor 8, as both went down with Lisfranc inj's (which often has a long recovery time) but they still only allowed 17.6 ppg. CB Kyle Fuller moved in and made 6 sts at the WHIP LB. TY they lose Rivers (2 st, 16 tkl) and Telvion Clark (6 tkl) but return 5 of the top 6 and as long as this unit stays healthier, they should be one of the ACC's best.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - VT always fields a solid unit with Top 15 finishes in my PDR in 7 of the L/8Y incl #6 LY. In '10 CB Jayron Hosley tied a schl rec w/9 int's (Ron Davidson '67). VT had an AA DB every yr from 1999-'08 and after not having one in '09, Hosley was named 1st Tm AA (Walter Camp). LY they had to replace a #4DC and a 2nd Tm ACC ROV (#2 tkl'r). After having 26 car sts in '10, they had 40 in '11 and all'd 49.9% (16-16 ratio). TY they lose 2nd Tm ACC CB Hosley (13 st, #5 tkl'r, 3 int, 12 pbu, #3DC NYG), 1st Tm ACC ROV Eddie Whitley (14 st, #2 tkl'r) and CB Cris Hill (5 st, 34 tkl). They have 32 sts ret from LY so this should be your typical top-notch VT secondary.

SPECIAL TEAMS - Beamer coaches this unit himself and VT almost always finishes near the top of my ST rankings (#1 in '07). In '08 they had to replace their K and top KR and it was shocking that VT finished #79 giving up 3 PR td's for the first time in 50+ yrs. In '09 I called for them to be one of the most improved ST units in the country and VT did not disappoint (#13). In '10 they had to replace both their K and P (#6DC, 37.6 net) but Beamer got them to #6. LY they had to replace their P and K (5th consec yr new K) but it surprised me that VT slid to #44. VT struggled to find a P. Scott Demler (best hang time) avg only 33.1 while Michael Branthover had a 75 yd'r vs Duke (VT's 2nd longest) but avg just 36.6 and WR Danny Coale had the best avg (43.5). Cody Journell hit 14-17 FG (L42). In the bowl the top 2 K were susp and Justin Myer hit 4-5 (but had a costly miss in OT). TY they lose Myer and KR Wilson (18.9) while Journell (susp) is ?. Naturally, after LY's unusually low finish, they should get back to a normal spot in my ST rankings.

COACHES - Frank Beamer now stands as the active leader in wins in the FBS. He was a DB at VT from '66-'68 and VT was in just 6 bowls prior to his arrival ('87). Beamer had 4 losing ssns in his F/6 but he's taken them to 19 consec bowls and has won the ACC Title 3 of the L5Y. OC Bryan Stinespring is in his 20th yr here (OC s/'02). Bud Foster has been DC s/'95. He won the Broyles Award in '06 (only 4x finalist in award's history). Foster's scoring def's have finished in the top nine 7 of the L8Y.

PHIL'S FORECAST

In 1999, the Hokies played in the National Title gm and went 22-2 in a two yr stretch. They are one of just 3 tms in the NCAA that have been to 19 str bowls (Fla, Fla St). VT made the move to the ACC in '04 and have been the dominant tm going 53-11 (reg ssn) and playing in 5 of the 7 ACC Title gms, with 4 ACC Titles ('04, '07, '08, '10). They are the only team in the country that has won 10+ gms in each of the last 8 yrs. VT opened '10 at 0-2 incl a loss to an FCS tm (JMU) but would win their next 11 including the ACC Title game before getting drilled by Stanford in the bowl, 40-12. LY I listed VT as my #1 Surprise Team in the country or a non-Top 10 team that could win the National Title. Had it not been for Clemson, VT may have had that opportunity. VT did have just 12 ret sts and coach Beamer said that he couldn't remember a year with as many season ending injuries. VT opened 4-0 vs overmatched foes then had the situational edge vs Clemson at home with the Tigers off B2B home upset wins over ranked tms. The Hokies trailed 10-3 at half and lost 23-3. VT led Miami 31-21 in the 4Q but needed a td with :56 left to win 38-35. They then got expected wins vs WF, BC and Duke and played GT on a Thurs coming off a bye. They had extra time to prepare for the option and won on the road 37-26. They led NC 24-7 and held on for a 24-21 win and then in the showdown to determine the ACC Coastal Title, they shutout rival UVA on the road, 38-0. Despite their earlier loss to Clemson, VT was a td fav in the ACC Champ gm but was waxed again by the Tigers, 38-10. They still landed a surprising BCS bowl (Sugar Bowl) where they dominated Mich with a 377-184 yd edge (22-12 FD) but somehow lost by 3 in OT matching their '10 record at 11-3. TY VT gets those inj'd def st'rs back plus their replacements so they are even more veteran than their 9 ret sts on the def shows. They only ret 3 sts on off but now have exp at QB in 6'6" Logan Thomas. VT was +81.9 ypg (best ACC). They benefitted from 3 net close wins and do have to play Clemson, NC and Miami all on the road. Despite the schedule and inexp on off, VT gets my call to return to the ACC Title gm.

VT is 4-1 vs GT incl 2 str wins. LY VT trailed 26-21 late 3Q but ended the gm scoring 16 unanswered as they limited GT to just 1 yd their final 3 drives. The Hokies are 15-1 in Blacksburg openers (lost to James Madison '10).

First meeting. The last time VT was coming off a Mon Night gm they ironically lost 21-16 vs FCS James Madison ('10). Governors went 3-8 LY incl losses at Cincinnati (72-10) and Memphis (27-6).

Old Big East rivals will be again conf foes next year. VT has dropped 3 str after opening 7-1. LTH ('03, also L/gm) VT lost 31-28. VT allowed the GW td w/:47 left. Hokies are 18-1 in true road openers.

Virginia Tech is 2-0 vs BG with the L/meeting in '93 (won 33-16, other gm in '90; 21-7). Into '12, the Hokies are 36-1 hosting non-conf foes. VT is 19-2 vs the MAC (losses to Miami '97 & Kent St '75).

VT is 5-1 S/'87. L/meeting was in the '08 Orange Bowl. VT trailed 7-0 after 1Q but limited UC to 178 yds the L3Q & won 20-7. UC tossed 4 int's (in EZ & at VT32, 1 & 45) and were SOD at the VT1.

VT has won 7 of 8 as ACC foes incl all 4 in Chapel Hill. LTH NC led 10-6 early 2Q and was driving but Tech got an int in the EZ which started a streak of 20 unanswered. NC had 6 TO's on their L/8 drives.

VT has won 11 str vs Duke by an avg of 21 ppg (3 shutouts, L/loss in '81). LY VT led 14-10 mid-3Q. The Hokies were shutout in the 2H but Duke missed a 29 yd fg, was SOD at VT18 & int'd near midfield.

VT is 5-2 S/'98 (both losses LY). LTH ('07) VT was outgained 380-219 as 29 of their 41 pts came on ST/def incl a 32 yd IR td, 82 yd PR td & 100 yd KR td (VT led 24-3 mid-2Q with just 46 yds of offense).

Bonus: While the HC at Murray St from 1981-'86, Beamer went 5-1 vs Austin Peay.
Bonus: The Hokies have won 8 str home finales by an avg score of 29-10.

Visitor is 1-4 L5Y. LTH gm was tied 17-17 into 4Q but UM tossed 3 int's in VT territory on their L/3 poss.

VT is 2-13 but won L/gm ('10's ACC Title), 44-33. VT led 7-3 1Q & never trailed from that pt (FSU td w/:07 left).

VT has won 4 str. LTH VT got their 2nd series shutout. Leading just 7-0 VT held BC out of the EZ just before HT.

Played for the Commonwealth Cup (VT will have had it for 2,920 days). VT has won 8 str which matches the longest streak in the 93 gm series (UVA won 8 str from 1895-1904). LY in the shutout UVA had 6 drives end in VT territory.

GEORGIA TECH YELLOW JACKETS

RB Orwin Smith

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - GT has not topped 50% comp for a season s/'03. In '10 GT launched a Heisman campaign for ret starter Joshua Nesbitt and while he became the career leading rusher among ACC QB's with 2,806 topping Woodrow Dantzler of Clemson (2761, '98-'01), he completed just 37% (674 yds, 7-4) that ssn. Nesbitt would have put more distance on his rushing record but broke his forearm and missed the final 4. Tevin Washington took over and threw for 417 (41%, 2-3) while rushing for 514 (4.4). LY Washington beat out Synjyn Days and started all 13. He got off to a hot start hitting 64.3% in the first 4 (#1 FBS pass eff) but over the final 8 hit just 38.7% finishing with 1,652 (49.3%, 11-8). Washington was the #1 rusher with 986 (4.1) incl a GT record 176 vs Clem (Nesbitt 151 '09). Days played in 6 hitting 8-12 passes and rushing for 237 (4.9). HC Paul Johnson contemplated playing true frosh Vad Lee (PS#36) but decided to RS him. TY they signed 2 QB's incl VHT Justin Thomas (PS#16) and also have Darryl Dickey (5'10" 203 So) who runs the scout tm. The unit is much more experienced and could finally top that elusive 50% barrier.

RUNNING BACKS - GT had 3 TB's that were very productive over a 5 year stretch. Oklahoma transfer Tashard Choice (PS#59) rushed for 1,473 (5.0) in '06 and 1,379 (5.3) in '07. True frosh Jonathan Dwyer (PS#5) was #2 in '07 (436, 5.3) and led with 1,395 (7.0) in '08 while being named ACC OPOY. Roddy Jones (PS#53) added 690 (8.5) that yr incl a GT rec 16.5 ypc (214 yd) vs UGA. In '09 they added Anthony Allen (PS#73) who rushed for 1,102 (4.6) in his 2 yrs at L'ville (9 st). Dwyer led with 1,395 (5.9) and Allen avg 9.7 ypc on his 64 att's (618). In '10 AB Orwin Smith (PS#102) had 516 (9.7) and Jones added 353 (6.8). Dwyer left early for the NFL (#6DC) while Allen stepped into the BB role and rushed for 1,316 (5.5). LY they had to replace Allen (#7DC) and the 2 BB's who took most of the snaps were soph David Sims (PS#42) and Preston Lyons. Those 2 comb for just 8 rushes of 20+ yds. Sims was the #1 RB rusher but with just 698 (5.2). The AB's are known for their perimeter blocking but Smith was #3 with 615 (10.1) and Jones added 458 (8.0). TY they lose Embry Peeples (2 st, 481, 10.2), Jones (13 st), Lyons (1 st) and Richard Watson (12 gm) but the top 2 are back making them more exp'd and productive.

RECEIVERS - GT has had a pipeline to the NFL at WR. In '03 Jonathan Smith set GT season records with 78 rec and 1,138 yds (#7DC '04). Calvin Johnson then broke J Smith's record with 1,202 (15.8) in '06 (#1DC '07). In '07, Demaryius Thomas was #2 with 558 (15.9) and then led in '08 with 627 (16.1) in the option offense. In '09 D Thomas set a school record avg 25.1 ypc on his 46 rec (1154 yd). True frosh Stephen Hill added 137 on 6 rec. In '10 D Thomas opted to leave early for the NFL (#1DC) and Hill (6'5" with blazing speed) was expected to have a big year but unfortunately dropped about as many passes as he caught early on and finished with just 291 (19.4!). LY they ret'd their top 2 rec's and dropped passes were the norm again for Hill. He still led with 820 (29.3) but could have easily been over 1,000 with double his td's (5). Tyler Melton, who had just 16 rec in 3 yrs, was #3 with 263 (15.5) while AB Orwin Smith was #2 with 306 (23.5). TY they lose Melton, Daniel McKayhan (3 car rec) and Hill left early for the NFL (#2DC NYJ). This unit returns zero career receptions!

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '07 Tech's OL ret'd 113 car sts. I called it the top OL of HC Chan Gailey's tenure and indeed it was. The OL paved the way for a Gailey-era high 199 ypg rush (4.7), their best totals s/'99 despite their QB rushing for -13 yds (22 sks). Naturally with the switch to the option the rush numbers have increased dramatically to 273 ypg (5.6) in '08 and 295 (5.2) in '09 (3 ret st's). In '10 they had to replace 3 st's but did return 1st Tm ACC C Sean Bedford and still improved to 323 ypg (5.6) with 16 sks (9.5%). LY they lost their 2x 1st Tm ACC C and 2 others (comb 18 sts). They still had 3 back with 8+ sts (38 car sts) and put up similar numbers (316, 5.7, 13 sk, 7.8%). TY the line, which featured 3 full-time soph st's, returns 1st Tm ACC RG Omoregie Uzzi and only loses Phil Smith (8 st, 2 yr st'r) who transferred. ACC defenses won't be pleased as this is the best O-line in Paul Johnson's tenure (83 car sts).

DEFENSIVE LINE - GT had just 1 st'r back on the D-line in '09 and allowed 152 ypg rush (4.9) with the D having just 25 sks (fewest s/'99). In '10 GT switched to a 3-4 but had to replace a 1st Tm AA (#1DC). Still, with 3 ret sts to 3 spots, I expected improvement but the unit yielded 170 ypg rush (4.5, 17 sks). LY they were in the 2nd year of the 3-4 and only had to replace a pair of bkps (comb 14 tkl). Surprisingly GT only improved slightly to 161 ypg rush (4.5, 22 sk). TY they lose DT Logan Walls (13 st, 39 tkl, 2 tfl) and DE Jason Peters (13 st, 41 tkl, 2 sk). While the numbers were not as good as expected LY, this unit goes from 3 ret sts down to 1.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 GT had to replace 1 st'r (#3 tkl'r) but ret'd their #1, #7 and #8 tkl'rs. Surprisingly GT slipped to allowing 25.2 ppg and 372 ypg on D, their weakest numbers s/'99 as they struggled in the switch to DC Groh's 3-4. LY they had to replace 2 st'rs (#2, #5 tkl'rs) and two bkps (comb 21 tkl). Paul Johnson felt Julian Burnett may just be the team's top player (#1 tkl'r) and he ret'd along with their #6 tkl'r Steven Sylvester. Jeremiah Attaochu was the Nagurski DPOW vs UNC and started 10 (#3 tkl'r, 6 sk, 5.5 tfl). GT all'd 26.1 ppg but 359 ypg. TY they lose Sylvester (10 st, #10 tkl'r, 5 tfl), BJ Machen (13 tkl), Morgan Carter (1 tkl) and Burnett, who suffered an inj in the bowl and won't play in '12 (#1 tkl'r, 9.5 tfl, career in question). They do have 5 back w/st exp, incl 3 who started 6+ LY.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - In 2009 this unit ret'd intact but surprisingly slipped from #58 in my PDR to #88 (62%, 23-12). In '10 they had to replace 1 st'r (#3DC, #2 tkl'r) but had 7 back w/st exp. The veteran unit only finished #79 (61%, 14-8). LY they had to replace all 4 st'rs (105 car sts). Paul Johnson said the DB's were probably the most talented and athletic since he arrived in '08 but they were inexp'd (20 car sts). FS Isaiah Johnson (13 st, #2 tkl'r, 3 int) and CB Rod Sweeting (13 st, #4, 3 int) earned 3rd Tm ACC honors while Jemea Thomas was POW vs Clem with 2 int's. Again, surprisingly GT moved up, this time to #34 (56.0%, 23-14). TY they lose S Rashaad Reid (13 st, #7 tkl'r, 2 pbu) and CB Michael Peterson (1 st, 9 tkl). Louis Young (PS#32), who is considered one of the top DB's in the ACC, was suspended for LY's bowl and it may roll over into this ssn. Assuming he ret's, they are much more exp'd with 6 of the top 8 back (3 st'rs), but might not move up much in my PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - GT's '07 unit finished #5 but in Paul Johnson's first 3 yrs here they plummeted to #97, #64 and #105. LY they had to replace their K and top PR. ST were a trouble spot with some in the press calling for Johnson to hire a full-time ST coach instead of splitting the duties among his asst's. The return game was below avg but P Sean Poole improved the tm net from 32.2 to 36.9. New soph K Justin Moore (PS#22) nearly lost his spot after misses vs MD and VA but hit 11-17 FG (L41). GT moved up to #82 and with both specialists back, should have their highest finish in Johnson's five years here as they do bring in STC David Walkosky.

COACHES - Paul Johnson was 62-10 at GA Southern earning IAA National COY for three straight seasons ('98-'00). In six years at Navy, he guided them to 5 bowls and 5 str Commander-in-Chief's Trophies. In '04 he was named the Bobby Dodd Nat'l COY. In his first 2Y here Johnson was named the ACC COY. Johnson serves as his own OC as he did at Navy. The DC for a 3rd str ssn is former UVA HC Al Groh who won ACC COY in '02 and '07 (59-53, 9 yrs). Prior to UVA Groh was HC of the NY Jets in '00 and also DC of the NE Patriots from '93-'96.

PHIL'S FORECAST

GT has now been to a school record 15 straight bowls. In five of ex-coach Chan Gailey's six seasons, they finished with exactly 7 wins and in '06 GT got to the ACC Title game (9-5). That '06 squad was led by AA WR Calvin Johnson and they landed their first Jan 1 bowl s/'99 getting as high as #13 AP. Gailey was let go after losing to UGA a 7th straight time and going 7-5 in '07. In Paul Johnson's first year they had 75 frosh and soph making them the youngest tm in the ACC. GT also had just 76 schlp players. They exceeded my expectations by going 9-3 while ending their losing streak to Georgia. GT was a league best +68.1 ypg but in the bowl was thrashed by LSU 38-3. They had 17 ret sts in '09 and caught some breaks again (see '10 mag forecast). GT got their first ACC Title s/'90 when they beat Clem 39-34 moving to #9 but lost to Iowa in the Orange Bowl and finished #13. It was their first major bowl s/'66-'67. In '10 they brought in Al Groh's 3-4 defense to team with Johnson's option offense. GT did manage to get back to a bowl at 6-6 but in a battle of option offenses and despite a 320-287 yd edge, lost to AF to fall to 6-7, their first losing season s/'96. LY their 12 ret sts were their fewest in the ACC but Johnson usually does well with inexp'd squads. The highest anyone picked GT LY was 4th in the Coastal (where I had them) with some pegging them 5th or 6th. GT managed a tie for 2nd. GT steamrolled their first 3 foes but did see their off production take a 5 gm slide going from a GT rec 768 (incl a NCAA 12.1 ypc rush) vs Kansas to 496, 413, 386, 296 and finally 211 vs Miami. They rebounded in their final 5 to avg 427 ypg despite facing Clemson, VT, Georgia and Utah. Their 6-0 start was their best s/'96 and they were #12 when they were upset at Virginia (off a bye), 24-21 and the next wk lost at Miami 24-7. They then dealt #6 Clemson their first loss of the year but lost to VT at home on a Thur night being outgained 476-340 and surprisingly out rushed. They got past Duke 38-31 and had the benefit of playing UGA with the Bulldogs looking ahead to the SEC Title game the following wk but still lost by 14. In the bowl they had a 449-337 yd edge but lost to Utah by 3 in OT but still improved to 8-5. TY GT has 13 ret sts and LY was #4 in the ACC at +23.2 ypg. GT has 443 wins in Bobby Dodd Stadium, most of any school at their current site. GT does have to face VT, Clem, NC and UGA all on the road but should make it to their 16 straight bowl!

VIRGINIA CAVALIERS

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - Marc Verica (PS#113) threw for 2,037 (64%) but with an 8-16 ratio in '08. In '09 mobile QB Jameel Sewell (susp '08) beat him out and threw for 1,848 (54%, 7-7, 7 rush td) while Verica got 1 st (156, 44%, 0-1, 6 gm). In '10 Verica was the clear-cut st'r and entered with 17 int in 17 gms. New HC Mike London signed Michael Rocco (PS#74, orig commit to L'ville) who ply'd in 6 (143, 52%, 1-2) but Verica started all 12 (2799, 59%, 14-14). After 9 gms, UVA had thrown as many td's (17) as they had the previous 2 yrs comb. Verica had a UVA rec 417 yds vs Duke (Matt Schaub 393 '03) and the tm's 3,186 pass yds were the 3rd most in schl hist. LY they had to replace Verica but I said with the QB's specifically recruited for the offense, they could actually improve. Early on UVA went with a 2 QB system. True frosh David Watford (PS#51, IFS) came off the bench to lead UVA 76/10pl for a td late in the SM loss. Watford had 3 int's on 32 plays vs NCSt and the rotation was scrapped. Rocco had a 1-7 ratio in his first 4 but was 12-5 after finishing with 2,671 (60.7%, 13-12) while Watford added 346 (40.5%, 3-4). With both back, this unit can only improve and they add in a PS#20 true frosh. They also get a HUGE upgrade with Bama transfer Phillips Sims (PS#1) who is filing an appeal for immediate eligibility.

RUNNING BACKS - The Cavs have had only one 1,000 yd rusher s/'01 (Alvin Pearman '04). UVA's top RB in '09 had just 461 (4.8). The top returnee in '10 was Torrey Mack (PS#24, 73 yd) and I projected 255 lb Keith Payne as the starter. He split snaps with diminutive soph Perry Jones (11 st). The 1st carry of the yr was a 38 yd run by Jones (longer than any Cav had in '09) as he finished #2 with 646 (4.7). LY they had to replace Payne (#1, 749, 4.7). Jones has been described as the strongest lb for lb and is the most versatile. His teammates call him "Superman." He led with 915 (5.0) and added 506 (10.5) rec. Kevin Parks (5'8" 195, PS#34) was #2 with 709 (4.7) while VHT true frosh Clifton Richardson (6'0" 215, PS#22) had 366 (5.1). Not in the PSL is RM Khalek Shepherd (5'8" 185 So, PS#99, 5 att LY), who was the star of this year's spg gm with 102 rush yds incl a 75 yd td run. TY they lose FB Max Milien (8 st, 264 yds rec, 12.0) but could have their 2nd 1,000 yd rusher in 12 seasons.

