California outlasts BYU for 21-18 win

PROVO, Utah -- Freshman Chase Garbers threw for 176 yards and two touchdowns, while adding 45 yards rushing, to lead California to a 21-18 win over BYU on Saturday night.

Sophomore quarterback Brandon McIlwain ran for 74 yards and a touchdown while also throwing for 38 yards on 5-of-7 passing for the Bears. Kanawai Noa eclipsed 1,000 career receiving yards after tallying 93 yards and a TD on seven catches.

California (2-0) beat the Cougars in the regular season for the first time in five meetings between the teams.

The Bears did it with defense. For the second straight game, they did not allow an offensive touchdown until the fourth quarter.

"You can just tell that this team and this defense really wants to just come and play every day and really dominate the football every single play," said linebacker Evan Weaver, who finished with 12 tackles and three pass breakups.

Tanner Mangum threw for 196 yards and a touchdown with two interceptions for BYU. The Cougars (1-1) lost their home opener for the second time in three seasons -- both times to a Pac-12 team.

California went up 7-0 near the end of the first quarter thanks to a pair of big plays. Vic Wharton hauled in a 12-yard pass to convert a fourth down and Patrick Laird followed with a 25-yard touchdown catch on the next play.

BYU got on the board with a 36-yard field goal from Skyler Southam in the second quarter.

The Cougars had 193 total yards and 13 first downs in the first half while holding California to 124 yards and seven first downs. Still, BYU struggled to finish drives, converting just 4-of-10 third downs and 0 for 2 on fourth down.

"We made way too many mistakes and we didn't have time to fix them by the end of the game," BYU coach Kalani Sitake said.

California extended its lead to 14-3 early in the third quarter when Kanawai Noa scored on a 52-yard catch. Noa got behind a defender along the sideline, hauled in the pass and streaked untouched into the end zone.

The Cougars got a temporary spark via their defense. Dayan Ghanwoloku scooped up a fumble by Derrick Clark and raced 36 yards untouched for BYU's first touchdown, cutting California's lead to 14-10.

McIlwain ran for a 2-yard score to give the Bears an 11-point lead again early in the fourth quarter.

"We were stringing drives together," California coach Justin Wilcox said. "Even if we didn't get the points, that was a possession game. We moved the ball down, punted, flipped the field -- those type of things -- and that's big."

BYU had a chance to cut into the lead after Ghanwoloku recovered his second fumble at the California 16, but Mangum threw a third-down interception.

The Cougars finally scored an offensive TD with 51 seconds left on a 1-yard strike from Mangum to Brayden El-Bakri. Cal's Jaylin Hawkins recovered the ensuing onside kick to prevent BYU from having a shot at a go-ahead score.

THE TAKEAWAY

California's defense shut down an opponent when it mattered once again. The Bears did not allow a first-half touchdown for the second consecutive game. They also held BYU to just 11 total yards on six plays in the third quarter.

BYU came through with some big plays on defense and special teams. It could not offset a mediocre offensive performance. The Cougars were stuck in neutral on most drives, much like a year ago, and struggled to keep their defense off the field.