RECEIVERS - The Cavs had to replace their top 4 rec's in '09 and in '10 had to replace 3 of the top 4. Tim Smith (#5 '09, PS#80) was lost in Sept (ankle). Dontrell Inman (27 rec 3 yrs) led with 815 (16.0) while Kris Burd added 799 (13.8). They became the first tandem at UVA to each post over 700 yds in a ssn but both lacked breakaway speed. LY they only had to replace Inman. They added true frosh Darius Jennings (PS#18) who had 4 rec's (61 yd) in the opener but only topped 2 rec's in a gm twice more finishing with just 238 (11.9). Burd and Smith became the first pair of WR's to each top 100 in a game s/'96. Burd led with 913 (13.8) and Smith was #2 with 565 (17.1). Their #3 & #4 were both RB's. TY they lose Burd (12 st), Matt Snyder (5 st, inj, 225, 11.2) and Ray Keys (5 rec) putting them in the same shape as LY, but I'll call them stronger as Smith is another year removed from injury.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '09 UVA had 4 OL st'rs back but lost a #1DC. With wider splits they yielded 41 sks (11.3%) and avg'd just 99 ypg (2.9). London had to replace 2 st'rs in '10 (57 car sts ret), switched schemes again and lost a ret st'r after 6 gms. They still improved to 139 ypg (4.0, 23 sks, 5.2%). Last year they had to replace one 3 yr st'r and ret'd 5 with 7+ sts in a season (81 car sts) but Landon Bradley (18 car sts) DNP. In LY's magazine I said they should have their best rush numbers s/'04 and that they did with 162 ypg (4.2, 16 sk, 3.6%). London nicknamed LY's group the "Big Lovelies" as they avg'd 6'6" 306. TY they lose HM ACC C Anthony Mihota (13 st, 2Y st'r), 2nd Tm AA LG Austin Pasztor (13 st, 4Y st'r) and possibly Bradley. They have 3 ret sts and 58 car sts and even with the loss of a 1st Tm AA OL, could be just as solid as last year.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '09 UVA only had to replace 1 st'r but shockingly allowed 174 ypg (4.2, 22 sk), their worst s/'02. In '10 UVA switched to a 4-3 and had 3 st'rs back. The Cavs did not adjust well to the alignment change as they yielded 204 ypg and 5.1 ypc (worst s/'75). LY they had to replace 1 st'r and moved DE Matt Conrath inside. Conrath drew comparisons to Chris Long on his impact in games and earned 1st Tm ACC. With 3 st'rs back, UVA improved to 139 ypg (3.9, 20 sks). TY they lose DT Conrath (13 st, 66 tkl, 3 sk, 9 tfl), DE Cam Johnson (12 st, 30 tkl, 4 sk, 7 tfl, #7DC SF), DT Nick Jenkins (13 st, 36 tkl, 1.5 sk) and 1 bkp (4 tkl). With just 1 ret st'r and the loss of their top 3, the Cavaliers' D-line looks to be down a few notches despite moving in WLB Ausar Walcott (11 st).

LINEBACKERS - In '09 UVA had to replace its top 3 tkl'rs and was very inexp'd. The Cavs all'd 26.3 ppg, the highest s/'01 (27.6). In '10 they switched to a 4-3 and had to replace 3 st'rs (#3, #6, #11 tkl'rs) but ret'd ILB Steve Greer who had the most tkls by a frosh (92) since Darryl Blackstock (108) in '02. For some reason Greer was not given a start all year, but still finished as the #2 tkl'r after missing spring. OLB LaRoy Reynolds' 66 tkls (#1) were actually the lowest to lead UVA since the tkl stats were first recorded in 1978. LY they had to replace 1 st'r (7 st, #6 tkl'r) but had 5 of the top 6 back (#1, #2 tkl'rs) and were in the 2nd yr of the 4-3 plus had added talent (4 HT true Fr). As you would expect, they improved to 23.8 ppg. TY they lose Aaron Taliaferro (6 st, 50 tkl, 6 tfl) and Walcott moves to DE but they have 4 of the top 6 back and are the most exp'd unit on the D.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - UVA was just #83 in my PDR in '08. In '09's magazine I projected them to have their best pass D finish s/'03 (#40) and UVA finished #30 (56%, 10-12). In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs (#2DC) and their star Ras-I Dowling battled inj's (2 st). CB Chase Minnifield (PS#38) became the first UVA DB to earn 1st Tm ACC s/'98 (Anthony Poindexter, ST coor now) with 6 int's (rest of tm had 5) and the unit finished #68 (57%, 14-11). LY they had 3 st'rs back and added in true frosh Demetrious Nicholson (PS#9). Nicholson became the first true to start an opener on D s/'04 (Ahmad Brooks) and earned 2nd Tm Fr AA. Minnifield was 2x 1st Tm ACC so it's surprising that with those 2 corners UVA only moved up to #38 (53.7%, 19-12). TY they lose Minnifield (12 st, 50 tkl, 3 int, 8 pbu), SS Rodney McLeod (13 st, 57 tkl, 4 int, 7 pbu), CB Dom Joseph (1 st, 27 tkl, 4 pd) and FS Corey Mosley (11 st, 49 tkl, 5 pd). The new S's are bigger and more athletic and Nicholson is a solid foundation to build on but this unit is less experienced.

SPECIAL TEAMS - In Al Groh's 9 yrs, the ST units had an avg rank of #66 (did finish #7 in '05). They basically had everyone back in '10 and I called for improvement. The Cavs moved up to #42 and LY only had to replace their KR. Robert Randolph, (10-14 FG, L44 '10), hit 10 of his first 11 but just 6 of the last 12 (L48). Jimmy Howell avg'd 42.2 in '10 (37.6 tm net '10), but dropped to 39.4 (33.9 tm net). Chris Hinkebein (17 TB on 58 KO in '10) had just 7 TB on 60 KO LY. The return game was below avg the unit dropped to #105. TY they lose Randolph and Howell but can only improve on LY's poor finish.

COACHES - Mike London enters the 3rd yr of his 3rd stint here (DC '06-'07 and DL/recruit coor '01-'04). London was the HC of Richmond ('08-'09) leading the Spiders to a 24-5 record and an FCS Title in '08. Third yr OC Bill Lazor spent '03-'09 in the NFL (SEA and WAS). DC Jim Reid, who was a HC at VMI ('06-'07), Richmond ('95-'03) and UMass ('86-'91) is also in his 3rd yr at UVA. London was Reid's OLB cch in '95-'96.

PHIL'S FORECAST

Al Groh guided UVA to 5 bowls in 9 yrs and they finished ranked twice (#22 in '02, #23 in '04). In '07 they had 19 st'rs back and made my MIT List. UVA won 9+ gms only 5 times in the 112 yrs prior but went 9-4. They became the first team in NCAA history to have 5 wins by 2 pts or less and climbed as high as #16 before losing their last 2. In '08 they had just 11 st'rs back and I termed it a rebuilding year and UVA finished 5-7. In '09 they again had just 11 st'rs back and had to replace 4 NFL DC's. UVA also faced 9 bowl tms and slumped to 3-9. UVA did not gain 300 yds in an ACC gm all ssn (-141.5 ypg). For the 3rd yr in a row the Cavs had just 11 st'rs back in Mike London's first yr. It was the first time s'/83 that UVA was picked last in the ACC by the media. I said they were capable of topping 3 wins, but still called for a losing season. UVA tied for the basement in the ACC at 1-7 (-55.6 ypg) but improved to 4-8 overall. LY London surprisingly landed one of the top recruiting classes in the ACC and had 17 st'rs back from a tm that had lost 34 sts to injury and 2 net close losses. UVA opened with an impressive 40-3 win over W&M. They led Indy 23-3 but needed a late FR to set up a FG to pull out the 34-31 road win. After an expected loss at UNC (trailed 28-10), they ret'd home to find nearly 18,000 empty seats and lost to SM 30-24. They dominated Idaho statistically (496-296) and jumped out to a 14-0 lead after 3 drives. A blk'd punt for a td forced OT but after trading td's, ID went for 2 and UVA escaped. Coming off a bye, UVA upset #12 GT, 24-21, holding them to 296 yds. The Cavs were in for a letdown the next week and vs a banged up NCSt team, lost at home 28-14. On a Thurs night at Miami they used big plays to vault to a 28-21 win and all of a sudden a bowl looked feasible. UVA then whipped MD and Duke. They caught FSU in a huge sandwich (Fla and Miami) and were a large dog so it was likely FSU's C game. UVA got a td with 1:16 left to take the lead and then FSU's AA K missed a 42 yd FG with :03 left and UVA was back in the rankings for the 1st time s/'07 (#24). Many were calling for the Cavs to upset #6 VT with the Coastal on the line but VT shut them out. The bowl was rated a toss-up and Aub won 43-24. Still, London did an impressive job getting this team to 8-5. UVA did benefit from 4 net close wins (pg 309) and are a -4.5 in my Stock Market Indicator (pg 27). They were -7 in TO's and had a poor off ypp (17.2) and this year go from 17 ret sts down to 12. London is doing a great job and could have them back in the post season but after overachieving last year, they won't match the 8 regular season wins.

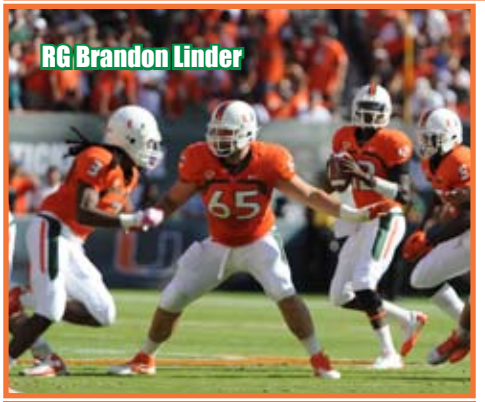
MIAMI HURRICANES



POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In '08 true frosh Jacory Harris (PS#7) started 2 gms (1195, 61%, 12-7). In '09 all of Harris' competition transferred leaving his bkps as true frosh Alonzo Highsmith (PS#61) and UMass trans walk-on Spencer Whipple (OC's son). Despite inj his throwing hand/elbow, Harris had a fine season passing for 3,352 (60%) with 24 td's but also 17 int (#2 FBS). In '10 the problems of '09 (inj & int) cropped up again and he was never 100% (1793, 55%, 14-15). He suffered a conc vs UVA and with bkp Highsmith inj'd (hand), Whipple hit just 6-12 (2 int). They took the RS off true frosh Stephen Morris (PS#98) in the 2H. He also threw 2 int but nearly led the comeback. Morris st'd the final 4 and tossed a last minute td vs MD. He was pulled in 2H of the finale with Harris seeing his first action s/UVA (gm 8). Harris started the bowl but hit 4-7 (3 int) and was pulled. Morris threw for 1,240 (54%, 7-9). LY both ret'd (Harris susp opener). Morris, who has a stronger arm than Harris, hit 19-28-195 but threw a pick 6 with :39 left in the loss to MD. Harris took over and was booed vs Ohio St and Kan St by the home crowd but had his best ssn statistically (2486, 65.0%, 20-9) leaving as the #2 all-time career passer. Morris played in 5 gms (283, 70.3%, 0-2). TY Morris (limited spg inj) will battle transfer Ryan Williams who had 10 sts at Memphis as a true in '10 (2075, 57%, 13-10) and 3 true frosh. Despite the loss of their top guy, this unit could be just as strong.

RUNNING BACKS - It surprises me that The U has had just seven 1,000 yd rushers (Edgerrin James twice) in its history. Heading into '11, UM had not had a 1,000 yard rusher s/'02 (Willis McGahee). In '10 rFr Lamar Miller (PS#15) was #2 with 646 (6.0) with Mike James (PS#58) finishing #3 (398, 5.7). LY they had to replace their top RB, Damien Berry (899, 4.7). They had the smash-and-dash combo of James (power) and Miller (4.3 spd). Miller had an exceptional year rushing for 1,272 (5.6) while James had 275 (3.8). Eduardo Clements (PS#19) was the #3 RB with 82 (5.5). Miller opted to leave early for the NFL (#4DC MIA) so battling James will be true frosh Duke Johnson (PS#7). Naturally with the loss of a rare 1,000 yd rusher, the Hurricanes look weaker in '12.

RECEIVERS - In '08 three true frosh saw plenty of time in Aldarius Johnson (PS#9) who was #1 (332, 10.7), LaRon Byrd (228, 10.9) and Travis Benjamin (5 st, 293, 16.3). The unit ret'd intact in '09 and a new star emerged in 6'3" Leonard Hankerson who led with 801 (17.8). Benjamin was #2 (501, 17.3), 6'4" Byrd was #3 (460, 13.9) and Johnson was #4 (276, 17.2). In '10 they lost #3 and #7DC's from the TE spot and had 67 dropped passes (42 in '09). UM has had some great WR's like Michael Irvin, Santana Moss, Reggie Wayne and Andre Johnson but Hankerson set the schl season record with 1,156 yds (Eddie Brown '84). Benjamin (tm's fastest) was #2 with 743 (17.3). Byrd chipped in 441 (10.8). LY they had to replace Hankerson (#3DC) and a #6DC TE. 6'5" Tommy Streeter led with 811 (17.6) while Benjamin was #2 (609, 14.9) and soph Allen Hurns had 415 (13.4). Johnson was susp for the yr in Aug. TY Johnson left early for the NFL as did Streeter (7 st, #6DC BAL) and they also lose Benjamin (9 st, #4DC CLE), Byrd (2 st,125) and TE Chase Ford (6 st, 9 rec). Not in the PSL below are TE's David Perry (6'7" 265 So, PS#78) and Billy Sanders (6'4" 245 Jr, PS#35). With the loss of their top 2, I'll call this unit down a few notches.

OFFENSIVE LINE - Despite having 3 OL st'rs back in '09 UM only avg 138 ypg (3.9) and all'd 35 sks. That was the 6th straight yr under 4.0 ypc rush. In '10 they had 1 ret st'r but still improved to 182 ypg (4.8,17 sks, 3.8%). That unit did get the large addition of Seantrel Henderson (6'8" 350, PS#1 orig USC) who started 9 and was 1st Tm Fr AA. LY they had to replace their 2nd Tm ACC LT (3Y st'r, #2DC) but had 9 of their top 10 back and 74 career sts. Henderson was never 100% and only started 2 so it was like having 3 st'rs back. Miami's numbers slipped a lot to 146 ypg (4.4) with 19 sks (5.6%). TY they lose 2nd Tm ACC LT Brandon Washington who left early (12 st, 2Y st'r, #6DC PHI), LG Harland Gunn (12 st, 2.5Y st'r), 2nd Tm ACC C Tyler Horn (12 st, 2Y st'r) and Joel Figueroa (1 st, 7 gm). With Henderson's return, they do have 3 that have had 8+ sts in a ssn and even with just 36 car sts ret (7 VHT In 2 deep), they are in the 2nd year of Golden's system and should come close to LY's numbers.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '10 UM only had to replace 1 st'r (all 4 proj st'rs were VHT's). It was shocking that Miami allowed 173 ypg rush (4.1 ypc worst s/'97). LY they lost a #3DC DE and a DT (4 st). They then lost DT Marcus Forston after 3 sts (inj) basically giving them 2 st'rs back. Darius Smith entered JC in '09 at 375 lbs but trimmed to 335 and despite not being a VHT, started 7. UM improved some to 162 ypg (4.1) with 24 sks. TY they lose DE Olivier Vernon (3 st, 18 tkl, 1.5 sk, #3DC MIA), DT Adewale Ojomo (10 st, 19 tkl, 1.5 sk), DT Micanor Regis (6 st, 41 tkl, 2 sk), DT Forston (5 tkl), DE Marcus Robinson (7 st, 37 tkl, 5 sk) and DE Andrew Smith (4 st, 24 tkl). This unit has fewer VHT's than you would normally expect from a UM DL but is equal to LY in terms of exp and should finally get that ypc under 4.0.

LINEBACKERS - Miami had 4 of its top 6 LB's back in '10 incl Colin McCarthy who was healthy and Miami trimmed its ppg allowed to 20.7 (best s/'06). LY marked the 4th straight year they lost their #1 tkl'r (2nd Tm ACC, #4DC) plus one bkp. They ret'd their #2 and #5 tkl'rs but the bkps had little exp. I called them on par with the '10 version but their fastest LB, Ramon Buchanan (PS#20) was OFY after 4 sts and Jordan Futch, who replaced him had just 4 sts (inj). True frosh Denzel Perryman stepped in and earned 2nd Tm AA honors. Despite the inj's UM allowed 20.1 ppg. TY they lose their top LB in 1st Tm ACC Sean Spence (11 st, #1 tkl'r, 3 sk, 11 tfl, #3DC PIT) and Futch (20 tkl, 1 sk). Buchanan (#5 tkl'r '10) returns so they have 3 back who started 5+ in a ssn (incl LY's #2, #5 tkl'rs). Provided the group stays healthier, they could be stronger despite losing their #1 tkl'r for a 5th straight year.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - UM opened last decade with finishes of #5, #2, #9, #3, #13, #1 and #24 in my PDR. After dropping to #53 and #66 they had an inexp'd group in '09 but still rose to #39. In '10 they had to replace 3 DB (comb 19 st) but ret'd 5 (comb 39 sts). CB Brandon Harris was the only ACC DB to be a Thorpe semi-finalist and UM moved back to #8 (50%, 9-16). LY they had to replace 3 st'rs incl Harris (1st Tm AA CB, #2DC), a #3DC and their #6 tkl'r. The unit performed well below expectations. Since 2000, the highest % they have allowed was 56.8% but The U yielded 66.3% and finished #110 (16-6 ratio). TY they lose SS JoJo Nicolas (12 st, #3 tkl'r, 2 int), CB Mike Williams (12 st, 29 tkl,3 pbu) and Lee Chambers (15 tkl). Even with just 2 st'rs back, this should be a much improved secondary and after LY's poor numbers as the unit is loaded with VHT's.

SPECIAL TEAMS - Miami has produced some excellent ST players including Devin Hester and finished #1 in '00. Since then they've been in the upper half every ssn incl #12 in '03 and #5 in '04. LY they had to replace their K/P Matt Bosher (13-17 FG, L51, net 38.8). Jr Jake Wieclaw (PS#4) who had played in just 1 gm beat out PS#5 true frosh Matt Goudis and hit 11-14 FG (L49, 60 KO, 4 TB). P Dalton Botts avg 42.7 (37.4 net). Travis Benjamin was the top KR (23.7) and the only PR (11.0). UM finished #42 and TY only lose Benjamin and could move up in my ST rankings.

COACHES - Al Golden made his name by turning the Temple program around. Prior to his arrival the Owls were 0-11 and had just 2 winning seasons in 26 yrs but he left with a 17-8 record in his final 2 yrs. Before Temple, Golden was the DC at Virginia from '01-'05 (youngest DC in IA). The OC is Jedd Fisch who was the OC of the Minn Gophers in '09. Fisch coached in the NFL for 9 yrs with stops at SEA, DEN, BAL and HOU. Long time Golden associate Mark D'Onofrio is the DC after playing with Golden at Penn St, coaching with him at UVA and being the DC at Temple for 5 years.

PHIL'S FORECAST

UM has claimed 5 National Championships with their last coming in '01. UM almost repeated in '02 when they came up just short in the Fiesta Bowl vs Ohio St (2OT). After an 11-2 season in '03, they won 9 gms in each of the next 2 yrs but suffered a blowout loss to LSU in the '05 Peach Bowl. At 6-6 in '06 they needed a 1 pt win over Nevada just to have a winning season. The Randy Shannon era then began. Miami was unranked in the preseason for the first time s/'98 and went just 5-7 incl a 48-0 shutout loss to UVA in the final game in the Orange Bowl. After another underachieving year in '08 at 7-6 (bowl loss) they had the most talented tm in the ACC in '09 but finished a disappointing 9-4 incl a bowl loss vs Wisc. In '10 they once again played below their talent level. They were 5-3 in the ACC despite a league best +107 ypg. They went just 7-6 and again in a chilly bowl, lost to ND by 16. Expectations were high for UM LY but they were gutted by susp's in the opener (9 incl 5 st'rs) and lost to MD. They dominated Ohio St getting revenge for their Nat'l Title loss, 24-6, but then were upset by Kan St when QB Harris was stopped on 4&gl with :49 left in the 4 pt loss. They were outgained by FCS Beth-Cook 422-335 but got a misleading 45-14 win. At VT they were trailing 31-21 in the 4Q but rallied for the lead only to give up a 19 yd TD run by QB Thomas with :56 left. They led NC 27-10 in the 3Q giving up a garbage td with :46 left then dominated GT holding them to 211 yds in their 24-7 win. At home on a Thur night vs UVA, big plays went the Cavs way and UM lost 28-21. After dispatching Duke, 49-14, UM had a 383-259 yd edge at FSU but lost 23-19. They had a 316-249 yd edge at USF and won a nail-biter, 6-3. UM had given itself a bowl ban and while they led BC 14-10 at half, gave an uninspired 2H performance and lost 24-17 to finish 6-6. TY UM had 6 ply'rs leave early for the NFL (3 more than any other schl) with the key losses being RB Miller, WR Streeter and their best OL, Washington. UM has just 10 st'rs bk (14 LY). On pg 309 it shows that tms that have 4 net close losses like UM had LY, have their record improve 91.4% of the time. UM draws a brutal schedule incl my BE fav USF, a ranked K-St and ND in the non-conf as well as FSU and NCSt out of the Atlantic. This looks like another rebuilding year for the Hurricanes.

Miami is 1-6 in road openers incl B2B losses. UM has dominated BC going 23-5 but has lost 2 str incl the LTH ('07) costing them a bowl. It was 14-14 but UM's L/3 drives ended in a punt & getting SOD at the BC39 & M43.

Last year was the schools 1st meeting. UM had a 1&gl at the KSt2 but was SOD on 4&gl from the one on their L/drive. The Hurricanes are 10-5 since 2000 in their 2nd of a B2B road trip (2-0 LY).

Miami is 23-3 in home openers. LY UM did trail 7-0 into the 2Q as BCC had a 9-1 FD and 137-39 yd edge in the 1Q. Wildcats went 8-3 LY ending the ssn on a 6 gm winning streak.

UM has won 3 str vs GT. LTH the Hurricanes had the series largest MOV S'67. GT was driving down 21-10 but fum on 1&gl at the UM6. Miami went 86/11pl for a td to put the gm away.

UM has lost a series high 2 str. In the L/gm ('08) Miami led 21-20 mid-3Q but all'd the gms next 18 pts (UM tossed 2 int's in that span) as UM lost 38-28. This is just the 4th ACC meeting (UM 1-2).

Miami is 6-3 their L/9 reg ssn gms vs ND (1981-'90). The L/meeting was the 2010 Sun Bowl where Miami trailed 30-3 (-4 TO's). This gm will be at Solider Field, home to the Chicago Bears.

Home team is 10-2. LY the Hurricanes led 17-0 into the 2Q and never gave up a DD lead until :46 left on a garbage td. Into '12, Miami is just 9-10 their L/19 ACC home gms.

HT is 1-5. Ten of the L/11 have been decided by a td or less. LY UM led 7-3 in the 2Q but trailed 23-7 mid-4Q. UM scored td's on B2B drives but their onside kick failed w/1:24 left.

Bonus: Miami is 15-3 all-time on ESPN Thur Nights (5-2 on the road & 10-1 at home).

LY UM trailed 14-0, 21-7 at HT & 24-14 into the 4Q. After taking a 35-31 lead, UM all'd a 77/8pl GW td drive w/:56 left.

LTH UM was down to its #2 QB (tossed 4 int's). UM trailed 17-0 before a failed comeback.

HT is 0-3. LY UM hit a GW 36 yd fg as time exp'd. The previous time Miami scored under 7 pts & won was in 1979 (6-0).

UM's only loss in this series was in '76 (1st gm). In 5 of the L/6 meetings UM has trailed but battled back for the win.

LTH UM forced 7 TO's incl an int at the UM4, 22 yd IR td & a fum recovery that led to a short td drive.

DUKE BLUE DEVILS

CB Ross Cockrell

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In '09 Thaddeus Lewis (PS#71) threw for 3,330 (61%, 20-8) becoming just the 2nd QB in ACC history to top 10,000 yds passing (Philip Rivers, NCSt). VHT Sean Renfree (PS#16) led a comeback win vs Army as a rFr in '09 and took plenty of snaps early but was lost to a torn ACL vs GT. He threw for 330 (68%, 4-2) and missed the '10 spring. Renfree tied D. Bryant's schl record ('00) when he hit his 1st 16 passes vs Navy and finished hitting a schl record 93% for the gm. The NCAA record is held by Tee Martin (95.8% in '98). HC David Cutcliffe was the OC and QB coach at Tenn that year. Renfree had an up and down season and threw for 3,131 (61%, 14-17). Brandon Connette technically got a start vs Miami as Duke had rec'd a fumble on the opening KO and Connette (mobile) usually came in for goal line situations. Connette hit 10-22 (0-2) but was the #2 rusher (321, 4.1, 8 td) and while Renfree had 17 int's in '10, he only threw 3 in the final 6 gms. He opened '11 going 96 att's w/o an int until a 3Q int vs BC that bounced off his TE's hands. In that same gm he set a schl record with 41 comp. Renfree was banged up the 2H of the year (hip, leg, shoulder) but still threw for 2,891 (65%, 14-11). He was inj in the 3Q vs NC and rFr Anthony Boone (PS#66) relieved (298, 56.6%, 1-1, 129 rush yr). Connette was inj after 2 gms and got a MedRS. Cutcliffe was impressed with all 3 this spring. He said that both Connette and Boone could line up at different positions TY in an effort to get them on the field. I look for improved play from the Blue Devil QB's.

RUNNING BACKS - Since career rushing leader Chris Douglas departed after '03 Duke has struggled, avg just 94 ypg (2.8) over the last 8 yrs. The top 3 rushers ret'd in '10. True frosh Desmond Scott (PS#19) DNP until gm 4 but rushed for 100 in his first start and led in '09 with just 262 (3.7). In '10 he led again (530, 4.4). Jay Hollingsworth (PS#110) led in '08 with just 399 (3.7) and dropped to 179 (3.3) in '09 and 175 (3.9) in '10. LY everyone ret'd including speedy change-of-pace back Josh Snead (PS#64) who rushed for 221 (4.9) as a true (also top KR) but he RS (foot). Scott missed 3 (inj) and finished #2 with 367 (5.1). Juwan Thompson (PS#67) led with 457 (4.2). TY they only lose Hollingsworth (107, 4.0) and should maintain better health and vastly improve their rush numbers.

RECEIVERS - In '09 Duke had to replace Eron Riley (#1 rec 3 str yrs). Soph Donovan Varner led with 1,047 (16.1) and true frosh Conner Vernon was #2 (746, 13.6). In '10 Vernon led with 973 (13.3) while Varner had 736 (12.3). LY Varner became the first player in ACC history to have 3 str seasons of 60+ catches. Both Varner (207) and Vernon (198) topped the schl career rec record held by NCAA HOF'r Clarkston Hines (189) for 22 yrs. Vernon became the 1st player in ACC history with multiple seasons of 70+ rec's and set a schl record with 10 gms of at least 5 catches. Varner and Vernon's comb career 384 rec's are the most by two teammates in ACC history. Vernon led with 956 (13.7, 1st Tm ACC) while Varner had 713 (11.7). TE Cooper Helfet (380, 11.2 '10) was #3 with 395 (9.2). TY they lose Varner (12 st), 3rd Tm ACC TE Helfet (11 st), Tyree Watkins (1 st, 10 rec), TE Danny Parker (1 st, 3 rec) and Brandon Braxton (10 st, 352, 8.8) who moved to DEVIL. They lose their career rec leader but still have the player that should break those records and could come close to LY's production.

OFFENSIVE LINE - Duke had a veteran line in '07 but dropped to their lowest ypg (64, 2.0) of the modern era. After expected improvement in '08 they had to replace 3 st'rs in '09 and slipped to a new low (63.5 ypg, 2.2). In '10 Duke had to replace 2 st'rs but had 67 car sts back and their best ypc s/'03 at 3.4 (110 ypg, 25 sk). LY they had 3 st'rs back (77 car sts) but C Brian Moore only st'd 3 (inj) and LT Kyle Hill missed the L2 (shoulder). Duke slipped to 94 ypg (3.1) but all'd just 19 sks (3.9%!). TY the Blue Devils lose LT Hill (4Y st'r) and bkp Jon Needham (3 gm). They have 7 of their top 9 ret (90 car sts, 3 VHT's) and I'll call for Duke to have their best rush ypc s/'03 (3.8).

DEFENSIVE LINE - Duke had exp D-lines in '06, '07 & '08 as they improved their rush D from 5.1 ypc in '05 to 4.6, 4.3 and 3.8. In '09 they had to replace 2 st'rs but Vince Oghobaase (PS#18) turned down the NFL. Oghobaase missed 4 (inj) and the stats were similar (153 ypg, 4.0, 19 sk). In '10 they had to replace 3rd Tm ACC DT Oghobaase, a DE st'r and 2 DT's (comb 5 sts, 49 tkl). Despite being equal in exp, I expected the stats to drop and Duke yielded 208 ypg (4.8, 12 sk). LY they had to replace 2 st'rs (67 car sts ret). DE Kenny Anunike was leading the ACC in sks (4) when he was OFY (knee) early vs Tulane. After that, 3 of Duke's 4 DE's were frosh (other a soph). The rush D ypg improved to 181 (4.9, 17 sk). TY they lose NG Charlie Hatcher (12 st, 30 tkl, 2 sk) and NG Curtis Hazelton (22 tkl). Anunike returns along with 6 DL that played LY as frosh (3 w/sts) making this a much improved D-line.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 Duke had to replace 2nd Tm ACC Vincent Rey (#1 tkl'r) but had 5 of their top 6 back. True frosh Kelby Brown was too good to keep off the field and was the #3 tkl'r despite missing 3 gms. This unit struggled with inj's and the ppg rose to 35.4. LY they had to replace 2 st'rs (#1, #11 tkl'r, HM ACC MLB) and 2 bkps. They improved to 31.2 ppg despite their streak of 7 str yrs of having a LB as the #1 tkl'r ending (DB's #1, #2). TY they only lose Kevin Rojas (3 tkl) and return their #3, #5, #8, #12 and #14 tkl'rs. Brown missed 2 sts (ACL, OFS) while Austin Gamble missed 1. Issac Blakeney is listed at TE but Cutcliffe is determined to find a consistent pass rusher and he fits the mold at 6'6" 230. This group should remain healthier and be the best LB corps they've had in the past few years here.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - Prior to Cutcliffe's arrival ('08), Duke finished #98, #102, #110 and #109 in my PDR. Their '08 secondary at times couldn't play 6 DB's if they wanted to (inj's) but still managed to move up to #99. In '09 with 1.5 st'rs back, Duke improved to #85. In '10 they lost their top DB and 1 other st'r. They moved Johnny Williams (16 st WR) to CB and their best cover corner was CB Chris Rwabukamba who teams avoided. RFr Ross Cockrell became just the 2nd frosh to lead the tm in int's (Wyatt Smith '88). Duke finished #102 (54.7%, 25-8) vs weak opp QB's. LY they had to replace their top CB and then SS Lee Butler was OFY (leg) after 4 so Duke had 2 st'rs back. DC Jim Knowles changed the look of the D and made it a S driven unit with all 3 S's big enough to play in the box. His featured def player was FS Matt Daniels who earned 2nd Tm AA (Tm MVP, 126 tkl, 2 int, 14 pbu). Duke only moved up to #97 (57.4%, 23-6). TY they lose their top guy again as well as CB Johnny Williams (8 st, 23 tkl, 4 pbu) and Zach Greene (1 st, 19 tkl). Duke gets back Butler and should have their best finish in my PDR since at least '03 (#75).

SPECIAL TEAMS - Duke had my #83 and #71 ST's rankings in Cutcliffe's 1st 2 yrs. In '10 Will Snyderwine (2nd Tm AA) hit 21-24 FG (L52, Groza semi) while their top KR was true frosh Josh Snead (22.0). Duke finished #70 and I called for them to improve for a 5th str yr but they slipped to #78 LY. Snead RS (inj) and Snyderwine battled an ankle injury in Aug and again after an onside kick vs Stanford. He hit just 8-17 FG (L/40). Paul Asack had just 5 TB on 46 KO while P Alex King avg 42.1 (37.7 net) earning 2nd Tm ACC. TY they lose their K and P but return Snead and despite having a PS#1 and PS#4 at K and P could drop again.

COACHES - From '00-'07 Duke won 3 of 64 ACC gms and in '08 they brought in veteran HC David Cutcliffe and it only took him 11 conf gms to match those 3 wins. He was the HC at Ole Miss from the '98 bowl-'04 (44-29) but amazingly, Miss fired him after his 1st losing ssn. In '06 he ret'd to Tenn as the OC where he had previously spent 17 yrs. He is best known for working closely with QB's and the Manning brothers and Heath Shuler are among his prized pupils. The OC is Kurt Roper (Tenn RB cch '06-'07) while the DC Jim Knowles is in his 3rd yr here (HC Cornell '04-'09).

PHIL'S FORECAST

In the past 49 yrs Duke has had just three 7+ win seasons! They occurred in 1988 and '89 (Steve Spurrier) and in '94 during Fred Goldsmith's first season. Since their Hall of Fame Bowl appearance in '94, Duke is just 37-158. That includes a 15-121 ACC record with EIGHT winless ACC seasons. Cutcliffe inherited 16 ret sts (just 15 lett lost) and I called for Duke to have as many wins as they had the previous 4 yrs comb (4). Duke opened 3-1 but finished just 4-8, 1-7 in the ACC (-113 ypg). They had just 11 ret sts in '09 but their 3-5 ACC record was their best s/'99 (just 4 ACC wins the previous decade) and they were just -18.6 ypg. Duke got to 5-3 needing just 1 win for a bowl but dropped their last 4. Despite coming off a 5-7 season with a stronger tm (14 ret sts), they played a tougher schedule (8 tms 8+ wins '09) and did not make my Most Improved List. Duke's record dropped to 1-7 in the ACC (-94.6 ypg) and 3-9 overall. LY they had just 12 schlp Sr's and for the 2nd time in 3 yrs, lost to FCS Richmond in the opener, 23-21 (379-288 yd edge) as they missed a 28 yd FG with 1:43 left and a 60 yd'r on the final play. They ply'd tough only trailing Stanford 10-7 late 1H but were rolled 44-14. Duke then won 3 consec gms for the first time s/'09. BC's 23 yd FG hit the upright (:43 left) and Duke pulled out a 20-19 win. They took on Tulane coming off a road upset and led 31-10 at half (48-27). FIU was SOD at the Duke12 with 2:29 left playing in front of an FIU schl rec crowd of 22,682 and Duke won 31-27. They trailed Fla St 27-3 at half and lost 41-16. WF got its 12th straight win over the Blue Devils. Trailing 17-3 in the 1H Duke rallied but was SOD at the WF40 with 1:20 left in their 1 pt loss. Duke missed 3 FG's, was SOD at the VT18 then int'd in the 4 pt loss. Miami dominated them 49-14 then they were tied with Virginia at 21 but lost by 10. In their FHG they were int'd with 2:20 left and lost 38-31 to GT. Against NC, Renfree was inj'd in the 3Q trailing 23-14 and they lost 37-21 which dropped them to 1-16 in Nov under Cutcliffe. Duke was -76.8 ypg in the ACC (2nd worst). There are some key factors pointing upwards with 17 ret sts, -10 in TO's and 2 net close losses LY. Cutcliffe believes this is the best tm he's had since he got here and noticed an increased tm spd in spg, closer to the levels of the top ACC teams. Six of my 9 sets of power ratings call for Duke to be bowl elig TY!

PHIL STEELE'S 2012 PAC-12 FORECAST

SOUTH 1. USC - LY USC was ineligible for the P12 Title gm yet I picked them to win the P12 South and they delivered winning it by 2 full games. TY QB Matt Barkley turned down the NFL and the Trojans are among the most talented team in the country. While they draw both Oregon and Stanford out of the North, they do get the Ducks at home after beating them in Autzen LY. That gm is crucial as a win would give USC the home edge in the P12 Title game as well. The Trojans are a legitimate Nat'l Title contender doing a remarkable job surviving their 2 yr probation.

2. UCLA - Jim Mora, Jr steps into a pretty good situation. Rick Neuheisel didn't catch a lot of breaks as generally his QB's and OL were banged up but the Bruins still made it to a couple of bowls. LY they were the P12 South champs (by default) despite their final 6-8 record. TY UCLA avoids UO out of the North and gets 5 P12 HG's. They also have 16 ret sts and 51 ret lett after losing just 18. Mora brings in a solid recruiting class and the cupboard is far from bare as Neuheisel did a solid job in that area as well. I'll call for the Bruins to have their most wins in 7 yrs (s/'05) and battle for 2nd place in the P12 South.

3. UTAH - Utah has 16 ret sts (LY just 12) and of course, had their QB inj'd so they are much stronger at that position. LY was a strange 1st ssn in the P12 for the Utes as they opened up conf play 0-4 but came within 3 missed FG's vs Colo of actually playing in the P12 Title gm (beat P12 South Champ UCLA 31-6). It was a TO season with the Utes winning gms with positive TO's and losing them when they had a negative ratio. They avoid both OU and Stanford out of the North TY. With superior QB play and RB John White the Utes might just be an upset away (USC Thur night at home on Oct 4th) from contending in the P12 South.

4. ARIZONA - In each of Rich Rod's coaching debuts, he's never had the mobile QB that fits his offense and has usually struggled. He inherits Matt Scott giving him a VHT (PS#15) QB to run his offense which P12 def's are unfamiliar with. While the Cats have just 12 ret sts, they only lose 18 lett (ret 55) and were better than their final record LY at just -12 ypg in P12 play despite playing with an interim HC the 2H of the season. Even though they draw both UO and Stanford out of the North, I give the Cats a good shot at a bowl in Rich Rod's first year.

5. ARIZONA ST - At one point LY ASU was 6-2, #20 in the country and by far the favorite to get to the P12 Title game out of the South. Three close losses later they were eliminated from the P12 chase. ASU then dropped their season finale and the bowl to finish with a losing rec. Todd Graham steps into a decent situation although he has just 8 ret sts (fewest P12) and LY's squad was +9 in TO's. ASU has good talent throughout the lineup and will be contending for a bowl slot TY.

6. COLORADO - There are a lot of factors pointing upward for Colorado TY as they had 40 sts lost to inj and had poor off and def ypp's. They play an overall softer schedule in yr 2 for Coach Jon Embree. I still pick them 6th in the South because LY they were the weakest P12 tm (-157 ypg) and TY lose the most lettermen (31) and have the 2nd fewest amount of ret sts (9) in the conf. They also draw both Oregon and Stanford out of the North.

NORTH 1. OREGON - HC Kelly has done a tremendous job here leading the Ducks to 3 consec P12 Titles and BCS appearances. They have their best D in years and despite the loss of their QB and top RB, could be just as explosive on offense with my #1 set of RB's and OL in the P12 (also have my #1 ST's unit). Despite just 11 ret sts, being +9 in TO's and having to face USC on the road, the Ducks have a solid shot at their 4th str P12 Title. They will likely be favored in 11 gms and are a legitimate Nat'l Title contender.

2. STANFORD - Stanford loses two #1's and two #2 NFL DC's but I thought David Shaw did a great job in his first season and they remain a legitimate contender in the North this year. They draw 5 P12 AG's and face USC in one of their 4 P12 HG's. They have lost just one P12 gm in each of the last 2 yrs (both vs UO) and will need to pull an upset of the Ducks in Autzen ('01, L/winning trip) to have a shot at the North this season.

3. CALIFORNIA - Cal has been a disappointing tm in the P12 as after going 18-7 from '04-'06, they are just 21-24 in conf play the L5Y. Cal did only lose to powerful Stanford by 3 and were +48 ypg in P12 play LY. TY they benefit from a return to Memorial Stadium after basically playing away from home in all 9 P12 games (they have 5 HG's). Despite drawing the top 3 tms from the South, I look for Cal to move up in the North standings and battle Stanford for 2nd.

4. OREGON ST - The Beavers have been a tough team for me to get a pulse on. Most years Mike Riley and company have overachieved my expectations. LY I was unexpectedly high on the Beavers putting them on my Most Improved List. This time they underachieved at 3-9. Things do appear to be on the rise as they have 15 ret sts and are coming off a yr where they had 54 sts lost to inj. My Stock Market Indicator is also high on them (pg 27). They were -8 in TO's, had poor off and def ypp's, have 5 P12 HG's and a 2nd yr QB (refer to OSU tm writeup). This could be one of those years where Riley does better than forecasted and they have a great shot at getting back to the postseason.

5. WASHINGTON - UW has shown steady growth under Sarkisian as after going 0-12 the yr prior to his arrival, they went to 5 wins and then a pair of 7 win bowl seasons. Even losing RB Chris Polk, this is Sarkisian's best tm as they are led by QB Keith Price. They do have 5 P12 AG's and all of their HG's will be played at CenturyLink Field (Seahawks' stadium) while their home field is being refurbished. Cal did not make a bowl LY under similar circumstances and in one 5 gm stretch UW plays LSU, Stanford, Oregon and USC! It may take a big Nov to get to their 3rd straight bowl.

6. WASHINGTON STATE - The Cougars will be an exciting team under Mike Leach. They have solid QB's and AA cand WR Marquess Wilson returns so their offense will be explosive. WSU has 14 ret st'rs and this looks like the strongest Cougar tm since at least '06. They have made strides in P12 play going from -260.4 ypg in '09 to -140.1 in '10 to -39.4 in '11. WSU could have a bowl riding on the Apple Cup outcome and the Pullman fans will be treated to a dynamic offense.

Pac-12 Notes: Last year Oregon's defense faced 1005 plays while Stanford's defense faced just 758. The Ducks scored quickly only having 25:03 TOP in gms but had the best offense with 501 ypg and 44.3 ppg in Pac-12 play. The Pac-10 added Colorado and Utah LY to become the Pac-12 and nearly added Texas, Okla and others over the summer. USC won the Pac-12 South with by far the best record but was on probation and DNP in the first ever Title game. Oregon and Stanford battled it out in the "real" Pac-12 Title gm and both played in BCS bowl gms. The league loses the #1 pick in the draft in Andrew Luck and may have 2013's #1 pick as well, as Matt Barkley opted to return for his Sr season. After having the 5th best non conf record in '10 (23-14), they moved up to #4 LY at 26-9, just .07 away from the Big Ten. They were 5-7 vs AQ tms and that was 5th best. Pac-12 tms do generally play tougher schedules overall with 9 conference gms. Those 9 gms mean some tms have 5 conf HG's while some draw 5 AG's. The North was perceived as the much stronger division LY and went 15-9 vs the South. Five of the Pac-12's top 7 QB in pass eff depart but four of the five 1,000 yd rec's are back as well as five of the seven 1,000 yd rushers.

Barkley was noticeably quicker after dropping 10 lbs in '10 and threw for 2,791 (63%, 26-12) despite missing 1 gm. LY Jesse Scroggins (6'2" 210 So, PS#8), true frosh Cody Kessler (PS#9) and Max Wittek (PS#8) battled for the bkp job. Kessler was the bkp at the start of the season but Scroggins took over in the 2H of the yr with none of the bkps att a pass. Barkley had 5 td's (to 5 diff rec's) vs Syr then set the schl rec with 6 td's vs Colo. He also set a schl rec with 34 comp vs Minn (Todd Marinovich '89, 33) then broke it vs UCLA with 35 (6 td's again). He also threw for a Trojans record 468 vs Ariz (Palmer '02, 448). Barkley threw for 3,528 (69.1%, 39-7) then surprised many by turning down the opportunity to become a Top 5 pick in the NFL draft. That decision makes him the frontrunner for the Heisman and he could go down as one of the greatest USC QB's of all-time, which is saying a lot.

RUNNING BACKS - USC is known for its' fine TB tradition and in '10 had to replace a 1,000 yd rusher (#4DC). Marc Tyler (PS#1) led with 913 (5.3) while Allen Bradford (PS#3, 668, 5.8 '09) was #2 with 794 (7.2!). True frosh Dillon Baxter (PS#4) was susp for 2 and often worked out of the Wildcat (252, 4.3). LY they had to replace Bradford (#6DC) and FB Stanley Havili (#7DC). Tyler was susp for the opener, then dislocated his shoulder and played in just 10 (#2, 568, 4.7) while rFr DJ Morgan (PS#6) was #3 with 163 (3.9) but lost some carries after some early fmbl issues. Curtis McNeal became the 27th 1,000 yd rusher here. He had 118 vs ND, 145 vs Stan, 148 vs UW, 94 vs UO and 124 vs UCLA finishing with 1,005 (6.9). TY they lose Tyler, Baxter and FB Rhett Ellison (#4DC MIN). Morgan is another yr removed from a HS knee inj and despite depth issues, this unit could be stronger.

RECEIVERS - In '10 the Trojans had to replace their top two rec's (#3DC WR, #6DC TE). True frosh Robert Woods lived up to his PS#2 billing and led with 792 (12.2) while TE Ellison was #5 (239, 11.4). LY they had to replace their #2 (#6DC) and #4 rec's (#7DC) as well as a TE (#4DC). They added 3 PS#1's from the last two classes in rFr WR Kyle Prater, rFr TE Xavier Grimble and true WR George Farmer. A different frosh emerged however in Marqise Lee (PS#10) who had 144 vs UA, 124 vs Colo, 187 vs UO and 224 vs UCLA to finish #2 with 1,143 (15.7). Woods, who was not 100%, still led with 1,292 (11.6) and probably would have won the Biletnikoff Award (finalist) had he been able to stay healthy. RFr TE Randall Telfer (PS#7) was #3 (273, 10.5) and Grimble added 144 (9.6). Farmer was moved to RB due to inj's and played in 4 while Ellison moved to FB (133, 6.0). TY they lose Brandon Carswell (2 st, 153, 8.5), Brice Butler (2 st, 150, 12.5) and Prater (1 rec). With 2 AA WR's including the Biletnikoff frontrunner in Woods and PS#1, #5 & #7 TE's, this is the best receiving corps in the country.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '10 USC had to replace 3 OL st'rs including a pair of 1st Tm P10 OL's (#2DC). I noted while the unit was less exp'd, the numbers could actually improve and they did to 189 ypg (5.2) allowing 18 sks (4.0%) for the 3rd str year. LY the unit had to replace 3 st'rs (#1DC) and had just 27 car sts ret (#111 FBS). Marcus Martin became the Trojans first true frosh to start at OG s/'04 (10 st) with the other 4 OL's all starting 12. USC's numbers dropped to 163 ypg (5.0) but they allowed just 8 sks (1.8%). TY they lose their outstanding LT Matt Kalil (1st Tm P12, 2Y st'r, #1DC MIN) who became the 22nd 1st Rnd OL drafted at USC along with OG Martin Coleman (1 st). This unit is loaded with VHT's, is more experienced with 60 car sts (8 of top 10 ret) and should achieve stronger numbers.

DEFENSIVE LINE - For most of this past decade, the Trojans fielded a premiere D-line. In '03 they allowed just 1.8 ypc rush with 55 sks. Their "worst" year came in '05 when they yielded 3.8 ypc. In '09 they had to replace 3 st'rs (#1, #2 and #4 DC's) and all'd 128 ypg (3.7). In '10 they had to replace 1 st'r (#4DC) then lost DT Christian Tupou (11 st) to an ACL (spg). Even with 2 st'rs back, the Trojans slipped to allowing 140 ypg with their worst ypc s/'91 (4.4) and just 28 sks. LY they had to replace a #3DC DE and DT Armond Armstead (12 st, 43 tkl, 3 sk) DNP due to a medical condition. Tupou's return gave them 3 who had been full-time st'rs. The Trojans improved to 111 ypg (3.6) with 31 sks. TY they lose 1st Tm P12 DE Nick Perry (12 st, 54 tkl, 9.5 sk, #1DC GB), NT Tupou (12 st, 16 tkl) and DT DaJohn Harris (10 st, 22 tkl, 7 tfl). They do have 5 of their top 8 back and 8 VHT's incl PS#21JC Morgan Breslin (28 sk L2Y). This is, however, the D's least experienced unit.

LINEBACKERS - In '08 the Trojans led the FBS in ppg allowed (9.0) with the best set of LB's in the country. While that '08 unit had to replace #1 and #5 DC's, they produced the Bednarik winner, a 1st Tm AA and #1, #2 and #4 NFL DC's. The reloaded '09 version allowed 19.8 ppg (worst s/'05). In '10 the unit ret'd intact but USC shockingly allowed 26.7 ppg (400 ypg, worst ever!). LY the Trojans had to replace 2 st'rs (#2 and #6 tkl'rs) incl a #7DC and moved Devon Kennard to DE. The Trojans introduced a new S/LB hybrid position in the spg to help combat the spread. While the unit was less exp'd, I said LY the ppg would improve and it did (23.6). RFr Dion Bailey's (PS#26) 14 tkl vs AZ were the most by a frosh here s/Chris Claiborne had 20 in '96. USC st'd 3 frosh at LB for the final 4. TY they lose MLB Chris Galippo (8 st, 47 tkl, 3.5 tfl, lost job), Ross Cumming (15 tkl), Shane Horton (41 tkl) and Tre Madden (15 tkl) who is OFY. Three of the top 6 are back incl 2 frosh who tied for the #1 tkl'r spot (7 VHT's). I'll call for significant improvement in the ppg allowed and this is USC's best LB corps s/'08 and one of the best in the country.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - Under Carroll, the Trojans finished #16, #12, #7, #1, #9, #10, #6, #1 and #14 in my PDR from '01-'09. In '10 the unit was wiped out, losing all 4 st'rs (#2, #3 DC) and they had just 4 car sts ret. As you would expect, USC had its lowest finish in my PDR since I began keeping track in '94 at #61 (60%, 30-15). LY they had to replace a 2nd Tm P10 CB (#3DC) but had 7 of the top 8 back. One CB spot used 3 diff st'rs due to injury and USC only moved up to #57 (63.9%, 17-9). TY they lose S Marshall Jones (1 st, 9 tkl) but have their top 9 DB tkl'rs back. USC adds in a PS#7 Florida transfer and a PS#3 JUCO and will easily have their best PDR under Kiffin.

SPECIAL TEAMS - In Carroll's final 3 yrs ('07-'09), USC was surprisingly #101, #50 and #59 in my ST rankings. Kiffin hired ST cch John Baxter whose '09 Fresno St unit finished #20. The Trojans had to replace their K and top PR in '10 but still moved up to #23. LY they had to replace their P, K and top PR. They surprisingly only slipped down to #29. Woods was the top KR in '10 (25.6) and '11 (23.1) although Lee avg 28.5 on 10 KR. Walk-on Kyle Negrete beat out true frosh Kris Albarado (PS#11) and avg 40.1 (37.4 net). Andre Heidari was inj'd on a KO and missed a FG vs ND but had the longest FG by a USC player s/'90 (50 yd). He hit 15-17 FG and had 10 TB on 76 KO. TY the unit returns intact and I'll call for them to have their highest finish in my ST rankings s/'04 (#15).

COACHES - Lane Kiffin was an asst at USC under Pete Carroll for 6 yrs (OC L/2) before becoming the youngest HC in modern NFL history at 31 in '07. He was fired by the Raiders 4 gms into '08 (5-15 2Y) then was the HC at Tenn in '09 (7-6) before taking over here in '10. The OC for a 3rd yr is Kennedy Polamalu (asst here '00-'03) who was an NFL RB cch (JAX '05-'09). Ed Orgeron is the DC and was also at Tenn in '09 (asst HC). His resume includes a HC stint at Ole Miss ('05-'07). Lane's father is the legendary Monte Kiffin who is the asst HC and was the DC at Tenn in '09 and has 26 yrs of NFL exp (TB DC 13 yrs).

PHIL'S FORECAST

Carroll inherited a tm that had only topped 6 wins in a season once ('98) in the 5 yrs before he arrived. Not too many fans were excited about Carroll's hiring but his Trojans became the only tm in the country to finish in the AP Top 4 in each of the 7 yrs from 2002-'08. They won a National Title in '04 and nearly again in '05. 2009 was an unusual yr for Carroll as USC plummeted to 9-4 (5-4 Pac-10, -19.4 ypg 4th worst). This came just one year after they were +232.7 ypg. As I was writing my magazine in May '10, USC was my favorite to win the P10 before being hit hard over the summer by NCAA probation incl a post season ban for '10 and '11. USC was so thin that they cut back on contact in Aug practices. It seemed to hurt their D, especially early. The Trojans dropped to 8-5 with their 5 losses being their most s/'01 (3rd in the P10, 5-4, +46.4 ypg). LY USC had just 12 schlp Sr's to go with just 12 ret sts and drew both Oregon and Stanford from the North. Despite all that criteria, I picked them to win the P12 South even though they were ineligible for the Title game. The Trojans were clearly the best team in the South as they finished 2 full games ahead of UCLA. The season started slowly for USC with lackluster wins over Minn, Utah and Syr. Despite a 402-392 yd edge and a 22-21 lead in the 3Q, they lost at Ariz St by 21. USC jumped out to a 34-12 lead vs Ariz and held on for a 48-41 win. On a Thurs night at Cal, they benefitted from +3 in TO's and won 30-9. ND was in a great situation in their first night HG s/'90 and off a bye. USC had a big gm vs Stanford on deck but jumped out to a 17-0 lead. Leading 17-10 they got a key 80 yd FR td and had an impressive 31-17 win (443-267 yd edge). They were a diff tm after that. USC could've easily beaten #4 Stanford (lost in 3OT). They then walloped Colo by 25, Wash by 23 and ended #4 Oregon's 21 game home win streak leading 38-14 in the 3Q and hanging on for a 38-35 win. UO had just beaten #4 Stanford the previous wk. USC then clubbed UCLA 50-0 in the ssn finale. Their hopes for 2012 then took a major upswing when QB Barkley turned down the NFL and he is one of the 16 ret sts. Although USC had 3 net close wins LY, the Trojans get their big gm vs Oregon at home. USC is a Nat'l Title contender who could open the ssn #1 in the AP poll.

USC is 7-0 vs Hawaii with the avg win by 35 ppg but their L/gm ('10) was the series closest. USC never trailed but couldn't shake UH till a td mid-4Q in the 49-36 win. USC has won 14 str home openers.

Trojans are 3-0 vs the Orange but their last & only road trip in the series was a 34-16 win in '90. USC is 11-2 in their first gm of the yr away from LA but did lose LY. They haven't dropped B2B S/'93 & '94.

The 4x's they have had 3 gm losing streaks they won by 18 ppg the next gm. LTH saw 7 lead changes as USC took a 1 pt lead w/1:08 but SU went 62/7pl & nailed the 30 yd GW fg as time exp'd.

The Trojans have beat the Bears 8 str by 19 ppg. LY USC led 23-0 in the 2H winning by 21 pts despite being outgained by over 100 yds in the 2H. USC took advantage of 5 Cal TO's that led to 13 pts.

Bonus: Into 2012, USC is 32-11 on the Pac-12 road, in fact S/'02 USC has lost just 20 gms (55% in conf AG's).

USC's last visit to Salt Lake City was a 51-0 shutout win but that was in 1917. LY was the tms 1st reg ssn gm S/'48. LY USC led 17-14 & not only blocked Utah's 41 yd fg att on the final play but ret'd it for a td.

USC is 8-2 vs UW but lost 16-13 the LTH ('09). The Trojans led 10-0 but the gm was tied 13-13 late 4Q. USC allowed a 63/10pl GW 22 yd fg drive w/:03 which ended a series 7 gm winning streak.

LY USC trailed 7-0 but put the gm away prior to HT with 4 str td's. Barkley threw for a school record 6 td passes. Coming into 2012, USC is just 7-5 their L/12 gms hosting Pac-12 foes (33-1 run prior).

Trojans have won 5 str in Tucson by 16 ppg. LTH USC had a DD lead 3 different times in the gm vs #18 UA (14-0, 21-7 & 24-14). USC did allow a 85/9pl td drive (1:01) as UA cut the deficit to 3 but the onside failed.

USC is 5-7 but LY's upset kept the Ducks from the Nat'l Title game. USC never trailed but up 38-14 all'd 21 str pts. After a USC fum w/2:31 left OU went 66/15pl but missed a 37 yd fg as time exp'd.

Last time USC dropped B2B gms vs ASU was in '96 & '97. LY USC led 22-21 mid-3Q but 4 TO's cost them. LTH USC needed a 68/9pl drive & a 29 yd fg w/3:06 left for a 1pt win.

USC has won 5 str vs UCLA (32-7 avg win). The L2Y USC admitted this gm was their "bowl." The Trojans showed no mercy & even went for a 2 pt conv up 20-0 LY.

HT has lost 3 str in this series (played every yr S/'46). LY USC led 17-0 but that was cut to 17-10 at HT. ND's opening 2H poss ended on a fum after a FD at USC9 & it was ret'd 80 yds for a game changing USC td.

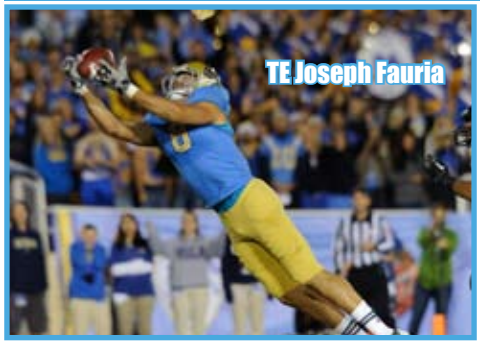
UCLA BRUINS



POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - The QB's were inj-plagued during the Rick Neuheisel era. They lost their top 2 QB's within minutes of each other during one spg practice and JC transfer Kevin Craft threw for 56% with a terrible 7-20 ratio in '08. In '09 rFr Kevin Prince (PS#49) became just the 2nd UCLA frosh to start a ssn opener. He started 11 (inj) and threw for 2,050 (56%, 8-8). Richard Brehaut (PS#14) played in 6 (124, 65%, 0-1) but had problems with decision making due to the lack of live snaps. In '10 they moved to the Pistol offense but Prince was unable to practice a full week prior to any of his 5 sts (knee). He looked out of sync as he threw for just 384 (45%, 3-5). Brehaut threw for 1,296 (56%, 6-7) and broke Troy Aikman's single gm records for pass att's and comp hitting 33-56 in a loss to Ariz St. When Brehaut was inj'd vs Wash, walk-on Clayton Tunney and Darius Bell (PS#117JC) comb to hit just 1-11-13 yds with 2 int. LY the main group ret'd and they added in VHT true frosh Brett Hundley (6'4" 225, PS#5) but Prince was the clear-cut starter. He left the 2Q vs UH (conc) and Brehaut hit 17-26-264 and started 4 of the next 5. Brehaut broke his leg vs WSU and Prince took back over. Prior to Cal, Neuheisel told Prince to run like a RB (163 rush vs Cal, 8.6) and he finished with 1,828 (56.2%, 12-8, #3 rush 424). Brehaut threw for 948 (55.4%, 6-1, 169 rush). Hundley managed to RS. In Prince's 3 yrs he has suffered 2 conc, a broken jaw, a separated shldr and had knee surgery. The unit returns intact and should (hopefully) remain healthier. They have added talent and should put up much improved numbers and also don't rule out a true frosh starting (Mora recruits).

RUNNING BACKS - In '08 UCLA's top RB had just 397 (2.8) and the tm's longest td run was 29 yds. In '09 rFr Johnathan Franklin (PS#46) led with 566 (4.5) giving them added speed at RB. Derrick Coleman (284, 5.4 as true) was #2 (244, 4.5). In '10 both ret'd and the offense moved to the Pistol. For the first time in schl history, UCLA had 2 RB's top 180 yds in the same gm (Franklin 216, Coleman 185) vs WSU. Franklin (10 st, 2nd Tm P10) became the Bruins' first 1,000 yd rusher s/'06 (1127, 5.3) while Coleman was #2 (487, 5.9). True frosh Malcolm Jones (PS#5) had 200 (3.6). LY the unit ret'd intact. Franklin just missed out on B2B 1,000 yd seasons with 976 (5.9, HM P12) and Coleman finished #2 with a solid 765 (5.0). Jones (fumble prob) only rushed for 103 (4.1) and rFr Jordon James (PS#11) had 54 (2.7). Not in the PSL are Damien Thigpen (5'8" 185 Jr, PS#50, MedRS LY) who could line up at RB or WR and Steven Manfro (5'11" 195 rFr, PS#202). TY they lose Coleman but remain one of the top RB units in the P12 and Franklin begins '12 just 1,063 rush yds away from breaking the UCLA career record.

RECEIVERS - In '08 true frosh Taylor Embree led an inexp'd unit with a UCLA frosh record 531 (13.3). In '09 soph Nelson Rosario (PS#38, 169, 15.4 '08) led with 723 (17.2). Embree improved to 608 (13.5). In '10 Embree led but with just 409 (12.8) while Rosario was #2 (309, 10.7). RFr Ricky Marvray was #4 (188, 9.4). ND transfer TE Joseph Fauria (PS#10) was never 100% (groin) and TE Cory Harkey started all 12 (140, 10.0). LY they added another VHT ND transfer Shaquelle Evans (PS#9) and walk-on Jerry Rice (son of HOF'r). Rosario became the first Bruin to top 1,000 s/'03 (Craig Bragg) with 1,161 (18.1) while Fauria was #2 (481, 12.3). Embree surprisingly dropped to 228 (11.4) and Evans was #3 (309, 16.3). Four WR's were susp'd for fighting vs AZ, so Rice got his first PT (2 rec vs Cal). TY they lose 3rd Tm P12 Rosario (13 st), Embree (1 st), TE Harkey (14 st, 1 rec) and Josh Smith (1 st, 243, 22.1). Despite losing their top guy, this still looks to be a quality unit with 4 VHT's.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '08 UCLA had to replace 4 st'rs. UCLA's new OL coach Bob Palcic summed it up by saying, "We're thin, we're young, we're inexp'd." UCLA used 9 diff starting combos and had their lowest ypg rush (83, 2.6) s/'85 while all'g 35 sks (8.1%). In '09 they had 3 st'rs back and added Colo transfer Kai Maiava (1st Tm Fr AA '07). They improved to 115 ypg (3.5, 29 sk). In '10, Maiava (12 st '09, ankle), G Jeff Baca (13 st '09, inel) and LT Xavier Su'a-Filo (PS#8, 13 st, mission) were all lost over the summer. With just 1 st'r back UCLA still improved to 176 ypg (4.4, 28 sk) after installing the Pistol. LY they had to replace 3 st'rs but got Maiava and Baca back so they had 4 who had been full-time st'rs. RG Chris Ward missed 8 sts and OT Sean Sheller (10 st '10) was lost after 3, forcing late JC signee Alberto Cid to start 6. UCLA had similar numbers at 178 ypg (4.5, 29 sk, 8.4%). TY they lose Sheller, LT Mike Harris (14 st, 3Y st'r) and 3rd Tm P12 C Maiava (13 st). They get back Su'a-Filo and add in a VHT PS#28JC (IFS) to look even stronger.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '10 UCLA had to replace the P10 DPOY (#2DC) and 2 other st'rs. The lone ret st'r Datone Jones RS. As you would expect, the Bruins had their worst rush D in 5 yrs (206 ypg, 5.2). LY they had to replace a starting DT (#6DC) and 2 bkps. They ret'd 6 who combined for 33 sts in '10 and had 8 VHT's incl Jones (13 st '09). I thought they would be among the most improved D-lines in the country. Unfortunately the unit was hampered by inj's and only improved to 191 ypg (5.2, 14 sk). UCLA is switching to a 3-4 TY. They lose DT Justin Edison (12 st, 9 tkl) and DT Nate Chandler (5 st, 16 tkl, 1 sk) but have 6 of the top 8 back (4 w/st exp) and add in NC transfer Brandon Willis (PS#14) who RS here in '10. Not in the PSL are Wesley Flowers (6'5" 254 So, PS#123) and Kevin McReynolds (6'3" 310 rFr, PS#32). I'll try this again and call for UCLA to have one of the most improved D-lines in the country.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 UCLA had to replace their #1 and #2 tkl'rs but ret'd their top LB Akeem Ayers (PS#20, #3 tkl'r, 6 sk, 8.5 tfl, 4 int). Ayers earned 1st Tm P10 but UCLA all'd 30.3 ppg (worst 5Y). LY they had to replace Ayers (#2DC, #4 tkl'r) and their MLB (#5) who was lost after 7 st. They return Jordan Zumwalt who st'd the last 4 (#8) and 2nd Tm P10 Sean Westgate (#2). The numbers were similar (31.4 ppg). TY the Bruins lose WLB Westgate (11 st, #8, 1.5 tfl, 3 int) and Glenn Love (5 st, #11, 4.5 tfl). They return their #1, #2 and #3 tkl'rs (3rd Tm P12) with 9 VHT's in the 3 deep making it a much more exp'd unit.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - In '10 UCLA had to replace a 1st Tm P10 CB (#4DC) but ret'd 6 of the top 8 and still plummeted to #71 (63%, 19-7) due to an inexp'd front 7. LY inj's hit the unit hard at S as Tony Dye (HM P10 '10) was lost after 5 sts and at one point UCLA was down to two 3rd stringers incl Tevin McDonald who tied the schl rec with 3 int vs Cal. Despite that UCLA moved back up to #41 (63.3%, 28-14). TY they lose Dye (23 tkl) and NB Jamie Graham (1 st, 3 tkl, inj'd) while Dietrich Riley (5 st, 36 tkl) will RS (neck inj). They return 7 who st'd LY (HM P12) and this should actually be one of the P12's better secondaries.

SPECIAL TEAMS - UCLA was the only tm to finish in the Top 10 of my ST rankings in each yr from '04-'07. In '08 they featured K Kai Forbath (19-22) and P Aaron Perez (36.2 net). Terrence Austin set a schl rec for all-purp yds (1,878) but they still dropped to #23. In '09 rFr P Jeff Locke avg 43.6 (38.0 net) while Forbath won the Lou Groza Award (28-31 FG) making 37 consec FG's under 50 into '10. UCLA was #10 in '09 and #20 in '10. LY they had to replace Forbath (85 car FG, 2 shy of NCAA rec). Locke (#1 FBS, 41.3 net!) ret'd and had a solid 38.7 net and 21 TB on 61 KO (avg KO 66.3 yds). Kip Smith hit 2-3 FG then was OFY (hip). Locke hit 2-3 FG and UCLA soccer team manager Tyler Gonzalez hit 7-11 (L44). Josh Smith had 1,132 KR yds (23.1) but the PR were below avg and surprisingly UCLA slipped to #92. TY they lose both Smith's (Kip and Josh) but return Locke and should move up in my ST rankings.

COACHES - Rick Neuheisel was hired in '08 following a 6-7 season but was let go 4 years later with a 21-29 record. The Bruins turned to the NFL and named Jim Mora, Jr the new HC. Mora spent most of the L2Y as an NFL analyst. He was an NFL HC for both the Seahawks ('09) and Falcons ('04-'06) and a 7 yr NFL DC (SEA & SF). The OC is Noel Mazzone who spent the L2Y as the OC at Ariz St and 9Y at Ole Miss and Auburn in that role. DC Lou Spanos also comes from the NFL (Redskins' LB cch L2Y, Steelers' asst 15 yrs).

PHIL'S FORECAST

In Karl Dorrell's 5th and final yr ('07), UCLA had an injury-plagued ssn and with a 28 yd FG blk'd on the final play of the bowl, they finished just 6-7. In '08 Neuheisel took over in a definite rebuilding yr (6 ret sts). His top 2 QB's were inj'd prior to '08 (UCLA 7-20 ratio). Neuheisel's first gm was a 27-24 OT upset of Tenn but they went 3-8 after that. That tm had 44 sts lost (6th highest) to inj. In '09 they were a more veteran unit (15 ret sts) and had been -10 in TO's in '08 and made my MIT List. When they beat Temple in the EagleBank Bowl, they finished 7-6. Despite their 3-6 P10 record they were only -15 ypg (6th best). In '10 UCLA had 5 P10 HG's but lost 6 of their top 10 tkl'rs and again were never really 100% healthy at QB. They had their 3rd consec losing ssn in conf play for the first time s/'43-'45 and were -124.9 ypg (2nd worst). UCLA finished just 4-8. LY numerous factors were pointing up. They were -11 in TO's in '10, had 58 sts lost to inj (3rd most), had 16 ret sts and figured to get healthier at QB. If I told Bruin fans prior to the ssn that UCLA would be in the inaugural P12 Title gm, odds are they would think it was a successful ssn but amazingly that was the case and yet UCLA finished 6-8 and Rick Neuheisel was axed prior to the bowl. UCLA was 3-16 in conf road gms (comb rec of tms beat 4-32) under Neuheisel. They lost to a potent Houston tm on the road by 4 then after getting past SJSt by 10, lost to Texas at home by 29. They got a key road win at Oregon St (27-19) and played closer than the final vs Stanford in a 45-19 loss. After beating WSU at home 28-25 (despite being outFD'd 28-15) UCLA got ambushed at Ariz 48-12 on a Thur night with the Cats playing with an interim HC. UCLA beat Cal by 17, then got the key win in the P12 South with ASU missing a 46 yd FG at the end (29-28). They had a 295-291 yd edge at Utah but lost by 25 in the snow, then destroyed Colo 45-6. Prior to stepping on the field at USC, UCLA had clinched the P12 South. USC showed who was the best tm in the South beating UCLA 50-0. Neuheisel was fired prior to the P12 Title gm and was carried off the field in practice. They gave great effort against UO but lost by 18. They were outgained 326-219 in the bowl and lost by 6. Jim Mora hopes to have some of that Pete Carroll magic coming over from NFL and inherits 16 ret sts. Despite playing in the P12 Title gm, UCLA was -26.7 ypg (8th best) and was -5 in TO's. UCLA does avoid Oregon and gets 5 P12 HG's and despite a 6-8 record LY, make my MIT List.

UCLA is 4-0 vs Rice but their last and only trip to Rice was in 1966. The Bruins are 2-5 since '06 (1st yr Pac-12 had 9 conf gm schedule) in reg ssn gms on the road vs non-conf opp's.

UCLA is 1-6 since 1973 vs Nebraska with the L/meeting in '94, Bruins lost 49-21. UCLA is 12-2 in home openers incl 5-2 vs BCS. The Bruins are 11-3 their last 14 gms hosting non-conf foes.

LY UCLA rallied from a 17 pt HT tms deficit to get within 3 into the 4Q. After a HOU td they trailed by 10 (9:31). UCLA missed a 32 yd fg and after scoring a td w/:40 left failed to recover the onside k.

UCLA has won 2 str and 7 of the L/9 gms vs OSU. LY UCLA led 21-3 late 2Q but allowed the gms next 16 pts. After going up by 8 the Bruins held on a 4&8 from their 22 (inc pass) w/2:12 to seal the victory.

Bruins are 2-1 in trips to Boulder but the LTH ('03) lost 16-14. UCLA led #24 CU 14-10 into the 4Q but all'd a 63/11 pl td drive (xp blk'd) w/2:15. UCLA muffed the KO and fired 4 str inc passes from their own 10.

Visitor is just 1-11. LTH the Bruins were handcuffed as they trailed 28-0 being outgained 246-58 at HT w/just 4 FD's. Into '12, UCLA is just 3-19 their last 22 Pac-12 road gms.

UCLA has dropped the L/2 ('07 & LY) after opening the series up 8-0. LY UCLA only trailed 7-3 at HT. The Bruins struggles in the 2H all'g a 67 IR td and were SOD at their own 45 & the UT 25.

Bonus: New HC Jim Mora was a grad asst at Washington in '84 (alma mater) and since '85 he has been involved in the NFL as an asst cch, HC (Falcons/Seahawks) and the L2Y as an analyst.

UCLA has dropped their L/2 trips to Tempe. LTH UCLA was up 17-0 but all'd 21 unanswered and never led again. The 55 pts all'd was a series high and QB Brehaut set the school rec's for pass att/comp (33-56).

LY UCLA faced a UA squad on a Thursday Night with an interim HC. UCLA trailed 42-7 at HT being outgained 431-187 as UA scored td's on all 6 poss. Into '12 UCLA is 8-3 (4-0 LY) hosting Pac-12 foes.

UCLA won 4 str vs WSU by an avg 20 ppg. LTH ('09) UCLA won 43-7 (led 29-0 late 3Q) w/a 28-7 FD & 556-181 yd edge.

UCLA's lone W the L13Y was at the Rose Bowl ('06) vs #2 USC. LY they suffered their worst series loss S/'30, 52-0.

The last time UCLA dropped 4 str vs SU was from 1928-'31. LY UCLA trailed 17-0 and never got within DD's the rest of the gm. The Bruins have won 4 str non-USC home finales by an avg 19 ppg.

UTAH UTES

RB John White

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - Utah produced the #1 overall pick in the '05 NFL Draft in Alex Smith. In '08 Brian Johnson led Utah to an undefeated ssn and a Sugar Bowl win. Terrance Cain led the NJCAA in passing yds in '08 and in '09 beat out true frosh Jordan Wynn (PS#52, IFS). Cain threw for 1,624 (64%, 11-5, #3 rusher) but in the 2H vs Wyo (gm 8) they took the RS off of Wynn and he sparked the victory. Wynn st'd the final 5 and the off avg'd 34.2 ppg (27.1 ppg prior). Wynn was the clear-cut st'r into '10 but sprained his thumb on the opener's 2nd series vs Pitt (still played). Cain st'd the next 2 (455, 77%, 5-0) but Wynn kept his job and threw for a career high 362 vs SDSt but was inj'd vs BYU and Cain played the entire bowl. Wynn threw for 2,334 (62%, 17-10). LY they got a late transfer of Jon Hays from Neb-Omaha. Wynn missed the spg (shoulder) and his throwing motion was a little different. He threw for 727 (56.9%, 6-2) over the 1st four but was OFY vs Wash. Hays was recruited here as an emergency QB and threw for 1,459 (56.1%, 12-8) while starting the L/9 as they began to rely more on the run gm. The 173 ypg pass was their lowest s/'84. TY they add in TWO VHT true Fr who were both IFS and Hays (6'0" 205 Sr) will likely move back to the bench. HC Whittingham said they've never been this deep at QB during his tenure and I expect much improved passing numbers.

RUNNING BACKS - In '09 Eddie Wide set a school rec with 6 consec 100 yd gms (1069, 5.3). In '10 Matt Asiata was granted a 6th yr (#1 rusher '08, miss 9 gm '09). Wide led with 717 (4.8) while Asiata had 695 (4.5). LY it appeared Utah was the only FBS tm with 0 ret RB rush yds but Tauni Vakapuna (79, 4.2 in '10) ret'd in the fall. They did bring in VHT's John White (PS#84JC) and true frosh Harvey Langi (PS#24). White was clearly the tm's best off player setting a schl record (Carl Monroe, 1507, '82) with 1,519 (4.8) on a schl rec 316 att (#3 FBS). The #2 rusher was WR Reggie Dunn with just 173 (11.5!). Vakapuna had just 104 (3.4) while Langi chipped in 70 (5.4). Also in the mix this year are Lucky Radley (5'8" 185 So, PS#112) and PS#24JC Kelvin York (orig commit USC). While it will be tough for White to top LY's numbers (cch's have admitted they relied on him too much), the team is vastly more experienced and boast one of the P12's best RB corps.

RECEIVERS - In '10 Utah had to replace David Reed (#5DC) who set the schl record for rec and rec yds (1188, 14.7). VHT DeVonte Christopher (PS#27) led with 660 (16.9). LY Christopher missed 2.5 gms (inj) and the offense struggled without him. He still led with 663 (15.8) while conv RB Luke Matthews finished #3 with 263 (15.5). RFr Dres Anderson (PS#147) was #2 (355, 15.4) and Reggie Dunn (PS#76JC) had 211 (14.1). TY they only lose Dexter Ransom (PS#40JC, 3 rec). Not listed below are Quinton Pedroza (6'2" 217 So, PS#183), Griff McNabb (5'7" 160 Jr) and TE's Jake Murphy (6'4" 255 So, PS#40, 2 st LY), David Rolf (6'4" 250 Sr, 2 st LY) and Westlee Tonga (6'4" 250 Jr) who was headed to DE before inj's hit the unit in spg '12. The TE coach called TY's group of TE the best he's had here. With the upgrades at QB, I look for this overall group to have a large jump in productivity.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '10 the Utes had to replace a 1st Tm AA LT (#2DC) but had 4 st'rs back and added in PS#18JC John Cullen. The unit paved the way for their best ypc rushing (4.6) s/'04 and all'd just 12 sks (3.0%). LY they had to replace a 1st Tm MW LG (#6DC, 4Y st'r) and 1st Tm MW C (3Y st'r). The slightly less exp'd group (63 car sts) saw their numbers drop to 138 ypg rush (3.8) with 33 sks (9.9%). Of course, the step up to the P12 was also a contributing factor. TY they lose 2nd Tm P12 LT Cullen (12 st, 2Y st'r) and 1st Tm P12 RT Tony Bergstrom (12 st, 3Y st'r, #3DC OAK) and unlike past years, do not have any All-Conf players back. However, HC Whittingham felt the OL's lack of size was one of '11's biggest problems, so he brought in two 330+ lb VHT JC's and a 6'5" 322 lb frosh VHT, all who are expected to have immediate impacts. They are still similar with 3 st'rs back (65 car sts) and could improve with the added size in their 2nd year in the P12.

DEFENSIVE LINE - This has been Utah's primary recruiting emphasis annually and they have sent many DL's to the NFL. In '10 they had to replace a #2DC but had 3 st'rs back and improved to allowing 112 ypg rush (3.2). LY they had to replace a 1st Tm MW DE, 2nd Tm MW DT and 2 bkps (6 sts). They had 5 back w/st exp. You would figure that with losing your top 2 DL's and moving up to a BCS conf, the numbers would regress but they stayed the same (114 ypg, 3.2, 30 sk). Star Lotulelei (3 st '10) earned P12 DLPOY as the 325 lb NT had 44 tkls and 9 tfl. TY they lose 1st Tm P12 DE Derrick Shelby (13 st, 55 tkl, 10 tfl), DE Tevita Finau (4 st, 37 tkl, 3 sk) and DT James Aiono (2 st, 2 tkl). They have 3 back who had 7+ sts including their top guy and this is one of the P12's top DL's.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 Utah had to replace its #1 tkl'r (#5DC) and 2 other st'rs (#2, #11 tkl'rs). This unit was my biggest ? on the team with the 3 proj st'rs comb for 24 tkls in '09. They still all'd just 20.3 ppg. LY they had to replace 1 st'r (#7 tkl'r) but did return the #1 and #2 tkl'rs plus added S Brian Blechen (13 st '10, PS#92). Blechen moved back to SS after 4 sts at SLB so the unit basically had 2 ret sts. Despite being more exp'd, the Utes allowed 20.2 ppg. TY they lose RLB Matt Martinez (13 st, #2 tkl'r, 8 tfl), 2nd Tm P12 MLB Chaz Walker (12 st, #1 w/118, 3.5 tfl), JJ Williams (19 tkl) and Nai Fotu (5 tkl, 2 sk). It will be interesting to see if this unit, while less exp'd, will continue to hover around that 20 ppg mark.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - The Utes' young secondary finished #4 in my PDR in '07. They had 9 of their top 10 back in '08 and finished #22. In '09 they had to replace #2 and #6DC's but ret'd a pair of sub-4.4 CB's. The Utes finished #10. In '10 they had to replace a 1st Tm MW FS (#5DC), a CB (#7DC) and their SS. This time the Utes performed as expected (1 ret st'r) finishing #86. LY they had to replace a 2nd Tm MW CB (#5DC), their other CB (#3 tkl'r) and their FS (#5 tkl'r) plus they moved SS Blechen to LB. The unit had 3 career sts although Blechen returned after 4 gms (9 st SS). FS Keith McGill was lost after 5 but the Utes performed above expectations leading the P12 in int with 19 (6th FBS). TY they lose CB Conroy Black (12 st, 39 tkl, 4 int, 1 IR td) and Greg Bird (1 st, 24 tkl). Not listed below are CB's Chandler Johnson (6'0" 177 So), Wykie Freeman (5'11" 175 Jr) and S Tyron Morris-Edwards (6'1" 200 So). It will probably be another atypical year as this is a more exp'd group (8 w/st exp) but it will be tough to match LY's #7 finish.

SPECIAL TEAMS - Whittingham generally produces a fine ST unit (#16 in '06, #23 in '07 and #20 in '08). In '09 they had to replace their outstanding K/P Louie Sakoda. Joe Phillips hit 20-22 FG's (L48). P Sean Sellwood avg 42.9 (net 37.0) and they finished #38. In '10 Shaky Smithson topped Steve Smith's schl rec for PR yds (#1 FBS, 19.1 PR, 24.1 KR). Phillips made a schl rec 18 consec FG's (over 2 yrs) and hit 13-17 (L48) but Sellwood had 3 punts blk'd (41.0, 33.8 tm net) and that's the reason that Utah finished "only" #5. LY they lost Smithson and Phillips. K Coleman Petersen did miss 2 of his first 4 FG but then hit 10 in a row and was 17-21 before 3 costly misses vs Colo (3 pt loss). Sellwood improved his avg to 45.0 (super tm net 39.7). Utah finished #24 and with everyone back, have a great shot of Whittingham's 6th Top 25 finish in 7 yrs.

COACHES - Kyle Whittingham replaced Urban Meyer in '05 after a perfect 12-0 ssn and 4 yrs later topped that with his own 13-0 record. Whittingham spent 11 ssns here as an asst (10 as DC) before becoming HC. When 66 yd old OC Norm Chow left, former Ute QB Brian Johnson accepted the position 2 wks before his 25th birthday. The 4th year DC is Kalani Fifita Sitake who's been on staff here s/'05 and his unit led the P12 in scoring D LY.

PHIL'S FORECAST

In '04 I mentioned that 4 of my then 7 sets of power ratings called for the Utes to have an unbeaten season and they achieved that AND became the first BCS buster. They outscored foes 45.2-19.5 (+132 ypg) as their closest gm was a 14 pt win. Utah's #4 finish was their highest ever and Urban Meyer left for Florida. It took Kyle Whittingham 4 yrs to get back to that level. In '08 BYU was the consensus pick to win the MW (my mag was the only one to pick Utah to win the MW outright). I picked the Utes as my top non-BCS team and BYU fans bombarded PhilSteele.com questioning my overall football IQ. After Utah went unbeaten (beat Bama in Sugar Bowl) they received 16 AP #1 votes finishing #2 and were the only undefeated FBS tm. After a solid 10-3 season in '09 (#18) the Utes rolled to an 8-0 start (#6) in '10 and had a showdown with #4 TCU. With a 2nd BCS bowl within reach, they were thrashed at home. They then lost 28-3 in a letdown spot vs an ND team off a bye. At 10-2 playing without QB Wynn they lost to Boise. LY they made the long awaited jump to the Pac-12. I pointed out some key indicators as to why their 3 yr streak of DD wins would end despite the fact they did not have to play either Oregon or Stanford out of the North. The Utes benefitted from 4 net close wins in '10 and were taking a large step up in competition. They also had just 12 ret sts. They only had a 292-258 yd edge vs Mont St then at USC they lined up for the game winning FG but it was blk'd and ret'd for a TD. They were +5 in TO's and won 54-10 vs BYU despite being outgained at half. At home vs UW and ASU they were a comb'd -9 in TO's and lost by 17 and 21. At Pitt they were +3 in TO's on a windy day and won by 12 (251-120 yd edge). Cal dominated them 34-10 which dropped them to 0-4 in the P12. They beat OSU at home by 19, AZ on the road by 13, UCLA at home in the snow 31-6 and were fortunate to get past WSU in OT (WSU settled for a 17 yd FG to force OT). Utah then missed 3 FG's and lost to Colo at home. Had they won that gm, they would have been in the P12 Title gm. They had extra time to prep for GT's option in the bowl and while they were outgained 449-337, they won 30-27 in OT to finish 8-5. Utah was +20 in TO's in their wins and -10 in their losses. They have 16 ret sts and again avoid UO and SU. They were +10 in TO's LY, had beneficial off (12.4) and def (17.4) ypp's, play 5 P12 AG's and were -77.9 ypg in P12 play LY (2nd worst). However TY's Utah squad is even stronger and make it to their 10th str bowl game.

Utah is 2-0 vs UNC but the L/meeting was in 1937. Utes are 17-4 in home openers. The Bears went 0-11 LY incl a 33-14 loss at Col St and have suffered 8 str losing ssns (combined 15-74 in that span).

110th meeting. After playing every ssn from 1944-'09 this series took a hiatus the L2Y. Utah has won 12 str by an avg 24 ppg. LTH ('08) the Utes won 58-10 w/a 30-8 FD and 461-116 yd edge!

Rivalry has been decided by a td or less in 12 of L/15. "Holy War" has been played every yr S/'46 (88th meeting). HT is 4-1 but LY in Provo, Utah forced 7 TO's that led to 30 pts (just 41 yds) in the 44 pt win.

The last time Utah beat ASU in Tempe was in their last series win in 1976 (0-6 since). LTH ('93) Utah was shutout 38-0 under HC Ron McBride. Since 1980 Utah is 0-5 the next reg ssn gm following BYU.

Bonus: HC Kyle Whittingham is a 1984 graduate of BYU.

Utah is 3-7 vs USC (1-1 S/2000). LY in their inaugural P12 gm Utah was lining up for a 41 yd fg down 17-14 but USC blk'd the kick and ret'd it 68 yds for a td on the gms final play.

Utah lost the first 8 gms but has won the L2 (both at home). LTH ('06) Utah only trailed 14-10 at HT but in the 2H mustered just 3 FD's (they were 0-11 on 3rd down for the game).

Utes have won 5 of L/7 but both of the losses came in Corvallis incl LTH (24-7 '07's ssn opener). Gm was tied 7-7 at HT but in the 2H the Utes had just 62 yds punting on their first 6 poss.

LY without their QB Utah could only generate 57 yds in the first 3Q's (trailed 34-0). Utah was 2-3 hosting P12 foes LY, in their 12 yrs as a MW member they had just one ssn finishing under .500 in conf HG's (33-12).

HT has gone 0-3. LY WSU scored the final 10 pts in reg (17 yd fg last play). After an int in OT Utah hit a 38 yd fg.

Utah is 0-7 vs UW with the avg score 25-9 but their L/trip to Seattle was in 1979 (lost 41-7).

Utah has won 3 str. LY they were outgained by 125 yds but had 2 int's, 2 blk'd punts & foiled a UA fake fg.

Utah won their L/visit to Boulder 21-12 but that was back in 1961. LY Utah trailed 10-0 at HT.

ARIZONA WILDCATS

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - UA has not had a QB make 1st Tm P10/P12 since joining the conf in '78. In '07 Willie Tuitama set single ssn rec for yds (3,683), att (524), comp (327) and td's (28-12 ratio). True frosh Matt Scott (PS#15) was the bkp to Tuitama in '08 and ply'd in 6 (7-11-84) finishing as the #3 rusher (188, 8.2). Tuitama departed as the UA car pass leader and Scott battled Mich St trans Nick Foles (PS#33) in '09. Scott has a cannon for an arm but needed to work on his accuracy, while Foles was a pure pocket passer. Scott st'd the first 3 of '09 but Foles st'd at Oreg St and threw for 254 (3 td). Foles later hit 78% vs Stanf (40-51) topping Tuitama's '07 rec. He guided UA to a 2nd place tie in the P10 throwing for 2,486 (63%, 19-9). Scott threw for 441 (57%, 1-3, #3 rusher). In '10 Foles, despite missing UW and UCLA (knee), threw for 3,191 (67%, 20-10). Scott moved the tm well in his 2 sts adding mobility to the QB spot and was the #4 rusher (135, 3.9) while improving his accuracy (71%, 776, 4-2). LY they were able to RS Scott. Foles, despite a young O-line, led the P12 in passing and reset all of UA's pass records (4334, 69.1%, 28-14). Bryson Beirne actually st'd the bowl but after an int a banged up Foles (ribs) played the rest of the gm. TY they lose Foles (1st Cats QB drafted as a QB s/'62, #3DC PHI), as well as Beirne and 2 other projected bkps who opted to trans when Rodriguez was hired with Scott (4-1 as st'r, tm avg 462 ypg in those as the lone returnee with WR Richard Morrison and 2 walk-on bkps in spg. In Rich Rodriguez's 1st yrs at WV and Mich he went through growing pains as he did not have a QB suited for his offense, but here he inherits the perfect fit in Scott and I look for him to have a big year.

RUNNING BACKS - In '09 UA's RB corps was hit hard by inj with Nic Grigsby finishing #2 with 567 (7.2). Soph Keola Antolin (PS#39) led with 637 (5.6). Both ret'd in '10 and Antolin finished #1 with 668 (4.7). Grigsby was #2 with 533 (4.5) while Greg Nwoko was #3 (270, 4.7). LY they had to replace Grigsby but added true frosh Ka'Deem Carey (PS#32) and soph Daniel Jenkins (PS#61). Antolin, who gained 13 lbs of muscle, st'd all 12 and rushed for 568 (4.5) behind an inexp'd O-line while Carey rushed for 425 (4.7). Jenkins, despite being just 5'9" 195, ran with the most power of the top 3 RB's (176, 5.7). The FB was not really used in the offense the last few years but will be now and Taimi Tutogi could be another Owen Schmitt-type (Rich Rod's FB at WV) as could 6'1" 237 Sr Greg Nwoko who missed '11 with a torn ACL. TY they lose Antolin but with a more veteran OL and more emphasis on the run, I'll call for improved rushing numbers and a 1,000 yd season from Carey.

RECEIVERS - In '09 UA had to replace their #3 career rec Mike Thomas. Soph Juron Criner led with 582 (12.9). In '10 Criner emerged as the Pac-10's top WR as his 1,233 yds (15.0) were the best here s/'02 (Bobby Wade). David Douglas was #2 with 515 (9.9) while David Roberts finished #3 (487, 11.1). LY the top 4 all ret'd incl Terrence Miller (345, 11.9). Criner missed 1 (appendectomy) but still led with 956 (12.7, 11 td). Douglas was #2 again (666, 10.2) and Gino Crump finished #3 with 610 (9.4). They added Texas trans Dan Buckner (PS#11) who only st'd 1 but finished #4 with 606 (14.4). TY they do lose their star in Criner (11 st, #5DC OAK) as well as Roberts (5 st), Douglas (9 st) and Crump (11 st). With the loss of their top guy and a more run based attack, I look for a significant drop after LY's top 5 rec's comb for 3,251 (13.2).

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '10 UA had an exp'd OL but underperformed my expectations as the #'s dropped to 132 ypg rush (3.9) while they all'd 32 sks (6.1%). LY this unit was my biggest concern as they only had 1 car st back after having to replace 5 full-time st'rs incl two 1st Tm P10 OL. The rush numbers fell to 95 ypg (3.4) but surprisingly allowed just 23 sks (4.0%) with 10 of those coming vs Stan and Oreg in Wks 3&4. TY the entire 2 deep returns (61 career sts). UA shifts from pass blocking to run blocking in the Rodriguez offense, but they retained their OL coach Robert Anae (BYU OC '05-10). This should be one of the country's most improved O-lines.

DEFENSIVE LINE - Only twice from '92-'10 did the Cats allow over 3.9 ypc rush. Once was in '05 (4.6) and the 2nd came in '08 when they had to replace all 4 st'rs. That '08 D all'd 131 ypg rush (4.1) with 24 sks. In '09 they had 7 of the top 8 back but didn't meet my expectations only improving to 120 ypg (3.9, 34 sk). In '10 they had to replace 2 st'rs (#3DC). They did have one of the best DE combos in the country in Ricky Elmore (10.5 sk '09) and Brooks Reed. The #'s slipped a little to 132 ypg rush (33 sk) but they did trim the ypc to 3.6. Elmore (#6DC) led the P10 in sks (11) while Reed (#2 DC) added 6.5. Both departed LY as did a starting DT. LY's lone ret st'r, Justin Washington, st'd just 6 after battling an illness over the summer that made him lose weight and strength. Given that criteria, it is not surprising UA had their worst rush D s/'05 yielding 162 ypg (4.7, 10 sk, t-2nd fewest FBS). TY they lose DE CJ Parish (9 st, 32 tkl, 3 sk) and DE Mohammed Usman (7 st, 19 tkl, 1 sk) but shift to a 3-man front and return 7 players w/st exp to the new 3-3-5. They also get back Ohio St transfer Willie Mobley (PS#12) who missed last year (ACL) and look much stouter up front in '12.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 the unit was wiped out losing all 3 st'rs (#2, #4, #9 tkl'r) as they ret'd just 16 car tkls. Mike Stoops signed PS#15 & PS#111 JC's who were IFS (both st'd). UA all'd 22.7 ppg despite the unit's inexp. LY they had 2 st'rs back but had to replace all 3 bkps then Jake Fischer (8 st, 58 tkl '10) tore his ACL. Proj'd starting SLB rFr Kyle Benson was ineligible. The 2 ret st'rs, who were the previous yr's JUCO's, finished #1 and #2 in tkls. Rob Hankins (compared to AZ legend Tedy Bruschi) became the first true frosh to start an opener s/'07 (Rob Gronkowski). He was overwhelmed at times (3 st, 10 tkl) however and AZ allowed 35.4 ppg. TY they lose Derek Earls (12 st, #1 tkl'r, 7 tfl), Paul Vassallo (12 st, #2, 5 tfl) and Bilal Muhammed (6 tkl) but have 4 of the top 6 back. They also add in Akron trans Brian Wagner (1st Tm MAC '09 and '11) who had 132, 130 and 147 tkls in 3Y at Akron. Despite the loss of their top 2 and being somewhat thin, this unit could be improved.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - UA almost always finishes strong in my PDR as from '05-'10 they finished #21, #35, #23, #15, #34 and #38. LY they had to replace 2 st'rs then FS Adam Hall (8 st '10) tore his ACL (spg) and made just 1 st. It was still surprising that they had their lowest finish (#93, 65.9%, 22-11) in my PDR s/'03. TY they lose S Robert Golden (12 st, 69 tkl, 6 pd) and 2nd Tm P12 CB Trevin Wade (11 st, 52 tkl, 2 int, 13 pbu, #7DC CLE). Jonathan McKnight (best pure cover corner here) was lost (ACL) in Aug and he returns although Hall suffered another torn ACL to the same knee in spg and his ssn seems in doubt. This unit has 2 ret sts like in '11 but should be able to move up to their more accustomed finish in my PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - Stoops inherited a unit that finished #106 in my ST rankings in '03 and his units were #78, #52, #10, #22, #9, #22, #58 but then #119 LY. UA had to replace their P, top KR and PR but ret'd their K, Alex Zendejas (14-19, in '10). He was beaten out by Jaime Salazar 10 days before the opener. Salazar hit just 1-4 FG (L27) which doesn't incl an att that was scuttled by a bad snap (new LS LY). Zendejas (1-2, L28) reclaimed the job but missed an xp and had another blk'd vs USC. KO specialist John Bonano took over and hit 8-12 FG (L47) with 22 TB on 67 KO. New P Kyle Dugandzic (PS#117JC) avg a solid 46.0 (tm net 33.8). UA can only improve with Rodriguez, whose ST rankings were #48 and #15 in his 1st yr at WV and UM.

COACHES - Mike Stoops was here for 8 yrs and got UA to their 1st bowl in 10Y and 3 str post-ssn appearances, but was let go after a 1-5 start LY. They bring in Rich Rodriguez who has had the best of times ('05-'07 at WV, 31-5) and worst of times ('08-'10, 15-22 at UM & not a "Michigan Man"). Co-OC Calvin Magee has been with RR s/'01 (LY co-OC at Pitt). Co-OC Rod Smith has been under Rodriguez s/'07 (LY co-OC Indy). Jeff Casteel has run WV's D s/'02 and brings his unique 3-3-5 stack to the desert.

PHIL'S FORECAST

Arizona joined the conf in '78 and of the orig P10 members, are the only tm that has not been to the Rose Bowl. UA was ranked #4 in the '99 pressn polls but stumbled to 6-6 and then went through 9 str yrs without a winning ssn (39-65) incl a surprising 9-28 at home in P10 play. In Mike Stoops' 5th yr they made my MIT List and finally broke through as they went from 5-7 to 8-5 landing their first bowl s/'98 and defeating #17 BYU 31-21. Their 5 losses were by an avg of 5.6 ppg and they were +57.8 ypg in P10 play (5th best). In '09 they improved to 8-4 but lost their bowl 33-0 to Neb. In '10 they had 5 P10 HG's and expectations were high. For the first time s/'98 they were ranked in the AP poll for 5 consec wks and got off to a 7-1 start (also best s/'98) rising as high as #9. The ssn drastically changed and with some hard luck losses, they dropped their final 5 slipping to 7-6. UA was +56.6 ypg in conf play (3rd best) despite their 4-5 P10 record. In '10 they only had 5 sts lost to inj and LY only had 10 ret sts while having to replace all 5 starting OL. UA drew both Oreg and Stanf out of the North (also Okla St on the non-conf). Ariz rolled over NAriz in the opener but then as expected, lost to those 3 Top 10 tms in a row by a comb 130-55. They trailed USC 34-12 in the 3Q but only lost by 7 then with little left in the tank were upset at Oreg St by 10. At 1-5 after playing a killer schedule, Stoops was fired during the bye. Interim HC Tim Kish had them fired up for a Thur night ambush of UCLA (48-12). UA had a 31-28 4Q lead vs UW but lost by 11. They had a 215-190 yd edge at HT vs Utah but lost by 13 as Utah blk'd 2 punts and Ariz was -3 in TO's and botched a FG. Winds gusted to 70+ mph at Colo and they lost by 19. They rallied from a 27-17 4Q deficit to upset rival ASU, then Foles threw for 352 in his FHG to beat Louisiana (45-37) to finish 4-8. In each of Rich Rodriguez's previous coaching debuts, he has not had a QB that fit his system. He now inherits one in Matt Scott who will operate behind a veteran O-line. UA has just 12 ret sts but despite a 2-7 P12 record were only -11.9 ypg and -5 in TO's LY. This is a great situation for Rich Rod to step into as the P12 does not often see his style of offense or his 3-3-5 stack def and he has the ingredients for 1st yr success. Check out pg 19 to see if UA made my MIT List.

Arizona is 3-0 vs Toledo incl a 41-2 win in the L/meeting (2010's ssn opener). UA had a 518-183 yd and 25-10 FD edge. The Wildcats have won 11 str home openers by an avg 27 ppg.

This will mark the 3rd time UA will play OSU in their L/15 gms but the L/gm in Tucson was in 1942 (also UA's last series win). LY UA trailed 21-0 at HT being outgained 297-148.

First meeting. The Bulldogs went 7-4 LY incl losses to Central Mich (21-6) and Indiana (38-21). Entering '12, UA is 12-6 in non-conf gms since the Pac-10/12 went to a 9 gm conf schedule.

UA is 1-8 their L/9 trips to Eugene. LTH the Wildcats had a 19-14 HT lead but allowed 34 2H pts (377 yds). Arizona has lost 10 str road openers vs BCS teams by an avg 21 ppg.

UA is just 2-11 vs OSU. LY the Wildcats trailed 27-6 at HT but cut the deficit to 30-27 early 4Q. The Wildcats had a 431-408 edge but were -2 TO & had a P blk'd & returned for a td.

LTH marked the first meeting when both were ranked. The Wildcats trailed 14-0 early and could never get closer then 11 pts the rest of the way in the one-sided affair. UA is just 2-7 vs SU.

Bonus: Into 2012, the Wildcats are 9-14 the L5Y on the Pac-12 road.

The HT in this series has won 4 str. LY the Wildcats had a 10-0 lead into the 2Q and were up 31-28 w/14:10 left. UA's L/4 drives ended in a punt, fumble at midfield, int at W18 and int at A37.

UA is just 1-9 vs USC. LY UA trailed 34-12 w/12:57 3Q but cut the deficit to just a td 3 different times, the last w/1:00 left in 4Q but their on-side kick att failed and USC took a knee.

UA has won a series high 5 str vs UCLA. LTH UA had a ssn high 32 FD's and 583 yds but had to hold off a 2H comeback (led 19-7 at HT). LY's UA win was the 1st gm under interim HC Kish.

UA is 1-13 vs CU. LY in 60+ mph wind gusts UA trailed the entire gm never getting any closer than 11 pts in the 2H.

LTH ('05) UA trailed 27-10 late 3Q but cut it to 3 w/9:23 4Q. UA's L/2 poss ended in a punt & int in Ute territory w/:06.

In the L3Y this instate rivalry has not been decided until the final play. LY trailing by DD's in the 4Q, UA went on 94 & 61 yd B2B td drives. ASU got a FD at the A15 but UA held on 3&10 as time exp'd (inc EZ pass).

ARIZONA ST SUN DEVILS

RG Andrew Sampson

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - Brock Osweiler (6'8") orig committed to play basketball at Gongaza and was IFS for '09. When the st'rs struggled, the crowd began to chant "we want Brock." Osweiler came off the bench in Wk 8 vs USC to guide a 3Q td drive. His first st was in Autzen Stadium vs Oregon but he was banged up in the 2Q (did not st L/2). Osweiler threw for 249 (44%, 2-2). In '10 it was a 3 man battle and then HC Dennis Erickson went with the exp of Steven Threet (PS#26) who st'd 8 at Mich in '08. Threet was inconsistent (2534, 62%, 18-16) with the 3rd most int in the FBS. Osweiler entered mid-1Q vs UCLA (Threet inj'd) trailing 10-0 and guided the comeback victory (380, 4 td, P10 OPOW). He then st'd vs AZ guiding another win in 2OT. Osweiler threw for 797 (57%, 5-0, #3 rusher, 124). LY Threet retired and true frosh Mike Bercovici was IFS and won the #2 spot (3 gm, 3 att). Osweiler was the P12's #2 passer throwing for 4,036 (63.2%, 26-13) incl 487 vs AZ. Osweiler's early departure to the NFL (#2DC DEN) means a young QB will be leading the new off. Battling Bercovici are Taylor Kelly (2 gm, 4 att), Danny Lewis (6'4" 214 rFr) and rFr Michael Eubank (PS#30). The 6'5" 242 physical speciman Eubank was actually recruited by Graham at Pitt and has the perfect fundamentals for the new offensive scheme. While this is a talented group, it will be tough to match Osweiler's production.

RUNNING BACKS - In '10 ASU had to replace 4 of their top 5 and the battle was between workout beast Cameron Marshall (PS#93, 280, 4.4 '09, father is a professional trainer) and Deantre Lewis (PS#65). Marshall led with 787 (5.2) while Lewis added 539 (5.9) and was also the #5 rec (370, 16.1). LY both ret'd and I proj'd ASU could have its first 1,000 yd rusher here under Erickson. Marshall delivered with 1,050 (4.6) and 18 td's tying an ASU rec (Woody Green '72, Terry Battle '96). Lewis RS recovering from a gunshot wound. Jamal Miles (PS#70) and Kyle Middlebrooks (PS#166) were both used as hybrid RB/WR's and had 237 (8.2!) and 150 (3.6) respectively. James Morrison (5'11" 213 Sr) has 125 (4.3) the L2Y. Not only are Marshall and Lewis back but they add in true frosh and JUCO VHT's making this one of the top RB units in the country.

RECEIVERS - In '10 ASU had to replace its top 2 rec's who comb for 1,488 (13.2). The leading returnees were Kerry Taylor (PS#34, 276, 12.0) and Gerell Robinson (PS#11, 261, 10.0). Taylor led with 699 (12.9) but surprisingly Robinson was just #4 (387, 13.3). Mike Willie (PS#64JC) brought some physicality to the group (442, 12.3). LY they lost Taylor then #2 rec TJ Simpson (481, 16.6) was lost with a torn ACL. Robinson took charge and had the first 1,000 yd ssn here since Derek Hagan ('05) leading the P12 in rec yds with 1,397 (18.1!). Aaron Pflugrad had 329 (11.3) in '10 and was #2 LY with 665 (15.1). Willie was #3 (455, 12.6). Jamal Miles was the only player in the country to score a TD via rec, KR, PR and to throw a td pass and he finished #2 in rec's w/60 (6.0). TY they lose Willie (12 st), Pflugrad (13 st), Robinson (12 st), George Bell (2 st, 211, 11.7) and TE Trevor Kohl (2 st, 6 rec). Adding depth are Gary Chambers (6'3" 198 rFr, PS#138) and Kevin Anderson (5'9" 175 So, PS#87). LY ASU lost their top 2 rec's, but the top 3 returnees combined for 1,199 yds. TY they lose their top 3 rec's and the top 3 returnees combined for just 784 making this unit down a couple of notches.

OFFENSIVE LINE - Dennis Erickson had a banged up O-line in each of his first 3 yrs. After allowing 55 sks in '07, they trimmed that number to 34 and 27. In '10 they lost a 2nd Tm P10 LT (#3DC) and 2 other st'rs then lost LT Jon Hargis (2Y st'r, ACL spg). The inexp line (seven '09 sts ret) actually improved to 139 ypg rush (4.0, 31 sk, 6.7%). LY the unit ret'd intact but LT Evan Finkenberg missed 3 (inj) and LG Mike Marcisz missed 1. Despite being more exp'd, their numbers were similar (129 ypg, 4.0, 28 sks). TY they lose 1st Tm P12 C Garth Gerhart (13 st, 3Y st'r), LG Marcisz (10 st, 2Y st'r), RT Dan Knapp (13 st, 2Y st'r), RT Aderious Simmons (3 st, 6 st '10) and LG Adam Tello (3 st, 9 car st). ASU has just 2 OL st'rs back (47 car sts) but since LY's numbers were underwhelming, the numbers could improve despite learning a new system.

DEFENSIVE LINE - ASU usually has a solid rush D and in '09 with 2 st'rs back they yielded 109 ypg (3.4). In '10 they ret'd 6 of their top 8 (lost 1st Tm P10 DE). I thought it would be one of the P10's best D-lines and ASU had the #1 rush def in the P10 (120 ypg, 3.2). True frosh Junior Onyeali (PS#55) was the P10 Fr DPOY starting 5 gms (6.5 sk). LY they had to replace both starting DT's (#7DC) and 2 bkp (comb 5 sts). Erickson regarded Onyeali as the team's best pass rusher but he had surgery (meniscus tear) and was not 100% (miss 4, 11 tkl, 1 sk) and James Brooks (7 st '10) left in Aug. With 1 st'r back, ASU slipped to 149 ypg (4.3, worst s/'05) with just 26 sks. TY they lose HM P12 DE Jamaar Jarrett (13 st, 35 tkl, 2 sk) and DT Bo Moos (13 st, 35 tkl, 2 sk). Onyeali shifts to LB in the new 3-3-5 so despite having just 1 st'r back, they add in 340 lb JC Mike Pennel (PS#39) and figure to actually be stronger.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 ASU had to replace 2nd Tm P10 Mike Nixon (#1 tkl'r '08 and '09) and their #3 tkl'r (#6DC). They returned Vontaze Burfict who lived up to his PS#3 billing and was a P10 Fr DPOY as a true in '09 (69 tkl, 7 tfl). With just 1 st'r back to this unit, the D all'd 25.0 ppg (most 4Y). LY they had to replace 2 LB's (comb 1 st, 35 tkl). They then lost WLB Brandon Magee (PS#37, 11 st 10, #2 tkl'r) in Aug (Achilles) so 2 st'rs were back. Burfict's temper drew numerous pen's in his career and he also struggled with weight issues. Erickson called WLB Colin Parker by far their best def player. TY they lose HM P12 Parker (13 st, #1 tkl'r, 6 tfl), 3rd Tm P12 Burfict (12 st, #2 tkl'r, 5 sk), SLB Shelly Lyons (8 st, #6 tkl'r) and SLB Oliver Aaron (4 st, #5, 8 tfl). The leading returning LB from LY had just 13 tkls but they get Magee back and add in DE Onyeali (susp spg) and a PS#35JC. This unit is more exp'd and talented than you would think with the loss of their top 2 def players.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - ASU finished #34, #5, #20 and #16 in my PDR from '06-'09. In '10 they had to replace 4 DB (comb 38 sts) but thanks to inj's in '09, ret'd 4 w/st exp incl Omar Bolden (21 st '07-'08, 2 in '09). The less exp'd secondary finished just #74. LY they had to replace 1.5 st'rs and dropped to #81 (65.8%, 21-15). TY they lose SS Clint Floyd (12 st, 69 tkl, 4 int, 3 pbu), FS Eddie Elder (11 st, 66 tkl, 1 int, 4 pbu) and Bolden (#4DC DEN, DNP '11, ACL). The unit is on par with '11 in terms of experience, but I would expect a move up in my PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - ASU finished #44 in my ST rankings in '07, #70 in '08 and #57 in '09. K Thomas Weber hit 17-24 FG's (2-2 from 50+) and that helped ASU move up to #11 in '10. LY they had to replace Weber as well as their P and top KR. Jamal Miles led the P12 in PR (16.6) and was #2 in KR (26.3) with 3 comb td's! Josh Hubner took over at P and avg 41.3 (net 37.2). RFr Alex Garoutte (PS#38) hit 15-22 FG (L49) and had 9 TB on 82 KO. They slipped to #35. TY all of the key players return and even with a new HC, this should continue to be one of the better ST units in the country.

COACHES - Dennis Erickson took over in '07 and became the 1st ASU HC to have his tm ranked in his 1st ssn but in the next 4 yrs lacked that success (21-28) and was let go. It looked as if SMU's June Jones would be the new HC but after negative backlash from the alumni, his offer was pulled and they chose Todd Graham. Graham has been criticized as he left both Rice ('06) and Pitt ('11) after just 1 ssn. He was Tulsa's HC for 4Y (36-17). The OC is Mike Norvell who has been with Graham for 5 yrs. Norvell st'd as an Off grad asst and WR cch, then pass gm coor before being co-OC LY at Pitt. Co-DC Paul Randolph, has foll'd Graham from Rice to Tulsa to Pitt serving as the Panthers co-DC LY. Co-DC Ron West (30 yrs exp, LB cch L2Y III) was Graham's Co-DC at Tulsa in '09.

PHIL'S FORECAST

In '06 ASU made it to their 3rd str bowl (7-6) for the first time s/'85-'87 but HC Dirk Koetter was fired prior to the bowl. Dennis Erickson inherited 9 ret sts on offense incl QB Rudy Carpenter in '07. Despite coming off a 4-5 year in P10 play, I looked at ASU's sked and said in my forecast that they had a great shot at opening the year 8-0! The Sun Devils did not disappoint. Five times ASU overcame DD deficits and when they knocked off #18 Cal at home, they moved to 8-0 (#6). They lost to Oregon and USC and were blown out by Texas in the Holiday Bowl (finish 10-3, #16). There were numerous factors pointing downward in '08. While they were P10 co-champs in '07 at 7-2, they were only +10.1 ypg and had just 13 ret sts. While I did not have the Sun Devils in my pressn Top 25, they were #15 AP. They finished just 5-7. It looked like a rebuilding yr in '09 (13 st'rs back) but they opened 4-2. At that point I forecasted on PhilSteele.com that ASU would drop their final 6 and they did (4-8). They had 3 net close losses and despite their 2-7 P10 record were +15.2 ypg. In '10 they had to play 5 AG's and hosted P10 Champ Oregon. They improved to 6-6 and nearly pulled a couple of big upsets. LY ASU looked like they would have 18 ret sts but between spg and Sept, lost 4 (14 ret sts). They did have 5 P12 HG's and were the media's favorite to win the P12 South. ASU rolled over UC Davis 48-14 then got past Missouri in OT, 37-30. They did have a 362-240 yd edge at Illinois but lost by 3 (9 drives in Illini terr, 2 scores). They beat USC by 21, Oreg St by 15 and Utah on the road by 21. After a close loss at Oregon (14) they whipped Colo 48-14 to move to 6-2 (#20) and were in clear control of the South. UCLA got a td with :49 left and ASU missed a 46 yd FG at the end and lost by 1. Their gm vs WSU was the first time ASU played on a snow covered field s/'70 (Peach Bowl) and they lost by 10. They led Ariz 27-17 in the 4Q (548-494 yd edge) but lost another close one by 4. When Colo beat Utah it eliminated ASU from the P12 South chase and they lost to Cal at home to fall to 6-6. ASU fired Erickson prior to the bowl. A couple of big plays put Boise up big and ASU lost the MAACO Bowl, 56-24. The hiring of Graham was controversial (see Coaches). ASU had 2 net close losses LY and were 5th in the P12 at -0.3 ypg. They benefitted from +9 in TO's and have just 8 ret sts while learning new schemes on both off and def. They have gone 21-28 (42.9%) the last 4 yrs (worst 4 consec yrs s/'35-'38) despite having the largest attendance increase among BCS programs LY. ASU has the fewest ret sts in the P12 but after underachieving in the 2H of last year, have a decent shot at a bowl.

COLORADO BUFFALOES

DT Will Pericak

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - Tyler Hansen and Cody Hawkins split time for 3 yrs under ex-HC Dan Hawkins. Hansen started 2 in '08 (280, 52%, 1-4), 7 in '09 (1440, 56%, 8-7) and 7 in '10 (1102, 68%, 6-6) but was lost to a ruptured spleen that yr and Hawkins led with 1,547 (54%, 14-5). Hawkins left as the school's career passing leader LY and Embree named Hansen the st'r in spg '11, the earliest CU had known who would be its starting QB s/'05. Bkp rFr Nick Hirschman (PS#38) missed most of Aug (inj) letting true frosh John Schrock and Stevie Joe Dorman get plenty of work. Hansen suffered a concussion vs Oregon and Hirschman started vs ASU but was ineffective and Hansen came in and played the majority of the game. Hansen threw for 2,883 (56.1%, 20-11) while Hirschman (5 gm) added 192 (51.4%, 0-0). This year they lose Hansen but gain VHT Connor Wood (PS#6) who transferred in last Sept after losing out in the Texas QB battle. Jordan Webb, who st'd 12 gms at Kansas LY, may transfer in this summer and be immediately eligible. Despite the loss of their #4 career passer, the Buffs should actually put up improved numbers with the talent on board.

RUNNING BACKS - In '08 Rodney Stewart (5 st, inj) led with 622 (4.7) and in '09 wasn't 100% again but still led with 804 (4.1). CU avg a paltry 88 ypg (2.8), its worst numbers s/'84. In '10 Stewart became the Buffs first 1,000 yd rusher s/'04 (Bobby Purify) and was 3rd in the B12 (1318, 4.5) while also finishing 4th on the tm in rec. LY Stewart was the midseason Off MVP (#1 rusher & rec) but missed 2 gms (inj). RFr Tony Jones (PS#71) rushed for 297 (3.8) and was #6 in rec with 168 (6.2) and Josh Ford added 128 (5.8). Inj's got so bad that true frosh Malcolm Creer took off his RS but was inj and OFY 2 wks later. Stewart set CU rec's for career rush att's (809) and all-purp yards (4,828) but came up 31 rec yds short of 3,000 rush and 1,000 rec car yds. He was the #1 rusher (854, 4.5) and led in rec's with 45 (571, 12.7). Justin Gorman (6'0" 195 So) had 9 KR (20.3) and adds depth. This is a decent unit and should remain healthier but Stewart (CU's #2 all-time rusher, UFA CIN) is a big loss.

RECEIVERS - In '10 Scotty McKnight led with 621 (12.4) and left as the #1 career rec leader (#7DC). They ret'd WR Paul Richardson (PS#28) who had 450 of his 514 yds in the final 6 gms and a CU frosh record 6 td's. Also back was WR Toney Clemons (PS#16, Mich trans) who was #3 (482, 11.2). Richardson had a CU record 284 yds vs Cal but missed 4 full gms and parts of several others (inj). He finished #3 with 555 (14.2) and teamed with Clemons (td catch in 4 str gms, 680, 15.8) and RB Stewart to become the first Buff trio to each top 500 rec yds. TY they lose Clemons (10 st, #1 rec, #7DC PIT), WR Logan Gray (PS#19, 3 st, 300, 16.7), WR Kyle Cefalo (10 rec), TE Ryan Deehan (PS#19, 13 st, 322, 13.4) and TE Matt Bahr (8 st, 1 rec). Richardson tore his ACL in the spring and is out for the season so this unit is clearly weaker with the loss of their top 5 rec's.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '09 CU had a veteran O-line but surprisingly avg just 88 ypg rush with 44 sks (most s/'98). In '10 the entire 2-deep ret'd and they improved to 137 ypg (3.7) with just 21 sks (5.3%). LY CU lost their 1st Tm AA LT Nate Solder (#1DC, 3Y st'r) but appeared to have 4 st'rs back. C Mike Iltis (11 st '10) retired over the summer, however, dropping them to 82 car sts. They lost soph RT Jack Harris (PS#55) after 2 sts and CU dropped to 109 ypg (3.5) with 31 sks (6.9%). TY CU loses HM P12 LG Ethan Adkins (13 st, 3Y st'r), 2x HM B12 RG Ryan Miller (PS#1, 13 st, 4Y st'r, #5DC CLE) and RT Sione Tau (1 st, 4 gm). They return 2nd Tm P12 LT David Bakhtiari and Daniel Munyer who was the first rFr to start at C for CU s/'98 (Andre Gurode). Harris is back as well so despite dropping to 51 car sts, I'll call for stronger numbers.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '10 the DL ret'd intact but only improved to allowing 140 ypg rush (4.0) with 30 sks. One ret st'r, Marquez Herrod, had just 2 tkl (basically just 2 st'rs back). LY they ret'd all 3 st'rs but did have an open spot to fill as they moved to a 4-3. In the first 5 gms, CU had 17 sks which was among the national leaders but had just 8 over the next 7 until recording 4 in the ssn finale. Not much went right for CU LY in an injury-plagued ssn as they yielded 184 ypg (worst s/'97). TY they lose HM P12 JACK Josh Hartigan (10 st, 31 tkl, 7 sk), DE David Goldberg (8 st, 27 tkl, 1 sk), NT Conrad Obi (7 st, 18 tkl, 1 tfl), NT Curtis Cunningham (6 st, 11 tkl) and DE Tony Poremba (1 st, 2 tkl). This unit is clearly less exp'd but could show improvement after LY's poor 5.3 ypc (worst s/'80) as they add 9 true frosh DL (1 VHT), many of whom will play.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 the Buffs had to replace their #2, #7 and #8 tkl'rs (ret'd #11, #14). CU allowed 30.8 ppg, their most s/'03. Jon Major (PS#2) was the #1 tkl'r when he was lost after 7 sts (huge blow to D). LY they had to replace their #1 and #11 tkl'rs (both HM B12). Five ret'd who had st'd including Major (#5). They also ret'd their #7 and #12 tkl'rs making them more exp'd despite losing 2 st'rs from a 3-man group. Liloa Nobriga (5 st, 46 tkl '10) DNP and MLB Douglas Rippy missed the L/6 gms but still earned HM P12. Major managed to start all 13. The Buffs allowed 36.5 ppg, their most s/'80. TY they lose Patrick Mahnke (5 st, 44 tkl, 3 sk, 5 tfl) but return their #2 (Major), #6 (Rippy) and #8 tkl'rs. They should remain healthier and look MUCH stronger.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - In '10 CU had to replace 2 st'rs (#1, #4 tkl'rs) and suffered a rash of inj's with 5 DB's down by mid Oct. SS Anthony Perkins (9 st '09) was the #1 tkl'r after 5 sts but was lost (ACL). They took the RS off Terrel Smith vs TT and he tied a schl rec for tkls in 1 gm by a true frosh (15) which he later broke vs Neb (17). CU plummeted to #113 (68%, 27-10). LY they had to replace #1 and #4 DC CB's and finished #114 (65.5%, 34-7). Their 34 pass td's all'd were the 2nd most in the FBS. Greg Henderson became the first true frosh to start a ssn opener at CB for CU s/'80 (Victor Scott). The 2 proj CB st'rs, Jered Bell RS (ACL) and Ayodeji Olatoye, played in just 4 (susp). Paul Vigo played in 6 and Parker Orms just 7 (6 sts) as susp and inj's reigned supreme. Against WSU, 7 CU DB's were out. TY they lose CB Travis Sandersfeld (7 st, 52 tkl, 3 pbu), SS Anthony Perkins (9 st, 53 tkl, 1 pbu), CB Jonathan Hawkins (1 st, 2 tkl) and CB Jason Espinoza (2 st, 19 tkl). While not an overwhelming secondary, CU is not replacing 2 NFL DC's TY and should maintain better health which could mean significant strides in my PDR.

SPECIAL TEAMS - In '07 CU finished #25 in my ST rankings but slipped to #105, #101 and #83 from '08-'10. They had to replace their K and top PR LY while returning P Zach Grossnickle (34.8 net) lost his spot to rFr Darragh O'Neill (42.6, 37.3 net). True frosh K Will Oliver (PS#28) had the longest FG (52 yd) by a frosh in CU history vs Cal. He hit his first 6 but finished just 11-16 (5-6 40+, 4 blk'd). Oliver did break Mason Crosby's frosh scoring record ('03). After ST's hurt them vs Ohio St, Embree used more st'rs on the unit. CU had an amazing 13 diff players return KR's (schl rec 14 '59) and only had 56 PR yds (4.3, #105). With their K and P now both soph, they should easily have their best finish in my ST rankings s/'07.

COACHES - Dan Hawkins was replaced after a 3-6 start in '10. Brian Cabral served as interim HC (2-1) and was retained as a LB cch/run gm coor. HC Jon Embree was a CU asst ('93-'02) under Bill McCartney, Rick Neuheisel and Gary Barnett. He was an NFL TE cch for KC ('06-'08) and WAS ('09). Eric Bieniemy is in his 2nd ssn as OC and also ret'd to his alma mater after being a RB cch in both the NFL (MIN, '06-'10) and college (UCLA, '03-'05). JD Brookhart begins his 2nd ssn as pass gm coor/TE/ST coor (HC at Akron '04-'09). DC Greg Brown is in his 2nd ssn of his 3rd stint here bouncing between the NFL and college and most recently was the co-DC at Ariz in '10. The entire coaching staff ret intact TY.

PHIL'S FORECAST

After a stunning 3-8 ssn in '00 (4 losses by 4 or less), I called CU a surprise National Title contender in my '01 magazine. The Buffs were 10-2 (#3) narrowly missing out on playing in the Nat'l Title game. They won the Big 12 North again in '02, '04 & '05. In '05 CU was 7-2 (only losses to #12 & #2) but lost 3 straight (incl B12 Title gm) and HC Barnett was let go before the bowl loss. HC Dan Hawkins was here for 5 yrs getting CU to one bowl (loss) while going just 19-39 (5 losing yrs). In '10 after blowing a 45-17 lead vs Kansas with 11:00 left, Hawkins was fired and interim HC Brian Cabral guided them to 2 wins and they finished 5-7. Alum Jon Embree inherited 15 ret sts as CU moved to the P12 LY. They did draw Stanford and Oreg from the North and had 5 P12 AG's plus played Cal as a non-conf gm (previous agreement) along with Ohio St and Hawaii (brutal sked). CU was then dealt a myriad of inj's and susp. In fact when they played ASU, they had 18 ply'rs on the inj list (11 from 2 deep and 6 st'rs) and had 5 OFY! After an opening loss to Hawaii on the road by 17, they had a 582-370 yd edge at home vs Cal but lost in OT. They beat CSU 28-14 and then at Ohio St special tms did them in as they were only outgained 336-314 but lost by 20. CU led WSU 27-17 with 3:00 left but gave up 2 pass td's and with 7 DB's out, lost by 4. After expected road losses to Stanford and UW, they lost to Oreg at home 45-2 and at ASU by 34. They got WR Richardson and RB Stewart back vs USC but still lost, 42-17. In their FHG, they upset Arizona 48-29 with 500 yds of offense (Stewart 181 rush). Embree wanted them to treat the UCLA gm like a bowl but they were pounded 45-6. In the ssn finale, they had a 373-274 yd edge at Utah (Utes missed 42, 26 and 48 yd FG's) and won 17-14 knocking Utah out of the P12 Title game and snapping their 24 gm out of state road losing streak. They were -157 ypg (P12 worst by 79 ypg). This is Embree's 2nd yr and they figure to maintain better health. They have fewer st'rs back (9) and lose 28 Sr's with just 8 Sr's on TY's roster. They were -4 in TO's and had poor off (17.5) and def (12.0) ypp's. The schedule also lightens up although they still draw Stanford and Oregon out of the North. The Buffs could match LY's win total in their first 3 gms but this looks like another rebuilding yr with the P12's least exp'd tm.

OREGON DUCKS

RB De'Anthony Thomas

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - In '10 the Ducks had to replace 1st Tm P10 QB Jeremiah Masoli (2147, 58%, 15-6). While Nate Costa was #1 out of the spring, I proj'd Darron Thomas (PS#22) as the starter. Thomas did win the job and even earned some mention in the Heisman race. Thomas (2881, 62%, 30-9) had a better year passing than Masoli and was the #3 rusher (486, 5.2). Costa suffered his 3rd torn ACL and true frosh Bryan Bennett (PS#28) was the bkp late but still RS. LY Thomas improved his ratio setting a school td record throwing for 2,761 (62.2%, 33-7, 206 rush) despite missing the Colo gm with a knee injury. Bennett started vs the Buffs (11-20-156-2-0) then came off the bench vs Wash St after Thomas threw 2 int's. He threw for 369 (54.3%, 6-0, 200 rush) in 8 gms. Marcus Mariota (PS#31) was the star of the spring gm incl an 82 yd td run and will resume his battle with Bennett in Aug. Adding depth is Dustin Haines (PS#334) and two true frosh. Thomas (13 st) surprised many by declaring early for the draft (UFA) and this unit goes from a 3rd yr to a 1st yr st'r.

RUNNING BACKS - UO always has a highly productive RB. Jonathan Stewart (PS#1) had 1,722 (6.2) in '07 and was a #1 DC. In '08 Jeremiah Johnson led with 1,201 (7.1) while LeGarrette Blount had 1,002 (7.3) and 17 td's (2nd UO duo to each top 1,000). In '09 rFr LaMichael James was the Pac-10's #2 rusher (P10 OPOY) with 1,546 (6.7). Kenjon Barner (PS#115) moved over from DB and rushed for 366 (6.0). In '10 James was a Heisman finalist rushing for 1,731 (5.9) and breaking Stewart's '07 single season record. Barner missed a few gms but was #2 (551, 6.1). Those 2 ret'd LY and they added in true frosh De'Anthony Thomas (PS#2) to make up my #1 rated RB corps in the preseason. James set UO's single gm record with 288 vs AZ (Onterrio Smith, 257 vs WSU '01). Despite missing 2 gms, James led the nation in ypg rushing breaking his own schl rec with 1,805 (7.3) and 18 td's. In the 2 gms that James missed (Ariz St and Colo), Barner ran for 171 (5.5) and 115 (11.5). He finished #2 with 939 (6.2) and 11 td's. Thomas not only was #3 with 595 (10.8) incl a Rose Bowl record 91 yd td run, but was the leading rec with 605 (13.2) and earned P12 Co-FPOY honors. TY they lose James who left early for the NFL (#2DC SF). This still remains one of the premier RB units in college football.

RECEIVERS - UO has surprisingly lacked true game breaking WR's recently. LY they had to replace their top 2 rec's with the leading returnees being TE David Paulson (PS#26, 418, 17.4), along with WR's Lavasier Tuinei (396, 11.0) and Josh Huff (303, 15.9). They brought in a solid class of true frosh to add speed but Kelly opted to go with the veterans. Tuinei was the top WR with 599 (12.5) incl 158 (19.8) in the Rose Bowl while Paulson had 438 (14.1) and Huff 430 (13.9) missing two with injury. Rahsaan Vaughn (PS#20JC) only had 184 (13.1) and true frosh Colt Lyerla (PS#5) moved to TE (147, 21.0). This year UO loses Tuinei (14 st) and 2nd Tm P12 TE Paulson (13 st, #7DC PIT) but I will call it their most athletic receiving corps in a few years.

OFFENSIVE LINE - Naturally in the Ducks' spread offense which features the run, they've put up some incredible totals. In '09 they had to replace 4 st'rs (#2 and #5 DC's) and had just 20 car sts ret (#118 FBS). The unit outperformed my expectations with 232 ypg rush (5.5, 13 sk). In '10 the entire 2 deep was back (85 car st) so I said they should be one of the nation's top O-lines and they set schl rec's with 286 ypg rush (5.9) while allowing just 10 sks. LY they had to replace three multi-yr st'rs (1st & 2nd Tm Pac-10) and 2 bkps. They did have 7 VHT's in the 2 deep and 3 who had 7+ sts in '10 (56 car st). The unit paved the way for 299 ypg rush, an amazing 6.7 ypc (#1 FBS) and 14 sks (3.6%). TY they lose HM P12 RG Mark Asper (14 st, 3Y st'r, #6DC BUF) and LT Darrion Weems (14 st, 2Y st'r) but have 8 of the top 10 back (65 car st). While I cannot reasonably expect much improvement over LY's numbers, this is a more exp'd unit.

DEFENSIVE LINE - In '10 UO had to replace 2 st'rs and moved in TE Dion Jordan. They also added VHT frosh Ricky Heimuli (PS#21). DL coach Jerry Azzinaro molded another solid unit but I was surprised that despite being more exp'd, the numbers were similar (128 ypg, 3.5, 33 sk). Giving up 254 rush yds to Auburn did not help (118, 3.3 without). LY they had to replace 3 st'rs incl a 2nd Tm P10 DE (7 sk, 9.5 tfl) and a 2nd Tm P10 DT (16 tfl). I mentioned that despite being less exp'd and losing their top 2 DL, UO would come close to '10's numbers and they did (143 ypg rush, 3.6) with the D recording 45 sks, topping their modern day high of 39 ('08). TY they lose HM P12 DE Terrell Turner (14 st, 49 tkl, 5.5 sk), DE Brandon Hanna (2 st, 33 tkl, 2 sk) but have 3 st'rs back incl 1st Tm P12 DE Dion Jordan (7.5 sk). They were able to RS PS#12JC Jared Ebert and I look for Heimuli (skipped mission LY) to finally emerge into a dominant DT. This is the Ducks' best D-line in a few years.

LINEBACKERS - The Ducks had a veteran LB corps in '10 (#2, #3, #12 and #14 tkl'rs back) and only had to replace 1 st'r (#6). I said they would be one of the P10's better LB corps and the D allowed just 18.7 ppg (best s/'92). LY they had to replace 2 st'rs (#1 and #3 tkl'rs). They ret'd just their #8, #10 and #13 tkl'rs and were clearly less exp'd. The Ducks slipped to allowing 24.6 ppg. Boseko Lokombo (PS#39) was the most athletic of the LB's but surprisingly did not start. Michael Clay (PS#52) was tied for the P12 lead in tkls when he missed 3 gms (inj). This is a more exp'd and talented group than LY despite losing 1st Tm P12 SLB Josh Kaddu (14 st, #6 tkl'r, 6.5 sk, 3 tfl, #5DC MIA) and Dewitt Stuckey (13 st, #3 tkl'r, 3 sk, 1 int). Four of the top 6 are back and while I like all 3 proj st'rs, they have 3 VHT bkps who could win jobs.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - The Ducks had 4 straight Top 15 finishes in my PDR from 2004-'07. It was surprising that in '08 with 3 ret sts, they dropped to #47. In '09 they had an injury plagued group but still rose to #25. In '10 they had to replace 2 DB's (comb 10 sts, #2 and #4DC's!) but did return 4 w/10+ sts. CB Cliff Harris (PS#19) earned 1st Tm P10 while leading the nation in pd (23). The Ducks rose to #6 (54%, 15-21). LY they had to replace 1 st'r and 4 bkps (comb 73 tkl), then Harris only played in 6 (susp) so they basically had 2.5 st'rs back. After 5 gms the Ducks had just 3 int's but actually finished with 17 (#2 P12). The Ducks slipped a little to #20 (59.2%, 25-17). TY they lose 1st Tm P12 ROV Eddie Pleasant (13 st, 61 tkl, 3 int, 8 pbu), CB Anthony Gildon (8 st, 24 tkl, 1 int, 4 pbu) and Harris (9 tkl). Once again they return 2.5 st'rs including 2x 1st Tm P12 FS John Boyett (PS#39) and this unit looks just as strong.

SPECIAL TEAMS - In '07 UO had to replace its P and K but brought back their excellent ST coor Tom Osborne. In his previous 6 yrs here ('95-'00), they finished #30, #22, #4, #15, #13 and #47 in my ST rankings. In his first 4 yrs back ('07-'10) the Ducks finished #32, #27, #21 and #3. Cliff Harris was my 1st Tm AA PR in '10 with 546 (18.8) and 4 td's while Josh Huff avg 24.7 on KR. K's Rob Beard and Eric Solis comb to hit 13-17 FG. LY the unit ret'd intact but Harris was susp (9 PR, 7.6) with LaMichael James taking over (10.7 and 1 td). KR De'Anthony Thomas had 2 td's and was #10 in the FBS (27.3). Surprisingly, soph Alejandro Maldonado (PS#32) hit 7-12 FG's (L40) while Beard only hit 2-2 FG (banged up). Jackson Rice led the team to a 37.9 net in '10 and was a Ray Guy finalist (41.4 net #1 FBS) in '11. TY they only lose James and with Osborne still the ST coach, they should match LY's #7 ranking.

COACHES - Former HC Mike Bellotti ('95-'08) had the most wins (116-55) of any Pac-10 HC when he stepped aside prior to the spg in '09. HC Chip Kelly was the OC here in '07-'08 and was at New Hamp prior ('99-'06). Kelly has led UO to their most successful 3 yr run in schl hist (34-6) and to 3 straight conf titles (first ever). He was AP COY in '10, has a 26-2 conf record and has appeared in the Nat'l Champ gm and 2 Rose Bowls. OC Mark Helfrich (4th yr) was previously the OC/QB cch at Colo ('06-'08). DC Nick Aliotti (14th yr) was the architect of the "Gang Green" D that st'd the UO revival and ret'd to the schl in '99 after being the DC at UCLA in '98.

PHIL'S FORECAST

In '04 UO had a streak of 10 straight winning yrs snapped (5-6). In '05 they were my #4 Most Improved team and almost made it to a BCS bowl at 10-2 (#12). In '07 UO was one of my Surprise Teams (non-Top 10 with chance at title) and they were headed for the BCS Title game but lost QB Dennis Dixon to injury when ranked #2 and lost their final 3 reg season gms to finish 9-4. In '08 they finished #10 and in '09 #11. In '10 eight of my 9 sets of power ratings called them the best team in the P10. They also benefitted from the numerous sanctions placed on USC. The Ducks avg'd 47.0 ppg and 531 ypg while holding opp's to just 18.7 ppg. UO had just one close game, a 15-13 escape at Cal and played in the BCS Title game. They were AP #1 for the first time in school history for 7 wks (6 gms) but lost to Aub by 3. UO benefitted from +13 in TO's and had just 6 sts lost to injury all year. In '10 they used a 25 man rotation on the D so with less depth they were only expected to use 18 LY. While I picked the Ducks to win the inaugural Pac-12 Title, I did not place them in the Nat'l Title game. They entered the ssn AP #3 (highest ever) but in front of basically an LSU home crowd in Cowboys Stadium, they lost the opener 40-27 (335-273 yd edge). The Ducks would bounce back and win by 49, 49, 25, 28, 14 and 43 pts. In that span they did trail Cal 15-14 at half but still won big. They beat WSU by 15 and UW by 17 setting up their big showdown at Stanford where they upset #3 SU, 53-30. USC then came in #18 and the #4 Ducks were thinking National Title. USC led 38-14 late 3Q but UO missed a late FG giving the Trojans the win in Autzen, 38-35. The Ducks blew out rival Oregon St (led 42-7 4Q) then in the P12 Title game were huge fav's but only won by 18. In the Rose Bowl they got past #9 Wisc 45-38 with a 621-508 yd edge for their first Rose Bowl win s/1917 and finished #4. TY they have just 11 ret sts with both RB James and QB Thomas opting to leave early for the NFL. They must face USC on the road and were +9 in TO's and had an off ypp of 11.3. Despite those factors, the Ducks have their best defense in years and even with the loss of their QB and top RB, could be just as explosive. They will be 8-0 on Nov 3rd for their showdown with the Trojans and that game will determine if they are a legitimate Nat'l Title contender.

STANFORD CARDINAL

LG David Yankey

POSITION OUTLOOK FOR 2012

QUARTERBACKS - I'm on the phone with Gil Brandt in 2009 and we're talking QB's. Gil says, "You know who the best QB in college football is right now?" I greatly respect Gil's evaluation and asked, "Who?" When he said "Andrew Luck" he surprised me. In his first year as a starter, Luck had decent numbers throwing for 2,575 (56%, 13-4) with RB Toby Gerhart in the backfield. Three years later, Luck is the first pick in the NFL draft, much like Brandt opined. He leaves as Stanford's all-time leader in career wins and the Cardinal has now had 26 QB's drafted incl #1 overall DC's Bobby Barrett, Jim Plunkett and John Elway. In '10 Luck took more of the tm on his shoulders and threw for 3,338 (P10 rec 70.7%, 32-8). His 453 net yds rush were the most in a single ssn by an SU QB (Gene Washington, 362 in '66). Luck (P10 OPOY, 2nd Tm AA) then surprised everyone and turned down the NFL. Luck was the preseason Heisman favorite and had a fine yr throwing for 3,517, (71.3%, 37-10, 150 rush, #1DC IND, Heisman runner-up for 2nd str yr). He topped Elway's 4Y record of 77 td passes by throwing for 82 td's in just 3Y. Three QB's battled for the bkp spot as Brett Nottingham (PS#14) played in 6 (8 att). Robbie Picazo (6'3" 211 Jr) played in 1 (3 att) while Josh Nunes (PS#17) DNP (4 gm, 2 att '10). After this spg the QB race seems to be between Nottingham and Nunes. Naturally, I expect a significant drop off in the QB numbers with a unit that has only 13 car att's.

RUNNING BACKS - In my '08 magazine I called for Toby Gerhart (140 yds '07) to have the highest rushing total for a SU RB since Tommy Vardell (1084, '91). Gerhart did not let me down, setting the school rec with 1,136 (5.4). In '09 Gerhart finished #2 in the closest Heisman race in history, rushing for an FBS best 1,871 (5.5) and an amazing 28 td's. In '10 they had to replace Gerhart (#2DC) and the top ret RB was soph Stepfan Taylor (PS#36, 303, 5.4 in '09). Taylor led with 1,137 (5.1, SU's 2nd best total ever) and was the #5 rec (266, 9.5). Good-sized true frosh Anthony Wilkerson (PS#22) rushed for 408 (4.6) while Tyler Gaffney had 255 (4.2). LY the only loss was FB Owen Marecic (#4DC). Gaffney (PS#13) was used as the team's Wildcat QB (#2 rusher, 449, 6.1). Taylor set an SU bowl rec with 177 and led with 1,330 (5.5). TY they only lose Jeremy Stewart (257, 4.7). Wilkerson (6'1" 215 Jr) was inj'd in spg but Ricky Seale (5'9" 201 So, PS#38) had a great session and Remound Wright (5'9" 200 rFr, PS#25) adds depth while Gaffney is proj'd to be a high DC in the MLB Draft and may leave. Bkp FB Geoff Meinken is 256 lbs and has drawn comparisons to NFL'ers John Riggins and Larry Csonka. This unit has more exp and OC Pep Hamilton said the RB-by-committee will be dropped as he feels Taylor is the best RB in the country.

RECEIVERS - In both '09 and '10 Luck had basically his entire receiving corps back and they were highly productive. LY he had to replace his top 2 WR's (comb 1296 yds, 13.1). The top returnee was TE Coby Fleener (434, 15.5) and game breaking WR Chris Owusu (396,15.8). They had the best group of TE's in the country with Fleener, soph Zach Ertz (PS#9) and Levine Toilolo (PS#5). HC David Shaw said one of the main tasks he had was to keep Owusu healthy but after suffering at least his 3rd conc in 2Y, he made only 7 sts (376, 10.7) and saw his SU career end with 3 gms remaining in the reg season. Griff Whalen (249, 14.6 '10) led with 749 (13.4) while Fleener was #2 (667, 19.6). Ertz was #5 (346, 12.8, out 3 w/inj) and Toilolo #6 (343,13.7). TY they lose Owusu, Whalen (10 st) and Fleener (5 st, #2DC IND). RFr Kelsey Young (PS#29RB) was a big surprise this spg and can play at WR, RB or CB. This unit is close to LY in terms of exp but after losing their top 3 rec's (comb 1792, 14.3) and having a new QB, they might be down a notch or two.

OFFENSIVE LINE - In '10 SU had to replace a 1st Tm P10 RT but had 4 st'rs back. The unit paved the way for 214 ypg rush (5.2) and allowed just 6 sks (FBS best 1.6%). LY they had to replace a 1st Tm AA C, 2nd Tm P10 LG and had just 2 st'rs back. Those 2 were a great foundation to build on in David DeCastro (#1DC PIT) and Jonathan Martin (#2DC MIA) who just missed being the 12th OL teammates s/'67 to each be #1DC's! The Cardinal rushed for 211 ypg (5.3, 11 sk, 2.6%). SU's OL has created holes for the top 3 rush totals in schl hist in each of the L3Y all'g just 24 ttl sks in that span. TY they have 3 st'rs back and add in PS#2, PS#4 and PS#7 true frosh but go from 50 car sts to 37 while having to replace their 2 stars and with a young QB, expect the unit to take more sks.

DEFENSIVE LINE - SU allowed 4.9 ypc in '06, their worst in over 2 decades. SU switched to a 4 man front in '07 and showed improvement each of the next 3 yrs going from 169 ypg allowed to 153 and 138 in '09. In '10 they had to replace 1 st'r and 2 bkps (#7DC) and moved a starting DE to OLB in their new 3-4 D (1 st'r back). SU allowed just 121 ypg with their 3.9 ypc the best s/'04 (36 sk). LY SU had to replace 2 st'rs (#3DC) but still led the P12 in rush D (84 ypg, 3.0) and was #2 in sks (39) as well as in tfl (89). TY they lose DE Matthew Masifilo (13 st, 34 tkl, 2.5 sk) but have 2 st'rs back in 1st Tm P12 DE Ben Gardner (4.5 sk) and the strongest player on the tm in Terrence Stephens (11 tkl), who often occupies two blockers.

LINEBACKERS - In '10 the Cardinal ret'd PS#11 Shayne Skov (#3 tkl'r true) as well as their #6, #7 and #10 tkl'rs. SU all'd just 17.4 ppg, their best s/'92. LY they had to replace 2 st'rs (#5, #9 tkl'r) and a bkp (21 tkl) but still returned their #1 and #2 tkl'rs. Chase Thomas was unblockable in Aug and it showed as he had 8.5 sks and 9 tfl (3rd Tm AA) but Skov tore his ACL in Wk 3 leaving a large hole. Surprisingly James Vaughters (PS#9), who Shaw mentioned already looked like a veteran in Aug, had just 11 tkls. SU all'd 21.9 ppg. TY they lose Max Bergen (5 st, 32 tkl, 1.5 sk) but look to have their top 6 LB's back (Blake Lueders is ?) incl Skov and this looks like one of the P12's best LB corps.

DEFENSIVE BACKS - Despite not having a winning record from '02-'06, Stanford performed well in my PDR finishing #37, #36, #20, #68 and #45. In Harbaugh's first 3 seasons, they dropped to #74, #88 and #97 in '09. In '10 they only had to replace 1 st'r and I called for their best finish in at least 4 yrs. The Cardinal rose to #16, their best s/'96. LY they had to replace 1 st'r (#5DC) and 2 bkps (6 st, 67 tkl) but did return 2nd Tm P10 SS Delano Howell (PS#27). I said that while they were equal to '10 in terms of exp, with the loss of their top cover CB, they would probably drop after their unusually high finish and SU slipped to #36 (61.7%, 18-7). Of SU's 7 ttl int's, only 3 came from CB's. TY they lose 1st Tm P12 Howell (10 st, t-#4 tkl'r, 4 pbu), FS Michael Thomas (13 st, 66 tkl, 3 int, 5 pbu) and CB Johnson Bademosi (13 st, 48 tkl, 7 pbu). SU returns 1 st'r along with 3 who had 3+ sts LY. They add in rFr Wayne Lyons (PS#10) who Shaw called a physical freak who ply'd 2 gms then RS (inj) LY. This unit is less exp'd and will likely drop a 2nd str yr.

SPECIAL TEAMS - In '06 SU finished just #111 in my ST rankings but in Harbaugh's first 3 yrs they improved to #27, #19 and #2. In '10 they dropped to #40. LY they only had to replace their K but then top KR Chris Owusu (24.3) had just 8 KR (inj). Stanford slipped a bit more to #43. Jordan Williamson hit 13-19 FG (L45) but missed 3 w/inj and Eric Whitaker hit 4-5 (L37). P Daniel Zychlinski handled most of the duties in '10 (tm net 36.8) but lost his job to David Green who avg 41.7 (tm net 36.2). True frosh Ty Montgomery (PS#44) avg 25.2 on KR while Drew Terrell had 12.0 on PR. TY everyone but Green is back and SU has the opportunity to move up in my ST rankings.

COACHES - Jim Harbaugh took over in 2007 after a 1-11 season and improved SU's record each year before departing for the NFL after a 12-1 season. David Shaw is the 5th alum to be HC here ('94 grad, 4L at WR). Shaw was the OC here since '07 and spent the previous 9 years as an NFL off asst (PHI, OAK, BAL). OC Pep Hamilton was the WR coach here in '10. He also has an NFL background (QB cch CHI '07-'09, SF '06, NYJ '03-'05). The co-DC's LY were Derek Mason (DB cch LY) who was in the NFL prior (MIN '07-'09) and Jason Tarver but Tarver left for the Oakland DC job.

PHIL'S FORECAST

In the 7 yrs from '01-'07 the Cardinal had 4 different HC's. In '06 they were 1-11 and dead last in the Pac-10 in conf ypg (-169, 90 yds worse than #9). Their 11 str losses tied a SU rec (1959-'60). In Harbaugh's first ssn ('07) SU had 15 ret sts and improved to 3-6 in the P10 but were #10 (-176 ypg, 109 worse than #9!) for the 5th str yr. Stanford (15 ret sts) was picked #9 in the P10 media poll in '08 but improved to 5-7 overall. In '09 they had 16 ret sts and 7 HG's. RB Toby Gerhart rushed for 1,871 (5.5) and helped SU to an 8-4 reg ssn (ranked as high as #14). In '10 SU had 15 ret sts incl QB Luck. Three of my 9 sets of power ratings called for an 11-1 ssn but Stanford exceeded my expectations. They had their first undefeated home ssn s/'77 and won 8 of their first 9 for the first time since the 1970 tm (led by Jim Plunkett). SU also had 3 shutouts (1st time s/'69). #5 Stanford then walloped #12 VT 40-12 in the bowl and finished #4, their 6th ever Top 10 finish (1st s/'92) and 2nd highest in tm history (#2 in '40). SU was +13 in TO's, had 2 net close wins and an offensive ypp of 11.7. SU also had just 11 ret sts LY and had to replace their HC. The great news was that Andrew Luck turned down the NFL. Two of my 9 sets of power ratings called for an unbeaten ssn, but I said they would not match 2010's 12 win total. I must admit Shaw did better than I expected as they went 11-2. SU was a slow starter. Vs SJSt the FD were basically even at the half, vs Duke they got a td with :39 left in the half to lead 17-7 and only led 16-10 at half vs Ariz, 17-7 vs UCLA and 10-7 vs Wash St but in those first 7, won by 36 ppg! They outlasted USC in 3OT then after leading OSU 17-13 in the 3Q, won by 25. SU was #3 when they hosted #6 Oregon but lost 53-30 despite only being outgained by 2 yds. They got past Cal in the pelting rain 31-28 then whipped ND 28-14 (ND td :23 left). In the Fiesta Bowl, SU missed the GW 35 yd FG vs Okla St and lost in OT. Their +152.1 ypg was the best in P12 play. TY they lose Luck and have just 13 ret sts. SU once again draws USC out of the South and has to play both ND and Oregon on the road. Despite losing two #1 (1st overall) and two #2DC's, the Cardinal remains one of the P12's elite.
